MONDAY JULY 6 1992

French farmers block trains

Strikes in Italy add to holiday travel disruption

FROM CHARLES BREMNER IN PARIS AND JOHN PHILLIPS IN ROME

face increasing disruption on the Continent this week as farmers and taxi drivers join protesting lorry drivers in France and Italy is braced for extensive air-and rail strikes. A wave of strikes in Italy by air traffic controllers, railmen and lorry drivers coincides with the departure of millions of Italians on holiday and will challenge the resolve of Giuliano Amato, the prime minister whose government parrowly survived two confidence votes last week.

In France yesterday, travellers suffered a seventh day of havoc as road hauliers manned blockades and militant fruit growers paralysed traffic on the main rail lines to the south, stranding thousands of holidaymakers.

Some traffic returned to the A1 highway from the Belgian border to Paris as half-a-dozen harriers disappeared after Béregovoy, the prime minister, but angry drivers stepped up their siege on roads in the

Parents seek siege review

The parents of a man shot dead by police in West Yorkshire have called for a review of siege tactics after an inquest verdict that Ian The couple say they were not given a chance to per-suade him to come out of his ing a replica gun......Page 3

Hall decision

The London School of Economics has been given until Friday to prove that it has the financial backing to support its bid to take over County Hall. If it fails, the building will almost certainly go to a Japanese leisure group that wants to turn the former home of the Greater London.Council into a 600bedroom hotel Page 6

Class action

Ministers are to maintain their ban on BC involvement in British schools, despite a clause in the Maastricht treaty that gives Brussels a formal role in

Tide of filth

As holidaymakers head for the sea, The Times launches survey of the state of Europe's beaches, starting with those in Britain, where nearly a quarter fail to meet European Community stan-dards on pollution ... Page 8

Somalia visit UN military observers arrived in Mogadishu, the So-mali capital, to a mixed reception from political leaders Page 11

Weak recovery

A further year of recession and a weak recovery in 1993 is predicted by the Item Club, which uses the Treasury's economic model for its forecasts Page 17

Births, marriages, Crossword

Modern Times_ Passport to France.

BRITISH holidaymakers south and west. "We have got a lot of surprises up our sleeves yet," said "Tarzan", one of the hardline leaders on the A1. In addition, some taxi drivers in Paris were stopping work test night.

The effects of the French road and rail blockades spread to neighbouring countries. There were unprece-dented tailbacks in Switzerland, sometimes 18 miles long, on main highways to Italy, with tourists using the Great St Bernard tunnel having to wait for up to five hours. Trains from France and Spain were arriving in Geneva several hours late.

Spain's seasonal annual influx of holidaymakers was cut back tour operators reported, affecting mainly the Mediterranean region. More than 500 Spanish lossies were blocked in France, carrying mostly food and raw materials from Murcia and Valencia for Central European markets, industry sources in Madrid said. Some Spanish firms were suffering from lack of supplies, including the carmaker Seat, which hired an Antonov transport plane to fly in parts from Germany.

the French protests d into a second week, maffic was reported to be relaively light around the counbecause many holiday-aless had beeded calls to postpone trips. Others equipped themselves to travel on minor roads unaffected by the long drivers' protests over a new liceace system to curb dangerous driving.

But though barriers were fewer, tempers were sharpenmotorists who tried to skirt barriers. Three people were killed in two accidents in which cars ran into blockades. Paul Quilès, the interior minister, said the protesters would be prosecuted. In Pointoise, police arrested a 22-year-old lony driver on suspicion of starting fires which destroyed 13 coaches on Saturday.

The road blockades have forced the cancellation of more than 60 per cent of bookings at French hotels, ation said. The disruption has also forced the lay-off of workers in car factories and other industries across the country.

The disruption spread to the railways when fruit-growers blocked express trafbetween Lyons and the Mediterranean for most of the day in protest over the lorry drivers' action. Thou-sands of travellers, many from Britain, were marconed on trains in sidings and halted in open countryside, as the farmers parked tractors and dumped gravel on lines.

"We haven't been told a thing," said Peter Wick, a London student whose train was held in Lyons station for eight hours. "All we get is a voice that tells us every two hours that the train will be held up another two hours."

Farmers called off their action in the evening and lifted barricades from the lines in the southeast, but the main peasant farmers' association. which paralysed roads two weeks ago, announced that it was launching new actions today. In another action, about 30 farmers in the south-central Gard region attacked three foreign lorries and set fire to loads of fruit and vegetables while the gendarmerie did nothing.

M Beregovoy, faced with international anger and opposition ridicule, warned the lony drivers he would not budge on the licences. He appealed to good sense and promised efforts to improve orking conditions.

Struggling to defuse the situation, which has damaged the authority of the Mitterrand administration, the emment has statical tal with lorry owners and drivers unions to ease the stresses the drivers say they endure, including illegally long working days and pressure to break the speed limit. Last night the government invited leaders of local protest groups to join unions, who represent only a minority of drivers, to meet Continued on page 16, col 2

> Jobs at risk, page 2 Leading article and Letters, page 13

Faltering economies dominate G7 summit

FROM MICHAEL BINYON AND ROBIN OAKLEY IN MUNICH

LEADERS of the Group of Seven industrial democracies arrived here last night for their eighteenth summit. which will be dominated by faltering world economic growth and the extent of aid to be offered to Russia.

President Bush, arriving after a brief state visit to Poland, was to have a late dinner with President Mitter-rand of France. Relations between their two countries have recently been frosty.

Helmut Kohl, the German chancellor and the summit's host, held bilateral talks last night with the two G7 newcomers, Kiichi Miyazawi, Ja-pan's prime minister, and Giuliano Amato, his Italian counterpart. Herr Kohl will today breakfast with Mr mally begins at 11 o'clock. America is expected to urge other leaders to lower interest rates in an attempt to stimulate sluggish world trade. But, in spite of the lack of economic recovery in Britain since the election, and Ger-man domination of the European Community exchange-rate mechanism, which is making it harder for Norman Lamont, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, to cut interest rates, the British delegation will give the American call only limited support. John

Bush before the summit for-

EFA campaign, page 5 Summit reports, page 9 Leading article, page 13

Major will instead put the Continued on page 16, col 6

Mutual admiration: Andre Agassi and Goran Ivanisevic hug each other at the end of their match

Tears and a hug for champion

By JOHN GOODBODY

ANDRE Agassi, of the United States, burst into tears after winning the men's sin-gles Wimbledon tennis championship and the E265,000 first prize by beating Goran Ivanisevic of Croatia in a pulsating five set

To the delight of his supporters and the admiration of an estimated 500 million television viewers in 105 countries, Agassi, aged 20, the number 12 seed, withstood his opponent's ferocious serv-ing to win 6-7, 6-4, 6-4, 1-6, 6-4 in two hours 50 minutes.

When, in the final game the Croatian twice double faulted and then netted a volley, Agassi sank to his knees. He lay for some seconds face down on the grass as the crowd applauded. Several television viewers telephoned the All England Tennis Club and the BBC to complain that Ivanisevic had sworn loudly. Ivanisevic said with a smile that it was a Serb who had phoned. Asked whether he called the umpire a "monkey", he replied: "Probably, I do not know what name I called him. But a nice one, not a bad one."

In France, Nigel Mansell won the motor-racing Grand Prix at Magny-Cours. His win equalled Jackie Stewart's British record of 27 victories.

Wimbledon reports,

Muslims driven from their homes at gunpoint agreement and say "new people" quickly moved into their homes. "They are clear-ing out Muslims to make way for others," added one

Thousands of Bosnian . Muslims are being evicted from their homes at gunpoint as Serb irregular forces step up their efforts to "cleanse" large areas of eastern Bosnia, according to refugees arriving in Hungary in the past few days.

The refugees, and Hungarian Red Cross officials who have set up a makeshift reception centre near the railway station in the small border town of Kelebia, describe the mass deportation as "systematic, efficient and well-organised" and say it is being carried out by administrators and military means.

"It was a choice between leaving our home and death," one man said as he sat in a one man said as the said as the large army tent with 15 other people huddled under thin blankets. The men, women and children, many of whom had just stumbled off of trains from Serbia in the early hours of the morning, looked tired and bewildered. They lay on mattresses or on the ground train pulls in to disgorge its cargo of the weary and hungry: people hounded from their homes. Ernest Beck reports on modern-day ethnic cleansing

At a remote station bathed in floodlight, a

with their few possessions after having travelled for up to ten days by bus and train in stifling heat.

Their stories are reminis-cent of Jewish deportations from Nazi Germany. One refugee from the Zvornik area said: "The authorities issued a proclamation that we had to leave immediately. We had just enough time to pack a few things, but we were told to leave everything behind, including the keys. We were threatened with guns and told to sign a paper saying we give up our belongings. Those who do not go are

Others in the tent nod in £500m power profit Parliament had no intention

NUCLEAR Electric, the state-owned nuclear power company, will report this month an operating profit of up to £500 million. Much of the surplus, earned after a subsidy from the 11 per cent surcharge levied on household and business electricity bills of £1.3 billion, will go to pages 24, 25, 28 bills of £1.3 billion, will go to the Treasury, even though to tax power consumption.

Big firms are calling for a review of the surcharge that is levied to subsidise the atomic power industry. They say that the sharp rise in Nuclear Electric's profits will show that the levy is far too high.

Levy protest, page 17

British women run Arizona's Rambo to ground

He's a master of disguises Not so loud ... HUON Plow my COVET.

FROM BEN MACINTYRE IN NEW YORK

A TWO-MONTH manhunt in the Grand Canyon for a convicted bank robber who had run rings around embarrassed government agents ended yesterday after he kidnapped two young British women.

Caroline Young and Sally Edmonds, both 27 and medical students, were left tied to a pine tree by Danny Horning after a 90-mile drive across southern Arizona. But they escaped and tipped off police that he had stolen their car. He was found hiding under a garden gazebo in a holiday resort 100 miles north of Phoenix.

Horning, 35, had been serving four consecutive life sentences for robbery, kidnapping and aggravated assault when he escaped from an Arizona jail in May, disguised in a medical laboratory coat. He earned the nickname "Rambo" for his ability to hide and survive in the Arizona wilderness. A posse of 400 armed police and government agents had spent weeks in pursuit of a quarry they described as the "ultimate outdoorsman". He won the grudging re-spect of trackers and the undisguised sympathy of local people.

Horning 35, also wanted in connection with a murder in California, approached the two women while they were sitting in their car overlooking the Grand Canyon on Saturday afternoon. He told them he would not hurt them so long as they kept driving. They passed through two road blocks while he hid in the back.

Near Flagstaff, Arizona, he ordered them to drive off the highway onto a dirt track. Detective Kathy Paleski, who in-terviewed the two women at Coconino County Jail, near Flagstaff, said: "He allowed them to take all their personal belongings out of the car and then used rope from their camping backpacks to tie them to the tree before driving off in their car. It took them about 20 minutes to escape and then they ran back onto the highway and flagged down a motorist, who drove them to a telephone where they contacted the state

Horning was later spotted by police and, after a 20-minute chase, during which he fired through the car's rear window, he crashed into a tree and vanished into the woods south of Flagstaff. Armed police with bloodhounds surrounded the area and Horning gave himself up. The two British women, who graduated from Birmingham University last month, were praised yesterday by Det Paleski for staying "totally in control of the situation. We have had to take out hats off to the girls. It was certainly one hell of an Independence Day for them and they came through smiling."

London's clubland faces pressure to open its doors to women members Life & Times

SEAT AT THE TOP TABLES

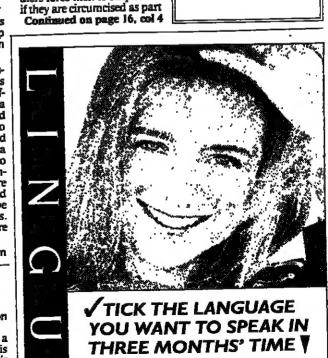

Compliments to the chef. Passport to France lists the tasty restaurants Life & Times

TIPS FROM THE TOP

CBI head Howard Davies has tips for local government in a new Public Management page tomorrow woman. Armoured personnel carriers surround villages and buses, many refugees in Hungary have fled, and soldiers force men to strip to see

How often have you wished you could speak another language? Now is the time to do something about it. With Linguaphone you'll learn easily, enjoyably, naturally. The Linguaphone method gives you the freedom to learn at your own pace. You study wherever and whenever you choose. And it works. Learning another language can take you as little as half an hour a day. After 12 weeks with your Linguaphone course, you'll be speaking confidently and correctly. Find out more today. Send for your free cassette and information pack. Or give us a call right away on 0800 282 417.

FREE OFFER

	Digitalia Digitalia Digitalia Dicatan Dicatan Dicatan	CINCOMICAN
የትድም ጊዜቱ ፊትላ ኢትዚያው ኒሊኮንያኒያ 		Age 1 und

3800 282 417

The French blockade: worsening dispute may hold up delivery trucks

Peugeot workers may be sent home

BY DAVID YOUNG

THE French lorry drivers' dispute could mean that 3.000 car workers will report to their assembly lines at Peugeot's plant at Coventry today only to be told that there is no work for them.

The workers were laid off last week after the drivers' blockade held up trucks delivering vital components which supply the production lines at Peugeot's factories in the Ryton and Stoke districts of the city.

Peugeot executives told workers to report as normal this morning assuming that supplies would get through. However, the intensification of the dispute is expected to prevent delivery trucks ar-riving which could force further lay-offs. The company said last night: "We will not know what the situation is until we open the gates and discover what supplies have managed to get through.

"But it certainly does not look good at the moment. Not only can trucks not get through to Coventry, they cannot get back to our suppliers to start the next stage of the delivery process."

Peugeot's main Ryton plant, which assembles the 405, Britain's eighth bestselling car, depends on the company's main Poissy plant to supply body panels, engines and transmissions. Each day of lay-offs costs about £4.5 million, according Supplies of some fresh fruit and salad crops could be dis-

RAC: 0891 700300 tre National d'Inforr

010 33 1 48 94 33 33

rupted this week because of the French lorry drivers' action, but with deliveries of British produce plentiful according to market suppliers.

Deliveries of seafood to specialist restaurants in the UK from the Bolougne markets should not be affected with supplies going straight from the quayside warehouses on to the ferries in refrigeretaed vans. Deliveries of speciality cheeses should also be unaffected as one of the main suppliers in France is based in Bolougne.

FMX Foods, of North London, a major importer of fresh foods from the Continent, said: "The main problem has not been the nonarrival of supplies, but the disruption this has caused to delivery schedules. We have had lorries turning up with supplies when they weren't expected and customers waiting for some supplies when the lorries have been caught in traffic jams. At this time of the year there are always alternative suppliers so there should be no major problems and shortages."

British haulage companies are now re-routing trucks away from the worst affected areas and services heading for Italy are driving through Belgium and Germany instead of across France.

Companies are pooling information so that drivers can be briefed before crossing to the Continent, but there are several hundred British lorries, most operated by owner-drivers, still affected by the dispute and heading slowly towards the channel ports.

Italian strikes, page 1 Leading article and letters.

over 6,000 men.

French hospitality wins British drivers' praise

FROM LOUISE HIDALGO IN CALAIS

MICHAEL Pugh was an angry man. He had spent six days trying unsuccessfully to negotiate the road-blocks paralysing France and the 20 tons of fresh pork he was carrying was ruined. Yesterday, having finally made it back to the ferry port at Calais, he faced another long wait while the company that ordered the now worthless cargo disputed ownership and payment.

"Would you credit it," said. "I've left 200 lorries sitting on the roads into Cambrai; I get to Calais and there's more trucks coming across the Channel. Don't the freight companies know what going on over here?"

Mr Pugh had no idea of

when he would be able to return home to Oswestry, Shropshire. He had only praise, however, for the hospitality of the French, many of them hostages in their own

"Every night the women in Cambrai would bring out huge pallets into the town where they barbecued hunks of meat for the drivers. People invited you in to their homes for coffee.

Mr Pugh, like some other of the British drivers seeking a long-awaited shower at the Calais port car park, spoke of a mutual solidarity. "All the drivers I met - even the Durch, who are not usually the most patient when it comes to waiting — supported the French drivers 100 per cent. They know the same might happen to them," he said, referring to the driving licence policy that prompted avoid the blockade on the main highway from Switzerland by dismantling the central reservation barrier and driving to the opposite side.

For some, the villains are the police, who are suspected of helping the French lorry drivers' cause by directing foreigners onto the motor-

Richard Rewhore, a Belfast lorry driver, managed to ways worst affected.

So what's all the fuss about?

FROM RAY CLANCY IN NORMANDY

CAREFUL planning, telephone calls to the local police and a good map helped thousands of British holidaymakers to beat the French lorry drivers' blockades yesterday. They arrived home wondering what the fuss was about.

Those using ferry ports in Normandy encountered only a few road blocks, all of which were easily negotiable. Some expressed doubt about families being stuck for days and others accused people of exaggerating.

"I think people have been panicking," James Clivedon, of Hamble, Hampshire, said as he waited for his ferry from Caen to Portsmouth. "You hear on the radio that there is anarchy, chaos, but I have driven from the Dordogne without any problems. I just avoided major routes like the Many holidaymakers had avoided the worst of the de-lays by consulting the police. ferry operators and tourist offices. Travelling yesterday from Villedieu-Les-Poèles in southwest Normandy to Caen, I first consulted Caen police (010 33 31860056). They said that several parts of the ring road around the city were blocked, including the A13 east towards Rouen and the N13 west towards Babest route to take to reach the port at Ouistreham, ten miles from the city centre.

Instead of taking the N175 into Caen, I headed north at Villers-Bocage on the D6 to Bayeux, took the D12 to Courseulies and followed the coast road, D514, through Lion Sur Mer to the ferry terminal. It was a pleasant drive through pretty countryside with not a single lorry in sight and it took only 20 minutes longer than on the dual carriageway.

Caen police said there were many good alternative routes. Police in Cherbourg (010 33 33442124) were equally confident of keeping the lorry drivers at bay. "We have no problems at all. The lorry drivers do not seem to be targeting this area."

The ferry companies reported few problems. P&O Ferries in Cherbourg said: "We are advising people to leave early but, in general. there are few problems in this part of France." Sealink of-fered to reschedule bookings of passengers who missed their crossing because of hold-ups. Brittany Ferries said that passengers were ar-

NEWS IN BRIEF

Bottomley seeks to curb Aids spread

New targets to curb the spread of Aids, reduce teenage pregnancies and tackle mental illness will be unveiled by pregnancies and tackle mental illness will be unveiled by Virginia Bonomley, the health secretary, on Wednesday (Nicholas Wood writes).

Mrs Bonomley has decided to make "sexual health" a priority area and has strengthened the section on mental illness, which is estimated to cost £7 billion a year in lost production, drug costs and other forms of treatment. In addition to Aids and HIV, the other priority areas in the white paper will be heart disease, smoking, heavy drinking and breast cancer.

and breast cancer.

The latest figures show that 5,870 people have been diagnosed as having Aids, of whom 3,630 have died. About 17,500 people are HIV positive, although it is estimated that the true number could be as high as 50,000. Mrs Bottomley also wants to see more family planning clinics and clinics for sexually transmitted diseases. However, the white paper will not be offening extra money for these purposes. Nor will it support a barr on mbacco advertising.

Robin Cook, Labour's health spokesman, said he welcomed any moves to reopen family planning clinics.

welcomed any moves to reopen family planning clinics closed by the government in the past five years. The "crunch issue" was whether tobacco advertising was banned, he said.

Pub shooting enquiry

A pub landlord was among eight people being questioned yesterday about the shooting dead of man outside a pub in east London. Police last night named the dead man as Kevin Fox, 41, of Dagenham, Essex. He was found outside the Memory Lane pub in Barking Road, Plaistow, on Saturday night with head and chest wounds. He died in hospital. Two other men also shot in the incident are recovering in hospital under police guard. Mark Smith, son of the landlord, was in intensive care in a critical but stable condition after being shot up to three times in the stomach. condition after being shot up to three times in the stomach. The other injured man had a superficial chest wound. Another man suffered a puncture wound to the leg during the incident, though police say he was not shot. He was arrested after receiving treatment in hospital.

revi

Blockade on ports

Fishermen plan to blockade several ports around the country tomorrow in protest at government plans to cut the number of days that they can go to sea. The action is an unofficial escalation of public campaigning by the National Federation of Fishermen's Organisations against a bill intended to aid conservation of fish stocks. The federation has organised a mass lobby of Parliament and is gathering a flotilla of fishing vessels to sail up the Thames to Westminster for a river-borne demonstration outside the Commons. Some fishermen are so incensed by the apparent threat to their livelihoods that they plan more dramatic direct action. Richard Brewer, an executive member of the federation and chairman of the Whitby Keel Boat Society in North Yorkshire, said a blockade was a small price to pay.

Tribute to rig victims

Thousands of North Sea oil workers will down tools today for Thousands of North Sea oil workers will down tools today for a minute's silence in memory of the 167 men who died in the Piper Alpha disaster on July 6, 1988, in which fire engulfed an Occidental platform in what was the world's worst oil rig disaster. In Aberdeen, hundreds of people are expected to visit the garden of remembrance in Hazelhead Park. A memorial service will be held at Strathchyde Park, near Hamilton. The Oil Industry Liaison Committee, the offshore workers' union, said that people who were sacked and remain blacklisted for sit-ins on platforms to demand union recognition and improved safety would attend. Eric Reilly, of the committee, who is to lay a wreath, said: "The workers are the committee, who is to lay a wreath, said: "The workers are determined that the issue of rig safety should never go away. We will be staging memorial services every year."

Diver lost at sea

Rescue workers called off the search yesterday for a diver who failed to surface after descending 40 metres to examine a wreck. The 44-year-old man, who has not yet been named by police, went missing from the boat Cirus while diving 12 miles from the coast at Shoreham, Sussex. Lifeboat crews and a Coastguard helicopter were joined by a Royal Navy helicopter and diver from Portland. Several other diving boats joined the search but the operation was called off when no trace of the man was found after rescue crews had scoured an area of 30 square miles. A Solent Coastguard spokesman said: "Weather conditions were hampering the search. Regrettably we could find no sign of the man and the

Ashdown sets target

Paddy Ashdown, right, the Liberal Democrat leader, yesterday set his party the task of capturing 40 per cent of the popular vote and forming a government in its own right. He urged a conference of Liberal Democrat councillors at Eastbourne to work for a. doubling of the 20 per cent support the party won at the general election. Mr Ashdown said that millions of people depended on them to gain power.

King.

Tell()

Labour jobs attack

Britain is near the bottom of the international league table for job growth, Labour said yesterday. Releasing new figures, the Opposition said that during the first 18 months of the recession, only Finland out of 15 industrialised countries had suffered a bigger slump in its employed labour force. The number of Finns in work had fallen by 8 per cent force. The number of Finns in work had fallen by 8 per cent while Britons fell by 5 per cent. Britain had also fared badly across the 12 years of Tory government. The number of people in work had increased by only 3 per cent, compared with 20 per cent in Portugal, 19 per cent in Canada and 18 per cent in the United States. Only France had done worse than Britain. Henry McLeish, a Labour employment spokesman, said: "International comparisons of the UK's spokesman, said: "International comparisons of the UK's employment record provide conclusive evidence that our employment performance has been one of the worst."

'Racist' search enquiry

A senior customs official is to investigate allegations of racial harassment made by a black American judge who was searched at Heathrow airport last month. Margaret Jackson, who had come to Britain to address a conference on racial discrimination, was "frisked" and had a urine test taken. A customs spokesman confirmed yesterday that a letter of complaint had been received on behalf of the New York judge, who chairs tribunals. She said she felt humiliated and degraded by her treatment. The spokesman said officers believed they had reason to search her because she fitted the profile for a possible drug courier. The case may be raised in the Commons by MPs concerned at the treatment of visitors arriving at London's main airports.

Aircraft emergencies

The Civil Aviation Authority has launched an investigation after two aircraft incidents within a few hours of each other. One involved an advanced turbo prop with 71 passengers that made an emergency landing at Bournemouth airport near Christchurch after reporting hydraulic failure. Twenty-five miles away, a single sear light after made an emergency landing in a field near Graneley, Hampshire, after developing engine problems.

Spectre of '68 haunts bemused authorities

FRANCE'S riot police, the Compagnie Républicaine de Sécurité (CRS), may have notched up a lurid record for breaking up strikes and pro-tests with its boots, batons and tear gas over the past quarter century, but forcing away truck barriers is not their cup of tea.

Senior officers of the CRS and the para-military Gen-darmerie have made no secret of their reluctance to use force in a protest which has taken on the colours of a mass revolt and left the French government and its mighty apparatus impotent.

"Even if they told us to go in," said a CRS captain

Fully qualified professional

6,000 men enjoy

better 'sex-life'

A remarkable treatment in male sexual problems, says: for full & partial male "Many cases previously diagnosed as untreatable have been helped to resume a normal sex life".

The latest results of clinically staff offer expert help and controlled trials has proved that sympathetic counselling most men can now be sometimes a course of tablets it spokesman for The London If you would like to know

Diagnostic Centre, a leading more please post the coupon

THE LONDON DIAGNOSTIC CENTRE, 96 HARLEY STREET, LONDON WYN 1AF

OF ST. JAMES'S BUILDING, 79 OXFORD STREET, MANCHESTER M1 (EL)

successfully treated. A all that's required.

Harley Street clinic specialising below.

Please send the your tree brochure on vinify treatment

Public support for the drivers leaves France's Socialist government in a dilemma, writes Charles Bremner

blockaded Al motorway. "what could we do against 30-ton vehicles which have been immobilised by their drivers?" The only way the government could clear the highways and restore the freedom of movement" guaranteed to French citizens since the Revolution, would be to send in troops with battle buildozers and heavy engineering equipment, a step which would be politically unthinkable by any government, let alone a Socialist one.

For all the chaos and delayed holidays that their action has caused, the lorry drivers enjoy considerable public support, according to surveys and the uncharacteristically tolerant reactions of French motorists caught in the mess. Many people blame the government rather than the drivers, who enjoy an image summed up in the public relations slogan they adopted in the 1970s: les routiers sont sympas (lorry drivers are nice). The vision of bloody battle between the jovial truckers and the notorious CRS and Gendarmerie would probably be enough to seal the fate of the Socialists in the general elections due

The physical reality of the truckers' defiance has handed Pierre Bérégovoy, prime minister of three months standing, an unpalatable and limited pair of options: capitulate over the new driving licence scheme which sparked the protest, or nego-tiate on other issues while hoping time will wear down the drivers' resolve.

M Bérégovoy, a former union leader, has chosen the second path. proclaiming that "the government will not give way" on the licence system, designed to punish dangerous driving, and open-ing talks on the conditions of work for long-haul lorry As the motorway siege passes into its second week. the cost of this inaction is proving ever heavier, both in economic damage and political embarrassment. In the eyes of its own citizens and an incredulous world, the Mitterrand administration has become as much a hostage as the hapless motorists trapped in the blockade. Yesterday. M Beregovoy was re-duced to pleading for the understanding of the drivers as family men and arguing that "contrary to what I am hearing, traffic is flowing on the roads of France. Very badly in some parts, but it is moving.

As exaggerated as it may be, the air is thick with talk of May 1968, that month when student and workers challenged the state of Charles de Gaulle and brought the country to the brink of civil war. "Tarzan", a burly, baseball-hatted leader of one truck barrier and sudden media

star. put it his way: "This is how revolutions start, a little bit here and there." " May 68 has come back in mid-summer," Le Figuro said on Saturday. "The situation is obviously quite different, but the symptoms are often the same, starting with this feeling that everyone is fed up." Like the conservative newspaper, opposition fig-ures spent the weekend uttering the same refrain: the government has allowed its authority to be usurped by anarchic protest by farmers and lorry drivers. Charles Millon, the parlia-mentary leader of the cen-trist UDF opposition, said the dispute was proof that the "government is incapa-ble of undertaking reforms and implementing them. This inability is creating a dangerous situation bordering on a blow to social cohe-sion." Le Monde, noted, however, that in exploiting the government's embarrassment, the opposition was playing with fire because it was "undermining citizens confidence in the state and the credit, already severely eroded, of politicians as a The barriers may disappear in time, as they did in 1984, when lorry trivers blockaded the roads to the Alpine winter sports areas, but one factor is weighing against any rapid solution and causing nightmares for the government's apparatus: no one speaks for the drivers. The men on the barricades pride themselves on their grass-roots action and boast that they will have nothing to do with unions. As soon as the prefect in one after hours, to win over the local leaders of one blockade. another takes its place. Tripartite talks have got under way among Jean-Louis Bianco, the transport minister, the haulage owners and drivers' unions, but there is nothing to suggest that the roadside revolutionaries, intoxicated with their power as much as the red wine they are imbibing in bulk, will heed their decisions. M. Beregowy yesterday blamed the liberal doctrines of the age for the breakdown in the trade union system which used to prevent such chaos.

"All societies have to be organised," he said.
The government's goal

now is to convince the drivers that their grievances, which go far beyond the driving li-cence system, are under-stood by the president and his government. In M Mitterrand's words, the drivers are the "serfs of our days." His ministers have been ordered to find ways to force employers to reduce the pressure which forces drivers to break the law and drive up to 8,000 miles a month often for as long as 48 hours without sleep for wages which have fallen far behind more regulated sectors.

The government vows, however, that it will not budge on the penalty points system. The French have to understand." M Bérégovoy said on television yesterday, "that 9,600 deaths on the roads every year and 200,000 badly injured ... is intolerable. No country can go on putting up with that."

EC law threatens £250m sell-off of discount cars

UP TO 30,000 new cars compulsory catalysts, which worth £250 million may have a soak up 90 per cent of toxic to be sold off at big discounts because EC legislators say they will be obsolete under new environmental laws. The legislators are understood to have taken a tough line with car makers who have been too slow to move towards implementing tighter exhaust emmissions regulations, which demand catalytic converters on ail new cars on sale after Janu-

The result is that Britain faces a two-tier pricing system for the next six months with buyers who want cars that meet the regulations forced to pay a premium up to £500 for a catalyst.

Car makers wanted the regulations relaxed because they said that slow sales in the UK recession could leave them with thousands of cars in stock not fitted with the

The industry estimates that 30,000 non-catalyst models, worth £250 million at showroom prices, could be unsold at the end of the year, forcing manufacturers to sell them at big discounts to ensure they are registered be-fore the January 1 deadline.

If they do not, cars left on forecourts after that date would in effect be scrap metal, according to the Retail Motor Industry Federation (RMI), which represents 12,000 garages.

Environmental groups say car makers have only themselves to blame for "dragging their feet in the move to legislation which has been known for a year while charging environmentallyaware consumers premiums for cars with caralysts. The request for special treatment Thousands of new cars without catalytic converters risk being condemned as scrap metal, Kevin Eason reports has sparked a dispute within the industry with companies which have implemented the regulations complaining to John MacGregor, the transport secretary.

European commissioners are also unconvinced, particularly as countries such The Netherlands and Germany offered tax incentives to motorists to get them into catalyst-equipped cars several years ago. Almost all cars sold in Germany have catalysts compared with only 17 per cent of the 1.6 million cars sold in the UK last year.

The EC is expected to announce this week that no relaxation will be allowed on laws which say that all new cars in production after July I and new cars on sale in showrooms after January 1 must have catalysts.

Friends of the Earth said: This is a ridiculous situation. If these companies had moved quicker there would be no problem. As it is, consumers who want 'clean' cars have to pay a huge amount over normal prices for effectively buying a car which is in line with EC laws."

Audi. Volvo and Toyota embraced the EC regulations and fitted catalysts as standard some time ago, others, including Ford, Rover and Peugot, have waited before switching fully to production of catalyst-only cars later this

While companies such as Best-selling models from Ford are still being sold with standard, non-catalyst petrol engines. An Escon 1.4 costs £10.230 but fitted with a catalyst as an option is £10,769, a difference of E539. A Fiesta 1.3LX costs £9,336 with a catalyst and £8.798 without, and a Sierra 1.8LX is £12,653 with catalyst and £12,115 without.

A Rover 214 SLi costs £12,216 with a catalyst, £380 more than the non-catalyst car while there is a £540 difference between the noncatalyst 405 GL 1.6 and the green" version of the car.Car makers admit that consumers will have to pay the higher price when supplies of the non-catalyst cars

Consumer groups believe that will be a form of "back door" price increase at a time when manufacturers are under attack for their pricing policies. Manufacturers say they must charge more to cover the cost of the catalytic converter with its expensive platinum component, although they claim their plans to convert to catalyst cars were scuppered by the recession.

Sales so far this year are down by more than 5 per cent on 1991, which was the worst year for a decade. Sales in June are expected to have risen by between 3 and 5 per cent but car makers are still not sure that they are moving towards the sort of recovery which will ensure that stocks of non-catalyst cars are sold in time for January 1.

Neil Marshall, the RMI's chie! economist, said: "We have a special case because of the depth of the recession. If the EC will not allow a relaxation of the rules then we have to be sure that dealers are not left with thousands of cars which are essentially worthless after January 1."

* Optionistics beload of the riet are polyable on a mirror appoint behavior of $1,000 between 1 May 1989 and 30 April 1982 have at the rate often the democratic behaviorable regime (an "Grass is the rate observe the deduction of basic rate income that imposes a polyable monthly like pay grass informs to continue that imposes are remainly like pay grass informs. All continues with register as manufact payers or manufact, residents and not to all other consomers. All

Every month 10,000 people open an account at Firstdirect.

Why?

Firstdirect is the fastest growing banking service in the UK. Every month thousands of people open an account with us. Here are some of the reasons.

Because we can offer interest rates consistently higher than any major high street bank. Firstdirect is not a high street bank. We don't have their enormous high street overheads. Therefore the interest rates on our current account can be consistently higher than our major competitors'. For instance between May 1991 and April 1992, a Firstdirect customer with a current account balance of £1,000 would have earned a tidy £42.52 in interest (net*). Compare that with our rivals.

	Credit interest payable on a surrout account histogram of C1000 for 12 position to 30.4.02 (net?)	Correct issured rate on a belance of $1000 (Green % p.s.")
BARCLAYS Interest Option	£23.66	1.50
LLOYDS Classic	621,12	2.00
NATWEST Current Plus	£15,85	1.50
TSB Interest Cheque Account	231.73	2.50
FIRSTDIRECT Cheque Account	£42_52	3.75

Because we're open 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, so you can do your banking at your convenience. Why is it that whenever you have the time to do your finances the bank's always shut? Not true with Firstdirect. Call us any time of the day or night and you'll get through to one of our friendly banking experts who'll have all your details at their fingertips. So no more rushing to beat closing time, because you can do your banking as and when it suits you.

And because everything's done over the phone, you can do your banking from wherever you want. Be it at home, in the office, in short, wherever there's a phone.

Because we give you a £100 cheque guarantee card as standard. Most banks see the £100 cheque quarantee card as a bit of a privilege. Not with Firstdirect. All our customers receive one. You can also use it to take out up to 2500 a day from any Midland, Natwest, TSB, Clydesdale or Northern bank cash machine.

Because we're obsessed with keeping you happy. At Firstdirect we're devoted to customer satisfaction. Every three months we survey our customers to find out exactly what we can do to improve our service. In our most recent NOP1 survey a resounding 80% of Firstdirect customers declared themselves "very satisfied" with the service they receive. This compares with only 52% of customers of the major high street banks.

Firstdirect believe that there's room to improve the service banks give. 10,000 people a month suggest we may be succeeding.

If you'd like to join Firstdirect call us free on 0800 222 000, or fill in the coupon. Our current account information pack will be in the post to you right away. One thing's for sure. You won't

To find out what you're missing call us free now on

0800 222 000 or fill in the coupon below

For more information about Firstdirect, and an application form, post this coupon to

Firstdirect, Freepost HK16, Leeds LS11 0YF (no stamp required) or ring 0800 222 000 Forename/s_____

Siege man's family wants review of police tactics

BY PAUL WILKINSON

RELATIVES of a man shot they were entiques. I said he dead by a police marksman had not got any firearms and, anyway, he would be drunk."

Officers refused to allow her, firearms tactics after a jury returned a verdict of lawful killing at his inquest

Ian Bennett, 34, was shot shire. He was later discovered to have been carrying a replica gun. Yesterday his mother, Jean, complained that police had acted hastily and had refused to let her try to talk, him out. The inquest at Bradford was told that senior officers were not informed that Bennett's parents were at the scene offering to help. ily's solicitor, said after the inquest that the Bennett family and friends deeply regret. Yesterday Bill Hughes, an ted the verdict. The only assistant chief constable at comfort which they can'de - West Norkshire regid. "It rive is the fervent hope that the glare of publicity which has surrounded the death of their son and the actions of the police will lead to an urgent and comprehensive review of firearms training and tactics. In their view this tragedy could have been avoided if the police operation had been properly

stat sa

Mrs Bennett said: "We are really angry at what has happened. We had only been there 15 to 20 minutes and he was dead. It was too quick. they never gave him a chance." She said she had told police that her son did not possess genuine weapons. I said

Patience is key to negotiation were called, he appeared at his first-floor flat window

BY STEWART TENDLER CRIME CORREPSONDENT

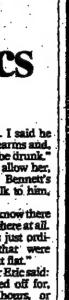

GRADUATES from Scot-land Yard's latest training course for police negotiators were on their way home yesterday as the Bennett verdict was delivered. By the time the next course begins, the in-quest evidence will have been studied for possible lessons:

Police have tried to reduce the number of officers authorised to handle guns while improving the ability of those who are in London, the number of trained marksmen has dropped swiftly in recent years and the police have also reduced the size of their arsenal.

· All forces now tend to rely on a small group of trained marksmen who are also taught siege negotiation. Nearly twenty forces now keep patrol cars, staffed by marksmen and loaded with weapons, available for all firearms emergencies.

The central tenet of siege training is the importance of patience and time. Officers are trained not to react unless lives are at risk. Throughout a siege, which can stretch into days, police try to maintain the initiative, usually channelling all links to the outside world through their negotiators.

But in spite of all the training, it remains the decision of the individual officer whether he should open fire If he does so, he must be sure that his action is in defence of her husband or Bennetr's grandmother to talk to him. "We still did not know there were armed police there at all.

dead on New Year's day at his . We thought it was just ordi-home in Rastrick, West York . nary policemen that were keeping him in that flat." Bennett's brother Eric said: "If they had backed off for, say, another 12 hours, or another three or four hours, Td have got to know about it. I'd have gone up there and Bradford was told that serior just walked straight in. I'd just walked str assistant chief constable at West Morkshire read. "It must be remembered that one of the first people Mich-ael Ryan shot in the Hungerford shootings was his own mother, who was trying to get him to put his weapons down, so it's important that we don't put innocent members of the public in the firing line."

He said: "I regret entirely that anybody lost their life as a result of what police did, but we do not have the benefit of hindsight. We were told they were all replicas, but there were also people who told us that he had access to real firearms."

Some recommendations made after Bennett's death were being acted on, he said. The incident was investigated by a senior officer from South Yorkshire police, acting for the Police Complaints Authority.

The siege began after Bennett threatened a taxi driver with an axe during an argu-ment over a fare. When police waving what appeared to be a weapon. Soon afterwards he was shot dead with three bullets as he apparently turned a gun on a group of marksmen. His weapon was later discovered to be a replica. Three replica guns were found in the flat as well as two axes and

The inquest began on April 27 and is thought to be the longest into the death of a single person. Eighty witnesses gave evidence and police showed the jury the scene of the shooting. It is also thought to be the first time that an inquest jury has returned a verdict on a Sunday. It retired to consider the case on Friday afternoon.

a sword.

Willow patterns: Serena de la Hay working on withy sculptures in her garden near Yeovil, Somerset. The sculptures will be exhibited at the Hampton Court Palace flower show, London, this week

Gardeners take tea at Hampton Court

A TEA garden and a garden created from glass will be among the showpieces of the Hampton Court Palace international flower show, which opens to the public on Thursday.

The show, now in its third year, has the theme of "roses through the ages" and is the biggest yet with nearly 800 exhibitors, eight vast floral marquees, more than 30 show gardens, many aquatic displays, horticultural stands and a craft village.

For the first time the Nat-will jointly stage the 15th British Rose Festival, com-prising trade exhibits, and. on Saturday and Sunday, the competitive classes of the National Southern Show. Marks & Spencer will again be present after their successful debut last year. The exhibit celebrates the vation of Plants and Gardens will have its own marquee, featuring 31 national plant collections, the greatest number ever displayed together. The Royal National

Rose Society and the British

East, will again have its "Railway Garden" but this popular attraction will be Rose Growers' Association very different from previous Among the show-garden themes is the Sunday Times and Brooke Bond tea garden, which features tea plants, in-cluding herbal varieties, and includes a sampling area. Another garden has been created from glass, inspired by floral scenes.

ional Conneil for the Conser- company's growth into the Palm House at Kew and vation of Plants and Gardens Europe and reflects the Con- the original Crystal Palace. Europe and reflects the Con-tinent's bright and colourful Glass and mirrors provide the structural element of this The show's sponsor. Britgarden, which features elevated glass pools allowing fish and plants to be seen ish Rail's Network Southfrom below.

New cultivars of flowers and plants will be launched. including Slimline Ballerina appletrees, peonies, fuchsias, roses, sweetpeas, carna-Visitors will be able to buy flowers and plants. The show will be open from July 9 to 12 from 10am to 7.30pm, closing at 6.30pm on Sunday.

College lecturers threaten to strike

By MATTHEW D'ANCONA, EDUCATION CORRESPONDENT

COLLEGE lecturers threatened strike action yesterday to defend academic standards and to maintain their agreed pay structures and conditions

The 75,000 members of the National Association of Teachers in Further and Higher Education have voted to oppose redundancies. They will also campaign against the decline in professional standards which they fear will result from the expansion of the universities and the withdrawal of further education colleges from local authority control Geoff Woolf, general secretary, said the union would not accept moves towards individual contracts and union de-recognition when the 500 colleges become independent institutions next April.

The union's executive expects university lecturers' pay to be a key issue during the next 18 months and is striving for a co-operation agreement with the Association of University Teachers. David Triesman, NATFHE deputy general secretary, said that a move to performance related pay would be disastrous and wreck staff assessment

Delegates also complained that the planned increase in student numbers would force the introduction of fast-track courses and a 46-week teaching year. Jill Jones, an executive member from Inner London, said two-year courses would put students under pressure to give up rounded study programmes and to take on rushed degree courses for financial reasons

Farmer fears for countryside views

By MICHAEL HORNSBY, AGRICULTURE CORRESPONDENT

FARMERS gathering for the 154th Royal Show, which opens at Stoneleigh, War-wickshire, today, are in more upbeat mood than a year ago. when uncertainty over the European Community's common agricultural policy was still hanging over them. The CAP reforms recently agreed by EC agriculture ministers are less onerous than had been feared. Price cuts over the next three years of 29 per cent for cereal growers and between 5 per cent and 15 per cent for beef and milk producers will probably leave most farmers neither better, nor worse, off.

The impact of the reforms is likely to be greatest on the appearance of the country-side, likely to be transformed as vast swathes of farmland are left idle under a huge public outery," he said.

extension of the "set-aside" scheme. A new type of subsidy is being introduced to compensate farmers for price cuts. Paid as a direct grant from the EC budget, it will amount to £83 an acre, on average, for British farmers, their arable acreage fallow each year to help to reduce the EC's 26 million-tonne cereal surplus. Small cereal farmers will be exempt from set-aside. Alastair Nugent, who farms at South Harting. Hampshire, says that most fields set aside so far have been sown with rve grass or abandoned to thistles and have not proved a haven for every farm is required to be set aside, the effect on our landscape is bound to cause a

Fish extract may offer hope for paralysis

BY NICK NUTTALL TECHNOLOGY CORRESPONDENT

A SUBSTANCE that helps fish and lower life forms repair damaged nerves has been pinpointed by scientists. The discovery might lead to a new kind of treatment for people paralysed in car crashes or other accidents, say the scientists. It could also help those whose nerves have been severed following surgery to remove tumours. Unlike fish, mammals appear unable to regenerate nerves in the cen-tral nervous system. These include nerves of the brain, spinal cord, auditory and olfactory systems. Why has remained a mystery.

Tests have shown that the fish substance, a protein, can promote nerve regeneration in rats and rabbits with severely damaged optic nerves. The researchers are now attempting to identify the gene in fish which controls the protein's production with a view to genetically engi-neering bacteria to produce the growth promoter for medical

The isolation and identification of the substance has been made by a team at the Weizmann Institute of Science in Rehovot, Israel, led by Michal Schwartz of the institute's neurobiology department. Their findings after seven years research are published in the Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences of the United States. The search for the protein started in 1985 when professor Schwartz started experimenting on mammals using an extract taken from regenerating fish nerves.In 1990 the researchers, collaborating with teams at Tel Aviv university's Goldschleger eye institute and the Sheba medical center, showed that if the extract is combined with low-energy laser light significant regeneration occurs.

A rabbit's damaged optic nerve. wrapped in a bandage with the fish nerve extract and exposed to the laser light, grew a dense network of nerve fibres that bridged the damage. Severed mammal nerves wither and die because they need the stimulation of nerve impulses to survive. The researchers suspect that the laser, which works best 30 minutes after damage, slows down the degeneration giving the fish extract the chance to promote growth.

Over the past two years the scientists have been trying to identify which substance, among the many found in the fish nerve extract, is triggering growth. They found that, in fish, the extract appeared to poison a group of cells called oligodendrocytes which live in nerve tissue and which previous studies have shown inhibit nerve

The researchers have now isolated and purified the protein which coun-teract these inhibitory cells. They describe the substance as being sim-ilar to interleukin-2, a material produced by human white blood cells at sites of inflammation.

By identifying the gene which controls production of the nerve growth-promoter, the researchers hope 10 manufacture it in bacteria. Isolating the gene might also allow scientists to one day use it on humans undergoing gene therapy. Here the fish

Unemployment may take away your wages. We'll make sure it doesn't take away your nom

one year's free cover for your mortgage payments in the event of unemployment, accident or sickness, which sky was

"I'm afraid we're going to have to let you go."

Apart from perhaps being one of the most over used phrases in British industry right now, it is also one of the most distressing.

Particularly for those who have got a mortgage to pay. So if you're thinking of taking out a mortgage you should talk to us at Nationwide.

As part of our Home to Home range of mortgages we are offering new borrowers Mortgage Payment Cover free for the first year.

This means in the unfortunate event that you become unemployed or are unable to work for a period of more than three months due to an accident or sickness, your mortgage will be paid for up to two years.

What's more, if you are a first time buyer we are offering a special discount of up to 2% off our standard rate in the first year (APR 11.2%).

While for current home owners moving, this discount is 0.5% (APR) 11.4%). And our rates are tiered, so the more you borrow, the lower the rate.

If you'd like more information on 'Home to Home' call into your nearest Nationwide branch. Or ring us on Freephone 0800 212 167 and we'll send you a free brochure.

Then if you suddenly become unemployed, at least you won't have to go job hunting and house hunting.

YOUR HOME IS AT RISK IF YOU DO NOT KEEP UP REPAYMENTS ON A MORTGAGE OR OTHER LOAN SECURED ON 17.

Registration letter Months Year you expect to replace

To: Renault UK, FREEPOST, PO Box 21, Thame, Oxon OX9 3BR.

For more information about the Clio Diesel, fill in the componer call

Renault Freephone 0800 525150

RENAULT CLIO DIESEL

Major leads campaign to save EFA project

BY MICHAEL EVANS, DEFENCE CORRESPONDENT

THE prime minister will to with a guard of honour outday lead the government's campaign to keep Italy and Spain in the £20 billion European Fighter Aircraft programme and to entice for replacing EFA. Germany back after last week's decision by Bonn to withdraw from the project John-Major will seek reassurances this morning from Giuliano Amato, the Italian prime minister, that he remains behind the collaborative programme. Later this week, Mr Major will try to see Felipe González, his Spanish counterpart, to gauge Spain's enthassiasm for EFA.

Taking advantage of the day and there was no dissent-gathering of G7 leaders in ling voice from Norman Munich, Mr Major has ar- Lamont, the Chancellor, ranged to hold urgent discussions with Signor Amato in his first bilateral meeting early this morning because of the fear in London that Germany's withdrawal might encourage the remaining two partners to follow suit. Mr Major will see SeñorGonzalez at the 52-nation Conference on Security and Co-operation in Europe summit in Helsinki on Thursday and Friday. Spain has American F18s and the manufacturer, McDonnell Douglas, has been aggressively marketing its plane as an alternative to EFA-The continuing commitment of Italy and Spain to an increasingly controversial European collaborative programme is seen as crucial, especially since senior British officials remain hopeful that Germany might be forced back in once Bonn realises that it will not make substantial savings by buying an ai-ternative aircraft. The toughest EFA session... will be between Malcolm

Taylor: party workers upset by in-fighting canvass

EC rebels

grass roots

By NICHOLAS WOOD

POLITICAL CORRESPONDENT THE prime minister is fac-ing a revolt by Conservative party activists over his re-fusal to hold a referendum on the Maastricht treaty.

The rebels are planning a summer campaign at grass-summer campaign at grassroots level to put pressure on John Major to change his mind. They will seek to persuade MPs of the need for a plebiscite and to get a referendum bandwagon rolling in time for the Tory conference in October.

The move was disclosed by Sir Teddy Taylor, MP for Southend East and a prominent opponent of the Maastricht treaty. He said

Mastricht treaty. The had been approached by eight party workers and office holders who had been disturbed at in-fighting in the party following Danish

Mr Major is unlikely to share this view. He and other senior Conservatives are emphasising the need for unity as Britain assumes the EC presidency. Mr Major believes a referendum would be alien to the British parliamentary tradition. However, a recent opinion poll indicating that the idea is supported by 71 per cent of the population.

are said to be planning a formal announcement next rejection of the treaty.

side the Ministry of Defence, Mr Rifkind will drop the niceties and demand to know. what Herr Ruhe has in mind

He will emphasise that the British government remains firmly behind EFA, in spite of reports last week that the cab-iner is split ever the pro-gramme. Officials said vesterday that although the Treasury was scrutinising the desence ministry's 19 billion equipment programme, EFA was not threatened. Mr Rifkind presented a report on EFA to the cabinet on Thurs-officials said. Herr Rulie on his first official visit since becoming defence minister, will be reminded that Germany is committed to spending about £2.5 billion on the development of EFA; about £1 billion of which has been paid out. Last week the Bundestag approved another 800 miltion marks for 1993, al-though rejecting an addit-ional 100 million marks for the pre-production phase.

British officials acknowledges that the defence minis try had to make the case for EFA on military grounds alone, aithough the pro-gramme was also vital for jobs and for the future of Bullipean military collaboration. The much quoted figure of 40,000 British jobs directly and indirectly linked to EFA relates only to the peaksperiod of production.

At present 48 British comtracis in the development of airgame equipment and 10 meantracts for engine accessories. The development tary, and Volker Ruse, his phase has led to 3,000-4,000 German counterpart, who jobs in the British acrospace meet in London this more industry and another 5,000 welcoming hims created indirectly. ther welcoming him a case of the community

Last respects: the new Marquess of Bath at the funeral of his father on Saturday accompanied by his wife, the actress Anna Gael, and his son, the new Viscount Weymouth

Labour rivals clash over vote

By NICHOLAS WOOD, POLITICAL CORRESPONDENT

JOHN Smith and John Pres- were also signs yesterday that cott clashed openly yesterday over the fate of the trade union block vote less than two weeks before union chiefs, MPs and party activists come together to elect the new Labour leadership.

Mr Smith, who appears to have the senior job sewn up. said he thought the party would get rid of the block vote and warned his party against "dithering on" beyond the deadline of October next year for overhauling its constitution. He also underlined his commitment to redistributive taxation while adding that some needy groups, such as single mothers, might be prefer good childcare, training and a job to more benefits.Mr Prescott, one of three con-tenders for the deputy leadership, said he supported the vote because it was a form of representative voting". The differing stances of the two men on one of the key issues facing the party will revive doubts about whether Mr Prescott could work with Mr Smith if he beats off the challenge of Margaret Beck-the dispute over the nature of Labour's links with the unions is likely to boil over at the party conference in the autumn. Bill Morris, leader of the TGWU, the transport workers union, made clear that he too wanted to keep the block vote. He said on BBC Radio 4 that until Labour became a mass party "we will have to work with the Labour party we have got".

Two weeks ago. Labour's ruling National Executive Committee rejected advice from Neil Kinnock and decided to set up a review of the block vote and the party's links with the unions. Mr Smith said that while he supported the idea of a detailed enquiry, he was not prepared to allow the argument to drag on beyond next October. He also hinted that he would confront the union diehards if reforms were not agreed.

Although Mr Smith did not give details, he is understood to be attracted to a scheme whereby trade union-ists paving the political levy would be given associate

care team to help councils By NICHOLAS WOOD POLITICAL CORRESPONDENT

A TEAM of experts is to be announced this week by min-isters to smooth the introduction of the community care reforms in April.

About a dozen people drawn from social services departments, general pracdepartments, general prac-tice, private homes and senior. NHS management will be brought together in a task-force to work with local au-thorities as they prepare to assume responsibility for managing the care of elderly and handicapped people. The move comes against the background of mounting anxiety in Whitehall about the outlook for the community care shake-up. Ministers are worried that public and professional expectations of the reforms are being raised unrealistically high and emphasise there can be no instant solution to the needs of an ageing population. They are also concerned that Labour councils may obstruct the implementation of the reforms because of their opposition to the govern-ment's overhaul of the NHS. A key task for the team will be to overcome professional and political jealousies and persuade the various bodies involved to cooperate for the good of the venture.

Under the reforms, local authorities will have sole responsibility for carrying out "care assessments" of those unable to look after themselves and who want expert help at home or a move to residential accommodation, possibly from an NHS ward. After a rerouting of Whitehall funds, charges for social security daimants will be met by local councils instead of the social security department. The arrangements will apply to only new applicants, esti-mated at 120,000 a year, and not those already living in private or local authority old

The group of eight be-hind the referendum campeople's homes. Ministers have been studynind the referendum cam-paign plan a second meeting this week at the Commons, which is likely to involve 45 party workers and a number of MPs. They ing six-monthly reports from local authorities on the progress of their plans for implementing the reforms.
Of the 108 councils, one has not yet drawn up a plan and 15 others are giving cause for week to coincide with the start of Parliament's long concern because their propos-

...WITH A RENAULT DIESEL YOU'RE COMFORTABLY BETTER OFF.

Imagine, a 1.9 litre car that is capable of an incredible 68.9 mpg." a top speed of over 100 mph) and is, in the words of Diesel Car asserte and the option of mover assered seering. magazine, 'a remarkably smooth ride for such a small car.' Such a car is the Renault Clio diesel.

it offers considerably more. You simply get more for your money from the Renault - more class-leading car at a class-leading price.

engine, more space, more performance, better trim. Not our words, but those of Diesel Ca:

RENAULT

You can choose the 3 door RL with its roomy interior and a five speed gearboy

Or, for a little extra, there's the 5 does RN

complete with natea grass, a grass sention, a 4-speaker radio

Whichever you greter, and the comfortably better off, Because prices start at the $\chi^{+}(k)^{++}$ and there's tempting deals And, as you would expect from a member of the Clio family. available or your Renault dealer.

No. aunder Diesel Car concluded Tienault can beast a

And you can relay with the option of Renault Cordiale, our budget maintenance scheme vinere a regular monthly payment covers repairs and servicing for up to 3 years.

For further details you can talk to your local dealer, call our 24 hour freephone service on 0800-52-51-50 or complete

Cambridge misses opportunity to dominate green studies

Page: hopes the idea will be kept alive

CAMBRIDGE University has centre, which needed £1.25 milfailed to raise the money for its proposed interdisciplinary environmental centre, which was due to open on October 1. The project is likely to be shelved later this

The hopes of academics, environmentalists and scientists that Cambridge could become the world centre of excellence in environmental studies will disappear. That is a role already being poached by Oxford University's environmental change unit, set up

Cambridge has missed its opportunity because varsity politics delayed permission for the project until last summer. The critical period of fund-raising for the lion, has coincided with the worst part of the recession, says the initiating director, Emeritus Pro-fessor John Page. "Industry is skint," he said. Professor Page. whose contract expires in September, said that he hoped the university board would keep the idea alive by agreeing to appoint a successor to himself, and a committee to oversee the continuing ies into other disciplines.

The university declined to contribute towards the centre until this spring when it took on respon-sibility for Professor Page's final integration of environmental studsix months' salary. Oxford has already raised nearly £1 million from private and corpo-

The university's failure to raise £1.25m for a world environmental centre has allowed Oxford to take the lead, reports Michael McCarthy rate benefactors for the environmental change unit, headed by Professor Martin Parry, one of the leading authorities on the potential impact of the greenhouse effect on world agriculture. The univer-sity has provided the unit with accommodation, furnishings and equipment worth £550,000, while £1.6 million worth of research funding has been secured. Professor Page visited Professor Parry in Oxford at the weekend. John and I exchanged thoughts about the issues surrounding the starting of new initiatives like these," Professor Parry said. "We were fortunate in Oxford to get in early enough to secure resources to run through the recession."

Disappointment at the Cam-bridge failure will go far beyond intervarsity rivalry, as Cambridge was seen by many as the natural home for the discipline of environmental science. This was not only because of the university's tradi-tional strength in the natural sciences, but also because of the important green institutions in the city, including the World ConserBritish Antarctic Survey, whose scientists discovered the "hole" in the ozone layer.

The original idea for the Cam-bridge interdisciplinary environmental centre was that it would bring the specialised knowledge of these bodies together with the research, teaching and computing strengths of the university.

Northern children are less aware of green issues than southerners, a survey disclosed

Of the 573 children, aged 7 to 12, who were interviewed, 82 per cent of southern youngsters claim to do something to help look after the environment and 62 per cent are involved in the north. The most popular way of helping to save the planet is recycling cans, glass and newspapers, says the study by the Children's Research Unit.

Youngsters also try to help by switching off lights, asking parents to buy green products and urging nature conservation. Girls are the better bottle-bankers, with 66 per cent claiming to use them, com-pared with 59 per cent of boys. Overall, children believe they are as green as their parents and worry most about global issues such as the destruction of the rain forests and the ozone layer and testing products on animals.

The survey, commissioned by British Glass and Safeway, found that children wanted more recycling, less use of CFCs, better care for trees, and steps to reduce litter,

NEWS IN BRIEF

Many girls

in care

pregnant Up to one in four girls in local authority care are teenage mothers or pregnant by the time they leave, according to a government-sponsured sur-vey by Leeds University

The study of 183 young people from three local authorities suggests that councils are failing to provide proper sex education or family planning to youngsters in residen-

Figures also show that one in ten young mothers are homeless and that about 75 per cent of care-leavers have no educational qualifications.

compared with a national everage of 11 per cent. Ten thousand young people leave local authority care each year.

Editors attack

Secrecy in the courts is eroding the principle of open justice, according to the Guild of British Newspapers

Editors. It has written to the Lord Chancellor urging that the citizen's charter for courts

Problems cited include the closing of courtroom doors.

withholding a defendant's

name or address, reporting restrictions and denying ac-

Murder charge

woman found dead at her home in Grimsby, Humberside, at the weekend, has been charged with her murder. Raymond Miles. 31, will appear before Grimsby magi-

A post-mortem examina-tion showed that Cheryi

Miles, a mother of three, had received blows to her head.

A Scout fell more than 1,000ft to his death in Snowdonia. David Higginson, 12, from Warrington, Cheshire, was with a group of six Scouts and supervisors descending a narrow sheep track above

Crash remand

Steven Reynolds, 19, of Cowley, Oxford, who was arrested after a stolen car crashed and seriously injured an 82-year-old man, was remanded in custody on charges of dangerous driving and aggravated vehicle-taking.

Drugs mishap

strates today.

Scout dies

Nantgwynant.

cess to court information.

should ensure open justice.

court secrecy

tial homes.

Patten vows to stop EC involvement in schools

By JOHN O'LEARY, EDUCATION CORRESPONDENT

MINISTERS are to maintain their ban on European Community involvement in schools, in spite of a clause in the Maastricht treaty giving Brussels a formal role in

As Britain began its presidency of the Community. John Patten, education secretary, confirmed that Maastricht would not alter the government's determination to restrict the European Commission's activities to postschool courses. Mr Patten said: "I do not think it is a bad thing that we should have more European co-operation in higher education, but it is unlikely to move into the schools area."

Education was not mentioned in the Treaty of Rome. which established the Community. Higher education programmes have been classified as vocational training. but Britain and some other member states have drawn the line at schools.

In 1988, the Lingua programme to improve language teaching was delayed when Kenneth Baker, then education secretary, refused to ac-

Conflicts grow over opt-out governors

BY MATTHEW D'ANCONA EDUCATION CORRESPONDENT

GOVERNORS are coming into conflict with head teachers in a significant number of opted-out schools, according to a new study of the grantmaintained sector.

In the Leicester University survey of heads, teachers and governors at the first 100 grant-maintained schools, 7 per cent of the 290 respondents believed that governors' intervention in the running of schools was excessive. Thirteen per cent of teacher governors and 18 per cent of teacher union representatives said governing bodies were straying from governance into management.

Professor Tony Bush, of the survey team, said that generally amiable relations between heads and governors were marred by an undercurrent of dissatisfaction, which this summer's education white paper would have to address. There was a strong case for first, or foundation. governors to be appointed by the local community. Bob Lloyd, chairman of the new Association of Heads of Grant-Maintained Schools, said that a new code of practice was needed to protect heads. "The head should be a chief executive, responsible for staff appointments and the compilation of a budget. The governing body should have a strategic role."

Industrialists, PhD students and computer experts should be formally seconded to schools to help teachers with increasing curriculum demands, says a think tank report published today. The Institute of Public Policy Research called for two new grades, teaching assistant and teaching associate. Assistants would help with tasks such as care, special needs and lunchtime supervision and associates, "skilled people drawn from the local community", would contribute to the classroom curriculum. The National Association of Schoolmasters/Union of Women Teachers called the report a charter for unqualified teachers.

cept a proposal to make two foreign languages the norm for university entry. A compromise allowed other governments to use the programme in schools, while Britain and Germany restricted it to higher education.

An article in the Maastricht treaty says: "The Com-munity shall contribute to the development of quality edu-cation by encouraging cooperation between member states and, if necessary, by supporting and supplement-ing their action." No distinction is drawn between schools and universities, and decisions are subject to majority voting. Lingua is expected to be the first programme affected by this extension of Community competence.

Sara Evans, a senior member of the Commission group responsible for education. said: "The British position was that they were not prepared, given that education was not in the treaty joi Rome], to have a measure taken under Community competence that touched on the schools in any way. The Commission assumes that they do not take the same position now, since Mr Major has signed the Maastricht preaty

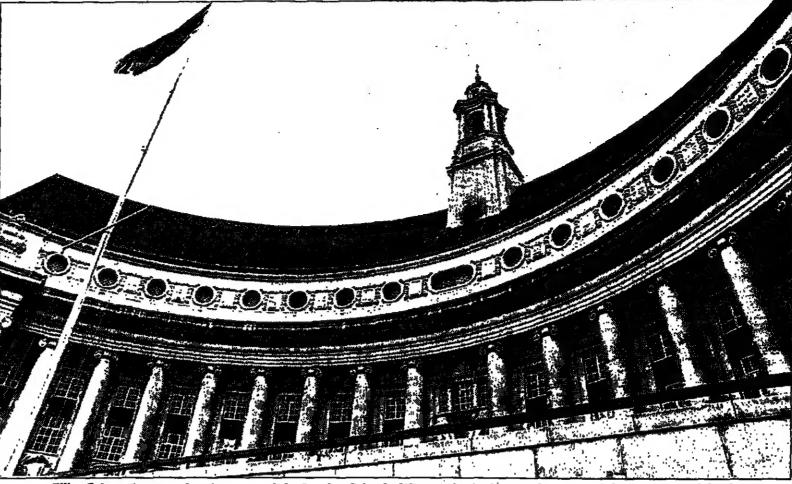

Mr Patten said that higher education remained a more appropriate area for Community involvement. The British presidency should see some progress in the fostering of student mobility and in widening participation in educational projects beyond the existing member states.

More use might be made of "distance" education to make courses more international without the expense of exchange programmes. "We will be trying to develop alter-natives to physical mobility. perhaps through lecturers moving rather than the students, or through university twinning arrangements," Mr Patten said. "I also want to promote the growth of open and distance learning by making more information available on what is on offer in Europe and by pressing ahead with the voluntary implementation of common

Mr Patten added that the presidency offered opportuni-ties in education. "There is nothing on the horizon for our presidency which needs us to be having a rearguard action. The situation is well under control as far as education is concerned and, on a number of narrow fronts, we can make some modest improvements.

standards."

Education Times, L&T section, page 7

Pillar fight: a Japanese hotel group and the London School of Economics both want County Hall, former home of the GLC

LSE given deadline for bid to buy County Hall

MINISTERS will have to decide this week whether to allow County Hall, the former Council opposite the Houses of Parliament, to become a hotel or the home of a Euro-

The London School of Economics has been given until Friday to produce evidence that it has the financial backing to support its bid for the grade II listed building on one of the capital's most prominent sites by the Empty since the Inner London Education Authority moved out in 1990, County Hall is the responsibility of the London Residuary Body. which has the job of disposing of the assets of the GLC and the ILEA. On the day that the general election was called, the au-thority signed a contract to sell the building to the Japanese hotel and leisure group Shirayama, which wants to convert it to a 600-bedroom hotel on the doorstep of the new Channel Tunnel terminal at Waterloo.

The contract contains a clause which allows either side to withdraw up to the end of this year. Shirayama is reported to have asked for this to be waived, arguing that it was inserted only to avoid tying the hands of an incomng Labour government.

Frustrated by persistent re-ports that the LSE wanted to bid for County Hall, the residuary body has imposed the Friday deadline to bring matters to a head. Although it has no need to consult ministers about the sale of any assets under its control. Michael University or hotel? The tussle over a London landmark nears its climax, writes Douglas Broom

Howard, the environment secretary, has been kept fully informed of developments. The sale of County Hall is also being monitored by the cabinet committee on At the heart of the matter is the significance of County Hall both for Londoners and as a landmark seen by millions of visitors to Westminster. Its austere frontage is the backdrop to a thousand holiday snaps of Big Ben. Shirayama is believed to have agreed to pay £60 million for the riverside building but its plans exclude two other office blocks and a block in the centre of the rounabout at the east end of Westminster Bridge.

The LSE hopes to convert the riverside block into its new home, expanding its activities to create the British equivalent of France's Ecole Normale d'Administration, the cradle of the nation's goveming elite.

In order to fund the move the LSE would sell its warren of buildings at Aldwych. Ideally it would like to lease County Hall at a nominal rent while it raised money in the City to buy the office blocks and possibly also the freehold of the island site.

The LSE declines to say how much it might offer, believing that by refusing to make what a spokesman called "a blind bid" it can force the government into making a definitive choice

Whatever its future use the first task of any new occupier will be to overcome one of the building's most distinctive features, its smell. This has been attributed to a mixture of odours from the canteen, disinfectants, floor polish and the drains.

Hailed as the Hôtel de Ville of London when it was opened by King George V in 1922, County Hall was for 60 years the concrete expression of London's right to govern

The building owes it existence to the creation in 1889 of the London County Council. From its first meeting in the boardroom of its precursor, the Metropolitan Board of Works, the LCC sought a home of its own.

Holding meetings in Guildhall proved no solution and only fuelled unflattering comparisons between the LCC and the much grander City Corporation.

A competition seeking designs for the new building was launched in 1906 and attracted 99 designs by leading architects but the winner was Ralph Knon, a 29-yearold assistant to Sir Aston Webb, then president of the RIBA, with whom he had worked on Admiralty Arch and the Victoria and Albert Museum.

Work on a modified version of Knott's design began in 1909 only to be halted in 1916 by the first world war. Its opening in 1922 coincided with the new optimism of London 'needs a council'

By OUR LOCAL

LONDON should have a directly elected executive council to tackle growing traffic congestion and planning difficulies, according to a committee of the city's leading figures. In an open letter to the prime minister to be delivered today, the group, headed by Sir Ralf Dahrendorf, former director of the London School of Economics and now Warden of St Anthony's College, Oxford, says that government attempts to deal piecemeal with London's problems are destined to fail. They propose an executive council with up to ten members, responsible for transport, planning, fire, police and flood defence, most of which are overseen by Whitehall. "Nobody is responsible for relating one activity to another," they say. Each has a different structure of accountability, or none at all, to the public in London." Elections would be held to choose the members, who would be accountable to a standing conference composed of all the capital's MPs and representatives of boroughs, business and voluntary groups. The letter says: London needs a focus around which those who are concerned with the development and prosperity of its economy can work together."

The group says that there are no grounds for returning to a large bureaucracy, such as the GLC, and it rejects the notion of an elected mayor for Today: Talks on future of Nonhern Ireland, including Dublin ministers, open in London. Result of dentists' ballot on industrial action due. German defence minister to meet Malcolm Rifkind on future (EFA).. Mothers' Union announces result of talks on whether to urge legalisation of brothels. Tomerrow: Defence department spending announcement, amid concern over EFA. Crown Prosecution Service annual report. Deadline for licence bids for extra independent television channel. • Wednesday: EC court to give preliminary ruling on British Sunday trading laws. Larry Whitty, Labour general secretary, due in court charged with traffic offence and assaulting police officer. Murder trial resumes in the Isle of Man of Anthony Treare, who faces death penalty if found guilty. Frankie Howerd memorial service in London. Thursday: Transport department report due on submarine sinking of the trawler Antares. National conference in Birmingham on training and enterprise councils. Law firms specialising in personal injury meet victims of smoking to discuss suing tobacco industry. Transplant Games at Exeter.

Friday: Inflation figures due. Conference on children's mental health in London. Saturday: Church of England general synod begins at York University. Sunday: Synod to debate multi-faith worship and environment.

A drug-runner who vomited more than 30 packers of cannabis was last night described as "poorly" by a hospital in Stoke-on-Trent. He is believed to have swallowed the small believed to have swallowed. lowed the small packets to smuggle them into Britain.

Skull stolen

Devil-worshippers stole the skull of an eighteenth century rector from a tomb in a derelict Saxon church. The thieves scratched Satanic signs on the pillars of St Mary's at Houghton-on-the-Hill, Norfolk

Cave wedding

Two cavers were married at a service held 300ft underground. Guests trekked half a mile through damp caves for the wedding of David Mid-dleton, 24, and Rachel Stringer, 25, at White Scar Cave. North Yorkshire.

Wind change

Conservation groups and residents have lost their campaign to prevent a £10 million wind farm being built at Ovenden Moor, near Halifax.

Bond winners

Winners in the weekly Premium Bond draw are: £100,000, bond number 16DB 219176, winner lives in Cumbria; £50,000, 14KS 764410 (Liverpool); £25,000. 16HL 345014 (Dyfed).

Church collections must double

By RUTH GLEDHILL RELIGION CORRESPONDENT

CHURCHGOERS will be asked next week to double their cash contributions to help the Church of England to survive in its present form beyond 1995.

A report to be debated at the general synod meeting in York next weekend shows that congregations are giving only half the amount that they were asked for ten years ago. According to the report. church members give an average £3 per week. or 2.5 per cent of their net income. In 1982 they were asked to give 5 per cent. The report issues a warning that total income from giving will need to rise by at least 10 per cent each year if the present nationwide maintained. The historic resources of the church, managed by the Church Commissioners, have been badly hit by the recession. The Church of England is still perceived by many people as extremely wealthy. But the com-missioners and many dioceses rely heavily on income from property, a sector that has suffered level of ministry is to be particularly badly. The church's investment income is unlikely to rise above its present level of £240 million by 1995. although expenditure is expected to increase by up to per cent each year over the same period. The church must therefore turn to its members. The latest figures show widely varying amounts of giving by church-goers in the 43 dioceses in England. In 1989. the most recent figures available. average weekly donations varied from £3.66 in London to £1.45 in Truro. The Chichester diocese, in one of the wealthiest parts of the country. received an average of £1.84. one of the lowest.

Chichester has obtained up-to-date figures showing that average weekly giving has risen to £2.52, but that still compares poorly with the £3.80 of neighbouring Canterbury, Rochester, Southwark, Guildford and Portsmouth.

In Lincoln, average week-

pendiary ministry. As the cost of the ministry absorb half of annual income, the future is almost certain to mean many more lay mem bers and ordained people working in full-time jobs outside the church.

ly giving in 1989 was one of the lowest at £1.51. The	Diocese	Weekly average giving per church member	Diocese	Weekly average giving pe church member bishop, the Rt Rev Robert Hardy, recently announced that 34 clergy jobs were to be cut, more than 10 per cent of the total. Campaigns have resulted in one parish increasing its income by six times and other parishes by more than half. Some rural dioceses, including Lincoln, have responded to the shortage of money by promoting alternatives to the full-time sti-	Bath and Wells Birmingham Blackburn Bradford Bristol Carnerbury Carlisle Chelmsford Chester Chichester Coventry Derby Durham Ely Exeter Glioucester Guidford	2.73 1.68 2.54 2.50 2.45 1.92 2.02 1.84 2.02 1.15 2.28 1.72 1.99 2.04 3.02	Manchester Newcastle Norwich Oxford Peterborough Portsmouth Ripon Rochester St Albans St Edmundsbury and loswich Sallsbury Sheffield Sodor and Man Southwark Southwell	2.27 2.25 1.81 2.62 2.09 2.03 1.92 2.54 2.21 1.99 1.80 2.33 1.58 3.26 3.00
pendiary ministry. As the cost of the ministry absorbs half of annual income, the future is almost certain to mean many more lay members and ordained people	Hereford Leicester Lichfield Lincoln Liverpool London	1.79 2.29 2.21 1.51 2.08 3.66	Truro Wakefield Winchester: Worcestershire York Church of England average	1.45 1.97 1.92 1.98 2.08

DONATIONS TO THE CHURCH OF ENGLISHED

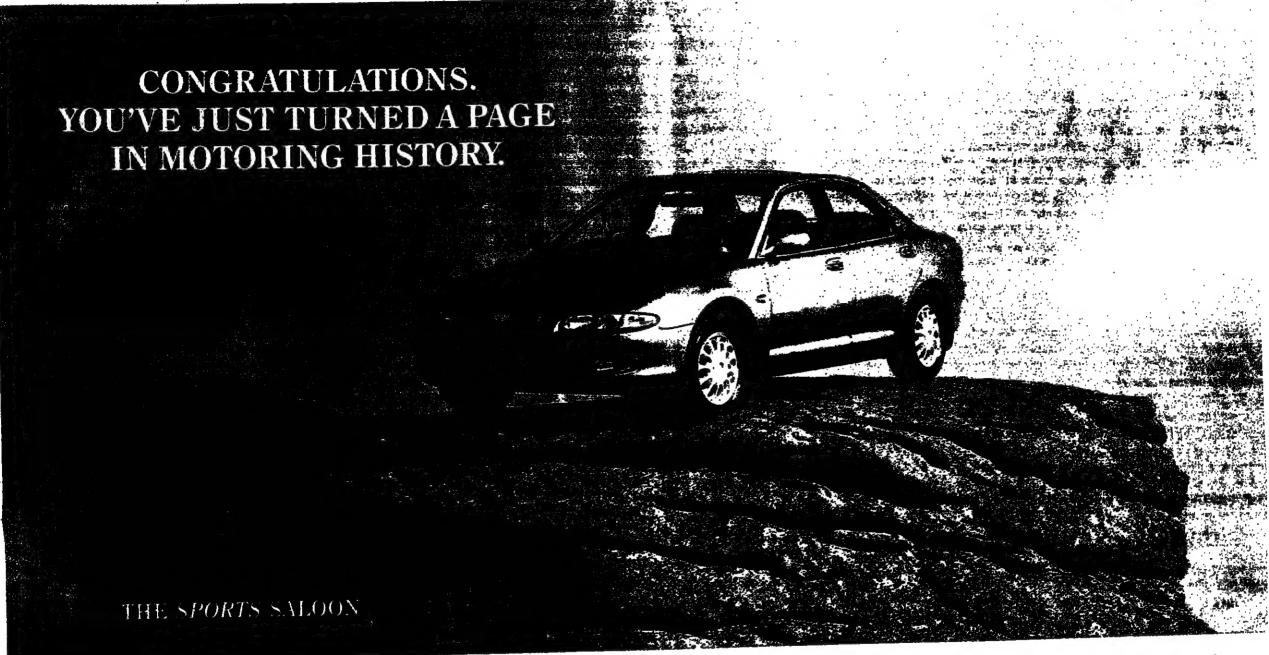

This summer sees a rather special event in the motoring calendar. The launch of a car that is genuinely different from the rest. It's called the Xedos 6.

The design brief was simple. Start with a clean sheet and end with the ultimate luxury sports saloon. Along the way break a good few rules.

The first rule to go was the one which said such cars should look staid and rather boxlike. Hence the ultra low front, the subtle curves, the flush fitting glass and the dazzling mirror-finish paintwork. The sort of dashing lines, in fact, normally reserved for those more glamorous motoring cousins, the two-door-coupés.

Gone, too, are the rather spartan interiors favoured by the Germans. Sit in a Xedos SE and you sink into soft leather, cocooned in a sculpted cockpit that curves gently round you.

As you'd expect, every power-operated labour saving device you could wish for is at your fingertips. And you'll also have the security of a driver's airbag to protect you should a front-on collision ever happen. (Naturally ABS is standard along with a catalytic converter.) The driving force behind this particular piece of history is a 2.0i 24 valve V6 engine allied to computer designed suspension. Take her for a drive and yet more rules fall by the wayside. One moment you're gliding effortlessly across the miles in stately comfort. The next you throw her into a bend and suddenly you have the rock steady poise of a true sports car.

More mould-breaking innovation is in evidence on the automatic version. It virtually reads your mind. It's done using computer sensors which analyse your driving style and select economy or sports mode depending on your mood.

And then to make sure gear changes are imperceptibly smooth, the same computer enters into conversation with the one controlling the engine to cut torque at the moment of change.

By now you may be itching to test these remarkable claims with a test drive. In which case, where do you find the new Xedos? Well, would it be breaking all the rules to suggest a Mazda showroom? It might have a few years ago. But one look at all the other desirable technology on the forecourt, the MX-3, MX-6 and RX-7 and you'll have to agree, it's no surprise at all. Ring 081 879 7777 for more information or visit one of the specially selected dealers listed below. You'll find history has improved a

With 16th

. का दिए देश (चित्रकार) 1000

> FOR MORE INFORMATION WRITE TO MAZDA CARS (IK) LTD, FREEPOST, TUNBRIDGE WELLE, KENT THA 88R. FOR PERSONAL EXPORTS AND TAX FREE CALL 0892 523742. THE XEDOS 6 PRICES START AT £17,200 THROUGH TO £19,800 FOR THE SE AUTOMATIC AND EXCLUDE THE DELIVERY CHARGE OF £455, NUMBER PLATES AND ROAD FUND LICENCE. DETAILS CORRECT AT TIME OF GOING TO PRESS. FOR MORE INFORMATION WRITE TO MAZDA CARS (UK) LTD, FREETUSIA, I UNDIREDUM, MACIA OFFICE SAID FOR FERDINAL CAPURIS AND PARKEL CALL USSY 283/42. THE XEDDS 6 PRICES START AT £17,200 THROUGH TO £19,800 FOR THE SE AUTOMATIC AND EXCLUDE THE DELIVERY CHARGE OF £455, NUMBER PLATES AND ROAD FUND LICENCE. DETAILS CORRECT AT $100.00 THROUGH TO £19,800 FOR THE SE AUTOMATIC AND EXCLUDE THE DELIVERY CHARGE OF £455, NUMBER PLATES AND ROAD FUND LICENCE DETAILS CORRECT AT £17,200 THROUGH TO £19,800 FOR THE SE AUTOMATIC AND EXCLUDE THE DELIVERY CHARGE OF £455, NUMBER PLATES AND ROAD FUND LICENCE DETAILS CORRECT AT £17,200 THROUGH TO £19,800 FOR THE SE AUTOMATIC AND EXCLUDE THE DELIVERY CHARGE OF £455, NUMBER PLATES AND ROAD FUND LICENCE DETAILS CORRECT AT £17,200 THROUGH TO £19,800 FOR THE SE AUTOMATIC AND EXCLUDE THE DELIVERY CHARGE OF £455, NUMBER PLATES AND ROAD FUND LICENCE DETAILS CORRECT AT £17,200 THROUGH TO £19,800 FOR THE SE AUTOMATIC AND EXCLUDE THE DELIVERY CHARGE OF £455, NUMBER PLATES AND ROAD FUND LICENCE DETAILS CORRECT AT £17,200 THROUGH TO £19,800 FOR THE SE AUTOMATIC AND EXCLUDE THE DELIVERY CHARGE OF £455, NUMBER PLATES AND ROAD FUND LICENCE DETAILS CORRECT AT £17,200 THROUGH TO £19,800 FOR THE SE AUTOMATIC AND EXCLUDE THE DELIVERY CHARGE OF £455, NUMBER PLATES AND ROAD FUND LICENCE DETAILS CORRECT AT £17,200 THROUGH TO £19,800 FOR THE SE AUTOMATIC AND EXCLUDE THE DELIVERY CHARGE OF £455, NUMBER PLATES AND ROAD FUND LICENCE DETAILS CORRECT AT £17,200 THROUGH TO £19,800 FOR THE SE AUTOMATIC AND EXCLUDE THE DELIVERY CHARGE OF £455, NUMBER PLATES AND ROAD FUND LICENCE DETAILS CORRECT AT £17,200 THROUGH TO £19,800 FOR THE $1,000 FO ALL XEDOS CARS HAVE AN 8 YEAR ANTI PERFORATKUN AND A 3 TEMPORATION MILE MELINIA DOLLA SETUP. COMPANY OF SETUP. COMPANY OF SETUP. COMPANY OF SETUP. COMPANY OF SETUP. ANTIHONY MOTORS LID 0970 624444 GLAMORRAN CARDET METORIA PARK MAZDA 0222 387861. CHESTIER DOCUMENT OF SETUP. ANTIHONY MOTORS LID 0970 624444 GLAMORRAN CARDET METORIA PARK MAZDA 0222 387861. CHESTIER DOCUMENT PORTS OF SETUP. COMPANY 0202 701222. DYFED ABERYSTWYTH, ANTHONY MOTORS LID 0970 624444 GLAMORRAN CARDET METORIA PARK MAZDA 0222 387861. CHESTIER DOCUMENT PORTS OF SETUP. COMPANY 0202 701222. DYFED ABERYSTWYTH, ANTHONY MOTORS LID 0970 624444 GLAMORRAN CARDET METORIA PARK MAZDA 0222 387861. CHESTIER DOCUMENT PORTS OF SETUP. COMPANY 0202 701222. DYFED ABERYSTWYTH, ANTHONY MOTORS LID 0970 624444 GLAMORRAN CARDET METORIA PARK MAZDA 0222 387861. CHESTIER DOCUMENT PORTS OF SETUP. COMPANY 0202 701222. DYFED ABERYSTWYTH, ANTHONY MOTORS LID 0970 624444 GLAMORRAN CARDET METORIA PARK MAZDA 0222 387861. CHESTIER DOCUMENT PORTS OF SETUP. CHESTIER DOCUMENT POR ELODGE GARAGE 0296 778245. CHESHIRE STOCKPORT, RUBERTISSERIES AND VOLUME TO USSU. LITESTEE, PERTINAS IN AUTOMOTIVE (CHESSIZI) LID UZ44 590000, WILMSLOW, STRATTON NAZDA 0625 549960. CLEVELAND MIDDLESBROUGH, STEVENSON MAZDA 0642 597597. CUMBRIA CARLISLE, BORDER CARS MAZDA 0228 818811. KENDAL, BURROWS MAZDA 0539 821273.
>
> CONTRACTORIA PARK MAZDA 076245. CHESHIRE STOCKPORT, RUBERTISSERIES AND ARGUMENT CONTRACTORIA PARK MAZDA 0222 387461. GLOUGGESTERSHIRE CHELTENHAM, ARLINGTON MAZDA 0242 243111. GWYNEDD ANGLESEY, PENTHRAETH AUTOMOTIVE 0248 712002. HAMPSHIRE
>
> WORN PLYMOUTH, PLYMOUTH MAZDA 0752 257857. DORSET POOLE, MAGNA MOTOR COMPANY 0202 701222. DYFED ABERYSTWYTH, ANTHONY MOTORS, BOURNE ROAD GARAGE 0322 521595. TUNBRIDGE WELLS, DEWON PLYMOUTH, PLYMOUTH MAZDA 0752 257857, DUNISHED TOULS, MINISTON MAZDA 0242 243111, GWYNEDD ANGLESEY, PENTHRAETH AUTOMOTIVE 0248 712002, MAMPSHIRE PLANTSHOUTH, PLYMOUTH, PL PORTSMOLTH, ST CHRISTOPHERS MAZINA UPON OF ANY MATERIAL SERVELLY STREET, FOLLETT MAZINA 0533 558511. LINCOLNSKIRE LINCOLN, METHERINGHAM MAZINA 0522 681094. LONDON NORTH WEST MILL HILL MAZINA 051 959 3474. LONDON CENTRAL BERKELEY STREET, FOLLETT MAZINA 071-629 6266. MIOPLESEX TWICKENS
> RE BOLTON, LYTRGOE MAZINA 0204 362000. LEICESTERSBIRE LEICESTER, BORINSONS MAZINA 0533 558511. LINCOLNSKIRE LINCOLN, METHERINGHAM MAZINA 0547 79000 STREET, STREET, FOLLETT MAZINA 071-629 6266. MIOPLESEX TWICKENS
> RE BOLTON, LYTRGOE MAZINA 0204 362000. LEICESTERSBIRE LEICESTER, BORINSONS MAZINA 0533 558511. LINCOLNSKIRE LINCOLN, METHERINGHAM MAZINA 0547 79000 STREET, FOLLETT MAZINA 071-629 6266. MIOPLESEX TWICKENS
> RE BOLTON, LYTRGOE MAZINA 0204 362000. LEICESTERSBIRE LEICESTER, BORINSONS MAZINA 0533 558511. LINCOLNSKIRE LINCOLN, METHERINGHAM MAZINA 0547 79000 STREET, FOLLETT MAZINA 071-629 6266. MIOPLESEX TWICKENS
> RE BOLTON, LYTRGOE MAZINA 0204 362000. LEICESTERSBIRE LEICESTER, BORINSONS MAZINA 0533 558511. LINCOLNSKIRE LINCOLN, METHERINGHAM MAZINA 0547 79000 STREET, FOLLETT MAZINA 071-629 6266. MIOPLESEX TWICKENS
> RE BOLTON, LYTRGOE MAZINA 0204 362000. LEICESTER, BORINSONS MAZINA 0533 558511. LINCOLNSKIRE LINCOLN, METHERINGHAM MAZINA 0547 79000 STREET, FOLLETT MAZINA ICASHIRE BOLTON, LYTHGOE MAZDA 0204 362000, LEGICADERARBINE LEGICAL, BARBINAUTOR BANDA 0233 33001L LINEOULISHINE LITERULA, METHERINGHAM GAZDA 081-891 081. HILL MAZDA 081 959 3474, LONDON CENTRAL BERKELEY STREET, FOLLETT MAZDA 071-629 6266. IMPDILEREK TWICKENHAM, TAMPLINS MAZDA 081-891 081.
>
> RFOLE HORWICH, WRIGHTS MAZDA 0603 42701L NORTHAMPTONSHIRE RORTHAMPTON, BANENT MAZDA 0703 7271 SOMERSET YEAVILL, LYTK MAZDA 0935 72001. STAFFORDSHIRE STAFFORDS

lot since you were at school.

Britain has the second highest level of polluted resorts in Europe, according to Community inspectors

One in four beaches fail hygiene test

As holidaymakers head for the sea. The Times examines the state of Europe's coasts. Nicholas Watt reports

BRITAIN has one of the highest levels of dirty beaches in Europe, with nearly a quarter failing to meet European Community standards on pollution. Only Germany has a higher percentage of con-taminated beaches and its poor record is partly ex-plained by the inclusion of the former East Germany in the

In the British tests, carried out by the National Rivers Authority in 1991, 24 per cent of the beaches were contaminated by faecal coliform. The authority tested 453 beaches and the failure rate was one percentage point higher than the 1990 figures.

Guy Linley-Adams, pollu-tion officer at the Marine Conservation Society, said: "Britain's figures for compliance have been static for the past three years. But this hides the massive investment by the water companies in sewage treatment works which have not come on stream yet."

The water companies are spending £3 billion on sewage treatment works to ensure that every beach complies with the EC standards by 1995. This was agreed when the companies were priva-tised in 1989.

Mr Linley-Adams said that the target was too ambitious. "We surveyed the beaches that failed in 1990 and looked at the companies' associate investment plans. Some beaches, such as More-cambe and Swansea Bay, will not reach the EC targets until at least 1997."

While the sewerage works will make life a little more bearable for swimmers, they will take the problem elsewhere. Mr Linley-Adams said. "The bathing water test has become the main drive of the water companies but they may just take the effluent further away from the beach. I am not sure about how well the works will protect the marine system. Britain's failure rate is much higher than some southern European states. In Greece 3 per cent of the areas tested failed. In Ireland, only one beach failed. But Paul Garrett, of the Water Services Association, which represents the ten privatised suppliers in England and Wales, said other countries' tests were often less rigorous than Britain's. "We always play by the rules and are regulated by the NRA and the government. Some EC countries are not so strict and don't have the same regulations," he said.

For the EC report, called Quality of Bathing Water 1991. more than 10,000 beaches were tested in 11 EC countries. Despite Britain's high failure rate, the report was still upbeat. Countries managed to maintain, or even improve, standards despite the long hot summer of 1991 which attracted more swimmers than usual. This meant that $7 per cent of the coastal bathing areas met the

The EC directive on bath-ing water, which lays down physical, chemical and microbiological standards, has been in force for 16 years. Each country is responsible for monitoring and the commission ensures that the directive is properly imple-

Only last week the Commision was to have taken Britain to the European Court of Justice in Luxembourg for allegedly breaching the 1985 European bathing directive at Blackpool, Southport and Formby. John Ma-jor and Jacques Delors agreed on a postponement.

THE TIMES GUIDE TO BLACK SPOT BEACHES

Beaches not complying with EC pollution standards

Arbroath, Carnoust Fife. Pettycur, Aberdour Silversands Strathclyde Turnberry, Ayr South Beach, Prestwick, Irvine New Town

VALES South Glamorgan Jacksons Bay Barry

Shore Clwyd Kinmel Bay Sandy Cove, Rh ENGLAND NORTH EAST

Northumberland Spittal, Newblogin North and South, Seaton Sluice Tyne & Wear Whitburn North, Beach, Seaham Remand Hom Cleveland
Seaton Carew
North, Centre and North Gare, Redcar LB Station
North Yorkshire
Statthes
Humberside

NORTH WEST

West Kirby, Meois Formby, Ainsdale, Southport Lancashire Lancashire St Annes, St Annes North, Blackpool South, Central and North, Bispham, Cleveleys, Fleetwood, Heysham-Half Moo Bay, Morecambe South and North

EAST ANGLIA Norfolk Heacham, Hunstanton Beach, Great Yarmouth South, Gorleston Beach SOUTH EAST Essex West Mersea Southend

Westciff Bay,
Kent
West Beach, Herne Bay, Margats the Bay, Joss Bay, Broadstairs, Ramsgate, Sandwich Bay, Deal Castle,
Folkestone, Dymchurch, St
Mary's Bay, Littlestone
East Sussex
Camber, Hastings, Newhaven
West Sussex
Southwick, South

west stissex Southwick, South Lancing, Bognor Regis Isle of Wight Gurnard, Cowes, Seagrove, Bembridge, Ventnor SOUTH WEST

Slipway, Weston-Super-Mere Grand Pier, Weston-Super-Mere Sand Bay, Clevedon swimming pool

Brean
Dorset
Christchurch Highcliffe Castle, Christchurch Friar's Cliff, Christchurch Avon Beach, Christchurch Mudeford Sandbank East,
Bournemouth Hengistbury East, Bournemouth Pier, Poole
Harbour Lake, Poole Harbour
Rockley Sands, Studland
Knoll House, Kimmeridge Bay, Durdle Door West, Weymouth
Central, Lyme Regis Church Beach Devon
Beer, Shaldon, Ness Cove, Maidencombe, Watcombe, Oddicombe, Redgate, Meadfoot, St Mary's Bay,
Blackpool Sands, Salcombe
North Sands, Thurlestone

Martin, Lynmouth
Cornwall
Porthluney, Crantock, Fistral, Watergate, Mawgan Porth, Readymoney, Porthtowan,
Trevaunance Cove, Perranporth
Village End, Perranporth
Village End, Perranporth
Penhale Sands, Holywell Bay, Porthallow, Coverack, Kennack Sands, Polfurian Cove,
Poldhu Cove, Gunwalloe Cove, Porthleven West, Praa
Sands East and West, Perran
Sands, Mounts Bay Hellport, Mounts Bay Penzance,
Mounts Bay Werry Town, Porth
Gwidden, Carble Bay Porth
Kidney Sands, Treyamon Bay, Constantine Bay, Mother
Ivey's Bay, Harlyn Bay, Trevone Bay, Rock, Daymer Bay, Polzeath, Widemouth Sand,
Bude Summerleaze, Bude Bude Summerleaze, Bude Crooklets, Bude Sandy Mouth

Instow, Saunton Sands, Ilfracombe Hele, Combe Martin, Lynmouth

Braving the cold: Michael Moss and his daughter Ronni, 2. at Southend

19 quality markers examined

BY NICK NUTTALL TECHNOLOGY CORRESPONDENT

TESTS are done for 19 different chemical, microbial, viral and other quality markers to see whether bathing waters meet European Community

Samples, usually taken formightly, are scrutinised for everything from bacteria linked with sewage, viruses, and pesticides to heavy met-als and rubbish such as plas-tic bottles, glass containers and tar residues.

Some of the pollutants are monitored using chemical or filtration analysis. Others, such as rubbish, are recorded by visual inspection.

The European Community sets guideline and mandatory or minimum levels for some bathing water quality re-quirements. It is the breaking of mandatory requirements that puts an area of bathing water in breach of EC rules. The National Rivers Authority said guideline levels were levels that "we should be working towards".

Clarke aims for tighter

Why Southend is hard to stomach

Taking a dip at the seaside could give you gastro-enteritis, researchers say. Or hypothermia, writes Nicholas Watt

TAKING a dip at Southend-on-Sea on a Saturday afternoon was not my idea of fortably cold and the only view out to sea was of indus-trial plants on the Kent coast and huge ships plying their way to the docks further down the Thames.

In the name of scientific research, I braved the water to see whether it was harmful to health. Thorpe Bay. Southend, was chosen because it passed the European Community test on pollution. Two hundred of us had to swim while another 200 sat on the beach. Our respective health could then be compared by the Centre for Research into Environment and Health. A few days before the never grand swim, every guinea agree pig was interviewed by a not n doctor, who asked detailed. Brits.

questions about our health. Just before the dip, the scientists asked more questions about what we had eaten in the previous three days. We were given strict instructions to swim for at least ten minutes and to duck our heads under the water at least three times. Then we darted out of the water to eat our regulation cheese sandwiches and chocolate biscuits.

Southend was the researchers' fourth test. Dr Jay Fleischer, from New York, said that the other three had shown that swimmers' health was affected by the sea. "We are at a prelim-inary stage, but there is an increased risk of gastro-enteritis." he said.

He then added: "I could never imagine New Yorkers agreeing to do this. They're not nearly as gutsy as you

ITV spoiler for start of Eldorado

By MELINDA WITTSTOCK MEDIA CORRESPONDENT

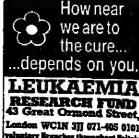

TONIGHT, after weeks of hype and hyperbole about BBC1's £10 million-a-year gamble to lure viewers away from ITV with a heady mix of "sun, sea, sex and sangria" on the Costa del Sol, the soap Eldorado finally makes its Already nicknamed "Costa del Bonk" by the tabloids for its suggestive camera angles, lewd dialogue and skimpily-ciothed characters, Eldorado needs an audience of about 10 million if reputations, par-ticularly that of Jonathan Powell, the BBC1 controller, are not to be ruined.

BBC1, which for over a year has trailed ITV in the ratings by about 10 per cent. is pinning its hopes on the fabled Spanish City of Gold for a ratings windfall this autumn. Mr Powell expects Eldorado, which replaces Wogan at 7pm Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, to add 1.5 per cent to BBC1's overall audience share, now at about 33 per cent.

But the Corporation's surprise decision to launch Eldorado two months earlier than expected to build a loyal following before the autumn battle for viewers has provoked an anxious response from ITV. Tonight it has scheduled the classic spoiler: an hour-long special episode of Coronation Street to begin half an hour earlier at 7pm.

The BBC has poured scorn on ITV's tough talk about "strangling Eldorado at birth", arguing that tonight's Coronation Street "special" lacks the class of when it killed off Grace Archer in a fire on the night commercial television started 37 years ago. ITV's answer to Eldorado on subsequent nights will be game shows such as Wheel of Fortune, and Des O'Connor's Take Your Pick

Surgeon silent on HIV allegations

BY NICK NUTTALL

HOSPITAL officials yesterday expressed concern that an eye surgeon sald to have carried out 140 operations while infected with the Aids virus had not discussed his illness with senior staff. Stephen Collinson, chief executive at Queen Mary's hospital in Sidcup, southeast London, said that the hospital learned of allegations that Peter Curran had HIV from a Sunday newspaper report. "I have no way of knowing whether or not the article is true," he said. "My only disappointment is that Mr Curran did not feel able to talk to us before this happened."

Before the allegations were published yesterday, Bexley health authority set up a telephone helpline. Jim Rumens, a director at Queen Mary's Hospital, said that by midafternoon nearly 250 people had made calls. Elizabeth Dean, the authority's director of public health, said that two thirds of callers had been patients of Mr Curran. "About half of those, namely one third of total callers, were actually operated on by Mr Curran. We are reassuring people that so far as we can tell from the expert advice that we have received, there is no risk at all that they could have got HIV."

patient contracting the virus during an operation is that of a dental patient in the United States. A few of yesterday's callers are being offered counselling and three have asked for an Aids test. This weekend's reports claim that the consultant, who is said to have also worked at Blackheath Hospital, southeast London, kept his condition secret. He is said to have become seriously ill. He is on leave from work and the Sidcup hospital has been unable to contact him to to verify the claims.

Mr Rumens said that the authority had not overreacted in setting up the helpline. Media coverage had left no

If Mr Curran carried out operations while knowingly carrying HIV he could be in breach of Royal College of Surgeons guidelines. These state: "While it should be stressed that HIV is not easily transmitted in the setting of the surgical operation, any surgeon known to be HIV positive would normally be precluded from further involvement in major invasive

General Medical council guidelines state that any doctor with HIV should seek and follow specialist advice on limiting their professional The only known case of a practice to protect patients.

Handcuffs policy challenged

South and North, Bigbury-on-Sea South and North, Challaborough, Mothecombe, Wambury, Plymouth Hoe East and West, Hartland Quay,

BY FRANCES GIBB, LEGAL CORRESPONDENT

A SOLICITOR will ask the High Court today to rule that a controversial policy of routinely handcuffing defendants when they are brought to court to apply for bail at Cambridge magistrates' court is unlawful. George Peacock, from Ely. is concerned that the practice, applied to all defendants brought to court from the cells regardless of offence or likely risk of absconding, is wrong in principle, demeaning and unnecessary. He said last week a German motorist was held in custody and brought to court in handcuffs because it was believed that conditions would be put on his bail.

The handcuffs policy has been brought in by Carnbridgeshire police but the magistrates refuse to exercise their power to make an order as to whether handcuffs are worn or not. Mr Peacock

"Two people escaped in 1987, which prompted the handcuffing to be intro-duced. But this happens in any court. Cambridge is no more or less secure than the majority of courts." He said that defendants should be handcuffed only when necessary.

police command structure WHEN Kenneth Clarke announced his planned enquiry into the police six weeks ago he made it clear that the members would be expected to recommend changes in two areas: pay and the rank svstem

The five lay members of the Home Office's enquiry team are expected to be named today, together with the senior businessman who will be their chairman. Mr Clarke wants them to consider whether British forces still need nine ranks ranging from the man on the beat to the chief constable. If the rank system is changed not only would the chain of command be tighter and more responsive to the public, which is what Mr Clarke has said he wants. It might also be a way of saving money without breaking government promises not to erode police pay. Today in any provincial force the constables are overseen by sergeants. Above them are inspectors and then chief inspectors, superinten-dents, chief superintendents, assistant chief constables, deputy chief constables and finally the head of the force. First developed in Victorian times, the rank structure is partly a response to a need for tight supervison: members of the first force in London proved to be wayward and drunken. Now the system is seen by some officers as both anachronistic and too militaristic. They also ask whether the highly skilled policeman which forces aim to put on the streets still needs to be subjected to traditional progress

One chief constable recently complained that the averge constable costs more than £18,500 a year in wages. benefits and clothing and yet was not trusted.

Twenty or thirty years ago sergeants and inspectors were on the streets, constantly checking that their men were patrolling and working. Today, personal radios link officers to their stations.

The type of officer and his work have also changed. The

Clarke: hoping to cut command structure

police service is moving towards initiatives such as sector policing which puts officers closer to communities. It is also recruiting an increasing number of graduates, who should need less supervision than their predecessors . Yet one provincial force with an annual budget of £70 million last year spent an estimated 10 per cent of this on supervising its constables. In London the Metropolitan Police last year had 21,177 constables compared with 7,278 sergeants and senior ranks. In England and Wales there were 95,508 constables and 30,817 other senior Two years ago the Audit Commission asked if the police really needed all these supervisors and raised the possibility of cutting back on the number of ranks. If the radicals have their way the enquiry would do this. The rank of chief inspector could be scrapped and even sergeants might not be immune from change. The structure could be reduced to five ranks with constables, inspectors superintendents as the basic command group and assis-tant chief constables and chief constables at headquarters.

Leading article, page 13

Tenants build a better future for Broadwater Farm THE TIMES A PRINTERS IN THE CONTRACT

NESTLING among the concrete barracks of the Broadwater Farm housing estate.
in north London, is a new brick building symbolising the determination of a group of residents to escape the violent past and build a better future. The building consists of workshops intended for training facilities and new businesses. Although council architects designed the building, the construction was carried out by residents in the Broadwater Youth Association Co-operative. The association was set up in 1985, the year of the riots in which a policeman, Keith Blakelock, was murdered. Although news coverage emphasised the racial element of the riots, many local people said that the real difficulties were unemployment, lack of financial resources and despair engendered by life on huge. vandalised, crime-ridden es-tates deprived of amenities. Classford Stirling, a pro-ject leader, said: "We decided it was time to let tenants run their own affairs to improve the estate, and to cut the amount of crime." However, according to Mr Stirling, Haringey council was less than helpful, even obstructive. A more positive response came from the environment department, which has met almost all the £975,000 construction costs. "The trouble with many councils is that they can't get used to tenants doing things for themselves." Mr Stirling said. "They believe their job is to regulate everything that hap-pens on council estates."

Despair is lifting from a troubled housing estate as residents take the lead in improving it. John Young reports

Dolly Kiffin, who has been involved in the project. is even more critical. "We have had to keep taking the fight to the council," she said. They bet us that we would never finish the workshops on time and within our budget, but we did."

Ms Kiffin, the leading voice of the community in the aftermath of the riots. was depicted at the time as a black firebrand. In reality, she is a warm. friendly woman who wants the association's achievements to be emulated on estates with similar problems.

Ms Kiffin said that the government was spending huge sums on urban renewal. but the money was going to big contractors who brought in workers. It would be better to fund more tenants' co-operatives that employed local people, trained them and let them make decisions, she said.

However, even if the government could be persuaded. councils would resist. Ms Kiffin said. Haringey had threatened to charge commercial rents to the project's tenants starting businesses, which, she said, would "kill it stone dead". In reply to the criticisms, the council said that it had given planning permission

ENTERPRISE and provided architectura services. "Our objective is always to work as a partnership between the council and the community, and that is as true of Broadwater Farm as of anywhere else," an official said. The question of a reduction in market rents was being discussed. The project is expected to create between fifty and a hundred jobs on the estate, where, despite the difficulties, life has improved, according to Ms Kiffen. People talk to each other far more than they used to, and race relations are much better," she said. "It's often thought that people on es-tates like this have given up hope, and expect everything to be done for them. But we have shown that they can do things for themselves if they are given the chance."

The Broadwater Form Enterprise Workshops are among entries for this year's Community Enterprise Scheme Awards, sponsored by The Times, the Royal Institute of British Architects. and Business in the Community. Winners will be announced later this month and will be presented with awards by the Prince of Wales on September 15:

NEWS IN BRIEF

Clash on housing denied

The Lord Chancellor's de-partment last night denied reports that pressure had been applied from the highest level of government" to withhold monthly statistics on home repossessions.
It said that the figures.

collated monthly and re-leased irregularly to MPs, would now be issued quarterly. "We are trying to issue the figures in a more helpful

It denied that there had been any clash over the issuing of the figures between John Major and Lord Mackay of Clashfern, the Lord Chancellor. Reports indicated that Lord Mackay was in favour of releasing the

The Scottish TUC has launched a guide for workers to make workplaces more environmentally sound. The trade union body wants union officials and shop stewards to demand green action when bargaining with employers. These range from saving energy and using recycled products to stopping the use of environmentally damaging products such as rainforest timber.

Runway dropped at Land's End aerodrome has been abandoned because no EC money is available for the £800,000 project. About nine acres in an area of outstanding natural beauty would have been affected. Protesters included the Royal Society for the Protection of Birds which said that the area around the aerodrome at St Just was an important resting place for many types of migrant birds.

The government should set up a unit within the environment department to co-ordinate housing provision for young people, according to a report published today by the National Housing Forum. The umbrella organisation, representing bodies which promote housing for people on low incomes, says that homeless 16- and 17-year-figures regularly. Green paper

Bust.

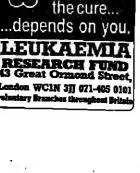

្នា

A plan to tarmac two runways

Homes plea

olds should get accommodation and social help.

Capitalist leaders huddle together for mutual comfort

LEADERS of the capitalist With the governing Lib-world who assembled in Musseral Democratic Party facing be huddling in the warroth of group therapy bemoaning the flagging momentum of world growth and the stagnation of the Gatt trade talks on which they pledged them-selves to completion at the 1spectors

CERTA NA

1 0 E

U cub par

* TT = 2459

100

THE WAY

er er a j

-- 经证券

22.52000支

123 0 1

THE REAL PROPERTY.

1 K 24

Clash or housin

denie

Contract Page 1

past two summits: Mostly, the heads of the leading seven industrialised nations (America, Japan, Germany, Britain, France, traly and Canadal are enfec-bled leaders presiding over flabby economies. In America, the unemployment rate has risen from 6.8 per cent to nich last night for the G? amper house elections this summit opening today month, the lapanese stock brating their first get togeth from its peak and Kitchi er since the collapse of communism. Instead, they will it as prime minister, has yet he huddling in the property of the the property to strike a chord with the Japanese public.

As a measure of Japan's new mood, companies are reducing the temperature of the workers' showers to save money and executives are being ordered to use only one sheet of paper for notes at board meetings. But the Japanese leadership, pressed by John Major on Sanuday, is still hesitating on commit-ment to a Liberal Democratic plan for a £29 billion stimulus to the Japanese ecoziomy.

The host German govern-

THE SEARCH FOR RECOVERY

The heads of the Group of Seven leading industrialised countries are mostly enfeebled leaders presiding over flabby economies, writes Robin Oakley from Munich through the psychological barrier of three million and are alarmed at the potential fallout from the restraints imposed on interest-rate pol-

the German-dominated exchange-rate mechanism. Officials in Munich admit that common line before it bement has set a tight budget for next year. Otmar Issing, the Bundesbank chief economist, has said that wage increase rates must fall and the money supply be tightened before interest rate cuts can he contemplated. But unless those interest rates do fall, Italy, with its fragile new government, and Britain, where the post-election economic recovery has failed to materialise, will face further problems both economic and political. British ministers fear that Russia, fatally weakening President Yeltsin. "Both European lungs are at long last breathing freely; that breath must not be stifled," he told the Poles. Warsaw was ready,

he said, to host an international conference on sening up such a fund.

Central Europe has been

As well as seeking ways of revivifying the world econo-my, the G7 leaders in Munich will have to agree a unemployment could break comes a G7 plus one on Wednesday when they are joined for three hours of talks by President Yeltsin of Russia. They want to help economic and political reform icy by British membership of in the former Soviet Union and fear mass economic mi-gration if they do not, but are torn by how much help should be extended to Russia without the usual castiron the recovery will be very weak agreements to IMF targets.

Japan 100 is unwilling to become a big aid donor to Russia without settlement of the dispute about ownership of the Kurile islands off the north Japanese coast. Mr Yeltsin accusses the Japanese of being stingy and says there will be no move on the islands' ownership until there is more economic cooperation. The Japanese. looking to the other six for support on the Kuriles, say there will be no cash until the dispute is settled.

The Russians are likely to get the first tranche of a possible £13 billion stabilisation fund under easier than normal rules, but will be told that further tranches will depend on strict compliance with IMF targets and the proven progress of political reform.

Mr Yeltsin has ambitions of seeing the G7 become the GS. President Bush, in an off-the-cuff answer, has said

Britain and Germany see such a move a premature and the Japanese can be expected to oppose it.

The formal agenda for the G7 meeting has been pared down by Helmui Kohl, the German chancellor, who wants the participants to get back to the old "fireside chat" informality. Therefore there will be no formal sessions on subjects such as drugs, terrorism and immigration, regularly on the menu at previous G7 summits. Nor will there be much time spent on Gatt. There will be talk on the state of the world economy, the former Soviet Union, developing countries and their debts, Central and Eastern Europe. the follow-up to the world environment summit in Rio de Janeiro and on nuclear

The chief concern there is with the crumbling, mostly Soviet-built, power stations of Eastern Europe, at least 20 of them on the Chernobyl model. They urgently require remedial work, upgrading of safety measures and, in some cases, rapid replacement. Britain, which is still feeling the effects of Chernobyl six years later. Germany and France want a crash programme to improve safety levels and an ambitious rebuilding schedule. But at their Camp David meeting recently. Mr Major failed to persuade President Bush. less closely affected by the problem, to commit himself to a multilateral fund and the Canadians and Japanese are cool too.

Bush vows to plead for Central Europe

RESIDENT Bush, in a rief barnstorming visit to oland, promised yesterday act as the spokesman for entral Europe at the G7 conomic summit this week. he president, speaking to a neering crowd in Warsaw's lastle Square, also suggested hat about $200 million (105 million) reserved for arrency stabilisation three gars ago could now be used or other purposes by Poland. Altogether about $1 billion as pledged by the West in 989-90 to underpin Poind's move towards a hard arrency. That money was ever drawn on and, as Presient Bush said yesterday, it ould become the basis of a ew surge of aid to Poland and Central Europe. "Once oland is back on track with to freeze

repayments

FROM MARY DEJEVSKY IN MOSCOW

ence and later to Michel

Camdessus, he president of the International Monetary Fund, Mr Yetsin suggested that Russia's conomic condi-

nons qualified it for special treatment. This week he travels to Munici for talks with leaders of the G7 industrialised nations at the end of their annual summit.

Russia's man request, according to M' Yeltsiri, will be for a two-yearmoratorium on its $74 billion (£39 billion)

debt. The highest payments are due in the next two years, as it struggles to reorientate

At present, Russia is postponing its delt repayments as they fall due the next extension runs ou in September.

Mr Yeltsin sad on Saturday that debt-rescieduling was at the top of Rusia's agenda for Munich. Wstern officials have indicated that they will be sympathetic to Russia's request for escheduling of the debt, but are cooler towards the idea of a

Mr Yehsinstruck a peevish

note, declaring that Russia would rather do without the credits if the conditions were unacceptable and complaining to M Candessus that the West was no providing the money fast elough.

its economy.-

the International Monetary Fund, new uses for the fund should be worked out — fi-nancing Polish exports, for example, or sening up new entrepreneurs . . . I shall call on the other leaders in Muaich to join us." Britain in fact has promised already to redeploy its contribution within Poland.

President Walesa would like to develop President Bush's proposal further: "A stabilisation fund should be set up for the whole region: the sooner, the better." There was a danger, Mr Walesa told. Mr Bush yesterday, that if reforms went astray in Central Europe, the political mood would also change in

West urged Kohl seeks return to cosy chats

PRESIDENT Veitsin spent the weekend trying to con-MUNICH does not have a happy resonance as the venue for international events. In vince his domestic critics and Western financiers that Russia deserved financial help, but would not crawl to get it. 8 Munich came to st for the appeasement of Hitler; in 1972, it hosted the Olympic Games at which Israeli athletes were murdered by Arab extremists. At a Kremin press confer-

But for Germany the city is an East-West crossroads, and the latest summit is being billed by the host nation as the summit of confidence and optimism", with 9,000 extra police drafted in to protect the 2,000 delegates.

If Helmut Kohl, the German chancellor, has his way the G7 summit will focus largely on ways of solving the problems confronting the newly independent countries of the former Soviet empire. Failure to agree on so crucial a subject will give strength to his view that it is time to rein back the recent tendency to turn G7; summits into state occasions. He wants the atmosphere to be relaxed and more like that of the "fireside char at the original Rambouillet summit in 1975. Munich, he hopes, will reverse the trend towards media events, producing statements which are hollow and often meaningless.

The chances of cosy fireside chais setting the tone seem rather remote, however. The chancellor has reserved 320 hotel rooms for the German delegation alone. President Bush has an entourage of 700, while President Miner-rand is bringing 230. John Major is bringing only 65 in

Mr Yeltsins tough line may have contained an element of Despite concern about exaggeration for the benefit "media hype" from the host country, 4,000 journalists have been accredited. Secof his Russian audience, but his intempeare tone as he answered reporters' questions urity is a key concern and the suggested gnuine frustra-tion with Vestern financial conference area in the city centre will be closed for much institutions. He emphasised of the next three days. To that Russia would not yield to defuse the left-wing agitation Western denands that fuel over the summit, police decidprices be reed. President Yelisin said "If it comes ed on Saturday to allow a large demonstration to down to it, we will get by march through the centre of without the 24 billion, espethe city. More than 15,000 cially as thisis not any sort of took part, waving banners charity. We vill be paying for saying "500 years of colonialism is too much" and "the

 Tokyo: Jaian yesterday responded coully to Mr Yeltworld does not only have sevsin's proposil to the G7 for en countries". The chancellor wants the rescheduling Russia's foreign summit to end the Western debt for at least two years. orientation and introspection "Although Vestern nations of past years. He said the pledged $24 billion in assismessage he wants to go out tance to Rusia, crincism will arise on offeing the aid if the nation defendebt repayment for more than two years," a Japanese official said. (AFP) from this meeting is one of "trust and encouragement for the entire community of East. Moreover, it provides a. useful precedent for other countries, including Russia. There was some political back-scratching during President Bush's six-hour visit which also took in a solemn burial service for Ignacy Jan Paderewski, the Polish prime minister and virtuoso pianist, whose remains were returned last week from America to Poland. By urging the Poles to stick to IMF recipes, President Bush strengthened Mr Walesa's hand in creating a government that is wedded to market reform. The mission of Waldemar Pawlak, prime minister-designate, seemed to have finally collapsed at the weekend: he impossible to put together a cabinet. A potential coalition of eight parties has proposed Hanna Suchocka, a lawyer, as an alternative candidate. Meanwhile, the Poles did their best to boost the reelection chances of President Bush. The veteran Polish lobbyist, Jan Nowak-Jezioranski, appeared on television on the eve of the visit and spelt out the case for Mr Bush. It was the president, Mr Nowak-Jezioranski said, who has persuaded the West to write off Polish debts. Now Poles could do their bit and throng the strees, waving the stars and stripes. The appeal, and the genuine Polish affection for Mr Bush, had an effect. "Not since the Pope's visit have there been such crowds," President Walesa rold Presi dent Bush with only slight exaggeration.

Leaders arrive, page 1

Paderewski's music in Warsaw yesterday. His remains were returned to Poland from America last week

Trade talks kept off summit agenda

FROM GEORGE BROCK IN BRUSSELS ing embarrassing to the

THE blocked world trade talks, one of the few subjects that today's G7 meeting could affect directly and a topic of burning importance to earlier summits, seem almost excluded from this week's agenda at Munich. Helmut Kohl, the German chancellor, has been signalling to his colleageus for several months that he thinks the paralysed negotiations to write a new agreement under the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (Gan) would be better kept off the G7 agenda. He has encountered little opposition. "The big and urgent problems risk being shunted off to the sec-ond level," Norbert Walter, the chief economist of the Deutsche Bank, said of Gan in yesterday's Welt am Sonntag newspaper. The Gatt impasse is becom-the Munich meeting. The governments of the industrial world have also laid down too many deadlines for the completion of a trade liberalisation deal for the dates to carry much force.

assembled leaders. Ringing declarations of the urgency of concluding a Gatt deal to free trade in food, services and intellectual property were issued from the G7 summit two years ago in Houston. Varying the language only slightly, the leaders repeated their call at last year's London summit. "There is a limit to the number of annual com-muniqués you can write saying that getting a result is the most vital thing on earth before you all start to look pretty stupid," said a senior diplomat, who added that no Gatt breakthrough was likely at

CATT

The G7 summit marks the latest "last chance" laid down a few weeks ago. Then, hopes were high that the European Community's package of cuts and reforms for the common agricultural policy (CAP) would prod back into life the stalled dialogue between Europe and America over

Officials began to talk about clinching a deal on export volumes and permissible income support to farmers just before the G7. But no meetings took place. Tomor-row, President Bush will meet Jacques Delors, the president of the European Commission which negotiates for the 12 governments, but they are not new to say to each other.

American and European negotiators have reverted to move. The Americans say they have been told to expect formal new European proposals on subsidy reductions arising from the CAP reform, but have heard nothing. EC officials say the message sent by the Community is clear enough, but that the American position is frozen. "Right in the midst of a presidentia election campaign, George Bush does not have the wiggle room required to take arry initiatives." the Brussels newsletter European Report said at the weekend. The French government, on which the flexibility of the EC position depends, has no "wiggle room" either. Before the lorry drivers began blockading motorways, farmers tyres and hay bales and marching through towns.

Leading article, page 13

NEWS IN BRIEF

Gulf trade booms for colony

Abu Dhabi: Trade between Hong Kong and its three main Gulf economic part-ners, Saudi Arabia, Oman and the United Arab Emirares, surged by 80 per cent in the first quarter of 1992 over the same period last year, the Dubai-based Hong Kong Trade Development Council reported yesterday.

Hong Kong's trade with the countries stood at £244 million compared with £135 million in the first three months of 1991. Trade was comparatively low then which ended in late February.

This year's first-quarter balance was largely in favour of Hong Kong, with exports standing at £204.5 million and imports at £39 million. stood at £126 million, at £107 million with Saudi Arabia, and at £11 million with Oman. (AFP)

Quito favourite

Quito: Sixto Duran Ballen, head of the conservative Republican Unity Party, who is promising free-market reforms to strengthen Ecuador's ailing economy, was tipped by an opinion poll to win yesterday's presidential run-off election. (Reuter)

Capital sought

Peking: China wants banks to open overseas branches to help raise foreign capital for its modernisation programme. China Daily reported. The central bank had approved the strategy and Chinese banks were queving to join the scheme. (AP)

Mine appeal

Kuala Lumpur: Malaysian miners have been told not to rush to revive tin mining because of prices reaching a record high of $Mal17.50 (£3.60) per kilo. State authorities said that the price rises might not be sustained for long. (AFP)

Exports surge

Hanoj: Vietnam announced a $155 million (E80 million) trade surplus in the first half of the year as exports rose 27 per cent to a record level of more than $1 billion, the Vietnam Investment Review reported. Exports of crude oil rose 46 per cent. (AFP)

Asparagus tip

Munich: Advised that President Bush hates broccoli, the hotel at which he is staying during the G7 summit has arranged with growers to save a field of asparagus, already almost out of season, so that he can be offered that

Major pleases greens with call for Earth summit action

JOHN Major will urge G7 leaders at their Munich summit his week not to let the momentum drop after last month's Earth summit in Rio de Janeiro.

Only two nations. The Netherlands and America. have published details of what they will do to follow up, for example, the Rio summit's convention on climate change. The conven-tion was signed by more than 150 countries. The prime minister has pleased environmental groups by writing to other leading participants, in-cluding President Bush, promoting an eight-point plan to keep the Rio momentum going.

Details of Mr Major's let-ter have not been disclosed,

BRITAIN The prime minister wants to continue the momentum of Rio with a set timetable, writes Robin Oakley

but he is calling on Rio participants to set out timetables for action. He wants them to take practical measures by the end of 1993 on the climate-change convention as well as the biodiversity treaty, which the Americans refuse to sign.

He is also calling on them to support a new set of prin-ciples for forestry management and to move forward on technology transfer and other commitments agreed in the Agenda 21 document. Mr Major wants extended backing for the global enviroument facility, the means by which World Bank funding will be channelled into the preservation of rare animal and plant species. He wants it restructured also to service the climate change

Mr Major is continuing to seek support for a susmission working under the auspices of the United Nations. This objective appeared to have become clouded in Rio.

Mr Major's initiative was welcomed yesterday by Andrew Warren, of the Associ-

Grassroots campaign: G7 delegates were greeted by this slogan cut into a field near Munich airport harations." He called for ation for the Conservation of Energy, who said: "It is important that we get berapid publication of Britain's own detailed plans. Mr Major is expected also youd the motherhood and to urge G7 leaders to give apple-pie stage of pious decline with the Trinidad terms which he helped to negoti-ate in his days as Chancellor of the Exchequer.

tal aims by continuing gen-erous debt cancellation and debt rescheduling for the world's poorest nations in Britain, whose other participants include Norman Lamont, the present chancellor, and Douglas Hurd. the foreign secretary, hopes to see this week's summit begin to integrate the developed world into a single trading system in the wake of the end of the Cold war. After that, Britain wants to make the Group of Seven a more outward-looking partnership concerned also with the problems of the developing world.

Snipers fire at Sarajevo's starving in UN food queue

FROM BILL FROST IN SARAJEVO

AS GUNFIRE crackled in central Sarajevo yesterday, an old woman grabbed her parish priest's shoulder and screamed that she was dying of hunger. "I have not eaten for five days nor has my hus-band. The United Nations food parcels were in your church but you have sold them on the black market."

she alleged, shouting. Father Tomislav Josic calmed the woman as best he could. "You are a good Catholic. How could you believe that? The food went hours ago. We do not have enough." The priest, haggard and thin, has become used to complaints from the starving. Ever since the UN supplies arrived, my parish has ac-cused me of keeping food from them. The simple fact is the supplies are inadequate."

Three hundred food par-cels were delivered by the UN to his church yesterday while 1,600 people lined up outside in clear view of snipers. Vladimir Andric, who lost his arm in a mortar attack in May, was stoical. "If the Serbs shoot me it will be quicker than waiting to die of hunger." he said, just before a sniper opened up on the crowd outside the church.

Some ran for cover but most kept their place in the queue. "Hunger has con-quered fear in Sarajevo," said Sister Lidija, comforting a girl terrified by the gunfire. They are so starved now that they will risk a builet or a mortar bomb for a tin of sardines," the nun added.

At another distribution centre, Muslim families cried in exasperation that the food provided by the UN was un-acceptable. "They have sent tins of ham. Our religion forbids us to eat this meat. How could they be so stupid when we die of hunger?" said Sanjin Delogio 24 but lead Sanjin Dekovic, 24 but looking twice his age. Others were less devout, grabbing cans abandoned in fury by others. Standing still anywhere in Sarajevo is an open invitation to the snipers occupying the top floors of almost every blackened tower block. Food queues regularly draw deadly fire. Armour-piercing shells are used by both sides and inflict appalling injuries.

Dr Goran Hadziahmeto

vic, a plastic surgeon at the Kosevo hospital in central Sarajevo, shook his head and began to cry quietly as he examined a two-year-old girl hit by sniper fire. "She has no face left. The bullet has destroyed everything."

In a room next to the operating theatre, doctors with glazed eyes sat chain-smoking in front of a television set watching a cartoon. One in-tern said: "I have been up for 48 hours and have performed six amputations. But two people have died on the table and there will be more before

Robert Krcancic, a Muslim fighter from the shattered suburbs of Dobrinia, heard that he was to lose his leg. His wound was caused by a soft-tipped round or dumdum fragments of metal running from his heel to his thigh. Dr Hadziahmetovic said: "The damage caused by this am-munition is terrible. The bullet breaks up on impact and spreads everywhere. What sort of a person would use these rounds or armourpiercing shells? Only a devil from hell."

A toddler was admitted to the emergency ward with a gaping shrapnel wound in his chest. His father shouted: Tell Lord Carrington that his peace missions are use-less. No more talk, send in planes to bomb them [the Serbs] or watch us all die." • Beigrade: The Serbian opposition last night called on thousands of people to turn out for a final anti-government rally after a week of protests in Belgrade calling for the downfall of President Milosevic. Despite failing to achieve any of their stated aims, the opposition leaders deny that Mr Milosevic has defeated them. "We've proved our strength," said Vuk Draskovic, the most prominent opposition leader.

'Ethnic cleansing', page 1

Bud of peace: a woman proffers a carnation to riot police in Belgrade during demonstrations demanding the resignation of Slobodan Milosevic, the Serbian leader. Protests have continued for more than a week

RANK XEROX How life turns on

Rank Xerox colour. It'll impress the bigwigs.

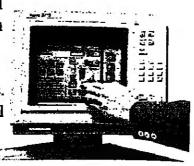

You couldn't help but notice Donna's subtle array of hairdos could you? That's because colour, compared to black and white. stands out like a blue rinse at a rock concert.

Information simply sings out, which means your LIAL documents stand out.

And here at Rank Xerox we have two newly launched machines that add colour to documents like never before. The Xerox 4850 is the world's most advanced highlight laser printing system. It can produce over a hundred shades of blue, red or green for a fraction of the price you'd expect to pay for colour.

While the Xerox 5775 digital full colour copier has a facility which allows you to add colour to black and white originals. It can, of course, add extra colours to colour originals. These revolutionary features, like all those on the 5775, are controlled from its touch sensitive screen.

And like all our products, the 5775 and the 4850 come with our unrivalled machine replacement guarantee when you have a service care agreement.

So, if you want to impress your bigwigs simply send off the coupon to us here at Rank Xerox.

TITLE: (MR/MRS/MISS)	INTTIALS
SURNAME COMPANY NAME
ADDRES$		3.
		1.00

Rank Xerox The Document Company Call us free on 0800 010 766

XEROX & RANK XEROX ARE REGISTERED TRADEMARKS OF RANK XEROX LID., RANK XEROY LUKI LID., BRIDGE HOUSE, OXFORD RD., UXBRIDGE UBB 1HS.

Man in the news

deals and wheels

By MICHAEL EVANS, DEFENCE CORRESPONDENT

MAJOR-General Lewis Mac-Kenzie, the Canadian officer commanding the United Nations troops in Sarajevo, has impressed everyone with his authority and personal courage. He expects to remain in the besieged city until next February.

General MacKenzie, 52, is a peacekeeper par excellence. Throughout his 32-year army career, he has carried out peacekeeping duties in Gaza. Cyprus, Egypt and Central America. He was also part of the International Commission of Control and Supervision in Vietnam in 1973. He has always had a reputation for leading from the front. Four months ago, the general, who was promoted from brigadier-general to majorgeneral last month, was preadian national defence headquarters in Ottawa. However, he received a telephone call telling him that he had been appointed chief of staff of the UN forces in Bosnia. A week ago, he was given the extra title of sector commander in Sarajevo.

The command in Sarajevo has proved to be his toughest assignment. Every day he has been seen in the streets of Sarajevo or at the airport to the southwest of the city, often with the sound of gunfire and shelfire around him.

Describing his job. General MacKenzie said recently: "Add up all [the previous postings] and multiply by ten and you would have the situation here."

He matches his dangerous job with a risky hobby. He builds Formula Ford cars business he runs with his22year-old daughter. He isan aggressive racing driver, in-

willing to give up the lad once he has taken it. The Canadian commander was brought up in Truo, Nova Scotia. He began his army career in 1960 wher he became a second lieuterant in the Queen's Own Rifls of Canada. He has a wife, Dyra. and one daughter.

In his lates appointment, he sleeps in a fot in his office, rising at 6am and rarely getting to bed before midnight. He spends much of his ime going back and forth between the various sides in the rivil war, trying to encourage the Serbs to stop fring on Samjevo and making sure that the humanitarian aid now arriving is distributed to those in most need.

A friend slid: [He] "is a soldier's solder. He is easygoing and prigmatic. People feel safe when he is around."

MacKenze: perilous job and perious hobby

Frenglish invasion gets elite rebuff

FROM CHARLES BREMNER IN PAUS

TEN days after France's constitution was amended to declare French the official language. 250 cultural and political figures have urged President Mitterrand to act to save their tongue from "the devasta-ting ravages" of English. American English is not just driving French out of its ancient role as an international language, said the signatories of the "manifes-to", who include academicians, actors, diplomats, writers and former ministers. Even more dangerous, they claim, is the threat at home from leaders of various sectors "who have taken it into their heads to make France give up its language and force it to speak English, or rather American". Faced with this "auto-destruction", the manifesto said, "we are going to find ourselves forced to undertake a long and difficult struggle to win back the right to work in our own language"

What lies behind the anguish is the tendency of French scientific and technical bodies and the business and cinema media. ness and cinema worlds to use English terms when perfectly good French ones exist, and even to eschew

French entire in favour of American Entish. The authorities stepped in recently to stop the lasteur Institute publishing its annals in English only. Electronics manufactures are under fire for selling equipment with softwars and handbooks in English. books in English.

"French is increasingly banished" fron areas such as films, international conas hims, international con-ferences and scientific papers, said the group, which include the writers Max Gallo and Philippe Sollers, the philosophers Régis Debra and Alain Finkielkraut, he academi-cian Jean Durand and shi cian Jean Duburd and the actress Mare-Christine Barrault. Paisians have been flocking his weekend to see Devent Colette (Becoming Coleta), a new film on the writer early Paris years, in which the dialogue is in English.

M Mitteriald, who has told ministers to stop holding press conferences in ing press conferences in English, was arged by the group to takefive steps to repel the "Fringlish" tide. These included teaching more children foreign languages other than English and exercise Frinch when and ensuring French was used by French officials in

UN observer team

arrives in Somalia

to mixed reception

FROM SAM KILEY IN MOGADISHU

supporters have so far rejected a UN proposal to send 500 troops from Pakistan or Indonesia to act as security for aid agencies trying to get food to the estimated two million people who are starving in

So far agency officials say that little of the 21,500

tonnes of food brought into Mogadishu has found its way to the most needy. Firefights between looters, security guards and other soldiers in the city's port hinder attempts to safely officed supplies and two weeks ago members of Gen Aidid's forces were allowed to help themselves to 2,500 tonnes of International Red Cross supplies which they took with them to the

and around the capital.

frontline in the west of the country in their fight against the remnants of the forces of the ousted president. Mohamed Siad Barre.

this day for a long time," Ali Mahdi, standing barefoot in his redoubt, a former school in the northern Karan district of the city, told the UN commander, Brigadier-General Imitaz Shaheen of Pakistan

"It is difficult to explain to someone who does not know our history why we are all fighting — but the fighting is a fact," said the putative

Earlier in the day Osman

Hassan Ali, chairman of Aidid's coalition recently renamed the Somali Liberation

Army, said that while the observers were welcome: "We do not need international intervention. If 500 or even 5,000 soldiers were sent sooner or later one of them would be shot by an bandit and then out altogether? Or be pre-been in the city since fighting broke out between the two factions (both members of the Hawiiye clan responsible for the overthrow of Siad Barre)

broke out last November, agree with Osman that Somalia does not need any more

"I doubt that the UN has the will to really follow things through. It is clear that armed UN soldiers would get shot and killed and then they would run away leaving more chaos behind them than there is already — if that is conceivable," said the director of a major agency who have been in Mogadishu

At least 30,000 people have been killed in the fighting while between 250 and 500 people have been starving in the capital every day. A ceaselire agreement struck between the two sides in March has beid and the city remains comparatively quiet except for the sound of shoot-

Last week the Saudi Arabian government sent 4,300 tonnes of food packaged in what one official said were nangy looter-mendly-min

size boxes". The cartons contain desirable commodities like oil, sugar and rice and as a result the agencies have Instead the food has been handed over to the two warring factions to distribute.

Food sent to Aidid's side is being collected in Osman's compound opposite the of-fices of Save the Children UK.

He said vesterday that "nothing will be sent to our army except what is used to pay the security'. Foreign officials are cynical about his assurances. "This will be a real test of his credibility with us."

said one member of the UN

Briffish arms British-made weapons, including anti-tank guns, have begun to surface in Somalia. Former presi-dent Siad Barre, forced out of the country in April left be-hind Kenyan armaments, some of these have been captured by his opponents. Most of the small arms have since been redistributed to General

Aidid's forces and some have been stored in Mogadishu.

in Mogadishu.

refused to handle them.

ing from looters.

since last December.

Most aid workers who have pared to invade?" he said.

We have been awaiting cias Barona sang nostalgically of love in the cobbled Madris is one of many catering for a revival of tango entwine and separate, taking sensually curving steps.

meaning leg play.

José Gobello, 73, a cango country.

gentina as a symbol of its culture. It largely died out as 1950s tering for tourists who could pay the high entrance fees. Tango has mainly been an exotic export, unpopular with local young people. However, it is now attract-popular in working-class Gustavo Nova, the director of FM Tango, a radio station set up two years ago to cater for the growing number of fans, says: There has been a change in attitude towards tango, it has become a way of

in the past year, his andience has grown from a daily

Dirty war starts for the Bush family

MARLYN KINGW

President Bush's family's business deals are being scrutinised, Martin Fletcher writes

PRESIDENT Bush's response last week to reports that the Democrats were investigating his family's business dealings was "Let them muck around in my garbage can ... they aren't going to find anything."
The invitation had echoes of Gary Hart's vainglorious 1988 challenge to journalists to find him cheating on his wife (they did). In preparation for po-tentially the nastiest presi-dential campaign yer, the Democrats and Ross Perot have been digging for dirt with which to undermine the president's image of pa-

During Mr Bush's first term, one brother and one son have been fined for financial irregularities. Another brother and two other sons have been involved in rainted business deals, and there is circumstantial evidence of government favours.

Lyndon Johnson was embarrassed by his hard-drinking brother Sam. Richard Nixon by his loanseeking brother Donald and Jimmy Carter by dim-witted Billy, but "what you've got with Bush is absolutely the largest num-ber of siblings and children involved in what looks like a never-ending hustle," says Kevin Phillips, a leading Republican analyst who be-lieves that the Democrats will strive to portray the Bushes this autumn as "the First Family of Financial Flim-Flam".

Neil Bush, the president's third son, heads what the Democrats, in a private note, called the "Hall of Shame". He was a director of Colorado's Silverado Savings and Loan company whose collapse cost the American taxpayer $1 billion (ES23 million). Federal regulators charged him with "multiple con-flicts of interest" and contributory negligence, but he received little more than a siap on the wrist. Moreover ii nas been a some conviction, that federal agencies delayed Silverado's closure until just after the 1988 presidential election. The president's younger brother Jonathan, a New York stockbroker, was fined $30,000 last year for violating Massachusetts securities law, and barred for a year from selling to the public in that state, but it is Prescott Bush, the president's older brother and international business consultant, whose exploitation of the presidential name has raised most eyebrows.

Prescott Bush has had extensive and lucrative business dealings with China, a country towards ously conciliatory.

More recently, it emerged that he stood to make $1 million by arranging American investments for a Tokyo firm that the Japanese police identified as a front for a Japanese crime syndicates.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Islanders 'tortured' in Pacific

ALLEGATIONS of the massacre and rorrure of civilians by Papua New Guinean soldiers on the Pacific island of Bougainville were made yesterday by an Australian lawyer who risked her life running a naval blockade to collect evidence (Robert Cockburn writes).

Rosemary Gillespie, 51 was shot at by a Papua New Guinean defence force aircraft and swam ashore under fire. She made the journey from the Solomon Islands to take in medical supplies and collect sworn statements from witnesses of massacres for the Australian parliament's human rights committee.

The island has been cut of from the outside world since declaring unilateral independence in 1990. Deprived of medical supplies and care, more than 5,000 people have died, according to relief agencies that are denied access.

Opera bonus

Moscow: The voice of Spanish tenor José Carreras rang out across Red Square at the start of a week-long arts festival beneath the Kremlin walls. Profits from events will help to fund Russian cultural enterprise · (Reuter)

Indians cleared

Ottawa: Thirty-four Mohawk Indians charged after an Montreal two years ago have been acquitted. The defen-dants faced charges including participating in a riot after the 78-day rising was put down by troops

Peace offered

Harare: Afonso Dhiakama, head of the Mozambican rebel Renamo movement, has agreed to an "almost immediate" ceasefire pending guarantees that Renamo will be allowed to operate as an opposition party in the runup to elections.

Site barred

Baghdad: Iraq denied United Nations inspectors access to a government agriculture ministry building and Karen Jansen, an American chemical expert and the team leader, said that Baghdad was violating the UN ceasefire resolution. (Reuter)

Left advances Lagos: Nigeria's left-of-centre Social Democrats moved ahead in the race for control of a new 589-member house of representatives and 91-seat senate with early election returns showing voting patterns largely on entrenched ethnic lines. (Reuter) Women sold

Dhake: At least 200,000 Bangladeshi women aged 12 to 30 have been sold in Pakistan and the Middle East over the past 15 years and most of them had been forced into siave labour, Dainik Bangla, the government-controlled newspaper, reported.

Boy to be girl

Johannesbarg: Surgeons at Baragwanath hospital will this week attempt the first of a series of operations to turn a boy into a girl. The two-yearold boy was found genitally mutilated in Soweto after what is believed to have been a brutal witcheraft ritual.

Muhammad, who presides only over the northern parts of the city and has lost ground to his rival warlord General Muhammad Farrah Aidid, is almost alone among the clan leaders calling for international intervention in Somalia. General Aidid and his Afghan

in care

OUT KING

i um ini Territori

17.0% DE

1.15

77. AND

 $1 \leq r \leq r^{\log (\frac{1}{2}) - 1}$

1000

 $\gamma_{\rm eff} \approx 9.3$

-- 357

1. TOP 5

1.00

· Could's

COLUMN TO

137025 38

Like Willer

Wife Chief

First H

THE first United Nations

military observers arrived in the Somali capital, Mogadishu, yesterday and received a fulsome welcome from the country's interim president who took the opportunity to reiterate his plea to the international community to send large numbers of heavily armed foreign soldiers to impose peace on his nation, shattered by civil war. But President Ali Mahdi kills 100 FROM KURT SCHORK IN EARTH

barrage

AT LEAST 100 people were killed and 300 injured in rocket attacks on Kabul on Saturday by guerrillas in mountains to the south of the Afghan capital, government-controlled Kabul Radio said. Previous reports had put the death toll at 50.

Kabul was quiet yesterday morning but without water or power. Hezb-i-Islami forces led by Gulbuddin Hekmatyar fired dozens of rockets as they traded artillery fire with government forces inside the city.
The radio's casualty figures were largely confirmed by hospitals. It was impossible to confirm which side started Saturday's battles. Tension rose after the ruling Afghan Lead-ership Council started clearing the city of armed men on Thursday. Kabul fell to rebel forces on April 25 after 14 years of civil war. Since then it has been ruled by motley guerrilla groups and former government soldiers whose looting kidnappings and murders have terrorised the

The operation to bring Kabut under central government control was supposed to be carried out by forces from all factions represented on the leadership council, including Hezb-Islami. Instead, the sweep was dominated by moons led by General Resheed Dostum, who switched sides from the former government to back the guerrillas in April. His soldiers are under the direction of the interior and defence ministers: Mr Hekmatyar and other hardliners in the coalition government, who had been demanding that General Dostum's turncoats be removed from Kabul, saw the city fall increasingly under their sway.

President Rabbani, serving his first week in office, narrowly avoided injury when a rocket fell in the courtyard of the presidential palace less than 100 yards from where he was holding a meeting. A Hezb-i-islami spokes-man, speaking from Peshawar denied the group's forces had deliberately attacked civ-

shot dead in Algeria

FROM ALPHED HERMODA IN ALGUERS

GUNMEN shot dead five policemen at the weekend in Algeria, which is country still shaken by last week's assassination . of .. Muhammad Boudisf, the head of state. The attackers used automatic weapons against two patrol-ling police vehicles in the coastal area near Boumerdes twe on Saurday night. The five men who died were in the

The killings were reported vesterday as Algeria marked its 30 years of independence from France in a muted atmosphere as people sought to make sense of conflicting accounts of Boudiaf's assassination. According to the military-backed authorities one assessin is now under arrest. But the complexity of the attack and accounts by wit-be under way.

The authorities identified the alleged killer at the weekthey confirmed that he is a

the president.

Although the authorities in-

Boumaraf: alleged to be the assassin

Policemen

nesses suggest there were at least two attackers, leading to a belief that a cover-up could end as Lembarak Boumaraf. 26, a secret service agent. They said he was arrested shortly after the attack and lieutenant in a special unit responsible for the safety of sist that the assassin was acting alone and that nobody else was involved, a series of semi-official leaks to the press have tried to pin responsi-bility for the killing on Algeria's Islamic Fundamentalist

Moving forward: the tango, here portrayed in the Aldwych theatre production of Tango Argentina, is undergoing a revival in the clubs of Buenos Aires Disco crowds step back in time to strains of tango

FROM GABRIELLA GAMINI IN BUENOS AIRES AS THE lights dimmed in the crowded, smoke-filled Madris nightchib and the disco lights stopped flickering, one might have expected a rock singer to take the stage. But a "bandoneon", a type of accordion, and violins appeared and the plangent sounds of tango filled the air. Elderly couples mingled with long-haired Argentinian vouths who were trying to follow the dance, and Patristreets of Buenos Aires. nightclubs in Buenos Aires music among young Argen-tinians. Twice a week they break away from disco music for a night of tango. Couples called juego de piernas, historian, says that real tango is a dying culture which will be impossible to revive once the older generation goes. He says that no young composers of tango rausic have emerged in recent years. Astor Piazzola. who died on Saturday aged 72, was the last of the greats. according to Senor Gobello. Tango was born at the beginning of the century from the different cultures and groups prevalent in Argenti-na at the time. Discharged soldiers from the war of independence against Spain, European immigrants and descendants of African slaves brought together their cultures in the barrios of Buenos Aires. They mixed the lament of the Moorish-Cerived flamenco rhythms of camdombes with other meiodies to produce a flirtatious dance and a poetic song capressing nostalgia for a lost past and womes for an uncertain future in a new first, tango was shunned by high society but when it became a hit in Europe in the 1920 and 1930s it was accepted in Ar-popular entertainment in the Tango bars have long been dark, dungeon-like rooms, covered in memorabilia, caing interest in clubs fre-quented by middle-class youths and is increasingly dance halls.

establishing our identity. 150,000 to 800,000. The tunes of FM Tango can be heard through the traffic noise in taxis and cafes

Romania accused of supplying Moldavia with fighter pilots

FROM MARY DRIEVSKY IN MOSCOW

ed, whose reputation as a Russian parliament building during the coup last August, accused Romania of providing pilots to fly Moldavia's protect our state."

and Bucharest had denied that Romania was supplying Moldavia with any military personnel, least of all pilots. The Moldavian defence min istry added: "When a general who has headed the army only for a week allows himself tough soldier was built during his service in Afghanistan and his reputation as a loyal Russian by his defence of the fighters. In a swipe at the Russian president, he called for an end to "political blathering and begging for aid around the world" and told the press conference: "It is time we braced ourselves to

Within hours, Rishinev

to make this sort of statement, it becomes crystal clear that he has not the slightest intention of joining talks, withdrawing his troops from the territory of a foreign state or working to establish peace in the region." From Moscow, however, where the Russian and Moldavían presidents last week agreed to a peace plan for the region, there emerged a different set of priorities. Asked about Transdnestr at his Kremlin press conference, President Yeltsin said that he wished to "state categorically" that the conflict should be settled by political and not military means. "It is true that Russians, citizens of Russia living in commonwealth states, should be protected. but protected by political

Infanta sails into hospital

One of the King of Spain's daughters, the Infanta Cristina. 27, was released from hospital yesterday after a sailing accident on Saturday.

She had several stitches in her head after she was hit by the boom of her cruising yacht at a regatta near Barcelona. Her brother, Crown Prince Felipe, 22, is representing Spain in the Soling class at the Olympic Games.

The Boston Symphony Or-chestra conductor, Seiji Ozawa, 57, hopes to realist a dream by celebrating the memory of his mentor, the late maestro Hideo Santo. when he conducts the first Saito Kinen Festival in September. He sees it as a chance for the Japanese to show that they can produce a world-class orchestra. Ozawa himself has been long recognized; after early honours for his conducting. he studied under Herbert von Karajan, was an assistant to Leonard Bernstein, and has been music director of the Toronto, San Francisco and Boston symphonies.

Joan Plowright, once a leading lady for her late husband, Lord Olivier, now has a versatile film career. She played the American mother who plotted with Tracy Ullman to murder Kevin Kline in I Love You to Death and the stern Polish-Jewish mother in Avaion. Her new film is the English-made Enchanted Shooting will begin soon for a feature-length film chroniding Deng Kinoping's return to power in the late 1970s, after the demise of China's Cultural Revolution, the first film portrayal of Deng in his later years.

Jean-Paul Gaultier, the bad boy of the Paris fashion scene, presented a new line of jeans at the Paris men's fashion shows. On a podiand pillows, the designer showed off muscle-bound young men in body-hugging T-shirts, with the British pop singer Boy George

Benito Gama, the head of a congressional panel investigating Brazilian govern-ment corruption, said in an interview published yester-day he had no evidence directly implicating President Fernando Collor de Mello. Senhor Gama is heading the inquiry into Paulo Cesar Farins, campaign manager for Senhor

The celebrated Mexican writer, Carlos Fuentes, has spent his life travelling across continents and cultures. Now, in The Buried Mirror. Reflections on Spain and the New World, he explores the history of the Spanish-speaking people since Christopher Columbus' first voyage to the Americas in 1492.

Communists stage secret congress

FROM ROBERT SEELY IN PUSHKING

THE Soviet communist party returned to its conspiratorial roots as a furtive and illicit organisation this weekend when a hard core of its remaining members gathered to hold the part's twentyninth congress. A year ago the venue was the Kremlin's Palace of Congresses. This weekend's meeting took place in a non-descript hall in a non-descript

dormitory town. Pushkino,

25 miles from the heart of Russian power. Instead of the 2,500 who gathered last year to hear General Secretary Mikhail Gorbachev, barely 150 loyalists arrived. Those who turned up were officially designated as second world war veterans attending a reunion to avoid attempts by the police - as in 1903 in Brussels at the second congress to break up the meeting. For what it was worth, former President Gorbachev was denounced and expelled from the party he helped to destroy. "It is he who should be blamed for the events now happening," said Antonia Chemuk, a nurse who arrived iusi as the proceedings were being wound up. Like many in Russia, she blamed the country's failings on futile attempts to catch up with the West. "Yeltsin makes one-sided concessions to America while we face poverny. Only one per cent of the population support this government of criminials." Mrs Chemuk said. Her friend, Major Yuri Burukov, 38, an Afghan vereran, was equally full of complaints. "Russia is in a terrible state," he said. "We have lost our colonies. As Great Britain losi Australia and India, so we have lost Ukraine and Centra! Asia." Speakers at the congress said that only by taking the :

socialist path could Russia's economic ills be cured. To that end. Sergei Skvortsev. chairman of the All-Union Committee of Communists that organised the congress. said all loyal communists should campaign for the res- ur "as a leguimate president ignation of President Yeitsin. for Moldavia". General Leb-

the weekend in and around the Moldavian region of Transdnestr, the war of words between Moldavia and the Transdnestrian separatists reached new levels of vindictiveness. Charges and countercharges flew between Kishinev, Bucharest and Tiraspol, Romania of direct involvement in the conflict and denouncing President Snegur of Moldavia as unfit to lead Lite COUPERV. At a press conference on Saurday, his second in less than a week as army commander, General Lebed accused Moldavia of "genocide ... against its own people" and compared the destruction in the region with action by Hitler's SS. "A fascist shadow has been cast over this femile land," he said. He no longer regarded Mr Sneg-

On the prongs of Trident

Is Britain's Bomb an embarrassment to Washington? asks Peter Riddell that we can go

The central thread of post-war British defence policy is in danger of unravelling as a result of the American-Russian agreement to cut nuclear weapons. But ministers and admirals would prefer nobody talked about it, rather as battleship captains were reluctant to admit the threat from aircraft. Their refusal to acknowledge the implications for the British deterrent has astonished many American observers. British and American interests on nuclear weapons are diverging.

Post-war governments have up-held the policy vividly proclaimed by Ernest Bevin 45 years ago: "We've got to have this thing over here whatever it costs . . . we've got to have the bloody Union Jack flying on top of it." Britain has kept its "independent deterrent", although Trident will rely on the Americans for servicing and targeting. British-American nuclear co-operation has never been as smooth as talk of a "special relationship" suggests. Even be-fore the British deterrent was developed, the McMahon Act in 1946 ended wartime agreements on exchanging 'Last month's tion, and they were agreement not fully restored challenges for more than a decade. In 1962 Skybolt was canthe British celled and senior officials assumption wanted to end Britain's privileged nuclear status. All Harold Mac-milian's wiles were required at the it alone' Nassau summit to Kennedy to provide Polaris. Sir Philip de Zulueta. one of his private secretaries, said that by the end "there wasn't a dry eye in the house".

persuade President

But Washington always regarded Polaris and then Trident as indulgences to satisfy Britain's global aspirations and to secure London's co-operation on the more important American interest of retaining bases and intelligence facilities here. British nuclear capacity was anyway slight compared with the much larger superpower arsenals. Last month's agreement is the most serious threat yet to transatlantic co-operation. It challenges the British assumption that we can it alone. President Yeltsin ha dismissed the British and French deterrents as relatively small. But the big cuts agreed by Russia and America contrast starkly with the increases in missile capacity planned by Paris and London.

Malcolm Rifkind argues that since neither Russia nor America is going to abolish its nuclear weapons. Britain is justified in retaining its minimum deterrent. But what is a minimum? For the first time there will be limits on the number of warheads on American submarine-launched missiles. This has implications for Britain. The replacement of Polaris by Trident increases the maximum number of warheads from 192 to 512. Britain has refused to say how many would be deployed in any submarine, while hinting that the total will be below the maximum. The question of total capacity can no longer be dodged.

RIDDELL ON MONDAY

Britain is also worried by the American-Russian agreement to develop a global strategic defence system to protect against an accidental or maverick attack. Sharing technology on early-warning systems against ballistic missiles could undermine the British deterrent Mr Rifkind said last week that any proposals to alter the antiballistic missile treaty would "re-quire the most careful attention, consistent with the credibility and effectiveness of the nuclear deterrents that we and the US possess". That is code for we have never believed in the Strategic Defence Initiative and fear the Americans are weakening our deterrent. The government is at present trying to hold its main position, preserving Trident, by highlight-ing concessions elsewhere. In the past year, Britain has ended nuclear artillery and the use of nuclear warheads on Lance missiles. cut the number of nuclear dual-capable aircraft and. ast month, announced the scrapping of its seaborne tactical nuclear weapons. These are big changes, but they are secondary to questions about Trident which no one wants to discuss: whether it is any longer in America's interests for the present Trident programme to continue. When the US-Russian agreement was signed, Michael Evans wrote in The Times about the fresh doubts raised over the British and French deterrents. Since then there has been virtual silence, apart from a brief Commons

It is a curious paradox that the parties differed most over the merits of a British deterrent when its possession was most justified and only reached a broad consensus on retaining nuclear weapons as the Cold war ended. So now, when Trident should be debated. it has become a totern which no party can question without look-Hoagland, one of the best-informed American commentators. wrote in the Washington Post a week ago that the realisation of a devoutly desired eventuality has greatly complicated life for President Mitterrand and John Major. Mr Major, he added, "has said as little as possible about the changes In nuclear strategy the new era is bringing". There is a strong case for keeping "the bloody Union Jack flying on top of it", not least as an insurance against the withdrawal of the American nuclear guarantee. But that does not mean that Trident has to be preserved in its present form, no questions asked. Ministers cannot go on pretending that nothing has happened, or else one day they may find themselves isolated by changes in American policy. Mr Major may face his own Nassau summit.

The BMA is blinkered and divided in its reaction to NHS reform, writes Jeremy Laurance

Six hundred doctors gather in Nothingham today to settle their differences over the National Health Service reforms. Bruised by the pace of change within the NHS they threaten to turn the British Medical Association's annual conference, its policy-making forum, into an undignified slanging match of which the likeliest victim will be the association itself. The BMA is split. As many members now write to protest about its failure to support NHS reforms as to oppose them. Some say the £2.5 million campaign to stop them was money wasted but many think it was not enough. Consultants, who see their powr base being croded by the market culture, are ranged against general practitioners, who see it giving them extra leverage over powerful institutions. The GPs are bitterly divided about fundholding, over fears that it will enshrine a two-tier service. Junior doctors complain that only lip service is paid to their complaints about long hours. At a critical point in the NHS's history, when the doctors need to make their voice heard, the associ-ation is suffering from weak leadership and an absence of vision. Last year the chairman of council, Dr Jeremy Lee Potter, narrowly survived a vote of no confidence. His leadership style has not improved. A consultant haematologist from Poole, he seems out of touch with — and often shows little sympathy for — the earthy opinions of the GPs who are the bedrock of the association's membership. The BMA's secretary, Dr Iam Field, a career civil servant plucked from the Department of Health, is barely known beyond the portals of BMA House. There is a risk that, like the teachers and the miners, the doctors will see their already humbled trade union fall apart. The GPs, who have their own defence fund, could break away from the consultants and the juniors, who lack independent resources. Most, however, are convinced that strength lies in sticking together - if only a unifying glue can be found.

While doctors dither

The biggest obstacle to change is that the association is financially secure. Membership is up and the 1.000 GPs who resigned over the association's failure to oppose the interest of their contracts. introduction of their contracts in 1990 have mostly returned. Wealthy organisations are harder to reform than poor ones.

Yet reform matters not only to the BMA but to the public its members serve. With the election over, the battle for the future of the NHS has switched from Westminster and Whitehall to the wards and consulting rooms. The central concern for doctors is that they are being sidelined as technicians in a health service shaped by contracts and dominated by managers.

The relationship between all professions and society is changone based on contract. In medicine the change has many attractions, in reducing waste, raising efficiency, encouraging rational planning and ensuring public accountability. Reform is the inevitable result of the clash between growing demand for medical care and economic constraints.

But there are dangers. As Dr Marshall Marinker, an innovative thinker on the development of medical care, said in a speech to NHS managets recently, contracts can generate a repressive and controlling influence.
"Medicine can become preoccupied with the characteristics of groups, and become distracted from the assessment of, and response to, the needs of the individual. Strong contracts enfeeble professionalism."

The growth of contracting, in other words, could diminish the importance of the doctor/patient relationship. Preserving it is essential to prevent the excesses of the market. Now that the NHS reforms are inteversible, the question for doctors is what role they, and the BMA, will play in shaping them. But the association lacks a vision of where it is going, and the leadership to take it there.

The BMA tried to formulate a strategy in Leading for Health: a BMA Agenda, published last Christmas. It was an ambitious document that asked searching questions and set out clearly the choices ahead. But aside from an ill-timed conference in March just before the election, when debate was confined to political pointscoring, nothing has been heard

The agenda for this week's conference is not encouraging. There is little to excite anyone but a committed medico-politician and much of it is backward-looking (this meeting "regrets the pur-chaser/provider split"). The BMA should be sending a clear message this week about the future of the NHS, not a whinge about the past.

Claudia, a model for our times

Bernard Levin finds a modern malaise perfectly exposed in the fashion world

et us approach today's theme in a gingerly fash-ion; we don't want to shock anyone. The story begins in New York with a very pretty lady, a model called Claudia Schiffer. She is only 21 years of age, but it is clear that she is worldly wise, possibly a tad more worldly wise than is good for her.

Ms Schiffer has signed a modelling contract guaranteeing her very great quantities of moolah in exchange for standing around for hours on end looking bored, if not downright daft; the enterprise which has her exclusive services is the well-known cosmetics company Revion.

In the contract there is a clause forbidding our heroine to pose in the nude, though I should have thought that such a bar would be quite otiose; no well-bred young lady would even contemplate belady would even contemplate behaviour so louche. She did not but she reckoned without Mr Hurley. Mr Huriey is a professional photographer, and it can safely be said adon by nun to be admitted into the company of the Knights of the Round Table would almost certainly be turned down.

Ms Schiffer was plying her trade at a fashion show in New York, which obviously meant that she had to change her clothes a good many times in the course of the event. This gave Mr Hurley his chance; he slipped backstage, bided his time until Ms Schiffer was at the crucial point in her change from one costume to another - a point so crucial that she had for the moment doffed everything above the waist - and went clickery-click.

Whereupon Ms Schiffer sued him for $30 million.

Before I come to the legal business, I must attend to a much more delicate task. Our dear sister. The Sun, got hold of a print of the picture and published it; I must say that the bosom of Ms Schiffer is without doubt a thing of remarkable beauty. At her age you would not expect even a slight sag, or the finiest wrinkle, and indeed the texture is perfect; but the shapeliness, the fullness and the roundedness constitute a sight which would not just make the blind to see and the lame to walk, but both to burst out singing. Yes, but $30 million? In the first place, the sum should be cut in half, to take account of the fact that (as far as can be seen in the photograph) Ms Schiffer was satisfactorily clad from the waist down. But even that leaves $15 million to be mopped up. Isn't the demand a bit - how shall I put it as delicately as the situation requires? - a bit of a diabolical bleeding liberty?

Our cash-conscious heroine's attorney says that she has been "caused irreparable damage to her reputation, career and personal image" (when, when, WHEN, will it cease to be an offence, worldwide, to murder a lawyer?), which is nonsense on stills, decause no even a judge could think that the obviously unwanted and resented publication of the picture could be neld to constitute a breach of Ms Schiffer's contract with Revion. I suppose that the rise of the model went parallel with the rise of the modern fashion designer, the latter being perhaps the most ludicrously unwanted trade in all history; even the making and selling of bits of dark glass for seeing eclipses of the sun through is manifestly more useful. But that would not matter, were it not for the way that this entirely bogus industry has been puffed and boosted and even deferred to. After all, before the second world war and for a decade or so after it rich women would go quietly to Paris to see their dressmakers. who would fit them with some thing in which they would feel suitably at ease. Now, the designers have come posturing out of their workrooms and turned themselves into celebrities whose views on everything from art to zoology are taken seriously. The phenomenon of the model is, in its way, perhaps even more remarkable. For centuries, artists good and bad used models for the pictures they envisaged, but there

Why, it need not be clothing at all: Ms Schiffer's company began with nail polish. I do not regard this business as a sign that the world is about to come to an end in fire and brimstone: nor would I even try to evaluate the modelling trade and its penumbra. But what has hap-pened in the designing and model-ling professions is the same, mutatis mutandis, as what has happened in pop music and motor cars and "packaging" and white-collar crime and professional tennis and a dozen more areas in our lives. And you know them, instantly, by their lack of roots.

I seem to have come a long way from the reluctantly topless model who started all this, but the way round a circle can often be long. The very notion of toplessness and its effects is a sign of our times, as you can tell by going into any metropolitan telephone box and picking up a handful of the invitation cards you will find there.

has a very substantial income; experts in these matters say that she is one of the world's four leading models. That would be enough to turn many an older and wiser head, so that when the intrusive paparazzo caught her innocently en deshabille it did not seem to her out of the ordinary, let alone a very long way out of the ordinary, to demand $30 million. But that was not because she was greedy, but because the world she lives in has taught her (remember she is still only 21) that such sums are the normal and reasonable reward for strutting her stuff, or at least for being photographed topless without her consent.

It is no use explaining that one butcher, baker or candlestickmaker is several thousand times as valuable to the world than one beautiful model, though it is true. Scarcity measures very precisely, and Ms Schiffer would not be where she is today if those who engaged her services did not believe that she would bring them in more than they paid out.

The lawsuit should run for some time, so the importunate photographer will be able to measure the ups and downs of this story before he has to think about raising the wind to the extent of $30 million. Let him take heart; even in the workhouse, followed by the old folk's home, he will have a trump card, one imperishable memory. one candle to warm his life. He saw Claudia Schiffer close up and topless: what's $30 million to that?

...and moreover ATTHEW PARRIS

was sitting on the Underground: on my lap a recent Times article by Bernard Levin, opposite me an advertisement for portable air conditioning. Levin was in powerful form, inveighing against educationists who claim that the English of the classics is beyond modern Shakespeare: .. a fair face will wither, a full eye will wax hollow, but a good heart, Kate, is the sun and the moon; or, rather, the sun and not the moon; for it shines bright, and never changes, but children. He disagreed, citing keeps his course truly . . . This prose was clear as daylight. With a few footnotes, anyone who could read, could read Shakespeare. The train rattled on. I looked up at the airconditioning advertisement. "If today's kids can read the prose of the 1590s," I mused. "how will today's prose, of the second Elizabethan age, read to the kids of 2392?" I transcribed the ad.

It took the form of a comic strip. "Get the right climate [1] for business [2]," said the mast-head. The first frame showed some overheated girls, a panicky dancing master and an unimpressed impresario. "I stepped into Dino's Dancing Academy." commenced the narrative. "Hiram Firem [3], the big producer [4], was casting [5] for his new musical [6]. The temperature was higher than a hoofer's hemline [7]. Dino's chicks [8] were melting [9], and so was his chance of a contract [10]. The only cool head belonged to Velma, the receptionist [11]."

Flustered dancer: "Tap [12] dance in this heat? We quit." Hiram: "Is that how you treat follywood's [13] head bonch [14]? I'm leaving."

Velma: "Wait Mr Firem! Why not move here, where it's cool?" Later ... Hiram: "You're one 15] cool [16] cookie [17]. How about a screen test [18]?"

Velma (thinks): "Boy [19]! Am I glad I decided to get instant air conditioning [20] from Heatbusters [21]!" "Dial 100 and ask for Freefone Heatbusters." [22]

[1] climate: could be used in the fashionable 20th century jargon for surrounding circumstances, or more literally "air temperature". Probably a pun; [2] business: commercial dealines:

|3| Hiram Firem: another pun, e "hire them, fire them". To 'fire" was slang for "dismiss"; [4] producer: one who directed theatrical ventures:

[5] casting: shorthand for choosing a cast": [6] musical: a play with singing and dancing:

[7] higher than a hoofer's hemline: probably a contemptuous reference to the very short skirt of a dancer ("hoofer" from 'hoof", i.e. foot, leg); [8] chick: slang, disparaging.

for a woman: [9] melting: the pun refers both to the heat and the disintegration of Dino's hopes;

[10] contract: a hoped-for contract of employment for the would-be dancers:

[11] receptionist: an employee positioned at the entrance of premises to greet and direct callers. The implication is that

Velma was a calm person; [12] tap dancing: a 19th & 20th century fashion for dancing with shoes designed to make a loud tap or click on impact with the floor:

[13] Hollywood: a place in America famous for producing lavish and lucrative filmed entertainment. (Refer to appendix on Film); [14] head honck: (probably)

mportant fellow, senior figure, etc. derivation obscure. [15] one not as distinguished from two, but for emphasis. [16] cook (apart from the obvious pun): used in the slang sense of "excellent";

[17] cookie: affectionately patronising term for woman. The whole sentence: "You're certainly an excellent woman." [18] screen test: see appendix

[19] boy: not literally: an exclamatory term; [20] instant dir conditioning see appendix on Technology.

[21 & 22] (see technology chapter). Dialling 100 was a means of speaking to a telephone operator. Freefone was the placing of a telephone call paid for by respondent. Heatbusters — i.e. those who bust" (slang for "break" or "destroy") high temperatures.

Special note: sadly the whole effect of this passage derives from the flavour imparted by the idiom and technological novelty of the hour. Recommended for postgraduate study only.

Women of the shadows

AS MOST eyes in the Labour party are focused on this month's leadership election, a parallel contest is under way for places in the shadow cabinet. The impending departure of Neil Kinnock, Roy Hattersley and Gerald Kaufman has left the way clear for at least three new faces - and many of the party faithful would like them to be women's faces.

While George Robertson, Labour's European affairs spokes man, and Martin O'Neill, the defence spokesman, have come close in the past and remain convinced they have a good chance, their women colleagues are un-likely to give up without a fight. Marjorie Mowlam, the party's spokeswoman on the City, is a strong contender, as are both Harriet Harman, the shadow health minister, and Clare Short, twice previously on the front bench.

If they succeed, the number of women on the shadow cabinet would almost double from the present four: Jo Richardson, Margaret Beckett. Ann Clwyd and Ann Taylor Richardson, the shadow minister for women, was expected to stand down but is thought to be reconsidering. Becken will have an automatic place in the shadow cabinet if she becomes deputy leader. Neither Clwyd or Taylor are thought to be in

Unlike in the past, the final frantic week of campaigning for the shadow cabinet election will not be fought out in Commons tear-joins and bars. Parliament goes into summer recess on Thursday, July 16, the day nominations close. With votes not required for a further week, any late arm-twisting will have to be done by teleany danger.

The misery of unemployment has spread to the animal kingdom. Job losses are running so high that Weish farm workers and the RSPCA are demanding redundancy payments for sheepdogs when their owners become unemployed. Shepherds receive a special weekly food allowance for their dogs, but it stops when they are made redundant. As dogs still have to be fed and watered even when their owners are unemployed, farmworkers are urging the Agricultural Wages Board to introduce dog redundancy pay-ments. So far there has not been

Shameless trollops

is no bridge between that meaning and the modern one, and not only because the artist's model was wretchedly paid if she was paid at all. It took our chromium era to elevate the dress-designer's model and place her on a golden throne.

AT LEAST one of the Garrick Club's illustrious former members would have voted against the admission of women members today. Victoria Glendinning's forthcom-ing biography of Anthony Trollope. John Major's favourite writer, highlights the writer's antifeminist views.

Trollope, which comes out in September, records the writer's frequent references in his novels to the size of women's busts, and whether they wore corsets. "He loved women but he felt their place was in the drawing room while the men went to their club," says Glendinning.

Nevertheless, Trollope put campaigning words into the mouths of women characters. They should have made me Prime Minister, and have let him be Chancellor of the Exchequer." No, not Norma Major but Lady Glencora Palliser talking of her husband in The Prime Minister. Glendinning says she would join the Garrick if she could, even if her subject would have disapproved. 'It is the only chap's club I would be interested in joining. Most are full of gentlemen. The Garrick is full of deliciously ungentlemanly gentlemen."

Russian whispers

ONCE it was almost impossible to find out what was happening in Moscow. Now the city is teeming with so many Western correspondents it is hard to keep a good story down. This may explain the premature disclosure of the discovery of the diaries of Joseph Goebbels in a Moscow archive.

Eddy Shah, the former newspaper proprietor, was in Moscow researching a book on the KGB when he bumped into David Irving in the Metropole Hotel. The historian revealed he was working on the Goebbels diaries, which would be serialised in one of Britain's biggest Sunday newspapers. Shah says: "It did not take much to work out which one he meant."

Shah then ran into the writer Anthony Holden, in Moscow to research a biography on Tchaikovsky. Over dinner Holden also referred to the supposedly secret discovery. Shah later saw Holden with his friend Peter Pringle, the Moscow correspondent of The Independent. The cat was well and truly out of the bag: in no time Pringle was filing his scoop.

Late take-off A MONUMENT is to be built at neer John Stringfellow, the first man to make a model plane that would fly. Stringfellow's 1848 prototype, which flew for 120ft. was instrumental in helping the Wright brothers lift off the ground in a powered machine in 1903. A scale replica of the model is to be put up in Chard, Somerset, where Stringfellow designed the plane. The decision comes after pressure from, among others, Irene White, Stringfellow's greatgranddaughter, aged 84. who lives in nearby Yeovil. She says: "It is high time England is recognised as the home of the first aircraft to last to the British aeronautical pio-

Is John Major making contingency plans for a snap election if the government loses the Commons vote over Maastricht? Ministerial special advisers are wondering. They received their usual brown package this week from Conservative Central Office research department containing their weekly parliamentary brief-ing. Inside they discovered five sheets of notes on why the Tories will win the next general election.

to fly under its own power."

The same of the sa

36. F.A. Q 1000

and the 1

Direct

and bear

100 to 10

100 mm

The same of the sa

7 7 7

117 (2775)

1-7.30

of Contract

A 1 200 12

1

- T COM

1 Table 5

10 0 PX 的 20

Mar Tarada

The Company of the State of ere mit in war erten

Section 1981 The Section 1981

化化二氯甲二烷 硫烷磺酸

and the contract of the contra

イ、・ Start 活動機能

The state of the state of 12 400 500

and the second of the second and the second

1 1 1 2 2

The state of the s

The Standard

And the State of t

A STATE OF THE STATE OF

4.73.53.53

一、一次 27 万江北京建筑

or the second

电压用的电影图像

Mande

SMOG AT THE SUMMIT

The summit of the Group of Seven millistral democracies that begins today in Munich promises to be a dismal affair. Since the G7 leaders met in London last year, the prospects for world peace and prosperity have dimmed depressingly. Economic recovery remains a mirage that keeps appearing beyond a further hill. The world's leading economies remain stuck. Despite the collapse of communism, peace around the world is no nearer, civil war rages unchecked in Yugoslavia, and nationalist passions threaten bloodshed across much of Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union.

Last year John Major presided over a busy London summit of confident Western leaders, secure in their jobs and optimistic about the post-Gulf new world order. Little of that optimism remains. All are now president Bush is floundering in the electoral mine. Kiichi Miyazawa, the new Japanese prime minister, is already suffering the effects of a sluggish economy, the continuing after-shocks of political scandal and a whopping trade surplus. President Mitterrand is deeply unpopular, and is preoccupied with the Maastricht referendum. The new Italian Prime Minister, Giuliano Amato, cannot ignore his countrymen's deep distilusion with the faltering political system, just as Brian Mulroney is hamstrung by the continued row over Quebec. Helmut Kohl has suffered a series of political defeats as unification has turned sour. And even Mr Major, one of the few leaders with a secure electoral mandate, is hampered by a sluggish economy and a new flare-up in the guerrilla war of the Eurosceptics.

Little wonder therefore that they are reluctant to commit themselves to imaginative new initiatives. Herr Kohl, the host, wants to bring back something of the original informality to this year's summit. He has kept the agenda small, leaving off the usual flummery about drugs, terrorism, and the other perennial issues. This is all to the good: the summit is not a decision-taking forum, but is supposed to give new impulses to negotiations bogged down elsewhere. The trouble is that the Chancelior has also left off items such as Gatt that urgently need political will now. And his vision of "shaping a new international partnership" has focused almost exclusively on the view east of the Oder-Neisse

Maybe a discussion of the Uruguay round is better held in the corridors or between senior officials, to avoid outright confrontation between, say, Presidents Bush and Mitterrand over agriculture, Maybe. But to exclude altogether the one item that more than any other is germane to an economic summit devoted to international partnership seems perverse, if not plain cowardly.

Most of the news from this summit will again be made by the Russians. Mikhail Gorbachev got himself invited to London, where the West finally agreed to help his stuttering economic reforms. Since then the Soviet Union has disintegrated, economic reform of a kind has begun in Russia, and the International Monetary Fund is now locked in argument with its newest and most impractical members. But little has changed. Boris Yeltsin rather than his predecessor will come with his begging bowl. The West has made more promises, but the first tranche of the $24 billion stabilisation fund has still not been paid over.

" Mr Yeltsin may come away with a bir more money, a programme to make Russian nuclear reactors safer and some uncashable Western promises of support against his hardliners at home. The G7 leaders will look into the abyss of Yugoslavia and other East European countries on the brink, but will thankfully leave decisions to the cumbersome Helsinki summit of 52 nations, where they will all, except Mr Miyazawa, repair on Thursday. They will unwrap the new Japanese growth package, attempt to talk up the dollar, and outline plans to give legislate ive substance to their brave words at Rio. Beyond that, the summit will come up with only modest proposals. It no longer aspires to be the directorate that rules the world, as it once appeared. The magnificent seven will not come out blazing too much of their ammunition this year consists of blanks.

REFORMING OLD BILL

Two great surviving dragons of the public sector are the police and the prisons. Feeding the appetites of the former takes some £7 billion a year, in return for indifferent performance. St George, in the person of the new home secretary, Kenneth Clarke, is eager to join battle. He is anyouncing an enquiry into police pay and conditions this week. The Home Office is also looking the something similar. But reforming the police will stretch Mr Clarke's political and philosophical skills to the utmost. His independent enquiry into police pay and conditions may postpone, but will not banish, an overtine moment of reckoning with a group of public sector workers who did exceptionally well out of the Thatcher years with what now looks like a false prospectis. He will need the armour of ruthless scenticism.

On restructuring. Mr Clarke seems to think bigger is better. But one of his two touchstones should be to enhance local' accountability for the police, not reduce it by conglomerating regional police authorities into ever more massive units. There is a limit to the size of a police area where channels of accountability can still be effective:

Efficiency should be the other touchstone. But the debate about police goals and performance cannot be conducted only in terms acceptable to the police, such as clearup rates of reported crime (for public consumption) or amounts of overtime (in the language of the police canteen); or even, in ministerial terms, in economies of scale. Any test of value for money for the police must first decide what value really means, in police performance. It is not for the police alone to say what the police are for, where policing value lies - nor for the Home Office alone.

This is an issue where both politicians and policemen must defer to the wishes of the wider community. If the community wants every burgled house visited by a policeman, even if the main benefit of that visit is sychological reassurance for the house-solder shar is a choice the community radical initiatives on police force structure.

Putting the prison service at artistic structure, should be emitted to make if the community from government, should be reliabled to make if the community strong government, should be reliabled to make if the community from government, should be reliabled to make if the community strong government, by means of privatisation of lights and sirens, the police should spend less on them. If it wants policemen on bicycles, so be it. Satisfying those public needs is what giving value for money means.

Relations between the police and the community are not inconvenient adjuncts to proper police work, as both ministers and policemen sometimes wrongly seem to think, nor are these specialist issues for police community relations experts only. They are at the heart of modern policing. Like any other public servants, police must respond to public demand and must seek public consent. That process needs institutions rooted in the community.

The traditional "tripartite" basis for runming the police, which the Home office could review, is based on parmership between central and local government and chief police officers, each with an allotted share of supervisory duties. A simple relationship between Home Office ministers and the police - as in London - would no doubt be more convenient to both. Local democratic accountability can seem unduly cumbersome to central government. But the right of the local community to influence the way it is policed should not be treated by ministers as optional - even in the name of cost-

ILS NE PASSERONT PAS

Only a generation ago, the keys to a country were its ports and railway marshalling yards. Invaders tried to get their hands on them in order to unlock the door, or to destroy them in order to paralyse the defence. Before that the vital strategic points of a country were its river crossings and mountain passes. Today they are its autoroutes. Over the first big weekend of the summer holidays, the revolting lorry drivers of France have managed to bring delay and frustration and some hardship to the cities of France by barricading their motorways, or crawling barricading their motorways, or crawing along them as slowly as French snails, who are as reluctant to be passed by competing snails in a hurry as macho French drivers (ie most French male drivers) are to be passed by other motorists. Because France is the biggest country in Europe, as well as its central transport ganglion, this autoroute inaction affects others outside France. In modern Europe, no man is a traffic island. The immediate cause of the French motorway blockade seems arcane to outsiders. Until now, driving offences were punished by on-the spot fines, which were not recorded on licences, and which were often paid by the company employing the driver. The French record for traffic accidents is the worst in Europe. Last year was a good one, but just under 10,000 people were still killed on French roads. To try to reduce the carnage, and ban the dangerous drivers, from the beginning of the month France has introduced a new penalty points system for driving licences, similar to the British endorsements. Under the new regulations, driving offences will accumulate penalties, and lead to withdrawal of the driving licence. Not as fast as they would in the United Kingdom, however. In France, drivers have to accumulate six points before they lose their permis de conduire. They lose only three for causing an accident resulting in death or serious injury, hit and run, driving under the influence of drink, or refusal to give a breath test.

The lorry drivers of France are famous for the excellence of the food and wine in their Routier roadside restaurants, but not for their strict adherence to speed limits or for courtesy and consideration for other road users. Some of them may be skilful and stylish drivers, but in a competition for road space with them, the prudent man, and particularly the prudent woman, gives way as gracefully as possible.

French motorways turned into long-term car parks are bloody for holidaymakers and other travellers caught in the long jam. But this is a penalty of prosperity, when most Britons have cars and foreign holidays. For most of history, travellers to France have faced worse hazards than delay and frustration. There are in fact better ways of travelling than hurtling down an autoroute in convoy with other lemmings to an overcrowded lemming resort. If the routier inaction by the lorry drivers forces visitors on to the back-roads and byways, or the excellent railways, they will be seeing the true France which is worth the visit rather than the dreadful motorways. In any case, to travel hopefully is a better thing than to arrive at most modern Mediterranean resorts. And the true success is to labour. If the French idiosyncrasy is for panache and spectacular gesture, the English talent is for the Dunkirk spirit, and soldiering through obstructions, and boasting bravely about it. | ACPO in particular, and the police

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

I Pennington Street, London E1 9XN Telephone 071-782 5000

French road clash

From the Managing Director. Owner Operators UK Ltd.

Sir. The French lorry drivers have effectively brought their country to a standstill, causing untold misery and cost to tens of thousands of people and business. All this because of a tightening up of the driver licensing system with the aim of improving road safety.

The excuse given by one French lorry driver on the television news that "they spend more time on the road and so are more likely to make mistakes" is nonsensical and worrying. Heavy goods vehicle drivers are supposed to be more highly trained and more professional than most other road users.

These chauffeurs de camion will be coming in increasing numbers to the UK. If they are admitting that they are more likely to make mistakes I would prefer to see our professional British lorry driver any day.

A French 38-tonne articulated vehicle pays under £100 a year road tax and an equivalent British lorry pays £3,100, with some rates rising to £5,000. Our transport industry is becoming hopelessly uncompetitive.

You do not see our drivers and hauliers blockading the M25 in protest for a reduction in taxation, which in their case might well be tustified.

if our government does not do something to make the French government, and others, more accountable for the actions of their citizens and take some practical steps to help our international hauliers (perhaps road tax rebate for the time they spend out of the country), then you may find the next lorry you are stuck behind on the M25 is foreign and on strike.

Yours faithfully, ROBERT T. McHUGH, Managing Director, Owner Operators UK Ltd., Bittenam Springs, Ewen, Nr Cirencester, Gloucestershire.

From Mrs B. P. Spacey

Sir, Following President Mitterrand's cool heroism in visiting Sarajevo, can we expect a repetition of his bravery by utilising his helicopter to bring words of comfort to all those foreign travellers now trapped on French roads by the selfish action of his fellow countrymen?
The intolerable behaviour of the lorry drivers falls little short of hijacking in effect, and one feels the president and his government should now be paying attention to what is going on in their own

Yours faithfully, BETTY P. SPACEY, Avondale, Church End, Twyning, Gloucestershire.

Girl Scouts

From Lady Anne Thorne

Sir, Philip Howard ("Hats off to the gels", July 1) may discover more about the activities of the First Mayfair Troop of Girl Scouts in Donald Lindsay's recently published life of Angela, Countess of Limerick.

This troop of 24 (joining fee threepence) was raised by Angela, the future chairman of the Standing Commission of the International Red Cross, and her older sister and it pursued its tracking and cooking activities in Eaton Square and Hyde

The proudest moment of its twoyear existence was the award of the Scout silver life-saving badge to a member of the Peewit parrol for rescuing her brother from a river.

Yours faithfully, ANNE THORNE, 23 Rostrevor Road, SW6.

Wages councils plea

From the Director General of the British Institute of Management Sir, You report (July 1) the govern-ment's intention to abolish wages councils. This could be damaging to UK productivity. A low wage policy damages staff morale, productivity and performance. The way ahead is through higher productivity and higher skill levels, created and rewarded by higher pay.

The wages councils have been helpful in setting the floor for an adequate wage for the 2.5 million workers they cover.

Yours sincerely. ROGER YOUNG. Director General. British Institute of Management, 2 Savoy Court, Strand, WC2.

Crime statistics

From the Chief Constable of Gloucestershire

Sir, Your leader, "Fear of crime figures" (July 3), makes some valid points about the way crime statistics are currently collated and how fear of crime can change public patterns of behaviour. But you are wrong to say that "the Home Office and the police have terrorised the public every quarter by seeking to turn to their advantage police recorded crime figures" which are not a reliable indicator of the incidence of crime or a realistic measure of police perfor-

As chairman of the Association of Chief Police Officers' crime committee I have been calling for a more balanced debate on crime statistics.

Shadows from the Germany under Eurofighter spotlight embarrassing position of seeing the

From Mr Keith Mans, MP for Wyre (Conservative)

Sir. On Monday, July 6, Volker Rühe, the German defence minister. addresses the Conservative backbench desence committee on his government's desire to withdraw from the production phase of the European fighter aircraft (EFA)

He will certainly have to work hard to convince M.Ps of the financial prudence and strategic logic of his desire, which has already called into question Germany's reliability as a partner in European collaborative projects of this kind.

First he will need to show why EFA is no longer relevant bearing in mind that his own government, together with those of Italy, Spain and Great Britain, all reaffirmed the need for such an aircraft after, and not before, the collapse of the Soviet Union.

This was largely because all of them felt that EFA provided the most cost-effective deterrent to the potential threat posed to Nato from countries in the Middle East and the Mediterranean which have already or will have by the end of the century advanced tactical aircraft such as the Su27 and the MiG29, not to mention advanced versions of these same aircraft possessed by the CIS.

Herr Ruhe will certainly have to indulge in some inspired accounting to show that the lighter and inferior aircraft he wants the consortium to build instead of EFA will be cheaper. The German finance minister, who supports EFA, is clearly not impressed with his cabinet colleague's accounting skills.

So far the indications are that EFA will be no more expensive to produce if Germany withdraws. This is because fewer production lines will be required and a greater number of the sub-contracts can be awarded based upon cost rather than workshare.

This leaves Herr Rühe in the

Unwanted hearing aid From Mr Keith R. Studer technology.

set and the base station in such a way that the conversation cannot easily be intercepted. The instruction book ventional burglar.

Yours sincerely, KEITH R. STUDER, The Old Rectory, Buckland Green, Berchworth, Surrey. June 26.

From Mr P. J. K. Tither

Sir. Gadgets other than cordless telephones can also pose a danger.
"Baby alarms", for example, linked to a receiver elsewhere in the house, can be intercepted by someone close by. If parents lorget to switch them off when they are in the same room as the baby and then discuss a day out or a holiday, this intelligence could be most helpful for a burglar. Conversations from private communication devices can sometimes its May conference the recent report of the Archbishop's commission on church music, In Tune with Heaven.

Sir, The Cathedral Organists' Ass-

Overall, cathedrals emerge in a favourable light although there is criticism of feeble musical standards. complacency, and unadventurous repertoire in certain (unspecified) establishments. As far as parochia music is concerned the general picture can only be described as the Church of England, the Royal School of Church Music, the Royal College of Organists, universities and national music colleges or will it. subject, merely gather dust? Yours faithfully, JOHN SANDERS (President, Cathedral Organists) Association). 7 Miller's Green, Gloucester. June 29.

Every quarter the police have faced criticism about these figures, usually without any mention being made of police arresting more people than ever before, or of improving detertion rates. All this has been achieved against a backdrop of virtual static manpower resources in real terms.

We believe that the Home Office is taking our views on board and that the release of figures twice yearly, accompanied by analysis, is the first step to putting the debate on crime statistics into proportion.

draw from the production and not the development phase of the programme). The aircraft is not popular present in Germany largely because no attempt has been made to explain to the Germans why it is still required following the collapse of the Warsaw Pact.

German taxpayer continue to fund an aircraft he does not intend to buy the Germans are wanting to with-

Herr Rühe has already damaged Anglo-German relations by his desire to cancel EFA and, far from saving the German federal budget some money, his desire to build a new aircraft will probably cost it more in the long term.

Monday's meeting looks like being an interesting one.

Yours faithfully, KEITH MANS (Secretary, All-party Aviation Committee), House of Commons.

From Mr M. C. Tucker

Sir, The prime minister says that "there is a clear and continuing need for an aircraft with the capabilities of the EFA" (report, July 1), apparently because of concerns over the high performance of the MiG29 and the Su27 which the Russians are building and exporting.

As an alternative to continuing with the EFA project, I suggest that the British and other EFA govern-ments should consider buying MiG29 and Su27 from Russia and thus: acquire world-class airframes at reasonable prices; climinate the threat from other countries which might otherwise obtain them; and provide the Russians with much needed foreign currency.

Yours faithfully. M. C. TUCKER, 7 Cedar Terrace, Phoenix Green, Hartley Wintney, Hampshire.

receiver, but the deliberate interception of such traffic is a criminal

Personal computers and word processors, such as that on which this letter is being written, generate a signal which can be intercepted by someone in an adjacent building or a

The Old Bakery, Heol y Bont, Cydweli, Dyfed.

From Mr N. R. MacNicol

be intercepted accidentally, as when a cordless telephone "breaks through" into a domestic radio

Sir. Whilst I sympathise greatly with Sir Peter Tennant in his difficulties regarding the insecurity of cordless telephones (letter, June 24), I must point out to him that he has not apparently kept up with the latest

The latest machines scramble the messages between the remote hand to my current model indicates that it will work on the basis of any one of 65,000 different scrambling codes and this would seem to make monitoring or interference far too complex an undertaking for a con-

June 24.

Yours faithfully

P. J. K. TITHER.

Sir, Every house in my village has received a leaflet from a firm offering a bugging device for £14.95 (or two for £25.95). The vendors claim it will transmit over several hundred metres and can be received by an ordinary FM radio. The inbuilt microphone is claimed to be so sensitive that it will pick up the sound of a human breathing several metres away. It apparently matters not whether you use a cordless telephone or merely enjoy domestic bliss in the privacy of your bedroom, someone may be able to hear every word.

Yours faithfully. NIGEL R. MacNICOL 9 Church Lane, Greetham, Oakham, Rutland.

Deafening silence From Dr John Sanders

ociation welcomed and discussed at depressing.

Are we to know the reaction of bodies such as the General Synod of like two former reports on the same in general, do not wish to "terrorise" the public far from it. We are not colluding in any way with the Home Office and indeed we believe that the constant drip-feed of the reporting of quarterly crime statistics has done nothing other than constantly renew public anxiety.

New home for LSE From Mr Richard Fawls

Sr. The arguments in layour of moving the London School of Economics and the British Library of Economics and Political Science to County Hall have been pointed out (report, June 27; lener, July 2). It is hard to believe that in any other major country in the world the LSE would not have received the strongest government support in its attempts

I understand that the government has pledged £4 million of public money to a school for aspiring rock musicians proposed to be established in Liverpool.

Whatever the merits of that scheme may be, a government which can make such an offer and yet fail to give its backing to a unique opportunity to further the work of an institution of internatioanal renown which stands pre-eminent in its field risks making itself look, at best, very foolish_

Yours faithfully, RICHARD FAWLS, 1 New Square, Lincoln's Inn. WC2.

A further step would be to publish the British Crime Survey, in which a large sample of the public are interviewed about their experience of crime in the previous year, on an annual basis. The survey gives a much better indication of the extent of crime in the country, including incidents which are neither reported to the police nor recorded by them. Neither the police nor the Home Office could then be accused of concealing bad figures from the public or, as you inaccurately suggest, of turning statistics to our advantage.

Yours sincerely. A. H. PACEY. Chief Constable, Gloucestershire, Holland House, Lansdown Road. Cheltenham, Gloucestershire,

Clues with never a cross word

From Mr Bryan K. Sanderson

Sir, It is a truth universally acknowledged that the ultimate test of the properly educated man or woman is an ability to complete your crossword. Mindful of your newspaper's laudable espousal, inter alia, of the need for improved scientific and technical education and an objective view of European history to take us into the next century, I sought further enlightenment from it concerning the qualities required for

I have deduced that your expectations are that the modern man should have an adequate knowledge of Latin and a thorough grasp of Roman and Greek mythology. He should understand a little French, but otherwise is spared foreign languages as long as he takes the trouble to memorise the definite articles and the words for Mr and Mrs in Spanish, Italian and Ger-

He must, of course, have a thorough grounding in English history, but not of European, except where the English defeated the French in battle: none of the remainder of the world has any history.

His literary grounding in Shakespeare and the romantic poets must be profound, but he need not concern himself with anyone who lived later than about 1860 and need not trouble to read any Goethe or Voltaire; it is, however, wise to know their names because they contain useful vowels. All the natural sciences, technology, economics, indus-trial history and the social sciences are clearly irrelevancies not worthy of consideration, although once again it is advisable to memorise Brunel and Keynes, which fit conveniently from time to time.

Your contemporary polymath must be familiar with European composers, again up to around 1860, plus (on Saturday mornings) the Beatles. He is a sportsman, passionately interested in cricket and playing the occasional round of golf; the world's major sport, football, has so far escaped his attention.

Above all he must have an easy familiarity with English flora and ornithology; convolvulus and shovel-lers must trip off his tongue without a moment's thought if he is to join the really privileged group who can hope to complete the competition puzzles.

I have concluded that your compilers' target is the typical everyday patriotic Anglican clergyman with a classical education from a minor public school who keeps a nature diary in his spare time. Is it not time someone pointed out that this has for some time been a diminishing market segment and that even modern science is unlikely to provide the techniques necessary for the resurrection of Queen Victoria? Changes would inevitably and regrettably lead to the occasional overcooked breakfast egg, but all revolutions have their price.

Yours etc., BRYAN K. SANDERSON,

6 Linnell Close, Hampstead Garden Suburb, NW11.

Wheels and woe

From Mr Malcolm D. Dickin

Sir, I suggest that the answer to the problem of unauthorised vehicles parking on private land (letter, June 27) is for the landowner to display prominently a sign reading: "Car parking fee — £50 per day or part thereof. Pay on arrival", with instructions as to where to pay. Anyone parking on the land then enters into a contract on the stated terms and if he fails to pay on arrival has broken the contract terms. The landowner can therefore clamp the vehicle but remove the clamp as soon as the parking fee is paid. Yours faithfully, MALCOLM D. DICKIN (partner), Sleigh & Son (solicitors), I Market Street, Denton, Manchester 34.

'Preposterous sticks'

From Master R. L. Turner

Sir. A memory of the use of tally sticks (letter, June 27) still lingers on, after almost 800 years, when on the occasion of the Quit Rents Ceremony, the Corporation of London renders to the Queen's Remembrancer and Senior Master of the Queen's Bench Division (Master Topley), the last surviving officer of the old Court of Exchequer, two knives, one sharp and one blunt as rent for a piece of land known as the Moors in Shropshire. The knives are tested, the blunt one failing to cut a hazel rod and the sharp one cutting the rod whereupon the Queen's Remembrancer pronounces "Good Service".

This rent was first recorded as being rendered in 1211 to the Court of Exchequer and the knives were probably used by the clerks of that court for the making of the tallies, the sharp knife to cut the notches and to split the hazel and the blunt one to smooth the surface to enable the nature of the receipt to be written on the side of the tally.

Yours sincerely. R. L. TURNER. Oueen's Bench Division, Royal Courts of Justice, Strand, WC2.

Letters to the editor should carry a daytime telephone number. They may be sent to a fax number -071-782 5046.

COURT CIRCULAR

Forces Day

YORK HOUSE

Hampshire.
Colonel John Winter, Parachute Regiment, was in

YORK HOUSE
ST JAMES'S PALACE
July 4: The Duke of Kent, President of the All England Lawn Tennis and Croquet Club, accompanied by the Duchess of Kent, was present this afternoon at the Championship Meeting at Wimbledon and presented challenge trophies to the winners.
Mrs Colin Marsh and Commander Roger Walker were in enemidance.

July 5: The Duice of Kent, President of the All England Lawn Tennis and Croquez Cub, accompanied by the Duchess of Kent, was present this afternoon at the Championship Meeting at Wimbledon and presented chall-enge trophies to the winners. Mrs. Julian Tomkins and Captain the Hon Tom Coke were

THATCHED HOUSE LODGE

July 5: Princess Alexandra and Sir Angus Ogilvy this afternoon attended the Finals of the All England Lawn Tennis Club Championship Meeting at WINDSOR CASTLE July 5: By command of The Queen, the Lord Camoys, Lord in Waiting, called upon the Governor-General of Belize today at the Holiday Inn, Heathrow Airport, and welcomed Her Excellency on behalf of Her Majesty on her arrival in this country. on her arrival in this country.

BUCKINGHAM PALACE
July 4: The Duke of York, Patron of the United States Army Air Forces Reunion, this afternoon visited Duxford, Cambridgeshire to watch the Classic Fighter Display and was received by Her Majesty's Lord Lieunenant for Cambridgeshire (Mr James

His Royal Highness attended a Dinner this evening in the Officers Mess at Duxford. Captain Neil Blair, RN, was in

The Princess Royal, President, National Association of Young Farmers' Clubs, this evening attended a Summer Ball at Dunstall Court, Aftwood Lane, Feckenham, near Redditch, and was received by Her Majesty's Lord Lieutenant for Hereford and Worcester (Mr Thomas Dunne). KENSINGTON PALACE July 4: The Prince of Wales, Colonel-in-Chief, Parachute Regiment, attended the Airborne

Mr Dave Alien, comedian, 56; Mr Vladimir Ashkenazy, pianist

and conductor, 55: Surgeon Vice-Admiral Sir Dick Caldwell, 83:

Mr David Capel, cricketer, 29; Baroness Cox, 55; the Dalai

Baroness Cox, 55; the Dalal Lama, 57; Professor A.G. Dickens, historian. 82; Mr Peter Glossop, baritone, 64; Miss Geraldine James, actress, 42; Mr Jeff King, jockey, 51; Mr William McCall, trades uniunist, 63; Mr John Makepeaca, designer and furniture maker, 53; Professor Barry Nicholas, former principal, Brasenose College, Oxford, 73;

Vice-Admiral Sir Arthur Pedder.

88; Miss Mary Peters, athlete, 53; the Right Rev Simon Phipps, former Bishop of Lincoln, 71; the Hon Jonathon Porritt, former director, Friends of the Earth, 42;

Sir Charles Powell, an executive director. Matheson and Company. 51: Lord Ross of Newport. 56: Miss Jennifer Saunders, com-

At a ceremony held on Saturday at Cavalry Barracks, Hounslow, the Victoria Cross won by Ser-geant Harry Hampton, 1st Battalion The King's Liverpool Regiment, on Austra 21, 1900.

Regiment, on August 21, 1900, during the South African Boer War, was presented to Major-General Peter Davies, Colonel of

The King's Regiment, by members of Sergeant Hampton's

The Governors are pleased to announce the appointment of Mr Richard Smyth, presently Housemaster at Wellington College, Berkshire, to be Headmaster of King's School from January

1993 in succession to Mr Tony Beadles, who is moving to become ster of Epsom College.

King's School

Bruton

edienne, 34.

The King's

Regiment

Birthdays today

Today's royal engagements

The Duke of Edinburgh, patron and trustee, will attend a dinner at St James's Palace at 7.15 in support of The Duke of Edin-burgh's Award World Fellowship. The Princess of Wales, as Patron of Turning Point, will visit Edward House, Oldham, at 11.45; will open the Manchester Royal Infirmary phase 11 development at 1.00; and will name the new Trafford narrowboat for the young disabled in Greater Manchester at 2.40.

Manchester at 2-40.

The Princess Royal, as President of the Royal Yachting Association, will attend the 1992 Sonata International Championships at Windermere Cruising Association Clubhouse at 9.50; will open the new magistrates court in Kendal at 11.30; will open Westmortand general hospital, Kendal, at 12.05. As Patron of the British Nurrition Foundation, the British Nutrition Foundation, she will amend a silver jubilee recep-tion at the Royal College of Physicians at 6.25; and, as Presi-dent of the Animal Health Trust. will attend a dinner at the Kennel Club, 1 Clarges Street, at 7.45.

Princess Alexandra, as Chan-cellor of Lancaster University, will preside at a ceremony for the conferment of degrees at the university at 12.30.

Ironmongers' Company

The following have been elected officers of the Ironmongers' Company for the ensuing year: Master, Mr K.R. Harper, Senior Warden, Mr R.B. Brayne, Junior Warden, Mr J.M. Edwards, QC.

Service dinner

The King's Regiment (8th, 63rd and 96th) Officers' Dinner Club held their annual dinner at Cavalry Barracks, Hounslow, on Saturday. Major-General Peter Davies. Colonel of the Regiment.

Mr Dominic Thomas, son of Admiral Sir Richard Thomas (left), Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod and Serjeant-at-Arms, House of Lords, and Lady Thomas (second left), was married on Saturday to Miss Maria Mason, daughter of Mrs Eileen Woodgate (right), of Shenfield, Essex, at the Cathedral Church of St Mary and St Helen, Brentwood. The bride was given in marriage by her mother

Michael Lawson

Christians, reach out to Jews with love

E vangelising the Jews is definitely not on. That was the (unintended) message received, if not sent out, from the Archbishop of Canterbury when he refused the patronage of the Church's Ministry Among the Jews. The reaction was predictable. Jews were overjoyed, but there was dismay, even outright rage among Christians, especially Evangelicals. Evangelicals sympathetic to Dr

George Carey spoke of him being "poorly advised". Others were more forthright in vestries and chapters throughout the land the talk was of the archbishop who had "betrayed" the decade of evangelism. But while Evangelicals got hot under their collars, Jews were breathing a tentative sigh of relief. Perhaps this would mean an end to being "targeted" and the object of aggressive evangelistic campaigns which ignore the sensitivities of their culture and trauma of their history.

How poorly adults fare in the communication process. In the case of the archbishop and the Church's Ministry Among the Jews, there seems quite a gap in what Dr Carey may have meant to communicate and what both Jews and Christians subsequenty heard and reconstructed. Like a troubled marriage, if there is fault in this, it is probably on both sides; though from the archbishop's position the opportunity to explain his thinking and gain a sympathetic, uncritical hearing appears increas-ingly rare, especially from among the evangelical wing of the church, from which the archbishop himself comes. Much of the fues that has accrued since the archbishop refused his patronage to the group displays an apparent unwillingness to listen to how Dr Carey sees his unique (and unenviable position) as pastor to the nation. He takes seriously his responsibilities to preserve the religious free-doms of others, while aiming to be an effective national Christian communicator. But there are some Evangelicals, who should be more sympathetic to his integrity and the difficulties of his task, who now appear to want to back him into a corner. If the man is so committed to evangelism, why doesn't he come out and firmly nail his colours to the mast of the group?

Presumably if it were as easy as that. he would have done; but the complexities of the human communication process constrains the decade of evangelism to adopt a more subtle approach than just straight undiluted proclamation. It is one thing to affirm the uniqueness of the person and claims of Jesus Christ, as Dr Carey refreshingly does, and another to face the sensitivities involved with those of a faith whose history is littered with the most bitter persecutions (often at the hands of Christians) that any single people group has ever known.

et it be said that the Church's Ministry Among the Jews is an ed organisation which is anything but intolerant. Also for the record, the archbishop's concern to be seen as one who protects the religious freedom of people of other faiths does not mean that his commitment to evangelism has wavered. He genuinely wants to build trust and friendship between Christians and those of other beliefs, including those of the Jewish community. And this is where, in my view, many Evangelical Christians are becoming unstuck, for we fail to realise the deep suspicion and fear that Jews have of what Christians are up to when we announce a ten-year campaign of targeting (that word again) the Jews (and others) and "winning"

The state of the s

Jews for Jesus. So here are my cards on the table. I am a Jew. I am also a Christian. To complicate matters further, by profession I am a vicar, and by conviction I am an Evangelical.

For me as a "converted" Jew, the real issue is how Christians are to communicate effectively and sensi-tively with our Jewish neighbours that the New Testament is the fulfilment of all of which the prophets dreamed and that Messiah has come. The challenge is to do this in such a sympathetic way that Jewish hearers do not feel got at, and aggressively hunted down. Years of persecution. exile and ultimately the supreme horror of the holocaust have made Jews jumpy to the point at times approaching paranoia. With the terrifying escalation of neo-Nazism, Jews naturally look anxiously over their shoulders at anything remotely resembling the persecutions of former times. For Christians to fail to understand this is to fall at the first hurdle.

in consequence, conscious that I may be a lone voice on this, I have to point out to some of my Evangelical brethren that the language and mindset of "targeting" is anathema to my Jewish friends, and that it is indeed "friends" of the Jews we should become. Christians have to do more than plead good intentions. Attitudes and actions need to speak at least as loudly as our words.

I believe that all this has been at the heart of Dr Carey's wise concern on this issue. From my vantage point, the language of betrayal with which he has been daubed is as unfair as it is ignorant of the justified concerns of the Jewish community. Some Evangelicals have been slow to analyse but quick to criticise. It is the manner of evangelism, not permission for evangelism which animates the response of Dr Carey to the CMJ. There has been no betrayal, only a thoughtful and considered approach to the human and spiritual realities involved.

his is why those of us who care about God's ancient people perceive the issue of evangelising the Jews is far too important to be left to what the vast majority see as the irrelevancies of ecclesiasticalcontroversy. So let the archbishop build his bridges, and the CMJ go on building theirs. But may my Evangelical colleagues take note: Jesus made it clear that love was the great motivator, for God to send his Son, and ro the Son to send his followers first to the Jews, then to all the nations. As Dr. Carey is suggesting, if it is good news we want to bring them, the great need is for Jews to be loved and betriended by Christians. Such love is a divine ethic, far more effective than targeting, and far more likely to give the communication process a chance. The writer is Vicar of Christ Church,

ROS DRINKWATER ---Forthcoming marriages

Mr A.J.S. Agar and Miss B.J. Allen The engagement is announced between Anthony, son of Commander and Mrs Rodney Agar, of Sherborne St John, Hampshire, and Belinds, daughter of Mr and Mrs Patrick Allen, of Spencer Park, London.

Mr J.T. Ansell and Miss S.N. Sparting
The engagement is announced between Julian, son of Major General and Mrs Nick Ansell, of Bideford, Devon, and Sophie, of daughter of Mr and Mrs Jeremy Spurling, of Dockenfield, Surrey.

Mr P.E.P. Bergqvist and Miss S.D. Addis
The engagement is announced between Philip, son of Mr and Mrs P.D.E. Bergqvist, of Ford, Buckinghamshire and Ouinta de la Rosa, Portugal, and Sarah, elder daughter of Mr and Mrs W. Stewart Addis, of Warninglid,

Mr N.V. Beatabridge and Miss E.L. James The engagement is announced between Nicholas. son of hetween Nicholast. Soil of Mr M. V. Braimbridge, FRCS, of Hampstead, London, and Lady McMahon, of Burleigh, Gloucestershire, and Emma, elder daughter of Mr and Mrs C.P. James, of Cotleigh, Devon.

Mr R.M.T. Pagerd and Miss G.G. Phillips The engagement is announced from Dubai between Robert elder son of Major and Mrs Michael Fugard, of Salisbury, Wiltshire, and Gwenyth, youngest daughter of Mr and Mrs Arnold Phillips, of Mata Mata, New Zealand.

Mr D. Holley and Miss C.M. Mole The engagement is announced between David, elder son of Mr and Mrs Graham Holley, of Grimsby, South Humberside, and Clare Melina, younger daughter of Mr and Mrs Alan Mole, of Tewin, Hertfordshire.

Mr H.M. Laskington and Mrs J.E. Habbesh The engagement is amounced between Harry, son of Mr and Mrs B.A. Lushington, of Egerton, Kent, and Jane, elder daughter of Mr and Mrs H.E. Saher, of Driving London.

Duiwich, London Mr A. Minicuries and Miss S.E.L. Housemays de Bouley The engagement is somound

ween Andrzej Misiewicz, of Cape Town, elder son of the lane Mr Zbigniew Misiewicz and Mrs William Gulliver, and stepson of Mr William Gulliver, of Harare, Zimbahwe, and Lucinda, daughter of Sir Roger and Lady Housemayne du Bouley, of Anstey, Hertfordshire. Mr D.J. Van Liew:

and Miss L.I. Stewart

The cogangement is announced between Lucy Janesia, second dauginer of Mr and Mis Alastair Stewart of Little Buddow, Baser, and Dennis John, elder son of Colonel and Mrs Dennis Van Little Liew, of Der Moines, Iowa, USA. Mr N.J.C. William and Miss K.J. Meersy The engagement is announced between Nacholas James Clark, younger son of Mr and Mrs N.C. Williams, of Llangwm-Isaf, Guent, and Katharine, elder Murry, of Kennington, London.

Lord Moore of Lower Marsh ::

The life barony conferred on Mr John Edward Michael Moore has been gazetted by the name, style and title of Buron Moore of Lower Marsh, of Lower Marsh in the London Borough of Lambeth.

55 b V 9. ES C FB.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Fear the Lord and have noth-ing else to fear; he whost treat is in him will never be

BIRTHS AMJAD - On June 17th, at AMJAD - On June 17th, at The Portland Hospital, to Margaret usee Kingsnorth) and Tariq, a con istander Frederick brother for Omar.

LAMPHELL - On June 28th, to Carolline usee Harry Thomas and Mark, a con. William David Harry and a daughter, Katherine Loudse Hope, a trother and same for Charlotte.

DALRYMPLE on July 1st. 1992, to Judith (née Cullen) and Hugh a daughter, Ursula Claire, a sister for Harriet. Claire, a sheet for harriel.

Anne (née Simmons) and Philip. A daughter Sarah Eleanor Rachel, a sister for Mary and Lucy. GUNSTON - On July 3rd to Rosalind (note Ellott) and John, a son, Richard, S. HUGGINS - On July 3rd to Mia and Mark, a daughter. Lily Taylor.

LEVY - On June 27th, at the Humana Hospital Wellington, to Victoria (nee Joshua Abraham. MILLERSHIP - On June 15th. 10 Susan and Peter, 2 son, Rollo Francis Carew, 2 brother for ions and William.

RICHARDS - On June 30th to Indira wife Adams) and SCARLETT-SMITH on June been a the Perland Housing to Jenny (nèe Hill) an Roger, a son Charles Gebriel a brother for Madeleine and

DEATHS Dix - On July 1st 1992, at Salisbury Infirmary, Douglas

KEARTON - On July 2nd 1992. Christopher Frank aged 81 years al Florence Nightingale House. Stoke Manderville Hospital. Funeral service to be held al St John's The Evangelist Church. Whitchurch. nr Aylesbury. Bucks on Friday July 10th at 2pm. No Rowers please. but dozations, if please, but donations, if desired, to Cancer Care & Chemotherapy Unit. Stoke Manderville Hospital. Stoke Manderville Road. IN THE MATTER OF RODACO LIMITED

MARIZER - On July 1st. Richard (Dick) of Pavilien Roed, London SW1, aged 74 years. Fumeral at Putney Vale. Crematorium on Vale Crematorium on Thursday July 9th at 4.15pm. Enquiries to J.H. Kenyon on (071) 834-4624. EVANS LOWER - ON Friday July 3rd, suddenly but peace-fully at home. Patricia widow of Major John Mi-chael Evans Lombe and Mother of Tricia and Peter.

DEATHS

RORRIS - On July 1st. peacefully at Philmend. Abbeyfield House. Binley. Peggy J.M.K.). formerly Head of Music al Stoke Park Ciris' Crammar School, much loved aunt of Allson and life long friend of Myra. Funeral Service at Carley Crematorium on Thursday July 9th at 10.40 am. Family flowers only pieces, but donations if desired to Coventry Cathedral, 7 Priory Row. Coventry CV1 553.

THOMAS on July 3rd in Andover. George Arthur. Major-Ceneral R.A. (re'd) in his 87th year. Darling husband of Dians, beloved father of Wendy and Rob. Thanksgiving service at 3.30pm at All Satura. Upper Clatford on Friday the 17th July. Donations. If desired to Countess of Brecimock House Hospice, c/o Halcrow and Sons. de Sridge St. Andover SP10 18E.

IN MEMORIAM -

LEGAL NOTICES

HOTICE & HOPELY CIVEN

required, on or before the country of August 1992, to send to their full Christian and gurrannes, their addresses and cescriptions. All particulars of their debut or desired and continues of their Solicitors to any of their Solicitors to the anid Cottopany, and, if so required by notice in writing from the anid Cottopany, and, if so required by notice in writing from the said Liquidator, are, parsonally or by new of the said Liquidator, are, parsonally or by new to the said Liquidator, are, parsonally or by self-solicitors, to come in and liquidators, are come in and such Enge and place as shall be such the said to the said the said the said to the said the sai

In the Matter of LVM.
Engineering (LIK) Unaited and in the Matter of The Insolvency Act 1986 NOTICE IS NEEDED COVEN.
THE Insolvency Act 1986 NOTICE IS NEEDED COVEN.
THE Charles of the above names company, which is being volumently which is being volumently which is being volumently which is their section of the above the 11 in August 1982, to send their full christian and surrance, their addresses are distribution reads before Dated 30th June 1992 Jamie Taylor, Liquidate

LEGAL NOTICES

Need Refurn Limited
T/A Maintile
NGTICE IS HERRIEFY CIVEN
SURVANANT TO SECTION 96 of the Inservency Act 1986 Docs a limit top of the Creditors of the above named Company will be held at Lake Holidary Hobil 23A London
Rood, St Albars, Herra, on the 98 day of July 1992 at 10,00 for the surrooms mentioned in Sections

JAMES 18 PARTY AND THE WEST AND

Bons 99, 100 and 101 of the same Act.

Act.

Permanent to Section 98. Subsection (29ta) of the Act. Mr Peter Lornas and Stephen James Wath wright of Poppleton and Associated 100 are appointed to act as the Qualified insulvancy Practitioners who well furnish craditioners who well furnish craditionally act in formation, as they may reasonable require to DATED this 18 day of 174E SOARD N R Modden, DIRECTOR

LEGAL NOTICES

4 Charterhouse Square, London ECIM 6EN, was appointed Lleas dator of the yald Obringary for the precipiery and creditors on 30th June 1992 Dated the 2nd day of July 1992 E.W. Streenwick, Lipsidation,

ODMENN'T TO THE PROPERTY OF T

PERSONAL APPEARS IN LIFE & TIMES SECTION - PAGE 9

WORD WATCHING

Asswers from seen 16 VESICA

(c) A pointed oval figure, the sides of which are properly parts of two equal circles passing through each other at their centres. It is frequently employed as an architectural feature, and was used by early artists as an aureole enclosing figures of Christ, the Virgin, etc. From the Latin resion pixels a fish's bladder. HEXASTYLE

(c) Having six columns, applied to a portice or the facade of a temple, from the Greek kex six + sinker a pillar: "Behind the Doric hexestyle was a magnificent hall 60 feet broad." BATTER (c) Of walls etc., to incline from the perpendicular, so as to have a receding slope, perhaps connected wid the French abattre to throw down: "Wharf walls, an walls built to support embankments and fortifications, generally batter." inected with

TRUMEAU (b) A stone pillar supporting the middle of the tympanum of a doorway, esp. in a church, from the French word for the calf of the leg. Anniversaries

BIRTHS: John Paul Jones, naval advenuurer, Kirkbean, Durnfries, 1747: John Flaxman, sculptor, York, 1755: Sir Stamford Railles, founder of Singapore, at sea off Jamaica, 1781; Sir William Jackson Hooker, first director of the Royal Botanic Gardens 1841-65, Norwich, 1785.

DEATHS: Henry II, reigned 1153-89, Chinon, France, 1189; John Huss, religious reformer, burnt at the stake. Constance, Germany, 1415; Saint Thomas More, executed, London, 1535; Edward VI, reigned 1547-53, Greenwich, 1533; Guy de Mau-passant, writer, Paris, 1893; Odilon Redon, painer, Paris, 1916; Kenneth Grahame, writer, author of The Wind in the Willows, Panghorne, Berkshire, Chesham, Buckinghamshire, 1960; William Faulkner, novelist. Nobel laureau 1949. Oxford. Mississippi, 1962: Louis Armstrong, jazz trumpeter, New York, 1971; Ono Klemperer, conductor, Zurich, 1973. The defeat of the Duke of Mon-mouth at the battle of Sedgemoor. 1685. Malawi, formerly Nyasa-land, became a republic, 1966. One hundred and sixty-six lives were lost when the oil rig Piper Alpha exploded in the North Sea, 1968.

Latest wills

Mr Stanley Howard Burton, of Harrogate, North Yorkshire, left estate valued at £4,040,016 net. Mrs Freda Clara Lacy, of Farnham, Surrey, left estate val-ued at £1,252,510 ner. She left a personal legacy of £5,000, and more than a third of the residue to the Phyllis Tuckwell Memorial Hospice, Farnham.

Mr Alfred Percy Hoopel Haw-kins. of Eastbourne, East Sussex. left estate valued at £2,038,814 Other estates include (net. before tax paid):

Mrs Mary Sarah Cohen, of London SW1 _______0888,488.£888,488. Mrs Lilian Sybil Cookson, of Sompting, West Sussex E604, 133. Irene May Date, of Thurlestone, ...£613.056. Mr Donald Stuart Easter, of Harch End, Middleser, 1862, 115. Marriages

Mr H.J. Codrington and Miss A.H.B. McCullough The marriage took place on Saturday in Eron College Chapel of Mr Hugo Codrington, youngest son of Sir Simon Codrington, of Chipping Sodbury, Aven, and Mrs Amony Johnson, of Badminton, Aven, to Miss Antonia McCullough, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs Andrew McCullough, of Windsor, Berkshire. The Rev C.M. Jones and the Rev N.G.P. Gumbel The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was amended by Alicia, Carina and Sophia Grimaldi, Zoe Wilson, Miss Bernadette McCullough and Miss Cecilia McCullough Mr Christopher McAlpine was best man.

Mr A.C.J. Creamed

and Miss M.C. Green
The marriage took place on Saturday at the Church of St Mary the Virgin, Ely. Cambridgeshire, of Mr Alexander Creswell, on of the late. Sir Michael Creswell and of Lady Creswell, of Ewhurst, Surrey, to Miss Mary Green, daughter of Ely. Mr and Mrs John Green, of Sly. The Right Rev Peter Walker

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was amended by Charlotte Dixon. Anna Dixon, Joshua Dixon and Miss Louise Guiton. Mr George Bingham was best man. Mr D.R.S. Thomas and Miss M.D. Mason

The marriage took place on Saturday at the Cathedral Church Saturday at the Cathedral Church of $2 Mary and $1 Helen, Brentwood, Essex, of Mr Dominic Thomas, second son of Admiral Sir Richard and Lady Thomas, of Emsworth, Hampshire, to Miss Maria Mason, daughter of Mrs Elleen Woodgate, of Shenfield, Essex, Deacon Paul Courad officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her mother, was attended by Rebecta Harris, Miss Daniella Roselló and Miss Natalia Roselló. Mr Paul Holt Natalia Roselló. Mr Paul Hoit was best man. A reception was held at New House Farm, Stanford Rivers, and the honeymoon will be spen and Miss S.A.E.G. Amarroo The marriage took place on Saturday at St Margaret's Church, Westminster Abbey, of union, wesiminster Abbey, of Mr Jolyon Neubert, only son of Sir Michael Neubert, MP, and Lady Neubert, in Miss Suzy Amaznoo, younger danginer of Mr and Mrs Joseph Amaznoo, of London, and Arrya, Chana London, and Accra. Ghana. Canon Donald Gray officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was sitended by Rachel Jordan, Lucy May, Georgina Phinmer and Miss Samia Amanoo. Mr.

Latrent Modiano was best men.

A reception was held at the House of Commons and the honeymoon will be seent in honeymoon will be spent in Positione and Turkey.

Mr W. Court and Ms A. Boys

The marriage took place on July 4, 1992, in Bramley, Hampshire, between Will, son of Mr and Mrs E. Court, of Ashford Hill, Hampshire, and Angels, daughter of Mr Dennis Boyd, CBE, and Mrs P.M. Boyd, of Little London, Hampshire.

The bride was attended in The bride was attended by Emma and Jamie Pegier, Heloise Gagie and Eliot Boyd. Mr Sandy Tucker was best man.

Mr J.E.F. Down and Miss A.E.M. Bean The marriage took place on Sahirday, June 20, 1992, at St Mary's Chirch, Olveston, Bristol, of Mr Julien Edward Francis of Mr Junea Enward Trancis Down, only son of Mrs Mary C.
Down, of Westbury-on-Trym,
Bristol, to Miss Anne Elizabeth
Mary Bean, daughter of Mr sund
Mrs Marcus I. Bean, of Hill
House, Olveston, Bristol. The Rev
Canon B.G. Carne officiated.
The bride after one of court in

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by Miss Catherine Brown, Miss Carol Jones and Miss Rachael Whitton, Mr David R.G. Carne was best man.
A reception was held at the home of the bride and the honeymoon is being spent abroad.

Major J.R. Everard. and Miss C.M.A. Simpson The marriage took place on Samrday, at Ridlington Parish Church, of Major James Everand.

200

17/21st Lancers, youngest son of Mr and Mrs Simon Everard, of Cold Newton, Leicestershire, and Caroline, daughter of Mr and Mrs Gavin Simpson, of Ridlington, Rutland, Canon Michael Wilson officiated, assisted by the Rev Hugh Broad.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by Morag Monky, from a sed Force Force of Proces. Emma and Rosie Everard, Poppy Everett Araminta Wieloch and Fergut Critchley Mr Mark Horlock was best man.

A reception was held at the home of the bride and the boneymoon will be spent abroad. Mr J.A. Kennier Pein and Miss C.A. Bassett The marriage took place on Saturday at St Andrew's Church, Penrice, between Mr Jeterny Kemsley-Pein, elder son of Dr and Mrs. Nathan Kemsley-Pein, and Mrs. Naman Acquisity real, of Pletermaritzburg, South Africa, and Miss Caroline Bassett, elder daughter of Mrs Christopher Methuen-Campbell, of Penrice Castle, Gower, and the late Mr David Bassen. The Rev Pener Williams officiated.

Whitens canceled.

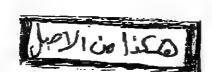

The bride, who was given in marriage by her supporter, was attended by Poppy Methnen-Campbell. Mr Alasdair Kemsley-

A reception was held at the home of the bride and the honeymoon will be spent abroad. Mr R.A. Rydon and Miss L.A. Hume and Miss LA. Home.

The marriage took place on Saurday, July 4, at the Church of St Peter and St. Paul, Kimpton, Hertfordshire, of Mr Robert Rydon, son of Mr and Mrs Jonathan Rydon, of Greatham, West Sussex, to Miss Louisa Hume, daughter of Mr and Mrs John Hume, of Ayot St Lawrence, Hertfordshire... Canon Denys Graebe officianed. Graebe officiated.

The bride, who was given in francisco. In the bride, who was given in francisco. In the father, was amended by Alexandra Nicholas, Reberca Lowe, Gemma and Alice Wingheld-Digby and Jeremy Coy, Mr. Roger, Mather was best man.

A reception was held at the home of the bride and the honeymoon is being spent ahroad.

'n۳

13

ail

177

DBITUARIES

B. B. Lifette

Georgia Brown, singer and actress, died of septicemia following an exploratory operation in London yesterday aged 58. She was born Lillie Klot in Whitechapel, London, on October 21, 1933.

FROM her first moments in cabaret at the Stork Club in Mayfair in the early 1950s. everyone who saw Georgia. Brown enthused over her professionalism and her poten-tial. She went on to fulfil that early expectation, creating the role of Nancy in Lionel Bart's musical, Oliver. With her long dark hair, her strong handsome dark eyed looks, her croaky, throaty voice and her passionate pro-jection, the Jewish girl from the East End was a personality to be reckoned with. Yes in the long-term, in spite of her talents, her career never quite matched up to its promise.

1 ports

and the State of the last of t

1 1 2 2 2

e Taritta (a)

ig victim

 $(x,y) = (\frac{1}{2},\frac{1$

್: ಕನ್ನಡ

2742 12

The second

は、1、11日では1900年

10 mm

The state of 11/2 75 11/2

್ ನ್ ಮತ್ತೆ

1 15 16 15

 1000

Georgia Brown's grandfa-ther, named Kleotz, had arrived in England after the Russian pogroms at the beginning of the century. He was a furrier and so was her father. The Klot family lived a conventional, lower-middle-class life in Bethnat Green and Lillie enjoyed a lot of Jewish dancing and singing. Her first public performances were at an East End youth dub and by the time she was 17 she was appearing at the Stork Chib at night and learning to design dresses in Petticoat Lane during the day. She began as a jazz singer, She began as a jazz singer, influenced by Ella Fitzgerald and Billie Holiday, and after a friend sent a recording of her voice to the BBC she made her television debut singing "St Louis Blues". By this time she had changed her name to Georgia Brown -"Georgia" being one of the songs she sang in her act. After polishing her craft tour-

GEORGIA BROWN

عكذا من الاعلى

Warramaker cast her as Lucy in a production of Brecht's The Threepenny Opera at the Royal Court, which "transferred, to the Aldwith a month later. She followed this with a part in Dick Bentley's off-beat, show, I Flew for Bismark.

In the east 1950s she appeared in mongrals at Alexandra Palace and Shepherd's Bush and market productions following that she was a "regular" in the sace productions like Variety Parade and the Jack Indepens Cham. Jackson Show: Lucille Lorter a theatrical impresario from America, had seen Georgia Brown's performance in the Brecht piece and the following year engaged the actress to repeat her "Lucy" in the off Broad-way production of The Threepenny Opera then running at Latier's own Theatre-de-

She stayed in America to try her luck on the West Coast but experienced failure both in her singing and her love life. She flew back to New York, broke, and lived for a: while on a mattress in the boiler room of a friend's Unexpectedly she was flown back to London by the BBC to appear in a This is Your Life programme featuring the warden of the youth club at which she had first sung. She jalso enabarked on three years of psycho-analysis and stepped into The Lifty

White Page pleasing the role and stepped into Int Lity White Boys, playing the role of Jeannie at the Royal Court in January 1960 before creating the hapless Nancy, the Dickensian prostuite with the heart of gold and the voice of leather, in Oliver, Bart's adaptation of the Dickens adaptation of the Dickens story which opened at the New Theatre in the West End in the same year. "She looks clean and sings dirty," said the producer.

Georgia Brown appeared in both the London and New ing US military bases and York productions of Olivering historians in Europe. Sam Her success prompted Lionel

Bart to create another musical written around a legendary Merseyside street girl; Maggie May, with Georgia Brown in mind for the lead-ing role. The singer declined to return from America to open in the show, however, and only took over the role in 1965 after Rachel Roberts had performed it for the first six months of the run.

Her prospects seemed un-limited at this point in her career. Lionel Bart thought she could become an English Anna Magnani; Wolf Mankowitz believed that in her late thirties and forties she could be as great as Katina Pasinou or Simone Signoret. Others predicted her becoming, in maturity, a Sophie Tucker style "red hot momme.".

But things never quite developed as they might have done. She failed to win the role of Nancy in the film version of Oliver!, a set-back which shattered her self-confidence. She made her television debut as a dramatic actress in a Sherlock Holmes thriller, The Musgrave Ritual, appearing also in a tele-vision adaption of Jean-Paul Saure's Roads to Freedom and she returned to the Royal Court in 1971 acting and singing in her fourth Brecht play, Man in Man as Widow Begbick. This production did not transfer to the West End. However, Georgia Brown gave full rein to her many other versatile talents ranging from appearances in such plays as Mother Courage on television with Flora Robson, to appearances on the Ed Sullivan television show in America.

In the early 1970s in addition to her showbusiness performances, Georgia Brown played a prominent part in the women's liberation movement, in one instance joining demonstrators who caused a colourful diversion at the House of Commons. Although she had always said she would never marry. in 1974 she married her long-time companion Gareth Wiggin, a British theatrical agent, and two years later the couple moved, with their seven-year-son to America. The change in circumstances terms of her marriage which ended in divorce and her career which failed to take off. Making the best of things she used her own emotional experiences as the basis of a onewoman show, Georgia Brown and Friends and later rethe show 42nd Street. At the time of her death, she had again flown to London from her Hollywood home to appear in a tribute to Sammy Davis Jr at the Drury Lane Theatre.

She is survived by her son Jonathan.

proved disastrous both in turned to London to star in

LORD KEARTON

Lord Kearton, OBE FRS, chairman of Courtauids (1964-75), at Hanley High School and St chairman and chief executive of John's College, Oxford, where he the British National Oil Corpera-

The same of the sa

OF THE score or so businessmen who played an influential role in reshaping British economic, and indeed social life, during the 1960s' and 1970s, Lord Kearton was among the most distinguished and individualistic. He was one of the very few men to have taken hold of a substantial and largely decaying chunk of British industry and teansformed it into an international leader in its field.

First coming into the public eye at the time of the unsuccessful Imperial Chemicals Industries bid for Courtaulds in 1961, he was the natural choice to become chairman after the dust of the take-over battle had settled. He had seen the merit of an ICI-Courtsulds alliance but had objected strongly to the way the negotiations were handled and the terms that were being offered. His. role in fighting off the bid was decisive, enabling him to emerge as the dominant personality in Courtaulds.

He was equally dynamic leading the British National Oil Corporation, the body set up in 1975 to handle the country's stake in North Sea oil. He built up the corporation rapidly so that in less than three years it was involved in every type of North Sea oil industry activity, controlling the sale of 175,000 barrels a day, spending £50 million a year on exploration and infuriating the private sector oilmen who accused it of delaying exploration by holding up the licensing process by protracted negotiations over the terms.

Kearton's forcefully applied industrial strategy won him both supporters and opponents; no one in the business world could be indifferent to what he did and the manner in which he did it.

(Christopher) Frank Kearton, the son of Christopher John Kearton gained a first class honours degree tion (1976-79), died on July 2 in national science (chemistry). In aged 81. He was born on Petrue 1933, he joined the Billingham divi-ary 17, 1911 sion of Imperial Chemical Indus-tries. For five years from 1940 he worked in Britain and the United States on the Atomic Energy Project. In 1946, he joined the fibres and textiles company Courtauids, where he was in charge of chemical engineering research at Coventry. In 1952, he was appointed a director of the company, becoming a deputy chairman in 1961 and chairman in 1964. During 1966-1968 Kearton was also a very active chairman of the newly created Industrial Reorganisation Corporation. His role on this government-sponsored body and later as chairman of the British National Oil Corporation, as well as his position at the head of Courtaulds (during a period of great transformation both in British industry generally and in the textile field) enabled him to influence, powerfully, the direction of British industry. Fuelled by his own strong and sometimes impulsive temperament. his industrial forays kept him constantly before the eyes of the public, as well as the more intensive gaze of most of the boardrooms in the Kearton was a shrewd and doughty fighter of business battles and preferably in the open rather than behind closed doors. Probably his toughest business battle was fought in 1962, when he was still deputy chairman of Courtaulds, during the weeks that the Courtaulds directors fought, successfully, to defeat a take-over bid from ICI. Behind the attempt by ICI to merge two such substantial enterprises was a contrast between the industrial philosophies of the two boards: ICI - with the advantage of a far more impressive profits record - set on achieving increasing vertical integration in the man-made fibres industry: Courtaulds determined to maintain its independence. Of all those on the Courtaulds board who conducted the defence of the company, it was Kearton who attracted most public attention with his strongly worded, confident, and often scathing arguments, chiefly against the way in which the negotiations were managed and against the terms pro-

Courtaulds' defeat of the ICI bid established Kearton's reputation and helped to secure him the chairmanship of the company (which he led with exceptional vigour and success); but it left a few scars in relationships which endured for years afterwards and of which he was highly conscious.

Under Kearton, the £360 million Courtaulds group pushed up its sales and profits substantially during the 1960s and, following a vigorous takeover policy, established itself as the dominant company in British textiles, aiming to become a fully "vertical" concern, strong in all sections of the business from production of fibres to retailing, and expanding ambitiously overseas. It was this programme of growth and diversification which again led to another of the major takeover incidents in Kearton's career, in 1969, when Courtaulds made an offer for the shares of English Calico, the sewing thread and textile printing group, which, although only recentformed, had extensive retail outlets.

This move, seen as the brain-child of Kearton, was both industrially and politically controversial, since it meant a startling change in the pattern of Britain's textile industry and since the monopolies commis sion had only a year previously ruled that Courtaulds should not make further acquisitions in textiles, clothing or distribution without government permission.

In making the bid, Kearton was undoubtedly encouraged by the government's own support for the creation of larger industrial groups in the United Kingdom to compete more effectively internationally. As chairman of the Industrial Reorganisation Corporation (which started under a cloud of business suspicion but which gradually inspired industrial confidence during 1968-69) it had also been Kearton's role, with government finance, to foster company mergers in key sectors of British industry.

Kearton's public career was punctuated by lively disputes, including the notable occasion when he accused various institutions of the City of London of prejudice and inefficiency, after the City's take-over panel had criticised the conduct of his own company. In business controversy he was both sensitive and vehement, but sometimes rather abashed after he had spoken his mind. Those who had known him in his early years would recall that. like Arnold Bennen, he had after all come to London from the Potteries. with no instinctive respect for the "Establishment" in his soul. He was something of a "card" with a rueful sense of humour. Among his friends and his colleagues, he won respect as well as affection. And he was tireless in working both for the improvement and rationalisation of his own company organisation and the British textile industry, and in public service. It was characteristic of him - of his sense of duty, contrariness and energy combined - that when a few weeks off the age of 65, after retiring from Courtaulds, he should take on the chairmanship of the newly established British National Oil Corporation and continue to relish active public engagements, including broadcasting.

To start with, he was chief executive as well as chairman of the BNOC, since the government found the latter post difficult to fill, partly because of the hostility felt towards its oil policy by the petroleum industry. Kearton was not deterred by this or by criticisms that he was now exemplifying a British tendency to run important industries with old men at the top.

Kearton's energy was, in any case prodigious. His working routine was to rise at 4.30am to keep abreast of his "part-time" activities: Hill Samuel, the merchant bank, the Atomic Energy Authority, the Central Electricity Generating Board and the RSPCA. His vitality was infectious as was his sense of

As well as his two periods of major industrial service for the government, Kearton accepted responsibilities as a part-time member of the Atomic Energy Authority, and with the British Transport Commission, the Electricity Supply Research Council, the Confederation of British Industry, and the National Economic Development Council. He was knighted in 1966 for his services to exports and made a life peer in 1970, sitting in the Lords as an independent. In 1980 he became Chancellor of Bath University.

Kearton married Agnes Kathleen Brander in 1936, and there are two sons and two daughters of the marriage.

LORD ROBOROUGH

Lord Roborough, a former Lord-Lieutenant of Devon for 20 years, died on June 30 aged 88. He was born on October 4, 1903.

WHILE serving as a cavalry officer in the war, Lord Roborough once bitterly complained that somebody else was shooting at his target. His standards were those of an English country gentleman. After serving for 13 years in the Royal Scots Greys (the last 12 months as ADC to the Earl of Clarendon, Governor of South Africa) he resigned his commission in 1938 on succeeding his father to the newly created barony. After seven months managing the family estates, however, he was recalled to the colours the following year and dispatched with his old regiment to Palestine.

He went on to command C Squadron at El Alamein, where he was wounded in the leg - and later suffered severe facial burns when his tank "brewed up" near Tripo-li. He was back in action for the Italian campaign, however, leading his squadron during the landings at Salemo, and spent all six years of the war on active service.

But Roborough, although brave and conscientious, hated warfare. By nature a kind, shy, thoughtful man, he was sensitive to all its cruelty and injustices. His subordinates said they could tell when he was worried because of his habit of pulling at his moustache. If it looked particularly pointed at both ends, things were going badly.

Nor did he ever come to terms with mechanisation, regarding armoured vehicles with distaste. He had joined the cavalry in the days of horses - and riding was to remain the great passion of his life.

He had once come second in the Fox Hunters' Steeplechase at Aintree, one of the sporting calendar's most prestigious tests for amateur jockeys. As a polo player he verged on international class and played in the victorious Scots Greys team which had lifted the Army Cup at Hurlingham in the last tournament before the second world war broke out.

It was therefore with relief that in 1945 he once more returned to the family estate. Thereafter he was to dedicate his life to public service in his

Not that his family's English pedigree was a long one. Lord Roborough had been born Massey Henry Edgcombe Lopes, the heir to Sir Henry Lopes, MP for Grantham, whose ancestor Menassie Lopes had emigrated to this country in the late eighteenth century from Jamaica. Whether his forebears were Portuguese or Spanish remains in doubt.

Menassie became an MP and a baronet, rounding off an eventful life by being jailed for election bribery. A later Lopes was First Lord of the Admiralty under Disraeli, while young Massey's father had been one of the moving spirits and principal benefactors behind Exeter University. On his death in 1938 The Times obituary described the First Lord Roborough as a "leader of Devon men".

Massey went to Eton, then Christ Church, Oxford, where he read history, before being commissioned in the Scots Greys in 1925. It was for his public work in Devon. however, that he will be chiefly remembered. He became a deputy lieutenant of the county in 1946, vice lieutenant in 1951 and lord-lieutenant 1958-78. One job as vice lieutenant was to help to manage the disaster relief fund that was set up after flash floods all but destroyed the Devon village of Lyn-mouth in August 1952. He was a county alderman from 1956-74 and between 1965 and 1974 was also chairman of Dartmoor National Park - which includes part of the family estate.

He was High Steward of Barnstaple, served for ten years on the council of the Duchy of Cornwall and was involved in a wide variety of other institutions, including the Outward Bound, the YMCA, the Council of St John, the Council for the Preservation of Rural Eng-land, the Football Association, the Boy Scouts, the Army Cadet Force, the Association of Youth Clubs, Exeter University and other local colleges and education committees.

He remained a hardworking, modest man who disliked pomp and the trappings of his position. A skilled fisherman and good shot, he was happiest on the banks of a river or, as a young man. riding at point-to-points.

His official title was Lord Roborough of Maristow. But Maristow, his family's old home beside the Tamar (George IV was once rowed there up river from Plymouth) was burnt down some time ago and only the chapel

Lord Roborough is survived by his wife, Helen, and their two sons, the elder of whom, the Hon Henry Lopes, succeeds him as third baron.

JULY 6 ON THIS DAY

EQUIPAL

Over 100 years ago the protection of the Alpine flora and the flora on this side of the Channel was discussed in a Times leader. The rapacity of "plant hunters" was ndemned, but the writer felt that on what would now be called the plus side was the appearance of an abundance of wild flowers brought to view by the digging of railway

THREAT TO SWISS FLORA

We publish today a letter from ment sent us by the Council of the Midland Union of Natural History Societies on a subject which is of interest not only to botanists, but also to lovers of the picturesque. Mr. Justice Wills raises his voice for the protection of the flora of the Alps, while the Midland Council is chiefly concerned for the preservation of that of Great

Both alike complain of the impending disappearance of some of the chief ornaments of fields and waste places, and both alike uree that some check should be placed upon the rapacity of collectors. Mr. Jus-tice Wills, after asserting that not the least charm of Switzerland is the rich flora which adorns the valleys, the margins of the glaciers, and the Alpine slopes, adds that "the impoverishment or destruction of this flora must largely diminish this charm, and must be regarded with serious apprehension on this, if on no higher ground. It is a lamentable truth that, so far as some of the loveliest Swiss plants are concerned, their destruction is already an accomplished fact, while the entire flora of the country has undoubtedly undergone a pal-pable and grievous impoverishment during the last few

The Midland Council assert it to be a fact, only too evident

to the most superficial observer, "that many of our rarest and most beautiful native plants have already been, or are being, rapidly exter-minated"; and that they as-sume that this extermination will be viewed with regret, even with indignation, alike by the student and by the ordinary lover of natural beauty.

1885

In both letters a large part of the effect is ascribed to the ravages of the "professional plant-hunters," who collect for sale, and even offer to the public by advertisement, plants which are attractive by reason of their beauty or of their comparative or absolute rarity: while the plant-hunters of the Alps are said by Mr. Justice Wills "wilfully to destroy large numbers of plants in order to increase the rarity and so enhance the market value of

It is urged that the proceedings of these plant-hunters should be systematically dis-couraged, both by professional botanists and by ordinary tour-ists, that scientific collectors should strictly limit their depredations, and that teachers of botany should incultate on their pupils by precept and example, the lamentable con-sequences of the wholesale or indiscriminate gathering of plants, especially with their roots or when in seed.

Mr. Justice Wills describes the proceedings of a society lately formed at Geneva for the protection of the Swiss flora. which seeks to compass its end. not only by the education of public opinion, but also, and in a still more practical way, by the establishment of a Jardin Alpin d'Acclimatation", in which innumerable Swiss plants will be raised from seed and be offered for sale "well established in pots." He urges all tourists to supply themselves from this garden, and also asks for pecuniary aid towards its development and completion.

Is it too much to suggest that the Royal Botanic Society might do good work in the matter, might follow, to some extent, the example of the Geneva society?

Nature notes

MANY adult sheld-ducks are leaving Britain for the sca off Heligoland, where they will mount. They leave their half-grown fledglings behind them on the British coast, and these are gathering into flocks which will be tended by a few adults that are left

On lakes and ponds, young coots are struggling through the crust of green algae that has been forming in many places. The newly harched coots are tiny and colourful, with red faces and yellow backs; as they grow, they will mrn darker with silvery throats, and it will be nearly winter before they fully resemble

In reed beds, sedge and reed warblers are still energetically foraging for their young: they emerge to look around them for a moment, then disappear into cover again. The sedge warblers can be distinguished by their creamy eye stripe.

Most trees have numed a darker

St. -

W.

SHELD-DUCK

shade of green; lime-trees, which this time last year were still in flower, are aiready showing seeds. The combination of sun and rain has made almost all flowers earlier this year. The suff white flowers of yarrow are coming out on roadsides everywhere. On heaths, the lilac harebell nods in the wind; in chalky country, the dull purple bells of deadly nightshade hang among heavy green leaves.

Clergy appointments The Rev Tony Keddie, Rector. Kippax w Allerton Bywater: to be Rector, The Fountains Group

(Ripon) The Rev Gareth Lloyd, Assistant Curate. St Peter. Monkwear-mouth: to be Priest-in-charge. St Peter, Monkwearmouth

The Rev Peter Denton, Curate, Holy Trinity, Hounslow to be Vicar, St Barnabas, Northolt The Rev Ron Foster, retired: to be

Rural Dean of Wantage (Oxford). The Rev Canon John Glies: 10 be a Canon Emerius of Sheffield Cathedral (Sheffield).
The Rev Alan Griffiths, Assistant Director of Education (Children and Youth) (Sheffield): 10 be Vicar, West Bessacar, Doncaster.

same diocese. The Rev Peter Hallam, Vicar. St James, Briercliffe to be also an Honorary Canon of Blackburn Cathedral (Blackburn). DJM | The Rev Richard Inglesby, Assis-

Church news Chaplain at the Derbyshire Royal tant Curate, Christ Church,

Cheltenham (Gloucester): to be Vicar. Paulton and Farrington Gumey (Bath and Wells). The Rev Robin Lapwood. Priestin-charge, Bentley, Tattingstone and Copdock w Washbrook (St Edmundsbury and Ipswich): to be Team Vicar, St Andrew's, High Wycombe (Oxford). The Rev Jeremy Pemberton, formerly Director, the Anglican Theological Institute, Zaire: to be Vicar, St Katharine, Inchester (Peterborough).

The Rev Gerard Reilly, Vicar, Emmanuel. Forest Gate w St Peter, Upton Cross (Chelmsford): Vicar. St Philip, to be Vicar. S Chaddesden (Derby). The Rev George Senior, Curate Darwen St Peter: 10 be Vicar, St Michael, Foulridge (Blackburn). The Rev Kevin Sloppon. Vicar. Smethwick SS Stephen and

Michael, and part-time Chaplain at the West Midlands Centre for Neurosurgery and Neurology (Birmingham): to be full-time

Infirmary (Derby). The Rev John Smith, Vicar, St Mary's, Wheatley, Doncaster to be Rector. Barnburgh w Melton on the Hill (Sheffield). The Rev Simon Stevenene, Team Vicar, Keynsham Team Ministry (Bath and Wells): to be also

Honorary Chaplain to the Bristol Rovers Football Club. The Rev Stephan Welch, Vicar, Reculver w St Bartholomew. Herne Bay (Canterbury): to be Vicar, Hurley and Stubbings JOxford) The Rev Owen Williams, Vicar, St Nicholas at Wade w Sarre and Chisles w Hoath (Canterbury): to be Team Vicar, Bruton and District Team Ministry (Bath and The Rev Ian Winterbottom, Rector, Pleasley and Rural Dean of Bolsover and Staveley: to be also Priest-in-charge. Shirebrook (Derby). The Rev Michael Yates, Vicar, Lea Hall (Birmingham): to be Loundsley Green (Derby). Resignations and retirements

The Rev Derek Bates, Rector, Ciovelly, Woolfardisworthy and Bucks Mills (Exeter): to retire as from September 30. The Rev Tony Good, Team Recor Wallingford Team Ministry Oxford; to retire as from Novem-Other appointment

Team Vicar, Old Brampton and

Capt Paul Tyler, Church Army, Parish Evangelist and Pastoral Assistant, St Matthew w St Barnabas. Hull (York): 10 be Communin Evangelist, St Chad, Limeside (Manchester). Church of Scotland

Ordination and Induction The Rev Raymond Thomson to Slamannan. The Rev Manson C Merchani to Inverkip. The Rev Paul Amed to Wrangholm Kirk, New

Mandela rebuffs de Klerk on talks

FROM RAY KENNEDY IN JOHANNESBURG

NELSON Mandela has brusquely spurned President de Klerk's proposals for meetings to resolve the deadlock in constitutional negotiations, deepening the conrican National Congress and the government.

In the ANC's first response to a government memorandum last week, Mr Mandela claimed that Mr de Klerk had "chosen to drive South Africa into a collision course" and declared: "I see no reason to mislead the public and the international community about the gravity of the crisis facing our country. No good purpose will be served in my meeting him at this stage."

The government's initial reaction was disappointment But sources indicated it was awaiting a more detailed reply from the ANC national executive later this week. Mr Mandela said Mr de Klerk's reply to ANC demands for resuming talks had exhibited a "threatening mode and a propensity towards violence", adding: "This is part of deliberate attempts to perpetuate the notion of black-on-black violence rather than draw attention to the central role of the de Kierk government and its security forces."

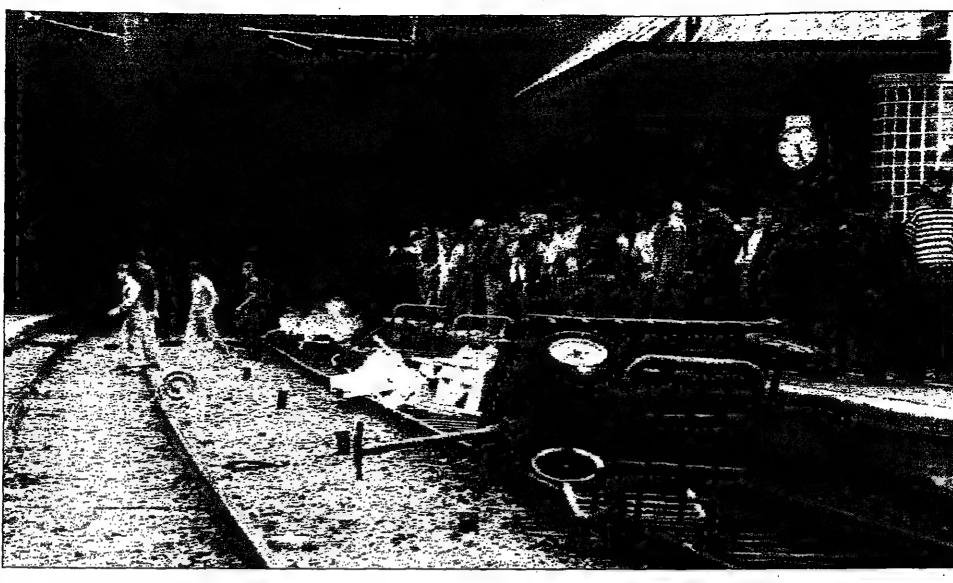

Mr de Klerk last week

claimed that the ANC was being manipulated by what he called a cabal of communists and unions. But he did not reject the ANC demands out of hand.

The Organisation of African Unity is to send a delega-tion of ten foreign ministers to meet Boutros Boutros Ghali, the UN secretary-gen-eral, to back the ANC call for the security council to consider the situation.

It now seems certain that the ANC and its trade union and communist alliance partners will go ahead with the second stage of their massaction campaign of strikes and slt-ins next month to force the government to resign. The campaign is to culminate in a general strike.

But some Western diplomats and moderate politicians wonder if the ANC may sacrifice its political gains if it loses control over neo-revolubelieve they can achieve a classic Marxist takeover through mass action.

Unscheduled stop: Demonstrating farmers block the railway track at Miramas station, in southern France, with an overturned trolley and burning tyres

Italian strikes add to havoc in France

Continued from page 1 officials examining the way the new licence system is

In Italy, confusion is expected at airports because of the national six-hour and seven-hour strikes called by air traffic controllers for today, Wednesday and July 15, and other national stoppages set for Friday and next Sunday. Air traffic will also be disrupted by separate industrial ac-tion at Milan, Naples, Turin and Genoa airports. Gian-carlo Tesini, the transport minister, has used compulsory call-up laws to order 60 per cent of the controllers to report for work today, but this is not expected to ease the situation much.

The controllers are demanding implementation of a pay contract negotiated last year but suspended because of a huge public expenditure net held an emergency meeting yesterday to prepare a 30 trillion lire (£15 billion) austerity package to try to meet EC requirements and ease international money market essure on the lira.

More confusion will be created by a strike today - and the threat of another on July 24 — by railway workers alarmed at lay-offs planned pending possible railway pri-vatisation. And as up to 2.5 million Italians left home by car yesterday for the long summer holidays, a lorry drivers' association, L'Unitai, invited its outraged members to stage "civil disobedience" and ignore measures banning them from motorways during weekends in July. Some town councils on the Adriatic coast have employed private armed security guards to turn away lorry drivers trying to break the weekend driving ban at night, when few traffic police

Jobs at risk, page 2 Leading article and

'Ethnic cleansing' drives out Muslims

Continued from page 1 of the ethnic purification

The influx of Muslims to Kelebia began three days ago with a group of 12,050 people, followed by 250 and then 100 arriving from the Serb city of Subotica, the closest transit point. This otherwise tranquii rurai railway station bustles at night, as floodlights illuminate the darkness and hundreds of Hungarian soldiers, border guards and police move on to the platforms when a train pulls in and refugees wearily descend with sleeping children in their arms.

Serb authorities deny that people are being deported. But several refugees at the Palic camp, Just inside the Serbian border, which is thought to be a staging post for the evacuations, said they were "driven and forced" from their homes. According to Hungarian authorities, the refugees arrived with one-way train tickets to Kelebia and new passports.

With passage to Austria blocked by new visa restrictions. Hungary is the only place for them to go, and nobody is sent back. "If they want to go after hearing that Austria is off limits, then they are free to do so, but we do not force anyone to return," a spokesman for the Hungar-ian border guards said.

here for a fe hours only before being sent to permanent refugee camps, which are now almost full.

Faltering economies head the G7 agenda

Continued from page 1 emphasis as much on the continued need to curb inflation and reduce deficits as on interest-rate cuts.

The G7 leaders are meeting in subdued mood since most of their economies remain sluggish if not stagnant. But there will be little overt effort to stimulate world trade by trying to end the stalemate in the Uruguay round of General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade talks. Herr Kohl, fearful that the Gatt tangles could dominate the summit. has kept the subject off the official agenda. Mr Miyazawi may not endorse his party's plan for a £29 billion stimulus to the Japanese economy until after the G7 summit. On the summit's other main business, the extension of aid to parts of the former Soviet Union, Japan is likely to resist until President Yellsin of Russia operation on the disputed Kurile islands. But the French are objecting to any bilateral issues being put on the agenda.

Japanese officials expressed concern over Russia's request for a minimum two-year freeze on repayment of its $68 billion (£35.6 billion) in foreign debt.

Yugoslavia will also be a main topic. A German foreign ministry spokesman said a formal statement was likely.
Security was tight at the summit, which is costing Munich DM25 million [88.6 million] It is 20 users einen 11 lion). It is 20 years since 11 Israeli athletes were murdered at the Olympics here. About 9,000 police have been drafted in to protect the 2,000 delegates and 4,000 journalists attending.

Mr Bush has brought a delegation of 700. Mr Yeltsin, who arrives on Wednes-day; has booked 100 rooms for the Russians but will himself stay in a modest room.

I want to be a father again, says HIV man

By JENNY KNIGHT

THE Birmingham man who has been accused of knowingly spreading HIV to at least four women, one of whom died, defended his reputation on television last night. Roy Cornes told viewers he wanted to father another child, despite the risk that he could pass the virus on.

Mr Comes, a haemophiliae who contracted the virus from infected blood when he was 17, denied that he had deliberately infected his sexual partners.

He told ITV's The Richard & Judy Show: "When I was first infected I didn't have a clue. I had no counselling. There were no leaflets out

He was more careful after 1987 when there was more publicity about Aids, he said, and had practiced safe sex. He believed that the women who claim he infected them had other lovers and that he was not responsible.

"I did tell my partners. There is a certain woman out for revenge against me. The papers don't want to know my side of the story. There was one woman; I didn't use safe sex, at the time I was drunk. I didn't really know what I was doing. If I had been sober I would have used contraceptives.

Questioned about Gina Allen, who died aged 20 after a brief affair with him when she was 16. Mr Cornes replied: "It is total nonsence. It was someone who my family know, who went out with her. I can't be the only one who is

He admitted not practicing safe sex with an ex-fiancee, who had his baby. He said: "When I was engaged we were trying for a baby. When you are in love you take the chance. I feel guilty in one way, but not in another. It is something we both plenned something we both planned

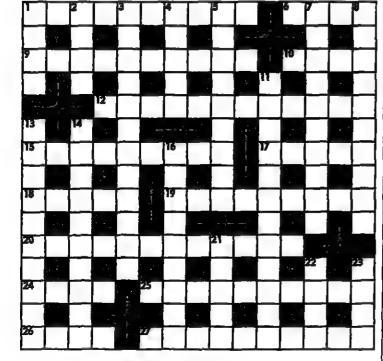

Mr Cornes wife Linda also appeared on the early evening programme. They both said they wanted a baby and planned eventually to stop using contraceptives.

Mrs Cornes, who is not HIV positive, said: "I may be at risk. That is a chance I am going to take, I love Roy and Roy loves me and we want a family.
"Everybody is saying that EFA campaign, page 5 HIV, but nobody knows. It Reports, page 9 a chance I am willing to tak Leading article, page 13 I think it is a little chance." HIV, but nobody knows. It is a chance I am willing to take.

THE TIMES CROSSWORD NO 18,963

I Superior type of pedestrian cross-

6 Go to the stores for grass (4). 9 Tip-top face-saving device for the 10 One of a pair in the Wightman Cup? (4).

12 Officer to help in restoring Venus de Milo? (6-2-4).

15 Outline of second plan covering

17 The girl to hoard ingredients (5). 18 Weird to some degree, this dance

19 Sport where you have a drop before opening time (3-6). 20 Coach routes for single-line traf-

> 🕈 Parker 🚉 DUOFOLD

The solution of Saturday's Prize Puzzle No 18.962 wili appear next Saturday. The 5 winners will receive a Duofold fountain pen supplied by Parker

24 Ribbon as seen in the light (4). 25 Her relations are likely to be rich

26 Bound for the river (4).

27 East has nice angle when playing but shows lack of finesse (10).

I Handwriting indicating aggres-

2 Cry of surprise seeing work in old 3 Type of government in Cuba a recruit cracks up (12). 4 Going up to a single girl betokens a dimwit (5).

5 Subject that's not about chaps, according to Bentley (9).

7 Bogus outcome of this ironic diversion (10). 8 Groups devoted to increasing the ratings (5-5). 11 Gift that is fingered for a long time (8,4).

13 Escort said poor Wilde was so treated (10). 14 He goes to work with a will (10).

16 Rolling stones should not be thus dressed in green (4-5).

21 Revolver found in casino (5). 22 Unknown in the short term (4). 23 Heavenly attendant in the beauty parlour (4).

> Concise Crossword, page 9 Life & Times section

WORD-WATCHING A daily safari through the language jungle. Which definitions are correct?

By Philip Howard ARCHITECTLEX

VESICA a. The drain of a piscins b. A transverse window c. An oval with points HEXASTYLE a. Style of Hexham Gothle b. Late 16th-century Perp c. Having six columns

BATTER a. Reinforced morear b. A bricklayer's mate e. The indined lane of a wall TRUMEAU

Answers on page 14

AA ROADWATCH For the latest AA traffic and road-works information, 24 hours a day, dial 0836 401 followed by appropriate code.

London & SE C London (within N & S Circa) M-ways/roads M4-M1...... M-ways/roads M1-Dartford T M-ways/roads Dartford T-M23 M-ways/roads M23-M4

M25 London Orbital only . West Country

AA Roadwatch is charged at 38p per minute (cheap rate) and 48p per minute at all other times.

LIGHTING UP TIMES London 9.19 pm to 4.53 am Bristol 9.28 pm to 5.03 am Edinburgh 9.58 pm to 4.38 am Manchester 9.38 pm to 4.50 am Penzance 9.33 pm to 5.21 am

9.19 pm Moon rises 12.57 pm

Today's pollen count forecast is MODERATE SELDANE. A major advance in haylever treatment.

Fine, warm weather should return to most of Britain for the next few days. Most places should be dry today, brightening up after early cloud to give a warm afternoon with sunny spells. Northwest Scotland, will, however, be dull and damp, and eastern coastal counties of England from about the Humber southwards may feel chilly in a northerly wind. Outlook mostly dry and warm with sunny spells; a little rain in western and northern Scotland. ABBOAD

Nairobi
Napies
N Locamo London L Angels*

LONDON Yesterday: Temp max 6am to 6pm, 19C (68F); min 6pm to 6am, 12C (54F). Humidity-6pm, 69 per cent. Ram: 24hr to 6pm, 0.04in. Sun: 24hr to 6pm, 1.7hr Bar, mean sea level, 6pm, 1,017.6 millibars, rising Saturday: Temp max 6am to 6pm, 19C (68F), min 6pm to 6am, 15C (69F). Humidity; 6pm, 85 per cent. Rain 24hr to 6pm, 0.48in. Sun 24hr to 6pm, 2.7hr, Bar, mean sea level, 6pm, 1,008.9 millibars, rising 1,000 millibars—29,55in.

GLASGOW Yesterday: Temp: max 6am to 6pm, 21C (70F); min 6pm to 6am, 3C (37F). Ram 24hr to 6pm, nll Sun: 24hr to 6pm, 12.4hr. MANCHESTER

Yesterday: Temp: max Sam to Spm, 19C (55F), min Spm to Sam, 11C (52F) Rain: 24hr to Spm, nil. Sun: 24hr to Spm, 4.3hr

57 bright
68 bright
68 bright
68 bright
68 bright
68 bright
68 shows
68 bright
68 shows
68 bright
69 bright
60 brigh 0.85 0.08 0.11 0.11 0.05 1.28 0.02 0.15 0.13 0.09 9.1 0.06 6.7 0.54 3.8 0.38 6.3 0.02 1.12 7.8 0.01 2.9 0.47 7.7 0.97 X 0.17 0.4 24 0.67

For the latest region by region forecast, 24 hours a day, dial 0891 500 followed by the appropriate code. Greater London Greater London
Kent, Surrey, Sussex
Dorset, Hants & IOW
Devon & Cornwall
Wilts, Gloucs, Avon, Soms
Berks, Sucks, Oxon
Beds, Herts & Essex
Norloik, Surfolk, Cambs 702 703 704 705 706 707 West Mid & Sth Glam & Gw Shrops, Herefds & Words ... Central Midlands ... East Midlands ... Lings & Humberside Dyfed & Powys
Gwynedd & Clwyd
N W England
W & S Yorks & Dales
N F England N E England...... Cumbria & Lake Distric W Central Scotland Edin S Fife/Lothian & Borders E Central Scotland

N ireland.

713 714 715 716 Grampian & E Highlands N W Scotland Calthnass,Orkney & Shetland..... Weathercall is charged at 36p per minute (cheap rate) and 48p per minute at all other times.

Seturday: Highest day temp: Torquay, Devon, 22C (72F): Iowest day max: Aviemore, Highland, 11C (52F): highest rainfall: Cleathorpes, Humberside, 1.57in; highest sunshine: Penzance, Cornwall,

4.04

7.1 4.2 3.5

7.10 7.01 12.27 4.49 12.12 11.23 4.25 6.13 5.02 3.50 11.58 11.35 63 8.4 3.2 4.9 4.5 5.9 11.51 10.48 11.13 10.37 12.09 4.48 4.43 4.28 11.54

GTIMES NEWSPAPERS LIMITED, 1992. Published and printed by Times Newspapers Ltd at 1 Virginia Street. London El 93N, telephone 071-782 5000 and at Enoughey Park Industrial Estate, Eding Road, Present, Memorsida L34 98IV, telephone 051-546 2000. Monday, July 6, 1992. Registered as a newspaper at the Post Office.

KEEP PACE WITH THE WEATHER RAPIDE

A taste of mild from S&N ormally a muted groan can be heard when a Boy's Own style of gung ho chief executive decides to take a back seat and steps down in favour of the finance director. When that chief executive was Alick Rankin, who 18 months ago announced that eight action-packed years was long enough as chief executive of Scottish & Newcastle Breweries. the groan would have done credit to a Murrayfield crowd watching Gavin Hastings cuding it just

But Brian Stewart took the potential hospital pass in his stride. He may have been finance director for. three years, taking over the role following the untimely death of Christopher Chalmers, but he had been at S&N since the mid-Seventies, the days when brands such as Tartan bitter were the Ecstasy-equivalent for a whole generation of fluffy-chinned youths.

By 1985, when he stepped up to become corporate development director, he had completed stints at Scottish Brewers, William Younger and McEwan, A chartered accountant he may have been but, Scots-born and Scotseducated, beer now ran in his corporate veins.

As mild mannered as the now Sir Alick is outspoken

1700

5.5

10 Th - 1218

T. 72

1.042.033

Stewart: step up

(but reportedly every bit as capable of fighting his corner) he spent the next mentor, experience which perhaps explains way the changeover at the top appeared seamless.

For it was during those years — the three year battle for three year battle for Matthew Brown, the seeing off of John Elliott and Elders IXL, the acquisition of Center Pares and the sale of Thistle Hotels that the foundations of the modern S&N were laid.

activity level rather belies his supposedly non-executive role, and Mr Stewart will unveil results confirming how well those founds tions were laid, with the expected modest increase in profits looking particu-larly commendable amid the shifting sands of the leisure sector. That should raise a cheer from the Murrayfield faithful.

MATTHEW BOND

Soaring nuclear profits to bring protest over levy

BY ROSS TIEMAN, INDUSTRIAL CORRESPONDENT

LEADING industrial companies are to protest over a 2500 million Treasury windfall from soaring profits at Nuclear Electric, the state-

Nuclear Electric, the state-owned power generator.
They say the £1.3 billion "nuclear levy" on private and commercial electricity bills is excessive in the light of the profits made last year by Nuclear Electric. The levy is a direct subside and add the direct subsidy and adds 11p in the pound to fuel bills.

John Topliss, chairman of the Major Energy Users Council (MEUC) and head of purchasing at OKN, said it was "crazy" to levy a subsidy, and then have Nuclear Electric make big profits.
"Of the £1.3 billion raised by the levy, £200 million to £300 million comes from industry. Scrapping the levy for industrial users would help to make us more competitive in Europe, he said A spokes man for ICI, Brigin's largest private power user, attacked the "unnecessary increase in Neglear Electric's profits". Figures from Nuclear Elec-tric later this month will show bills to subsidise atomic power is far higher than needed to avoid losses. The company is expected to declare operating profits of £450-500 million, Most of the surplus will be passed to the Treesury.

ICI said last week that it was under pressure to close its chlorine manufacturing business, with the loss of 7,000 jobs, and a cost of £1.5 billion to Britain's balance of payments, because of a steep rise in UK power prices.

ICI has calculated that electricity charges to its Runcorn works, on Merseyside, have risen by 40 per cent since the privatisation of electricity supply was begun in 1989.

The scale of over-charging under the levy will reinforce calls for measures to help large industrial companies. They say they have been disad-vantaged against internation-al rivals by the surge in British

Tim Eggar, the energy minister, will today receive proposals including a call for the end to levy on companies using more than I megawatt of

Power giant faces £20m property loss

NATIONAL Power, Britain's largest quoted electricity gen-erator, faces losses of up to E20 million on an ill-timed London property venture.

The company is locked into m expensive long-term lease on its offices at Senator House, Queen Victoria Street. It is moving about 450 staff to Swindon, even though the London premises were reflitted and there is little chance of finding a tenant willing to take on the previous high level

National Power secured 92,000 so ft of Senator House in July 1990. It signed a 25year lease with Hammerson. the property group, at an average of £52 per sq ft when rents were beginning to turnble. The company is disposing of 72,000 sq ft. Few tenants would pay more than £35 per sq it today. The offices were honoriously refitted by McColl, a firm of interior designers and contractors, at an estimated cost of between £8 million and £10 million. National Power was forced to look for a new London office ahead of plans to break-up and privatise the Central Electricity Generating Board. Despite making a thorough and extensive search for new accommodation, the company was under pressure to move in to suitable premises ahead of its stock market flotation. There was little time in which to negotiate rent and an average of £52 per sq ft was secured - right at the top of the London property market.

National Power seek to reassign the lease and liability but is unlikely to make much progress without offering substantial sweeteners. Aside from subsidising rents at a of £35 per sq ft, it would probably have to carry the rent for the first two or three years. leaving the total cost of the exercise after relittings at £15 million to £20 million.

A National Power spokes man said the government had "changed the playing field" over electricity privatisation after the lease on Senator House had been signed. National Power was to have been responsible for nuclear power stations, since reassigned to Nuclear Electric, and the combined group would have been much larger.

The spokesman said:
There will undoubtedly be a loss on Senator House but the financial benefits of putting everything under one roof in Swindon will more than make up for it." He said the cost of relitting the building had included furniture, which would be removed.

Tighter rules likely, page 18

Electric's needs has occurred because the company has made much greater strides in efficiency than expected.

When the government set up the levy ahead of privatisa-tion, Nuclear Electric supplied 16.6 per cent of electricity consumed in England and Wales, and had more than 14,200 employees. Last year, its market share was over 19 per cent, and staff numbers had been cut to 12,400. The combination of increased sales and reduced costs is expected to have lifted operating profits, after the subsidy, by around 50 per cent from last year's £326 million.

The levy is set by Stephen Lintechild, the head of Offer, the power industry regulatory body. An Offer spokesman said the levy was calculated under a formula laid down by parliament, and there was ttle scope for adjustment.

Unless the government steps in, Nuclear Electric's surplus is likely to go on growing. In a last ditch atempt to restore the credibility of nuclear power in Britain, John Collier, the company's chairman, is seeking to make the company break even without subsidy by 1995.

Under the privatisation regime, funds collected by the levy, which also supports Britain's still-timy renewable energine.

ain's still-tiny renewable energy sector, will only have declined to £700 million a year abandoned in 1998.

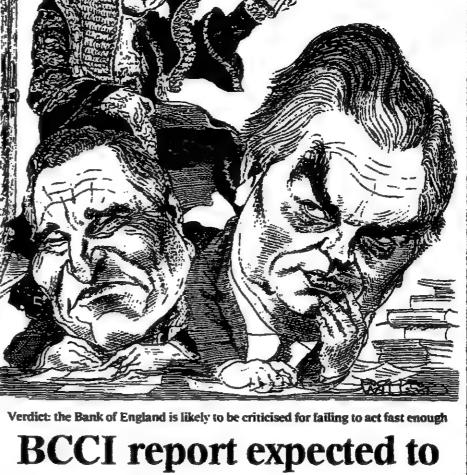

The Nuclear Levy for the current year has already been set by Professor Littlechild at the same rate as last year. 11 per cent of bills. That will raise another £1.3 billion, of which £1.24 billion will go to Nuclear Electric.

The nuclear subsidy will make up 0.75p of the 7.53p en description household charge, and 0.38p of the typical 3.88p kW/h industrial rate. Large users pay less because it is cheaper to supply electricity in bulk. Within the electricity industry, many managers are un-happy at the widening gap between the levy and Nuclear Electric's needs. "Nuclear Electric are over-recovering under the levy," said an executive at a private sector generator. This money could certainly be used to do something for large energy users."

Nuclear Electric would prefer the freedom to channel some of the surplus into construction of new pressurised water plants to replace its Magnox power stations. The company has already been in hot water over high prices this year. In March, Professor Littlechild, said there was a "distinct possibility" that selling tactics used by the company had artificially inflated spot market prices.

blame Bank and auditors

By Neil Bennett, banking correspondent

THE Bingham Report on Bank of Credit and Commerce International, due to be published later this month, is expected to share the blame for the bank's closure among all the main parties involved in its operation, including the Bank of England, Price Waterhouse, the auditors, and the Abu Dhabi government, BCCl's majority shareholder. Lord Justice Bingham has sent confidential copies of his conclusions to the main wits in nis induity. I nex show that no one escapes criticism for their role in regulating BCCI. The condusions will be included in the final report, which is due to be sent to the Treasury and the Bank of England in the next two weeks, although some might be removed from the published version of the report for legal reasons.

The report attacks both PW and the Abu Dhabi government for not handing over relevant information to the Bank of England early enough. In one passage, it is believed to say that the Abu Dhabi authorities should have alerted the Bank of England about serious financial problems at BCCI early in 1990.

The Bank of England in turn, is criticised for not taking decisive action against BCCI early enough, but Lord Justice Bingham supports the Bank's decision not to inform the Abu Dhabi government about its plans to close the bank in July last year.

Lord Justice Bingham was commissioned by The Treasury and the Bank of England almost a year ago to inquire into BCCI's closure and to decide whether appropriate and timely action had been taken. BCCI's depositors are eagerly awaiting publication of the report, which should contain the fullest version of the events leading to BCCI's closure available so far.

Yesterday was the first anniversary of the closure. The bank was shut down by the Reporting this week, page 21 Bank of England and international regulators after the discovery of a massive and systematic fraud. BCCI's senior officials had used fictitious loans, unrecorded deposits and abnormal money market transactions to conceal heavy tions dated back to 1986 and were discovered only when PW was allowed access to the files of Swaleh Naqvi, BCCI's former chief executive. Touche Ross, BCCI's liquicost up to $10 billion and that when it was closed the bank had remaining assets of just $1.1 billion.

Many fraudulent transac-

More than 800,000 of BCCI's depositors worldwide lost money. Many are now waiting for the approval of a compensation plan hammered out between Touche and the Abu Dhabi government. This is expected to compensate depositors for between 30 and 40 per cent of their losses. On Wednesday, the Luxembourg courts will decide whether to back the scheme

Losers include more than 30 local authorities which deposited money in the bank through City brokers. Many of the bank's smaller depositors in Britain, however, have already received compensation of up to 75 per cent through the Bank of England's deposit out up to £15,000.

☐ Keith Vaz, Labour MP for Leicester East, yesterday presented the Bank of England with a mock demand for £6 billion. Mr Vaz is leading a campaign to win better terms for BCCI's 80,000 depositers worldwide. He said British staff were owed £100 million in unpaid wages and

GDP 'to shrink further this year'

By Colin Narbrough ECONOMICS CORRESPONDENT

BRITAIN faces a further year of economic contraction that will worsen the government's fast-deteriorating finances.

The Ernst & Young Item Club, whose forecasts combine a broad range of economists views with the Treasury's forecasting model, now expects gross domestic product to shrink a further 0.6 per cent this year. This is gloomier than the City consensus until recently that the economy would stagnate this year.

Norman Lamont, the Chancellor, forecast in the Budget in March that the economy would bounce back to 1 per cent growth this year from a contraction in 1991. For 1993, he predicted 3 per cent growth, Treasury officials have since made clear that this year's growth prospects are poorer than forecast in the Budget, given the delay in recovery so far this year.

Importantly for the government's finances, Item is considerably less optimistic about growth in the coming years. It oresees the gross domestic product expanding only 1.9 per cent in 1993, 2.5 per cent in 1994 and 1995, and 2.2 per cent in 1996. This is below the estimated trend growth rate of 2.8 per cent. The Budget implied buoyant growth of 3 per cent to 3.5 per cent for the same period.

The slower growth anticipated by Item in its central forecast is accompanied by a rise in the number of unemployed from 3 million this year to a peak of 3.39 million next, before falling back slowly, but remaining above 3 million in 1996. Item expects below trend growth to increase government spending to 43 per cent of GDP in 1996-7 from the current 42 per cent.

Brian Pearce, Item's chief economist, says that the rise in the saving ratio in the first quarter this year reflected continued consumer caution and vious risks are on the downside and they are outte considerable. The worry is that people could want to reduce debt even further."

Item expects the savings ratio to stay high at between 10 per cent and 11 per cent for a number of years because of high personal debt, falling house prices and high real

Asda to unveil £400m writedown

By Our City Staff

will this morning unveil writeoffs of £400 million, leaving the group deep in the red after halved pre-tax profits of little more than £85 million. A final payout of 0.85p is now expected, giving 2.1p for the year compared with 4.8p in 1991. Around half the write-off will relate to reduced property valuations on the portfolio of dancy and restructuring costs declared at the interim stage. However, Archie Norman, the chief executive, is believed to have set aside an additional £121 million to finance further shake-up at Alfied Maples. The balance sheet is likely to Asda. A weak market has trimmed the flotation price. Even so, Asda's horrowings are expected to be cut by some £200 million by the sale.

THE Asda supermarket chain 60 Gateway stores bought in 1990 for £705 million. Some be further hit by the flotation of MF1, 25 per cent owned by £79 million will cover redun-

Abbey to dispose of unclaimed shares

11 the following year.

sale of a proportion of the shares will boost the Abbey's balance sheet and benefit shareholders with a stronger share price. The bank is thought to have ruled out cancelling the shares because it would have disproportion-

Details of how much will go to Abbey National Charitable Trust will be revealed on Thursday. The trust, formed after the floration, gives El million a year to charities. It gives to housing charities, youth organisations and health charities. The bank's own housing association. which is involved in its 560 million mortgage rescue

100% mortgages are now available at John Charcol. (Just when you thought they'd 100% vanished.)

A lot of people need to borrow a high proportion of their property's value right now - not just first-time buyers, but also people who are left without any capital when they sell their current homes.

If you're in that position, you'll know that just when you need a mortgage of up to 100% of the property's value, they've become extremely hard to find.

Not at John Charcol. A number of major financial institutions are still making 100% loans available through us - because they know that we will only recommend them to suitable applicants. As a result, we can ofter you a range of alternatives, some including special discounts and extra benefits. And at the very least, we can save you a lot of time by making it clear whether or not you qualify. So if you need a 100% mortgage, you can count on our 100% support. For a written quotation, call John Charcol on (071) 589 7080. Or write to us at Mercury House, (FINERA) 195 Knightsbridge, London SW7 1RE.

Talk about a better mortgage. 071-589-7080

ALSO AT LEEDS 0532-470338 Learns subject to states. Credit higher fees of up to 1% of the advance may be charged depending on the type of product and cradit period, insurance may be required. John Charcol is a licensed credit broker.

YOUR HOME IS AT RISK IF YOU DO NOT KEEP UP REPAYMENTS ON A MORTGAGE OR OTHER LOAN SECURED ON IT.

CHANGE ON WEEK

1.9053 (+0.0088)

German mark 2.8955 (0.0183) Exchange index 93.0 (0.3) Bank of England official close (4pm)

FT 30 share 1915.5 (48.4 FT-SE 100 1915.5 (48.4) 2497.1 (37.0) New York Dow Jones 3330.29 (+47.88) Tokyo Nikkei Avge 16717.78 (+905.05)

Saturday the Abbey can dispose of them. The former building society gave each qualifying investing and borrowing member 100 free shares when it was floated in 1989. These opened at 160p a share and fell back about 15p before climbing.

shares are now worth £113 million and from midnight on

They closed up 8p at 284p on It is believed that the bank, led by Sir Christopher Tugendhat, the chairman, is planning to give a substantial portion of the shares to the Abbey National Charitable Trust. The rest will be retained by the bank, and sold when market conditions favour it. The Abbey will continue its search for the savers and horrowers who never claimed are unlikely to be found but they have the right to claim the shares for at least two more years and money must be held to compensate them. The Abbey, which upset rules for getting the free shares many people who fell foul of its at the time of the flotation, is believed to have dismissed plans to compensate cases such as widows whose husbands died during the flotation period, thus losing their free allocation. The bank has sent several letters to the 400,000 but fears most have moved house. It estimates that 10 per cent of its customers change address ev-ery year. It will renew efforts to contact the people who stand to gain £284 or £568 for people who have both a mort-gage and had kept at least £100 in their account between December 31, 1983 and July The retention and gradual

ately benefited the share price.

Maastricht worry

should not mask

bonds' value months? If we use the benchmark ten-year gilt as a rough

100 basis point outperformance of cash only requires yields to fall about 25 basis points. That is not much below the best levels seen after the general

But has the world changed since the highest post-elec-tion price levels were seen in late May? The answer is yes in two important respects.

one negative and one

The negative change is that the Danes have rejected the Maastricht treaty. European convergence based on the disciplines enshrmed in the Maastricht treaty was often cited as a major prop to the bullish case for gilts. That prop has gone, possibly forever. European governments and the European Commission do not seem to know what to do next. They are continuing with ratification of the treaty as if nothing has

The problem is that the Danes appear to be constitutionally unable to endorse the treaty in the form that is currently being submitted to other EC countries. Even if a new treaty is submitted to the Danish people there is no guarantee that they will not he forthcoming

be a mere distraction from the constitutional quagmire-that seems likely to envelop months. The greatest danger to gilts is that this potential stalemate is not fully dis-

The safest working assumption in analysing gills

is that the Maastricht treaty is dead. Thus we are thrown back on to domestic funda-mentals in assessing market prospects. Fortunately, these have become more positive in recent weeks. Growth is proving much weaker than counted in the market.

French referenchim

therefore appears to reject it again.

_svitizoq

Power grid charge rules likely to be tightened

THE Office of Electricity Regulation, the watchdog for the power industry, is expected to innounce tomorrow a tightening of the rules that govern the charges levied by the National Grid Company, a key part of the industry.

Any change to the existing generous formula, which alows the grid to raise charges each year by the rate of inflation despite the huge cost-savings achieved since the industry was privatised, would be bad news for the 12 electricity distributors in England and Wales.

The 12 are joint owners of NGC, which contributes a substantial dividend flow to their coffers. A reining-in of Union chief gloomy on the future

By Ross Tieman INDUSTRIAL CORRESPONDENT

BRITAIN'S trade unions risk becoming "too small to have any influence in industry or in society" unless they recruit new members, according to the leader of the country's biggest manufacturing union.

Gavin Laird, general secre-tary of the Amalgamated En-gineering and Electrical Union, says Britain's union structure remains "Victorian", with too many unions competing for members in the same industries. In Germany, a single union. IG Metall. recruiting alone among engineering workers, is more effective, he believes.

Writing in the July issue of the AEEU's journal, he says: "German workers are less strongly unionised than we are in Britain, yet they enjoy a higher standard of living. shorter hours, better benefits and a long record of good high wage, high skills, high productivity economy."

Trade union membership in Britain fell by 450,000 last year, to 7.74 million, according to the Trades Union Congress. Even so, 35.4 per cent of UK employees are union members, one of the highest rates of union membership in Europe.

FORD spent a record £2.7

billion on British-made component supplies in 1991, an increase of 70 per cent in five

The bulk came from the Ford of Britain car and commercial vehicle operation, which spent £2 billion with suppliers in the UK, up from £1.4 billion in 1987. However, other Ford companies increased their spending from £200 million to £700 million.

last night as other European companies, particularly Volkswagen and Mercedes-Benz, scour Britain for component makers so they can enjoy the benefit caused by the entry of the three big Japanese car makers. Toyota, Honda and Nissan have made the selection and development of component suppliers one of their priorities in setting up manu-

The result has been rapid improvement in productivity and quality by many of Britain's suppliers attempting to cash in on the potential £1.2 billion worth of contracts.

which will be available from the Japanese over the next two

Mercedes and VW, suffering from the high costs of suppliers in Germany, say that to three years.

facturing bases in Europe.

The figures were disclosed

the grid's profitability would also be a blow to any plans for an eventual stock market flotation for the company. Such a flotation has been rumoured since privatisation, although there are thought to be no immediate moves down that path. City estimates suggest a price tag as high as £2.6 billion if the 12 decide to sell.

Stephen Littlechild, the head of Offer, will tomorrow announce the first round of an eventual overhaul of the grid's pricing formula, one of a series of rolling reviews put in place on privatisation. The electricity industry was buzzing last week with rumours that he would attempt to impose a decrease in the rate at which the grid can put up charges, with some sugges-tions that he could go for a 5 per cent cut in real terms. The rumours unsettled share prices of the distributors, now coming to the end of their annual reporting season.

Such a move would strongly opposed by NGC. As with all such regulatory reviews, the ultimate court of appeal is the monopolies commission, which would step in if the sides could not reach an agreement after lengthy negotiations.

NGC's revenues from the use of its system stand at about El billion a year, so even a l per cent reduction in the price formula would cut £10 million off the top line.

The company's opposition to any sweeping move by Pro-fessor Littlechild would be hampered by its profits record since privatisation. Pre-tax profits rose by 29 per cent to almost £500 million in the year to end-March, aided by increased efficiencies — over the same year NGC out its workforce by a tenth, and a similar reduction is likely over the next two to three years. A tightening of NGC's charges would have little significant impact on domestic power bills - far more important in the long term will be negotiations between the distributors, the two power generators and British Coal, set to come to completion shortly.

But action against NGC would go some way towards dispelling suggestions that Professor Littlechild is powerless in the face of the huge profit increases the industry has been announcing of late.

most cost-effective and efficient suppliers in Europe. Ford underlined its commitment to Britain by pointing out that its own component spending is about double the entire investment in suppliers

by the three Japanese com-

Ian McAllister, chairman of Ford of Britain, said: "Our investments in the UK in manufacturing and in re-search and development are not matched by any other vehicle manufacturer. The increase in our purchasing here is a reflection of the progress

UK suppliers of materials, components and services are now achieving."

Mr McAllister also warned,

however, that the number of suppliers is likely to be reduced as the company concentrates its investment in a smaller number of higher quality activities of other manufacturers looking to raise the standards in suppliers which provide almost all of the key pieces of cars and commercial vehicles for assembly in motor

Mr McAllister warned: "In today's highly competitive environment, continual improvement is necessary if this

The move is in line with the partners.

plants.

Car firms switch to

UK components

By Kevin Eason, motoring correspondent

Cutting edge: Harry Handkammer, managing director, says the company quotes three weeks' delivery

Countax mows down its ride-on rivals

By DEREK HARRIS

COUNTAX began to make ride-on mowers less than 18 months ago. Today, the Oxfordshire-based company. which previously provided consultancy on large mower design and made lawnmower accessories under contract. claims to have established sales leadership over established rivals in the market. Exports account for more than a fifth of its production.

Ride-on mowers represent largely a replacement market. Typically, they are used for lawns of an acre or more and

SOURCES close to Sir Leon

Brittan, the EC's competition

commissioner, hit back at criticisms that he was pander-ing to France in clearing 6.7

Bull, the alling computer

Michael Heseltine, trade and industry secretary, against the decision. Commission sources,

however, claimed Mr

Heseltine was the only person

pandering — to ICL the Japanese controlled UK computer maker that protested to Brussels about the Bull aid more than a year ago. "I think Heseltine was just doing it for the record, to pacify ICL." said

Commission officials said that last Wednesday, the day before Mr Heseltine objected.

he had had the commission's thinking on Bull explained to

Sir Leon's spokesman in Brussels admitted that the Bull case "has been a difficult one to explain". He said that although a private investor would be unlikely to put money into the company -

normally one of the commission's yardsticks for judging whether state aid is permissible - Brussels had concluded that Bull, a shrinking company, would not disrupt competition in an expanding

Bull had won the commission round by cutting 10,000 jobs, or half its workforce, and by allowing IBM to take a 5.7

Sir Leon, however, is not out market.

per cent stake.

him by Sir Leon in London.

British

supported

one source.

illion francs of state aid to officials tacitly

a protest by paddocks and orchards in trim. The ride-on market has the advantage of being less affected by drought than normal domestic lawn-

Countax is up against competition from Westwood, part of Ransomes, the grasscutting machinery group that also owns Mountfield. Ransomes last year dropped from a £9 million profit to a pre-tax loss of more than £4 million.

Westwood once commanded about half the ride-on market. Other ride-ons were mainly imports from Ameri-

Brittan dismisses Heseltine criticism on state aid to Bull of turbulent waters; he has two tricky passages to navigate before France holds its referendum on the Maastricht of these concerns the competition commissioner's proposals to make international telephone calls cheaper. Sir

Leon's policy will be a direct attack on the EC's telephone monopolies and is expected to be announced in the next two weeks. "The idea that the customer has to pay over a barrel to make international calls so that telephone companies can afford to maintain a basic service is absolute nonsense," said Sir Leon's

The commissioner will tell the companies to lower their charges or face the consequences before the European

Court of Justice. Sir Leon has

Christiane Scrivener, the French taxation commissioner, on his side, but is having spokesman.

Treaty on September 20.

ca, with some from Japan. Japanese machines, however, are at the top of the price range and aimed primarily at the vast American market.

Harry Handkammer, Countax managing director, claims leadership of the rideon market, with a 25 per cent share. Last year's £2.7 million turnover is expected to be grow this year to about £6.5

Mr Handkammer said: When we were producing accessories, we were faced with mower makers reducing difficulty persuading Jacques

Delors, commission president, that the dossier should be put before the commission for the "political opportunity" is not right and has succeeded in putting it off twice, before the Lisbon summit and again

Sir Leon's other quandary is whether to block Nestle's takeover of Perrier. A commission source said the Swiss food group was trying to build the case into a "de Havilland mark two". He said there was no reason why French public opinion should be whipped up against a commission enquiry. Sir Leon had talks with Helmut Maucher. Nestlé

chairman, last week, and it is last week.

er next year.

approval. M Delors believes make the entire mower. It meant moving quickly to de-sign a machine and then put in a production line. Like most others, we buy in the

He said the company had no stock and quoted three weeks' delivery. He and his team had recruited key agents in Europe, which represented a market of about £120 million a year.

Mr Handkammer has no plans for a flotation. "We don't particularly need to do that." he said. "We can perform well enough as we are."

Issue fears take toll on level of

By Jon Ashworth

level in five years.
The total value of MBOs worth more than £10 million fell to £500 million in the second quarter of the year, according to KPMG Corpoand is the lowest second quarter value since 1988.

thought likely that the deal will be approved on condition that Nestlé sells some of its other water brands, or disposes of some of Perrier's sister If Sir Leon can come through this summer schedule market. They need to get away relatively unscathed, the way well and at good prices. Some of the current crop are being will be clear for him to retain the competition post when a new commission is put togethharvested at prices below expectations." The signs in Brussels are that few competition powers will be handed back to member states as a result of the efforts by M Delors to improve the commission's "meddling superstate" image, and that Sir Leon would be content to stay on in the role.

He wants more of the same or something bigger," his spokesman said. TOM WALKER iles have been the forecast probably now stands world's best per-forming bond mar-ket this year. JP Morgan around zero or less for 1992. Next year is unlikely to be above 2-2.5 per cent. Against indices show they have reabove 2-2.5 per cent. Against this backdrop, headline inflation could dip below 3 per cent and will probably settle at an underlying rate of 3 per cent to 4 per cent. That suggests real ten-year yields are between 5 per cent to 6 numed 7.94 per cent in local terms and 9.8 per cent in dollar terms — in which Europe as a whole returned 4.67 per cent, the US 2.29 per cent and the global index 3.17 per cent. Gilts have surpassed UK equities and per cent at present. These are attractive levels relative to cash, which each returned most other bond markets. about 5 per cent. Can gilts continue to beat cash over the next six growth boosting the public sector borrowing require-ment (PSBR) are almost proxy for the market its yield would only need to fail by about 10 basis points for the return to equal cash. Even 100 basis points certainly a red herring. There seems little relationship between the PSBR and nominal gilt yields. Inflation and inflation expectations are the more important swing factors. It is not so surprising that cyclical changes in the PSBR and gilt yields are poorly correlated. ed. A weaker economy reduces borrowing demands elsewhere in the economy and diminishes the attractiveness of alternative assets.

Recent worries over slow

Tar from being too low to attract financing for the PSBR, real yields seem quite high in relation to the PSBR as a percentage of gross domestic product. UK real yields are being held up artificially to levels that would not be warranted in a normal cycle because of Germany's money supply problem. The concern, if European monetary union is dead, is that sooner or later ex-change-rate mechanism countries will start to realign and that the UK's improved inflation performance will not be locked in.

The risks to UK exchange rate and inflation credibility are not all negative. Whilst everyone's focus may be on the unravelling of Maas-tricht, the UK government could give the markets a pleasant surprise by moving to 24 per cent ERM bands before its presidency of the EC expires in December.

The possible death of the Maastricht treaty will periedically.; haunt, gilts, over coming marrins. But the not be that dependent on the Maastricht treaty, provided the UK remains in the ERM. Germany's moneysupply problem condemns the UK to continuing slow growth and low inflation. That should help UK bonds. It is too soon to switch out of

> DOUG JONES County NatWest Investment Management

MBOs

FEARS for the success of a flood of new stock market issues have pushed the value of large management buyouts to their lowest second quarter rate Finance. This is a fall of 19 per cent on the first quarter Chris Beresford, head of MBOs at KPMG, said the flotations of Kenwood, Country Casuals, Anglian Windows, MFI and Taunton Cider had made management and institutional investors nervous. He said: "Successful flotations are vital to the MBO

He said the MBO market had also been affected by uncertainty over the economy. "Vendors are holding out for higher prices expecting trading performance to improve as soon as the recession ends. Corporate buyers seem to have disappeared completely."

The largest deals between March and June were Caledonian Newspaper Publishing (194 million), Exco International (E75 million) and Teesside Holdings (£63 million).

Cowie bid is too low. says Henlys Group

By COLIN CAMPBELL,

MICHAEL Donerty, who tues to go from strength to only last November stepped strength, and that Henlys on into the Henlys Group as chairman, and Robert Wood, his chief executive, have dismissed the hostile all-share takeover bid from T. Cowie as "too low, and unacceptable".

Cowie last month proposed a one-for-two paper takeover of Henlys, and says in its formal offer document that its own results, for the six months that ended June 30, are likely to show at least a 48 per cent increase to £11.5 million at the pre-tax level when they are formally published on July 30. Sir Tom Cowie, the chairman, adds that Cowie comin-its own is going nowhere. Henlys, meanwhile, has already given a warning that its results for the six months ended June 30, are likely to show a pre-tax loss. However, Mr Doherty, in the defence document, is likely to argue that the new executive team has a strategy for an improved Henlys, and that shareholders should not surrender to Cowie. Henlys shares traded at 75p on Friday, compared with the imputed valuation of 72p based on the Cowie's share price of 144p. The first closing date is July 24.

7

Manders shareholders urged to throw out bid

By OUR CITY STAFF

MANDERS, a company with interests ranging from ink to property, urged shareholders to reject a "hostile and opportunistic bid from Kalon, a Yorkshire-based paint group. A circular to shareholders attacks "serious weaknesses" in Kalon's businesses, including dependence on a small number of D1Y chains.

Kalon, which supplies ownlabel paint to DIY chains and runs 63 Leyland trade centres, is offering eight of its own shares for every three Manders shares, valuing each Manders share at 295p. They closed at 259p on Friday. Acquisition of Manders would almost double the group's size. Kalon claims the combined group would win 23 per cent of the British paint market, helping it to challenge big players such as Dulux and Crown. But Roy Arnos, Manders chairman, said shareholders would be illadvised to swap their stakes for shares in "a risky business like Kalon". The circular said combining paint interests would drive business elsewhere. Kalon had no experience in inks. which accounted for more than 40 per cent of Manders' turnover, or of managing investment property. Its record in non-decorative businesses was dismal.

Mike Hennessy. Kalon's group managing director, attacked Manders' trading record. He said Manders' shareholders had suffered a fall in earnings per share of 7 per cent since 1988: that compared with Kalon's eps growth of 149 per cent.

DEALINGS begin today in the seven tranches of stock, totalling £1 billion, issued by the Bank of England on

The issue had been widely expected and brought the total amount raised on the bond market so far this year to £15 billion, including £2 billion of existing stock that the Bank had already been carrying on its book. Against this, redemptions totalling [3] billion must be stripped out. The latest issues are expected to be easily absorbed by City institutions, which have been diverting surpluses away from equities. But Kleinwort Benson, the stockbroker, says that far from slowing the pace, the Bank is more likely to increase its funding pro-gramme. The broker's PSBR estimate for 1992-3 is £33 billion, which would require the issue of gilts worth £39 billion to meet the govern-

Stock Jumpoding Extillion)	Stock	Price	4	75	Gez.	Outros Fmills	ndine		Pulo		뛢	Go red yld
	SHORTS	(under 5)	ears)			970	Treas 14% 1998		1205-	+ 20 -	11,59	9.30 710
J.350 Back	LZVS 1992	100-	- 5	12.21	9.63	3,727	Trees 92/6 2002			415	9.39	100
	31/5, 1992	.190*-		13.41	- 9.58	1,703	Trees 10% 2005		107%	+15	9.31	4.99
	6% 1993	97.		6.16	- B.32	3,012		04:-	66°m	42 10	513.	7.50
	FV% 1993	99%	4 Ç	8.35	9.24	1.680	Treas 1142 200	1.04	10th	+1°=	8.10	8,69
	10% 1993	10T-	e 5a	9.96	9.22	1442	CORT 9-5 2005	-	113%	- 11ha	10.13	6.14
	12-6, 1993	103-	~ N	1213	9.20	2,200	TITMS 121/K 200	3475	173	-1 th ys	9,09	2.09
	1.JU% 1993	105%		13.03	9.31	1 33		- 49	44-	A Page	30.10	9.08
	144 I994 .	99°n ↑	4.50	4.57	9.01		TE	NGS.(ov	- 57 -
	9% 1994	294 m	* No.	9.01	- R.99	f . 1200		1403.00	C 13 A		-
	10%, 1994 127%, 1994	1014 1014	*50	9.84	9.134		Trees 544 2003		630"	+144	142	8.00
	F/A 1064	107%	* 54 P	1176	9.18		Tress (P.S. 20)		975 t	+Pte -	8.73	8.80
	M45.1004	109%	* No.	12.61	9.15	4.621	Trees 99, 2008	5-U/	118	414	9.96	9,05
	% 1990-95	3074 90%	* 51	13.44	9.23	1 250	Lies 73-48-300	4 50	1014	417	8.85	6.76
	10-2 1995	300%	- %	3.21	5.50	1,200	Tress 8% 2009	- A	131%	4-) U _m	16.28	9.08
350 17845		100	* 3	9.94	9.04		Conv 9% 2011		93°a	+10	8.60	8.77
בעול שנ	1748, 1686	1300-		11.27	9.08		Trees 59% 2008		107m	446	8.82	6.75
- 1162	1210 1303	170-2	4.5	11.55	-924		Trees Pris 201		. πP=	+125	- 7.80.	8.60
-							- Each 138 10 T	715	90% 1	. +l=,	8.50 "	8,73
	MEDIUM	S 6 to 15	ward			. 7	- Annual Control		1307	12.	9.20	6.60
	95 1992-16	NOTE:	,		. sen	1.73	3-	UND	ATED:
	10% 1995	105%		9.67	, 440	276	Consols 27/1		. 274
	3-16 1996	112		11.75	J.5.23	975 .	Tropas Zan		- 274		9.05	` •••
	14% 1995 -	114		11.20	9.26	56	Trees 3%		32	* 1	9.13	•••
	19% 19%			12.83	9.34	. :127	Coppe Of the 's		42.		9.28 5.99	***
	87.S 1997	97'a	+ Ta '	ND.	1.94		Consols 4%		439-2		9.13
	O-5, 1997	105 ^m 4	4 4	9.96	10.6	1.909	MAT DE BAR		39°a1	1.0	8.93
	13-8. 1997	3144	* 5	22.55	9.20	13.5					933	. •••
	Sk 1997	125°x	4.5	12.19	9.35	1		INDEX-	INER	т
MOT Treat		955	re Salie,	730 :	8.37	in:	Trees IL 25, 39			٠. ح		٠.
S Inn	P/K 1098	303-		9.45	2.98	1,100	Trees 11.2% 196		127.	* 1	2.63	3.99
90% Such 935 Trees		1137=	* 	10.57	9.12	. 1350	Des IL242	and Profession	149	3 .	340	400
	15-4 10/2	126%	- e 'B	12.03	9.26	110	Free 41.2-8, 2			* *	101	44
	916 1999	$623° =-	-1	9.20	350		Treat IL 28, 201		14数 .		434	43
	101-16 1499	106"a	+ 15	9.62	0.09	3.4 3	THE REAL PROPERTY.		140		445	437
	104% 1999	107	4 1 % .	0.77	E.99	.4 .530	Tree 11.2-6.2	4 .	13 9. 	100.0	1.16	496
	12°4% (999 9% 2000	115%	47,8	10.43	0.41	- 1,000	Della Ja 2				£16.3	4.34
	73 200 13% 200	100%	+1"=	8.94	8,36	1,000	Trees IL DAY	186	1	ALC: YES	, 4.15	4.71
	10% 2001	1204	+10-	10.75	. 22	, et 250	District.	200 s 12 0 2		ر يدوسا	441	428
		1050	-11-	9.44	8.97	900	Tres IL 2952	24	1000.		408	423

THE WINTER

Britain now offers some of the progress is to be maintained."

BUSINESSES FOR SALE

APPEAR EVERY TUESDAY FOR MORE INFORMATION TEL: DAVID GERMAN 071-481 1982

Market gloom is overdone

hen the Sunday papers are unanimously bearish about the stock market, it is surely time to be hopeful. Conventional wisdom is a fallible guide to financial markets and is always wrong at least twice in any cycle. At the top, when all is bullish, and at the bottom, when the serious money is about to made, gloom abounds. The first six months of 1992 have been a disappointment for investors. The FT-SE 100 index is within four points of its turn-of-the-year level. Since the post-election euphoria ran into the sands, the FT-SE 100 has dropped from 2,737 to below 2,500 at the end of last week. The Sunday press was right about one thing. The mood of the markets will continue to be depressed and depressing.

Contra-cyclical thinkers will remember, however, that one of the contributory factors was overoptimism in the wake of the government's fourth victory. The most attractive possibility for private investors is that if professional traders continue to react badly to their previous ill-founded optimism. the autumn could see share prices at bargainbasement levels. First though, it is worth noting why the rally that followed John Major's return to office petered out and reversed itself.

For the second year running, most economic forecasters have been wrong about the length, if not the depth, of the British recession and have called the turning-point too early. Recovery failed to materialise last year and, as our report on page 17 reveals, the Item club of forecasters, using the Treasury's own economic model, expects that output will show a further fall over the whole of 1992. The Treasury's official budget forecast predicted no more than a weak return of growth this year. The gloomier Item outlook for 1992 is no great surprise, but it calls into question the Treasury's prediction that growth would be brisk from 1993 onward.

n market terms, the upshot has been fairly dramatic. Analysis have continued to downgrade company profit expectations against a background of dividend cuts, failed flotations and negative developments in America and Japan. The policymakers in Whitehall have no room for manocuvre, constrained by an uncomfortable public sector borrowing requirement on the one hand and limited room for interest rate cuts on the other, owing to German domestic monetary policy and the ERM. The consumer is sidelined by a preoccupation with paying down historically high debt levels, still-falling house prices and fears of unemployment.

la es

12 2012

V 8972

- 23±

The second

人名英维

14/11/2 這

rry India

した はぜき

All of this supports, or at least does not contradict, the view that the market is headed lower for a month or two. But a key determinant of equity prices is company profits and here the picture is brighter, though by no means rosy. The obverse of rising unemployment is continued gains in productivity. Lower pay rises will help, too, to maintain gains in unit labour costs. Even with demand flat or falling at home, aggregate profits of quoted companies can still grow. There is a strong gearing effect at work here, with average labour costs twice as big as profits, and the effect should be magnified as volumes expand from America, is a significant component, perhaps 40 per cent, of overall quoted company profits. A recovery here is on the cards this year and next. Lower unit labour costs and more modest investment spending will enable the corporate sector to rebuild its finances and, one hopes, move into surplus during next year, for the first time since 1987.

A further market sell-off would bring about some excellent long-term baying opportunities. The recession may be prolonged and the recovery even weaker than expected, but companies are slowly returning to a more profitable basis. These are classically the conditions for long-term buyers to return to the Passing the buck with the port at the dinner tables of Munich

Anatole Kaletsky believes the G7 have grasped the opportunity to free up world trade summit should especially in surely the leaders of the Group of Seven have better things to do than spend three days eating bratwurst and posing for boliday snaps. They could, for example, settle the Gan trade talks, arrange a worldwide economic recovery, eliminate the American and European trade deficits, and save the Japanese financial system from ruin. If none of these enterprises seemed to matter, they could at least ensure the re-election of George Bush. All of these tasks could be readily accomplished if the G7 leaders devoted even a single session of the world economic summit to serious dicussion of economic issues like fiscal policy, interest and exchange rates and trade.

Unfortunately, to judge by the pre-summit briefings in Washington, Bonn and London, the world's alleged leaders are too busy to deal with such trivial matters. "A summit," one of their sherpas remarked haughtily last week, "is not a negotiating session. It is not for heads of government to go into the minutiae of the world trade talks, to talk about subsidies, tariffa, green boxes. and so on." And one of his colleagues promptly added. "I don't expect commitments on interest rates or discussion of currency targets — these are for finance ministers, not heads of the G7."

As for the one clear decision made at last year's G7 meeting, in London - John Ma-jor's public promise to reconvene a special summit to do a deal on Gatt - this has been airbrushed out of the historical record. Mr Major made no such promise, his officials now insist, even to journalists who heard the words with their own ears.

What Mr Major actually said, apparently, was that the G7 leaders had given "their personal commitment" to conchude the Gatt round. This commitment had been fully demonstrated in the past year. Unfortunately, "a number of tionship like this: "What is the difference between Kohl and Bush? Kohl sticks to his ideas.

even when they are stupid:

Bush drops his ideas, even when they are good."

But blaming Herr Kohl and

Mr Bush for the Uruguay

Round failure only scratches

the surface of the culpability of the seven men assembled in Munich today. While conventional wisdom holds that freeing trade should be the top economic priority for the world's leaders today, economic growth is actually far more blamed for that. But nobody is taken in by such blatant buck-passing, least of all the Gan negotiators who have repeatedly said that the Uruguay Round has settled all technical problems and that political decisions are now required.

In effect, therefore, Helmut Kohl, the G7's present chairman, has administered the mortal blow to the Uruguay Round by excluding it from the agenda at Munich. Herr Kohl has deliberately killed the Urugusy Round in spite of the widespread view that liberalising trade would be by far the most important action governments could undertake to create prosperity at home and promote development in the ex-communist nations and the Third World. Why did a generally sensible and well-meaning chap like Herr Kohl do something as barbaric as killing the Urugusy Round? The simple answer is that George Bush told him to do it. There is no "smoking gun" to prove it, but according to people in Wash-ington who ought to know, Mr Bush told the German Chancellor quite plainly that he would not dare present any Gatt agreement to Congress in this election year. While nobody in America pays much attention to Mr Bush these roadblocks" were still preventing agreement, but heads of obliged to heed the American government could hardly be Uruguay Round. Even so, $120 billion is only about half a per cent of world GDP.

which would fully justify a decisive push to complete the

In comparison, the industrialised countries will have lost about $470 billion of potential output, according to OECD forecasts, in the three years from 1990 to 1992. In other words, it would take four years of trade liberalsation to make up for the costs of recession in the OECD alone.

This comparison is not supposed to suggest that freeing trade is less important than ending recession. The two objectives are much more likely to be achieved together than separately. Freer trade would reduce inflationary pressure, making it easier for governments to pursue expansionary macroeconomic policies, as well as directly stimulating new investment. Expansionary macro-policies, on the other hand, would reduce unemployment and help overcome protectionism; they markets and allow governments to overcome the vocal minorities of losers from international competition in the knowledge that unemployed workers and capital could be rapidly redeployed.

In fact, the expansion of world trade and the growth of domestic output are two sides of the same coin. As the chart shows, they have moved very closely together for most of the post-war period. While the sharp cuts in tariffs and other protective measures in the Kennedy and Tokyo Gatt rounds undoubtedly contributed to the development of world trade, equally important has been the growth of domes-tic demand. This was not only because of the direct impact on the demand for imports, but also because unemployment is a key determinant of the political willingness to implement the rules of free trade. The early 1980s were a period of extremely high unemployment. Not surprisingly, the trade liberalisation agreed at the Tokyo round in 1979 was rapidly hedged about with non-tariff barriers, voluntary export restraints and anti-dumping moves. The decline in American living standards since the mid-1970s surely explained the contradiction between the Reagan and Bush free trade rhetoric and their protectionist deeds.

he seven politicians sitting round the table in Munich today competitive capitalism. They proclaim that the market economy has triumphed over communist central planning. At their annual meetings they insist that the conditions are in place for sustainable noninflationary growth. Yet, almost without exception, their countries are suffering from slumps, political upheavals and financial crises. Despite communism's demise, confidence in capitalism and even at a post-war low.

The fundamental reason for this contradiction seems to me quite simple - since the late-1970s governments have refused to take responsibility for sustaining growth and em-ployment. For years — even decades, in the case of the undernanding Britons - the public may accept the excuse that recessions are acts of God and that containing inflation is the government's only important role. But sooner or later, the people will realise they have been deceived --- that the true measure of economic success or failure is not the rate of inflation but the growth of real wages, employment and GDP. Americans have now reached that realisation - and such is their anger that serious commentators speculate that George Bush may back out of the presidential race. His six dinner companions had better

10

Fryer to grill DTI men

THE trade and industry department's inspectors had better watch out. After 25 years with the Stock Exchange, a number of them as the man responsible for its insider dealing investigations, Gavin Fryer has turned poacher. Softly spoken but eagle-eyed Fryer, aged 53, made redundant by the exchange in April, has now recovered from the shock and is launching his own consultancy. As a one-man operation, with an office in his Weybridge home, Fryer, a father of two, says his services could be particularly useful to any individual or company facing a gruelling interview by the DTI, or their lawyers. "You do need to be very careful before going in to see the DTI for an interview like that but I know all about it and I'm not fazed by any of them, " says Fryer. His most recent role at the exchange, as director of listing, with responsibility for the regulation of all new issues, also makes him an ideal adviser to any company needing to negotiate with the exchange, or foreign governments developing stock exchanges of their own. It was Fryer, after all, who established the USM. The Stock Exchange meanwhile, which will be among the retainers of Fryer's services — he remains editor of its official yearbook will not have been surprised to learn of his enterprise. He has always demonstrated that he has a mind of his own. A Deloittes trained accountant.

Fryer dismisses the Cadbury report as "milk and water".

be a radical restructuring of Britain's regulatory bodies, in the light of recent scandals, including the Bank of England.

Funny money PASSERS-BY did a doubletake outside Wyndham's Theatre on Friday when they spotted posters outside the theatre for Serious Money, Caryl Churchill's 1980 hit play about City mores. Astonishment at the idea of a revival in the impecunious 1990s turned to wry smiles, after a call from the City Diary established that the posters had only been temporarily exposed as the theatre management took down posters from its current production and put up new ones for its next, a play called Philadelphia Here I Come! by the Irish playwright Brian Friel. The theatre confirms that there are no plans for Serious Money to return. "It's had its day really, hasn't it?" says the man in the box

Yesh, I remember AT LAST - scientific proof that taking a drink or two at lunchtime is an activity that ought to be encouraged. After laboratory tesis, scientists at the Institute of Alcohol Studies, in Philadelphia, claim that, contrary to popular belief, alcohol enhances memory storage rather than diminishing it. Dr Ronald Alkana and Dr Elizabeth Parker ran a series of tests on mice injected with alcohol and found that their memories improved. Drunken mice, they say, steered clear of parts of their cage where earlier they had been given an electric shock. Sober mice, on the other hand, headed straight for exactly those areas - and promptly got another shock.

Dixon roars off

ROGER Dixon, aged 63, a senior partner in the City law firm. Travers Smith Braithwaite, has just completed a double retirement. Earlier last month, he handed over the reins after a high-profile year as Master of the City of London Solicitors' Company, the City branch of the Law Society. This week he retired from Travers, after 39 years with the partnership. An oldstyle corporate lawyer, with more than 60 flotations behind him, Dixon wore a bowler hat to the office for most of his working life, but in recent times tried to adopt a more yappified image, buying three red Porsches in a row. To celebrate his retirement he has now traded in his old 944 for a blue 911 and says it will be useful for "zipping around town". As President of the City Law Society. Dixon was at the heart of the debate on fixed fees and rights of audience but his personal regret is, he says, that standards in the City have steadily declined despite massively increased regulation. "In the old days there was a general assumption that you should be good," he says. "Now if the rules don't specifically say you mustn't do something, people will do it regardless of whether it's right or wrong."

Eastern promise MIVAN Overseas, the subsidiary of the Ulster construction firm that was responsible for building Saddam Hussein's £15 million administrative palace in Baghdad, only to see it flattened in one of the first air raids of the Gulf war, less than a month after completion, has pulled off another Middle Eastern contract prestige. It has landed the £4 million refurbishment of the Dome of the Rock, the famous Jerusalem Mosque, which is the third holiest shrine in the Islamic world. Mivan is sending a team of skilled Ulster craftsmen to Jerusalem this month and seems to be undeterred by its experience in Iraq when more than 30 of its expatriate work force were held as "working hostages" in Baghdad for four months after the Kuwaiti invasion. The company will be responsible for building a new copper dome, which will then be electroplated with gold. "We are very honoured to have this job. It's one of the most prestigious in the world at the moment," says director Grenville

CAROL LEONARD

CHARITABLE TRUSTEES NOW HAVE EXTRA PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITIES 3

because the production and consumption of goods and services is the ultimate aim of all economic endeavour, but also because prosperity creates the conditions for political stability, poverty alleviation, environmental protection and pleting Uruguay Round could add at least $120 billion a year to the world's total income.

calculation published in World

Economy last month

suggested that com-

SO WE'RE OFFERING THEM SOME EXTRA PERSONAL SERVICE

Making the most of your charity's assets policy to be matched to individual has always been a priority.

Now, the Charities Act 1992 has placed even more responsibility for effective management on the shoulders of the Trustees; and the Fledgeling Charity Portfolio has been designed to help you meet that responsibility.

It is managed by Flemings, who already look after £1.2 billion of charitable funds.

of £20,000 or more, and is entirely flexible, allowing investment charity objectives - with the additional option of a high-interest bank account to maximise returns on assets held as

Most important, it gives you access at all times to the Portfolio's specialist managers and administrative team who will be happy to provide any necessary advice, help and information.

It is open to charitable portfolios For further details, please send us the coupon, or call Mike Robertson on 071-638 5858 extr. 8603.

FLEDGELING CHARITY ORTFOLIO

FLEMING INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT LIMITED

The value of any investment may fall as well as rise, and you may not get back the amount originally invested

•	Ta: Fledgeling Charity Portfolio, 25 Copthall Avenue, London EC2R 7DR.	π
ı	Please send me your information pack on the Fledgeling Charity Portfolio.
ı	Please telephone me to arrange a preliminary presentation and discussion.
١	NameCharity
	Address
	Telephone

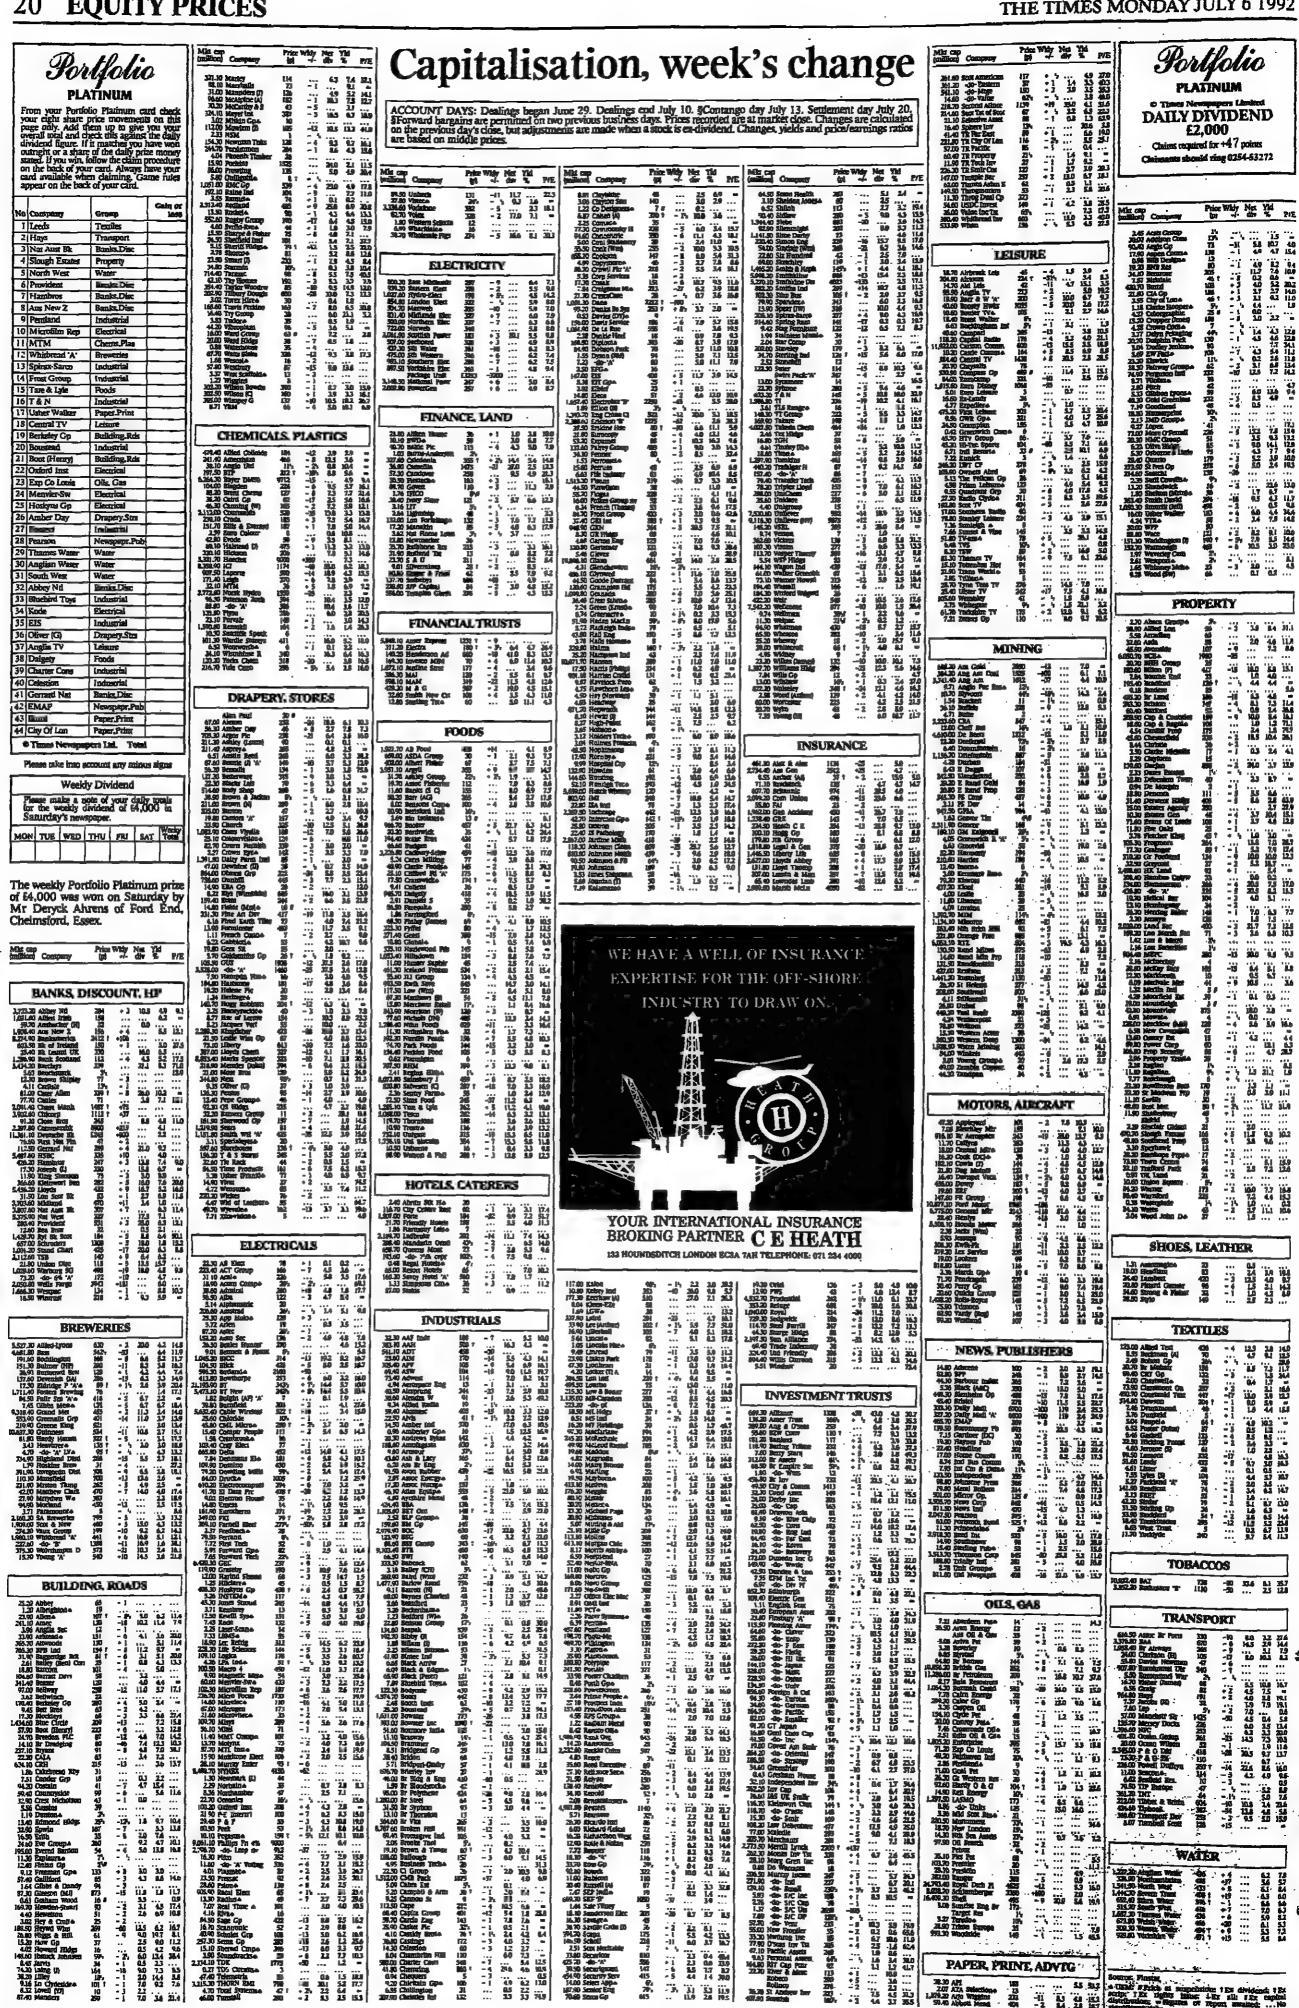

1

PAPER, PRINT, ADVIG

155 231 201

-11 D

5.5 5.2 A URAN P Prick at sum Scrip 7 Ex righty has 41 152 discriminator with marks 28 187 significance with marks

True grit as MSI fights to come right

ALMOST three years ago to the day, Citicorp Scrimgeour Vickers selected MS International as a growth company to watch. CSV is no longer with us and MSI has done little ever since, buffeted by the contraction in defence work.

Pre-tax profits have collapsed from $4.57 million in 1989 to just £250,000 in the last financial year. Not surprisingly, the shares have dived. Peaking at 148p in 1989, they now trade at 25p after touching a low of 19p in April.

Against fhat background, one would expect the mood at the company's Doncaster headquarters to be gloomy. It is hardly cheerful but there exists a gritty determination that the worst has passed. Last week MSI held the annual dividend at 2.5p and Michael Bell, the chairman who has presided over the fall from grace, spoke with some confidence of a strategy that "au-gurs well for future growth".

Mr Bell said the results. though showing a recovery from profits of £59,000 one year ago, belied the progress made in restructuring the business. Unwanted subsidiaries have been sold and the numbers employed in contin-uing business have been reduced by 9 per cent. In mid-1991 MSI sold its lossmaking steel alloy foundry and merged two businesses to form MSI-Forecourt Structures. Further rationalisation took place at MSI-Hughes, the automotive components company, where volumes have declined. Borrowings were reduced from £4 million to [782,000 year-on-year and interest charges declined from

FEFER

£611.000. MSI should earn around £1 million before tax in the current year, even without an uplift in the economy. A bit speculative, but certainly one to keep an eye on when the economy does show signs of

MARTIN BARROW

REPORTING THIS WEEK

City counts on S&N for cheer

THE City is expecting a recession-proof performance from Scottish & Newcastle today. The market is looking for between £215 million and £229 million for the year to April against £217 million last year, A rise in the dividend from 15p to 16p-16.5p is also expected. S&N's beer sales are felt to have fallen by less than the other brewers', Center Parcs and Pontins ought to have held up, and the Stakis pubs acquisition is thought to have helped retail profits.

A rise in the Tiphook dividend from 13.8p to 16-16.5p is expected, backed by a rise in profits from £76.1 million to about £95 million. The container business is expected to have done well, making up for a poor year in trailers. The balance sheet is expected to remain debt-laden, with debts still expected at 280 per cent of shareholders' funds.

Brokers expect Asda will have managed to make between £80 million and £90 million in the year to April, down from last year's £168.3 million. But the figures will be distorted by writedowns and property revaluations and are expected to show a substantial loss at the attributable level. The City thinks Asda, under Archie Norman, the chief executive, faces a long haul to recovery, which will be signalled in a dividend cut from 4.8p to 2.1p.

TODAY

interiore: Evode Group, Finele: Asde, Associated Nussing Services, Dasian Holdings, Pletignum, Reli-ance Security; RPH, Scottish & Neercastle, Tiphook, Wilebaw.

Long haul: Archie Norman, chief executive of Asda, which reports today

Economic statistics: Credit business (May), Cyclical indicators for the UK economy (May — first easterness)

TOMORROW

Results are due from two of the regional electricity companies, Sechoard and Yorkshire. The market expects Seeboard to have risen from £67.8 million to between £95 million and £103 million. Yorkshire is thought to be one of the few companies to have controlled costs in its supply business enough to allow it to take all its allowable supply profits. A rise from £117.4 million to £140 million is on the cards.

Also reporting is Securicor. The market expects something like a 50 per cent increase to £21 million for the latest half year, and a dividend up almost 20 per cent to 0.74p.

Interima: Gresham Telecomputing, P3P, Securicor, Securiguard, Security Services. Finals: Associated British Engineering, Barnec Industries, Coletax and Fowler, Creighton's Naturally, Evans of Leeds. Howden, Kaluzi, Oceanics, Real Time Control, Seeboard, Torax

WEDNESDAY

Latest news from the high street will be mixed at best. Dixons is thought to have the year to April 1991 to anywhere between 557 million and £72 million. Losses of up to 520 million are forecast from the American business.

Budgens is expected to have made a £3 million profit for the year to April, against a £13.7 million less last year.

About 430 million of underrecovered profits (a vagary of electrical industry regulation) is not expected to stop Eastern Electricity raising its dividend from 14.4p to 16.5p out of pre-tax profits up from £106 million to about £135 million. Interims: Cattle's (Holdings). Gardiner, M&G Duel Trust, Newman Toriks Finals: Bespek, Bogod, Budgens, Docens, Eastern Electric-ky, French Connection, Gibbon Lyons, Hočas, Tops Estates.

THURSDAY

Poor economic recovery clouds the outlock for Rank Organisation. Against £96 million for last year's first half, the City expects at best an unchanged figure. Pessimists are looking as low as ESS million.

as low as SSS million.
Interims: Dontito Printing Sciences, Eurocamp, Kershaw (A) & Sons, Rank Organisation. Finalst. Barner Hornes, Burtonwood Brewey, Greene King, Harland Simon, Jurys Hotel, Scottish Hydro-Electric, Stanley Leisure, Stewart & Wight, Symonds Engineering, Vardy (Reg).

Economic statistics: Details of employment, unemployment, earnings, prices and other indicators.

FRIDAY

Interima: Malvern UK Index Trust. Economic statistics: Usable steel production (Jun), RPI and tax and price index (Jun), quarterly analysis of bank advences (Mar — Jun).

GEORGE SIVELL

The survey showed that quarters expecting little or no effect on export performance if the government does not ratify the treaty. However, over half the companies taking part admitted that they may not be fully aware of all the implica-

eral of the Institute of Export, agreed with the findings. "I think that manufacturers and exporters are right to believe that if the Maastricht treaty is

Manufacturers' optimism about exports declines

By OUR INDUSTRIAL STAFF

have become less optimistic about export orders in the past three months, according to a survey published today.

The survey, which was conducted by Gallup for DHL, the express air carrier, revealed that 48 per cent of respondents had good or excellent expectations for exports, compared with 52 per cent in a similar survey three months ago.

Blame forthe worsening outlook was laid at the door of economic and political factors abroad, which were seen by 30 per cent of the 500 companies surveyed as the most important factors likely to determine orders over the next three months.

There was widespread agreement that exports were likely to pick up over the next year. Two-thirds of companies believed that prospects over the next 12 months were good or excellent, a slightly higher number than in the previous

DHL survey. Those surveyed cited Europe as the main growth market for British manufacturers, with 58 per cent of those already exporting to the EC indicating that they ex-pected sales there to rise in the next 12 months. But in the earlier survey 65 per cent were forcasting higher EC sales.

Other key growth markets for exports were seen as North America and the Middle East. where 35 per cent and 30 per cent respectively saw greater sales in the next 12 months.

British companies are largely unconcerned about the ratifi cation of the Maastricht agreement, with almost three-tions of Maastricht. Ian Campbell, director gen-

BRITISH manufacturers not ratified there should not be a significant effect on export sales performance. Maastricht represents a stage in the political and economic progress towards European monetary union. The real importance of the single market for British business is the vastly increased domestic market with the significant reduction in controls and barriers which it represents," Mr

Campbell said The survey also revealed that only one third of manufacturing exporters believe that Britain is ahead of its overseas competitors in coming out of the world recession. Over 40 per cent think that Britain is lagging its rivals in this respect.

Oil demand has risen, says report

BY OUR CITY STAFF

UNDERLYING demand for crude oil produced by the Opec nations has risen by one million barrels per day so far this year, according to the July world oil report produced by Kleinwort Benson, the securities house.

World oil stocks are at the lower end of the range covered in the past three years, which tends to provide support for oil prices at current levels, the report says. Kleinwort Benson expects Brent crude to average $20 per barrel this year rising to an average $23 per barrel

Mehdi Varzi, the author of the report, says there is an early need for Opec to tackle the eventual resumption of Iraqi crude oil exports. Prospects for a partial lifting of the oil embargo against Iraq are likely to improve in 1993 when the American election is over. "The politics will be far more important on the Iraqi quota issue than the mathematics. Our hunch is that Opec will re-absorb Iraq into the quota system," he says.

O&Y filing indicates rise in property value

THE book value of Olympia & York Developments' revenueproducing real estate for the year to January 31 rose to C$6.86 billion (£3 billion), from C$5.3 billion the previous year, according to documents filed late last week with an Ontario court.

The documents appear to contradict earlier reports saying that O&Y, headed by Paul Reichmann: results soon

Reichmann, would write down its property portfolio by C$2 billion to C$4 billion. The figures were released as part of the support schedules used to prepare O&Y's financial statents, a company spokesman said. The actual results are to be released next week.

The data excluded O&Y's Canary Whari project in London's Docklands. Canary Whari could suffer a writedown, as it is now in the hands of a court-appointed administrator and because of the weak commercial property market in London.

The fair value of the assets for 1991 was calculated at C$7.48 billion. The 1992 fair value was not provided in the statements. The book value of O&Y's revenue-producing Canadian properties slipped to C$1.14 billion from C$1.2 billion in 1991. The 1991 book value of the revenueproducing Canadian proper-ties was not included in that for the entire company.

When this figure is included, the book value for 1992 is

C$6.86 billion, versus C$6.5 billion. The book value of Olympia & York (US) Holdings slipped to C$2.41 billion from C$2.42 billion in 1991. O&Y (US) Holdings includes at least 31 American properties, including Manhattan's World Financial Centre.

water now apply for shares in Wellcome, eminternational pharmaceutical group. Mand it is well worth noting that the earlier you apply the more likely it is that your application will be treated favourably.

> Speak to your broker direct or call The Share Information Line (open 7 days a week 8am to 10pm) on 081-944 1242 to receive a Prospectus and Application

You'd do well to make contact today.

SHARE OFFER

RACING

O'Connor leaves

Ascot behind in

Eclipse triumph

By Richard Evans, racing correspondent

A ROCKING horse, an old adage and the advice of a sage helped Warren O'Connor to forget the pain of Royal Ascot and emerge triumphant at Sandown on Saurday as Kooyonga swept to a thrilling victory in the Coral-Eclipse

The group one success was ust reward for the brilliant

Irish-trained filly following her disqualification in the Prince of Wales's Stakes less than three weeks earlier. Yet, in many ways, the taste of success was even sweeter for her young jockey.

At Royal Ascot, O'Connor's

unwieldy whip action was responsible for Kooyonga's defeat in the stewards' room - and he knew it. He relived the nightmare by watching a video of the race and seeing what prompted the Ascot stewards to impose his latest riding ban for careless or improper is what made me change everything. When I saw I was looking round (while hitting the horse), I saw I was doing something wrong." he

An earnest desire to learn from his mistakes was the first, and probably most important part, of the rehabilitation process. "I knew if I didn't change, I would get suspended again. I didn't want that. I have been suspended four times this year."

And so O'Connor, aged 24, took himself off to the apprentices school at the Curragh.

With the help of a rocking horse and the advice of Ton-

my Carmody he started to iron out the faults - notably a high whip action and looking around as he used his whip which made his action look

"Tommy told me to use backhanders and to look in front the whole time instead of turning round. I have changed my style but I will still have to change it more."

In the end the whip was never raised in anger at worse than ever.

explained.

"I watched the race and that classed 11 rivals, having been last but one turning for home.

O'Connor as he entered the winner's enclosure would have

"I owed Kooyonga some-thing, and I didn't have to hit her." O'Connor joked.

done justice to an Itish crowd.

Michael Kauntze, trainer of Kooyonga, was the first to pay tribute to O'Connor. "He learnt his lesson. He is a good jockey and a very good big-race jockey. He might not be so good in a seller at Leicester

Mitsuo Haga, the Japanese golf course developer who bought Kooyonga in May 1991 for $1.2 million, was on hand to witness the triumph and confirmed the Japan Cup

"arrived" on the British racing scene to the same extent as the Arabs, but with Drum Taps, the Ascot Gold Cup winner, also Japanese-owned, a trend is beginning to emerge.

Interestingly, Haga has recently bought part of Spendthrift stud in Lexington to where Kooyonga will be sem at the end of this season. His breeding operation will be aimed ar providing runners in Opera House, who finished second to Kooyonga, will probably now step up to one-and a half miles with an autumn campaign in mind, while third-placed Sapience could run in the Princess of tomorrow prior to the King

George VI and Queen Eliza-beth Diamond Stakes.

Big race details

Wales's Stakes at Newmarket

Britain and Japan.

The Japanese have not as her main objective.

on a Monday evening."

The cheer that greeted

Britain's Olympic athletes have their medal chances put in perspective at the Bislett Games in Oslo

Zelezny spears Backley's world record

FROM DAVID POWELL, ATHLETICS CORRESPONDENT

A TRIP to his garage could provide Steve Backley with the the tool he needs to regain the javelin world record in the TSB Grand Prix at Crystal Palace on Friday. Jan Zelezny, of Czechoslovakia, relieved Backley of his record here on Saturday, using another new design of javelin, one which the Briton has yet try in competition. But Backley may be unable to resist it any Backley has been keeping his Nemeth 2000 javelin in his garage and, after throwing almost ten metres less than Zelezny in Saturday's Bislett Games, his chances in the Games in Barcelona look less secure. A quick riposte is required and the memory of two years ago, when Backley regained the record at Crystal Palace six days after losing it to Zelezny here, invites the ques-tion: can he do it again?

In 1990, Backley was tempted by what was then, too, a new-design Nemeth - a rough-tailed model which has since been outlawed. The 1992 model Nemeth is not approved for the Olympic Games, but is legal for grand prix competition. Where Backley may gain. or lose, from raiding his garage this week is in finding out whether he has as much to make up on Zelezny at the Olympics as the difference between them on Saturday suggests.

"Can he throw 90 metres with the ordinary javelin?", Backley asked after his defeat; the answer was that Zelezny had: 90.02 in Ostrava the week before. Backley's world record with an "ordinary" javelin was 91.46, but that was in January. Zelezny not only extended the world record to 94.74 here, but had three more throws over 90

"Nemeth has sent me one of his javelins." Backley said. "I have only thrown it in warmup. I didn't feel in the right shape to throw it tonight. When I am fresher, I will have a go with it, perhaps on Friday."

Here, as in Stockholm two days earlier, was a reminder that Britain must not expect too many gold medals from Barcelona. Though a dozen Britons are in contention, the line between success and fail-

Linford Christie and Liz McColgan are two of the dozen. Christie, unbeaten this season, defeated Olapade Adeniken in the 100 metres, but only on the dip, in 10.17sec; the least McColgan had wanted was a British record in the 5.000 metres. but she was some way off that.

McColgan, the world champion at 10.000 metres, has still to break 15 minutes for 5,000 metres. She was ten seconds slower than Elana Meyer, of South Africa, had been in Stockholm: Zola Pieterse's British record is 14min 48.07sec and Ingrid Kristiansen's world record 14min 37.33sec. "I was pleased to win, but disappointed in the time," McColgan, who was not pressed in recording 15min 01.86sec, said. However, just because her plans went awry here, she does not wish us to fret. All she needs to do is listen to her husband. "Peter has been hitting his head against a brick wall, telling me to ease down before races. McColgan said. There would be no arguing before Barcelona: she will taper down from her 80 miles a week.

Tom McKean, with 1min 44.75sec, became the fastest European this season over 800 metres, but still finished only fourth. Kevin McKay, running the Dream Mile for the first time, confessed that he "gave the race too much respect", and was always near the back, finishing seventh. Noureddine Morceli, the 1,500-metres world champion, suffered another defeat by David Kibet, of Kenya, in 3min 52.32sec.

Tom Hanlon is becoming Britain's best outside Olympic chance. A steeplechase time of 8min 13.65sec is no disgrace, but he made it sound like one. "I know I'm in better shape than that," he said. "My last 1,000 metres was rubbish." He is adamant he can beat the Big dipper: Christie (No. 61) outleans Adeniken, of Nigeria, to win Saturday's 100 metres

Africans and, though third here, troubled two of the best of them, Azzedine Brahmi, and Matthew Birir.

☐ Noisy-le-Grand, France: Lyudmila Rogachova, of the Commonwealth of Independent States, won the 1,500 metres in 4min 01.22sec on Saturday, the fastest time in the world this year. The world champion, Assiba Boulmerka. of Algeria, was fourth.

(Est), 68.76; 3, K Poney (1987), sound BBERSTATT, Germany: Infaten meeting: Men: High Jump; 1, J Box (Cubu), 2.38m; 2, H Corney (198), 1 C Thrantand (Ger), 2.30. NOISY-LE-GRAND, Prance: Inter meeting: Men: 4x100m relay; Fr well-contrived move from a midfield scrum. Stensness dropped a goal but it seemed not to matter when Berry

fumbled Hopley's kick ahead and De Gianville scooted off down the touchline for the try.

Minutes later the Bath centre was carried off with concussion after a heavy tackle on Within five minutes of the second half Mannix kicked two more penalties, and the lead disappeared when he dummied twice from a nuck before sending in Stensness. England developed the occasional drive but the back of the lincout was a disaster area and

New Zealand, the wind at their backs, retained control.

Berry left him prone.

ALSO RAN: 5 Arcangues, 11-2 Zoman (6th), 8 Rock Hopper, Twist And Tum (5th), 9 Terimon, 14 Young Buster, 33 Free Pyer (4th), 65 Heishamm, 200 Melleby, 12 ran, NR Mottamem, 194, 195, 84, nk, nd, M Kaustes in Instend, Toise, C4 TD; 57.90, 52.80, 64.90, DE: 827.70, Trio: 8178.80, CSF: 826.41 2min 10.53eec. Sandown as Kooyonga out-Seattle Rhyme poised for York comeback

SEATTLE Rhyme, winter ante-post favourite for the Derby, is set to make his longawaited seasonal debut at York this week (Richard Evans

The David Elsworthtrained colt has been blighted by a series of niggling injuries, which have kept him off the racecourse, but he has been pencilled in for the Petergate Median Auction Stakes over nine furlongs on Friday.

"He's fine but we'll make a final decision on Wednesday,"

Elsworth said yesterday. Silver Wisp, third in the Derby, will run at Chepstow on Thursday evening in the Welsh Brewers' Premier Stakes where the Geoff Wragg-trained Torchon is a definite starter.

Geoff Lewis, trainer of Silver Wisp, confirmed yesterday that the King George VI and Queen Elizabeth Stakes is the colt's prime target.

Silver Wizard, second in the Norfolk Stakes at Royal Ascot. will miss the Black Duck Stakes at York this week and be aimed instead at the Manton Rose Bowl, a listed race over six furlongs at Newbury on July 18 which was won last year by Rodrigo

De Triano. Paul Cole confirmed yesterday that Dilum may be supplemented for the Sussex Stakes following the decision not to run him in the July Cup at Newmarket on Thursday. The ten acceptors for the group one prize are: Elbio, Lion Cavern, Monde Bleu, Mr Brooks, Paris House, Pursuit Of Love, Shalford, Sheikh Albadou, Thab, Wolfhound. Hills bet: 9-4 Sheikh Albadou. 5-2 Shalford, 13-2 Wolfhound, 9-1 ber.

Sandown Park

5.30 1, Exprese Gift (100-30); 2, Segebnish Roller (9-4 fav); 3, Causley (7-2), 6 ran, NR: Aardwafe

4.45 1. Startight Fiver (W R Swintburn, 11-4 lav); 2. Mudelfer (5-1); 3. Eclipsing (10-1). 11 res. 294, 394, 31 Marchanik Tole: $2,46, 51-50, 51-70, 52-80. Tole: $6,20. OF; 66,90. CSF: $15,44. Tiloset $104,02.

Haydock Park

Nottingham 6.45 1. Fancied (11.4 fe/); 2. Not-So Generous (7-2); 3. Saio (20-1), 6 ran. 6.45 1. Pizza Commetion (7-4 tax); 2. Pen-ario Sair (7-2); 3. Crystal Key (8-1); 7 ran 7.15 1. Scaniel Princess (10-1); 2. Ayr Rai-Julie (9-2); 9. Birmstair Bette (7-2 fax); 9 ran. 7.46 1. Birmstair 19-8 faxi (7 Turin)

CYCLING

Quartet calls tune in last Olympic test

By Peter Bryan

THE Great Britain four-man Olympic team time-trial squad of Gary Dighton, Steven Farrell, Matthew Illingworth and Peter Longbottom won its last race before the 100-km (622mile) ride in Barcelona in three weeks time. The riders took the Clarencourt CC 38-mile event by more than two minutes. after being told by their coach. Bob Downs, not to take risks. The event was intended to be on main roads similar to those in Barcelona, but was transferred to a country lanes circuit because of roadworks on the Surrey-Sussex border.

A narrow, twisting course made greasy by steady drizzle required caution, but the quarter averaged a shade under 30mph in spite of riding into a head wind for the last three

The Wembley RC trio of Stuart Shand, Richard Prebble and Robert Kenison led after six miles, but without their fourth man. Simon Horton, who did not start, they were unable to sustain the

The Olympic riders spend the next week at a training camp in Yorkshire before going to Barcelona via Majorca.

RESULTS: Clarencourt CC learn time-trail (38 miles), 1, Great Britan (G Dighton, S Farrell, M lifengworth, P Longbottom), 1th 19mm 35ec. 2, Wermbley RC, 1:21 56: 3, East Grissaed, 1 25-29.

THE * TIMES SPORTS SERVICE

RACING Commentary Call 0891 500 123 Call 0891 100 123

CRICKET Live commentary from the third Cornhill Test match at Old Trafford Call 0839 555 527 Reports and results from the county championships Call 0839 555 510

Calls at 36p per min cheap rate, 48p per min other times inc VAT

RUGBY UNION: NEW ZEALAND TOUR ENDS IN A SECOND INTERNATIONAL DEFEAT

England B succumb to forward power

the area which has been

England's Achilles' heel all tour: retention of possession.

New Zealand XV 26 England B ...

FROM DAVID HANDS RUGBY CORRESPONDENT IN PUREKOHE

THE irony of England B's defeat in the final match of their New Zealand tour here yesterday was that if Stuart Barnes had kicked as well a week earlier, England would have entered their second encounter with the New Zealand XV buoyed up by an unbeaten record. Then he missed everything; yesterday he missed only once but to no

He left the field seething with indignation at the refereeing of Colin Hawke. Yet if England had cause to gripe at Hawke's display, they should remember too the iron grip that New Zealand placed on the final half-hour with their forwards and the ferocity of their tackling.

Where they desperately sought parity at the set-pieces at least, England were dominated - and these were the areas where they had made specific changes in the hope of injecting more momentum into their loose play. The scrum was less solid than at

Australia

on Saturday.

New Zealand......

FROM A CORRESPONDENT

THE new ruck and maul laws came under fire from the Wallabies after Australia edged closer to adding the

Bledisloe Cup to the World

Cup they secured last November, with a gripping 16-15 victory over New Zealand at the Sydney Football Stadium

In a match which saw the lead change six times, Australia delivered the winning blow

nine minutes from full-time when the stand-off half, Michael Lynagh, landed a dose-range penalty goal. The three-match series will move to Both teams lost the scrum

feed several times after driving the ball forward. The Wallaby captain, Nick Fart-Jones.

admitted he was often con-

Brisbane on July 19.

IN SYDNEY

Hamilton and in the lineout they were decisively beaten 23-14. which suggests they might have done better to have retained Gavin Baldwin at loose-head prop and introduce not Hazg to the lineout but Sirns, the Gloucester lock.

England took the lead by scoring tries only to be hauled back by penalties, and seven of New Zealand's 12 awards were within kicking distance. Mannix, the little Wellington stand-off half, landed five of his six attempts and set up Stensness for his try. But the key to victory lay in Pukekohe - A bitterly disappointed Stuart Barnes yesterday condemned the refereeing of Colin Hawke, one of New Zealand's top officials, after England B's defeat (David Hands writes).

Hawke, aged 39 and a traffic policeman, handled

Australia's second international with Scotland last month, in his third major

I can say is that he isn't up to standard or, if he is, then we will have to have neutral

New rules take a mauling cerned the Scottish referee.

Jim Fleming, would be tempted to halt play and give the All

Blacks the scrum feed when the Australians were on their feet and driving forward in a controlled turile-shell shape.

He also believes the new law will lead to more kicking as the defensive team cannot afford to lose the advantage when driving play out from within

Black winger, was attributed with the first five-point try in international rugby, buildozing in typical style through

David Campese inside five

But the Wallabies slowly gained their composure with

Lynagh landing his first penalty goal ten minutes later. In the 23rd minute, the ubiquitous Campese collected a chip kick by Farr-Jones for his 49th

The Wallaby forwards appeared to be taking control until the All Blacks scored a international try.

Va'aiga Tuigamala, the All their own half.

minutes.

The most charitable thing appointment.

New Zealand did just that: the pressure put on an England defence which never wilted led directly to Turner's final try. though that was disputed by England. Barnes and his players had cause to be angry. Their discipline on tour, by and large, has been good yet here they were penalised for jumping across the lineout and for offside in the loose, an area in which the New Zealanders appeared to lead charmed

SCHUITL. England led 12-9 at half-lives. In addition there was a case for a penalty try being awarded after Tagaloa

knocked down Hunter's pass to Hackney, and Barnes himself scored what appeared to be a legitimate try in the first half when England were so dominant - at least as legiti-mate as that Turner was awarded as he drove into the corner flag from a five-metre time. Barnes and Mannix exchanging penalties and Ojomoh scoring a try from Hackney's inside pass after a

Angry Barnes condemns referee

referees in these matches," Barnes said. "I don't like being critical of referees but behalf of the players. Barnes was convinced he you don't come across the world to have a referee do that

You can't let that amount of knock-ons go by. They allowed New Zealand to generate so much drive in the forwards and in the lineout he said we were jumping across. whereas both our jumpers reckon they were being pulled

Although Jack Rowell, the England B coach, said he had brilliant 70-metre try. A feeble Lynagh grubber kick was gathered and the centre.

Frank Bunce, ultimately scored after a sweeping movement which gave New Zealand a 12-8 half-time lead.

The Wallabies climbed back with a try by the centre. Tim

Horan, but Fox regained the lead 15-13 for New Zealand and then Kirwan missed a simple chance when he knocked on only inches from

Lynagh made Kirwan and the All Blacks pay dearly with his late penalty goal while Fox missed with a winning penalty attempt seven minutes from

Tull-time. Scoress. Australa: Tries: Cambese. Horan Penalty goals: Lyriogh (2) New Zestund: Tries: Tugamata, Bunce. Penalty goal: Fox. Conversion: Fox. Australia: Tries-re Poznaza, J Little, Trieran, D Campese: M Lyriagh, N Fardora. D Campese: M Lyriagh, N Fardora. P McGall, J Eales. T Color, D Wison, S Sout-Young Irep. G Morgani. NEW ZEALAND: J Timu. J Kinsan, F Bunce. W Little, V Tugamata. G Fox. A Stracture R Lice, S Paganck Loapit. O Broatt, Limis; R Bridge, M Brewer (1991). J Joseph. M Jones. A Pene Reteree: J Haming (Scottans)

the Wallaby try-line.

full-time.

"no grumbles". Barnes said he felt obliged to speak out on scored the try which was disallowed, the referee saying that he "could not wait forev er" for Barnes to touch down after the England captain had initially been rolled on his Hawke, who spoke to

Barnes after the match, said: 'It doesn't upset me if that's his view of it. We are always open to discussion about

Cheir backs, retained control. SCORERS: New Zestand XV: Tries: Stansness, Turner Pensity goals: Marris. (S). Dropped goal: Stensness. England B: Tries: Clornoh, De Gianville. Conventions: Barrise (2). Pensity goals: Barrise (2). NEW ZEALAND XV: M Berry (Wetarapa-Buch): A McCommick (Carteroury, S Pierce (North Harbour). L Sterrenses (Mantevan), T Tagalos (North Harbour): S Marrist (Wellington), S Crabb (Welksto); M Allan (Terrens), W Galfand (Wadath. captan). G Walsh (North Harbour): G Taylor (North Auckland). S Gordon (Walkato). C Tragestide (Wellington), D Soymour (Cartestury), R Turner (North Harbour) BNGLAND B: I Hunter (Northermoton); 8 Hackiney (Leicester), P De Glanville (Betit: rep. G Thompson, Harlequins), D Hopley (Wespe), T Underwood (Leicester); S Barnes (Betit), option), A Kardoonl (Leicester): M Hyrise (Dras), G Dever (Bath), A Mullins (Harlequins), S Ciornon (Bath), M Heap (Beth), M Bayfield (North amption), N Back (Laicester), B Clarite (Bath), Referenc C Hambe (South Cartestaury). Viars enables France to to tame the Pumas

Buenos Aires: Sebastien Viars scored a try and kicked four penalties to steer France to a 7-12 victory over Argentina in their first rugby union international on Saturday.

The new-look French side opened its tally after eight minutes, when Christophe Deyland, the centre, pounced for the try from a kick by the scrum half, Aubin Hueber. Viars stretched the lead to 1 1-0 with two penalties. Santiago Meson notched Argentina's first points when he landed a penalty after three failed attempts. Soon afterwards. Lisandro Arbizu, the stand-off, reduced the arrears further with a 40-metre dropped goal, but just before half-time Viars scored another penalty to make it 14-6 for France.

In the second half, the Puma backs burst out of their own half, exchanging quick passes. Jorge was stopped just short of the French line but Meson took advantage of the position and scored from another penalty.

Penand scored with a dropped kick but Meson responded with his third penalty. Viars scored France's second try nine minutes from the final whistle, touching down under the goalposts after Hueber and Marfaing had raced through the Argentine defence. Three minutes later, Viars landed another penalty.

It was France's fourth win in six matches of their eightmatch tour. Tomorrow they play a regional team in Rosario. (Reuter) ARGENTONA: L. Criscusio; G. Jorge, S. Meson, H.G. Simon, D.C. Sive; L. Arbizu, G. Camerdon: R. Penez, M. Camerga, P. Generdon: Capitan); G. Lismes, P. Sporteder; F. Mendiez, M. Bosch, D. Cash.

FRANCE: S. Ougler (nor. J.L. Sadourny); P. Sakrit-Arofe, M. Merteng, C. Deytaud (nor. C. Courveille), S. Viens, A. Peneud, A. Hueber, J. Tondo, M. Cécalion (capitaln), P. Benetion, J.-M. Cedeu, C. Destandes; P. Geftert, J.-M. Golova, L. Armany.

Goting: soft
2.15: (77 16)vd) 1, Scottlish Pasik (W R
Switcham, 3-1); 2, Dersollf (7-2); 3, Somer Bridge (14-1), Friendly Brave 11-4 fav. 8 ran.
NP: Slush Remibler, 71, sh hd. Lord
Hurtingdon, Totte: 53.30; 51.40, 51.70,
52.60. DF: 55.80. CSF- 212.23. 1min 35.03sec. Friendly Brave finished third but, efter a severeter enquiry, was placed fourth. Going: soft

Tourn. 2.50 (2m 78)d) 1, Brandon Prisce (R Cochrans, 9-2); 2, Majestic Imaga (S-1); 3, Marzoor Sayadan (16-1), Mootawel 7-2 fav. 9 ran. NR: Karas, Chucklestone. 2, 61. [Belding, Tota: 98-30; 51.90, 52.10, 52.20, DF: FIB.70, CSP: 24.57. Tricagt: $222.66. 3min 47.20ec.

4.10 Coral-Eclipse Stakes - SEE ABOVE

CSF: £15.44. Dicest £104.02.
5.20 [Si 6yd] 1. Gone Savage (S. Cauthen, 7-1); 2, Yes (12-1); 3, Offerstoneth (11-2). Beyohem 4-1 lav. 9 ran 1141 sh hd. G. Bedding, Tote: £9.80; £2.20, £3.20, £2.20, £7.70. CSF: £73.00. Thicast: £443.84 Inin 3,04sec.
5.50 (Im 3/91yd) 1, Dowale (A Munro, 13-2); 2, Springs Welcome (4-1); 3, Cathos (8-1), Kaytak 2-1 lav. 8 tan. NR. Bernish, Rising Tempo, Puff Puff. NR. 264, W lavins, Toter. 5.08; £2.30, £2.70. DF. £18.60 CSE: £29.17. Tricast: £18.78.2 anin 34.58sec. Jackpot £10,375.40 (0.2 winsing ficient, pool of £11,218.68 carried forward to Newmarket formorrow).

PlayUUCK MAIK
2001, Bagin Feasther (3-1 fev); 2 desirably
Boy (5-2); 3. Overpower (7-2); 8. ran, Article California Dreamin.
2.351, Bowden Boy (5-2); 4ev); 2. Terripakhof (5-2); 4ev); 3. Azamus (5-1); 5. rann Article Misnesse.

Beverley

J.S5 1, Wentbridge Lad (5-2); 2, Wesner George (2-1):-lav); 3, Doc Spot (14-1). Variately Dreams 2-1 3-lav, 7 ran. 2-30 1, Memsahb (3-1); 2, Educated Pet (8-4):-lav); 3, Mass Vaxette (5-2): Abectually Nate 9-4 Fesv. 4 ran. 3,001, Alzem (4-6 tav); 2, Crystado (7-4); 3, Vanert (18-2), 4 ran. NFI: Lightning Decision. 3,301, Gelfager (7-2): 2 Britaneau 153-15; 3 4.50 1. Katie-A. (13-8 tax); Z. Aucsion King, (5-2); 3. Admirals Realm (14-1), 7 ran. Nft. Cuben Caratie. 5.00 1. My Dealine (4-1); Z. Moving Cut (11-8 tax); 3. Theloweth (7-2), 7 ran. Nft. Sarmain.

Bath ...

220 1, Sharp Gazette (8-1): 2. Red Leader (7-4 test); 3. Kismetim (3-1): 6 ran.
250 1, Grand Massier (2-9 text); 2. Quadrume (6-1): 3. Winaccomesnaturally (11-1) 4 text.
3.20, 1, Vernoom (6-1): 2. Highland Bestle (11-4 R-fax); 3. Rejai (11-4 R-fax); 6 ran.
3.50-1, Trutifiel Image (4-1): 2. Sure Lord (6-1); 3. Uccealo (5-1). So Superb 5-4 text. 5 ran.
4.20, 1, Area Glef (4-8 text); 2. Second Colours (3-1); 3. Hotest Spring (5-1), 4 ran.
4.50 1, Teligring (8-1); 2. Senson Engress (6-1); 3. Enguse (6-1). Aboto 7-2 fav. 10 ran.
NET (100 Birds)

on Thursday.

D' tili he

to he 211

10

he

its to ILS

ork maked

TADAY JULY

CING

Rabab to relish easier conditions

EL RABAB whose best efforts have seen on easy ground, can lead the second Handicap at leicester today. After being truck into and subsequently vell beaten on her debut at ascot last June, she returned in the autumn to maiden at Hardock Park on good to soft gong.

She started dds on for her victory of hericareer in the Although disappointing that Nuffield Orthotics Appeal run was perhaps a little better than it looked at the time as both the first and second have shown ability this year.

She made her seasonal debut on fast ground at Doncasgain an emplatic win in a ter and completely failed to show her form, coming in last of the seven runners. The handicapper has dropped her quality in the line-up. That criticism cannot be levelled at the Ansells Maiden Stakes with Fret and Woodhunter in opposition. Fret.

TRAINERS

weight sums up the lack of Kempton Park but, having struggled to go the pace for most of the six-furlong trip. failed by a head to catch the more experienced Coy Boy.

Woodhaunter, whose trainwho is highly regarded by er, John Goeden, won this Paul Cole, was odds-on to race last year with the high-

EASERS ON THE FLAT JOCKEYS -413.40 +17.66 -48.75 +17.12

3.30 TATTERSALLS MAIDEN AUCTION SERIES STAKES

(Qualifier: 2-Y-O: £3,262: 5f 218yd) (16 runners)

a favourable impression first time out when two lengths second to Known Approach. a stable companion of Free's. at Salisbury.

Fret is given in a narrow vote to confirm his trainer's faith over this furlong longer

At Edinburgh, Fen Princess is napped to regain winning ways after being beaten a head by Sapphirine over this course and distance last month. She had earlier beaten Sexy Mover by six lengths here with Attadale, who reopanother length away third. Although there is little on form between Fen Princess and Attadale, Fen Princess is running well at present. Also, the talented claimer Jason Weaver, who was suspended for Fen Princess's last run. resumes the previously successful partnership. Windsor's evening fixture opens with a real teaser for the Maidenhead Apprentice Selling Handicap, but Dollar Wine is worth a second look on his first run over sprint distances this term.

WINDSOR

Pistolet Bleu collects Grand Prix in style

8.00 JO HAMBRO STAKES

8.30 NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF BOYS CLUBS HANDICAP (£2,700: 1m 67yd) (10)

1 0322 BOLD BOSS 17 B Henbury 3-9-10 L 2 2118 COMBATTVE 17 (V.D.BF.Q.S) J Gosden 3-9-

Gayo Hara 9 1830 LADY LACKY 27 (V,D,F,Q,S) G Belting 5-8-0 10 /00 TXCXHAN VIXEN $1 J Bethall 47-IL...

9.00 STAINES STAKES (£2,285: 1m 2f 7yd) (15)

1 38-5 CHEVELEY DANCER 18 A De

13-8 Boist Bose, 9-2 Combative, 11-2 Brightness, 7-1 Bid For So., 10-1 Venery, 12-1 Lucky Noire, 14-1 others.

(2-Y-O: £2,302: 5f 217yd) (13)

PISTOLET Bleu was an impressive winner of the Grand Prix de Saint-Cloud yesterday, beating the filly Magic Night by five lengths. Subotica was another two-and-ahalf lengths away third.

Subotica, the favourite, led briefly early in the straight but was soon swept aside by the challenge of Pistolet Bleu on the rails. Magic Night ran on to take second as Subotica weakened.

Pistolet Bleu, trained by Elie Lellouche, is likely to be kept for an autumn cam-paign with the Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe, in which he finished third last season, the principal objective.

At Auteuil on Saturday, the lan Balding-trained Crystal Spirit (Guy Landau) finished third to Ubu III in the £61,665 Grande Course de Haies d'Auteuil, the French Champion Hurdle.

"Crystal Spirit will have a short rest and be brought back for the Breeders' Cup Chase," Balding said.

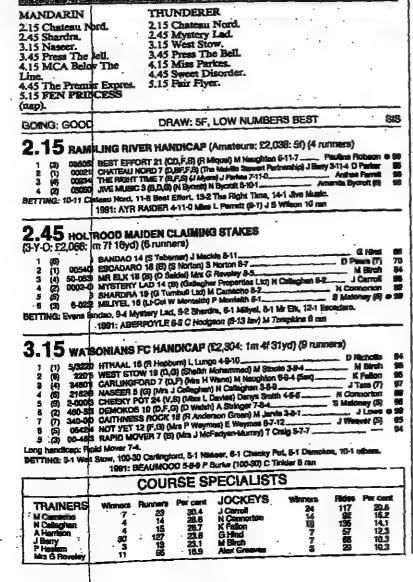

She started	clds on for her handicapper has dropped her have year-old. 4lb after that race, which friends 72
also at Hayd	ck, but could could prove premature H Cod 59
manage or	ly Intro to the fact that Dexier Chief, Jacobs
LOUINGE AND	Pouble Flutter. soundly beaten in a maiden M Storie 39
MANDARIN	THUNDERER RICHARD EVANS
2.00 Fret.	2,00 Woodhaumer. 2.00 FRET (nan)
2.30 Arctic Gu 3.00 El Rabab.	42. 2.30 Warm Spell
3.30 The Sharm	Bidder 3 30 Posther
4.00 American 4.30 Don't Run	loogie. 4.00 Phil-Man. Me Over. 4.30 Serious Hurry.
5.00 Coolaba P	moe. 5.00 Roce Murada.
GOING: GOOD	DRAW: NO ADVANTAGE SIS
2.00 ANSI	LLS MAIDEN STAKES (2-Y-C): 22,559: 719yd) (15 runners)
† @s	AMBIVAL ENTATTITUDE 60 (B Fry) M Using 90
· , 2 (14g) 3 (15)	BLUE BLAZER 17 (AcHeleper Syndicate) B Hanbury 9-0
4 (11)	UARING PAST (K Sturgis) R Boss 9-0
5 (7) 5 (8) 7 (13) 4	FARAFASHICA (A Snipe) M Leach 90
6 (12)	JONSALAN 62 (A Ward) W Carter 90 J Raid 6 St KALOOCHI (Lord of Levisor) R Harmon 90 W Carter
9 (8) 10 (f)	RALOOCHI (Lett of Levinox) R Hannon 90 W Darson SHARE A MCMERT 23 (P Sevil) R Hollinbeed 80 K Darley St SIDE BAR (P Flevin) M Rysn 90 P Robinson
11 (9) d	STEVIE'S WONDER 14 (Man C Viney) W Carter 9-0
19 (2)	CLEAN HORET (N ACCURACY STREET
14 (8) 15 (1)	GYPSY CRYSTAL (E Thomas) R Whitaker 8-8 A Cuthene A Cuthene Syndicate) A Soud 5-8 B Reymond 98
BETTING: 94 Free	5-2 Woodheunter, 6-1 Joneston, 7-1 Kennadys Prime, 10-1 Clear Honey, 12-1 Kalcophi,
Coppel Tel. 14-1 of	1991: MUHTARRAM 90 W Carson (85 tev) J Goeden 10 ren
1 4 7 7 7 7	FORM FOCUS
SILVE DI AZED Y
(levels) at Newmark	Th beaten 10MI by Woodenwee Affect on the Color of the Co
JONDALAM 400 L	of (Cl. good). FRET 2nd beaten Natinghen (8' 15yd, good to firm). WOOD- laveley at Kempton (8).
MENT 6th beeten	good to soft). SHARE A MO- by Regul Acre (Invalid at Web- Sumoto (Invalid at Accot (If, good), Sumoto (Invalid at Accot (If, good), Selection, KENSEDYS PRIMA Amendment (s.) No	O D SIII). STEVER WATER T SHEROTE RESELTS FROM
2.30 sur	ON SELLING STAKES (2-Y-O: £2,226: 5f 216yd) (11 namers)
	BALUETRADE BOY 14 (L. Gibert) B Stevens $-17
1 (2) (1 2 (6) 06	RYTHMC RASCAL 9-(M Britain) M Britain 8-11 K Darley 86 SHADES OF CROFT 44-(M Uniter) M Uniter 8-11 M Wigham —
4 64)	WARM SPELL 14 (LONG CHIMPYON) LONG PROPRIOSON 6-11
D (10) E	ARCTIC BUEST 13 (BP) (Fair/foure Pinig) M Johnston 8-6 Deen McKeown 96 - CLANGOLD 85 (Sold Gold Recing) J Berry 8-6 Garter 9-96
7 (7)	DREAM FRANCES & Brazowy J Brazons 16 N Kennedy (5) -
D (E)	GUV'NORS GIFT 80 (Tompidge Tears) M Tompidge 8-6
10 (11)	P Status M PRINCIPLE 77 (Rotinale 130) 16 Heaton-Citie 84
	k A Little, 3-1 Arotic Guest, 4-1 Grey Purner, 6-1 Mary Marmeld, 8-1 Warm Spell, 12-1 Rythmic Resol	l, 18-1 others. 1991; MISS DOODY 8-8 Paul Eddary (7-2) M Channos 19 ran
	FORM FOCUS
BALLISTRADE DO	9th of 10 to Not So Generous main 2nd beaten 15th by Coconut Johnny (pave Sib)
frac 4851 at Work	changing fill good to firm of Think /1m #/ firm) GREY BIRDER AN house
nerossion Covalet a	Sth beater 1236 by Glent Bi- Concenter (8f, first). 76i by Simply Arrite (gave 7fb) at Warrick (6f, first). 6UV NORS GIFT 13th of 15 to Micky Myori (gave 15) at Heydock (6f, good), MERRY MERIMALD 6th
(levels) at Windsort	of 10yd, good to firm), AHCTIC Telegian is by Facescay (Disease (Date 20) at Percent
Stighton (St 200yo	Styl by Homercular (levels) at - (7), first. Styl by Homercular (levels) at - (7), first.
2.00
(3-Y-O: £3.240:	RELD ORTHOTICS APPEAL HANDICAP m 1(218yd) (11 runners)
2 (1) 09-8	B DECTER CHIEF"18 (V) (Stells) Mohemmed) Belding S-7,
3 (7) 0630 4 (11) 518	1) SELCEN WORDS 55 (Ans D Burgamin) W Mair 92 8 Whitworth 81 1) EL RABAB 24 (3) (Hamden Al-Meldoum) H Tromson Jones 8-13 R Hills 98
5 (8) 5-042	1) LIABILITY ORDER 25 (Madegens Pic) H Bless 8-11 PM Eddery 94
7 (4) 0	OF ANDY JACK 84 (J. Pennin) N. Heston-Ellis 6-10
8 dia 000-0	B MARCWINES 16 (Whitehille Recing Syndomin) E Aleton 7-13
10 (5) 000 11 (6) 40-33	HRISH HONEY 65 (Cr K Heyets) B Hambury 7-18 M Roberts 80 HWRYCREST 57 (Mas N Sheriffe) R Charlon 7-10 NCN-RURNER — Q DOUBLE THE STAKES 41 (SP) (F Lac) F Lac 7-7 R Kannedy (S) 80
Long handloap: 0	the States 74.
BETTING: 7-2 AI F	ini, 4-1 Decine Chief, 9-2 Si Rubeb, 6-1 Marcwine, 6-1 Hels Honey, 10-1 Silhen Words, 14-1
others.	1991: MOONAID 7-11 J Weever (6-1) P Walvyn 14 mm
•	FORM FOCUS
DEXTER CHIEF 2	d bettern 51 by Avice Caro (no.) 17 209yd, firm). AL HAAL 3rd MARCWINS 2nd beaten 17d by Treund (gave 18b) at Baverley (im 18 Bedoor (im 15, firm). Wish HONEY 3rd beaten 18th by Born To Darres (sevent 18 Thest (in 8 Sec
besten 11/2 by Mi	the 17 200 yct, firm). AL. HAAL 3rd MARYUMAN 2010 Design 172 by Firmin (green 100) base (green 220) at Beverley (Im St. Redom (Im II, Imm). IRRIGHT HONEY 3rd beaten 131 by Born To Denice (invest), at Thirds (Im 20 yct.)
SILKEN WORDS	th of 18 to Folia (gave 48) at good to soft).
count (in 27 4690
	COURSE SPECIALISTS
TRAINERS	Winners Purners Percent JOCKEYS Winners Ridge Percent 3 9 28.3 5 Cautholis 24 86 28.2
E Alston	16 in 28.6 LPianott "6 28 23.1
R Chadton	4 18 222 W R Swinbuss 25 122 20.5

	(Qualifier: 2-Y-O: $3,262: 5f 218yd) (16 runners)	WINDSON
- 1	1 (7) SOISTEROUS (No E Aussell) W Mar 8-17	MANDARIN
	3 (11) 80 STREPHON 27 (M Templons Sine) M Templons 88	6.35 Dollar Wine, 7.00 Kamagera, 7.30 Citiqueen, 5.00 Hamsah, 8.30 Combanye, 9.00 Flaming
	S (8) 35 SOLDIERS BAY 2t (Mrs. P Fecher) Lord Huntingson 67 A Munro 97 8 (8) 080 TREPIDATION 48 (Mrs. S York) M Fetherston-Godley 87 D Harrison (3) 70	Altrow.
- 1	7 (14) 8 LORINS GOLD 23 (Mins M Taylor) A Turnell 8-5 A Tucker (5) (8 (18) CHARRIJA (6 Algrann) J Farehause 8-5 G Duffield (9 Duffield) (8) HEAVENLY RISK (Robotale Lide R Hanges 8-5 Pet Eddery	THUNDERER 6.35 Aragona, 7.00 Kamagiera, 7.30 Valseur, 8.00
- (10 (19) GIA2 THE SHARP SIDGER & GAR R HAMPSON R Hollesmont & 5 Paul Endery @ 99	Hamsah. 8.30 Bold Boss. 9.00 Yildiz.
315	11 (13) ALTRUISTIC (W Statutosics) C Wall 84	Richard Evans: 8.00 Garp. 9.00 Flaming Arrow.
~	14 (1) ANDRULA MOU (Airs A Martos) R Boss 62 D Holland — 15 (4) 6 OART JAMES 45 (J. James) J Eastpace 61	Newmarket Correspondent: 7.00 KAMATEERA (nam: 8.30 Bold Boss 9.00 Flaming Arrow.
- 1	16 (Z) 9450 INFANT PROTEGE 23 (Am. C Males) C Britism 8-0 R Hills 82	The Times Private Handicapper's too rating:
_	BETTING: 3-1 Solders Bay, 7-2 The Sharp Bidder, 5-1 Perster, 6-1 Chersus, 8-1 Heavenly Rick, 12-1 Poco. Plante, Intent Protage, 16-7 others.	9.00 YILDIZ
	1991: WILD HONOUR 95 S Whitworth (10-1) W Mur 18 ren FORM FOCUS	GO!NG: SOFT
=		DRAW: 5F-6F, LOW NUMBERS BEST
5	PANTHER 3rd beaten water 2 by Se us (rec Sto) of Newcastle (61, good to firm). POCO PIERMA 2rd beaten 3 by Assistan 2 by Burishki (gave Sto) at Yermouth (61, SOLDHERS SAY 3rd beaten 3 by Assistan 2 by Burishki (gave Sto) at Yermouth (61, SOLDHERS SAY 3rd beaten over 91st by BIDDER 2nd beaten 11st by Materiopoggo (swell). Selection: THE SHARP BIDDER	6.35 MAIDENHEAD APPRENTICE
₩.	Newcastic (6L good to firm). SOLDIERS 8AY 3rd beaten 3t by Assdenza (sec 1b) at Sandown (51, good), NNFANT PROTESE Bit beaten own 9/st by BibDER 2nd beaten 15t by Materiopoggo (swell) Solicion: THE SHARP BIDDER	SELLING HANDICAP (3-Y-O; £1,544; 51,217vd)
		(18 runners)
- (4.00 MADAGANS CLAIMING STAKES (3-Y-O: 22,441: 1m 8yd) (14 runners) 1 [10] 000054 AMERICAN BOOGE 9 (A Richards) C Britain 8-11	1 200 TAIZTEZ 41 (S) J Poeros 97
96	2 (8) D400-00 CAL'S BOY 14 (8) (G Hemition) J Smith 8-11	2 3-(II) PEARLY WHITE 48 (V) G manny 9-8 Tricy Pursupove 4
ahi,	4 (5) $51563 LYN'S RETURN 5 (F) (R Srepann) R Simpson 8-11	5 000 DOLLAR WINE 14 (V,F) it Hermon 9-9 5 000 DOLLAR WINE 14 (V,F) it Hermon 9-1 6 000 DOLLAR WINE 14 (V,F) it Hermon 9-1 6 000 DOLLAR WINE 14 (V,F) it Hermon 9-1
		7 0002 10794 30 W Manago 90 P Bowe 10
- !	8 (2) CHEEKA (A Shipa) M Leach 9-8	5 00-6 SELA SETTEM 7 (3) J Moore 9-1 5 00-6 DOLLAR WINE 14 (4,7) it Hismato 9-1 9 Warsdy Jones (6) 1 7 0002 SEPIN 30 W Mureon 9-0
) et 30	10 (7) 005-050 TAMASHA 30 (BF) (C HIII) C HIII 6-3	10 0000 SALIDSSAUPUM 14 Man II Sarcian 68, M Janny 2 11 0000 LAMASTRE 7 (F) R Hotops 88
28	12 AG 005-015 ACE GREE 14 (CLP) [MR P BMYED] 5 DOWNING 8-0	12 S103 HEARY SAY 30 (S) D Payon Jones 96 Sian Williams (B) 18 41 0000 BSD VSDOMA 90 5 Wheeler 62 8 Thorase 13
13	14 (6) DEC BELLA'S MATCH 320 (Mrs. M Palling) S Palling 7-15	13 0000 PED VERONA 30 E Wheeler 87. 5 Thomas 13 14 -005 BENEFACT 10 (B) D Arbuthot 87. 0 Dunnachle 12 15 8-00 EXCELED 30 B Gubby 87. C Avery 2 15 0000 LORD BELMONTE 7 (B) C Cyeer 8-0. D Tools 1 7 0000 BELLA RUN 11 R Hodges 8-0. B Drowns 7 18 -000 MISSAL 18 (B) Pas Meschal 7-11. R Turner (5) 18
_ 1	BETTING: 11-4 Denoise Beau, 7-2 Lord Nasion, 5-1 Lonesome Treet, 13-2 American Boogle, 8-1 Prel-Man, Lyti's Return, 18-1 Qualdair Mol, Arrogent Daughter, 20-1 others.	15 0000 LORD BELLARUN 11 R Hodge St. B Drowns 7
_ }	1981: DISS 5-11 J Reld (4-5 tay) R Johnson Houghton 10 run FORM FOCUS	18 -000 MISSAL 18 (B) Pat Michael 7-11
	PROPERTY TO ANY ENG SHE See to Many Life (your State)	$-1 Rocky Bey, 8-1 Kipm, 15-2 Aragone, 10-1 Dollar Winn, Tagalas, 13-1 See Crusade, Little Noci, 16-1 Others.
96	with AMERICAN BOOGIE (no. 4b) 751 4th at Newmertest (1m. good to thrm). LYN'S RETURN 246 3nd to Great Lord (pave 16b) to Systematic (cave 6b) at Epsons (1m 10yd, good). DANCING ESM) were of Firs Try Laguard (no. 5b) at Linghaid (7f standard). LORD NASKRA Selection: PHIL-MAN	7.00
=	to Systematic (gave tilb) at Epson (1m 110yd, good). DANCING ESAN wer of $1 to Try Laguard good to firm). Time Shi at Linding (77 standard), LORD NASKRA. Selection: PHIL-MAN.	7.00 EBF DATCHET MAIDEN STAKES (2- Y-O: $1,968: 5i 10vd) (15)
96 ·	(rec Sib) at Lingitiski (71 etandard). LORD NASKRA Selection: PHIL-MAN
- (4.30 MANNY BERNSTEIN BOOKMAKERS HANDICAP	1 25 KAMAATERA 18 A Scott 9-0 W R Swinburn 1 MR BUTCH M Channon 9-0 Paul Eddery 6 3 44 PAR OF JUZICS 14 W Mair 9-0 S Withborth 15 PRINCELY FAVOUR R Hannos 9-0 Paul Eddery 8 8 B RESTY PA 18 S S WHOM 9-0 Paul Paul 10
90 E	(22,758: 5f 2yd) (9 runners)	5 6 RUSTY RANDOM IN HINTIDO 99 PRE BODY 10 6 44 STAPETY FINESSE 16 (BF) R Abstracti 90 T Curint 12 7 RANDOSTREE M McCorrenct 90 J Red 50 8 4884 TWO THISES TWEEVE 20 (BJF) J Berry 90 M Hills 3 9 4 ACTION MIGHT 15 M McJubrint 89 L Decord 11
 	1 (B) 9-00002 SERIOUS NURRY 4 (B.D) (L. Lerrati) M Prescott 4-9-10	7 STAR MINSTREL M McCormick 9-0 J Rold 9
, Jan	3 (7) 00431-0 JUSTAMANDA SI (D.F) (W Holden) W Holden 3-97	8 4 ACTION NIGHT 18 M Moubants 86 L Decord 11 10 84 AGIL'S PET 7 J Substitute 89 L France 4
::.	S (2) 202123 FIGHTER SOLIADRON 25 (V.D.BF) (Colomot Svicoly) Glover 36-15 S D Williams (7) SE 1	11 DENTS DIJ MIDI R Armanorin 8-8
	7 (a) 608-002 NORTH OF WATFORD 7 (D.F.G.S) (Mrs H Wine) M Naughlon 78-12. M Roberts 98 1 8 10 00000 Newszen Malisto 14 (D.F. C) Makeuth M Bittein 47 13	10 64 AGILS PET 7 J Sucinity 8-9 B House 4 11 DENTS DU MDR R Americang 8-8 B Crossiley 2 12 KYREMA GAME P Michael 9-9 S O'Gornain 13 13 OUT OF HOURS J Scripti 8-9 J Villiams 14 14 685 PETFECT PASSON 23 J Bridger 8-9 Dale (18bon 7 15 TECUILA TWIST A Scott 8-9 B Raymond 5
(dig	9 (8) 004000 BARBEZIEUX 18 (S.CO.F.S) (8 Walker) T Naughton 67-12	1-2 Kamastaru, 6-1 Action Nicett, 8-1 Flusty Rise, 10-1 Princely
	DE I FRANC DE MOLES DE MEDICAL LA CORROR LA CARLO DE LA CARROLLA DE CARROLLA CARROLL
Min	1991: MAPINEZZIELDE 4-9-1 G Darfland (6-1) D Wilson 12 ian	Favour, 14-1 Simply Finesse, Tequile Twist, 16-1 others.
mî. Nie Sth -	FORM FOCUS	Favour, 16-1 Simply Princess, Inquise 1995, 16-1 others.
mi.	FORM FOCUS	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: £2,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13)
mî. Nie Sth -	SERIOUS HURRY nk 2nd to Reck Opers (no 9b) under 11 3nd to Rednet (gave 15b) with HOTFOOT at Cutterrick (6, good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1 HARNAH (gave 80) under 8 6th at Neidingham (5)	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: £2,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13)
mî. Nie Sth -	SERIOUS HURRY nk 2nd to Reck Opers (no 9b) under 11 3nd to Rednet (gave 15b) with HOTFOOT at Cutterrick (6, good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1 HARNAH (gave 80) under 8 6th at Neidingham (5)	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: 52,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13) 1.651 SOVERBON PAGE 26 (D.F) 6 Handury 9-7 2 2006 WALKING ON WATER 12 (BLF) R Johnson Houghton
mî. Nie Sth -	FORM FOCUS SERIOUS HURRY nk 2nd to Reck Opers (rec 8tb) at Catterfok (6f, good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) limit to Coppermit Last (rec 8tb) at Geodescod (6f, good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) NORTH OF WATFORD 1st 2nd to Invited to Invited to Invited the Invited (fire 8tb) at Geodescod (6f, good). NORTH OF WATFORD 1st 2nd to here Comme A Star (gave 8tb) at Hamilton (6f, firm). Salection: DON'T PUN ME	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: 52,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13) 1.651 SOVERBON PAGE 26 (D.F) 6 Handury 9-7 2 2006 WALKING ON WATER 12 (BLF) R Johnson Houghton SERIOUS HURRY IN 2nd to Rock Opers (red 6to) at Catterrick (6f., good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) India 1 is and in Rednet (gave 15th) with HOTFOOT at Catterrick (6f., good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) India 1 is Coppermit Last (see 3th) at Geodemood (8f., brown). See 1 india	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: £2,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13) 1.651 SOVERBON PAGE 26 (D.F) & Hardury 9.7 2 2008 WALKING ON WATER 12 (B.F) R Johnson Houghton ($2.3 Faid 1] 3 1-4 VALSEUR 25 (8) Mrs J Cool 9-3 mi. 1999 1995 1995 1995 1995 1995 1995 199	FORM FOCUS SERIOUS HURRY nk 2nd to Reck Opers (rec 8th) at Catterrick (6f, good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) ander 11 3nd to Rednet (gene 19th) with HOTFOOT HARNALF (gene 8th) under 8 5th at Nettingham (5f 19yd, good). DON'T RUN ME 101 2nd to Inveglence (me 2th) at Catterrick (8f, good to firm). FIGHTER SOLIADRON 5.00 SCRAPTOFT HANDICAP (£3, 199: 7f 9yd) (19 runners) 1.60 SCRAPTOFT HANDICAP (£3, 199: 7f 9yd) (19 runners)	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: 52,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13) 1.651 SOVERIBON PAGE 26 (0,F) 8 Hardury 9.7 2 2008 WALKING ON WATER 12 (0,F) 8 Johnson Hougiston 3 1-4 VALSEUR 25 (8) Mrs J Cool 9.3
Mi. 1999 1991 1995 1995 1995 1995 1995 199	FORM FOCUS SERIOUS HURRY IN 2nd to Rock Opers (rec 6to) at Catterrick (6f, good to first), LUCY DANCER 1) and to Coppermil Last (rec 8to) at Geoderood (8t), good to first), LUCY DANCER 1) and to Birst. DON'T RUN ME 1st 2nd to Invigitate (rec 2to) at Catterrick (6f, good to first), PROHTER SCHADRON TONTTRUN ME 1st 2nd to Invigitate (rec 2to) at Salections DON'T RUN ME 5.00 SCRAPTOFT HANDICAP (£3, 199: 7f 8yd) (19 runners) 1 (8) $25355 DOULAB'S IMAGE 74 (D) (Clemental Services) J Glover 5-0-11 S D Williams (7) 92 2 (4) 25-0023 YAZALY 35 (V.SF) (Matricus A) Methoush A Soott 3-6-6	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: £2,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13) 1.651 SOVERBON PAGE 26 (0,7) & Handlary 9.7 2.000 WALKING ON WATER 12 (0,7) R Johnson Houghton 92 J Riski 11 3.1-4 VALSEUR 25 (6) Mrs J Cool 8-3
#1. #10 #10 #10 #10 #10 #10 #10 #10	FORM FOCUS SERIOUS HURRY nk 2nd to Reck Opers (rec 6to) at Catterrick (6f., good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) line to Coppermit Last (rec 9to) at Geodemood (8f., good to firm). DON'T RUN ME 1/1 2nd to Invigitate (rec 2to) at Geodemood (8f., good to firm). POINT RUN ME 1/1 2nd to Invigitate (rec 2to) at Geodemood (8f., good to firm). POINT RUN ME 1/1 2nd to Invigitate (rec 2to) at Sam (gave 8to) ander 8 6th to Heatingham (8f. Sam (gave 8to) at Hardboo (8f., firm). A Garth (7) 92 (4) 28-0033 YAZALY 28 (V.SP) (Marthum Al Mantonin) A Scott 3-6	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: £2,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13) 1.651 SOVERBOR PAGE 26 (D.F) & Hanbury 9.7 2 DOSS WALKING ON WATER 12 (B.F) R Johnson Houghton 98.3 Faid 11 3 1-4 VALSEUR 25 (8) Mrs J Cool 9-3. Paid Edday: 8 4 0-66 MAHUSY 21 A Scott 8-12. W R Switchum 8 5 600 MASTER OF THE ROCK 21 P Match 8-12 T Cultur 13 6 1-6 CTROUGED 83 H Cool 8-12. S Caudin 2 7 -800 REGAL LOVER 25 M 8ut 8-10. M Hills 1 8 CSD SOCKS AND SYLARES 17 P Hams 8-6. W Marries 7 9 CSD SOCKS AND SYLARES 17 P Hams 8-6. W Marries 7 9 CSD SOCKS AND SYLARES 17 P Hams 9-6. W Marries 7 10 -000 REGAL LOVER 25 M 8ut 8-10. K During 8-10. M Hills 1 10 -000 SUZTE SUE 14 D Arbusinst 8-1. K During 6-11 11 AND SUZTE SUE 14 D Arbusinst 8-1. K During 6-11
Mi. Min Min Min Min Min Min Min Min Min Min	FORM FOCUS SERIOUS HURRY nk 2nd to Reck Opers (rec 8tb) at Catterrick (6f, good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) Ind to Coppermil Lad (rec 9tb) at Geoderood (8f, yood to firm). DON'T RUN ME 101 2nd to Invegliste (see 2tb) at Geoderood (8f, yood to firm). FORM FOR WATFORD 101 2nd to Here Comes A Start (see 9tb) at Hamble (9f, good). Set (see 9tb) at Hamble (9f, firm). Selection: DON'T RUN ME 1 (8) SESSE DOULAR'S INAGE 74 (D) (Convenont Services) J Glover 5-9-11 8 D Williams (7) 92 24) 29-023 YAZALY 36 (V,SP) (Maldous Al Mestous) A Scott 3-9-6	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: £2,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13) 1.661 SOVERBON PAGE 26 (D.F) & Handlary 9.7 2.0006 WALKING ON WATER 12 (B.F) R Johnson Haughton 6-2 J Raid 11 3.1-4 VALSEUR 25 (5) Min J Cool 8-3
#1. #1. #1. #1. #1. #1. #1. #1. #1. #1.	FORM FOCUS SERIOUS HURRY nk 2nd to Reck Opers (rec 6tb) at Catterrick (6f, good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) like to Coppermit Last (rec 3tb) at Geoderood (8f, yood to firm). DON'T RUN ME 1st 2nd to Invigitus (rec 2tb) at Geoderood (8f, yood to firm). DON'T RUN ME 1st 2nd to Invigitus (rec 2tb) at Geoderood (8f, good). Catterrick (8f, good to firm). FIGHTER SOLIADRON 5.00 SCRAPTOFT HANDICAP (23, 199: 7f 9yd) (19 runners) 1 (8) 625366 DOULAB'S (MAGE 74 (D) (Clementont Services) J Glover 5-0-11 S D Williams (7) 2 (4) 28-0035 YAZALY 36 (V.SF) (Mattitum Al Mattonin) A Scott 3-0-6	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: £2,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13) 1.651 SOVERBOR PAGE 26 (D.F) & Hanbury 9.7 2 DOSS WALKING ON WATER 12 (B.F) R Johnson Houghton 98.3 Faid 11 3 1-4 VALSEUR 25 (8) Mrs J Cool 9-3. Paid Edday: 8 4 0-66 MAHUSY 21 A Scott 8-12. W R Switchum 8 5 600 MASTER OF THE ROCK 21 P Match 8-12 T Cultur 13 6 1-6 CTROUGED 83 H Cool 8-12. S Caudin 2 7 -800 REGAL LOVER 25 M 8ut 8-10. M Hills 1 8 CSD SOCKS AND SYLARES 17 P Hams 8-6. W Marries 7 9 CSD SOCKS AND SYLARES 17 P Hams 8-6. W Marries 7 9 CSD SOCKS AND SYLARES 17 P Hams 9-6. W Marries 7 10 -000 REGAL LOVER 25 M 8ut 8-10. K During 8-10. M Hills 1 10 -000 SUZTE SUE 14 D Arbusinst 8-1. K During 6-11 11 AND SUZTE SUE 14 D Arbusinst 8-1. K During 6-11
#1. #1. #1. #1. #1. #1. #1. #1. #1. #1.	FORM FOCUS SERIOUS HURRY nk 2nd to Reck Opers (rec 6tb) at Catterrick (6f, good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) and to Coppermit Last (rec 3tb) at Geoderood (8f, yood to firm). DON'T RUN ME 1st 2nd to Invigitus (rec 2tb) at Geoderood (8f, yood to firm). DON'T RUN ME 1st 2nd to Invigitus (rec 2tb) at Geoderood (8f, good). DON'T RUN ME 1st 2nd to Invigitus (rec 2tb) at Geoderood (8f, good). DON'T RUN ME 1st 2nd to Invigitus (rec 2tb) at Geoderood (8f, firm). Catterrick (8f, good to firm). FIGHTER SOLIADRON 5.00 SCRAPTOFT HANDICAP (23, 199: 7f 9yd) (19 runners) 1 (8) 625366 DOULAB'S IMAGE 74 (D) (Clementont Services) J Glover 5-9-11 8 D Williams (7) 2 (4) 28-0035 YAZALY 36 (V.SF) (Mattitum Al Mattonom) A Scott 3-6 W R Swinburn 96 3 (3) 105-000 SLY PROSPECT 9 (8,0,P) (in Mettan) K Winte 4-95 A Genth (7) 91 4 (16) 050-TWO BERDS 247 (8 Thomas) C Horges 3-9-1. R Cochrence 94 5 (11) 300-240 SOLD SETRO 35 (R Lemmin) J Elemen 3-9-1. R Cochrence 94 6 (10) 24-8805 YONGE TENDER 10 (8,0,P,G) (Alex Pain) M FebruaronGodey 4-88 A Namo 95 8 (22) 00503 CANDLE NING 5 (B.C.D.F.F.(5) Felder Pain) M FebruaronGodey 4-88 A Namo 95 9 (12) 00503 SUSANNAS SECRET 13 (D.F.) (New M Kalp) W Carter 5-90 IN Godern (5) 92 10 (10) 00-650 MY CZECH MATE 11 (Pothele Lid) R Henron 3-84 R 186 10 (10) 24-805 YONGE TENDER 15 (D.F.) (New M Kalp) W Carter 5-90 IN Godern (5) 95 11 (14) 00-650 MY CZECH MATE 11 (Pothele Lid) R Henron 3-84 R 186	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: £2,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13) 1.661 SOVERBORN PAGE 26 (0,F) & Handlary 9-7 2 0008 WALKING ON WATER 12 (6,F) R Jameson Houghton 3 1-4 VALSEUR 25 (8) Mrs J Cacil 9-3
#1. #1. #1. #1. #1. #1. #1. #1. #1. #1.	FORM FOCUS SERIOUS HURRY nk 2nd to Reck Opers (rec 6tb) at Catterrick (6f, good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) and to Coppermit Last (rec 3tb) at Geoderood (8f, yood to firm). DON'T RUN ME 1st 2nd to Invigitus (rec 2tb) at Geoderood (8f, yood to firm). DON'T RUN ME 1st 2nd to Invigitus (rec 2tb) at Geoderood (8f, good). DON'T RUN ME 1st 2nd to Invigitus (rec 2tb) at Geoderood (8f, good). DON'T RUN ME 1st 2nd to Invigitus (rec 2tb) at Geoderood (8f, firm). Catterrick (8f, good to firm). FIGHTER SOLIADRON 5.00 SCRAPTOFT HANDICAP (23, 199: 7f 9yd) (19 runners) 1 (8) 625366 DOULAB'S IMAGE 74 (D) (Clementont Services) J Glover 5-9-11 8 D Williams (7) 2 (4) 28-0035 YAZALY 36 (V.SF) (Mattitum Al Mattonom) A Scott 3-6 W R Swinburn 96 3 (3) 105-000 SLY PROSPECT 9 (8,0,P) (in Mettan) K Winte 4-95 A Genth (7) 91 4 (16) 050-TWO BERDS 247 (8 Thomas) C Horges 3-9-1. R Cochrence 94 5 (11) 300-240 SOLD SETRO 35 (R Lemmin) J Elemen 3-9-1. R Cochrence 94 6 (10) 24-8805 YONGE TENDER 10 (8,0,P,G) (Alex Pain) M FebruaronGodey 4-88 A Namo 95 8 (22) 00503 CANDLE NING 5 (B.C.D.F.F.(5) Felder Pain) M FebruaronGodey 4-88 A Namo 95 9 (12) 00503 SUSANNAS SECRET 13 (D.F.) (New M Kalp) W Carter 5-90 IN Godern (5) 92 10 (10) 00-650 MY CZECH MATE 11 (Pothele Lid) R Henron 3-84 R 186 10 (10) 24-805 YONGE TENDER 15 (D.F.) (New M Kalp) W Carter 5-90 IN Godern (5) 95 11 (14) 00-650 MY CZECH MATE 11 (Pothele Lid) R Henron 3-84 R 186	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: £2,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13) 1.661 SOVERBON PAGE 26 (D,F) & Handlary 9-7 2 0008 WALKING ON WATER 12 (B,F) R Johnson Houghton 3 1-4 VALSEUR 25 (8) Mrs J Cool 9-3
100 Miles 100 Mi	SERIOUS HURRY nk 2nd to Reck Opers (rec 8to) at Catterrick (6f, good to firm), LUCY DANCER 11 Ind to Coppermit Lact (rec 8to) at Geodemood (6f, good to firm), LUCY DANCER 11 Ind to Coppermit Lact (rec 8to) at Geodemood (6f, good to firm), DON'T RUN ME 11 2nd to Invigilate (rec 2to) at Catterrick (6f, good to firm), PRINTER SCHADRON 5.00 SCRAPTOFT HANDICAP (£3, 190: 7f 9yd) (19 runners) 1 (8) 98356 DOULAB'S BRAGE 74 (D) (Clememont Services) J Glover 5-9-11 8 D Williams (7) 2 (4) 22-0039 YAZALY 38 (V.SF) (Marktourn At Mexicourn) A Scott 5-6-1 W R Swindburn 96 3 (5) 105-00 SLY PROSPECT 9 (8,D.F.) (R Mexicourn) A Scott 5-6-1 W R Swindburn 96 5 (10) 243806 YONGE TENDER 10 (B.D.F.) (R Mexicourn) A Scott 5-6-1 W R Swindburn 96 5 (11) 305-240 SOLD SETRO 35 (F Thomsol) C Horgain 3-0-1 A Clark 60 5 (11) 305-25 COLLAB PRINCE S (B.C.D.F.) (R Mexicourn) A Scott 5-6-1 W R Swindburn 96 5 (10) 243806 YONGE TENDER 10 (B.D.F.) (R Mexicourn) A Scott 5-6-1 W R Swindburn 96 6 (10) 243806 YONGE TENDER 10 (B.D.F.) (R Mexicourn) A Scott 5-6-1 W R Swindburn 96 7 (2) 00003 CANDLE KING 5 (B.C.D.F.) (R Mexicourn) A Scott 5-6-1 W R Swindburn 96 9 (12) 00550 STATE OF AFFARS 390 (R Thomsol) D Wilson 8-7 D Harrison (9) 92 10 (10) 00-050 MY CZECH MATE 11 (Ruthels Ltd) R Harrison 3-4 M Roberts 97 11 (14) 00-050 MY CZECH MATE 11 (Ruthels Ltd) R Harrison 3-4 M Roberts 91 12 (17) 00-050 MY CZECH MATE 11 (Ruthels Ltd) R Harrison 3-4 M Mexicourn 91 13 (18) 00-050 MY CZECH MATE 11 (Ruthels Ltd) R Harrison 3-4 M Mexicourn 91 14 (17) 00-050 MES BELL PRINCER 25 (C.P.) (C He) C HB 47-12 M Mexicourn 91 15 (17) 00-050 MES BELL PRINCER 25 (C.P.) (C He) C HB 47-12 M Mexicourn 91 16 (18) 00-050 MES BELL PRINCER 25 (C.P.) (C He) C HB 47-12 M Mexicourn 91 17 (18) 00-050 MES BELL PRINCER 25 (C.P.) (C HB 47-12 M Mexicourn 91 18 (19) 00-050 MES BELL PRINCER 25 (C.P.) (C HB 47-12 M Mexicourn 91 18 (19) 00-050 MES BELL PRINCER 25 (C.P.) (C HB 47-12 M Mexicourn 91 18 (19) 00-050 MES BELL PRINCER 25 (C.P.) (C HB 47-12 M Mexicourn 91 18 (19) 00-0	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: £2,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13) 1.661 SOVERBORN PAGE 26 (D.F) & Handlary 9-7 2 2008 WALKING ON WATER 12 (B.F) R Johnson Houghton 3 1-4 VALSEUR 25 (8) Mrs J Cool 9-3. Paul Eddry 8 4 6-66 MASTER 05 THE ROCK 27 P Makin 8-12 T Cale 19-8 6 600 MASTER 05 THE ROCK 27 P Makin 8-12 T Cale 19-8 6 1-6 CTIDULED 8-8 H Cool 9-12. S Cauthon 8 6 1-6 CTIDULED 8-8 H Cool 9-12. S Cauthon 8 7 -800 RESAL LOVER 25 M 8-88 10. M 1-88 1 8 6300 SOCKS AND SYLARES 17 P Harms 8-8. W Newmen 7 9 COSE COMMANT FORCE 21 R Harms 9-6 R Primary 9-1 10 400 SULTE BUE 14 D Arbushot 8-1. E Doyle (5) 10 12 0613 DEAL CANDIDATE 10 (C.F) C Oyar 7-7 M Adams 6-1 13 10043 ELECKYDO 11 R Hodges 7-7 F Norton (5) 12 5-1 Master Of The Rock, 6-1 Sovereign Page, 7-1 Valence, 8-1 Walking On Walker, 10-1 Malaniny, 12-1 others.
版 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1	SERIOUS HURRY IN 2nd to Rock Opers (rec 6to) at Catterrick (6f, good to first), LUCY DANCER 1) and Catterrick (6f, good to first), LUCY DANCER 1) and to Coppermil Last (rec 8tb) at Geodenood (8f, 13dd, 13	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: $2,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13) 1.651 SOVERBON PAGE 26 (D.F) 6 Handury 9-7 2 2006 WALKING ON WATER 12 (B.F) R Johnson Houghton 3 1-4 VALSEUR 25 (8) Hrs J Cool 9-3 Paul Eddary 8 4 0-86 MANTER 0F THE ROCK 21 P Math 6-12 T Chaim 18 6 160 MASTER 0F THE ROCK 21 P Math 6-12 T Chaim 18 6 1-6 CITICUEEN 83 H Cack 9-12 8 Caudhen 2 7 4000 REGAL LOVER 25 M 8ab 8-10 M 148 18 8 0300 SOCNS AND SHARES 17 P Hams 8-8. W Navines 7 9 0300 SOCNS AND SHARES 17 P Hams 8-8. W Navines 7 10 -000 SUZTE SUE-14 D ANDIONE 10 (Chaim 13 E Doyle 9) 10 12 0813 IDEAL CANDIDATE 10 (C.F) C Oyae 7-7. N Adems 6-13 10043 ELECKYDO 11 R Hodges 7-7 F Norton (S) 12 51 Manter Of The Rock, 6-1 Sovereign Page, 7-1 Valueur, 8-1 Wasting On Water, 10-1 Malanity, 12-1 others. MANDIARIN 7-00 Big Blue, 7-25 Meltomby, 7-50 Red Rosein.
Min	SERIOUS HURRY IN 2nd to Rock Opers (rec 6to) at Catterrick (6f, good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) and at Catterrick (6f, good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) land to Coppermil Last (rec 8to) at Geodemood (8f, good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) land to Coppermil Last (rec 8to) at Geodemood (8f, good to firm). Picht Catterrick (6f, good to firm). Picht Catterrick (6f, good to firm). Picht Catterrick (6f, good to firm). Picht Cat Solution (8f, firm) last (rec 8to) at Catterrick (6f, good to firm). Picht Cat Solution (8f, firm) last (rec 8to) at Catterrick (6f, good to firm). Picht Cat Solution (8f, firm) last (rec 8to) at Catterrick (6f, good to firm). Picht Cat Solution (8f, firm) last (rec 8to) at Hamilton (8f, firm). 5.00 SCRAPTOFT HANDICAP (£3, 199: 7f 8yd) (19 runners) 1 (8) S25055 DOULAB'S IMAGE 74 (D) (Cleremont Services) J Glover 5-0-11 S D Williams (7f) 92 (8f) 25-0023 YAZALY 35 (Y.SP) (Anictour A) Metacours) A Solution (8f, firm). 3 (5) 105-00 SLY PROEPECT 9 (80_D.F) (9f) Metal N White 495	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: 52,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13) 1.651 SOVERBORN PAGE 26 (D.F) 8 Handbury 9-7 2 0008 WALKING ON WATER 12 (B.F) R Johnson Houghton 3 1-4 VALSEUR 25 (8) Mrs J Cool 8-3 Paul Eddary 8 4 0-86 MANTER 0F THE ROCK 21 P Match 8-12 T Calding 8 6 600 MASTER 0F THE ROCK 21 P Match 8-12 T Calding 8 7 -900 REGAL LOVER 25 M 8-8 NO MATER 12 (B.F) R Systom 18 8 0200 SOCKS AND STARRES 17 P Harts 8-8. W Nownes 7 9 0206 DOMMANT FORCE 21 R Hanson Pa R Person (9) 10 000 SUZTE 812 14 D ANDRONS 17 E D C.F) C Oyar 7-7 M Adens 6 13 0043 ELECKYDO 11 R Hodges 7-7 F Norton (9) 12 9 013 IDEAL CANDIDATE 10 (C.F) C Oyar 7-7 M Adens 6 13 0043 ELECKYDO 11 R Hodges 7-7 F Norton (9) 12 5-1 Master Of The Rock, 6-1 Sovereign Page, 7-1 Valueur, 8-1 Walking On Wester, 10-1 Mahainy, 12-1 others. MANDIARIN 7.00 Big Blue. 7.25 Melton by. 7.50 Red Rosein. 8.20 Charioteer, 8.50 Premium, 9.20 Silver Haze.
65 56 58 94 50 94	SERIOUS HURRY IN 2nd to Rock Opers (rec 6to) at Catterrick (6f, good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) and at Catterrick (6f, good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) land to Coppermil Last (rec 8to) at Geodemood (8f, good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) land to Coppermil Last (rec 8to) at Geodemood (8f, good to firm). Picht Catterrick (6f, good to firm). Picht Catterrick (6f, good to firm). Picht Catterrick (6f, good to firm). Picht Cat Solution (8f, firm) last (rec 8to) at Catterrick (6f, good to firm). Picht Cat Solution (8f, firm) last (rec 8to) at Catterrick (6f, good to firm). Picht Cat Solution (8f, firm) last (rec 8to) at Catterrick (6f, good to firm). Picht Cat Solution (8f, firm) last (rec 8to) at Hamilton (8f, firm). 5.00 SCRAPTOFT HANDICAP (£3, 199: 7f 8yd) (19 runners) 1 (8) S25055 DOULAB'S IMAGE 74 (D) (Cleremont Services) J Glover 5-0-11 S D Williams (7f) 92 (8f) 25-0023 YAZALY 35 (Y.SP) (Anictour A) Metacours) A Solution (8f, firm). 3 (5) 105-00 SLY PROEPECT 9 (80_D.F) (9f) Metal N White 495	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: $2,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13) 1.651 SOVERBON PAGE 26 (D.F) & Handury 9-7 2 2008 WALKING ON WATER 12 (B.F) R Johnson Houghton 3 1-4 VALSEUR 25 (8) hirs J Cool 9-3. Paul Eddary 8 4 0-86 MANTER 0F THE ROCK 21 P Makin 8-12 T Calm 18 6 160 MASTER 0F THE ROCK 21 P Makin 8-12 T Calm 18 6 1-6 CITIOLEEN 83 H Cack 9-12. 8 Cauding 8 7 4000 REGAL LOVER 25 M Ball 8-10. M 148: 8 8 0300 SOCNS AND SHARES 17 P Hanse 8-8. W Navines 7 9 0300 SOCNS AND SHARES 17 P Hanse 8-8. W Navines 7 10 -000 SUZTE SUE 14 D ANDITOR 10 (C.P) C Oyan 7-7. N Adens 6 13 1043 ELECKYDO 11 R Hodges 7-7. F Norton (5) 12 51 Manter Of The Rock, 6-1 Sovereign Page, 7-1 Valence, 8-1 Wasting On Water, 10-1 Malaniny, 12-1 others. MANDIARIN 7.00 Big Blue. 7.25 Meltonby, 7.50 Red Rosein. 8.20 Charioteer, 8.50 Premium. 9.20 Silver Haze. THUNDERER
Min	SERIOUS HURRY nk 2nd to Reck Opers (rec 8to) at Catterrick (St., good to firm). LUCY DANCER 11 Ind to Cappermil Lad (rec 8to) at Geodemood (St., pood to firm). DON'T RUN Me 1st 2nd to Invigitate (rec 2to) at Catterrick (St., good to firm). LUCY DANCER 11 Catterrick (St., good to firm). LUCY DANCER 11 Ind to Cappermil Lad (rec 8to) at Geodemood (St., pood to firm). DON'T RUN Me 1st 2nd to Invigitate (rec 2to) at 23vd, good). DON'T RUN Me 1st 2nd to Invigitate (rec 2to) at 3st (gave 8to) at Hamilton (St., firm). Catterrick (St., good to firm). PRINTER SCILADRON 1 (8) 92556 DOULAB'S BRAGE 74 (D) (Clememont Services) J Glover 5-9-11 S D Williams (7) 2 (4) 22-0035 YAZALY 38 (V.SP) (Jelattours At Mexicoson) A Scott 5-9-6 W R Servicium 96 3 (S) 105-000 SLY PROSPECT 9 (B.D.F.) (R Metta) K Withe 4-9-5 A Genth (7) 4 (18) 090-00 SLY PROSPECT 9 (B.D.F.) (R Metta) K Withe 4-9-5 A Genth (7) 91 (19) 243806 YONGE TENDER 10 (B.D.F.) (R Metta) K Withe 4-9-5 A Genth (7) 91 (19) 243806 YONGE TENDER 10 (B.D.F.) (R Metta) K Withe 4-9-5 A Genth (7) 91 (19) 243806 YONGE TENDER 10 (B.D.F.) (R Metta) K Withe 4-9-5 A Genth (7) 91 (19) 243806 YONGE TENDER 10 (B.D.F.) (R Metta) K Withe 4-9-5 A Genth (7) 91 (19) 243806 YONGE TENDER 10 (B.D.F.) (R Metta) K Withe 4-9-5 A Genth (7) 91 (19) 243806 YONGE TENDER 10 (B.D.F.) (R Metta) K Withe 4-9-5 A Genth (7) 91 (19) 243806 YONGE TENDER 10 (B.D.F.) (R Metta) K Withe 4-9-5 A Genth (7) 91 (19) 243806 YONGE TENDER 10 (B.D.F.) (R Metta) K Withe 4-9-5 A Genth (7) 91 (19) 243806 YONGE TENDER 10 (B.D.F.) (R Metta) K Withe 4-9-5 A Genth (7) 91 (19) 243806 YONGE TENDER 10 (B.D.F.) (R Metta) K Withe 4-9-5 A Genth (7) 91 (19) 243806 YONGE TENDER 10 (B.D.F.) (R Metta) K Withe 4-9-5 A Genth (7) 91 (19) 243806 YONGE TENDER 10 (B.D.F.) (R Metta) K Withe 4-9-5 A Genth (7) 91 (19) 243806 YONGE TENDER 10 (B.D.F.) (R Metta) K Withe 4-9-5 A Genth (7) 91 (19) 243806 YONGE TENDER 10 (B.D.F.) (R Metta) K Withe 4-9-5 A Genth (7) 91 (19) 243806 YONGE TENDER 20 (R Metta) K Withe 4-9-5 A Genth (7) 91 (19) 243806 YONGE TE	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: £2,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13) 1.661 SOVERBORN PAGE 26 (D,F) & Handbury 9-7 2 2008 WALKING ON WATER 12 (B,F) R Johnson Houghton 3 1-4 VALSEUR 25 (8) Mrs J Cacil 9-3. Paul Eddary 8 4 6-66 MASTER 0F THE ROCK 27 P Makin 8-12 TO Alone 15 5 1-6 CTIDUEED 18 H Cacil 9-3. R Scattlen 8 6 1-6 CTIDUEED 18 H Cacil 9-12. S Cauthon 8 6 1-6 CTIDUEED 18 H Cacil 9-12. S Cauthon 8 7 -400 REGAL LOVER 25 M 8-8 6-10. M 148s 1 8 0300 SOCKS AND SYARES 17 P Hants 8-8. W Newmer 7 10 -000 SUZTE BUE 14 D Arbugnint 8-1. K During 9 11 4040 DARCING YEARS 10 M Chambon 9-6 R Philippe D1 12 1053 DEAL CANDUDATE 10 (C,F) C Oyate 7-7 M Admiss 5 13 10043 ELECKYDO 11 R Hodges 7-7 F Norton (S) 12 5-1 Master Of The Rock, 6-1 Sovereign Page, 7-1 Valenur, 8-1 Walking On Wester, 10-1 Making, 12-1 others. MANDIARIN 7.00 Big Blue. 7.25 Meltomby. 7.50 Red Rosein. 8.20 Charioteer. 8.50 Premium. 9-20 Silver Haze. THUNDERER 7.00 RESOUNDING SUCCESS (nap). 7.25 Miss Doody, 7.50 Furiella. 8-20 Tales Of Wisdom. 8.50
Min	FORM FOCUS SERIOUS HURRY nk 2nd to Reck Opere (rea 6b) at Catterick (6f., good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) under 11 3nd to Recket (gave 15b) with HOTFOCT at Catterick (6f., good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) under 11 3nd to Recket (gave 15b) with HOTFOCT that to Coppermit Lad (rec 6b) at Geoderood (8f., good to Bros). My 2nd to Involute (rec 8b) at Geoderood (8f., good to Bros). My 2nd to Involute (rec 8b) at Catterick (6f., good to Rent). Pight TER SCHADRION 5.00 SCRAPTOFT HANDINCAP (23, 199: 7f 9yd) (19 runners) 1 (8) 62556 DOURAB'S BRAGE 74 (D) (Correntont Service) J Glover 5-0.11 8 D Williams (7) 92 (4) 22-0033 YAZALY 28 (V.SP) (Michitains Al Medicans) A Soott 3-6-6 W R Swinburn 96 (1) 105-000 SLY PROSPECT 9 (B.D.F) (R Metta) K Write 4-6-5 A Genth (7) 91 4 (16) 050-7 TWO BRIDS 97 (B Thomasis) C Horgan 3-6-0 W R Swinburn 96 (1) 24,8804 YORKSE TERDER 10 (B.D.F.) (Alex S Fooler) C Williams 5-6-0 J Current 9 90 (1) 24,8804 YORKSE TERDER 10 (B.D.F.) (Alex S Fooler) C Williams 5-6-0 J Current 9 90 (1) 24,8804 YORKSE TERDER 10 (B.D.F.) (Alex S Fooler) C Williams 5-6-0 J Current 9 90 (1) 20,000 SLY STATE OF AFRINCE 20 (V) (F Corporate) F Lee 28-6 M Alex S (B.D.)	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: 52,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13) 1.651 SOVERBORN PAGE 26 (D.F) 8 Handbury 9-7 2 0008 WALKING ON WATER 12 (B.F) R Johnson Houghton 3 1-4 VALSEUR 25 (8) Mrs J Cool 8-3 Pout Eddary 8 4 0-86 MANTER OF THE ROCK 21 P Match 8-12 T Cald 8-1 6 600 MASTER OF THE ROCK 21 P Match 8-12 T Cald 8-1 7 -900 REGAL LOVER 25 M 8-18 No. M Nownes 7 9 0200 SOCKS AND STARRES 17 P Hans 8-8. W Nownes 7 9 0200 SOCKS AND STARRES 17 P Hans 8-8. W Nownes 7 10 000 SIZTE SUE 14 D ANDRONE 17 P Hans 8-8. W Nownes 7 10 000 SIZTE SUE 14 D ANDRONE 10 (C.P) C Oyar 7-7 M Adens 6 13 0043 ELECKYDO 11 R Hodges 7-7 F Norton (S) 12 5-1 Master Of The Rock, 6-1 Sovereign Page, 7-1 Valueur, 8-1 Walking On Wester, 10-1 Mahaley, 12-1 others. MANDIARIN 7.00 Big Blue. 7.25 Melton by. 7.50 Red Rosein. 8.20 Charioteer. 8.50 Premium. 9.20 Silver Haze. THUNDERER 7.00 RESOUNDING SUCCESS (nap). 7.25 Miss Doody, 7.50 Futriella. 8.20 Tales Of Wisdom. 8.50 Premium. 9.20 Silver Haze.
## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ##	FORM FOCUS SERIOUS HURRY nk 2nd to Reck Opere (rea 9b) at Catterrick (6f., good to firm). LUC' DARCER 1) under 11 3nd to Recknet (gene 15b) with HOTFOOT at Catterrick (6f., good to firm). LUC' DARCER 1) under 11 3nd to Recknet (gene 15b) with HOTFOOT Hark (6f., good to firm). Recknet (6f., good to firm).	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: £2,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13) 1.661 SOVERBORN PAGE 26 (D,F) & Handbury 9-7 2 2008 WALKING ON WATER 12 (B,F) R Johnson Houghton 3 1-4 VALSEUR 25 (8) Mrs J Cacil 9-3. Paul Eddary 8 4 6-66 MASTER 0F THE ROCK 27 P Makin 8-12 TO Alone 15 5 1-6 CTIDUEED 18 H Cacil 9-3. R Scattlen 8 6 1-6 CTIDUEED 18 H Cacil 9-12. S Cauthon 8 6 1-6 CTIDUEED 18 H Cacil 9-12. S Cauthon 8 7 -400 REGAL LOVER 25 M 8-8 6-10. M 148s 1 8 0300 SOCKS AND SYARES 17 P Hants 8-8. W Newmer 7 10 -000 SUZTE BUE 14 D Arbugnint 8-1. K During 9 11 4040 DARCING YEARS 10 M Chambon 9-6 R Philippe D1 12 1053 DEAL CANDUDATE 10 (C,F) C Oyate 7-7 M Admiss 5 13 10043 ELECKYDO 11 R Hodges 7-7 F Norton (S) 12 5-1 Master Of The Rock, 6-1 Sovereign Page, 7-1 Valenur, 8-1 Walking On Wester, 10-1 Making, 12-1 others. MANDIARIN 7.00 Big Blue. 7.25 Meltomby. 7.50 Red Rosein. 8.20 Charioteer. 8.50 Premium. 9-20 Silver Haze. THUNDERER 7.00 RESOUNDING SUCCESS (nap). 7.25 Miss Doody, 7.50 Furiella. 8-20 Tales Of Wisdom. 8.50
Min	FORM FOCUS SERIOUS HURRY nk 2nd to Reck Opere (rea 9b) at Catterrick (6f., good to firm). LUC' DARCER 1) under 11 3nd to Recknet (gene 15b) with HOTFOOT at Catterrick (6f., good to firm). LUC' DARCER 1) under 11 3nd to Recknet (gene 15b) with HOTFOOT Hark (6f., good to firm). Recknet (6f., good to firm).	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: $2,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13) 1.651 30VERIBON PAGE 26 (D.F) 8 Handury 9.7 2.000 WALKING ON WATER 12 (B.F) R Johnson Haugiston 3.1-4 VALSEUR 25 (8) Mrs. J Cool 9-3. Paul Eddary 8 4.0-66 MASTER 05 THE ROCK 21 P Main 8-12 T Calm 18 5.600 MASTER 05 THE ROCK 21 P Main 8-12 T Calm 18 6.100 RESAL LOVER 25 M 3eb 9-10. M 198. 6.100 RESAL LOVER 25 M 3eb 9-10. M 198. 6.100 SOCKS AND SHARES 17 P Hans 9-8. W Mawrins 7 9.001 SOCKS AND SHARES 17 P Hans 9-8. W Mawrins 7 10.000 SIZTE SUE 14 D ANDIONE 19 TO Cytor 7-7. M Adems 6 13.0043 ELECKYDO 11 R Hodges 7-7. F Norton (5) 12 501 IDEAL CANDIDATE 19 (C.F) C Cytor 7-7. M Adems 6 13.0043 ELECKYDO 11 R Hodges 7-7. F Norton (5) 12 51 Marter Of The Rock, 6-1 Sovereign Page, 7-1 Valence, 8-1 Walk- Ing On Wester, 10-1 Mainley, 12-1 others. MANDIARIN 7.00 Big Blue. 7.25 Meltomby. 7.50 Red Rosein. 8.20 Charioteer. 8.50 Premium. 9.20 Silver Haze. THUNDERER 7.00 RESOUNDING SUCCESS (nap). 7.25 Miss Doody, 7.50 Furiella. 8.20 Tales Of Wistom. 8.50 Premium. 9.20 Silver Haze. GOING: GOOD DRAW: NO ADVANTAGE
## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ##	FORM FOCUS SERIOUS HURRY nk 2nd to Reck Opere (rea 9b) at Catterrick (6f., good to firm). LUC' DARCER 1) under 11 3nd to Recknet (gene 15b) with HOTFOOT at Catterrick (6f., good to firm). LUC' DARCER 1) under 11 3nd to Recknet (gene 15b) with HOTFOOT Hark (6f., good to firm). Recknet (6f., good to firm).	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: 52,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13) 1.651 SOVERBORN PAGE 26 (D.F) 8 Handbury 9-7 2 0008 WALKING ON WATER 12 (B.F) R Johnson Houghton 3 1-4 VALSEUR 25 (8) Mrs J Cool 8-3 Paul Eddary 8 4 0-86 MANTER OF THE ROCK 21 P Match 6-12 T Calding 8 6 600 MASTER OF THE ROCK 21 P Match 6-12 T Calding 8 7 -900 REGAL LOVER 25 M 8-9 8-10 M Hells 1 8 0300 SOCKS AND STARRES 17 P Hans 6-8. W Nownes 7 9 0200 SOCKS AND STARRES 17 P Hans 6-8. W Nownes 7 10 000 SIZTE SUE 14 D ANDRONE 17 F Hanson Pa R Person (9) 11 4946 DANCING YEARS 10 M Crownes Pa R Person (9) 12 0813 IDEAL CANDIDATE 10 (C.F) C Oyar 7-7 M Adens 6 13 0043 ELECKYDO 11 R Hodges 7-7 F Norton (8) 12 5-1 Master Of The Rock, 6-1 Sovereign Page, 7-1 Valueur, 8-1 Walking On Wester, 10-1 Malway, 12-1 others. MANDIARIN 7.00 Big Blue. 7.25 Meltonby. 7.50 Red Rosein. 8.20 Charioteer. 8.50 Premium. 9.20 Silver Haze. THUNDERER 7.00 RESOUNDING SUCCESS (nap). 7.25 Miss Doody, 7.50 Futriella. 8.20 Tales Of Wisdom. 8.50 Premium. 9.20 Silver Haze.
## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ##	FORM FOCUS SERIOUS HURRY nk 2nd to Reck Opere (rea 9b) at Catterrick (6f., good to firm). LUC' DARCER 1) under 11 3nd to Recknet (gene 15b) with HOTFOOT at Catterrick (6f., good to firm). LUC' DARCER 1) under 11 3nd to Recknet (gene 15b) with HOTFOOT Hark (6f., good to firm). Recknet (6f., good to firm).	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: $2,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13) 1.651 SOVERBON PAGE 26 (D.F) 8 Handury 9.7 2.000 WALKING ON WATER 12 (B.F) R Johnson Haugiston 3.1-4 VALSEUR 25 (8) Mrs. J Cool 8-2. Paul Eddry 8 4.0-6 MASTER 05 THE ROCK 21 P Makin 8-12 T Calon 15 5.000 MASTER 05 THE ROCK 21 P Makin 8-12 T Calon 15 6.1-8 CITICUEEN 83 H Cool 8-12. 8 Cauthon 8 6.000 SOUNS AND SHARES 17 P Hans 8-8. W Marriers 7 9.000 SOUNS AND SHARES 17 P Hans 8-8. W Marriers 7 9.000 SUZF 818 14 D ANDIGHT 8-10. 10 Durley 9 11 4046 DANCING YEARS 10 M Chamon 8-0. B Durley 9 12 9813 IDEAL CANDIDATE 10 (C.F) C Oyan 7-7 M Adems 5 13 1043 ELECKTDO 11 R Hodges 7-7. F Nation (S) 12 5-1 Marter Of The Rock, 6-1 Sovereign Page, 7-1 Valueur, 8-1 Walking On Wester, 10-1 Mainly, 12-1 others. MANDIARIN 7.00 Big Blue. 7.25 Meltomby. 7.50 Red Rosein. 8.20 Charioteer. 8.50 Premium. 9-20 Silver Haze. THUNDERER 7.00 RESOUNDING SUCCESS (nap). 7.25 Miss Doody, 7.50 Furriella. 8.20 Tales Of Wisdom. 8.50 Premium. 9-20 Silver Haze. GOING: GOOD DRAW: NO ADVANTAGE 7.00 SKELLGATE MAIDEN STAKES (£1,730: 1m 1f) (12 runners)
## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ##	FORM FOCUS SERIOUS HURRY RK 2nd to Reck Opers (rea 6to) at Catterrick (6f., good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) under 11 3nd to Reck (gene 15to) with HOTFOOT HANNAH (gene 8to) under 51 5th in Mattingham (5t 3d), good to firm). Den't TRIK (ME 14) at Geoderood (5f., good to firm). Den't TRIK (ME 14) 2nd to Inniglinte (me 2to) at Cetterrick (6f., good to firm). PRONTER SOLIADRON 5.00 SCRAPTOFT HANDICAP (£3, 199: 7f 9yd) (19 runners) 1 (8) 625365 DOLLAR'S IMAGE 74 (D) (Clerement Services) J Glover 5-0-11 S D Williams (7) $2 (4) 25-0023 YAZALY 26 (V.SF) (Amictour Al Matcoun) A 3cott 3-6-6 W R Swinburn 96 (1) 130-240 SOLIA SETRO 35 (R Leamins) J Elustros 3-6-12 R Cochrane 94 (10) 242805 YONGE TENDER 10 (8,D,F./g) (Met 3 Footer) C Williams 5-6-6 J Currit 9 16 (1) 242805 YONGE TENDER 10 (8,D,F./g) (Met 3 Footer) C Williams 5-6-6 J Currit 9 16 (1) 242805 YONGE TENDER 10 (8,D,F./g) (Met 3 Footer) C Williams 5-6-6 J Currit 9 16 (1) 242805 YONGE TENDER 10 (8,D,F./g) (Met 3 Footer) C Williams 5-6-6 J Currit 9 16 (1) 242805 YONGE TENDER 10 (8,D,F./g) (Met 3 Footer) C Williams 5-6-6 J Currit 9 16 (1) 242805 YONGE TENDER 10 (8,D,F./g) (Met 3 Footer) C Williams 5-6-6 J Currit 9 16 (1) 242805 YONGE TENDER 10 (8,D,F./g) (Met 3 Footer) C Williams 5-6-6 J Currit 9 16 (1) 242805 YONGE TENDER 10 (8,D,F./g) (Met 3 Footer) C Williams 5-6-6 J Currit 9 16 (1) 200305 PROPIT A PRESENTE 2 (D,F./g) (Met 3 Footer) C Williams 5-6-6 J Currit 9 16 (1) 200305 PROPIT A PRESENTE 2 (D,F./g) (Met 3 Footer) C Williams 5-6-6 J Rickers 10 (1) 200305 SIRAPIA'S SECRET 18 (D,F./g) (Met 3 Footer) C Williams 5-6-6 J Harriston (9) 200005 SIRAPIA'S SECRET 18 (D,F./g) (Met 3 Footer) C Williams 5-6-6 J Harriston (9) 200005 SIRAPIA'S SECRET 18 (D,F./g) (Met 3 Footer) C Williams 5-6-6 J Harriston (9) 200005 SIRAPIA'S SECRET 18 (D,F./g) (Met 3 Footer) C Williams 5-6-6 J Harriston (9) 200005 SIRAPIA'S SECRET 18 (D,F./g) (Met 3 Footer) C Williams 5-6-6 J Harriston (9) 200005 SIRAPIA'S SECRET 18 (D,F./g) (Met 3 Footer) C	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: $2,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13) 1.651 SOVERBON PAGE 26 (D.F) & Handury 9-7 2 2008 WALKING ON WATER 12 (B.F) R Johnson Houghton 3 1-4 VALSBUR 25 (8) hirs J Cool 9-3. Paul Eddary 8 4 0-86 MANTER OF THE ROCK 21 P Makin 8-12 T Calm 18 6 080 MASTER 05 THE ROCK 21 P Makin 8-12 T Calm 18 6 1-6 CITIOUEEN 83 H Cool 9-12. 8 Cauding 8 6 1-6 CITIOUEEN 83 H Cool 9-12. 8 Cauding 8 7 400 RESAL LOVER 25 M Bell 8-10. M 1981 8 0300 SOCKS AND SHARES 17 P Hanse 8-8. W Navince 7 9 0300 SOCKS AND SHARES 17 P Hanse 8-8. W Navince 7 10 -000 SUZTE SUE 14 D ANDITOR 19 (C Draw 7-7) N Adens 6 13 1043 ELECKYDO 11 R Hodges 7-7. F Norton (5) 12 2 0513 IDEAL CANDRATE 19 (C-P) C Opar 7-7. N Adens 6 13 1043 ELECKYDO 11 R Hodges 7-7. F Norton (5) 12 5-1 Manter Of The Rock, 6-1 Sovereign Page, 7-1 Valence, 8-1 Wasting On Wester, 10-1 Malheiry, 12-1 others. MANDIARIN 7.00 Big Blue. 7.25 Meltomby. 7.50 Red Rosein. 8.20 Charioteer. 8.50 Premium. 9-20 Silver Haze. THUNDERER 7.00 RESOUNDING SUCCESS (nap). 7.25 Miss Doody. 7.50 Furriella. 8-20 Tales Of Wisdom. 8.50 Premium. 9-20 Silver Haze. GOING: GOOD DRAW: NO ADVANTAGE 7.00 SKELLGATE MAIDEN STAKES (£1,730: 1m 1f) (12 runners) 1 BRAMBLESCHT 28 Ma & Sinch 3-10 M Februar 2 1 BRAMBLESCHT 28 Ma & Sinch 3-10 M Februar 2 1 BRAMBLESCHT 28 Ma & Sinch 3-10 M Februar 2 1 BRAMBLESCHT 28 Ma & Sinch 3-10 M Februar 2
## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ##	FORM FOCUS SERIOUS HURRY nk 2nd to Reck Opers (rec 6t) at Catismick (6f, good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) at Catismick (6f, good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) at Catismick (6f, good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) at the Coopers (rec 6t) at Geodemood (8f, good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) at Catismick (6f, good to firm). PRONTER SOLADORON (8f, good to firm). Selections DON'T RUN ME 5.00 SCRAPTOFT HANDICAP (23, 199: 7f 9yd) (19 funners) 1 (8) GESSOS DULLAR'S BRAGE 74 (9) (Commont Services) J Glover 5-0-11 S D Williams (7f) 92 (9f) 249,000 S AVALLY 38 (1987) (Matrix Al Matricosus) A Solato 3-6-6 W R Swindows (7f) 91 (9f) 76 (9f)	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: $2,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13) 1.651 SOVERBON PAGE 26 (D.F) & Handury 9-7 2 2008 WALKING ON WATER 12 (B.F) R Johnson Houghton 3 1-4 VALSBUR 25 (8) hirs J Cool 9-3. Paul Eddary 8 4 0-86 MANTER OF THE ROCK 21 P Makin 8-12 T Calm 18 6 080 MASTER 05 THE ROCK 21 P Makin 8-12 T Calm 18 6 1-6 CITIOUEEN 83 H Cool 9-12. 8 Cauding 8 6 1-6 CITIOUEEN 83 H Cool 9-12. 8 Cauding 8 7 400 RESAL LOVER 25 M Bell 8-10. M 1981 8 0300 SOCKS AND SHARES 17 P Hanse 8-8. W Navince 7 9 0300 SOCKS AND SHARES 17 P Hanse 8-8. W Navince 7 10 -000 SUZTE SUE 14 D ANDITOR 19 (C Draw 7-7) N Adens 6 13 1043 ELECKYDO 11 R Hodges 7-7. F Norton (5) 12 2 0513 IDEAL CANDRATE 19 (C-P) C Opar 7-7. N Adens 6 13 1043 ELECKYDO 11 R Hodges 7-7. F Norton (5) 12 5-1 Manter Of The Rock, 6-1 Sovereign Page, 7-1 Valence, 8-1 Wasting On Wester, 10-1 Malheiry, 12-1 others. MANDIARIN 7.00 Big Blue. 7.25 Meltomby. 7.50 Red Rosein. 8.20 Charioteer. 8.50 Premium. 9-20 Silver Haze. THUNDERER 7.00 RESOUNDING SUCCESS (nap). 7.25 Miss Doody. 7.50 Furriella. 8-20 Tales Of Wisdom. 8.50 Premium. 9-20 Silver Haze. GOING: GOOD DRAW: NO ADVANTAGE 7.00 SKELLGATE MAIDEN STAKES (£1,730: 1m 1f) (12 runners) 1 BRAMBLESCHT 28 Ma & Sinch 3-10 M Februar 2 1 BRAMBLESCHT 28 Ma & Sinch 3-10 M Februar 2 1 BRAMBLESCHT 28 Ma & Sinch 3-10 M Februar 2 1 BRAMBLESCHT 28 Ma & Sinch 3-10 M Februar 2
## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ##	FORM FOCUS FORM FOCUS FORM FOCUS FORM FOCUS FORM FOCUS SERVICUS HURRY nt 2nd to Reack Opens (no 66) at Casterrick (6f., good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) that to Cappelmal Lad (nec 86) at Geodwood (8f., good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) that to Cappelmal Lad (nec 86) at Geodwood (8f., good to firm). But to Cappelmal Lad (nec 86) at Geodwood (8f., good to firm). PROFTER SCHAPRON TONT RUM ME 1st 2nd to Invigines (mc 28b) at Casterick (8f., good to firm). PROFTER SCHAPRON 5.00 SCRAPTOFT HANDNCAP (23, 199-7 flyd) (19 runners) 1 (8) Sess66 DOULAB'S BLAGER 74 (D) (Customer Services) J Glover 5-0-11 S D Williams (7) 92 2 (4) 29-0025 YAZALY 36 (V.SP) (Baltour A Masterour) A Social 3-6. W R Swinburn S 3 (5) 105-00 SLY PROFTER 9 (B.D.F) (R Matria) K Wishe 4-5. A Garch (7) 91 4 (10) 93-710 Barton 37 (B. Thomas) J Euston 3-6-12 R Cochram 36 (10) 3-4500 VONGE TENDER 10 (B.D.F) (R Matria) K Wishe 4-5. A Garch (7) 91 90-005 CANALE INVO SERIES 17 (B.D.F) (R Matria) K Wishe 4-5. A Clerk 60 7 (2) 300-005 CANALE INVO S (R Lesmin) J Euston 3-6-12 R Cochram 3-6 (10) 3-4500 VONGE TENDER 10 (B.D.F) (R) (Matrix S other) C Williams 5-8-0 J Clerk 60 7 (2) 00005 CANALE INVO S (B.C.SEF) (Fisher Philip) M Februarics Goodwy 48-8 A Alamo 35 (10) 3-4500 VONGE TENDER 2 (R) P Compose F Les 3-8-0. D Harrison (8) 9 (2) 00005 CANALE INVO S (B.C.SEF) (7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: $2,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13) 1.661 SOVERBON PAGE 26 (D.F) 8 Hardway 9-7 2 2008 WALKING ON WATER 12 (B.F) R Johnson Haughton 3 1-4 VALSEUR 25 (8) Mrs J Cacil 9-3. Paul Eddary 8 4 6-66 MANTER OF THE ROCK 27 P Makin 8-12 T Cacil 9-3 6 600 MASTER 05 THE ROCK 27 P Makin 8-12 T Cacil 9-3 6 1-6 CTIDUEED 83 H Cacil 9-3. S Cauthon 3 7 -800 RESAL LOVER 25 M 8-8 10. M 1-8 10 8 0300 SOCKS AND SYLVES 17 P Harm 8-8. W Norman 7-9 10 030 SOCKS AND SYLVES 17 P Harm 8-8. W Norman 7-9 11 48N6 DANCING TEARS 10 M Chromon 8-1. B Doyle (5) 10 12 0613 DEAL CANDIDATE 10 (C.F) C Oyar 7-7 M Adems 6-13 10043 ELECKYDO 11 R Hodges 7-7 F Norman (5) 12 13 10043 ELECKYDO 11 R Hodges 7-7 F Norman (5) 12 15 Manter Of The Rock, 6-1 Sovereign Page, 7-1 Valenur, 8-1 Walking On Walker, 10-1 Mahalay, 12-1 certains. MANDARIN 7.00 Big Blue. 7.25 Meltomby. 7.50 Red Rosein. 8.20 Charioteer. 8.50 Premium. 9-20 Silver Haze. THUNDERER 7.00 RESOUNDING SUCCESS (nap). 7.25 Miss Doody, 7.50 Furiella. 8.20 Tales Of Wisdom. 8.50 Premium. 9-20 Silver Haze. GOING: GOOD DRAW: NO ADVANTAGE 7.00 SKELLGATE MAIDEN STAKES (£1,730: 1m 11) (12 runners) 1 SANDAN HEATHER (8) J Parkers 44-1 M Fringers 2 1 BRAMELESCHY 28 Mrs 6 Smith 3-10. M Fringers 2 1 BRAMELESCHY 28 Mrs 6 Smith 3-10. M Fringers 2 1 BRAMELESCHY 28 Mrs 6 Smith 3-10. Dean Mickeys 3-10.
## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ##	FORM FOCUS FORM FOCUS FORM FOCUS FORM FOCUS FORM FOCUS SERVICUS HURRY nt 2nd to Reack Opens (no 66) at Casterrick (6f., good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) that to Cappelmal Lad (nec 86) at Geodwood (8f., good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) that to Cappelmal Lad (nec 86) at Geodwood (8f., good to firm). But to Cappelmal Lad (nec 86) at Geodwood (8f., good to firm). PROFTER SCHAPRON TONT RUM ME 1st 2nd to Invigines (mc 28b) at Casterick (8f., good to firm). PROFTER SCHAPRON 5.00 SCRAPTOFT HANDNCAP (23, 199-7 flyd) (19 runners) 1 (8) Sess66 DOULAB'S BLAGER 74 (D) (Customer Services) J Glover 5-0-11 S D Williams (7) 92 2 (4) 29-0025 YAZALY 36 (V.SP) (Baltour A Masterour) A Social 3-6. W R Swinburn S 3 (5) 105-00 SLY PROFTER 9 (B.D.F) (R Matria) K Wishe 4-5. A Garch (7) 91 4 (10) 93-710 Barton 37 (B. Thomas) J Euston 3-6-12 R Cochram 36 (10) 3-4500 VONGE TENDER 10 (B.D.F) (R Matria) K Wishe 4-5. A Garch (7) 91 90-005 CANALE INVO SERIES 17 (B.D.F) (R Matria) K Wishe 4-5. A Clerk 60 7 (2) 300-005 CANALE INVO S (R Lesmin) J Euston 3-6-12 R Cochram 3-6 (10) 3-4500 VONGE TENDER 10 (B.D.F) (R) (Matrix S other) C Williams 5-8-0 J Clerk 60 7 (2) 00005 CANALE INVO S (B.C.SEF) (Fisher Philip) M Februarics Goodwy 48-8 A Alamo 35 (10) 3-4500 VONGE TENDER 2 (R) P Compose F Les 3-8-0. D Harrison (8) 9 (2) 00005 CANALE INVO S (B.C.SEF) (7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: $2,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13) 1.661 SOVERBON PAGE 26 (D.F) 8 Hardway 9-7 2 2008 WALKING ON WATER 12 (B.F) R Johnson Haughton 3 1-4 VALSEUR 25 (8) Mrs J Cacil 9-3. Paul Eddary 8 4 6-66 MANTER OF THE ROCK 27 P Makin 8-12 T Cacil 9-3 6 600 MASTER 05 THE ROCK 27 P Makin 8-12 T Cacil 9-3 6 1-6 CTIDUEED 83 H Cacil 9-3. S Cauthon 3 7 -800 RESAL LOVER 25 M 8-8 10. M 1-8 10 8 0300 SOCKS AND SYLVES 17 P Harm 8-8. W Norman 7-9 10 030 SOCKS AND SYLVES 17 P Harm 8-8. W Norman 7-9 11 48N6 DANCING TEARS 10 M Chromon 8-1. B Doyle (5) 10 12 0613 DEAL CANDIDATE 10 (C.F) C Oyar 7-7 M Adems 6-13 10043 ELECKYDO 11 R Hodges 7-7 F Norman (5) 12 13 10043 ELECKYDO 11 R Hodges 7-7 F Norman (5) 12 15 Manter Of The Rock, 6-1 Sovereign Page, 7-1 Valenur, 8-1 Walking On Walker, 10-1 Mahalay, 12-1 certains. MANDARIN 7.00 Big Blue. 7.25 Meltomby. 7.50 Red Rosein. 8.20 Charioteer. 8.50 Premium. 9-20 Silver Haze. THUNDERER 7.00 RESOUNDING SUCCESS (nap). 7.25 Miss Doody, 7.50 Furiella. 8.20 Tales Of Wisdom. 8.50 Premium. 9-20 Silver Haze. GOING: GOOD DRAW: NO ADVANTAGE 7.00 SKELLGATE MAIDEN STAKES (£1,730: 1m 11) (12 runners) 1 SANDAN HEATHER (8) J Parkers 44-1 M Fringers 2 1 BRAMELESCHY 28 Mrs 6 Smith 3-10. M Fringers 2 1 BRAMELESCHY 28 Mrs 6 Smith 3-10. M Fringers 2 1 BRAMELESCHY 28 Mrs 6 Smith 3-10. Dean Mickeys 3-10.
## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ##	FORM FOCUS SERIOUS HURRY nix 2nd to Reck Opera (rec 8b) at Catteriok (6f, good to firm), LUCY DANCER i) that to Copperred Last (rec 8b) at Geodemont (6f, good to firm), LUCY DANCER i) that to Copperred Last (rec 8b) at Geodemont (6f, good to firm). DON'T RUBN ME 1/2 2nd to Inveglinte (rec 2b) at Cetterick (6f, good to firm). DON'T RUBN ME 1/2 2nd to Inveglinte (rec 2b) at Cetterick (6f, good to firm). PART OF TRUBN ME 1/2 2nd to Inveglinte (rec 2b) at Cetterick (6f, good to firm). Secondary (6f, good to firm). PART OF TRUBN ME 1/2 2nd to Inveglinte (rec 2b) at Cetterick (6f, good to firm). Secondary (7f, good). 1 (6f, good to firm). Secondary (7f, good to firm). 1 (6f, good to firm). Secondary (7f, good to firm). 1 (7f, good to firm). Secondary (7f, go	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: 52,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13) 1.651 SOVERBORN PAGE 26 (D.F) & Handbury 9-7 2 2008 WALKING ON WATER 12 (B.F) R Johnson Houghton 3 1-4 VALSEUR 25 (8) Mrs. J Cool 9-3. Pout Eddary 8 4 0-86 MANTER OF THE ROCK 21 P Makin 6-12 T Cald 9-1 5 1-6 CITICALEEN 83 H Cool 9-12. W R Switchum 8 5 1-6 CITICALEEN 83 H Cool 9-12. W R Switchum 8 6 1-6 CITICALEEN 83 H Cool 9-12. W R Switchum 8 7 -800 REGAL LOVER 25 M 8eb 8-10. M Hourse 7 9 0255 DOMINANT FORCE 21 R Hanson 9-1 R Perman 9-1 10 -000 SLIZE SUE 14 D ANDERNE 10 (C.P) C Oper 7-7 M Adens 6 13 10043 ELECKYDO 11 R Hodges 7-7 F Norton (S) 12 913 IDEAL CANDIDATE 10 (C.P) C Oper 7-7 M Adens 6 13 10043 ELECKYDO 11 R Hodges 7-7 F Norton (S) 12 5-1 Manter Of The Rock, 6-1 Sovereign Page, 7-1 Valesur, 8-1 Walking On Wester, 10-1 Malway, 13-1 others. MANDARIN 7.00 Big Blue. 7.25 Meltomby. 7.50 Red Rosein. 8.20 Charioteer. 8.50 Premium. 9.20 Silver Haze. THUNDERER 7.00 RESOUNDING SUCCESS (nap). 7.25 Miss Doody, 7.50 Furriella. 8.20 Tales Of Wisdom. 8.50 Premium. 9.20 Silver Haze. GOING: GOOD DRAW: NO ADVANTAGE 7.00 SKELLGATE MAIDEN STAKES (£1,730: 1m 1f) (12 runners) 1 SAM RED HECK J Goods 38-10. M Fromms 24 M SAM PROBLES HERE 9 G Britain 38-10. M Fromms 24 M NORTH PAWN 25 J Loop 38-10. Dean McKnown 3 1 BRANELESSHY 28 M N Suppherson 38-10. W Phys. 12 1 BRANELESSHY 28 M N Suppherson 38-10. W Phys. 12 1 BRANELESSHY 28 M N Suppherson 38-10. W Phys. 12 1 BRANELESSHY 28 M N Suppherson 38-10. W Phys. 12 1 BRANELESSHY 28 M N Suppherson 38-10. W Phys. 12 1 BRANELESSHY 28 M N Suppherson 38-10. W Phys. 12 1 BRANELESSHY 28 M N Suppherson 38-10. W Phys. 12 1 BRANELESSHY 28 M N Suppherson 38-10. G Doutried 3 2 MONTHY RUSSHA J Goods 38-10. R Contrace 11 2 M WAZAY 7 A Sood 38-10. R Contrace 11 2 M WAZAY 7 A Sood 38-10. R Contrace 11 2 M WAZAY 7 A Sood 38-10. R Doutries 11 2 M WAZAY 7 A Sood 38-10. R Doutries 11 2 M WAZAY 7 A Sood 38-10. R Doutries 11 2 M WAZAY 7 A Sood 38-10. R Doutries 11 2 M WAZAY 7 A Sood 38-10. R Doutries 11 2 M WAZAY 7 A Sood 38-10. R Doutrie
## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ##	FORM FOCUS FORM FOCUS FORM FOCUS FORM FOCUS FORM FOCUS SERVICUS HURRY nt 2nd to Reack Opens (no 66) at Casterrick (6f., good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) that to Cappelmal Lad (nec 86) at Geodwood (8f., good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) that to Cappelmal Lad (nec 86) at Geodwood (8f., good to firm). But to Cappelmal Lad (nec 86) at Geodwood (8f., good to firm). PROFTER SCHAPRON TONT RUM ME 1st 2nd to Invigines (mc 28b) at Casterick (8f., good to firm). PROFTER SCHAPRON 5.00 SCRAPTOFT HANDNCAP (23, 199-7 flyd) (19 runners) 1 (8) Sess66 DOULAB'S BLAGER 74 (D) (Customer Services) J Glover 5-0-11 S D Williams (7) 92 2 (4) 29-0025 YAZALY 36 (V.SP) (Baltour A Masterour) A Social 3-6. W R Swinburn S 3 (5) 105-00 SLY PROFTER 9 (B.D.F) (R Matria) K Wishe 4-5. A Garch (7) 91 4 (10) 93-710 Barton 37 (B. Thomas) J Euston 3-6-12 R Cochram 36 (10) 3-4500 VONGE TENDER 10 (B.D.F) (R Matria) K Wishe 4-5. A Garch (7) 91 90-005 CANALE INVO SERIES 17 (B.D.F) (R Matria) K Wishe 4-5. A Clerk 60 7 (2) 300-005 CANALE INVO S (R Lesmin) J Euston 3-6-12 R Cochram 3-6 (10) 3-4500 VONGE TENDER 10 (B.D.F) (R) (Matrix S other) C Williams 5-8-0 J Clerk 60 7 (2) 00005 CANALE INVO S (B.C.SEF) (Fisher Philip) M Februarics Goodwy 48-8 A Alamo 35 (10) 3-4500 VONGE TENDER 2 (R) P Compose F Les 3-8-0. D Harrison (8) 9 (2) 00005 CANALE INVO S (B.C.SEF) (7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: $2,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13) 1.661 SOVERBON PAGE 26 (D.F) 8 Hardway 9-7 2 2008 WALKING ON WATER 12 (B.F) R Johnson Haughton 3 1-4 VALSEUR 25 (8) Mrs J Cacil 9-3. Paul Eddary 8 4 6-66 MANTER OF THE ROCK 27 P Makin 8-12 T Cacil 9-3 6 600 MASTER 05 THE ROCK 27 P Makin 8-12 T Cacil 9-3 6 1-6 CTIDUEED 83 H Cacil 9-3. S Cauthon 3 7 -800 RESAL LOVER 25 M 8-8 10. M 1-8 10 8 0300 SOCKS AND SYLVES 17 P Harm 8-8. W Norman 7-9 10 030 SOCKS AND SYLVES 17 P Harm 8-8. W Norman 7-9 11 48N6 DANCING TEARS 10 M Chromon 8-1. B Doyle (5) 10 12 0613 DEAL CANDIDATE 10 (C.F) C Oyar 7-7 M Adems 6-13 10043 ELECKYDO 11 R Hodges 7-7 F Norman (5) 12 13 10043 ELECKYDO 11 R Hodges 7-7 F Norman (5) 12 15 Manter Of The Rock, 6-1 Sovereign Page, 7-1 Valenur, 8-1 Walking On Walker, 10-1 Mahalay, 12-1 certains. MANDARIN 7.00 Big Blue. 7.25 Meltomby. 7.50 Red Rosein. 8.20 Charioteer. 8.50 Premium. 9-20 Silver Haze. THUNDERER 7.00 RESOUNDING SUCCESS (nap). 7.25 Miss Doody, 7.50 Furiella. 8.20 Tales Of Wisdom. 8.50 Premium. 9-20 Silver Haze. GOING: GOOD DRAW: NO ADVANTAGE 7.00 SKELLGATE MAIDEN STAKES (£1,730: 1m 11) (12 runners) 1 SANDAN HEATHER (8) J Parkers 44-1 M Fringers 2 1 BRAMELESCHY 28 Mrs 6 Smith 3-10. M Fringers 2 1 BRAMELESCHY 28 Mrs 6 Smith 3-10. M Fringers 2 1 BRAMELESCHY 28 Mrs 6 Smith 3-10. Dean Mickeys 3-10.
## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ##	FORM FOCUS SERIOUS HURRY Int 2nd to Reck Opera (peo 49b) at Catterrick (6f., good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) ander 13 and to Recket (gene 13b) with HOTPOOT that is Catterrick (6f., good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) ander 13 and to Recket (gene 13b) with HOTPOOT that is Catterrick (6f., good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) ander 13 and to Recket (gene 13b) at Setting (6f., good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) and the Catterrick (6f., good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) and the Catterrick (6f., good to firm). PROFITER SCHADRON 5.00 SCRAPTOFT HANDICAP (23, 199: 7f 9yd) (19 runners) 1 (6) 655366 DOULAS'S BMAGE 74 (D) (Casement Services) J Glover 5-0-11 S D Williams (7) 22 (4) 22-0023 7A2ALY 36 (Y.SF) (abstrous A) Medicanus A) Section (7) T TUN AGE 1 (6) 655-1910 BRIDES SR7 (8 Thomas) C Horgan 5-0-1 A Garth (7) 91 4 (16) 65-1910 BRIDES SR7 (8 Thomas) C Horgan 5-0-1 A Garth (7) 91 4 (16) 65-1910 BRIDES SR7 (8 Thomas) C Horgan 5-0-1 A Garth (7) 91 4 (16) 65-1910 BRIDES SR7 (8 Catterrick) J (8,D.F./6) (46s 5 Footer) C Williams 5-0-1 A Cater (8) (19) 34-500 YONGE TENDER 19 (8,D.F./6) (46s 5 Footer) C Williams 5-0-1 A Cater (8) (19) 34-500 YONGE TENDER 19 (8,D.F./6) (46s 5 Footer) C Williams 5-0-1 A Cater (8) (19) 34-500 YONGE TENDER 19 (8,D.F./6) (46s 5 Footer) C Williams 5-0-1 A Cater (9) (19) 34-500 YONGE TENDER 19 (8,D.F./6) (46s 5 Footer) C Williams 5-0-1 A Cater (9) (19) 34-500 YONGE TENDER 19 (8,D.F./6) (46s 5 Footer) C Williams 5-0-1 A Cater (9) (19) 34-500 YONGE TENDER 19 (8,D.F./6) (46s 5 Footer) C Williams 5-0-1 A Cater (9) (19) 34-500 YONGE TENDER 19 (8,D.F./6) (46s 5 Footer) C Williams 5-0-1 A Cater (9) (19) 34-500 YONGE TENDER 19 (8,D.F./6) (46s 5 Footer) C Williams 5-0-1 A Cater (9) (19) 34-500 YONGE TENDER 19 (8,D.F./6) (46s 5 Footer) C Williams 5-0-1 A Cater (9) (19) 34-500 YONGE TENDER 19 (8,D.F./6) (46s 5 Footer) C Williams 5-0-1 A Cater (9) (19) 34-500 YONGE TENDER 19 (8,D.F./6) (46s 5 Footer) C Williams 5-0-1 A McCater 9 (19) 34-500 YONGE TENDER 19 (19) 34-500 YONGE TENDER 19 (19) 34-500 YONGE TENDER 19 (19) 34-500 YONGE	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: 52,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13) 1.661 SOVERBON PAGE 26 (D.F) 8 Handlary 9-7 2 0008 WALKING ON WATER 12 (B.F) R Johnson Hauption 3 1-4 VALSEUR 25 (8) Mrs J Cool 9-3. Paul Eddary 8 4 0-66 MANTER OF THE ROCK 27 P Math 8-12 T Called 9-13 6 1-6 CTIDUES B 8 P Cool 9-3. Paul Eddary 8 7 400 RESAL LOVER 25 M Best 8-10. W R Switchum 6 6 000 SOCKS AND SYLARES 17 P Harm 8-8. W Montes 7 9 00R RESAL LOVER 25 M Best 8-10. K During 9-1 10 000 SULTE SHE 14 D ATMIGNUS 8-1. K During 9-1 11 48M6 DANCING TEARS 10 M Chambon 8-0. B Doyle (5) 10 12 0813 DEAL CANDIDATE 10 (C.F) C Oyar 7-7 M Adens 6 13 10043 ELECKYDO 11 R Hodges 7-7. F Norton (5) 12 5-1 Master Of The Rock, 6-1 Sovereign Page, 7-1 Valence, 8-1 Walking On Wester, 10-1 Mahasiny, 12-1 others. MANDARIN 7.00 Big Blue. 7.25 Meltomby. 7.50 Red Rosein. 8.20 Charioteer. 8.50 Premium. 9-20 Silver Haze. THUNDERER 7.00 RESOUNDING SUCCESS (nap). 7.25 Miss Doody, 7.50 Furiella. 8.20 Tales Of Wisdom. 8.50 Premium. 9-20 Silver Haze. GOING: GOOD DRAW: NO ADVANTAGE 7.00 SKELLGATE MAIDEN STAKES (£1,730: 1m 11) (12 runners) 1 BRAMELESCHIPT 28 Mrs 5 Sweth 3-10 4 30-0 CANSTRACK P! W A Stephenson 3-10. M France 2 1 BRAMELESCHIPT 28 Mrs 5 Sweth 3-10 4 30-0 CANSTRACK P! W A Stephenson 3-10. W Fryan 12 6 31 IONGHT PAWN 25 J Loigh 3-8-10. M France 3 1 DANGHT PAWN 25 J Loigh 3-10. R Contrame 11 9 4 WAZAZ 7-4 Soot 3-8-10. R Contrame 11 9 4 WAZAZ 7-4 Soot 3-8-10. R Contrame 11 9 4 WAZAZ 7-4 Soot 3-8-10. R Contrame 11 9 4 WAZAZ 7-4 Soot 3-8-10. R Contrame 12 1 ONLY A ROSE C Thombron 3-8-5. A Custeme 9 11 ONLY A ROSE C Thombron 3-8-5. A Custeme 9 12-4 RESOUNDING SUCCESS 5-8 H-Ms 3-6-5 D Hollerd 4 9-4-8 BLB. 3-1 Resounding Success 5-1 B-Ms 3-6-5 D Hollerd 4 9-4-8 BLB. 3-1 Resounding Success 5-1 B-Ms 3-6-5 D Hollerd 4 9-4-8 BLB. 3-1 Resounding Success 5-1 B-Ms 3-6-5 D Hollerd 4 9-4-8 BLB. 3-1 Resounding Success 5-1 B-Ms 3-6-5 D Hollerd 4 9-4-8 BLB. 3-1 Ms 3-6-5 D Ho
## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ##	FORM FOCUS SERIOUS HURRY Int 2nd to Reck Opers (see St) at Catterrick (St, good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) and a sudder 13 and to Recket (gene 13th) with HOTPOOT 12 and Catterrick (St, good to firm). LUCY DANCER 1) and 12 and 1	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: 52,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13) 1.661 SOVERBORN PAGE 26 (D.F) 8 Handlary 9-7 2 0008 WALKING ON WATER 12 (B.F) R Johnson Haughton 3 1-4 VALSEUR 25 (8) Mrs J Cool 9-3. Protection 9-2 I flaid 11 3 1-4 VALSEUR 25 (8) Mrs J Cool 9-3. Protection 9-2 I flaid 11 5 1-6 CTIDUERD 18 H Cool 9-12. W R Switchum 8 6 950 MASTER OF THE ROCK 27 P Matth 8-12 T Cauding 8 1-6 CTIDUERD 18 H Cool 9-12. S Cauding 8 1-7 -900 REGAL LOVER 25 IN 8-90 8-91. W High 1-8 0300 SOCKS AND SYLARES 17 P Harms 8-8. W Minimum 7 1-8 0300 SOCKS AND SYLARES 17 P Harms 8-8. W Minimum 7 1-9 030 SUZTE SHE 14 D ATMIGNOT 8-1. K Durley 9 11 48M6 DANCING TEARS 10 M Chambon 8-0. B Doyle (5) 10 12 10 13 DEAL CANDIDATE 10 (C.F) C Oyar 7-7 IN Adens 6 13 10043 ELECKYDO 11 R Hodges 7-7. F Norton (5) 12 5-1 Master Of The Rock, 6-1 Sovereign Page, 7-1 Valence, 8-1 Walking On Wester, 10-1 Mahasiny, 12-1 others. MANDARIN 7.00 Big Blue. 7.25 Meltomby. 7.50 Red Rosein. 8.20 Charioteer. 8.50 Premium. 9-20 Silver Haze. THUNDERER 7.00 RESOUNDING SUCCESS (nap). 7.25 Miss Doody, 7.50 Furiella. 8.20 Tales Of Wisciom. 8.50 Premium. 9-20 Silver Haze. GOING: GOOD DRAW: NO ADVANTAGE 7.00 SKELLGATE MAIDEN STAKES (E1,730: 1m 11) (12 runners) 1 BRAMBLESCHOTT 38 Mrs Smith 38-10. M Fraham 2 1 BRAMBLESCHOTT 38 Mrs Smith 38-10. W Pryon 12 8 MOON RESK 27 R Whisher 38-5. M Decrease 13 Minimal (7) 10 4 30-0 CANBRACK P! W A Simplement 38-10. G Unffield 8 10 MOON RISK 27 R Whisher 38-5. M Cochemn 11 9 4 WAZAZ / A Soot 38-10. J Forture 4 9 4-8 BLG. 3-1 Resourcing Success 5-1 B Hash. 8-1 Decrease 11 10 Sunday Marker 11 Fire Page 18-5. A Culture 4 9 4-8 BLG. 3-1 Resourcing Success 5-1 B Hash. 8-1 Decrease 11 10 MINIMARY AND SUCCESS 5-8 B Hash 3-6-5 D Hollerd 4 9 4-8 BLG. 3-1 Resourcing Success 5-1 B Hash. 8-1 Decrease 11 12 Semblebury, Marker. 1-1 I m Red Nock, 201 offices. 7.25 ST MARYGAYE SELLING STAKES
## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ##	SERIOUS HURRY nit 2nd to Reck! Opers (rec 6b) at Catterrick (6f, good to firm). LUCY DANCER 11 light to Cappering Last (rec 8b) at Geodescot (6f, good to firm). LUCY DANCER 11 light to Cappering Last (rec 8b) at Geodescot (6f, good to firm). LUCY DANCER 11 light to Cappering Last (rec 8b) at Geodescot (6f, good to firm). Self-good to firm (6f, good to firm). Self-good (6f, good to firm). Self-good (6f, good to firm). Fight Tex 8044ADRON 5.00 SCRAPTOFT HANDICAP (63, 199: 7f 9yd) (19 runners) 1 (8) 685385 DOULAR'S BLAGE 74 (D) (Commont Services) J Glower 59-11 S D Williams (7) 62 (d) 220023 YAZALY 38 (YAP) Blackman Al lastecom A 300: 11 Self-good (7)	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: 52,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13) 1.651 SOVERBORN PAGE 26 (D.F) 8 Handlary 9-7 2 0008 WALKING ON WATER 12 (B.F) R Johnson Houghton 3 1-4 VALSEUR 25 (8) Mrs J Cool 8-3 Paul Eddary 8 4 0-66 MANTER OF THE ROCK 21 P Match 8-12 T Cald 9-18 5 600 MASTER OF THE ROCK 21 P Match 8-12 T Cald 18-18 6 1-6 CITICULERN 83 H Cool 8-12 W R Switchum 8 7 400 REGAL LOWER 25 M Remark 9-18 T Remark 9-19 7 400 REGAL LOWER 25 M Remark 9-18 T P Harms 6-8. W Nownes 7 9 CERT DOMINANT FORCE 21 R Harms 9-2 R Parties 9-11 10 000 SUZTE 812 14 D ADMINIST 8-17 F Harms 6-8. W Nownes 7 11 40M5 DANCING YEARS 10 M Chambon 8-1. B Doyle (5) 10 12 0813 IDEAL CANDIDATE 10 (C.F) C Oyar 7-7 M Adens 6-13 0003 ELECKYDO 11 R Hodges 7-7 F Horion (8) 12 51 Manter Of The Rock, 6-1 Sovereign Page, 7-1 Valueur, 8-1 Walking On Wester, 10-1 Mahalay, 12-1 others. MANDIARIN 7.00 Big Blue. 7.25 Meltomby. 7.50 Red Rosein. 8.20 Charioteer. 8.50 Premium. 9.20 Silver Haze. THUNDERER 7.00 RESOUNDING SUCCESS (nap). 7.25 Miss Doody. 7.50 Furriella. 8.20 Tales Of Wisdom. 8.50 Premium. 9.20 Silver Haze. GOING: GOOD DRAW: NO ADVANTAGE 7.00 SKELLGATE MAIDEN STAKES ($1,730: 1m 11) (12 runners) 1 SNUAN HEATHER (B) J Perios 46-1 M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 3-10 M M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 3-10 M M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar
## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ## ##	SERIOLIS HURRY nit 2nd to Reck Opera (rec 6b) at Cetterrick (6f, good to firm), LUCY DANCER 1 in 13 and to Rechest (gene 15b) with HOTFOOT AND CENTRAL (rec 6b) at Cetterrick (6f, good to firm), LUCY DANCER 1 in 15 and to Coppermit Lad (rec 6b) at Geoderical (rec 6b) at Geoderical (rec 6b) at Geoderical (rec 6b) at Geoderical (rec 6b) at Cetterrick (ref, good to firm), PIGHTER SOLLADRON 1 in 16 (rec 16b) at Cetterrick (ref, good to firm), PIGHTER SOLLADRON 1 in 16 (rec 16b) at Cetterrick (ref, good to firm), PIGHTER SOLLADRON 1 in 16 (rec 16b) at Cetterrick (ref, good to firm), PIGHTER SOLLADRON 1 in 16 (rec 16b) at Cetterrick (ref, good to firm), PIGHTER SOLLADRON 1 in 16 (rec 16b) at Cetterrick (ref, good to firm), PIGHTER SOLLADRON 1 in 16 (rec 16b) at Cetterrick (ref, good to firm), PIGHTER SOLLADRON 1 in 16 (rec 16b) at Cetterrick (ref, good to firm), PIGHTER SOLLADRON 1 in 16 (rec 16b) at Cetterrick (ref, good to firm), PIGHTER SOLLADRON 1 in 16 (rec 16b) at Cetterrick (ref, good to firm), PIGHTER SOLLADRON 1 in 16 (rec 16b) at Cetterrick (ref, good to firm), PIGHTER SOLLADRON 1 in 16 (rec 16b) at Cetterrick (ref, good to firm), PIGHTER SOLLADRON 1 in 16 (rec 16b) at Cetterrick (ref, good to firm), PIGHTER SOLLADRON 1 in 16 (rec 16b) at Cetterrick (ref, good to firm), PIGHTER SOLLADRON 1 in 16 (rec 16b) at Cetterrick (ref, good to firm), PIGHTER SOLLADRON 1 in 16 (rec 16b) at Cetterrick (ref, good to firm), PIGHTER SOLLADRON 1 in 16 (rec 16b) at Cetterrick (ref, good to firm), PIGHTER SOLLADRON 1 in 16 (rec 16b) at Cetterrick (ref, good to firm), PIGHTER SOLLADRON 1 in 16 (rec 16b) at Cetterrick (ref, good to firm), PIGHTER SOLLADRON 1 in 16 (rec 16b) at Cetterrick (ref, good to firm), PIGHTER SOLLADRON 1 in 16 (rec 16b) at Cetterrick (ref, good to firm), PIGHTER SOLLADRON 1 in 16 (rec 16b) at Cetterrick (ref, good to firm), PIGHTER SOLLADRON 1 in 16 (rec 16b) at Cetterrick (rec 16b) at C	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: 52,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13) 1.651 SOVERBORN PAGE 26 (D.F) 8 Handlary 9-7 2 0008 WALKING ON WATER 12 (B.F) R Johnson Houghton 3 1-4 VALSEUR 25 (8) Mrs J Cool 8-3 Paul Eddary 8 4 0-66 MANTER OF THE ROCK 21 P Match 8-12 T Cald 9-18 5 600 MASTER OF THE ROCK 21 P Match 8-12 T Cald 18-18 6 1-6 CITICULERN 83 H Cool 8-12 W R Switchum 8 7 400 REGAL LOWER 25 M Remark 9-18 T Remark 9-19 7 400 REGAL LOWER 25 M Remark 9-18 T P Harms 6-8. W Nownes 7 9 CERT DOMINANT FORCE 21 R Harms 9-2 R Parties 9-11 10 000 SUZTE 812 14 D ADMINIST 8-17 F Harms 6-8. W Nownes 7 11 40M5 DANCING YEARS 10 M Chambon 8-1. B Doyle (5) 10 12 0813 IDEAL CANDIDATE 10 (C.F) C Oyar 7-7 M Adens 6-13 0003 ELECKYDO 11 R Hodges 7-7 F Horion (8) 12 51 Manter Of The Rock, 6-1 Sovereign Page, 7-1 Valueur, 8-1 Walking On Wester, 10-1 Mahalay, 12-1 others. MANDIARIN 7.00 Big Blue. 7.25 Meltomby. 7.50 Red Rosein. 8.20 Charioteer. 8.50 Premium. 9.20 Silver Haze. THUNDERER 7.00 RESOUNDING SUCCESS (nap). 7.25 Miss Doody. 7.50 Furriella. 8.20 Tales Of Wisdom. 8.50 Premium. 9.20 Silver Haze. GOING: GOOD DRAW: NO ADVANTAGE 7.00 SKELLGATE MAIDEN STAKES ($1,730: 1m 11) (12 runners) 1 SNUAN HEATHER (B) J Perios 46-1 M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 3-10 M M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 3-10 M M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar 2 SRAUGHERSPRY 28 Mrs 6 SIND 3-10 M Februar
95 95 95 95 95 95 95 95 95 95 95 95 95 9	SERIOLIS HURRY nit 2nd to Reck Opere (rec 6b) at Cetterrick (6f, good to firm), LUCY DANCER 1 in 13 and to Rechest (gene 15b) with HOTFOOT ANNUAL (gene 15b) at Cetterrick (6f, good to firm), LUCY DANCER 1 in 15 and to Coppermit Lack (not 6b) at Geodericot (fil. 15b) at Cetterrick (fil. good to firm), PIGHT RUN ME 13 and to Inveglate (not 28b) at Cetterrick (fil. good to firm), PIGHT RUN ME 13 and to Inveglate (not 28b) at Cetterrick (fil. good to firm), PIGHT RUN ME 13 and to Inveglate (not 28b) at Cetterrick (fil. good to firm), PIGHT RUN ME 12 and to Inveglate (not 28b) at Cetterrick (fil. good to firm), PIGHT RUN ME 12 and to Inveglate (not 28b) at Cetterrick (fil. good to firm), PIGHT RUN ME 12 and to Inveglate (not 28b) at Cetterrick (fil. good to firm), PIGHT RUN ME 12 and to Inveglate (not 28b) at Cetterrick (fil. good to firm), PIGHT RUN ME 12 and Cetterrick (fil. good to firm), PIGHT RUN ME 12 and Cetterrick (fil. good to firm), PIGHT RUN ME 12 and Cetterrick (fil. good to firm), PIGHT RUN ME 12 and Cetterrick (fil. good to firm), PIGHT RUN ME 12 and Cetterrick (fil. good to firm), PIGHT RUN ME 12 and Cetterrick (fil. good to firm), PIGHT RUN ME 12 and Cetterrick (fil. good to firm), PIGHT RUN ME 12 and Cetterrick (fil. good to firm), PIGHT RUN ME 12 and Cetterrick (fil. good to firm), PIGHT RUN ME 12 and Cetterrick (fil. good to firm), PIGHT RUN ME 12 and Cetterrick (fil. good to firm), PIGHT RUN ME 12 and Cetterrick (fil. good to firm), PIGHT A PIGHT RUN ME 12 and Cetterrick (fil. good to firm), PIGHT A PIGHT RUN ME 12 and Cetterrick (fil. good to firm), PIGHT A PIGHT RUN ME 12 and Cetterrick (fil. good to firm), PIGHT A PIGHT RUN ME 12 and Cetterrick (fil. good to firm), PIGHT A PIGHT RUN ME 12 and Cetterrick (fil. good to firm), PIGHT A PIGHT RUN ME 12 and Cetterrick (fil. good to firm), PIGHT A PIGHT RUN ME 12 and Cetterrick (fil. good to fil. good to fill file fill fill fill fill fill fill	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: $2,679: 1m 3f 136yd) (13) 1 -851 SOVERIBGH PAGE 26 (0.F) 8 Herbury 9.7 2 0008 WALKING ON WATER 12 (0.F) 8 Jenson Houghton 9.2 I faild 11 3 1-4 VALSEUR 25 (6) Mrs J Cool 8-3. Paul Eddary 8 4 6-86 MAHAPY 21 A Scotl 8-12. WR Subschum 6 5 800 MASTER OF THE ROCK 21 P Makin 6-12 T Cultur 13 6 1-6 CITICALEN 89 H Cool 8-12. S Caudison 16 6 0300 SOCKS AND STARES 17 P Herms 8-6. W Assembly 16 6 0300 SOCKS AND STARES 17 P Herms 8-6. W Marries 7 10 -000 SIZTE SHE 14 D Arbitomat 8-1. K Durley 8 11 646 DANCING YEARS 10 M Chambron 8-0. B Doyle 9) 10 12 0813 IDEAL CANDIDATE 10 (C.P.) C Oyae 7-7. N Adens 6 13 0043 ELECKYDO 11 R Hodge 7-7. F North (9) 12 15 1 Mander Of The Rock, 6-1 Sovereign Page, 7-1 Valueur, 8-1 Walking On Wester, 10-1 Mahainy, 12-1 others. MANDARIN 7.00 Big Blue. 7.25 Meltomby. 7.50 Red Rosein. 8.20 Charioteer. 8.50 Premium. 9.20 Silver Haze. THUNDERER 7.00 RESOUNDING SUCCESS (nap). 7.25 Miss Doody, 7.50 Furriella. 8.20 Tales Of Wisdom. 8.50 Premium. 9.20 Silver Haze. GOING: GOOD DRAW: NO ADVANTAGE 7.00 SKELLGATE MAIDEN STAKES (21,730: 1m 11) (12 rumbers) 1 SHAMBLEBERTY 28 Mrs 6 Septem 3-10. M Februra 2 1 SHAMBLEBERTY 28 Mrs 6 Septem 3-10. W Fiyan 12 2 30-6 CANBRACK 21 W A Supphenson 3-10. W Fiyan 12 3 1 GAMABLEBERTY 28 Mrs 6 Septem 3-10. W Fiyan 12 3 1 GAMABLEBERTY 28 Mrs 6 Septem 3-10. W Fiyan 12 4 30-0 CANBRACK 21 W A Supphenson 3-10. W Fiyan 12 5 1 MARCH PAWN 25 J Loigh 3-8-10. Dean McCalcoun 3 1 0 MICKAR 21 J Fineshows 3-8-10. R Duffield 8 10 NORTH RUSSIA J Gooden 3-8-10. R Duffield 8 10 NORTH RUSSIA J Gooden 3-8-10. R Duffield 8 10 NORTH RUSSIA J Gooden 3-8-10. R Duffield 8 10 NORTH RUSSIA J Gooden 3-8-10. R Duffield 5 10 NORTH RUSSIA J Gooden 3-8-10. R Duffield 5 10 NORTH RUSSIA J Gooden 3-8-10. R Duffield 5 10 NORTH RUSSIA J Gooden 3-8-10. R Duffield 5 10 NORTH RUSSIA J Gooden 3-8-10. R Duffield 12 10 DONT ENBOURING SUCCESS 5-8 B-180-3-6-5 D Holland 4 12 4-8 RESOUNDONS SUCCESS 5-8 B-180-3-6-5 D Holland 12 13 DONT ENBORREN STAKES 18 T T NORTH RUSSIA J GOODEN STAK
#6 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5	SERIOUS HURRY nt 2nd to Rect Coars (rec 80) at Cottentat (64, good to firm), LUCY DARCET is greated to Brain, and the Cottentat (64, good to firm), LUCY DARCET is greated to Brain, and the Cottentat (64, good to firm), LUCY DARCET is greated to Brain, and the Cottentat (64, good to firm), LUCY DARCET is greated to Brain, and the Cottentat (64, good to firm), Butter is set to Brain, and the Cottentat (64, good to firm), PUCHT RISK (ME M) at and to brain, and the Cottentat (64, good to firm), PUCHT RISK (ME M) and to brain greated (64, good to firm), PUCHT RISK (ME M) and to brain greated (64, good to firm), PUCHT RISK (ME M) and the Cottentation (64, good to firm), PUCHT RISK (ME M	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: $2,679: 1m 3f 135yt) (13) 1 -851 SOVERBON PAGE 26 (D.F) 8 Harbury 9.7 2 0006 WALKING ON WATER 12 (B.F) R Johnson Hauption 3 1-4 VALSEUR 25 (8) Mrs J Cool 8-2. Phut Eddary 8 4 0-46 MANUSY 21 A Scotl 8-12. W R Switchum 6 5 600 MASTER OF THE ROCK 21 P Matin 6-12 T Custom 18 5 1-6 CITIOLEEN 35 H Cool 8-12. M 14ths 1 5 1000 REGAL LOVER 25 M 8-9 8-10. M 14ths 1 6 1000 SUCKS AND STAKES 17 P Harts 6-6. W Nownes 7 9 CER DOMINANT FORCE 21 R Hausen De R Parmen (7) 6 10 -000 SUCKS SID STAKES 17 P Harts 6-6. W Nownes 7 11 6480 DANCING YEARS 10 M Charton 8-7. N Country 19 12 0813 IDEAL CANDIDATE 10 (C.P.) C Oyate 7-7. N Adense 5 13 1043 ELECKYDO 11 R Hodges 7-7. F Norton (5) 12 5-1 Master Of The Rock, 6-1 Scientisty Page, 7-1 Valence, 8-1 Walking On Water, 10-1 Making, 12-1 others. MANDIARIN 7.00 Big Blue. 7.25 Meltomby. 7.50 Red Rosein. 8.20 Chariotest. 8.50 Premium. 9.20 Silver Haze. THUNDERER 7.00 RESOUNDING SUCCESS (nap). 7.25 Miss Doody, 7.50 Furiella. 8.20 Tales Of Wisdom. 8.50 Premium. 9.20 Silver Haze. GOING: GOOD DRAW: NO ADVANTAGE 7.00 SKELLGATE MAIDEN STAKES (£1,730: 1m 11) (12 runners) 1 SHAMELELEENTY 28 Min 5 Swith 3-9 10 1 ONLY A ROSE C Thomas 3-8 10. Dean Medication 3-9 10 NORTH PARMS 21 Judges 3-8 10. Dean Medication 3-9 10 NORTH PARMS 21 Judges 3-8 10. Dean Medication 3-9 10 NORTH PARMS 21 Judges 3-8 10. Dean Medication 3-9 10 NORTH PARMS 21 Judges 3-8 10. Dean Medication 3-9 10 NORTH PARMS 21 Judges 3-8 10. Dean Medication 3-9 10 NORTH PARMS 21 Judges 3-8 10. Dean Medication 3-9 10 NORTH PARMS 21 Judges 3-8 10. Dean Medication 3-9 10 NORTH PARMS 21 Judges 3-8 10. Dean Medication 3-9 10 NORTH PARMS 21 Judges 3-8 10 NORTH PARMS 21
95 95 95 95 95 95 95 95 95 95 95 95 95 9	### FORM FOCUS ### FORM FOCUS ### FORM FOCUS ### ### ### ### ### ### ### ### ### #	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: $2,679: 1m 3f 136yd) (13) 1 -851 SOVERBON PAGE 26 (0.F) 8 Henbury 9.7 2 0008 WALKING ON WATER 12 (0.F) 8 Johnson Houghton 3 14 VALSEUR 25 (8) Nrs J Cool 9-3. Paul Eddary 8 4 0-86 MARTER 05 (17 THE ROCK 21 P Makin 6-12 T Quant 13 6 14 CITUALEEIN 83 H Cool 8-12. S Caudino 3 6 15 Candino 15 6 16 CITUALEEIN 83 H Cool 8-12. S Caudino 15 6 16 CITUALEEIN 83 H Cool 8-12. S Caudino 15 7 -000 REGAL LOVER 25 IN 80 8-10. M Hills 1 8 000 SOURS AND SHARES 17 P Hamb 8-2. W Navenus 7 1 000 SUZTE SUE 14 D Arbidinot 8-1. K Duriny 6 10 -000 SUZTE SUE 14 D Arbidinot 8-1. K Duriny 6 11 4M6 DANCING YEARS 10 M Chamon 8-2. B Doyle 5) 10 12 0813 IDEAL CANDIDATE 10 (C.P) C Oyan 7-7. N Adens 6 13 10043 ELECKYDO 11 R Hodges 7-7. F Norton (3) 11 13 0043 ELECKYDO 11 R Hodges 7-7. F Norton (3) 13 15 Marter Of The Rock, 6-1 Sovereign Page, 7-1 Valueur, 8-1 Walking On Water, 10-1 Mahainy, 12-1 others. MANDIARIN 7.00 RESOUNDING SUCCESS (nap), 7.25 Miss Doody, 7.50 Furiella, 8.20 Tales Of Wisdom, 8.50 Premium, 9.20 Silver Haze. GOING: GOOD DRAW: NO ADVANTAGE 7.00 SKELLGATE MAIDEN STAKES (£1,730: 1m 1f) (12 runners) 1 SAM SED NECK J Gooden 38-10. M Februra 2 1 SPAUSIESERY 28 W A Shapherson 38-10. M Februra 3 1 SPAUSIESERY 28 W A Shapherson 38-10. M Februra 3 1 SPAUSIESERY 28 W A Shapherson 38-5. M Birch 13 2 4-8 RESOUNDING SUCCESS 54 B Hits 38-5 D Holland 4 9-4 By GRUBE 9-6 Gridan 38-10. R Cochram 11 2 4-8 RESOUNDING SUCCESS 54 B Hits 38-5 D Holland 4 9-4 By GRUBE 9-6 Gridan 38-10. R Cochram 11 2 4-8 RESOUNDING SUCCESS 54 B Hits 38-5 D Holland 4 9-4 By GRUBE 9-6 Gridan 38-10. R Cochram 11 2 4-8 RESOUNDING SUCCESS 54 B Hits 38-5 D Holland 4 9-4 By GRUBE 9-6 By T 16 T Barron 9-0 D Holland 12 4 RESOUNDING SUCCESS 54 B Hits 38-5 D Holland 4 9-4 By Blab, 3-1 Resourding Success, 5-1 North Russia, 6-1 Whatcher, 14-1 Imm Red Nock, 20-1 others. 7 25 ST MARYGATE SELLING STAKES (3-Y-O: $1,458: Im 21) (14) 1 90 BOLD MOOD 9 J Berry 50 2 0 GOOD 9 J Holland 60 J Berry 50 2 0 GOOD 9 J Berry 50 2 0 J J J J J J J J J J J J J

12 (3) W/S PET (Mas V Janus) A Hale 8-4	Without St. 1 Newmarket Correspondent: 7.00 KAMATEERA.
ETTING: 3-1 Solders Bay, 7-2 The Sharp Bidder, 5-1 Pensier, 6-1 Cherus, 6-1 Name, Infant Protego, 18-1 others.	Heavenly Risk, 12-1 Poco 9.00 YILDIZ
1891: WILD HONOUR 8-5 S Whitworth (10-1) W Mur 18 FORM FOCUS "ANTHER 3rd beggen under 20 by 50 no (rec 5th) of 1 at Mariceste (54, good to	GOING: SOFT
	Simply POCO PRERIMA 2nd since Stot Afficial Stot Afficial Stot Stot Afficial Stot Stot Afficial Stot Stot Stot Stot Stot Stot Stot Sto
1 (10) MADAGANS CLAIMING STAKES (3-Y-O: 22,441: 1m 8 1 (10) 088034 AMERICAN BOCGIE 9 (A Richards) C Brittant 8-11	M Roberts September 1 1990 17TTLE w/OS 60 J White 9-5 T William 14 1990 T William 15 1990 17TTLE w/OS 60 J White 9-5 T William 15 1990 19
14 (6) 000- BELLA'S MATCH 339 (Mrs M Paling) 8 Paling 7-15 HTTING: 11-4 Dencing Basu, 7-2 Lord Nautra, 5-1 Lonesome Train, 13-2 Ame yn's Return, 18-1 Qualdair Idol, Arrogant Daughter, 20-1 others. 1991: DIGS 8-11 J Reid (4-5 tav) R Johnson Houghten 10 FORM FOCUS	rican Boogie, 8-1 Prof Atler. 15 0-00 EXCELLED 3D 8 Gubby 8-7 C Avery 8-1
th AMERICAN BOOGIE (rec 4th) 7161 4th at New (66), PHIL-MAN 251 2nd extent (rec, coord to firm), LYN'S RETURN 251 3nd at Cartinia (7) 214td, has	7.00 EBF DATCHET MAIDEN STAKES (2-Y-O: £1,968: 5i 10yd) (15)
L30 MANNY BERNSTEIN BOOKMAKERS HANDICAP 22,758: 5f 2yd) (9 runners) 1 (8) 6-0002 SERIOUS HURRY 4 (B,D) (L Lerrari) M Prescott 4-9-10 2 (7) 30240E LUCY DANCER 10 (V,D,G) (Orohid Recing Limited) C Co 3 (7) 00431-0 JUSTAMANDA 31 (D,F) (M Haiden) M Holden 3-9-7 4 (4) 800102 DON'T RIAN ME O'VER 5 (D,F) (G Whitsher) B Morgan 3-9 5 (8) 20212S FIGHTER SOLIADRON 25 (V,D,BF) (Cwernort S'vizer) J Glover 5 6 (8) 20213S FIGHTER SOLIADRON 25 (V,D,BF) (Cwernort S'vizer) J Glover 5 7 (8) 608-022 NORTH OF WATTORD 7 (D,F,G,S) (9 Se H Winner M Norghids 3 8 000000 MENZEN MUSIC 14 (D,F) (D Motori) M Britain 47 13 9 (6) 004000 BARBEZELIX 18 (S,CO,F,S) (8 Walker) T Nacytion 5-7-12 ETTING: 5-2 North Of Watdord, 7-2 Serious Hurry, 4-1 Righter Squadron, 7-1 Don't 1991: MARBEZZELIX 4-9-1 E Dz/field (5-1) D Walker 12 (4-1)	A 48.6 A Clark 96 18 4884 TWD TMAES TWELVE 20 (8.0F) J Serry 9-0 M Hills 3 4 ACTION NIGHT IS M Moubanit 8-6 L Dasont 1 18 ACRES PET 7 J Sucritis 9-9 18 Floratin 1 19 A AGRES PET 7 J Sucritis 9-9 18 Floratin 1 19 A Marrio 9 19 A Marrio 9 10 ENTS DU MIDIT R Americang 8-8 10 Corratio 13 18 Correction 1 19 A Marrio 9 10 ENTS DU MIDIT R Americang 8-9 10 Corratio 13 19 Correction 1 19 Co
FORM FOCUS BRIOUS HURRY nk 2nd to Reck Opera (rec 6th) under 11 3rd to Rednet (s	7.30 TRIPLEPRINT HANDICAP (3-Y-O: 52,679: 1m 3f 135yd) (13)
Catterrick (St, good to firm). LUCY DANCER 11 at to Coppermell Last (see Sib) at Geodwood (St, soci to limit). CHT RUN ME 161 2nd to inviglinte (see 2b) at at the complete (see 2b) at the complet	If 2nd to Here Comes A 1 -551 SOVERIGEN PAGE 26 (D,F) 6 Harbury 97 B Page 22 (D,F) 7 Johnson Household ME 2 2008 WALKING ON WATER 12 (B,F) R Johnson Household ME
.00 SCRAPTOFT HANDICAP (£3,190: 7f 9yd) (19 runners) 1 (8) 85556 DOULAB'S BAAGE 74 (D) (Clement to Services) J Glover 54 2 (4) 25-023 YAZALY 36 (V,SF) (Maktoum A) Medicoum) A 3cott 3-64. 3 (5) 105-000 SLY PROSPECT 9 (B,D,F) (in Metta) K White 4-95	W R Swindum 96 A Gerth (7) 91 A Clark C A Clark C C St. Cookname 94 S-8-0 J Current 98 S-1 Master Ct The Rock, 6-1 Sovereign Page, 7-1 Valeeur, 8-1 Walk Ing On Wester, 10-1 Mahairy, 12-1 ctrars.
12 (8) 00;5000- STATE OF AFFARS 369 (F) (Min S Survey) C Hogen 568 13 (19) 20;5030 REVOKE 9 (A Newcomby) C No 57-10. 14 (17) 00;5000 MRSS BBLL RENGER 25 (C.F) (C He) C He 47-12. 15 (8) 00;5000 HARLBOURN GRIL 7 (A Weening) K bory 47-10. 16 (15) 400;054 ROCA MURADA 14 (T Coto) M Syon 370. 17 (1) 00;0000 SERGIEANT MERYLL 16 (D.G.S) (B Lumb Plumotil) P Houling (B (15) 0007 JOHNSTON'S EXPRESS 25 F McSentil E Aldon 474. 18 (7) 3416/05 VENDRECK TRIESE 14 (D.G.) (G Sheppart) S Bowling 97-7.	N Adema 81 F Norton (8 98 D Steel (3) 97 MANDARIN
ong handkop: Vendred Trizz 7.3. ETTING: 7-2 Yazely, 4-1 Cooluba Prince, 5-1 Susenne's Scoret, 6-1 Rote Musade Prendre, 10-1 Vendred Tricke, 12-1 Sold Selfo, 16-1 others. 1861: NO CORRESPONDING RACE FORM FOCUS	7.00 RESOUNDING SUCCESS (nap), 7.25 Mis Doody, 7.50 Furiella, 8.20 Tales Of Wisdom, 8.50 Premium, 9.20 Silver Haze.
COULAB'S MAGE under 41 8th to Coloneus (pave th) at Beverley (71 100yd, good) YAZALY 12141 3rd at North Phore (rice 5tb) at Norweastle (71, good to first). A ROLL OF THE River (rice 5tb) at Norweastle (71, good to first).	CHT'A PREVDRE under 11 at Chepstow (7t, good to 22 4th to Great Marx (gare) 11 233yd, good to 51113. 5 5kt 4th to La Belle Vin (71 1094, good to firm) 15 581 to Henry's Cossing 11 (21 13yd). 12 13yd, good to firm) 13 18 13yd). 14 13 13 14 15 15 15 15 15 15 15 15 15 15 15 15 15
1 (1) 05 GUSSIE FRIK-NOTTLE 19 (Jan & Starran) T Berne 9-0	4 39-0 CAMBRACK 21 W A Stephenson 34-10 W Ryon 1: 5 MARC Greeves
415 CRAIGMRLAR SELLING STAKES (£2,136: 7/115yd) ($ 1 ($) 22203 MCA BELOW THE LINE 9 (B.D.BF.F) (Cyrnes Lid) 8 Beselv (£2 85050 TALISH 7 (V.G) (A Gorrie) T Berron 4-80. 2 ($) 8904-90 COME ON MY GIBL 7 ($) ($ Charlottal) T Curinbert 4-86. 4 ($) 8924-90 GOODSY'E MR MARKS 46 (Aim D Bengarin) N Bycreft 4-84 (B) 8024-90 GOODSY'E MR MARKS 46 (Aim D Bengarin) N Bycreft 4-84 (B) 801-90 GOOD-90 RAVECINO 11 ($) ($) Heloame) 3 Nettons 3-8-1. 2 ($) 890-90-90 MUNIMYS ROCKET 18 ($) (Widnes Recting Cuta) in Cyrnell SETTING: 11-8 Migs Parkes; 13-8 MCA Below The Line, 9-2 Goodsyn Mr Marke 12-1 Marranty's Rocket, 14-1 others. 1991: MORCENDA 5-8-4 P Hutton (20-1) P Montawth 8 others.	3-Y-O: $1,458: 1m 21) (14) 1-90 BOLD MODO 9 J Berry 9-0 G Center 9-1 BOLD MODO 9 J Berry 9-0 G Center 9-1 BOLD MODO 9 J Berry 9-0 G Center 9-1 BOLD MODO 9 J Berry 9-0 M Sheck 9-1 BOLD MODO 9 J Berry 9-0 M Sheck 9-1 BOLD MODO 9-1 BERRY 9-0 M Sheck 9-1 BOLD MODO 9-1 BERRY 9-0 M Sheck 9-1 BOLD MODO 9-0 M Sheck 9-1 BOLD MODO 9-0 M Sheck 9-1 BOLD MODO 9-0 M Sheck 9-1 BOLD 9-1 BOLD 9-0 M Sheck 9-1 BOLD 9-1 BOLD 9-0 M Sheck 9-1 BOLD 9
4.45 WALLYFORD MAIDEN AUCTION STAKES (2-Y-O: 52,122: 71 15yd) (9 runners) 1 (0) 4 THE PREMIER EXPRES 10 (Premior Properties Pfc) 8 Bees 2 (0) GRAND AS ONLY (0 McCared) Derrye Smith 8-11	14 0000 TURNING HEADS 33 JH Wilson 89, 24 Miss Doody, 100-30 Iron Barron, Metionby, 8-1 Speedy South 12-1 Mr News, 16-1 Shafeyil, 20-1 Dick Whitisington, 25-1 others 12-1 Mr News, 16-1 Shafeyil, 20-1 Dick Whitisington, 25-1 others 12-1 Mr News, 16-1 Shafeyil, 20-1 Dick Whitisington, 25-1 others 12-1 Mr News, 16-1 Shafeyil, 20-1 Dick Whitisington, 25-1 others 12-1 Mr News, 16-1 Shafeyil, 20-1 Dick Whitisington, 25-1 others 13-1 Mr News, 16-1 Dick Whitisington, 25-1 others 13-1 Mr News, 16-1 Dick Whitisington, 25-1 others 20-1 Dic
	NT: - 4: -:

R Pedgia 8-6	6 00 GABESIA 30 H Colingridge 48-13. C Hewkstey (7) 8 7 08 THEKOSUMTHN 13 P Burgone 68-13. M Wignam 7 8 481 PARTY CITED 12 (P) D Elsworth 3-8-13. M Wignam 8 80 CRYPTIC CLUE 9 M Heistnet 18-3-7 A McClare 9 10 6 HANG TEN 21 L Cuman 3-8-7 L Dettor 1 12 50 JONAL MAN 14 S Male P Mitchell 3-8-7 T Cuman 1 13 00 BIT ON THE SIDE 10 W Museon 3-8-2 P Bowe (7) 1 14 46 SALEY SRIPEN ZE E Wineler 3-8-2 B Wildhoorth 1 15 -222 YILDIZ 25 B Hills 3-8-2 B Wildhoorth 1 15 -222 YILDIZ 25 B Hills 3-8-2 M Hills 1 16 4 YiCz, 3-1 Party Clad, 4-1 Parring Arrow, 8-1 Heing Ten, 8-1 Head inst Heights, 10-1 Siley Sten, 12-1 others. COURSE SPECIALISTS TRAINERS: L Cuman, 12 winners from 32 runners, 37 Stic 3 Harwood, 11 from 34, 32-4%; H A Cacil, 7 from 30, 23-375; J Berry, 9 from 44, 20-55; M Stoute, 8 from 45,
F 1S M Moubent 66 L Decorf 11 Smithly 88 E Foxes 4 R Ametrong 88 B Crossley 2 E P Michell 56 S O'Corrain 13 S J Scepti 84 J Williams 14 SION 23 J Bridger 66. Dale Gibeon 7 7 A Scott 89 B Reymond 5 Night, 6-1 Rusty Reje. 10-1 Princely In, Toquie Twist, 16-1 officers.	MOR: 4 Gescan, 5 from 25, 192%. JOCKEYR: L. Pagent, 5 winners from 10 rides, 30.0%; Pat Ecksey, 48 from 294, 23.5%; L. Deston, 14 from 72, 19.4%; S. Cauthen, 13 from 70, 19.6%; W.R. Swinburn, 14 from 85, 16.5%; B. Raymond, 11 from 79, 13.5%. Winter injured in fall
HNT HANDICAP 135yd) (13) AGE 36 (D.F) 6 Hentury 97 IF Francis II WATER 12 (B.F) R Johnson Hengriton Sal Reid 11 5) Mrs J Cool 9-3	JOANNA Winter, daughter of Fred Winter sustained severe concussion and a broker arm in a fall at Hamburg on Saturday. Winter was entering the straight on Bright Dancer in a lady riders' race when the horse reared up. She is expected to be detained in hospital in Hamburg until midweek. Billy Newnes partnered Pik Konig to viotory in the £157,895 group one BMW Deutsches Derby (1m 4f) at Hamburg yesterday. Blinkered first time
Sovereign Page, 7-1 Valueur, 5-1 Walk- , 12-1 others.	2 45 Mr Ek. 4.13 Mummys Rocket. WINDSOR: 8.35 Aragona Peerly White, Tegetes, Bella Battina. 8.90 Grand Dencer RIPON: 7.00 Indian Heather.
Meltonby. 7.50 Red Rosein. Premium. 9.20 Silver Haze.	7.50 NATIONAL MEDICAL AGENCY HANDICAP (22,768: 6f) (7) 1 3316 RED ROSEIN 5 (CD,F,G) JH Wilson 6-10-0 G Center 2 2 4820 TOSHIBA COMET 17 (6,D,F,G,B) B Bensity 5-9-5 2 1830 MURRELLA 18 (CD,BF,G) P Hoston 4-8-12 J Wisser 1 4 DG5 HNAL SHOT 10 (D,F,G) MH Estatoly 5-9-1 M Britch 8 5 0231 PILICAN 18 (CD,F,G) Dos Entro India 6-9-6 Chiefe Baiding (7) 5
G SUCCESS (nap). 7.25 Miss. 8.20 Tales Of Wisdom. 8.50 Haze.	6 005 NORTHERN SPARK 16 (D.G) C Thoman 488 is flationed 7 5559 LONGARD OCEAN 25 (D.F) M Onesi 37-12 J Culm 3 3-1 Finel Shot, 8-1 Filiceia, Furiella, 8-1 Northern Spark, 7-1 Rad Rosein, 8-1 Lombard Ocean, 10-1 Toshiba Comet.
ORAW: NO ADVANTAGE THE MAIDEN STAKES INNERS) SER (B) J Pinkes 4-1	8.20 SINGER & FRIEDLANDER HANDI- CAP (3-Y-O: £2,051: 1m 4f 60yd) (9) 1 0450 RUSSIAN VISION 21 A 3cott 9-7
GATE SILLING STAKES) (14) 9 J Berry 8-0	1 CHALLENSER ROW C Thornton 9-0 M Birch 9 2 RIPY WISH C Thornton 9-0 D Duffeld 9 3 0033 HAWAYMYSON 9 J Johnson 9-0 J Weaver (5) 7 4 MUSICAL PHONE J Leigh 9-0 K Fallon 4 5 S PREMIUM 12 W Hangus 9-0 M Roberts 3 6 B TTYFRAN 16 F Lee 9-0 Dean McKeown 5 7 54 GERL NEXT DOOR 23 N Graham 8-9 J Johnson 10 GUESN OF THE CUORN G Moore 8-8 R Cochrane 8 9 RHETTS CHOICE J Berry 8-0 G Center 6 5-2 Ttyfran, 7-2 Premium, 5-1 Hawaystryson, 7-1 GM Next Door, 10-1 Rhett's Choice, 12-1 Musical Phone, 20-1 others.
PS 12 M Electy 8-9 G Duttleid 3 RPS 12 M Electy 8-9 8 Morris 10 (C.F.3) N Trikler 8-9 G Beater 6 6 (V.BF.F) M Cremens 8-9 1 Hambury 8-9 K Cool mares 9 1 Hambury 8-9 M Roberts 11 US 33 J H Wilson 8-9 M Roberts 11 US 33 J H Wilson 8-9 C Speedy Sious, pl. 20-1 Dick Whatington, 25-1 others.	9.20 KIRKGATE HANDICAP (£1,702: 1m) (13) 1 1820 HABETA 9 (CD.F.G.) J Waltz 6-10-0
SPECIALISTS 5 winners from 13 runners, 39.5%; 3%, J Goaden, 5 from 20, 25.0%, J 4%; P Hastem, 4 from 32, 12.5%. I winners from 19 ridge, 25.6%, 4	5 0-00 SHALEEF 24 R Williams 4-9-10

Il Man From Eldorado, formerly with Guy Harwood, bear Bold Russian by a neck to win the grade two American Handicap (1m 1f) at Hollywood Park on Saturday on his first run for Neil Drysdale.

15 500 LIGHTHING SPARK 30 M Avison 3.1.7... J Love 2

A AGASSI bt J McErroe 6-4 6-2 63

A AGASSI bi G MANSEVIC

Wimbledon 1992: Full details of the singles championships

(1) J COURIER (US) bt M Zoecke (Ger) 6-2 6-2 6-3

K Kinnear (US) bt C-U Steeb (Ger) 7-6 6-2 6-7 6-1

A Ohovskiy (CIS) bt J Stark (US) 6-4 3-6 6-3 3-6 7-5

B Black (Zim) bt F Fontang (Fr) 6-2 7-5 6-1

P Cash (Aus) bt. J Ettingh (Holl) 6-4 6-4 7-8

J McEnroe (US) bt L Matter (Br) 5-7 6-1 6-3 6-3

T Meetin (US) bt H de la Pens (Arg) 6-1 6-0 8-3

A Jerryd (Swe) bt C Bailey (GB) 6-4 6-3 6-0

H Leconte (Fr) bt R Azar (Arg) 6-3 6-0 6-3

L Lavelle (Mex.) bt A Castle (GB) 6-4 6-0 7-

(16) D WHEATON (US) bt F Clavet (Sp) 8-3 8-3 6-3

(9) G FORGET (Fr) bt A Miroriz (Ger) 8-3 3-6 7-5 7-6

B Karbacher (Ger) bt R Gilbert (Fr) 2-6 7-5 2-6 5-4 6-4

T Champion (Fr) bt R Reneberg (US) 5-7.6-4 3-6 7-6 6-3

J Sanchez (Sp) bt G Raoux (Fr) 6-4 7-6 5-7 3-6 9-7

(4) B BECKER (Ger) bt O Camporese (R) 7-5 6-3 7-5

B Shelton (US) bt K Curren (US) 3-6 7=6 4-6 7-6 9-7 O Delaitre (Fr) bt R Leach (US) 6-1 7-6 3-6 3-6 6-3 L Herrera (Mex) bit J Connors (US) 6-2 1-6 7-5 6-3

S Matsucka (Japan) bt M Washington (US)7-5 6-4 6-

(14) W FERREIRA (SA) bt J Fitzgerald (Aus) 6-2 6-2 6-7 7-5 (12) A AGASSI (US) bt A Chesnokov (CIS) 5-7 6-1 7-5 7-5

C van Rensburg (SA) bt J Tarango (US) 7-6 6-4 7-5

E Masso (Bel) bt N Kroon (Swe) 6-7 6-4 6-2 2-6 6-4

D Rostagno (US) bt T Carbonell (Sp) 2-8 6-1 6-1 8-2

C Saceanu (Ger) bt G Markus (Arg) 7-5 6-3 2-6 7-

(6) P KORDA (Cz) bt C Bergstrom (Swe) 7-5 7-8 6-4 (5) P SAMPRAS (US) bt A Charlesov (CIS) 6-1 6-3 6-3

K Brassch (Ger) bt D Nargiso (tt) 6-3 3-6 6-7 7-5 6-3

P Haarhuis (Hoti) bit J Stoltenberg (Aus) 6-3 7-5 4-5 4-5 7-5

(11) R KRAJICEK (Holl) bt J DeJager (SA) 7-5 8-1 6-2

(13) B GILBERT (US) bt J Reurian (Fr) 6-2 6-3 6-2

S You! (Aux) bt P Fromberg (Aux) 6-2 6-3 0-1 Ret

N Knowles (Bah) bt M Koevermans (Holf) 6-2 8-1 6-3

C Costa (Sp) bt C Limbarger (Aus) 8-1 4-6 5-7 8-3 8-3

(8) G IVANISEVIC (Cro) bt L Koslowski (Gar) 6-2 8-2 8-3

M Woodfords (Aust) bt J Siemerink (Hoth) 6-3 6-2 3-6 7-5

W Masur (Aus) bt L Jonsson (Swel 6-2 6-2 6-1

M Lerseon (Swe) bt J France (Arg) 6-3 7-6 6-4

A Manadorf (lar) bt M Naewle (Gar) 6-3 7-8 6-4

(3) M STICH (Gar) bt S Pesconolido (t) 8-3 6-3 6-3

M Rosset (Switz) bi A Richardson (GB) 6-2 6-4 6-4

M Petchey (GB) bt D Randall (US) 7-6 6-2 6-7 6-3

S Stolle (Aus) bt K Novecek (Cz) 7-5 6-6 ret

C Wikinson (GE) bt G Pozzi (8) 5-3 8-8 2-6 7-6

A Thoma (Ger) bt T Witskan (US) 6-2 2-6 6-2 6-2

(10) I LENDL (Cz) bt P Kuhnen (Ger) 6-1 7-6 7-6

B Stankovic (Cz) bt A Foster (GE) 6-2 6-4 6-3

H Holm (Swe) bt G Doyle (Aux) 6-3 6-2 2-6 6-4

P McEnroe (US) bt F Montana (US) 6-4 6-1 6-1

G Stafford (SA) bt T Muster (Aust) 6-3 6-3 7-6

BY DAVID MILLER

NOT the most memorable of men's singles finals, but a fascinating study in the mental resilience of two men towards the weaknesses in their respective game as much as towards their strengths. When Goran

Ivanisevic's weakness finally overtook him, it was almost more than he could bear, and while the cheers for Andre

Agassi echoed round the centre court, Ivanisevic hid his head under a towel like a beaten boxer: the knockout

G Muller (SA) bt M Ondruska (SA) 6-7 6-3 7-6 6-3

(2) S EDBERG (Swe) bt S Bryan (US) 6-1 6-3 6-0

N Kusti (Swei) bt G Lopez (Sp) 6-0 6-0 6-1

(15) A VOLKOV (CIS) bt E Sanchez (Sp) 6-3 6-2.4-6 6-2

J Hlasek (Switz) bt M Schapers (Holl) 6-4 6-3 6-2

T Woodbridge (Aus.) bt F Rosse (Br) 6-2 7-5 6-4

S Davis (US) bt C Mezadri (Switz) 6-1 6-3 6-3

F Rolg (Sp) bt C Miniussi (Arg) 6-2 6-3 6-4

A Boetsch (Fr) bt J Grabb (US) 7-6 7-5 6-4

J Yzaga (Peru) bt M Gorriz (Sp) 6-4 6-4 6-2

C Pioline (Fr) bt C Pistolesi (it) 6-3 3-6 6-3 7-5

J Bates (CE) bt (7) M CHANG (US) 8-4 6-3 8-3

M Damm (Cz) bt C Prichem (Can) 6-4 6-4 6-4

second round Third round Fourth round

A Othovsky bt J COURSER 6-4 6-1 6-4

J McEnroe bt D WHEATON 8-3 8-4 6-4

G FORGET bt H Laconte 7-6 B-3 3-6 6-3

J Bates bt T Champion 7-5 6-4 6-7 4-8 6-4

B BECKER bt 8 Shelton 6-4 3-6 7-6 7-6

W FERREIRA bt L Herrara 7-8 6-1 4-6 6-0

C Secenu bt J Hlasek 7-8 3-6 6-3 1-6 6-3

A Boetsch bt R KRAJICEK 4-6 7-6 3-6 7-6 6-2

W Masur bt B GR.BERT 6-3 6-7 6-7 6-4 8-2

M STICH bt M Larsson 5-4 3-6 8-8 7-6

Q IVANISEVIC bt M Rosset 7-8 6-4 6-4

H Holm bt A VOLKOV 5-4 3-6 6-3 7-8

SEDBERG bt G Stafford 6-1 6-0 6-2

I LENDL bt S Stole 5-3 1-5 2-6 6-5 7-5

A AGASSI bt D Rostagno 6-3 7-6 7-

P SAMPRAS bt S Davis 6-1 6-0 6-2

J McEnroe bt A Othoveley 7-56-37-6

G FORGET bt J Betes 6-7 6-4 3-6 7-6 6-3

A AGASSI bt C Saceenu 7-66-17-6

P SAMPRAS IX A Bootsch 6-87-67-6

M STICH bt W Masur 3-6 8-1 8-4 6-4

G IVANISEVIC bt 1 LENDL - 8-7 8-1-8-4 1-0 mt -

P SAMPRAS IX M STICH 6-36-26-4

GIVANISEVIC IX SEDBERG 5-77-56-13-66-3

J McEnroe bt @ FORGET 6-27-66-

J COURLER M B Black 6-4 6-1 6-4

A Othovskiy bt K Kirmeer 8-4 7-6 6-8

JMcEnros tx PCash 6-7 6-4 6-7 6-3 6-2

D WHEATON bt T Martin 6-3 6-3 6-7 8-3

H Leconté bt B Karbacher 7-5 6-2 7-6

T Champion bt L Lavelle 7-8 6-3 5-7 7-5

tes bt J Sanchez 7-6 6-3 6-4

G FORGET bt A Janyo 4-6 6-3 3-6 6-3 10-8

B BECKER bt M Damm 4-6 8-4 8-4 3-6 8-3

L Herrera bt S Metsucka 6-4 6-4 5-7 4-6 6-3

W FERREIRA bt C van Rensburg 6-3 6-3 6-7 6-3

A AGASSI bt E Messo 4-6 6-1 6-3 6-5

D Rostagno bt J Yzagga 6-3 6-3 6-1

C Secent bt C Pioline 4-6 6-4 0-6 7-5 7-5

J Hasek bt P KORDA 4-8 3-8 8-3 7-6 16-14

P SAMPRAS bt T Woodbridge 7-6 7-6 6-7 6-4

S Davis bt K Brassch 6-7 7-6 7-6 8-3

R KRAJICEK bt P Hearbuie 7-8 6-3 6-1

A Bostsch bt. F Floig 6-4 6-2 6-2

B GALBERT bt S You 6-1 7-6 7-6

W Masur bt N Knowlee 6-3 6-4 7-6

M Lereson bt C Costs 7-5 6-3 6-7 6-4

M STICH bt A Manadorf 4-6 7-6 6-3 6-3

Sistolle bt C Wilkinson 3-8 6-4 7-5 6-4

I LIENDL bt A Thoma 7-5 7-6 1-6 7-5

A VOLKOV bt B Stankovic 6-4 7-5 6-3

G Stafford bt P McEnros 8-4 7-6-2-6 6-2

Ivanisevic fails to land the telling blow

8 EDBERG bt G Muller 7-8 6-3 7-8

H Holm bt N Kuttl 6-1 6-2 6-2

G IVANISEVIC bt M Woodforde 8-4 6-4 6-7 6-8

Poised for success: Graf hits a winner in her women's singles final victory

Graf takes fourth title with overwhelming display against Seles

S Graf (Ger) bt M Seles (Yug), 6-2, 6-1

THE rain did its best to disguise the extent of the beating, but the facts cannot be so easily covered up. In 58 minutes of domination, thinly spread over nearly five and a half hours on the centre court on Saturday, Steffi Graf won her fourth Wimbledon title, overwhelming Monica Seles 6-2, 6-1 and reducing talk of grand slams to the realms of fantasy, not just this year but also for the foreseeable future. Graf has aiready surpassed the achievements of such distinguished past champions as Maureen Connolly, Margaret Court and Chris Evert in winning four titles and, at the age of 23, has plenty of time to win more. More importantly, with the encouragement of her new coach. Heinz Gunthardt, Graf has found a new sense of perspective, learnt to have fun on court, and rediscovered her enthusiasm. It is Seles who now has to take another step

Like her fellow No. 1 and grand slam aspirant, Jim Courier, Seles learnt the hard way that confidence, resilience and pounding ground strokes are not sufficient qualities to master the intricacies of grasscourt tennis. At least, not against a champion in prime

"The serve was not there. which is a key part of my game, but Steffi played an excellent match and never let WOMEN'S FINAL DETAILS

GRA	F SELES
First serves in	7 36/66
Second serves in	1 28/30
Unreturned serves	7 7/84
Aces	3 3
Double faults	0 2
Service points won	7 33/66
First serve: average speed (mph)	2 75
Second serve: average speed (mph)8
Service returns in	4 32/47
Points won at net	1 6/10
Baseline points won Total points won 69/11
Game points won8/1
Break coints won 4/1

me find my rhythm," Seles said. The top seed, who had surfed into Wimbledon on a wave of impressive statistics. was submerged by her worst defeat since her first appearance at Wimbledon three years ago. Then she won just one game off Graf: on Saturit was a mere three. Which poses two questions.

Has Seles, dominant on all other surfaces, shown only minuscule improvement on grass? Or has Graf, who in the semi-final against Sabatini, the No. 3 seed, and in the final against Seles, become a much better player than in 1989, when she was regarded as at the height of her powers?

The good news for Seles, at least, is that Graf thinks it is the latter. "I have played the best tennis of my career over the past two or three days. Better even than 1988 or

Rejected duo make their former partners pay

REVENGE was sweet for Gigi Fernandez and Natalia Zvereva as they beat Jana Novotna and Larisa Savchenko-Neiland 6-4, 6-1 to win the women's doubles title (Alix Ramsay writes).

Last year Savchenko and Zvereva beat Novotna and Fernandez in the final, but since then they have swapped partners in less than harmonious circumstances.

Immediately after last year's final Novotna announced that she did not want to play with Fernandez any more. "It was not great timing," Fernandez said. "But I know now that she was looking for a new partner before Wimbledon disappointed and hurt by their former partner's decisions, teamed up in Berlin and have now played four tournaments together, collecting the French and Wimbledon crowns.

Having weathered a strong opening from Novotna and Savchenko, the pair began to relax and took the match with relish. "We complement each other," Fernandez said. "Natalia has great returns and I have good volleys and we like each other as well. "This is more fun than it has been with any other partner." Zvereva said. "And it really means a lot to have beaten since I put together two matches like that back-tohack."

The had news is that, on the basis of this one-sided final, Seles still has a physical and mental chasm to leap before she offers a strong challenge to Graf's increasingly secure ten-ure of the Wimbledon title.

The German made the world No. 1 look exactly what she is, a novice on grass. For perhaps the first time in her life. Seles realised she had stepped a little out of her depth and, whereas in the final of the French Open she had run for every ball, refusing to be beaten, on Saturday the fire in the belly had vanished along with the air in her lungs. There was no grunt and no fight. "When I was +1 down in the second set. I thought there was no way I could get back into the match," she said.

Four breaks for rain gave Seles every chance to recover, but barely affected Graf's momentum. The third spasm of play, which lasted 13 minutes. sealed an issue already mov-ing beyond doubt. Seles levelled the second set to 1-1, but lost the next three games. including a double fault to lose her serve. When play resumed at 7.21pm on a bitter evening, Graf took eight minutes to assert her superiority. Later that night, Graf celebrated her triumph at a party. A surprise visitor was her father. Peter, who defied doctor's orders by taking the first plane to London after his daughter's victory, the most comprehensive in a Wimbledon final since Navratilova beat Jaeger in 1983. Graf delivered her speech of thanks in the kitchen, but Seles might be the one feeling the heat over 1989. It is four or five years puncher who had failed to land the final blow. Agassi, hugely confident going into the final, was simultaneously so conscious of his vulnerability - the man who had failed to win three previous grand slam finals - but joy in victory, extreme though it was, carried an undercurrent of involuntary disbelief. As we looked down at this smiling pigeontoed kid from Las Vegas, with the cute short shirt and the extrovert haircut, we saw someone who until that moment had never really believed he could be a Wimbledon champion. The title, momentarily, was bigger than the man.

The weakness of both was, I suspect, that deep down they feared the sharply contrasted ability of the other; therefore, their own strength took on a disproportionate importance, because if it failed them, then neither had the belief that the other man's strength could be penetrated.

The best returner of service in the tournament, against the biggest server if Agassi lost his own service, he could never be sure of taking Ivanisevic's, while if Ivanisevic lost his service, he could never hope to outplay Agassi off the ground. The survival of their different individual qualities became paramount, and as the maich ground its way through five sets, it was increasingly apparent that Ivanisevic's ace. literal and metaphorical, was the more vulnerable tool simply because without that he had little else. When the odd-game lead shifted at the end of the fourth set from Ivanisevic to Agassi, the shift was critical. If games now went with service, at 4-5 down Ivanisevic would be dependent - as he had throughout the match - on a single shot. his service, to keep him in the match. At that moment, the match would come down to the technical and the emotional bottom line. The massive advantage which lvanisevic had wielded so marvellously for a fortnight would be at its most exposed, and with it his mental strength. In the final moment of trial, both cracked: two double faults, and then on match point a simple backhand voiley was hit wretchedly into the foot of the

It had been unrealistic. Agassi admitted, to expect his service not to be broken during four sets; and in the fourth set it happened twice. Yet the measure of the match is that until Ivanisevic broke him for 2-0 in that fourth set, there had been only two break points against Agassi, compared with 11 against Ivanisevic. For all the fact that Ivanisevic persistently drilled the ball past his opponent like a boy flinging Monica Seles is not to feel pebbles on the Beath Appropriationally prescuted. lvanisevic was always the more under threat And he

At 4-2 to Agassi in the third. set, the other man was bang-ing his racket on the turf in disgust, his concentration clearly gone. As Agassi took the set at 6-4, Ivanisevic had tried to rush the net in desperation, only to be left standing by that two fisted backband as it whistled by, cross-court.

Now, however, it was Agassi's mental vice on the play that relaxed. A single backhand a foot wide in the tramlines and a netted low forehand volley gave Ivanisevic the chance to steal back to two sets all. - became more explosively of our footbalers would feel powerful than ever, but the the same moment of truth was at hand. Nobody can win grand slam titles for you Agassi ob-served it is mental. We had observed that, sure enough; but he really must do some thing about its grunning if

The noise coming from Agassi's end of the court, when vainty resisting Ivanisevic's ervice in the third game of the second set, was as loud at any orchestral percussion, though there is a strange difference between him and Sels. The Agassi grunt comes a split second

The duel between the two edged them towards a chimax of emotions that carried the crowd with them, and when , it was all over Agassi went to the other manand embraced him. When each is doing his tumost to stay in the match for so long, Agassi reflected, a bond develops between the two of mutual appreciation In the final set, the aces once it is all over. If only some

Men's singles

Winner £55,000 Runner-up £132,500 Holder: M Sach (Ger) Berni-finalis G IVANISEVIC (C: 3) bt P SAMPRAS (US). 6-7, 7-6 6-4 6-2 A AGASSI (US) DI J MCETTOR (US), 6-4, 6-

AGASSI DI IVANISEVIC. 6-7, 6-4, 6-4, 1-6. 6-4

Men's doubles Winners £108 570 Rumers-up £54,280 Holders, J Fitzgerald (Aus) and A

J GRABB and R RENEBERG (US) bt T WOODBRIDGE and M WOODFORDE (Aus) 7-6, 4-6 4-6, 7-5. 6-4

J McEnroe (US) and M Stich (Ger) bt G
FORGET (Fr) and J Hlasek (Switz), 76. 6-3, 7-6

Women's singles Holder: S Graf (Gar)

S GRAF (Ger) by M SELES (Yug), 6-2, 6-

Women's doubles Winners £93,920 Runners-up £46,950 Holders: L Savchenko and N Zvereva (USSR)

J NOVOTINA (Cz) and L SAVCHENKO-NEJLAND (Lat) bt M NAVRATILOVA and P SHRIVER (US), 7-5, 6-7, 6-3 G FERNANDEZ AUS) and N ZVEREVA (CIS) bt A SANCHEZ VICARIO (Sp) and H SUKOVA (Cz), 6-1, 6-7, 7-5

WEEKEND RESULTS Mixed doubles

Winners £48,070 Runners-up £28,030 Holders: J Fitzgerald and P Smylie

B Shelton and I. McNell (US) bt L. Jenson and J Caprieti (US), 7-6, 6-2 J Etingh and M Oremens (Holl) bt J Stark and D Grahem (US), 7-6, 6-4 Semi-final C SUK (Cz) and L SAVCHENKO-NEILAND (Lef) bt Shelton and McNeil, 7-6, 6-4

MEN'S OVER-35 DOUBLES: Round-robin: C Dowdesweit (GB) and A Stone (Aus) bt J Alexander and P Dent (Aus), 6-7, 7-6, 6-3; T E Guillisson and T R Guillisson (US) bt P Barthes (Pr) and B Taroczy (Hun), 6-1, 8-2; R Lutz and A Mayer (US) bt R Frankey (Aus) and C Lawfe (NZ), 7-6, 8-2; R Edmondson and K Warwick (Aus) bt P Dupre and H Pfister (US), 7-6, 7-6; P McNamara and P McNamera (Aus) bt J Feaver and P Mutchens (GB), 8-4, 8-3, P

Fleming and S Smith (US) bt R Cess and G
Masters (Aus), 7-5, 6-2, A Annians stocker
(Aus), 7-5, 6-2, A Annians stocker
Annians (India), bt J Louid (1985) and R
Stocken (US), 6-2, 6-3, P Stock and T Smict
(C2) bt R Tanner and E vern Dilear (US), 6-7, 6-2, 6-4, Semi-Smale, Edmontone, and Waretch bt Guilliams, Edmontone, and Waretch bt Guilliams and Bulleton, 7-5-7, 6-7 Fleming and Smith bt Machisman, and McNames, 7-5, 6-8,
MEN'S CNET-46 DOUBLES: Semi-Smith
Researe and S States (1985), 6-7,
Resould and F Stolle (Fus), 6-6-2,
WOMEN'S OVER'S DOUBLES: Semi-Smith
Umbul (Aus) and S V Wader (1985), 6-7
Cesale and S Weish (US), 3-6-6-2, 7-6
Co) bt G Doyle (Aus), 7-5, 6-3, 7-8, 6-7
(US) bt S Marier (Satto), 6-7, 7-8
Co MacLagen (GB) bt S Latino (Negreta), 6-3
S-0. Semi-Smith (S), 6-2, 6-4
Central (B) bt S Latino (Negreta), 6-3
Sooth (X Durn, 6-4, 6-4
Sooth (X Durn, 6-4
Sooth (X Durn, 6-4
Sooth (X Durn, 6-4
Sooth (X Durn, 6-4
Sooth (X Durn,

6-3, 6-2 M Bhupetiliand N Kirtane (India) bi D Sandersend M Scholist (GB), 7-5, 4-5, 6-3: N Begin and M Countos (GB) bi N Projector (Their staff Syzuld (Japan), 7-6, 7-5: (G Doyle (Aus)and A Pasel (Rom) by J Belgado, and J Cartan Staff (Royal) and Neane bi L lou-(ov C), and S Ladipy (Nigeria), 7-5, 6-3.

GRLS SPECILES Counter finals Gast of A Streament (A), 3-6, 6 Rufin (US) of EL Roystakes (City Countricities) of SUperiors Lie 63; EDe Los Rice (By) of LMCS 6-4, 9-4, 9-millionic Tution to Gast 7, 8-6; Countries to Micro Rice, 7 4, Final: Rubin of Guntais, 6-2, 7

GRES DOUBLES: Second round: P Nelson and J Stevett (S) bt R Hughes and A Walnumber (GB) 83, 6-0; H Mochbulk and Y Tanaka Liepapitat Z Nemesiane and ali

31-

10

Wimbledon 1992: Full details of the singles championships

	ROTENIE SINGLES
Flast counci	Second round Third round Pourin round Quarter-finete Semi-times
(1) M SELES (Yug) bt J Byrne (Aus) 6-3 d-2
S Applements (Bell) bit: M Bebel (Ger) 8-0 6-2	M SELES by S Applement 8-3 6-2
L Gilderneister (Bel) bt B Bowes (US) 6-0 6-2	M SELES bt L Gilderneister 6-4 6-1
G Helgeson (US) bt F Li (Chine) 6-1 6-2	L Gilderneister bt G Heigeson 3-8 6-4 7-5
	M SELES bt G Fernandez 6-4 8-2
C Porwick (Ger) bt L Sauchanko-Neiland (Lat) 8-08-8	C Porvick bt $ Skiddli 6-4 6-2
S Siddell (GB) bt V Lake (GB) 2-6 6-4 6-3	G Fernanciez bt C Porwick 8-2 8-0
G Fernandez (P Rico) bt D Faber (US) 6-4 4-6 6-3	G Fernandez bt K DATE 6-1 B-3
(16) K DATE (Japan) bt C Kuhiman (US) 7-8-8-2	M SELES IX NTAUZIAT 6-16-3
(44) N TALIZIAT (Fr) by B Schutz (Holl) 8-4 8-0	N TAUZIAT IN N Mediadese 7-5 2-6 8-3
N Medwedevis (Ular) bt. C Wood (GES) 6-3 6-3
N Provis (Aus) bt W Probet (Ger) 6-0 6-3	NTAUZIAT bt N Provis 4-6 7-5 6-3
R Zrubekova (Cz) bt K Oeljektaus (Gas) 6-1 6-1	N Provis bt R Zrubakova 6-2 6-4
LAlen (US) bt S Gomer (GB) 3-6 8-1 7-6	N TAUZIAT bt A Freder 6-0 6-3
A Frezier (US) bt L Golerae (t) 6-2 6-1	A Frazier bt L Allen 7-8 8-1
N Dahlman (Fin.) bt E Manickova (CIS) 7-6 6-4	A Fonzier bt M.J. FERNANDEZ 6-3 6-3
(7) M J FERNANDEZ (LIS) bt S Bentley (GB) 6-1 6-0	M J FERNANDEZ bt N Dehmen 7-5 8-2
(4) M NAVRATILOVA (US) Dt M Malsova (But) 8-2 8-2	MISSLES IN MINAVEATILOWA 8-2 6-7 8-4
KPo (US) bt B Simpson-Alter (Carl) 6-4 6-3	M NAVRATEONA DE KPO 6-2 3-8 6-0
S Franki (Ger) bt E Swiglerove (Cz) 6-2 8-0	M NAVRATILOVA by B Rither 7-5 8-1
B Pittner (Ger) bt T Whitinger (US) 8-4 6-1	BRitiner bt S Franki 6-0 6-0
Y Basuki (Indo) bt F Labet (Arg.) 6-2 6-2	M NAVEATILIANA DE Y BRIEDA 7-5 8-2
SHack (Ger) bt P Paradis-Mangon (Ft) 8-3 1-8 12-10	Y Besuki bt S Hack 7-5 6-3
C Tessi (Arg) bt S Testud (Fr) 4-8 6-3 6-4	Y Branch by A HURSER 8-2 6-3
DU) A PLUSTER Floor) by L. Ferrencio (D. S-4 6-4	A HUBER bt C Tessi 6-2 6-2
(12) K MALSEVA (But) bt C Hall (GB) 8-2 6-2	M NAVRATILONA 1x K MALIEEVA 6-2 7-6
M Bollagraf (Holl) bt C Wegink (Holl) B-1 6-2	K MALERYA OL M Bollegraf 6-4 6-1
	K MALEEVA by M Endo 7-5 6-3
A Gruntield (GB) bt. S Meier (Gar) 4-6 6-2 6-4	M Endo bt A Grunleid 5-7 6-2 7-5
M Endo (Japan) bt 8 Fulco-Villalla (Arg) 6-1 6-2	K MALERIA by J Helerid 6-06-3
H Sukrova (Cz) bt S Rottler (Holl) 3-6 6-1 7-5	H Sukova bt A Dechaume 7-5 6-2
A Dechaume (Fr) bt S Locaemore (GB) 8-1 4-8 6-4	J Helend bt H Sulcova 4-8 6-1 6-3
J Haland (Fr) bt R Rejohntova (Cz) 6-3 6-1	J Helend Int A SANCHEZ VICARIO 8-3 2-8 8-3
(S) A SANCHEZ VICARIO (Sp) bt L Maskhi (Gad) 6-3 7-6	FINAL S GRAF IX M SELES
(B) J CAPRIATI (US) by C Rubin (US) 6-0 7-5	J CAPRIATI by P Striver 8-2 8-4
PShriver (US) bx EBriculthovata (CS) 1-8 6-2 6-1	J CAPRINTI bt P Hy 6-3 8-1
P Hy (Cen) bt E Reinach (SA) 6-4 6-2	PHy bt PThoren 6-2 6-7 6-1
P Thoren (Fin) bt J Sentrock (US) 6-3 7-6	J CAPRIATI IX N Severmetru 8-3 4-6 8-4
A Streadove (Cz) bt L Field (Aus) 6-2 6-2	N Severateu bt A Streetova 6-3 7-6
N Savernetau (Japan) bt C Tanvier (Fr) 6-2 7-5	N Savernetsu bt J WIESNER 6-1 7-5
K Novak (Put) bt V Humphreya-Davies (GB) 8-3 6-0	J WISSNER bt K Nowek 8-0 8-1
(16) J WIESNER (Austria) bt M Kidowaki (Japan) 6-2 6-2	G SABATEN IX J CAPRIATI 1-86-36-9
(S) M MALERIA-TRACMERE (Su) It Nikura-lagaman (Hol) 6-1 6-4
K Finald (US) bt A Devries (Bet) 6-2 7-6	M MALEEVA-FRAGNERIE IN K Finald 4-8 6-9 6-4
C Khode-Kiisch (Ger) bt R McQuillan (Aus) 2-6 0-2 0-4	K Gookidge bt M MALEEVA-FRAGNESSE 7-5 7-6
K Godridge (Aus) bt M Oremans (Holl) 6-3, 6-3	K Goodfage bt C Khade-Klech B-4 7-5
R Hiteki (Jap) bt K Schwendt (Ser) 8-0 8-3	G SABATING by K Goodhidge 6-2 6-1 6-1
	R Hinds bt T Whitington 6-1 7-5
TWhitington (US) bt S Nice-Chateau (Fr) 8-1 4-5 7-5	G SABATINI DE RHIGIN 6-0 6-4
Demongeot (Fr) bt R White (US) 8-2 8-8	G SABATINE bt I Demongaot 6-2 6-3
(3) G SABATENI (Arg. b) C Festio (Switz) 6-1 8-1	S GRAF IX G SABATIN 6-36-3
(8) C MARTINEZ (Sp) bt. P Daniele (US) 6-1 6-0	N ZHOWA DE C MARTINEZ 8-8 5-7 6-4
N Zvenska (CIS) bt N Henemen (Fi) 6-3 6-2	N. Zvereve by L. Michiel 7-5 6-4 7-5
R Stubbs (Aust) bt N Baxdone (6) 6-2 7-6	L Michael bt R States 6-1 6-3
L McNell (US) bt. C Suite (F) 6-1-7-5	N Zierowa bi. Z GARRISON 6-28-6-1
K Adams (US) bt. 8 Ferina (6) 6-3 6-2	R Februaric-Nideller bt KAdams 8-3 6-4
Pi Fairbank-Nidellar (US) bt V Martinek (Ger) 7-8 6-1	Z GARRISON by R Feirbank-Nidellier 6-4 6-2
L Harvey-Wild (US) bt J Durie (GE) 8-4 6-2	Z GARRISON by L History-Wild 5-2 8-4
(13) Z GARRISON (US) bt F Bonsignori (K) 6-0 8-1	S GRAF bt N Zierwa 6-3 6-1
(11) J NOVOTNA (Cz.) bt D Monemi (Sei) 6-1 6-2
	J NOVOTNA bt C Undquist 8-3 8-2
	P Fandick bt D Graham 7-5 7-6
Company 6 Rt Mr. Company 6 Rt 6 7 7 8	S GRAF bt P Fendick 4-88-38-2
D Graham (US) bt C Curningham (US) 8-2 7-8
M De Swardt (SA) bit L Garrone (t) 6-4 8-3	M De Swardt bt A Keller 6-2 5-7 7-6
M De Swardt (SA) bit L Garrone (ft) 6-4 6-3 A Keller (US) bit K Kroupova (C2) 6-3 6-4	M De Swardt bt A Keller 6-2 5-7 7-6 S GRAF bt M De Swardt 5-7 6-0 7-5
M De Swardt (SA) bit L Garrone (t) 6-4 8-3
C Lindqvist (Swe) bt P Tarabini (Arg) 6-2 6-4 P Fendick (US) bt K Habsudova (Cz) 6-2 6-4	P Familiak bit J WOVOTNA 8-3 8-3 P Familiak bit D Graham 7-5 7-5

CYCLING

Woosnam regains winning touch on run-in to Open

FROM MITCHELL PLATTS, GOLF CORRESPONDENT, IN MONACO

IAN Woosnam is back on course to emulate Sandy Lyle and Nick Faldo by winning the Open Championship Wocsnam brought an abrupt end to a year of indecisive play when he put together a final round of 64 here on Saturday to win the Monte Carlo Open on the Mont Agel course.

It was the first time the Welshman had won a tournament on the PGA European Tour since his success in this event last year. His achievement in winning the title a him a place in the record book - he is the first player in Europe since Peter Thomson, who won the Open Champ-ionship in 1954, 1955 and 1956, to win the same tournament three years in a row. Woosnam enjoys setting records, but it was more important for him to regain winning form prior to the which begins at Muirfield on Thursday week. "I lost my confidence somewhere out there towards the end of last year," he said. "And you cannot really imagine how difficult it is to find it again.

"I spoke of there being times on the greens when I feared I might not even be able to take the putter back. Well it goes much deeper than that. You actually get to the point where you start thinking that it might be best to turn your back on the game for a year or so. I'm not really one for going on banging my head against a brick wall.

I was looking for too much. This game is all in the mind and you have to come to terms with that. You can talk about hitting it great or putting superbly, but at the end of the day it comes down to selfbelief. You've got to have the bottle to be able to achieve at the business end of the game; to cope with the pressure."

It is, of course, one thing to 3,000ft above the principality of Monaco, far away from the madding crowd, and quite another to tackle the intricacies of Muirfield at sea level against the best players in the world. Woosnam, however, has matured since last he went to Muirfield as the British favourite. Then, in 1987, he declared his intention to become the best golfer in the world, but found the burden of being centre-stage too much. Nick Faldo played the lead role, winning the title, and Woosnam finished a creditable eighth.

By his own admission, his concern at that time was to win money not titles. "I wanted security for the family," he said. It was all that mattered. It is different now. I've got a great family, we've got all we need and I know that I will be

"What I did realise was that Woosnam: confident judged as a player by what i do in the major championships. The Open is the one want the most."

Woosnam entered the Monte Carlo Open in 63rd place in the Volvo Order of Merit. The £71,000 first prize has lifted him more than 40 places and he has every reason to feel confident going into the Open. He putted well in his final round for a total of 261, 15 under par, winning by two strokes from Johan Rystrom, Sweden, and Mark

The round took more than six hours to complete because of swirling, low cloud, although Rystrom was frustrated more than most. He came within an inch of a 59, lipping out at the last from 12 feet. His 60 was the fifth by a European on the Tour.

McNulty (63), of Zimbabwe,

POLO

Argentinians tip the balance

BY JOHN WATSON

IN BRITISH Open encounters over the weekend at Midhurst, Sussex, Black Bears beat Hildon 8-7 in extra time; Labegorce beat Cowdray Park 7-6; and Tramontana best Santa Fe 7-6.

At the Guards Club, C S Brooks defeated Kennelot 7-5; at Beaufort, Ellerston Black beat Los Locos 12-6.

Hildon, a well balanced combination, gave a precision performance against the Bears, whose strength is from the ten-goal Merios brothers.

AUSTRALIAN RULES

COLUMN THE PROPERTY OF THE PRO

HOCKEY

SWIMMING

Pite and Schastian, Hildon's long-hitting John Horswell was in good form, while William Lucas and Rod Matthews looked the most effective forward partnership in the tournament. Labegorce are dependent upon a pair of high-powered Argentinians, Gonzalo and Horacio Heguy, who tipped the balance for them.

BLACK BEARS: 1, U Schwerzenbach (1):
2. S Merlos (7): 3, P Merlos (10), Back, M
Brown (4).
HLDON: 1, W Lucas (5), 2, R Medihews (5).
J Horswell (6): Back, J Lucas (5)
LABEGORCE: 1, H Perndo (1), 2, G Heguy

(0); 3, H Heguy (10); Beck, J McLeevy (1) COMORAY PARK: 1, Hon C Pearson (2); 2, A Kent (7), 3, Lord C Bereslord (6); Back, P Weters (6). TRAMCINTANA: 1, A Embridos (2), 2, B Cessagnols (7): 3, Gracide (10), Back, The Finnce of Wales (3). SANTA FE: 1, T Salvernire (3); 2, C Forsyth (8), 3, M Heguy (10), Back, W Bond Ellont (1)

C S BROOKS: 1, A Buchenen (3), A Show (8), 3, O Finehard (9), Back, C Johnson (2) KENNELOT: 1, H de Kwaskowski (1); 2, P Heguy (10), 3, D Donoso (8); Back, A Krby ETLERSTON BLACK: 1, A Balbau (1), 2, A Cambaso (9); 3, A Pieres (10), Back, J Pecker (2) LOS LOCOS: 1, C Tomineon (3), 2, M Areuco (7); 3, J Croso (8), Back, S Tominson (3).

GOLF

Norman is in the money in Lemont

Lemont, Illinois: Greg Norman continued his return to form when he scored a typically swashbuckling four-underpar 68 to gain a one-shot lead after the third round of the $1.1 million Western Open on Saturday. Norman, one stroke behind halfway leader Duffy Waldorf starting the day, reeled off eight birdies and four bogeys in an entertaining performance in swirling breezes on the highly-rated Cog Hill course.

With an 11-under-par 205 total, the former Open champion led Waldorf by a stroke. with Jeff Sluman and Ben Crenshaw just two shots behind.

Fred Couples, the world's another stroke back with first-McCallister, while five-time British Open champion Tom Watson was four shots off the pace, as was Tom Lehman.

Norman, aged 37, stung by his failure to qualify for last month's US Open, is on a mission and he had that old determined, confident glint in his eye as he gathered five birdies - and a bogey - in the first seven holes.

He could not maintain his momentum but held on with an even-par back nine to stay ahead of his talented rivals in the race for the $198,000 first prize.

Of course, the money is not the point to multi-millionaire Norman, who has endured more than two years without a tournament victory and who blew a five-shot lead over the final eight holes here last year. "I'm really looking forward top-ranked player, was to tomorrow," he said. "I'm confident and comfortable and this course is just like playing home in Australia.It was a preny good performance. I hit the ball solidly. but you're never happy."

TODAY'S FIXTURES

Third Comhill test match 11 O. 90 overs materium OLD TRAFFORD: England v Pakistan

Britannic Assurance county championship 11 0, 110 overs min/mum STOCKTON: Durham v Gloucestershire NEATH: Glamorgan v Gloucestershire SOUTHAMPTON: Hampshire v Notinghamshire MAIDSTONE: Keni v Lancaithre

TAUNTON: Somersel y Derbyshire SHEFFIELD: Yorkezide v Latassamilyan RAPID CRICKETLINE SECOND XI CHAMPIONSHIP: Oakham: Leicestershire v Wanwckshire BAIN CLARKSON TROPHY: Chesterfield: Derbyshire v Yorkshire Norbury: MCC

NORTHAMPTON: Northamptonshire v

Young Cricketers v Kem, Northgham: Northghamshire v Northamptonshire Hove: Sussex v Surrey. Worcester; Worcestershire v Glampigan.

OTHER SPORT GOLF: Open Championship regional qualifying rounds (Larain, North Hants, Sundridge Park, Wilmelow, Bleckwell, Orsert, Sherwood Forest, Beau Desert, Coxmoor, Clanberne and South Heists SPEEDWAY: Speedway Star Cup: First round, first leg: Reading v Oxford (7 30) Ladbroke Olympique (Wolverhampton, 7.30).

ing blow

2.5

 $\{x_{ij}\}$

CYCLING

TIMETRIALS: RITC women's national 50-mile championship (Stropshire): S Philipp (Desaide thesite), 2hr (Stropshire): S Philipp (Searchorough Paragon, 5:59:32 Ciarenoust 38-mile team (Loswood, West Susser): 1, GB (Ohmpic squad, 1 19:36; 2. Wernbley, 121:56. Scottish 10-mile championship (Abanteen): G Obree (Greenock RC), 20min 50sec. Team: Greenock, 1hr (Ormin 2tea. Norland Combine 100 miles: G Butler (Norwood Paragon), 3:41:33. Team: Norwood Paragon, 12:08:47. Eastlern Countles CA 100 miles: A Comish (Southend and County), 3:59:52. Team: Southend and County, 3:59:52. Team: Southend and County, 12:29:05. Mid-Devon 100 miles: A Lyons (Pyrmouth Corrishhum), 4:10:42. Team: Mid-Devon, 13:42:32. Susses: CA 100 miles: N Duke (Fernborough and Carmberley), 4:12:21 Team: Worthing Excelsion, 19:54:45. Andover 50 miles: A Lodge (Lupi Computers), 1:51:44. Team: Mortey, 6:00:15. Team: Southernpion, 6:37:45. Brantley 50 miles: L Holmes (Leods St Christopher's), 1:51:44. Team: Mortey, 6:00:15. Teast Anglein 50 miles: M Pyre (Polytachne), 1:54:77. Team: Polytachne, 5:57:44. Flockingham 30 miles: M Granthern (Morley), 1:08:25. Team: Southern and L Fritz (Leeds Wellington), 4:31:42. ROAD RACES: Royal Mell Bitstol grand park 109 miles: 1, Miles (M Purshouse (Royal Sutton), 5:12. Team: Mestick, 3:01:15. File 100-mile (Durlemins): 1 Condie (Durlemins): 1 Condie (Durlemins): 2 Condie (Durlemins): 1 Race (Purbecho, 3:29:35. Jim Rogers Memorial (Purbecho, 3:29:35. Jim Rogers Memori ATHLETICS CARDIFF: Weish nedlone chemplom-ships: Sahurday; Men: 100m freeships: 1. M Jones (Cay of Southernplan), 53,476c; 2. C Lones titly of Cardiff), 54,10 400m freeships: M Clements (Porusmouth Northeses), 4mn (6 78sec, 200m backstoke: C Jones, 2:1105 200m brass-stroke: A Volocit (For), 2:21:55 50m butterffy; M Jones, 25 83sec Women: 50m freeships: 5 Hopions (Chessel), 27:32 800m breeships: N Alforson (Stockport Metro), 9mn (9 73sec, 100m beckstroke: E Tattum (Portsmouth Northesel), 105:98 100m breeships of the Wiley (York Cay Batts), 1:14 17, 2, N Thomley (Manchesser United Salford), 1:14.57, 200m butterfly; Addirecto, 2:21:54 AUSTRALIAN LEAGUR: Pitzroy 21.10 (136), Sydney Swans 11.17 (83; Footboardy 22.17 (145), Adetaude Crows 6 6 (56); Essendon 16 15 (111), St Gide 111 17 (83), Cartion 27 17 (179), Brashame Beass 12.8 (80), Callargecod 24 17 (161), Richmond 14.14 (95), Haudton 16 18 (114), Gelebring 14 11 (95), West Coast Eagles 15 19 (109), Melbourne 13.9 (87) LEMONT, librois: Wisstern Open: Leaders after have rounds (JS unless station): 205: G Norman (Aus.), 63, 69, 63, 208: D Wistdon', 68, 68, 70, 207: B Cranshaw, 70, 72, 85; J Sturner, 72, 72, 63, 208: F Couples, 70, 69, 69; B McCallader, 64, 73, 71, 209: T Lehrman, 57, 72, 70, T Weston, 70, 59, 70, 210: M Carrisvale, 59, 72, 70; B Clase, 68, 71, 71; B Flostpar, 71, 71, 68, 72, 70; B Clase, 68, 71, 71; B Flostpar, 71, 71, 68, 72, 70; B Clase, 68, 71, 71; B Flostpar, 71, 71, 68, 72, 71; YOKOSHERA, Japan: Philamthropy tourstand: Firnal scores (Japan urlass station): 270; M Could, 69, 64, 70, 71, 71, 78, 69, 69, 67; T Hearmon (JS), 68, 70, 71; B Could, 69, 68, 69, 67; Y Hearmon (JS), 68, 70, 71; N Martin (JS), 68, 70, 71; N Martin (JS), 68, 71, 71; N Martin (JS), 68, 67, 73, 68, 67; Y Hearmon (JS), 68, 71, 71; N Martin (JS), 68, 67, 73, 68, 67; Y Hearmon (JS), 68, 71, 71; N Martin (JS), 68, 71, 72; N Martin (JS), 7 EDENBUTIGHT: Scottlish championshipe: Men: 100nr: E Burney (Chiedon Part), 10.79sec. 200m: D Menh (Ass), 21.12 400m: G Newhork (Edinburgh), 48.64. 600m: G Newhork (Edinburgh), 48.64. 600m: G Newhork (Edinburgh), 48.64. 600m: B News (Ass), Intria 3997sec. 1,500m: R Resimmons (Klasscham), 351.58. 4000m: K Lemb (Toton), 14:16 41. 10,000m: T Mutray (Cambustang), 22:16.42. 3,000m: steeple-chase: W Aylesbury (Leeds Chy), 8:48.50. 110m hurdiser, K Campbell (Caledon Petr), 14:68sec. 400m: hurdiser. M Davidson (Caledon Part), 13:18. High Jurner: D Barnetson (Caledon Part), 13:18m. Pole veult: A Gray (Aus), 4:50. Long jurner: A Murphy (Ass), 7:37. Thole Jurner: Caleston (Ass), 11:58sec. 200m: Services, 12:48sec. 1;500m: S Flogs (Sale), 42:29.58. 3,000m: S Flogs (Sale), 42:29.58. 3,000m: S Flogs (Edinburgh Woolen Mill), 67:13. Sec. 1;500m: S Flogs (Sale), 42:29.58. 3,000m: S Flogs (Edinburgh Woolen Mill), 67:10. Jurner: B Clear (Out-one Hamila), 67:10. Jurner: B Clear (Out-one Hamila), 67:10. Jurner: B Clear (Out-one Hamila), 67:10. Jurner: J Clear (Associated Hamila), 67:10. Jurner: Jurner: J Clear (Associated Hamila), 67:10. Jurn BASKETBALL CLYMPIC CUALIFYING TOURNAMENTS: European (Zargoza, Spein), CS 101, israel 85; Crostia 84, Czechoslovalda 68; Germany 109, Italy 81; Lithuarna 90, Sovena 73; Slovena 73, Israel 65, Crostia 108, Italy 62, CIS 83, Germany 68 Poelitions efter ab: games: 1, Lithuarna, 12pts; 2, Crostia, 10, 3, CIS, 10, 4, Stovenia, 9; 5, Germany, 9; 5, Italy, 6; 7, Czechoslovalog, 8; 8; Israel 6, Lithuarna, Crostia and CS quality for Olympic Germa. American (Portiand, Oregon) Semi-finials: United States 119, Puerto Rico 81 Venezuela 100, Brazil 81 CLYMPIC QUALIFYING TOURNAMENTS TRIATHLON Lommel, Beiglum: European champloriships: Men: 1, S Smith (GB), the 48mm 37sec; 2 $ Lessing (GB), 1 4915; 3, G Cook (GB), 1 4915 Team: Great Bruan Women 1, S Krolick (Gen 20247, 2, L Larsen (Gen), 2034; 5, 3, U Scheeler (Ger), 2,040; 63 Team: Germany. BOXING SECUL: World Boxing Council super-flyweight charmolonship (12 rds). Moon Sung-kii [S Kor, holder) bl Armando Selare (Mea), no 8th md. PARIS: European super-middleweight charmolonship (12 mds). Franchy Nacore (Fr) bt Ray Close (int), no 8th md. TRAMPOLINING PRESTON: British championships: Men: Individual: 1, 1 Mallon (Caleshead). 100 Spcs. 2, C Lunney (Scot), 96.00, 3, E Vingtri Girnsty), 94.5 Synchronised: M Gregory and M Southern (Britishead). 1201, 2, 8 Word and C Lunney (Manchesser), 116.5, 3, 8 McLoughin Hispey, and R Thome (Poole), 116.4 Women, Individual, 1, 5 Chaise (Porsnoun), 102.30, 2, A Holmes (Dunstable), 102.90, 3 Fram (London), 32.00 Synchronised: 1 Holmes and Term, 126.00, 2, E Dozon-Jackson (Manchessier), and H Stitch (Camendge), 121.30, 3, H and J Seate (Dunstable), 117.3. NATWEST MEDICIETON CUP: Group 4A; Heretordshire 122, Donset 117.
EASTERN COUNTIES LEAGUE: Bedfordshire 131, Norlok 114, Cambridgeshire 98, Hertfordshire 130; Essex 143, Suffolk 100 HOME COUNTIES LEAGUE: Bucking-transhire 123, Surseys 120; Kest 83, Middlessex 127, Sursey 145, Oxfordshire 90, MIDLAND COUNTIES LEAGUE: Northermotorshire 127, Detyphire 92, Warwickshire 125, Nighlinghemshire 105, Worsestershire 118, Lindonshire 124, ALSOP CUP: Northumbershire 114, Curi-RUGBY LEAGUE INTERNATIONAL MATCH: New Zealand BB, Papus New Guines 10 (in Aucidand) Waterist, D CUP: Maryly-Warmingan 6. Western Suburbs 6. likawara Sicelers 24, Penramenta 2, South Sydney 22, Camberra Radiers 24, Comulé-Sutherfand 10, Balmein 34; Brebane 46. Eastern Suburbs 22, St George 14, Pennth 6, Canterbury 11, Newcastie Knights 12; North Sydney 19, Gold Coast 6. CANOEING Womestershire 118, Linconsinte 124, ALSOP CUEP: North-modeland 114, Curn-bria 124, Yorkshire 108, Durham 135, MURAS CUP: North-modeland 117, Curn-bria 117; Yorkshire 102, Lanceshire 131, 8YTER-COUNTY MATCH: Devon 124, Revischim 114 BALA North Weles: Paul McConley memorial slabon: Mem Race 1: Ki: 1, M Jones, 17th 46 78: 3, 2 Crostnee, 149 57 Ct; 1, M Jenes, 17th 46 78: 3, 2 Crostnee, 149 57 Ct; 1, M Jenes, 203 46, 2 W Horsman, 2.16 27: 3, R Johnson 2 C Rechardson and C Thompson, 221 58 2 C Rechardson and C Thompson, 230 25; 3 A Smith and A Brown, 254 70 Race 2 Ki: 1, Jones, 1755 13, 2 P Respon, 159 12 3 Fox, 159 8 Ct; 1, Dearney, 212 51; 2, Horsman, 200 56, 3, 3 Scott, 220 90, C2 1, C Arrowsmith and P Brain, 218 62 2, Cough and Cough, 221 52: 3, Rechardson and Thompson, 242 02 Women: Race 1; Ki: 1 R Fox, 205, 14, 2, J Lyngson, 207 45, 3, P Brisson, 2, 1946 Race 2; Ki: 1, Smpson, 2, 1426, 2, J Jayes, 230 58, 3, Briscoe, 231 98 EQUESTRIANISM AACHEN, Germany, Aachen show, Grand pric 1, Optishours Egano (J Larserk, Hot). 0 feuts, 59 22sac., 2. Everest Dolar Gri (N Seeten, 68) 12, 51 95; 3. Anct Larnegan (D Broome, GB), 6, Henderson Michaes (D Winteler, GB), 11, Denæn (T Grubb, GB), 2entis prize; 1, Pasman (L Seerbeum, Ger), 0, 45.92; 2. Optisheurs (Dr. Martin (B) 1, 0, 45.92; 2. Optisheurs (M Meligar, Switzi, 0, 45.92; 2. Anist (W Meligar, Switzi, 0, 46.92; 2. Anist (W Meligar, Switzi, 0, 46.92; 3. Anist (W Meligar, Swit 71. PIERRE, Chapstow: Wilson club professionals chempionship: Final stores: 275: J Hesidson (Mest Surrey), 67, 71, 97, 70, 281: C Hall (Bullwell Forest), 71, 68, 70, 71, 282: C Maluran (Eyernouth), 72, 68, 72, 67, 283: 8 Finness (Osidands), 73, 72, 68, 98; D Jones (Mnockbrecked), 75, 98, 69, 70, 283: P Cowen (Lindrick), 78, 70, 72, 98; N Job (Richmond), 71, 70, 70, 74. Berishre 114
BLACKPOOL: Yorkshire Bank crown ling chempionehip: Finet: M Britton (Wigen) bi P Gamsby (Birmingham), 21-14 VOLL EYBALL WORLD LEAGUE: Second leg: Cubs bt Commonweelth of Independent States, 3-0 (15-3, 15-9, 15-11); United States bt Srazil, 3-0 (15-12, 16-14, 15-9). INTERNATIONAL MATCHES: Uruguay 3, Ecuador 1 (in Montevideo): Australia 1, Crocas II (in Melbourni): UNDER-27 WORLD CUP: Africa zone: Preliminery round, second leg: Uganda 2, Konya 0 (agg: 4-0) RUGBY UNION TOUR MATCHES: Argentina 12, France 27 (In Buenos Aires); New Zeeland XV 26, England B 18 (in Pukukohe). NATIONAL LEAGUE: Priday: Cincinnali Placis 7, Plasburgh Plastes 3; Atlanta Hawles 3, Chicago Cubs 0; Los Angeles Codeans 5, Philadelpha Phillies 1 and 2-0; San Plastos Padres 6, Montreel Expos 4; San Plastoseo Glents 4, St. Louis Cardinalis 1 Saturday: Atlante Braves 4, Chicago Cubs 2; Chennell Reds 5, Plasturgh Plastes 2; New York Mets 5, Houston Assoc 3 and 1-3; Philadelphia Prillies 8, Los Angeles Dodgers 2: Montreel Expos 3, San Dago Padres 2; St. Louis Cardinalis 1, San Plancisco 0. AutrelCoan LEAGUE: Priday: Descrit T-POOLS DIECK Regent 1; Geelong R 1, S Wambee 1; Haufnom 0, Cranbourne 0; Hadeberg C 1, Kanngel 2; Langwarm 1, Rosema 1, Momingen 2; Borona 1, Soningsele 1, Yamawile 1, Brandon Pk 0, Yalifush 2; Brunswick C 2; Benele C VI; East Allona 3; Williamstoom 1; Forest Hill 0, Frankson U 4, Melwem Chy 2; Knox Pask 1, Melton 2; West Valle C; Baylawater 1, Fremerice B 2; Hockingnam 0, Perth Ital 1, Sonento 0, Speerwood 3; Stiling M 4, Kalmscott 1, ALISTRALIAN FOOTSALL RESULTS:
Moorpolaris, 1, Western 2: Richmond 2:
Dowelon 0; Bingwood C 1, Bell Park 0; Box
HII 0, Bendleigh 3; Chelses 1, Nanawading 1;
E Baurewick 2; Kabro 2; Mebourne C 1,
Breedmeadows 2; P; Mebourne 3; Doncaster 0; Sanchingtern 0, Surgiuny 2;
Waweley 2; Cillion HiII 4; Corlo Uto 1,
Cestnote 1; Dandenong 0; Brighton 2; Emann
Utd 2; Springwelle U 2; Rizery 0; Seatord Utd
0; Lafer Urd 2; Coburg 0; Moorshibin 0, Bassendem 2, Asrtield 0: Caming 2, Armedeln Pk 2: Forrestfield 0, Swan I C 1, Morley 3, Saring 1 3, Perth Cay 2, Swan Crac 1; Azzard 5, Para Hits 0, Lion-Grange 1, Croeta 2, Mordaulle 0; Relating 2, Williams 3, Salesbury 4, Elezabeth 2, Adelacide 0 0, Nochunga 0 1, Campacistown 1, Blackwood 0: Central Dat 1, Erfield 2, Cumberland 2: Pladelacide 2 Ophinaers 3, Sealord 2: Rediencide 2 Ophinaers 3, Sealord 2: Rediencide 3, Capataba 3; Santord R 0, Latrobe 1, Souths Utd 7, Arverley 1, Englich D. 6. Grothers Utd. 1; Southside Prie Hus. 3, Virgina, U. 4. Deception Pestponed, Kingbotough v Howern, Messo Proceruc Natson v PO Sents: Teroone v S Hobert; University v Repid. to 4: 4, A Parvision (I-III), attist (Most pinfo record). ATLANTA, Georgia: Peacrime 10-idometre road race Mert 1, S Leid (Ken). 27min 58sec; 5, J Treacy (Iro), 28:39 Women: F Lamid-Smith (US), 31:49. TOKYO: Sapogra Visionemistonel hall-mara-thor: Mert 1, K, Ilesus (Jacon), 1/n (22min 58sec; 2, H Teleo (Jacon), 1:03:00; 3, I Rico ples), 1:03:22 Women: E Asai (Jacon), 1:12:20. 2. Si Louis Cardinate 1, San Francisco 0.

AMERICAN LEAGUE: Friday: Desrik 17gers 6, Seettie Meriners 4 and 0.11;
Cevetatrat Indians 2, Ookland A's 1; Jordato
Blue Jays 10, California Angels 1; Chicago
White Son 2, Bosion Red Sox 1; Baltimore
Oriolas 6, Minnesota Tuttis 1; Altevates
Browers 7, Kensas Royleysia 3, New York
Yankeles 9, Teass Rengers 6, Saturday,
Cevetand Indians 8, Celland A's 1; Torono
Blue Jays 6, Celliondia Angels 6: Minnesota
Tetris 3, Settinose Orioles 2, Boston Red Sox 2, Chicago White Sox 1; Seatile
Macintes 4, Detroit Tigers 3; Texas Rengers
4, New York Yankess 1. FORECAST: Dividends will be moderate with BSPA CUP: First round: Stoke 39, Reading 51. Second round: Berefox 42, Woher-hampton 47.

Middlesex march to record start

BY SIMON WILDE

LORD'S (Middlesex won toss): Middlesex (4pts) beat Worcestershire by nine wickets

MIDDLESEX march on. They extended their winning start to the Sunday League season to a record nine matches yesterday with a crushing defeat of Worcestershire, and now have the 40-overs title, which they have never won. firmly in their sights. A brilliant unbeaten second-wicket partnership of 151 in 22 overs between Mike Roseberry and Mike Gatting, the captain, saw them to a target of 182 with 11 overs to spare.

Worcestershire, the last team to beat Middlesex in the Sunday League, last August, were left helpless by the power-ful strokes of Roseberry, whose 76 included three sixes and four fours, and Gatting, who struck one six - an astonishing pull over long-on - and

Virtually everything went right for Middlesex. They won an important toss, and Fraser and Williams asserted such a stranglehold that Gatting bowled them through. Moody was dropped once, but for once on a Sunday the prolific Australian failed, caught behind fencing at a ball from Fraser. With Hick absent, the onus to score quickly fell on Curtis's partners, because the Worcestershire captain was unable to Leatherdale and D'Oliveira grappled to establish a lively tempo, but Leatherdale fell attempting to hit over the top and D'Oliveira took command only in the 35th over. Then he hoisted Emburey over the short Tavern boundary for two sixes and reached his half-century off 56 balls, 46 fewer than Curtis took over his.

Curtis appeared as static as French motorway traffic. There were 40 singles and just four fours in his 69, which ended on the last ball of the innings. The applause which accompanied his return to the pavilion may largely have been an expression of gratitude by Middlesex's Gatting's strategy was obvi-ous when Middlesex began their reply. The first target had to be to score more runs in the first 20 overs than Worcestershire had, in case the rain came later.

For seven overs. Haynes and Roseberry bustled along productively, but rather too trantically, before Haynes was run out. For a moment, it looked as though the plan might come to grief, but in came Gatting to take control. After 20 overs, he and Roseberry had taken the score to 117, well beyond the crucial figure of 91, and they kept Middlesex on course for their first one-day prize for four

Sussex savaged by ferocious Lamb

By RICHARD STREETON

NORTHAMPTON (Sussex won toss): Northamptonshire (4pts) beat Sussex by 74 runs

ALLAN Lamb scored the second fastest hundred in Sunday league history yesterday after a wet outfield delayed the start and reduced the game to a 25-over match. He reached his century from 48 balls.

Lamb drove with ferocious power and had scored 120 from 62 balls, with seven sixes and ten fours, when he was caught at deep backward square-leg from the last ball of the innings. Sussex were left to make 227 to win and predictably found it a hopeless task.

Lamb found the pars unerringly from the moment he arrived after Fordham was caught behind but he was fortunate to survive two chances at 30 and at 49. Lamb needed only another 19 balls before he reached 102 as he pulled and straight drove a succession of sixes with spectacular power and timing. North, Hansford and Greenfield were the bowlers to take the worst punishment. Felton helped to add 123 from 13 overs for the second wicket in spite of having to be treated for a hand injury early on after being hit by fieldsman's return.

Sussex, needing to score at just over nine an over, did not reach 100 until the seventeenth over. Hall was caught behind against the left-arm Taylor in the sixth over but Speight and Greenfield kept the score moving before they were out in successive overs.

Wells and Stephenson batted forcefully as they added 56 in seven overs before Wells was caught behind off Cook, the left-arm spinner. Stephenson straight drove Taylor for six but after he was fifth out in the 21st over, there was little further resistance.

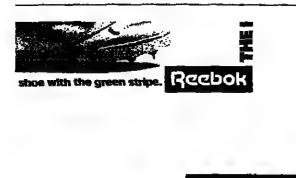

James thwarts Surrey

THERE is nothing like winning two championship matches in little more than a week to give a county illusions that they can take on all comers. Before defeating Gloucestershire and Northamotonshire. Surrey had not beaten anybody at all (Ivo Tennant writes). Small wonder they felt that Glamorgan, the side now at the bottom of the table, would not inconvenience them for long.

In reality, they did. A century by James, his third of the season, was sufficient for Glamorgan to be able to declare contest.

66 runs behind Surrey and await a target today. For once, there was less rain in Wales than all other areas of England. Other counties were marking time for run-chases. There was one other century, made by Harden against Derbyshire at Taunton, only the second in the championship by a Somerset batsman this season. Steadfast and fond of the sweep, he and his captain, Tavaré, ensured that, weather permitting, here was the basis for a decent one-innings icketkeeper, stumps Wasim off Gooch's bowling

			,	12.411	57 m
OL	ד כ	R	A	FF()B
Pokislan won toss
PAKISTAN: First Inning	38 .
	•	64	48	Mins	Balli
Asımır Sohali b Lewis	205	0	32	343	E8
Round the wicket, between bat and pad		_	_		_
Ramiz Raje c Russell b Maloolm	54	0	7	102	58
Aelf Mujtaba c Atherton b Lewis	57	n	7	114	104
Square cut head high to backward point	91	•	•	,
Javed Mlandad c Hick b Munton	88	0	11	189	123
Edged litting outswinger to second slip		_
Moin Khan c Gower b Melockm	15	0	2	61	5
Skied hook to square leg	34		5	67	66
Sallm Malik b Gooch	34	U	J	6/	O
nzamam-ul-Haq c Gooch b Malcolm	26	0	2	78	5
Edged wide lifting ball to first sito		_	-		-
Nasim Akram st Russell b Gooch	0	0	0	8
Moving out to drive _		_	_
Waqar Younis not out	2	0	0	12
Mushtsq Ahmed a Lewis b Gooch	8	0	1	9	11
Slogged to backward point	_	•	•	•
Extres (b 9, lb 4, w 2, nb 3)	18
Cotal (9 wkts dec, 519 mins, 128 overs)
•	~
Aaib Javed did nat bat.

BOWLING: Majcolm 31:3-117:3 (nb 1) (6-1-24-0, 6-0-26-1, 6-0-14-0, 5-1-22-0, 1-23-1, 2-0-8-1); Lewis 24-5-90-2 (nb 1, w 2) (4-1-17-0, 5-0-36-0, 3-1-5-1, 9-3-1, 3-0-13-0); Munton 30-6-112-1 (nb 2) (7-1-36-0, 7-1-30-0, 6-1-24-0, 10-3-22-Salbabry 20-0-117-0 (nb 1) (9-0-45-0, 4-0-39-0); Gooch 18-2-39-3 (9 13-0, 4-1-17-0, 5-1-9-3); Hick 3-0-17-0 (one speil).

INTERMEDIATE SCORES: First day; 50: 50mm, 11.5 overs. 100: 91min, 20.4 overs. Lunch: 131-1 (Sonsil 60, Mujtabe 13), 27 overs. 150: 135min, 31.2 overs. 200: 170min, 40.1 overs. 250. 238min, 58.4 overs. Tes: 253-2 (Sonsil 131. Javed SHORIE BARBARE 7), 60 overs, 300: 276min, 69.1 overs, 350: 326min, 81.5 overs. New ball taken at 380-3 after 85.4 overs. Close: 388-3 (Jeved 59, Moin 7), 90 overs. Second day: No pisy — nain. Abandoned at 4 pm. Third day: 400: 373min, 92.5 overs. 450: 440min, 107.4 overs. Lunch: 480-5 (Selim 25, Inzamam 19), 118 overs. Rain during Linch delayed restart unif 1.48pm. Rain stopped play 2.05-2.45pm, 492-6 (Inzamam 22 Wasim 0), 121.5 overs. 600: 511min, 124 overs. Paldstan declared at 3.04pm.

Sohali: 50 in 91min, 71 baše, 8 fours; 100: 170min, 127 baše, 15 fours. 276min, 217 baše, 23 fours. 200: 337min, 278 baše, 32 fours.

ENGLAND: First Innings		٠.
*G A Gooch not out	39	6e 0	48 5	Miras 105	Balls 64
A J Stewart c Inzamem b Weslim	15	0	3	65	38
Edged wide bell to second stip M A Atherton c Moin b Wasim	Ģ	0	0	2	3
Edged outswinger to keeper R A Smith not out	5	Đ	0	36	12
Extres (fb 1,w 2, nb 10)					•

D I Gower, G A Hick, C C Lawis, †R C Russell, T A Munton, I D K Salebury and D E FALL OF WICKETS: 1-41 (Goodh 20), 2-42 (Goodh 20).

BOWLING: Wasim 10-1-33-2 (nb 10, w 2); Waqar 10.1-2-30-0 (one spell); Aqib 1-0- Bridgetown is because there. INTERMEDIATE SCORES: Third day: Bad light stopped play 3.28 to 4.38pm — tae, taken at 9-0 (Gooch 4, Stewart 4), 1.5 overs. BLSP, 5.47-6.04pm, at 45-2 (Gooch 23, Smith 0), 15.1 overs. 50: 84min, 17.4 overs. BLSP 6.32pm. Play abandoned 6.50pm. Umpires: R Palmer and D R Shepherd.

TESTS TO COME: July 23 to 27: Fourth Test (Headingley). August 6 to 10: Fifth TODAY'S WEATHER: Seconding dry and brighter with warm, sunny spells in the

The fair play ethic which has done England no favours

ffective though it un-doubtedly is as a cover against the rain, the inflatable marquee, large inflatable marquee, which could house a Wimble-don final but in fact protects the square at Old Trafford, had a lot to answer for in the third Test match on Saturday. Whereas only three wickets had fallen in 90 overs for 388 runs on Thursday, eight went down in 57 overs on Saturday for 189 runs — and that had a lot to do with condensation, the pitch having spent more than a day and a half in purdah

To some, the pitch on which the match started was misconceived. In view of England's position in the series one match down with only three to go - a lot of Pakistanis, for example, would have thought it expedi-ent had something been prepared to give England's bowlers more of the help they so obviously need. To others that would have amounted to a fiddle, though there is certainly more of it now than there used to be.

In Pakistan the winter before last, I thought the home side became the victim of its own perceptions. After beating West Indies in Karachi on an abnormally slow, turning pitch, Pakistan decided to go for broke and prepare similar surfaces in the last two Tests in the hope of winning all three. In the event, the West Indian fast bowlers adapted resourcefulto the conditions and dured the series.

Twice in the last eight years the Sydney pitch has been prepared for a Test match with a view to drawing the teeth of the West Indian fast bowlers, and each time Australia found the spinners to see the plan through.

One of the reasons why West Indies are even more formidable than usual in almost as a matter of course. enough grass is left on the pitch to afford their fast powiers the pace and bounce they relish. In Colombo, by way of contrast, visiting fast bowlers are as likely to find a pitch to suit them as they are

Total (1 wid)

. GLAMORGAN: First invitige

GLAMORGAN: First Irraings
S P Jernes the b Bentermin
H Morris c Lynch b Bolling a decided of the second of the sec

Euras (B 7, w 2, nb 40) 19 Total (6 wide dec. 76 bress) 250 S L Watidn, 8 Beetleri and Wirnest did not

Hampshire v Notts

hemstire HAMPSHIRE: First Innings

y P Yenry c, Rundell b Ceirne
T C Middleton not out
K D James et Freech b Afford
S D Udet not out

K H MacLeay Twy b Warner. G-D Rose c Bowler b Cork TN D Burne not out

5-211.

DEPROVSHIRE: WWW. PROVIDED BY THE PROV

Extras (8b 1, nb 5)

Total (2 wids, $7 overs)

the field.

mi ila

In England we tend to frown on the "doctoring" of Test pitches. Some counties do it in the championship, if they think they can get away with it, and it is only by accident that West Indies are presented with anything at all fast and springy in a Test match. But when, against Australia at Old Trafford in 1956, the dust was flying before hunch on the first day, much to the delight of Jim Laker and Tony Lock, conventionalists blushed more in embarrassment than in anticipation.

fter Imran Khan had A written last month that if he had been in charge at Lord's he would have "prepared a greenish top to suit the England bowlers, not one which gave help to Wasim and Wagar he was met with an immediate response. Tam in charge of Lord's," the secretary of MCC, said "and can assure everyone that the ground staff do all they can to prepare the best possible pitch. No consideration is ever given to favouring either side." At Old Trafford last Wednesday, when asked whether the pitch for this present Test match would suit England. Graham Gooch replied: "You know we have no control over the pitches we play on." I am inclined to think that in trying to give the opposi-tion a fair deal we do sometimes handicap ourselves; that we are needlessly quixotic. It might need a dirt track. all the same, to give En-gland's present bowlers their best chance of holding their own with Pakistan, and I am not suggesting that we should go as far as that. At Old Trafford the maropee and the light in which England have batted have helped Pakistan. Perhaps at Headingley, in the fourth Test match, the ball will move around only when England

YESTERDAY'S SUNDAY LEAGUE SCOREBOARDS

Middlesex v Worcs LORD'S (Middlesex won toss). Middl (4pts) best Worcestershire by nine wid WORCESTERSHIRE T S Curbs c Frauer b Emburey M Moody c Brown b Frauer D A Leatherdale c Weekes b Carr ... D B D'Otvera c Williams b Weekes S R Lampit not out BCWUNG. Bebungton 6 1-0-40-0. Smith 8 0-42-1. Scott 7-0-44-1. R C Witterns 6-0-32 0; Alleyne 88-0-40-1; Athey 4-0-23-0. Extras (% 14. w 1, nb 3) Total (4 wkts, 40 overs) 161

G R Haynes, C M Tolley, 1S J Rhodes, P J Newport, R N llingworth and R D Stemp and FALL OF WICKETS: 1-40, 2-56, 3-151, 4-BOWLING. Fraser 8-2-22-1, Williams 8-0-25-0. Emburey 6-0-33-1, Carr 6-0-23-1, Headley 7-1-26-0, Weekes 5-0-36-1

MIDDLESIC Total (1 wks. 29 overs) M R Remprekash, rK R Brown, J D Cerr, P N Weeks, J E Emburey, D W Headley, N F Williams and A R C Fraser did not but. FALL OF WICKET 1-32.

BOWLING, Haynes 4-0-22-0; Newport 7-0-32-0; Tokey 5-0-33-0; Lampiti 6-0-45-0; ltingworth 4-0-24-0; Stemp 2-0-23-0, Leatherdale 1-0-3-0 Limores: D J Constant and R A White

Glamorgan v Surrey LLANELLI (Surrey won toss): Surrey (4pis) FLANICRGAN

Extras (b 2, tb 4, w 4 nb 1) †C P Metson, SL Watten, S. R. Barreck and M. Frost did nor bia.

FALL OF WICKETS, 1-8, 2-148, 3-223, 4-BOWLING: M P Bicknell 8-2-33-3; Kendnck 8-0-45-1, Boiling 7-1-33-0; Feltham 5-0-35-0, Benjamin 7-0-47-1, Robinson 5-0-35-0

SURREY Extras (b.1 lb.9, w 1, nb.2) 13 J D Robinson, M A Feltnam, M P Bicknell, J Borling, J E Benjamin and N M Kendinch did not bat

FALL OF WICKETS: 1-84, 2-198, 3-229 BOWLING Croft 5-0-35-0: Watten 8-0-48-0: Barwick 8-0-40-1, Frost 6.4-0-48-1: Date 8-0-41-1, Cottey 2-0-13-0 Umpres. A G T Whitehead and P S Wight

Durham v Gloucs

STOCKTON (Durham won toss) Durham (40%) beat Gloucestershire by so wickets GLOUCESTERSHIRE "A J Wright c Jones o Hughes _ R J Scott not out _____ G Hinks a Larkens b Bothern Extras (No.6, w.1, no.1) Total (5 wids, 40 overs) 226 tR C J Williams, R C Williams, A M Smith and A M Babington did not bat FALL OF WICNETS, 1-31, 2-59, 3-117, 4-210, 5-219 BOMLING. Hughes 8-0-47-1; Brown 8-0-58-0, McEwan 5-2-13-0, Botham 8-1-34-2, Smith 5-0-33-0, Jones 6-0-37-1

DURHAM W Larkins c R C J Williams b Scott ... 20 I T Botham c and b Smith - 23

Extres (b 1, lb 6, w 1, nb 2) Total (4 wids, 39.1 overs) -†A R Fotherdil, "D A Graveney, S P Hughes, S M McEwen and S J E Brown did not be? FAUL OF WICKETS 1-41, 2-46, 3-85, 4-186

Umpres: A A Jones and G A Stickley. Yorks v Leics SHEFFIELD (Lorcestershire won toes): Lexcestershire (4pts) best Yorkshire by se-wickets

TORIUSHIRE *M D Moron b Wells
S A Kellett c Briers b Benjamin
TR J Blakey b Potter
S R Tendukar c Wells b Banjamin Byas c Robinson b Wells White b Parsons Carrick c Robinson b Parsons

Extras (b 1, lb 9, w 3) Total (7 wkts, 40 overs) 148 J D Batty and M A Robinson did not bal. FALL OF WICKETS 1-29, 2-48, 3-83, 4-98, 5-130, 6-138, 7-138 BOWLING: Bentamm 8-0-20-2: Multilly 8-2-25-0. Wells 8-1-28-2. Potter 8-0-31-1, Persons 8-1-34-2. LEICESTERSHIRE

Total (4 wkts, 39.1 overs) W.k. M. Benjamin, †P.A. Nacon, V.J. Wells, G.J. Parsons and A.D. Mullally did not bal. FALL OF WICKETS: 1-10, 2-73, 3-134, 4 139.

90MLING Hartley 8-1-31-1, Gough 8-2-13 2; Robinson 7-1-30-0; Barly 8-1-25-0 Carnok 8-0-41-1; Moron 0 1-0-4-0 Umoures: H D Bird and M J Kitchen Somerset v Derbys

TAUNTON (Somersel won toss) Sort (4pts) beat Derbyshire by (ive wickets P D Bowler b Rose
"J E Moms c Burns b Snell
C J Adems c Luebwe b Rose
T J G O'Gorman b Snell
S C Goldsmith c Harden b MacLeay
B C Cork e MacLeay b Caddock
F A Griffith b Caddock
F A Griffith b Caddock
T B Bein

L. Penney not out NM K. Smith not out

Lamb: 120 runs

Extres (fb 1, nb 4) Total (9 wids, 40 overs) FALL OF MICKETS: 1-11, 2-18, 3-41, 4-54, 5-92, 6-97, 7-108.
90-MLN3, Cacdiotk 8-0-26-2; Rose 5-0-18-2, MacLeay 8-0-31-1; Snell 8-0-40-2; Trump 7-0-28-0; Latebyre 4-0-18-2. STWENET

Total (5 wkts, 39.2 overs)

K H MacLeay, th D Burns, R P Snell, H R J Trump, A R Caddick, R P Lefebyre did not FALL OF WICKETS: 1-45, 2-104, 3-139, 4 BOWLING Bishop 8-0-38-2; Warmer 7.2-1 23-0; Cork 8-0-34-1; Griffish 5-0-21-1 Stackin 8-0-28-0, Goldsmith 3-0-14-1, Umpires. D O Oslear and K E Palmer.

Hants v Notts SOUTHAMPTON (Nottinghamshire wort toss): Hampshire (4pts) beat Notting-hamshire by 24 runs

HAMPSHIRE

Extres (fb 11, w 4, nb 2) 17 Total (7 wkts. 40 overs) 172 R J Maru and C A Connor did not bet FALL OF WICKETS: 1-86, 2-126, 3-130, 4-148, 5-149, 6-162, 7-171. BOWLING Pernett 8-0-38-0; Pick 8-0-34-2; Evans 8-1-22-2; Carris 8-1-24-2; Reid-Buss 4-1-22-0; Crawley 4-0-21-0; NOTTINGHAMSHIRE

NOTTINGHAMSHIRE
D W Randal c Maru b James
M A Crawley c Teny b James
"A T Robrison c Ayling b James
"T T Robrison c Ayling b James
P R Pollard c and b Udel
W A Dessaur c Perles b Mershell
C L Carns I Bw b Maru
A P Evens c Middleton b Connor
M G Peld-Buss not out
D 8 Pennett not out Extras (fb 2, w 5, nb 2) Total (9 white, 40 overs) FALL OF WICKETS 1-5, 2-12, 3-39, 4-57, 5-62, 6-63, 7-93, 8-133, 9-142.

BCWLING Connor 8-0-35-2; James 8-1-25-3, Ayling 6-0-18-0, Marshall 7-0-26-2; Maru 6-0-24-1, Udal 5-0-18-1 Umpires: R Julian and V A Holder Warwicks v Essex

EDGBASTON (Easer won loss): War shire (4pts) beat Easex by 24 runs WARWICKSHIRE A J Moles b Topley
R G Twose c Foster b Waugh
*T A Lloyd c Stahid b Waugh
D P Ostler c Foster b Freser
D A Reave b Pringle

Extras (lb 8, w 1, nb 4) 13 Total (5 wids, 40 overs) ... 214
P.A. Smith, IP C.L. Holloway, G.C. Small and
A.A. Donald did not bat.
FALL OF WICKETS 1-79, 2-103, 3-128, 4148, 5-200 BOWLING: Foster 8-0-35-0, Topley 8-1-36-1, Fraser 8-0-33-1; Pringle 8-0-53-1; Weugh 8-0-49-2

TM A Germann o N M K Smith b Smell J J B Lewis at Holloway b N M K Smith A G J Freser run out Extras (b 5, w 4) Total (37,5 overs) FALL OF WICKETS: 1-11, 2-21, 3-60, 4-100, 5-113, 6-146, 7-149, 8-189, 9-189, BOMLING. Reserve 7-0-22-2, N M K Smith 6-5-0-25-4; Donald 8-0-40-0; Smel 8-0-82-1; Twose 3-0-8-0; P A Smith 5-0-27-1.

Umpires: J D Bond and J H Harris. Northants v Sussex Fetion c Wells b Greenfield Lamb c Speight b Stephenson ...

D J Capel run out R J Bailey c Hall b Stephenson . K M Custan not out Total (5 wids, 25 overs) .. †D Ripley, A L Penberthy, C E L Ámbross, J P Taylor and N G B Cook did not bat. FALL OF WICKETS: 1-25, 2-153, 3-200, 4-204, 5-226. BOWLING: Stephenson 5-0-22-3; Robert 5-0-31-0; Pigot: 5-0-35-0; North 4-0-46-0; Hensford 4-0-48-0; Greenfield 2-0-41-1. SUBSEX

K Greenfield b Penberthy J W Hall c Ripley b Taylor ... M P Speight c Taylor b Cook "A P Well's c Ripley b Cook ... E D Streeters as a set of "A P Wells c Ripley b Cock.
F D Stephenson run out
J A North c Capet b Curran
If Moores run out
N J Lenkam not out
A C S Pigott b Bailey
A G Robson not out Total (9 wkts, 25 overs) FALL OF WICKETS: 1-29, 2-62, 3-66, 4-122, 5-135, 6-138, 7-145, 8-149, 9-149. BOWLING: Capel 5-0-38-0; Taylor 5-0-25-1 Penbershy 5-0-32-1; Cook 5-0-34-2; Am bross 1-0-4-0; Curran 2-0-8-1; Balley 2-0-4

Umpires: G i Burgess and B Dudleston. No play yesterday

Minor Counties

COLWYN BAY: Wates 252-8 dec (J Dentck 123, A Puddle 53 not out); Shropshire 149-six (T Parton 75) STDMOUTH: Devon 203-8 dec (Gaywood 80); Dorset 198 (Claughton 52: Ward 4-20). JESMOND; Buckinghamshire 191-6 dac (1 J. Scriven 88, S. Burrow 51) and 13-0; Northumberland 171-6 (G.R. Morris 67, P. Burn 52)

PW L TNRPs Middlesex (11) 9 9 0 0 0 Essex (6) Yorks (7) Sussex (12) Surrey (8) Somerset (9) Warwicks (5) Northants (3) Hanta (17) Durham Derbys (15) Lancs (2) Gloucs (13) Leics (14) Glamorgan (16) Notts (1)

1991 positions in brackets

Glamorgan v Surrey Northants v Sussex NEATH (second day of lines): Surray, with hine second-tunings wickets to hand, and 110 nurs alread of Glemorgan SUPRIEY: Float innings NORTHANSTON (second day of three; Northeinptonshire won loss): Suseex have scored 18 for no wicket against Northeinptonshire SUSSEX First Innings J Bloknell c Monts b Frost ... O Atlans c Metson b Frost ... P Thorpe c Morris b Weddn J W Hell not out. Exirus (ib 1, nib f) ... Total (no wid, 7.5 overs) . N J Leithern, "A P Wells, M P Speight, K Greenfield, J A North, F D Stepherson, †P Moores, ACS Pigott and AN Jones to bit. Edites (0 2, 10 1, w 2, no 2) MORTHAMEPTONSHERE: A Forchern, N.A. Felton, R.J.Belley, "A.J.Lemb, D.J.Capel, M. B. Loye, K. M. Curran, †D. Ripley, C. E. L. Ambrose, J.P.Taylor and N.G.B.Cook. Total (6 wids dec, 85,4 overs) ... A J Murphy, J Bolling and J E Benjamin old not bat. FALL OF WICKETS: 1-15, 2-33, 3-59, 4-270, 5-273, 6-275. BCWLING: Walkin 25-6-76-2; Frost 24-2-100-5; Bestien 14-4-4-56-1; Croft 19-4-64-0; Date 3-0-18-0. Sonus points: Suspex 0, Northe D J BiGrael & Metson b Watidn P D Atidns not out J Botton out Total (1

Umpires: B Dudleston and G I Burgess Warwicks v Essex

EDGBASTON (second day of three:
"Warwickshire won loss): Essex have scored 123 for three wicksis against Warwickshire
ESSEX: First Innings
P J Prichard not out
N V Kright c Moles b Small
M E Waugh c Twose b Donald
N Hussain for b Twose
N Hussain for b Twose
State of the Small
N Shalid not out
Estas 6 4 16/6 nb 27 atras (b 4, b 1, rb 2) ... WARWICKSPERE: A J Moles, R G Twose, "T A Lloyd, D P Oeter, D A Reeve, T L Penney: N M K Smith, P A Smith, †K J Piper, G C Smell and A A Donald. Bonus points? Warwickshire 1, Esset 0.

Umpires: J D Bond and J H Harris. Kent v Lancashire bei.

FALL OF WICKETS: ±747;2-166, 3-166, 4-188, 5-196, 8-231.
BOMLING: M.P. Bickrain 23-4-60-1; Bersamin 20-3-54-1; Murphy 12-3-3-3-1; Robinson 11.3-1-36;2-8-86;9(3)-1-8-98-1.
Bonus points: Glernorgen 5, Suzrey 8.
Umplime: A G T. William and P. S. Wight. AMADISTONE (second day of three): Lancashre, with all first-tryings wickets in history and the second care to the second care t 1S A Marsh o Titcheso b Monteon M.A Eatharn o Fowler b Monteon R M Elevis o Henrison R P Davis o Hegg b Monteon A P logissiden not out

Extras (b 1, b 2, w 1) Total (61.3 overs) "M.C.J.Nicholas, J.R.Wood, M.D.Mairahall, J. R.Ayling, TR.J.Parks, C.A.Connor and K.J. Shine to bat. FALL OF WICKETS, 1-88, 2-109, FALL OF WICKETS: 1-5, 2-5, 3-5, 4-82, 6-96, 8-156, 7-163, 8-163, 9-193. BOWLING: Monteon 18-4-48-6; Martin 21-3-9-67-4; Walkinson 14-2-52-0; Reacher 8-1-23-0. LANCASHERE: First Innings

MOTTINGRAMSHIRE: B.C Broad, P. Pollard, "R T Ribbinson, "P. Johnson, D. Rendell, M. A. Crawley, C. J., Calons, 18 French, K.P. Evens, R.A. Pick and J.A. Affor G Fowler not out S P Techard not out . Sorus points: Harepehies 0, Notingberr shire 0. Extress (#5 1, nb; 1) Umples: A Julian and V.A Holder, Total (no wid, 8.1 overs) N.J.Speak, G.D.Lloyd, "M-Watidnson, HWK Hegg, R.C.Irani, P.J.Martin, D.K.Morrison, A. A.Barnett and S.D.Fletcher to bet. Somerset w Derbys TALINFON rescond day of three, Soroan won Loss; Somersel have soored, 236 five wickers against Deffyather. SOMERSELT First Implice.

A M Haviture of Kalestuck Station. Bonus points: Kent 1, Lenceshire 4. Umples: J H Hampshier and N T Piews. No play on

Samulay STOCKTON: Durham v Gloucestarshate. SHEFFIELD: Yorkshire v Leicestarshire. Schools matches Total (5 wide, 82 overs) 228 RP Seel, 119 Promp AP ver Troop and A R Caddick to bel.
FALL OF WICKES STREET 43, 3-157, 4-167, FRAMLINGHAM FESTIVAL Framinghen

234-6 V. Kimbotton (abendoned); Beddonedd 115 Mormouth 17-0 Beddonedd 11-5 CFHST: MYTCSBS: Cowley (3* (A Cox 6* 27)." Silventerord 117-9 dec. Old Glenamonds 90, John Fisher 291-5-dec? Spilledar 105). "Chyot London Fisher 291-5-dec? Spilledar 105). "Chyot London 195-239-0ec. Firest pressure 195 (N Wood 7-76)." Tight 82." Lamper Upper 65." Wellington 176-5 dec. Carlet's, Brecon 165.

Patrese stays silent on 'give way' orders

Controversy clouds Mansell's latest entry into records

FROM NORMAN HOWELLIN MAGNY-COURS

NIGEL Mansell prevailed over the elements and his tenacious Williams-Renault team-mate, Riccardo Patrese. vesterday to win a rain-affect-. ed, controversial, stop-start French Grand Prix at Magny-Cours. It was Mansell's sixth win of the 1992 Formula One season. and with it he equalled Jackie Stewart's British record of 27 victories, the third best ever behind Alain Prost and Avitton Senna. Behind the Williams-Renault drivers, who once more inflicted a crushing blow on the rest of the field, Martin Brundle, in a Benetton-Ford, had the best result of his Formula One career after a courageous and polished piece of racing.

下 12 元 四級

TO. 05 75 36

THE STATE OF

T Caring

223

- T-95

771 721 73

50 WIS

77.073

512 278

- J.

on, lasted less than a lap in okay, but that was his McLaren-Honda: he was hit from behind by Michael Schumacher's Benetton-Ford. Gerhard Berger, in the other McLaren, retired with a broken engine.

But the race could have gone very differently, After 19 aps, Patrese was in the lead. closely followed by Mansell. Then the rain came and the red flag went up to signal a halt. The 20 cars rolled on to the grid for the 20-minute stop. Patrese clambered out of his car and was approached by Patrick Head, the Williams chief designer.

The two exchanged angry words. "You must remember the team position," Head said. "What you've done is not acceptable: Straightfor-ward defensive opposition is the fault," Brundle said. Another Briton with plenty to smile about was Johnny Herbert, who finished sixth in his Lotus-Ford, two places behind his Finnish colleague, Mika Hakkinen. The team experienced considerable problems with the active suspension in practice and switched to a "passive" system for the race.

Come the restart Patrese waved his team-mate through at the end of the first lap and Mansell went on to win by 46

er, Patrese would not comment on whether there were any team orders. All he would say was: "Nigel was pressing me very hard and I thought it wald be best to let him go."

from Mansell's splendid achievement. The French victory takes him into the British Grand Prix at Silverstone

next Sunday in an even stronger position for taking his first, and much belated ,

One must have some sympathy for Patrese. Racing in these conditions is tough enough without the harshness and, in his eyes at least,

the injustice of team orders

Mansell was full of praise for Brundle, commenting ers on the rostrum was such a rare occurrence that it was cause for celebration. Brundle said that he had an electrical problem that nearly caused him to resire. "Then the rain started and it cured

eing directed at him.

world title.

This does not take anything

At the press conference lat-

EQUESTRIANISM

Stark shows Olympic form

By JENNY MACARTHUR

IAN Stark, the European three-day event: champion. and Murphy Himself underlined their fitness for Barcelona when they won the Olympic trial yesterday at the Allen & Harris Savernake Forest horse trials. It was the first competition for the partnership since their win at Brigstock in April.

ABORNS (II, Jerush-Yamani, 25 Mg., 16), A Sizzila (Japan, Footsorik-Mugen-Honda), 20 lapis; 20, M Schumachar (Ger, Senetion-Ford), 17 Japas; 27, G Serger (Austria, McLaren-Honde), 10 lapis; 22, G Trocain (II, Fondmetal-Ford), 5 lapis. Did not start frailed to complete one lapi; A Senat (Birs. McLaren-Honde); M Gagalatin (See, Jorden-Yamania); A Chiesa (Switz, Fondmetal-Ford); B Gachot (IV, Ventur-Lamborghita), Frest-lapis Merseal, 17-707 (198-27-14pis), WORLD CHAMPKONSHIP- Drivecic: 1, Merseal, 65 pointer: 2, Pagess, 34; 3,

The superbly built course at Savernake, which drew widespread praise from the riders, gave the selectors an unrivalled opportunity to assess the fitness of the 15 Olympic long-listed riders.

None of them incurred jumping penalties on the cross country. The nearest Karen Dixon survived a near fall at fence 13 on Get Smart. Ginny Leng, looks set for a third Olympic Games after two good runs on both Mas-ter Craftsman and Weston

Mary Thomson on her Badminton winner, King William and Richard Walker, on Jacana both underlined their Olympic credentials with superb clear rounds over the 23-fence course. Stark was also clear on his second horse, Glen Burnie, though they had three show-jumping fences down. Afterwards approfibe leading contenders Stark said that he had no preference which of his two The British team will be announced today after a final trot-up, and some tough declsion-making by the selectors. The New Zealanders confirmed that they will be Britain's chief rivals in Barcelona with impressive performances yesterday from Blyth Tait, Mark Todd and Vicky PLESULTS: Section G: 1, Murphy Hemself () Stark), 41 sec; 2, King Borls (M. Thorrech), 48; 8; Get Smart (K. Dison), 47; Section Hz. 1, Risconter (S. Talk, 1927, 48; 2, Adonis (M. Plumb, US), 44; 3, Mystic High (B. Devictson, US), 46; Section J: 1, Delta (B. Tait), 44; 2, Chief (V. Latte, NZ), 44; 3, Messein (B. Tait), 48.

Hondini.

Alex Zuille, a Swiss celebrat-ing his 24th birthday and a second-year professional, took the overall lead in the Tour de France yesterday as Miguel Indurain, the race favourite and defending champion, gladly surren-

Comprehensive victory: the University of London crew celebrates its victory in the Grand Challenge Cup at Henley yesterday

Henderson's Diamond-hard desire

By MIKE ROSEWELL NOWING CORRESPONDENT

ه کنا منالامل

RORIE Henderson, of Leander, yesterday became the first Briton for seven years to win the Diamond Sculls at Henley. Henderson, aged 31 and overlooked for Olympic selection, said after the final: I've needed this race for a long time."

Henderson's semi-final and final performances Reininger, and the Australian, Paul Reedy, both saw him come through to win in the last few strokes.

imperial College had two crews in the Henley finals for the first time. Their second eight, in the Temple Cup, set the regatta alight in the first race of the day against Trinity College, Dublin. The Irish led by half a length at the Barrier, stretched this to two thirds of a length at Fawley, beating the record by two seconds in

The time and the leeway

made the early-morning pre-diction of Bill Mason, the IC coach, that "we have just got the chance for a double" seem somewhat optimistic, particularly since Trinity still held the same lead with only 30 strokes to go. But Imperial's late assault snatched a canvas lead at the line, seven seconds inside the record. Just before tea, the Endosures were roused again by the sight of an Imperial crew closing on overseas opponents, this time from Nereus, Holland, in the Ladies' Plate. The lengthy hush after the finish heralded that rarest of Henley happenings, a dead heat, this time eight seconds inside the record.

Two hours later, in the rerow, Mason's demanding training requirements for his men paid off with a onelength win over the Dutch, although his crew will perhaps be forgiven that it was three seconds slower than the earlier record.

The excitement of tense finishes tended to overshadow London University's compre-lightweights in the final of the Grand and the performance of the Nottingham County GB lightweight four in winning the Siewards' and just failing to complete a double by losing narrowly in the Queen Mother's Cup.

Westminster, conquerors, directly or indirectly, of Hampton, Eton and Shiplake through the week, again fell at the last hurdle in the Princess Elizabeth; this time they were beaten by Pangbourne, so they have still to win at Henley.

Richard Hamilton and Graham Smith, crewmates in Great Britain junior gold medal-winning coxless four the Pangbourne and West-minster crews. Westminster, a stone a man lighter, were uncharacteristically led off the start. Pangbourne looked Hamilton, at 14st 2lb, rallied them to a one-third-of-alength victory and a new

With records falling on the water through the day in the tail wind, Nick Clarry, of Goldie, set up an enviable personal record of winning both the Goblets pairs and the Britannia fours A double win is unusual, but Clarry was rowing on bow side in the pair and stroke side in the

WEEKEND RESULTS AT HENLEY

Grand Cup

University of London bt Wanness, 144, 6:04

Stewards' Cup

6:50 Mainto and Brudpiga (Swe) bi University of London, seeily, 5:41

Double Sculls Holders: B Elteng (Den) and H Bang (Nor) Semi-finals

7:19
D Kruyswyk and P Willenburg (Gyes and Skadi, Holi) bit A Graham and M Burbanks (Nolesey), 11, 7:26 Figur)

CYCLING

Diamond Sculls Sami-finals

Ready (Me Finai

Wyfold Cup

Nortinghamshire County A bit University of London, 3%1, 6:38 Britannia Cup Holders: Notanghamehire County Sami-finals London bt Notlingham and Union, 1%), 7.08 bi New York Athletic (US), 11/1,

Goldie bt London, 31/41, 6:50 Visitors' Cup

Leander bi Tidewsy Scullers, 3t, 6 49 University of British Columbia (Can) bt

Semi-finals

Ladies Plate Semi-finals

Nersus (Holl) bt Hamburg (Ger), 144 6.21

Princess Elizabeth HONGOTO: ETON Semi-finals

Westminuter of Shiplake College, 11, 6:39 Pangbourne bi King's, Chester, 191, 6:38

Pangbourne bi Westminster, '41, 6:22 Prince Philip Cup

Leander by Molesey and Reading Univer-sity, not sowed out, 7-01 Tideway Scullers by Laga and Skadi (Holl), 3-1, 7:02

Temple Cup

Semi-Intella Imperial College, London bi ?uft's Univer-sity (US), 4f, 5.48 Trinity College, Dubbin (Ire) bi Orange Coast College (US), 4d, 5.31

Silver Goblets

ma

Gritard and Clarry bt Ashley-Murray and Murray, 31 7 30 Queen Mother Cup Second round

Notinghamshire County B bi Upper Thames and Tideway Scullers, 2, 7 00 Naurius bi Peterborough and Newsrk, easily, 6'37 Stramsteds (Swe) bi Tideway Scullers School, 5; 6'47 Notinghamshire County A. Maldania

Nothinghemente County A bi instructe of Aviation (CIS), 1%1, 6.50 Semi-final Stromstads by Nottinghamshee County A, *91.6.26 Nottinghamshee County B by Neutilus, 1*41,839

Fawley Cup

Thames Cup

tereus (Holf) bi University of London, Vol. 5:37

G37 Goldie bi London A, 1 ki, 6 28 Upper Thames bi Comeli Univer %1, 6 32 Lee bi Calgary (Can), 11, 6 33

Fourth round

Moindais and Strömatads (Swe) bi King's School, Chester and Royal Chester, 194, 705 Windoor Boys School bi Reading Blus-cost and Martow, 29, 722 Walton and Trent bit City of Cambridge, 31, 714 Quintin and Wallingford bt Bedford and Abingdon, 11/1, 7:18

Second round Walton and Trent bt Quarter and Walting-tord, 191, 853 Moindale and Stromateds of Windson, 3%1, 658

Moindais and Strömslads by Walton and Trant, 34, 640

CRICKET

Essex catch bad cold at Warwickshire

BY IVO TENNANT

NEWS of the emphatic way in which Middlesex had overcome Worcestershire at Lord's permeated through to Edgbaston just as Essex, joint leaders of the Sunday League, were seeking to improve on their faltering run rate in their match against Warwickshire. This could have acted as a spur or as a dampener: For once for them, it was the Needing to make 215, Essex collapsed, despite a half-century by Pringle and 43 from Waugh, to 190 all out in the thirty-eighth over. In IIford week they barely seemed to noticed their growing list of

Now, it was all too apparent that their captain was

The off spin of Neil Smith was as effective as off spin can be in a 40-over match. His figures of four for 25 were his best in this competition. Middlesex now have a lead of four points with, crucially, two matches in hand. The Britannic Assurance championship always was the priority for Essex. That is more than ever the case now.

it took a Yorkshireman. Whitaker, to give Yorkshire a game at Sheffield. Leicestershire's victory, by six wickets, was in no small way owing to his unbeaten 82, achieved with five balls to spare. This was significant in another sense - Yorkshire had stealthily moved up the table in the wake of the leaders. This defeat could just have put paid to their season in this compension. -

Elsewhere, there was an innings by Jones that further enhanced his unofficial status of the best one-day batsman in the world. His unbeaten 81 not only gave Durham victory over Gloucestershire, it took his Sunday League average to 89.6. He made a half-century for the fifth successive Sunday, a splendid achievement His innings came off 90 balls. and yet he struck just one four in his first 60 runs. This after Wright, Gloucestershire's captain, hit four sixes and eight fours in an innings of 93 that was a career-best.

There was another exciting innings at Lanelli, where Brown made a century (also off 90 balls) that led to Surrey beatGlamorgan by seven wickets. At Taunton, there was a low-scoring contest, Somerset beating Derbyshire with five wickets and four balls to spare. Hayhurst and Tavare made sufficent runs for their side to win in town of Aizpurutxo early in the last over.

Brown: a century

dered the yellow jersey he had won in Saturday's opening served their energy.

time-trial prologue. Yesterday's first stage, of 194.5 kilometers (122 miles), starting and finishing in San Sebastian, saw 69 riders all coming home together. among them Zülle, in 28th place. The stage winner was Dominique Arnould, of France who went into second place overall, two seconds behind the Swiss and the same margin ahead of Indurain. With today's 255km mountain stage in the Pyrenees to Pau in prospect, the elite con-

For the third consecutive day, an act of vandalism surrounded the race. About 30 riders punctured yesterday

when they ran over tacks thrown onto the mad in the the stage. It was unclear who threw them.

Explosive devices destroyed nine cars, including three being used by Channel 4, on Friday afternoon and early Saturday morning in San Sebastian and a nearby village. Officials arrested a youth for the Friday explosion and said he was a sympathizer of the Basque separatist group.

Arnould would have taken the overall lead had he not eased off approaching the fin-ish and raised his arm in triumph, losing seconds. He was almost caught by the Belgian, Johan Museeuw. Zülle earned the maillot jaune thanks to the second place he secured in Saturday's time trial and a sixsecond bonus he captured yesterday for winning a midstage sprint.

It was only the final ride of the day, by an Indurain clad in the yellow jersey he won last year and applauded by his countrymen all the way through the packed streets of the city, that deprived the Swiss of an immediate, birthday-eye success. He is riding for the team sponsored by ONCE, Spain's national association for the blind.

Tour birthday gift for Swiss Steady rain throughout the stage failed to dampen the spirits of spectators, who waved Basque flags and signs proclaiming in English that "This is Not Spain." But the rain caused several spills among the riders and created particular problems for Zulle, who wears glasses. "I couldn't see anything at all when it was raining hard," he said. Greg LeMond lies tenth overall. 18 seconds in arrears.

STIES LETYLOTHE THES CETHEN OVERS.

RESULTS: Protogue (Burn, San Sebbutten): 1, M Industra (Sp. Banesto); Smar 22acc; 2, Alex Zule (Swinz, ONLE); at Zeoc; 3, T Marte (Fr. Cestonera, 3, 4, J Nijdam (Fol. Bucker); 4, E. A. de las Cuevas (Fr. Beresto), 11, 8, A. de las Cuevas (Sp. Banesto), 12, 7, R Alexia (Mex. PDM); G. Bugno (ft. Galotacid); 9, E. vian Hozydonck (Bel, Buckler), at same time, 10, V Elemov (CS. Prinsaonic), 13 Others: 15, G. LeMond (U.S. 2), 13; 22, S Roche (Ps. Carrera), 20; 33, Skelly (Re, Festara), 29, 102; R Milter (GS. TYAN), 40, 128, S Yates (GB. Motorola), 47, 189, M Earley (Re, PDM), Imm (12acc. First stage (San Sebastian, 194 Skm, 122 milles); 1, D Arnould (Fr. Castonaria), 41 Shibly (Den, TVM); 5, H Malar (Austria, PDM), 6, R Virenque (Fr. RMO); 7, R Goz (For, Anostea), 8, M Sergeant (Bel, Panasonic), 9, Kelly, 10, J Heppiner (Ger. Telekonn), all same time (Tele, 12acc), 12, R Coche, 40, Lehlond; 50, Earley, 57, Miller, all same time; 152, Ystas, 725 Overall positions; 106, 8 Bugno, same time, 7, Elumby, 17; 8, E Breyunk, (Holl, PDM), 18, 9, Line (Fr. RMO), 18, 10, Lehlond, 24, 41, Miller, 44, Miller, 44, Sp. Lehlond, 58, Earley, 106, 148, Yates, B-16.

YACHTING

Connor quick to secure Kiel haul

DENNIS Connor yesterday won the Baltic Cup matchrace grand prix in Kiel, Germany, and DM60,000 (£20,700) in prize-money to go with it (Malcolm Mckeag writes). Connor, who rarely appears on what he calls "the junior circuit" - the internaevents where those not synonymous with the America's Cup look to prove themselves - beat Paul Cayard, who lost the America's Cup to Bill Koch, in two races in a bestof-three final. Eddie Warden Owen, of Britain, did not make the last four.

In San Tropez, Harold

also in two straight races.

The results of these two events, and the Wightlink Royal Lymington Cup, won by Lawrie Smith, decide the final rankings and invitations to the world championships. at Long Beach in August. due Cudmore lost the final of the to be announced today.

French grand prix to Peter

Isler, of the United States,

IN BRIEF

Rugby chief defies ANC

Next month's rugby tours of South Africa by Australia and New Zealand were thrown into jeopardy after Louis Luy, president of the Trans-vaal Rugby Football Union, reiterated that he would defy an ANC stipulation that his teams wear "peace and de-mocracy" armbands. If the ANC wanted to cancel the tours, it could do so, Luyt said. Junior sweep champions last year and still 18, won the European senior titles at Lommel, Belgium.

Challis back

Trampoline: Sue Challis, of Portsmouth, won the national championship for the eighth time, deposing Andrea Holmes, of Dunstable, at Preston vesterday.

Triathion: Spencer Smith, of Britain, and Sonja Krolik, of Germany. European junior

Lansink again

Equestrianism: Jos Lansink. of Holland, on Optiebeurs Egano, beat Nick Skelton on Everest Dollar Girl to win the Aachen grand prix, his fourth grand prix victory this year.

Danny Holland

Boxing: The funeral of Danny Holland, the trainer, will be on Wednesday at 10:30am at Our Lady of Lourdes Roman Catholic Church, Burnt Ash Road, Lee,

FOOTBALL

Howe joins his old friends at Chelsea

DON Howe strengthened the connection between Chelsea and Wimbledon yesterday when he joined the Starnford Bridge club as lirst team Howe masterminded the Wimbledon's shock FA Cup final triumph against oddson Liverpool in 1988. Now he has a reunion with three of the men who shared in that Wembley win: the winger, Dennis Wise, the goalkeeper, Dave Besant, and Vinny Jones, the midfield hardman. The trio have since featured in transfer deals worth

£5 million. Howe, who resigned as manager of Coventry last month because he was tired of commuting from his Hertfordshire home, will work alongside Ian Porterfield.

"I'm really looking forward to working with lan Porterfield. Chelsea have a lot of exciting players, and I'm sure they're going to do extremely well this season," Howe said.

Нe coached Arsenalside which won the League and Cup double in 1970-1. He later went to the 1982 World Cup with Ron Greenwood's England side and continued as coach under Bobby Robson until Howe's contribution was interrupted when he needed heart bypass surgery. But he recovered and took charge at Queen's Park Rangers in November 1989. Rangers showed him the door at the end of the following season suggesting that he was too

He had a brief spell back at Wimbledon and also worked at Barnet before Terry Butcher asked him to help out at Coventry. Howe took over when Butcher was dismissed last Christmas, but is now back in the job he enjoys best - working with players.

RUGBY LEAGUE

Wembley contest set

Great Britain will meet Australia in the rugby league World Cup final at Wembley in October came yesterday when New Zealand failed to reach the required 110 points in beating Papua New Guinea 66-10. In a useful warmup for the two internationals against Great Britain, the Castleford centre, Richard Blackmore, ran in three tries

Auckland: Confirmation that

In return for giving up ground advantage as table leaders. Australia have asked for several warm-up games in England, consultation in the choice of referee and a share of television rights in both

British officials expect a crowd of between 50,000 and 60.000, a fact which has influenced the Australians, whose top stadium at Sydney TENNIS 27

Flamboyant American completes rise from court jester to king at Wimbledon

Agassi wins first grand slam title

By ANDREW LONGMORE

ONE of the briefest courtships in the history of the Champi-onships ended in the perfect marriage on the centre court yesterday. Amid scenes of high emotion, Andre Agassi out-hit and outlasted Goran Ivanisevic 6-7, 6-4, 6-4, 1-6, 6-4 to become the unlikelies Wimbledon champion of all.

In two hours and 50 minutes of quickfire brilliance, the street urchin with the flowing locks became king of the turf, the rebel found a cause and the bastion of tradition gained a champion minted in Las Vegas. Earring, squirrels'-tail hair, football shorts, long johns and all.

When the Croat netted a backhand volley on match point, Agassi fell flat on his face on the grass he had spurned for three years and wept unashamedly. All his dreams had come true, all his worst nightmares after three defeats in grand slam finals had been banished in the very place he had least expected

And, what is more, he did it the hard way. Taking on the big-servers with nothing but quickness of eye and feet to protect him and proving to all those who have dismissed his antics as the dissuepaper of showmanship that, on the biggest stage of all, he had the heart to prevail.

Where his fellow American, Pete Sampras, had drooped beneath the hail of aces from Ivanisevic in the semi-final, Agassi held firm, feeding off the scraps of second serves until it was the number eight seed who offered up the final ironic crumb.

After serving 37 aces in the match. 206 for the tournsment, the outcome hinged finally on two double-faults as the Croat, whose temper - a few native crudities and the viewers led officials to warn Goran Ivanisevic about his language during his Wimbledon final against Andre Agassi. Ivanisevic, a Croatian, blamed the protest on Serbs. "Somebody called. Somebody called from Yugoslavia, probably some Serb, so he [the umpirel told me don't swear," Ivanisevic said . He added that he told the umpire that nobody understood him but that the umpire had replied "these people understand".

Protests led to warning

exclusive to Charles Tyrobits.

louble seams round the er stitched to moure they never fall off.

100% pare. Iwo fold cotton popis odd throw of the racket apart had stayed cool throughout, served to stay in the match at 4-5. Agassi saw his chance and, with another lightning forehand, reached match point. One hurried voiley error by Ivanisevic and Agassi's name had joined the pantheon of the greats.

The crowd, who welcomed the quicksilver American with open arms on his return to the tournament last year, feted the new champion as if Las Vegas had suddenly become part of Britain and Agassi a bornagain Londoner. The only regret for Agassi was that he had missed all those years of enjoyment when money meant more to him than

"It's sad. This tournament has given my life so much and it's a shame I didn't respect it earlier. This is the greatest title in the world and this is my greatest achievement," the new champion said.

For so many reasons, this has been an impossible ending to an incredible journey. Not only has Agassi defied his most persistent critics and his deepest doubts, he has disproved most eloquently the prevailing theory that it is impossible to win Wimbledon from the baseline.

Over the past five days, Agassi has shredded Boris Becker and John McEnroe, who boast six titles between them, with the cutting edge of his service returns and thrown a thousand words to the wind. "I believe I have made a mark for those who play like I do. It's just a matter of survival out there because some of these

Against Becker, he reduced one of the geatest servers in the game to head-shaking disbe-lief; against McEnroe, he pounded one of the greatest volleyers into helpless

Given the fate of his two predecessors, Ivanisevic lost nothing in defeat. Though it fell short of being a classic final, it was refreshing, full of character, life and novelty. played at a rip-roaring pace. Agassi missed a point to

Generous est for day-long

Wide relection of plain ruffs or double cuffs for new with cuffinite.

CHARLES

TYRWHITT

Makes of fine shirts

Two-fold cotton poplin

A SPORTING OFFER Send for our free estalogue and we will send you a pair of brase collar stiffeners. Absolutely free and without obligation

BUY FOUR SHIRTS, GET A FIFTH ONE FREE

Two-fold cotton poplin shirts from £29.20

"Ours are quite simply, better shirts, generously cut from fine quality fabric and tailored to perfection.

The difference is immediately discernible.

Our mail order service has reduced overbeads

so our prices are equally impressive.

To find out more and claim your free brass collar stiffeners send for our free estalogue."

Fill in the coupon below, phone or fax.

CHARLES TYRWRITT SHIRTS

Freepost, Saddlers Court, Camberley, Surrey, CU17 7ER

Telephone 0252 860940 Fax 0252 861677

rics Tyrothin Shirts, Freepost, Saddlers Court, Camberley, Survey, GU1778

Please send my first ratalogue and brase railor stiffrares

Poised for victory: Agassi volleys towards his first grand slam win in the singles final yesterday

crucially, revived his morale by breaking for the first time early in the second set. That was an achievement in itself because Ivanisevic had been broken only seven times 23 sets during the past fortnight.

Another break in the opening game of the third set prompted the first signs of temperament in the brittle lefthander and, for the first time, gave Agassi the high ground. To emphasise his superiority, the little American - at 5ft llin, he was giving away five inches in height — served three aces of his own as he took the third set after almost two

For a moment, Ivanisevic looked tired and dispirited as the aces began to dry up - 11 in the first set, seven in the second and five in the third. round had two more revolutions to turn. With his first break of the match, in the 35th game, he lifted his own confidence to such a swift and sudden neak set in a mere 17 minutes. For the first time. Agassi had the glazed look and the weary step of a penniless gambler on the Vegas strip.

To compound his troubles. A Agessi (US) bt G Ivanisevic (Cro) 6-7, 6-4, 6-4, 1-6, 6-4

96/186
63/70
81/159
37
7
111
93
115/155
41/91
30/67
139/322
22/27
25
	63/70 81/159 87 7 114/166 111 93 115/156 41/91 30/67 159/622 22/27

rich seam of aces. Eight more flowed effortlessly from his racket — "I enjoyed watching them," Agassi said — but still he could not dampen the American's irrepressible spirit. Arguably, the turning point came in the seventh game of the final set as Agassi, weathering the storm like a cork. saved a break point with an incisive volley to parry the final challenge. Then came the doublefaults, the celebrations, the tears, the American's first grand slam victory and a cheque for £265.000, which meant nothing, even to a child of a gamblers' paradise.

Full men's and women's singles results, pages 24, 25 Graf prevails, page 24

Champion of substance silences critics

nd so the match for the championship of hell — Croatia v Las Vegas — ended with the two men in white cycling shorts (no doubt this year's Tour de France will be won by a man in termis kit) wrapped in each other's arms, and the victorious Las Vegan in tears.

Why the hug? "Well, he just looked so good in those shorts," Agassi said after-wards in the ritual post-match press conference. He sat there beaming happily at so many people, practi-cally all of whom were busy wiping egg from their si will never win a and slam tournament. We ill said. He comes to Wimbledon to decorate the first week. He is a cheap act: schoolgirls love him, and all that, but there is no bottom to the man who once said 'Image is everything". He has already lost three grand slam finals: and Wimbledon, on hated grass, was the last place he would ever put right that woeful record. No back-image but substance. Throughout this last fortnight, Agassi has ridden a wave of excellence. For a snowball mentality after extremely relaxed. I feit no tension. All I could feel was ability. I was just over-flowing with the desire to go out there and hit

That is very much what he did. And perhaps in fact, grass suits him better than his beloved clay. It suits the Las Vegan in him: the oddsmaker. Every point in clay-court tennis is like a robber of bridge: thrust and termis is like cutting cards for a tenner a time. Every stroke of the racket is a high stakes business: there is no time to think, only to act. Agassi responded to that. His opponenent. Goran Ivanisevic, of Croatia, was serving with his usual power: Agassi simply fought fire with petrol.

ssi said: "I respect gassi said: "I respect his power: I enjoyed A his power. I eajoyed watching a lot of serves go by it's a power game. I'm just surviving out there.

It was a test of character out there. Like every other match ever played. But in truth, it was not the sever est test of character of alltime. At the very end, Ivanisevic did Agassi the incalculable favour of blowing up like a bomb. Agassi had won the match before he dared to consider the possibility of victory. It was Ivanisevic suffered a sudden and melodramatic loss of nerve. He began a service game with two double faults instead of his usual pair of

"I was a little bit rushing," he said, in the vivid fractured English that has been delighting us for a fortnight. "It was windy, I throw the ball too high, I lose my motion, I was looking for the ball in the

That set up match point, and ivanisevic responded by spooning an easy volley into the net. "I just missed it. I swear I put it over, but it was down there on the floor and I was still standing. It is easy to miss, on points

He was asked about the difference between playing Agassi yesterday, and on previous occasions: "Difference was today was Wimbledon fizzi. Is a big Ivanisevic really is a star: a wonderful dry sense of humour, intelligent, and full of raw, untramelled emotions. He had a yell at the umpire in Croation: Goran, did you call him a monkey? It was a question that would have most players diving for

"Probably. I don't know. I told him something. I called him some animal, I don't remember. I think it was a nice animal . . .

Meanwhile, Andre was people who always believed n him. I don't suppose there can be too many of them, but they were right. and everybody else was wrong Agassi has lived through a brief and vivid period of enchantment You no longer think. I was all consumed with confidence. I can only go out there and show

But with all this substance, we are beginning to forget about image. Andre, what clothes will you wear at Wimledon next year? The biggest smile of the session: You'll have to wait and see

David Miller, page 24

Thompson lines up one last throw

By DAVID POWELL, ATHLETICS CORRESPONDENT

IN HIS last desperate attempt to obtain an Olympic qualifying mark. Daley Thompson looks likely to contest a decathlon in England for the first time in his life. Having given up in Trondheim, Norway, on Saturday, the focus of whether Thompson's illustrious Olympic career is over may now come to Crystal Palace on Thursday and Friday.

Thompson, the world record holder whose global triumphs have included Commonwealth. European, world and Olympic titles, must score 7.850 points by Friday's deadline to go to his fifth Olympics. Though that is nothing compared with his world record of .847, for a man of 33, who has not completed a decathlon for four years, it is a considerable challenge. "It is not definite yet that he wants to do another one, but I think it is agreed that if he does it should be a homebased one," Frank Dick, his adviser, said yesterday. The last thing we want is for Daley to be charging around Europe humping poles and getting tired from travelling." If Thompson does compete at Crystal Palace, the second day would coincide with the TSB grand prix there. Marthew Yates, the European indoor 1,500 metres champion whose Olympic participation has been threatened by illness, expects to return to competition either in Lausanne on Wednesdady or at Crystal Palace. His name was on the 800 metres startlist at the Eastern Electricity Games in Haringey, but he chose to delay his return. The field was not what I needed," Yates, who has been back in training for two weeks. said. His father and coach. Mike Yates, is pleased with his progress. "I am so positive he going to be in Barcelona that the races we are talking about are preparation to run the Olympic final."

ITV, which has the domestic contract to televise athletics until 1994, has won the British rights to the three big grand prix meetings at Zurich. Brussels and Oslo, taking over from the BBC. ITV is to pay $11 million to a German company, which has the world rights, for the British rights for the next five years. The deal will also include coverage of the Berlin grand prix.

Barcelona: Said Aouita.

said yesterday that he will run in the 1.500 metres in the Olympics. There is no point in attempting to run the 5,000 metres as well." the Moroccan world record-holder said. Aouita, the 5,000 metres Olympic champion in Los Angeles, failed in his 800 metres and 1,500 metres double attempt at Seoul in 1988.

Christie's triumph, page 22

Bruised Gooch must hold the fort

OLD TRAFFORD (third day of five): England, with eight first-innings wickets in hand, are 433 runs behind Pakistan

IF THE great scriptwriter in the sky has something special in mind for David Gower's comeback, he could hardly have set the scene more demandingly than this. Two days remain of the third Cornhill Test and if England are to avoid defeat, the man due in next may have to play one of the innings of his life. Twenty-one overs of bruising hostility from Pakistan's pace bowlers on a dark, dank Manchester evening might easily have demolished England's batting. Graham Gooth, tenacious in his defiance, limited the damage to two wickets

But if either he or Robin Smith fall early today, when England resume still needing a daunting 234 to avoid the follow-on, Gower, who was at the Wimbledon final yesterday, will play his first Test innings for 18 months in an atmosphere which simply would not tolerate failure. The series could stip irre-trievably away from England in the first session this morning and, if Wasim Akram and Waqar Younis bowl with the brimming beligerence of Saturday, they will be hard pressed to avoid it.

Pakistan, one game up and with a 505-run cushion, were so anxious to press home their advantage that the cricket changed identity. The gracious help-yourself atmosphere of the first day, en-dorsed by abject English bowling, was replaced by something which approached the borders of acceptable

This pitch never has been without gifts for those willing to work for them and now, as had seemed ominously likely, we saw two of the world's great talents exploit them to the extreme. There were former international players present who compared it with the bombardment of John Edrich and Brian Close by the West Indian fast bowlers on this same ground in 1976. The brutality was not so naked, but certainly the intensity was

Waqar, unusually given the new ball, shelved his usual full length and subjected Alec Stewart to a stream of shortpitched balls, many demanding acrobatics from batsman and wicketkeeper and some followed up with words delivered in a menacing manner which suggested he was not merely asking his Surrey captain about rooming arrangements for next season.

By consistently dropping short. Wagar sacrificed the swing which is his wickettaking potency. What he prowas a chilling experience for the England openers, in no way improved by the thought of getting down the other end. Akram's ability is immeasurably more powerful for its unpredictability and, amid an array of wides and no balls, he nterspersed deliveries of such technical perfection and torrid pace that to leave them alone. as Gooch contrived to do more often than not, required batting of instinct, and judgement.

Not once did the umpires have to apply the new bouncer rule, as they had done when Devon Malcolin was bowling rather less impressively in the morning. This was unques-tionably. infimidation - raw and ruthless, but it was within

In light so grien that Goods had to make three starts to his imnings, each time against refreshed bowiers, he was not flawless. It is hard to imagine that anyone could have been against such an assault. He was dropped twice at slip, on eight and 39; the second of them when Anh Javed came on for the final completed over. Agib's furious condemnation of a contrite Salim Malik said everything necessary about the highly-charged Akram, by then, had made the breach. Twice in his tenth over he committed the stroke with his line, only to betray it with his angle and pace. Stewart, who had only got to Akram's end for the first time two overs earlier, edged to second slip and Atherton's Test comeback had no sooner enjoyed an ovation from his home crowd than it was over. Gooch received bruises on both arms from Akram when he briefly went round the wicket and he will bat today in certain discomfort. England need heroics from the captain now, even more than they did in the field, when his best Test bowling figures were as much an indictment of the rest of the England attack as a comment on his own ability to put the ball in the right area and awing it The Gooch bowling option, one he uses only reluctantly. will doubtless be valuable again at Headingley, where English bowlers always fancy their chances.

What this game has proved however, is that pitch and overhead conditions no longer much matter. In this senes. the Pakistan bowling is so devastatingly superior that England are hanging on for dear life member after Bevan had described

Tories as "lower than vermin". It features prominently in Evelyn Waugh's diaries. It is one of the last refuges of the traditional country genileman. It has 1.350 members and an 11-year waiting list. "Many are father-to-son," the club secretary. David Ward, tells me, "We get a lot of recommendations like that." Women are not allowed in at all. "The day White's admits women members. I'm sure it will be world news," Mr Ward says, 1

TOMORROW

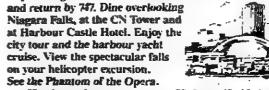

Batman and T-shirt:

Geoff Brown on films

and merchandising

In clubland, some things are believe he chorded.

TORONTO and NIAGARA

Heathrow departures are on 28 June, 13, 20 August, 17, 25 September and 8 October. The inaugural Concorde holiday from Manchester takes place on 13 September. The inclusive price is£1,999. The five night holiday costs£999 flying both ways by 747.

OE2 and CONCORDE

Journey on the Puliman train from London or Manchester to Southampton on 4 October. Cruise for five nights on the QE2 via Vigo, Gibraltar (option to Expo '92) and Malaga. Return supersonic from Lisbon on Concorde. The cost is £1.499.

Alternatively, cruise for five nights on the QE2 from Southampton to New York. The coach tour includes visits to Philadelphia, Washington, Corning and Wagara Falls before your Concorde return from Toronto. Departures are on 29 July. 9 and 24 September. The fifteen day holiday costs £2,999.

You could take our Concorde flight to New York on 11 September and spend four nights at the Madison Towers. Tour Manhattan by coach, yacht and belicopter.

For brochures, please telephone:

50 favourite THE TIMES PASSPORT TO restaurants and a vintage

LIFE & TIMES

the choice of Europe

Why British

schools are

MONDAY JULY 6 1992

Will you join us, ladies?

With a gentlemanly reserve, and some apprehension, London clubs are going through a revolution, Paul Barker reports ome and have lunch with me at the Reform Club," says Joanna Foster. She. chairs the Equal Oppor-unities Commission. Her armual report, a formight ago, rejoiced (among other burdles overcome) that the Magic Circle had finally admitted women conjurers. But that is nothing, socially, beside the magic circle of West End clubs.

ance

One after the other, these are now having to wrangle over whether to follow the pioneering footsteps of the Reform, and welcome women as full participants, instead of the present half-hearted arrangements. One of the Atheneum's most distinguished academic members told me caustically that you could bring your girlfriend into the main dining room for dinner, but you couldn't invite a female vice-chancellor there for hunch.

Today the Garrick club takes over the Royalty theatre, not too far from its Covent Garden chibhouse, to hold a vote on women's membership. Next Monday the United Oxford & Cambridge University dub, in Pall Mall, holds a special meeting for the same reason. Even the Athenaeum may vote again. Last time, over half voted for women, but a rule change requires two thirds.

12.0

· 127 25

11.44氢

7.5

 $(x_1,\dots,x_n)^{1/2} \in$

, ., . e.= %

小沙 遵

-. 47-1

On the face of it, the Athenaeum already puts Woman on a pedestal: a gilt neo-classical Pallas Athene, goddess of learning, proud above the portico. But the first live female you meet there is a tiny, courteous porter dressed in green. Women have long been admitted to "gentlemen's clubs" as helots, to wait at table or wash up.

A Garrick man confides to me that the Reform has been ruined by women members: men are inhibited by letting women in. It then emerges he hasn't been to the Reform for seven years.

itting with Joanna Foster columns, what strikes me, 11 years after women first joined, is its continued maleness. and elderliness. About a tenth of its 2,200 members are women; among new members, one in five: the chairman is now a woman. Mrs Foster is on the new women's issues group, set up by Gillian Shephard. the employment secretary and de facto minister for women, which has its first meeting as the Garrick votes. Over salmon and fruit salad, we talk about women's invasion of male domains. "it's all a question of power, in the bedroom or the boardroom." Mrs Foster says, "I went to the RAC club. They have a lovely swimming pool. They told me I could become a 'lady associate' if my husband was a club member. I came straight round here. In my job you have to try to help change forward, especially in the corridors of power. One woman member tells me she is convinced that, but for joining the Reform, she would directorships. At the Garrick, the busiest horse trading is in journalis-tic jobs. The Independent has always conducted its business here. Today's opponents of change say it is a private chub (which legally it is). Yet, curiously, of all the West End clubs, it is the most osteniatious; the least secretive towards the outside world. On television - perhaps on Question Time, or Newsnight you often see the club's unmistak able tie: salmon-pink, striped with bilious cucumber. Acrors are the core of the Garrick's thousand members. They get speeded through the otherwise seven-year waiting list. The tie is part of that theatricality. It is as if Freemasons wore their strange regalia as they went about their business as building contractors or bank managers.

The women's invasion is every where gathering strength. During the 1980s, Mrs Shephard's depart ment happily notes, women solici-tors have tripled. About a quarter of GPs are women (ten years ago, one in seven). But one of the most frustrating things for women is the way power recedes, like a melting ice cream, as they try to grasp it. Baroness (Jean) Denton, former rally driver, and co-founder of the networking group for women, Forum UK, is now a junior minister at the Department of Trade and Industry. She says: "If you look at the books of an institution begin-ning to allow women in, you'll find words the women are often seen as if they aren't, power tends to seep away to somewhere safe-'If women ly masculine. Thus it is with the members police, who see women as one way to polish a tarnished image. Frances Heidenschange. I ohn, a sociologist at Goldsmiths' College, London University, has studied women police. They are now about a quarter of all recruits. But to get promotion is a debilitating battle. "For women police," Mrs Heidensohn says, al. They have to win it all over again at each level they reach." Mrs Foster's commission is, not surprisclubs faded. Women were a source of good new recruits. If other clubs never have been offered her present

Who can be surprised if the Garrick finds itself on the agenda of come in, it will don't know in what way, but why should I risk it?"

acceptance is only ever provisioningly, backing Assistant Chief Constable Alison Halford's discrimination case. When the Reform admitted women (Baroness Denton among them), it was not pure publicspiritedness. In the 1960s and 1970s, the popularity of West End haven't yet copied the Reform, it is partly because the conservative-minded 1980s (unlike the recession-battered 1990s?) were good news for clubs. Earlier this year, the Oxford & Cambridge trawled problems. It is a weaker institution members' opinions. The under-either before women get in, or it thirties—graduates of the Thatcher becomes one afterwards." In other years — were keenest on keeping women out. The keenest to let them part of a rescue package; and even in were men in their forties: the ex-revolting students of 1968. The Oxford & Cambridge now muses aloud about what happens when older, alimale members die off. The club may yet need the women who today make up 40 per cent of the club's recruiting ground. Oxford and Cambridge degree-holders. "In practice," one reformist member told the club's survey. "all graduates who wish to join can become members. That is, unless they are known to be cheats.

criminals or women." At the Garrick, one of the prime advocates of change is Mr David Whitaker, the 61-year-old chair-man of the family firm behind the famous almanack. He seems to see it as simply the right way to take the club forward into the 21st century. Away, perhaps, from the Wildean picture conveyed by Melvyn Bragg's new novel. Crystal Rooms: Sir Nicholas de Loit goes off 10 a rent-boy party in a West End hotel, possessed of a sudden "urgent. shameful lust" after champagne at the Garrick. (Bragg is a member.) Yet the rule that power withdraws as women advance is not easily upturned. The clubs' sway is not what it was. There are exceptions, of which the Garrick may be one and the Athenaeum another. Elsewhere, things have eroded since Sanner and Buchan created dubland heroes like Bulldog Drummond and Richard Hannay. M16 used to recruit by word of mouth around the bar at White's club, in St James's. Now M16 has a woman head, Stella Rimington (currently up for membership of the Reform). What does this tell you about White's? And about M16?

nthony Giddens, professor of sociology at Cambridge, adds a cavear: "Of Course, power cannot retreat indefinitely. There comes a point where there's no escape. Reality catches up. That lack of escape may be one cause behind the rise in men's violence against women. It's the one thing left." Professor Giddens's new book, The Transformation of Intimacy (Polity Press, £19.50), reflects on the way men herd together. He quotes a survey where two thirds of the men could not name one close friend. But they are devoted to the less demanding bonds offered by clubs and similar societies," he says.
"They have buddy-ships. It's a way of going through life together." It is also one way men continue to exercise power. When I speak to Barry Turner, a member of the Garrick club committee, he is sitting at the desk he place run by accountants . . . ". But uses in a corner of the office of the firm his wife runs. But he is voting today against the admission of women fon specifically conservative grounds". "I love that place. It's been a huge source of fun and stimulation. If women members come in, it will change. I don't know in what way, but why should

f risk it?" Undoubtedly, most women take a more utilitarian view of clubs than men. For a woman host, it is pleasant to go where the waiter won't hand the wine list to your male guest. Women bridle at the gentlemanly rule that you must not make business too evident by spreading papers on the lunch table. But even if more clubs do admit women, there will be no sudden rush. Few have reached the son of posts clubs recruit from. And they earn less. The Garrick costs you £1,000 in the first year; then £000 a year. The Reform and the Oxford & Cambridge are a bit cheaper. "Remember that, for every ten men who apply for a job, there will be one woman." says Susan McRae, senior fellow at the independent Policy Studies Institute. She examined how women fail to reach the top in business. "Advertise a job at £35,000 a year and men apply. Advertise it at £25,000

Dr McRae also observes the ebbing of power as women advance. "I see some hints that the civil service, for example, may become feminised, with men leaving to go into the private sector." But we cannot explore this intrigu-

Gentlemen only: clubs such as the City of London do not have women members, but how much longer will they be able to survive as temples to discreet male power?

ing idea further because she suddenly tells me: "I have to get off the phone. You're depriving my husband of his cup of coffee. Some way to go, then, Garrick or no Garrick. "Speed isn't something you can indulge in, in changing institutions. Baroness Denion says. "It's always two steps forward, one step back. You say something's a watershed, then it turns out it isn't." Like the prime ministership of Lady Thatcher (sole female member of the Tury Carlton club, She did so little for women." Mrs. Foster says, as we take coffee in the Reform, surrounded by years of bound issues of Hansanl. The deeper bastions of masculinity will remain, however the Garrick votes. White's is the club down whose steps Aneurin Bevan, the Minister of Health (and founder of the NHS) in the Anlee postwar government, was kicked by a country and women apply. Their expecta-tions are too low." Fear of rejection could limit club applications.

You're a tough act to follow, Tina Brown stormed New York society as editor of Vanity Fair, is to burrow even deeper into the heart of intellectual America as editor of the New Yorker. Good luck to her. My main identification with the story. I have to say, is with the chap called Graydon Carter who steps into her shoes. "Tina", he said with graceful gallantry, "has small feet which leave large tracks. They will be difficult to fill." Say what you like about New York editors, they're quick on the draw with an epigram. You don't get that kind of stuff when one Bob Reid takes over from another at British Rail. But I feel for Mr Carter because I too, reader, have trodden those tracks. I followed Tina Brown at the last magazine she revived, the Tatler, and I can tell him what to expect Ms Brown herself is no problem: she gives a brisk and generous handover before vanishing from sight, invariably upwards. But once she is gone, you are the terrified, mousy heroine of Daphne du Maurier's Rebecca, with the part of the loyal yet sinister housekeeper Mrs Danvers played by a massed chorus of staff. For nearly all her subordinates adored her. Several, indeed, found the floor. She was"—yes, a knew—"brilliant."

ast week's gasp-hot media life so arid in the succeeding years news was that Tina Brown, that they emigrated to New York just to work for her again. But they displayed what I have since seen in other people who have worked for clever, charming, ambitious and emotionally tough bosses: a kind of quavering, half-worshipping halfresentful intensity. There was a palpable need to let the incomer know that things could never be the same again.

Not half-an-hour of office routine would pass without someone looking sorrowfully at me and murmur-ing, in a refined sort of Tatler voice: Tina would have told him to piss off", "Tina would have torn is up" or "Tina wouldn't have read more than three lines before she threw that back". This would be followed by an exhalation of breath and the hissed words: "She was brilliant!". One young man in particular (very young, in fact, emotionally a rather nasty eleven-and-a-half by my reckoning) nourished a deep distaste for all women except the departed goddess. "Tina", he would say, his voice breaking, "was a very, very warm and motherly person". Then, apropos something else: You shouldn't waste time talking to photographers about frightful pictures. Tina would just have thrown

WORKING LIFE

Libby Purves on the trials of taking over from a legend

Well, I am sure Mr Carter will be able to cope. But the whole problem of coming in from outside to take over from a powerful personality in any business is a fascinating one. I bet it has broken plenty of strong men. It is all right if the departed giant has been a disaster, because you can eclipse him merely by balancing the books and all that they can say, grudgingly, is "Well, I suppose if you have to have the

if everything has run smoothly as well as sparkling with the charisma of born leadership, the newcomer has a stark choice. There is absolutely no future in imitation, so he or she must either say in a robust manner "To hell with Tina. it's my go now"; or else sack half the staff and bring in a gang of old mates. The latter system, much favoured by some incomers, is always an implicit admission of weakness. You know that down in the pub, the old guards are saying "Tina would never have — ". and there can't be much comfort in huddling up with your few purchased friends mean-

Perhaps he should change the tables and chairs. Furniture can stamp a personality upon an office. To play the part of the delicate escritoire in Rebecca. Tina Brown left me an extraordinary round table in the editorial office, next to her own desk. This table, used by visitors to spread out papers and layouts, had an icy marbled top which ensured that anyhody who used it for long would develop freezing cold elbows and forearms. i ascribe no actual calculation to my predecessor, but it must be said that it is impossible to drive a hard bargain or argue your corner coherently when you have very cold arms. Perhaps I should have demanded its removal straight away. and replaced it with something that more accurately represented my own management style. An ancient sofa, perhaps, draped in dated antimacassars with the stuffing falling out of it.

Still, if he wants even colder comfort, Mr Carter can reflect on Plomley's Law. This is the phenomenon whereby the person who replaces a revered institution only lasts a short while, absorbing the edium of comparison before giving way to a long-term replacement. Witness Roy Piomley being succeeded by Michael Parkinson on Desert Island Discs: Parkinson drew the flak, clearing the aimosphere for Sue Lawley. Or the fact that in the recent brouhaha over The Sunday Times, people keep saving that Andrew Neil replaced the legendary Harold Evans (Ms Brown's husbands forgetting the existence of Frank Giles. But never mind. To be a buffer, a rwilight zone between departing clouds of glory and the light of common day. is an honourable function.

But I would say that, wouldn't I? The marble table and I only lasted six months, and my successor, the late Mark Boter, was a great hit. I like to think I scuffed the footprims The cost is £1,499 with the 747 return.

Dine on the Orient-Express Pullman on Bank Holiday Monday, 31 August for just £99.

ROYAL BALLET: Ballet returns to Covent Garden when the Royal returned its residency tonight, just back from a successful trip to Japan. The season opens with Ashten's comic delight, La Filte mail gardée, featuring the company's finest Lise, Leady Collier, in the lead Tomorrow brings a triple bill offening Les Sylphides, Ashten's lysteal A Month in the Country and MacMillar's ragiume romp Elite Sylphidens.

Syncopations, Royal Opera House, Covent Garden, London WC3 (071-240 1066), tonight, tomorrow, 7.30pm

GRAND HOTEL: The Broadway hi GRAND HOTEL: The Broadway hit musical, based on the novel by Victi Baum and set in Twenties Berlin, transfers to the London stage. The cast includer Lillane Montevetchi as the lonely ballerina Gryshinskay, the role she created in the original Broadway show. Opening night.

Deminion, Tottenham Court Road, London WC2 (071-580 9562), 7pm.

UNA POOKA: Echilarating black comedy with supernatural overcomes by Michael Harding, set in Dublin on the twe of the Pope's visit. Opening night. Tricycle, 269 Kilbum High Road, London NW6 (071-328 1000), 7pm. MY FAIR LADY: The Lerner and Lock

MY FAIR LADY: The Lener and Lozwe musical gets an invigorating new look from stage designer David Fielding (echoing his work with English National Opera) and couturier Jasper Conran. Edward Fox is cast in the "Rex Harrison" role of Professor Higgins, and Helen Hobson is Eliza Doolittle. The production will reach London in the autumn.

E ANGELS IN AMERICA: Thrilling m Arrises in Tony Kushner's performances in Tony Kushner's fascinating state-of-the-Urson drama on Ads, religion, politics, everything. National (Cottasloe), South Bank, SEI 1071-928 2252). Tonight-Wed, 7 15pm, mat Wed, 1,30pm, 210mins.

AS YOU LIKE IT: Catheryn Harrison and Oliver Parker find true love in the forest, Maria Artken's First Park production.
Open Air, Regent's Park, NW1 (071-486 2431), Tonight-Wed, 8pm, max Wed, 2.30pm. 180mins.

UNEATH AND THE MAIDEM: ANS Dorfman's scorching psychological drama on the longing for revenge; Geraldine James, Michael Byrne and

Paul Freeman. Duke of York's, St Martin's Lane, WC2 (071-836 5122), Mon-Sat, Born, mats Thurs, 3pm, Sat, 4pm, 120mins.

☐ DEJAVU: Jimmy Portar 36 years on. Osborne's hero rants and whinges but in a vacuum, and Peter Egan seems too good-natured to be the Angry Old Man. Camedy, Parton Street, SWI (071-867 1045). Mon-Sat, 7.45pm, mats Thurst 3mg, Set 4cm, 170mg/sp. Thurs, 3pm, Sat. 4pm, 170mirs.

A JUDGEMENT IN STONE STALL Hancock leads a powerful cast in interse musical thriller based on a Ruth Rendell novel: an differate servent lolls a very nice, middle-dass family, nice, middle-dass family, Lyric Hammersmith, King Street, W6 (081-741 2311). Mon-Sat, 7.43pm, ma Sat, 4pm. 135mins, Final week.

THE NIGHT OF THE IGLIANA: Affred Molina and a superb Eleen Adults in Tennessee Williams's play on the effects of sexual repression. National (Lystekton), South Bank, SE1 (071-928 2252), Tonight, comorrow, 7.30pm, mat tomorrow, 2.15pm.

NEW RELEASES

THE BEST INTENTIONS (12): Ingmar Bergman's fascinating tale of his parents' turbulent courts/sp and marriage. Duti direction by Bille August: excellent performances (Pemilia August, Samuel Fröler). Gate (071-727 4043) Lumière (071-335 0491).

THE BUTCHER'S WIFE (12); Arch whirnsy about a New York butcher's deinvoyant wife (Dem Moore), partly selvaged by bright lines and a genial cast. Jeff Daniels, Mary Steenburgen. MGW Toroughum Court Road (071-636 6148) MGM Trocadero (071-434

CASABLANCA (U): The 50th anniversary release of the cult favourite, brilliantly written, awash with exotic atmosphere. Bogart. Ingrid Bergman, Peul Henreld, Claude Rains; director, Michael Curtiz. Empire (071-497 9999).

THE IMNER CIRCLE (15): Muddled adventures of Stalin's film projections. an innocent among demons. Directed by Russian Andrer Konchalovsky; Tom Hulce, Lotta Davidovich. Odeon Haymariest (0426 915353).

THE RAPTURE (18): Dicafforted THE RAPTUME (I AF DISTRICTION WORTHING MAINT ROSES, EXCELEND becomes Born Again. Provocative exploration of spiritual melaise, written and directed by Michael Tollan.

Blank Follows Rosed (071–970 2636)
MGM Parton Street (071–970 0631)
Blank Tottenham Court Rosed (071–676 6536)

SEPPWALKES TRU: Ahmird, bungled horror move written by Stephen King, Brian Krause as a repottan in hunk's dothing; Madchen. Amick as the imperfiled girl, Director,

Adv. Committee of the property of the committee of the co

Arrick as the imparised girl, prector, McK Garris. MGM Oxford Street (071-636 0310) Odeons: Kensington (0426 914666) Harbin And, (0426 915574) Harbin And, (0426 915574) UCI Whiteleys (071-792 3332).

CURRENT

 BASIC INSTINCT (110) San Francisco detective Michael Douglas and re-pick murder suspect Sharon Stone ride a sondid psycho-sexual rollercoaster. Director, Paul Verhoeveri MGM Baker Street (071-935 9772) MGM Chelsea (071-352 5096) MGM Panton Street (071-930 0631) MGM Shaftpahara Aurora (071-930 0631)

TUDAY'S EVENTS

A daily guide to arts and entertainment compiled by Karl Knight

Alhembra Theatre, Morley Street, Bradford (0274 752000), Tonight-Sat, 7.30pm, mars Wed, 2pm and Sat, 2.30pm.

THUNDERBIRDS P.A.E.: Scott Tracy, Captain Scarlet, Lady Penetope and the Mytterons in the play inspired by Gerry Anderson's cult television series of the Suties. This production, which celebrates the 25th anniversary of that original series, is touring the country, Next stop: Theatre Royal, Nottingham, Pavillen Theatre, Westover Road, Bournemouth (0202 297297), Tonight-Fri. Sum, Sat, S.A.Spm and B.A.Spm.

ANNE-MARIE OWENS: The rising Arma-RAMA OWENS: The rising mezco-sognate has surged towers Garden and at English National Opera. She ghas har first solo ractal at St. John's singing songs by Schumann, Wagner, Debussy, Gundi and Montsahatge, accompanied by planist Malcolm Martineau.

St. John's, Smith Square, London SW1 (071-222 1061), 7.30pm.

LONDON SINFONIETTA: The Sinforvietta together with GCSE pupils and musicians Arona N'Diaye, Valenat Khan, Yoshikazu lwamoto and Alec Roth present an evening of music from

THEATRE GUIDE

Jeremy Kingston's assessment of theatre showing in London

House full, returns only
Some seats available
Seats at all prices

☐ POND LIFE: Touching performances by a young cast in Richard Cameron's quiet drama of beenagers angling for carp and love. Bush, Shepherds Bush Green, W12 (1811-743 3388). Mon-Sat, 8pm. 105mins. Final week.

SIX DEGREES OF SEPARATION

Stockard Channing recreates her role as the rich New Yorker transfigured by a black con artist in John Guare's fine play on human inter-dependence. Royal Court, Sloane Square, SW1 (071-730 1745). Mon-Sat, Spm, mats Thurs, 3pm, Sat, 4pm. 90mins.

DA SUP OF THE TONGUE A welf of John Malkowich in a lightweight drama that seems to equate East-European disordence with getting girls into bed. Sharfassbury, Sharbasbury Avenue, WC2 (071-379 5399). Mon-Thurs, 8pm, Fn, 6pm and 9pm, Sat, 4 30pm and 8.30pm, 150mins.

Christopher Cazenove. Sadler's Wells, Rosebery Avenue, BC1 (071-278 8916). Tues-Sat. 7.30pm, mans Tues, Thurs, Sat, 2.30pm.

I STRAIGHT AND NARROW.

THE SOUND OF MUSIC MUTL

Carmel McSharry In (iterable correctly about a doting mother's worries, notably her gay son.

Aldwych, Aldwych WC2 (071–836) 6404). Mon-Sat, Spm, mets Wed, 3pm, Sat, 5pm. 130mins. Booking to four different cultures. It begins with a display of Senegalgie drumming by master drummar N'Dlaye Barbican, Sik Street, London ECZ (071-638 8891), 6.30pm.

SRUCE SPRINGSTEEN: The American hero has had a mixed critical response to his latest albuma and no longer has the backing of his E-Street Band. Still, he's not cased the Bost for nothing and is one of the low artists who can reach out and move people in a stadium-stand versus.

venue. Wembley Arene, Wembley, Middlesex (081-900 1234). Taright, Thurs, Fri, 7.45pm.

ALFRED SISLEY: Curlously, there has

ALFRED SISLEY: Curboury, there has never been an important retrospective of the impressionist's work before. This move encourages a reasonament of less landscape are, and particuariy of his work of the 1890s when, the organisers contend, he arrived at a version of the series partting cadeaby different from Monet's.

Royal Acadeany of Arts, Piccadilly, London W1 (071-439 7438). Daily, 10am-6pm, until October 18.

Altriant 74 MISS: The Servention

ANTONI TAPIES: The Sorpentine

Antong TAMES: The Sorpentine Callery has staged a powerful exhibition which confirms Taples's reputation as Spain's most distinguished living palmer. The show is confired to the work of the Riffles and Sodies, when Taples was a leader of the European avant-garde and reveals just how uncompromising an artist he was. Serpentine Gallery, Kensington Gardens, London W2 (071-402 6075), Daily, 10am-6pm, until August 9.

A WOMAN OF NO IMPORTANCE Philip Prowse's styles rSC production, in London after a triumphant tour. Callous aristocrat, wronged woman melodrama laced with Wilde's wit. Theatre Royal, Haymarket, SW1 (071-930 8800), Mon-Sat, 7.30pm, mats Wed, Sat, 2.30pm, 165mins, Booking

TO August 1.

LOMG NUMBERS:

Slood Browners: Phoenix (071-867 1044)...

Radely: Victoria Ralace (071-824 1317)...

Carmen Jones: Old Vic (071-928 7616)...

Cats: New London (071-805 0072)...

Dancing at Lughmans:

Garnck (071-494 5085)...

Don't Drass for Dinner: Apollo (071-894 5075)...

An Evening With Gary Lineier: Duchess (071-894 5075)...

Jeros (071-494 5045)...

Locash and Evening Technicolor Drasmont: Paladum (071-494 5047)...

Me and My Girk Adelphi (071-836 7611)...

Les Missrables: Palace (071-434 0909)...

Miss Salgon: Theare Royal, Drury Lane (071-494 500)...

The Mousetrape St. Martin's (071-826 1448)...

The Pharitom of the Operat: Har Majesty's (071-494 500)...

The Mousetrape St. Martin's (071-826 1448)...

The Pharitom of the Operat: Har Majesty's (071-494 500)...

Starlight: Express: Apollo Victoria (071-828 8665).

The Woman in Black: Fortune (071-826 1486)...

Ticket information supplied by Society of West End Theatre

CINEMA GUIDE

Gootf Brown's James and of films in London and (where indicated with the symbol ◆) on release across the country

6279/379 7025) MGM Trocadero (071-434 0031) Odeons: Kensingt (0426 91466) Mezzanine (0456 915683) Plazz (071-497 9995) UC Whiteleys (071-792 3332)

BurloPA, BurloPA (15): Sevesh boy seves his life by posing as an Aryan German Decent if superficial rendition of a stue warbine story from writer-director Agniesia Holland. Odeon Kensington (0426 914666) Metro (071-437 0757) Screen on Baker Street (071-935 2772). THE FIVE HEARTSEATS (15): Bland the rive reparts on a class sensor but good-natured tale of a black rock 'n' roll group's American journey. Robert Townsend writes, directs, and stars with Michael Whight, Tico Wells, Prince Charles (071–437 8181).

THE HAND THAT NOCKS THE CRADLE (15): Psychobc naminy (Rebecce De Morray) wresits revenge on a squeaky-clean (amily. Formula thriller with robust acting. Annabella Sciorra; director, Curbs Harson.
MISIM Fullham Road (071-370 2835)
MISIM Trocadero (071-330 0031)
Odeon Miszzamine (0426 915683).

· HEAR MY SONG (15) Promoter seeks reclusive lish tenor Josef Locke, wanted in Britain for tax evesion. Shaggy dog tale with modes pleasures. Starring Ned Bearty, Adrian Dunbar; director, Peter Chebom. MISM Oxford Street (071-536 0310).

HOWARDS END (PG): Absorbing version of E.M. Forster's novel about two colliding families with different ideals. With Anthony Hopkins, Emma Thompson, Helena Bonham-Carier. Director, James Nory. Curzon Mayfair (071-465 8865) Curzon Phoenix (071-240 9667).

JOHNNY SUFDE: Likeable urban Arminia social acone innocent (Grad Pito) in bedsidand, discovering love while dreaming hopelessly of success as a pop star. Tom DiCillo directs. Camden Plazza (071-485 2443) Chelsea (071-351 3742/3743). ◆ THE LAWNING WER MAN (15): Pierce Brosnan's computers turn a simpleton (Jeff Pahey) into a cyber-monster. New technology jamboree hild low by a muddled script. From a Stephen King story; director, Brett Leonard. Camden Parkway (071-267-7034)

MGM Charact (071-33: 5090) MGM Oxford Street (071-636 0310) Odeons: Konsington (0426 914666)

THE LONG DAY CLOSES (12): Terence

Barbican (071-638 8891) Curson West End (071-439 4805) Screen on Baker Street (071-935 2772).

Nation Street (071-935 2/72).

♦ THE LOVER (18), lean-lacouss Annaud's over-careful, faithfully enope adaptation of Marguerne Duras's autobographical novella about an adolescent grif's discovery of sox and love in Twentes colonial indo-China. NEAM Fulhum Road (071-370 2636) MGM Haymarket (071-839 1527) MGM Sharfassbury Avertice (071-836 5279/379 7035) MGM Tractamore (071-134 0031) Screen on the Green (071-126 3520) UCI Whiteleys (071-792 3832)

◆ THE PLAYBOYS (12): Love and pealousy in an insh village in 1957. Strong performances (Albert Froney, Robin Wright, Aldan Quinn), but too much blarney, Director, Gilles MacKington MacKinnon.

Barbican (071-638 8891) Caradian
Parkway (071-267 7034) MGM
Cheisen (071-352 5096) MGM
Hayrarket (071-339 1527) Notting
Hill Coronet (071-727 6705) Odeons:
Kerstington (0426 914666)
Mezzanine (0426 915683)

♦ THE PLAYER (15): Dazzling satire on Hollywood, directed by Robert Altman from Michael Tolkin's novel. Tim Robbins as the studio executive who lolls a writer, plus carneos and walk-ons galore. MGM Chelses (071-352 5096)

Odeors: Kensington (0426 514666)
Leicester Square (0426 9 15683)
Screen on the Hill (071-435 3366) UCI
Whiteleys (071-792 3332). VAN GOGH (12): Maurice Pialat masterly, no-nonsense porprait of the painter's last months. Fine performance from singer-turned-actor lactures that many singer-turned-actor lactures that many singer-turned sactors.

Jacques Dutronc. Minema (071-285 4225) Renoir (071hear them live. horses available, even for ready money) and the multinational travellers.

ultra-sophisticated.

in the opera house for nearly four hours. The piece simply can't take it. Viaggio was written for an all-star cast to celebrate the coronation of Charles X of France in 1825. Rossini withdrew it after only four performances (he couldn't keep the stars together) and cannibalised some of the best music for Le Comte Ory three years later. It remained unpublished.

and the score was only gathered together for reconstruction in the late Quite apart from its extraordinary musical richness, Viaggio is a master-piece of urbane wit. The basic joke is that the journey to the coronation in Rheims never takes place (there are no Il Viaggio a Reims Covent Garden

Montserrat Caballé: covers her diminished resources with professional skill, but overcompensates by indulging in some shameless upstaging

Comedy of far too many errors stranded in their spa hotel, improvise a party instead. There is some light amorous intrigue, and gentle mockery of both national stereotypes and the poetic pretensions of Mme de Staël's Corinna. The mood is light, airy and

Alas, the same cannot be said of the Covent Garden staging. It is not the adaptation one objects to - a hymn to Rossini is substituted for the one to Charles X in the finale, and there is much requeish reference to the EC presidency - so much as the brash vulgarity of the undertaking as a whole. Mark Thompson's decor is in his RSC Comedy of Errors mode: Magrittey surrealism in shricking poster colours, with facetious costumes. Epicene bell-hops in canary yellow caper around, and a chorus of flower girls recently graduated from St Trinians mince and mug — it all looks like the Jonathan Miller Mikado, but the advent of surrides would put an end to the need for sight-gags in foreign-language comedy, but here we have both in abundance. Even the second movement of the sublime sextet is upstaged by crass business with undertakers, and Don Profondo's catalogue aria is submerged first by an ocean of props, then by high-kicking Tiller boys. The whole is no nearer Rossini than Hi-De-> work both here and at Glyndebourne, attached to this humiliating farrago. Matters are a little happier musically. Carlo Rizzi secures some sensitive playing in the more serious music, but - as in his ROH Cenerentola - show him a stretta or a cabaletta and he's off like a Maserati at Monza.

Hi. Enough: we all make mistakes, but it is sad to see the name of John Cox, responsible for so much distinguished in glaring Techni-

One hoped that color.

Some of the singers do justice to music composed for the stars of 1825, notably Alastair Miles as the English

Milord (beautiful tone, clear divisions), Della Jones as the Polish marchesa (precise, fruity, with an agreeable touch of vinegar) and John Aler as the French coursur (reedy but accurate). Others remind one how hideously demanding the writing is. Sylvia McNair's Corinna fields exquisitely limpid tone, but the slightest sourness of pitch shows all too clearly with such spare accompaniments; Renée Fleming's equally limpid Comtesse is similarly exposed. Elsewhere there is some underessing. (Memo: did anyone ever consider engaging some Italians?)

Montserrat Caballé (the Landlady) covers her diminished resources with professional skill, but then overcompensates by detaching herself from the performance and indulging in some shameless upstaging, carrying on inaudible conversations with the conductor, the prompter and the audience - a great artist reduced to a music-hall turn. The same, on Saturday, could be said of a great opera.

RODNEY MILNES

LONDON CONCERTS

Sweet and sour strings

THE trouble starts even before the curtain rises. Rossini's Journey to Rheims is a dramma giocoso in one act, a virtually plotless pièce d'occasion with something over two hours music.

But someone at the Royal Opera knows better: it is presented in three acts with two befty intervals arbitrarily inserted - one may be arguable, two are inadmissible - and we are trapped

> Freiburger Barockorchester

St James's, Piccadilly

IN THE eight years of its existence, the Lufthansa Festival of Baroque Music. under Tess Knighton's inspired artistic directorship, has established itself as one of the high points of the musical calender. This year's festival has been full of good things, but one of the most keenly awaited appearances was reserved for the last evening: the Freiburger Barockorchester, making its UK debut. This is an ensemble of young musi-cians, all graduates of the Freiburg Musikhochschule. They have already worked with leading British artists, and their recordings have preceded them here, but this programme of music from the High Baroque provided the first opportunity for most of us to

Standing in a semi-circle and led, on this occasion, from the first desk by Gotfried von der Goltz, the ensemble makes a striking impression with the unanimity and forcefulness of its attack, and its strongly powered rhythms. The fast movements of Telemann's Darmstadt Overture in G minor and of J.S. Bach's Concerto for 3 violins in D major, BWV 1064, were delivered with immense brio, sheer speed never being mistaken for the real vitality that comes from lively phrasing and articulation.

As noteworthy as the technical assurance is the excellent rapport between the players: rhythms are relaxed and dynamics terraced by instinct. In the Hadequinade finale of the Telemann, light and heavier touches were alternated for contrast, generating a spirit of fun that was as irresistible as the virtuosity.

The ensemble produces a rawer, more vinegary sound than most British period bands. Possibly by a trick of the acoustics, this quality was exaggerated in St James's to the extent that one was often more aware of the attack on the string than of the note itself. In the Adagio of the Bach, however, sweetness of phrasing more than compen-sated for the acidity of tone.

BARRY MILLINGTON

Quick route to success

LSO/Davis Barbican Hall

FOR ALL his undoubted virtuosity, Yuri Bashmet is not what Harold in Italy is about, and he is artist enough to know that too. Technically there is nothing in this Berlioz symphony that a major orchestra's principal viola could not deliver (and I sometimes wish such players might more often be featured). But Bashmet does add a little extra.

Perhaps it is an element of introspection, which both complemented and contrasted with Sir Colin Davis. His conducting favoured an urgent ap-proach to the work's scene-painting, as if keen to reach the picturesque "Brigands' Orgy" of the finale. Even the chant-like "Pilgrims' March" was allowed no dallying, although its changes of musical perspective were sensitively judged.

Through the Byronic musical landscape the solo viola wove its course like the isolated solitary figure often placed in romantic genre paintings, sometimes taking a passing prominence.

The serenade theme was played with a wonderfully deep tone and passionate yearning, and the hollow-sounding arpeggios of the preceding movement's "canto religioso" were not taken as close to the bridge of the viola as they are by some players. Davis handled the combination of different rhythms in the serenade scene with an understanding born of long affection for the work, and without making too frenzied an orgy of the finale he generated a vivid response from the orchestra. Only the placing of the three detached string players so close to the main body seemed miscalculated.

Instead of an overture, Davis brought the orchestra's wind-instrument principals into the spotlight alone, for a crisp yet flowing account of Stravinsky's Octet. This was followed by Beethoven's Eighth Symphony, moderately volatile if lacking the last inch. of though the location of the locati inch of thrust, the lower strings contributing a splendid richness of sonority, and the conductor letting the work's momentum carry it without unnecessary urging.

NOEL GOODWIN

ENTERTAINMENTS

ART GALLERIES DUNCAN R MILLS FINE ARTS 17 Flask Walk NW3 071 436 5462 AMI HEDPATH - MAJOR WORKS to July 25 Man Sat 10-6 Sun 1-5. LEFEVRE GALLERY 30 Bruton St. W1 071 A93 2107. RECENT WORKS BY SETSUKO. 18 June 10 July. Man Fri 10-8.

Spink, King Street, St James's SW1. Pettery by William Plamptre, 1st-24th July Mon Frt. 9.30-5.30

CINEMAS

CURZON MAYFAIR Curzon St Telephone Bookings CC 867 1511 inc blog fee Mon - Sat 9om 9pm) Exclusive presenta-tion in 70mm, Anthony Hop-Airs. Vanessa Redgrave in HOWARDS END (PC) "....a genuino triumph" D Tel Progo at 2 00. 5 30 & 8.30 off Charing Cross Rd Tele Bkgs 071 867 1044/CC 867 1111 no bkg fees Mon Sat 9am 9pm Anthony Hopkins, in HOWARDS END (PG) Film at

- X

CONCERTS 5-72 JULY 1992 TDAY; 1.05pm St Bartholomew Ibo-Creat. Gothic Voices 7 20pm Guidhail Old Library, Acad emy of 5t Martin in the Fields/Kenneth Sillio/Robert Flokis/Nemeth Stillio/Robert Smisson TROW: 105pm St Glee* Crippiegale. Golbit Volces. 7.15pm St Paul's Catnedral. St Paul's Catnedral Chot/City of London Sinfonis/John 9cot/ Peter Coloman-Wight 7 30pm Drapers' Half, Dic Kommertmanker Burich 80x OFFICE 071 248 4280

OPERA & BALLET COLISTUM 071 836 3161/240 5258/Ticketmaster 071 379 4444 (so big forg) AUSTRALIAN BALLET OPENS TOMOR INTIL 18 JULY Tomor & Wed 7 30 COPPELIA Thur & Fin 7 30 Set 2.55 & 7 30 CREELLE (with CATALYST)

GLYNDESOURNE FESTIVAL
OFFIA
WITH THE LONGON PHILINETHORIC
Death in Venter Today. The Sat
5.20 Jerula Tom. Fri 8.50. The Queen of Spacies Wed 5.00 Sun
A D precisely. Possible returns only 80x office/recorded information 0273 541111 ROYAL OPERA HOUSE 071 2 1066/1911 Standby Into 85 6903, 8 CC 65 Amphi scals as on the day THE ROYAL BALLET Ton't 7 SO Les Sylphides /A Month in the Country /Elite Syncognitions, THEATRES ADELPHI 07: 836 7611 CC 07: 379 4444/793 1000 First Call 24hr cc 071 497 9977 (no bkg feel Groups 071 930 6123 NOW EDOKING TO 25TH NOV ME AND MY GIRL

THE LAMBETH WALK Ave W1 071 439 4605 THE LONG DAY CLOSES 122 1 (im by Terence Dovier "A British classist" Daily Mail
Propaga 1 56, 4.05, 6.20 & 8.36

AIR COMDITIONED THEATES

ALESRY 07: 867 1115/1111 CC 379 4444 (24hr/no Dkg 19e) 497 9977 (24hr/bkg 19e) PAULINE COLLINS SHADES
by Shamer Macdecald Directed by Shanning Calley
Philippears Higher 10 July
Mon-Set Spm Main Thu 3 Sat 4 ALPWYCH 071 836 6404 cc 379 4434 (no blog fee) 497 9977 MICHOLAN LYMPHURET CARNEL MICHARRY STRAIGHT & NARROW The new correcty
by JUMPIE CHINN
"Worsderful" LBC "Superio" Ind
"Upmarlously hunny" Dally 32ai
Directed by ALLAN DAVIS
Men Sar & Mata Wed & Sat &
All saats 272 & 72. The Seat Comedy at the Bost Prices AMBASSADORS 071 836 6111 /1171 CC 579 4444 ing bkg fees)

FROM A JACK TO A KING

"Great entertainment. with with style, rehand?" T Out A rock, 'a' roll rave from Bob Carling the recalor of Forbidden Planes?
Nonday & Thursday 8 15
Friday & Saturday 9.32 & 8 30
All Seats R9.50 Friday 5 30 only
PREVS JULY 18 DPERS JULY 28 APOLLO VICTORIA cc 630 6262 Grps 828 6188 cc 249 379 4444/497 9977 071 793 1000 Groups 930 6123 THE 2ND LONGEST FUNNING VILSGOAL IX BRITISH THE ATRE HISTURY

STARLIGHT EXPRESS ANDREW LLOYD WESSER Lyrks by RKHARD STILGOE Lyrics by RICMARD STILLOOF Directed by TREVOR NL NN Beats Avail For July Parts New Tickets from CS-00 - 127.00 QAP's LS on Tues Mats Eve 7.45 Mais Tue & Sat 3 00 NO PERE 01/1/10 JULY AIR CONDITIONED THEATRE ARTS. 07: 836 2132 cc 413
1456/497 9977/24hr No bkg feet
RESULED SHARESPEARE CO.
hr THE COMPLETE WOODS OF WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE
Abridged-All 37 plays in 2 hm
TRRESISTIBLE Ind on Sun

Mon - Fri 8 Sal 5.45 & 8.30

APOLLO or 071 as4 5070 or 379 4144 ino big feer/836 2428 libts feer Gry Sater 930 6125 Ever Spm. wird mail Spm.
450 opm 6 8 50
HOW in Fra Zinn YEAR
"A BAUCY COMEOUT E Sid DON'T DRESS FOR DINNER Gloriously Guergeres : BOOKING TO JAN 1993 CAMBRIDGE 071-579 5299 CC 071 579 4-348 (248tr/no big fee) 071 497 9977(248tr/beg fee) Groups 071 240 7941 Too in sind flock... The Tipes Belongs to a great English teather." Open Nov-11 "Awasome" Where On Your State of the Con-Vincent Control of the Con-trol of the Control of the Con-Vincent Control of the Control of the Con-Vincent Control of the Control of the Con-Vincent Control of the Control of the Control of the Con-Vincent Control of the Control of the Control of the Con-Vincent Control of the FORBIDDEN PLANET
MOST THUS FIT & SAI 5 & 8-30
AS 9235 C9 50 FIT 5000 0009
3rd YEAR IN ORBIT
AM CONDITIONED THEATHE OMEBY BO 071 867 1045 of 379 4442 IND 109 feet 497 9977/793 1000 JUMBEY BOITTUR LE BACKO

PETER EGAN
- A MARVELLOLS
PERFORMANCE " OR PENFORMANCE " OWN IN JOHN OSBORNE'S
SCORCHING NEW PLAVISAII
BELAVI
"ESSENTIAL" F Times.
Eves 7.45 Mails That 3 Set 4 DOSAMOON OF Holium 071 413
1411 (24 hrs. Information 071 50 8845 / 9562
Opens tonight at 7.00pm
Unit 061 31
Eign 8 07 Mat Thur & 54, 230
THE SMASH HIT 8 MASH HIT 8 MASH HIT 8 MASH HIT GRAND HOTEL

by Taminy Title
By Discounts Tol 071-636
0875/071-831 2771 for Cromp
Bookings. $10 lichels for Stu dents & OAP's Mon-Thurn peris mility LASE THEATES SOVAL CC SRig Sec: 24 or 7 (20): 071 494 5060/379 4444/240 7200/793 1000 Grps 831 8625/494 8464 1000 Crps 831 8825/493 8464

MISS SAIGON

MUNICALA COME AND GO THIS

GNE WILL STAY S TIMES

LOT 743 MAIS WED A SAI 30M

GOOD GEATS AVAIL TON WED

MAT & SOME PERFORMANCES.

MOVE SORTHER HORS

FOR TELEPHONE POSTAIL

GOOKINGS/PERSONAL CALLERS

071 494 5090 BMB FEE BUCHESS BO/CC (24hrs/no bbg feet 494 5075/579 4444 (veith bbg fee/497 977 Gras 430 6123 "EASILY THE FUNI-EST PLAY EN THE WEST END" D.Express AN EVENING WITH GARY LINEKER S. Aribur Smith & Chris England
BRILLIARTLY WITTY'S TimeMon-Thu & Fr. & Sat 6 & 8 45 ORTUNE BD & CC 071 836 2239 CC 497 9977/379 4444 24m7/big teet 793 1000 bing foot Sustan Hill's THE WOMAN IN BLACK

ACTION BY STEPPEN MARKETS
A BRILLIANTLY EFFECTIVE
SPINE CHILLEY CALAFORM
A REAL THRELL'S TIMES
The beneditions T Out
Non-Set Spin Mats The 3 Set 3
NOW BOOKING HIRTH, EXPT &
AIR CONDITIONED THEATING

J379 4444/427 9977/793 1000
BEST PLAY
ALL 4 MAJOR AWARDS 1991
TURNWSQABLET Independent
THE MOST CELEBRATED PLAY
IN THE WORLD
DANCING SI LUGHNASA
featuring ARICHAEL JAVSTON
IL BORCHAE LIFACE
Teligrams, hillertone a spell-binding 5 Talies "Towners award award nother play in sight" NY Traves
Nort Stal 8 Mighs Thur 3 Sail 4 MAYMARKET THEATHE HOYAL Box Off & cc 071-930 8800 ran big free cc 071-379 4344 ran big feet The Hoyal Stationpears Company in Open Wilde's

NO IMPORTANCE Directed by Philip Projects Eves 7-30 Main West & Sall 2-30 HEN MAJESTY'S 24th 494 8400 blig (er) CC 379 4444/497 9977 thin (er) Croup bales 930 6123 ANDREW LLOYD WESSER'S AWARD WINNING MUSICAL THE PHANTOM OF THE OPERA
Directed by HAROLD PRINCE
Eves 745 Mats Weet 1 St 3
Booking Point Direct to Best 33
Booking Point Direct 12 P FS 33
APPLY DAILY FOR ENTURIES

A WOMAN OF

JOSEPH & THE AMAZING TECHNICOLOR DREAMCOAT
SHATTING PHILLER SCHOPPELD OF BY STEVEN PHILLOTT
EL CT 37 Mais Wed & SA 2 X
MOW BOOKEN TO CACT 1882
QUEUE DAILY FOR RETURNS

LYRIC, Shafes Ave Bo & cc 071 494 6045 ec 379 4434 All bel lines 245r/7 days folig feet or 297 9977 Grps 071 930 6123 The Jeint Hever 800ps Jumpin FIVE GUYS
RAMED NOS
THE GUMEN AWARD
WYNNING HUBICAL
MON-THE B F1 4 S A 16 4 8 AS NOW BOOKING TO GOT 92
APPLY DALLY FOR RETURNS
MAD CANCELLATIONS LYRIC NAMMERIGNITH OS 1741
2311 rc no b / free of 1 835 3464
3581 rc no b / free of 1 835 3464
3581 rc no b / free of 1 835 3464
3681 Revoce in Raid Rendeff
A JUDGENSHIT IN STORE
Music Institute SEEDS TUPF TO FINAL PERFS Non.Thu.Fit 7.46
534 4 5 7 45 LYRIC STUDPS
London Academy of Performing Arts THS LOVE OF THE NIGHTHS
GALE Exes 8 0 5st mat 4 0

NATIONAL THEATRE 90 071 928 2252 Orga 071 620 0741; 24hr cc Lidg (et 071 427 9977 LOUVIER TON 1 & TOMOT 7 15 (PREVIEWS) A MIDSUMMER MIGHTE DIELAM by Shakespeare Ton't 7.30 Tomor 2.15 & 7.50
THE MIGHT OF THE IGNAMA
by Tempere Williams
COTTESLOR
Ton't A Tomor 7.15 ANGELS III
AMERICA BY TONY KUSHNOR PLATFORM PERF TOMOR DOES NOT BY FROMY TO THE AUDIENCE WITH NICES DE JONES
HOW LOCATION DE THE AUDIENCE WITH NICES DE JONES
HOW LOCATION DE THE AUDI-

BEW LONDON Drury Lone BO 671 405 0072 CC 071 404 4079 24hr 579 3444 Cryp 930 6125 The fram Pickeys Travel THE ANDREW LLOYD WEBBER 77 5 ELDT INTERNATIONAL AWARD WEBBER MUSICAL

1

OLD VNC U7: 928 7616 CC 071 379 4444 ino bkg fee 071 793 1000/071 497 9977 : bkg fee; 7410R68 UPEN ZAMAY days U$CAR HAMMERSTEIN IPe CARMEN JONES
Music by Bloot
Directed by Simon Callon
Winner OF 6 MAJOR AWARDS including BEST MUSICAL Offstar Awards 1962
& Standard Awards 1881
Act 7 45 Main Wed & Sat Sam
Am Conditioned Theatre OPEN ARR THEATRE Regents Park 9 071 486 2431 CC 071
486 1933/379 4444 Gkg feel
AS YOU LIKE IT TOGAY, Tuo
80 Wed 2.30 & 80 GALA RYENING 8,0 SUN 12 July to celebrate 60 years

PALACE THEATRE 071-434 090 cc 24hrs toke two 071-379 a444/497 9977/793 1000 Ordup Soles 071-930 6128 Croupe 071 494 1671 THE WORLD'S MOST POPULAS MUSICAL LES MISERABLES
7 30 Mass Thu & Sat 2: Even 7 30 Mars Thu & Sal 230 Latercomers not admitted until the interval
now 800kmes Thru Mars 83
LEMITED NO. OF SEATS AVAIL
DAILY FROM BOX OFFICE PHOGNEX BO & cc 867 1044 cc 867 1111/37 4444/793 1000 1001 497 9977 BEST MUSICAL OBSSE/HOR NOVEM Awards WILLY RUSSELL'S

BLOOD BROTHERS

Brand STEPHANT LANGUAGE

and CARL WAVER

"ASTONISMING" S Express

Brings the audience to its feet, and rolamy its approval 'D Mail

Eves 7.46 Main Thurs 3 Sat 4 PICCADRLLY BO 07: 867 1:18 cc 07: 379 4444/A97 9377 (AB 24ft no bing feet GTD: 930 6128/413 5321/240 7941. THE OPERAMURICAL WHICH WITCH
PREMIERS 22 OCTOBER
PARVIEWS FROM & OCTOBER

PRINCE OF WALES OF 1 839 5987 or First Call 24 hrs 7 days 836 3464 this lent 579 4444 (No lang Groups 930 6123 Gesting Bigger and Eigen GOOD ROCKIN' TONITE

TOYAL COURT 071 836 8122 1730 1745 or 836 2428 Stx DSU SEL 07 EP AATTO by John Guerre Eves 8. Thur Mai 3. Set Mai 4 Lindi 1 Aug Form 3. SE MAR & LTUI I PUM ET MARTIN'S 071-836 1:443.
SECHAL CC No. 379 4444, Evga
8 0 Tues 2 45. Sat 5.0 mm 8.0
40th Year of Agenta Christie's
THE MOUSETRAP

ROYAL SHAKESPEARE
COMPARY LONDON 1071 638
S91 CC Mon - Sun 9am-9mi)
BARBICAN THE ATRE
PROVIDENT TO THE TATRE
PROVIDENT TO THE STATE
PROVIDENT TO THE STATE
PROVIDENT TO THE STATE
STRATEGRAD-UPON AVON 10799
295623 CC MON - Sat 9am-8prin
ROYAL SHAKESPEARE
THEATRE
AS YOU LIKE IT TON'L Fri 7 30
SWAN THEATRE A JOYAL CREW TON'L Fri 7 7.30
THE OTHER PLACE:
TOTHOR. WIGHT 7 90 Sai 1 30
MOSLITICAN/SOLD BOCKING
CT39 414999.

CADLER'S WELLS 071 278 8916
CT 497 9977 Graups 930 6123.
THE SOUND OF SUCCESSTO TO RESOURCE LIKE HEAVEN, I WEST,
I LAUGHED, I LOVED IT D Mail
FILE ART TUSE & THUSS
JULY ORLY TUS - Sal 7.50
Mais Tue. Thu Sat 2.30

SMAFTERBURY 90 & OC 971 379 5399 CC (24hrs) 379 4444 480 bkg fee) 497 9977 ftks fee) JOHN MALKOVICH "Is worth the price of Malamanion store" Ms London "SUPERB" Observer A SLIP OF THE TONGUE COMPULSIVE VIEWING T.OUR
MON-FI 8 00 Sa 4 30 & 8 30
AIR COOLED THEATRE PLEASE
NOTE NEW PERF TIMES ON FRI

VAIDEVILLE OT 1 836 9987 CC. 579 4444 (24th he bits fee)/497 9977 (24hhe bits fee) GERALD WILLIAM HARPER GREG HICKS ANGELA DOWN MURDER MISADVENTURE
Mon Fri 8:00 Set 6:30 & 8:30
Wed Mats 2:30
Red, price press from 8 July Opens 15 July st 7:00

VICTORIA PALACE Box OF & CC 940 bigs fee) 071. 834. 1317 CC 040 fee)071.579 4444/240 7200 Crouss 071 930 6123 BUDDY THE THE THE MON-Thur E.GO Fri 5.30 & 8 30
Mon-Thur E.GO Fri 5.30 & 8 30
Set 5.00 & 6 50
ALL SEATS V: PRICE
FRIDAY 5.30 PERF
3NI SERVATIONAL YEAR
OVER 1000 PERFORMANCES
NOW EQUICION TO JAN 16 1953

WHITEMALL 07: 867 11:19 CC 867 11:1/379 4444 Uso feet 497 9977 Cupe 413 3321 A Musical Calobration of VIVIAN ELLIS SPREAD A LITTLE HAPPINESS Mon-Fri 8pm, Wed 3pm WYNDHAMS 80 071 867 1116-Ct 579 4444 (241/ no big 196) PHILADELPHIA
HEBE I COME I

- THE WORLDS GREATEST LIVING PLAYMERGHET D. Tel
"SHOPE" STUDENT S. Es
Red Price Proviews 21 July Inc.
Press Hight 29th July at 7,00pm of Mon-Fri S Wed 5 Set 5 s. 8 15

9

27 1. Ja 18

TO PLACE YOUR ENTERTAINMENTS ADVERTISEMENT IN

THE TIMES TRADE ADVERTISERS

TEL: 071-481 1920

ADVERTISING FAX NO. 071-481 9313 TELEX

925088 PRIVATE ADVERTISERS TEL: 071-481 4000

YOU MAY USE YOUR ACCESS. AMEX, DINERS OR VISA CARD

Time to graduate from the garret

Can creative writing be taught, or is it a gift you have to be born with?

Nicolette Jones

investigates

he British, on the whole, mistrust creative writing courses. There is a feeling here that anything popular in America and involving the word "creative" can only be half-baked faddishness: writers are born, not made, and writing cannot be learned like a craft, let alone marked like an exam. Any course that purports to teach it — and judge it must be a charlatan enterprise, leading to a spurious academic All the evidence is that such attitudes sabotage our own chances of nurturing talent. In America, where it is commonplace for undergraduate degrees to incorporate some creative writing, and where masters degrees in the subject proliferate, there has been a burgeoning of exceptionally youthful skill in recent years. Marty Leimbach and Michael Chabon, for instance, both wrote critically acclaimed novels while on a course at the University of California in their early twenties - Dying Young and The Mysteries of Pittsburgh respectively. Ethan Canin, equally young, wrote his greatly acclaimed collection of short stories, Emperor of the Air, on the University of Iowa's MA course - America's oldest masters degree in writing, established in 1940. In fact, these courses have been running long enough for the heroes of current students to have been students themselves: the late Raymond Carver, for instance, doyen of American leners, came out of such a programme.

In Britain, the resistance to teaching fiction expresses itself in its absence from undergraduate degrees. Small writers' groups cater for aspiring writers' desire to get together, along with such ventures as the Arvon Foundation's courses and workshops attached to literary festivals. But the University of East Anglia's masters degree in creative writing, set up by Malcoim Bradbury and inspired by his own experience at the University of Indiana, is a lone beacon in British.

This week, Faber and Faber sublishes its 11th annual volume of First Fictions, which introduces new young writers by printing a selection this year's eight have MAs from UEA: Lynne Bryan, Jonathan Holland and Denise Neuhaus. (A. fourth, Sophie Frank, will take up a place at UEA next October.)

say that there are no good, young, whom nothing is lost." It is argu-

Malcolm Bradbury: his UEA course is based on the belief that writing is teachable, at least to those who "have whatever else it takes: very powerful motivation"

self-taught novelists in Britain, or that writers throughout history have not learned their solitary trade by ling, observation and practice. The writer's garret has a longer tradition than the writers' group. But out of UEA have also come, for Booker Prize winner Kamo Ishiguro, Ian McEwan, Maggie Gee and Rose Tremain, as well as writers who are starting to become established, such as Deidre

The basic principle of Bradbury's course (now handed over to other visiting writers) is the group discussion of work in progress. Bradbury believe writing is unteachable. "It is teachable," he says, "if you have whatever else it takes." That is: Very powerful motivation — that thing which drives them obsessively writers, whether they succeed or full." This, says Bradbury, is "the difference between the person who has one story in them and the one who has that range of talent and has to be a good reader — to read creatively, not as a detached critic, but greedily, to feed his or her own writing, and have a love of language and of words, and be a good Of course, it would be nonsense to observer, one of the people on able that anyone with these qualities is already a born writer - that the teaching changes little. But some writers who have been through similar courses do not agree.

The award-winning young British novelist, Russell Celyn-Jones, for instance, who had a two-year scholarship to the Unversity of lows, had, he said, "been writing and not improving; I felt I couldn't teach myself any more". At would discuss two short stories in a session of two hours, as if in the editorial meeting of a literary magazine deciding whether to publish. The authors of the stories would not be allowed to talk. They would see the butor separately later. "If a story is not understood, the author's comments are too late." says Celyn-Jones. He does not understand why, if people accept that you can be taught music or can be taught writing. "There is a degree of craft you can improve on. Your own voice may be unteachable, but you can usefully talk about narrative, structure, the question of omniscience.

Similar elements make up an undergraduate course at Amherst in Massachusens, run by Caryl Phillips, who is one of a number of British novelists now offering their experience to American colleges. (America readily employs its own and other countries' star writers in this way: teachers at American universities currently include Joseph Brodsky. Toni Morrison. Chinua Achebe, Joyce Carol Oates. Anita

'If people accept that you can be taught music or painting, why do they not accept that you can be taught writing?'

> Desai, Lorrie Moore, John Edgar Wideman, Mona Simpson and Paul Warkins.) Phillips says: "I'm not attempting to impose style, butwe talk about the basic decisions a point of view, dialogue and characterisation. The main thing is that students should discover their own strengths. They have to find the most comfortable way for them. Then they can get fancy after that." Phillips, too, encourages students

> > A ahler's Second

Symphony and

Symphony ar Schoenberg's

Gurrelieder are both late Romantic masternieres; both are visions - though refracted differently - of heaven triumphant. Mahler's is the story of n recent days the gran-

L tossed precious few bones in the direction of those left unexcited by the spectacle of petulant boys and grunting girls hitting little balls. There was said to be some interesting early Schubert on Dutch radio, but the wind was in the wrong direction. Those splendid stalwarts of Saturday morning television, Captain

Planet and Toxic Crusaders.

might have offered stimulating diversions, but a grown man does not find it easy to ask his three-year-old son to Then last night BBC 2 scheduled five hours of ancient repeats, which Radio Times alleged to represent Alan Bennett's "periect evening of tele-vision". Perhaps scepticism is misplaced. Given the entire BBC television archives from which to choose, you too might have come up with Whatever Happened to the Likely Lads?

After all, the memory can play

Otherwise the weekend's explain the plot

strange tricks.

dees of broadcasting have the work badly.

to give and take criticism. "You are trying to give them an epidermis so thick that they won't be hurt, but also to make them understand that without a response there is no literature." Many appreciate the emotional support - and as many the financial support. Grants and fellowships — though increasingly hard to come by - make novels possible. Nor does anyone doubt the value of being encouraged to write all the One effect of these courses has been to raise the status of the short story - a manageable unit for discussion in the class. In America, it is a thriving and appreciated form, sought after for publication. Another, more pernicious effect, some argue, is that American writing schools produce a standardised style. Charismatic teachers can spawn imitators, and collections from particular writing schools show common characteristics. At present, there is a Carver-esque spareness about much new American writing, but then, as Bradbury points out: "You can detect Carver, who taught at lowa, in American writing, but you can also detect Hemingway, who taught nowhere. Fashions in heroes are probably inevitable. Is it possible, though, that British writers have more originality and quirkiness than Americans because they are self-taught? It may be so but the quirkiness could equally well be seen as naivety. British first novels are more likely to be rough diamonds, with flashes of inspiration in an imperfect whole. Meanwhile, teachers on both sides of the Atlantic are anxious not to impose a style. Bradbury deliberately chose such idiosyncratic writers as Michèle Roberts and Angela Carter to teach at UEA to preserve a variety of Caryl Phillips, much as he ap-proves of liberal arts degrees that include writing courses, and graduate courses in England that support writers while they work, does doubt the validity of some of America's writing MAs. He believes that, in America, where undergraduates can take such courses as his own, "you should be ready to write when you graduate". The MAs are a marketing package for those with more cash than literary assurance. "a scam to make a lot of money": Now there's an argument that might make more British universities take them on.

ARTS BRIEF

Home ruling

A FEASIBILITY study has come down in favour of plans by the National Galleries of Scotland to amalgamate its collections of Scottish art under one roof. The £50,000 study by the independent consultancy. Pieda plc. says a Gallery of Scottish Art and History would allow the 72 per cent of Scottish art presentty in storage to be exhibited Edinburgh, not Glasgow, is the preferred site for a new gallery, despite the suitability of existing space in Glasgow. Surveys have indicated that a central location in the capital is the most popular option, However, the study dismisses the Nanonal Galleries original choice of site: the Dean Education Centre in the west end of the city.

It recommends that the Royal Scottish Academy building on Princes Street, next door to the National Gallery of Scotland, should undergo a multi-million pound renovation which would allow it to provide space for "major temporary exhibitions of the Scottish Collection". But the study stops short of recommending the building as the permanent

Academy mooted

THE city of Gloucester has launched an £5 million plan to create an Academy of Music and Performing Arts by Sepwould occupy three empty warehouses, and be part of a wider scheme to regenerate and redevelop the docks area of the city. Instigated by a local teacher. Lumsden, and by Sheila Mander, the youth theatre director at Cheltenham's Everyman Theatre, the new for Gloucester academy academy would provide music and theatre studies for an 11. to 25 age range. Money for the project is anticipated as coming from government and business sectors, private dona-tions and charitable funds.

Never the Twain?

AFTER the unseemly squabble between two rival Christopher Columbus films, the next battle might be fought over Huckleberry Finn. Two Hollywood companies. Disney and TriStar, are preparing versions of Mark Twain's novel; while over at Fox, John Hughes, producer of Home Again, is primed to make an undated edition, called Black Cat Bone. Disney's version, to star Elijah Wood, should be the first before the cameras.

Last chance . . .

THE successful run of A Judgement in Stone, aiready extended once, must end this Saturday at the Lyric Theatre. Hammersmith (081-741 2311). It is that rarity, a musical thriller: a crime story by Ruth Rendell, adapted by Neil Bartlett and set to music by Nicolas Bloomfield. The quartet sung by the doomed "perfect" family is the musical high spot: the acting honours must go to Sheila Hancock, the stone-faced "perfect" housekeeper with a secret shame. A powerful and rewarding evening.

CLASSICAL MUSIC

Fruits of wayward genius

EXHIBITION

and high level pollution, is not a place usually associated with Rembrandts, Turners and Van Goghs, or the controver-Epstein. But today the doors to gailery above the town's Victorian-built library will be thrown open and Britain's most secret treasure hoard revealed.

Known as the Garman-Ryan Collection and comprising 400 works of art - from pre-Columbian to Modern British — it was established as a tribute to Epstein by his second wife. Kathleen Garman, in association with his former pupil, the American heiress and sculptress Sally Ryan. Forty-three of Epstein's own drawings, paintings, bronzes and maquettes, formed the basis of the Lady Epstein, who had grown up near Walsall, gave the collection to the town shortly before she died in 1972, after she and Ryan had idiosyncratically expanded it into a virtual A to Z of famous European painters throughout the ages. But for the town the collection has proved an embarrassment of riches.

For two decades Walsall has failed to meet the conditions upon which the collection was given, since it has been only partially displayed, crammed in a few cabinets and hung on temporary screens without any atmospheric controls. There was a clear danger that rapid deterioration would set in. Plans to rehouse the collection in a new £3 million gallery in a 19th century merchant's house have been suspended: Walsall has run out of money.

So Peter Jenkinson, head of museums and galleries in Walsall, instigated a refurbishment of the old gallery, and has relaunched the collection to prove it is worth better facilities. "We're determined to make Walsall the new art centre." he declares.

العراث

In many ways the Garman-Ryan Collection holds a mirAlison Beckett reports on the fate of a magnificent but almost unknown art collection, now on display in Walsall

Lucian Freud's Anabelle, currently on show in Walsall

ror up to Epstein's own bizarre life, his art (regularly vilified almost until his death in 1959) and his decidedly edectic tastes. His self-portrait, after escaping the Jewish ghetto in New York where he grew up. shows a dashing. Byronesque young man. But Augustus John, with whom Epstein soon fell out, depicts him as a much more dissipated figure by the time he had set up his extensive ménage in London. consisting of a wife, modelscum-mistresses and assorted children in a house littered with tribal artefacts.

As passionate about African art as Picasso, Matisse. Braque and Modigliani, Epstein became friends and swopped work with them in Paris. He also exchanged works with his friends in London, Matthew Smith and the Vorticist Gaudier-Brzeska, thus unconsciously helping to create the present collection. Gaudier-Brzeska's death in the trenches led Epstein to destroy his own war sculpture. Rock Drill, an extraordinary fusion of sexual and machine energy. But Walsall has his superb drawing for it.

Epstein's sketch for one of his stames of naked pregnant women - devised for the Strand and quite unprecedented in 1907 — shows how he revelled in controversy. So does his bronze head of the Madonna, portrayed in the image of a favourite live-in model: Sunita, a Kashmiri girl he had met selling exotic wares in Wembiey. He even managed to make doves provocative, as shown by his chalk study for three sculptures of the birds mating.

An animated bronze of his beloved Shetland sheepdog Frisky is among other sculptures that Epstein made of his extended family. His first bust of Kathleen was begun in 1921, the day after he met her. Kathleen was his epitome of beauty - he refused to portray anyone who wasn't beautiful or famous - and the result Oozes with vitality. But as in many such bronzes, it is also slightly unflattering because of its exaggerated features, especially the eyes. Life in the Epstein house hold is further captured by the sculptor's one-time son-in-law Lucian Freud. Freud's paintdaughter Kitty, is kinder than most of his portraits since. Epstein's son Theo, meanwhile, was responsible for a fine pastel drawing of Roland Joffe, the film maker, when he was a child. Joffe had been unofficially adopted by Epstein's younger daughter

Esther. The artistic link between father and son, who was hailed as a new Van Gogh, is easily spotted in Epstein's startlingly bold flower paintings, notably Sunflowers – though Theo's canvases are much larger and infused with the spirit of the medieval religious arrefacts with which he was obsessed. One day in 1954, after Theo had borrowed some pieces from art school, the police were called out. What happened next is shrouded in mystery, but Theo died on the way to hospital and not long afterwards his sister Esther committed suicide. The Garman-Ryan Collection, then, is not only a magnificent array of art, but a testament to the passing of an extraordinary milieu.

◆ The Garman-Ryan Collection is at the Walsall Museum and Art Gallery, Central Libray, Lichfield St. Walsall, West Midlands (0932 653135), Mon-Fri 10am-6pm; Sat 10am-4.45pm. Admission

With a romantic flourish

himself, a gradual process of gathering faith. Which is why, in last week's Festival Hall ulously controlled voice on the fourth movement. "Urlicht". performance by the Philhar-Maria Bayo, the soprano, monia. Giuseppe Sinopoli's attention to the moment at the sounded equally good when she joined Meier in the last expense of the whole served movement. The orchestral There was much variety of colour and dynamic, and playing was first-rate, the well rounded brass - particularly the principal trumper, John Sinopoli's tempos have a Wallace - outstanding. In contrast to Mahler's crowd-pleasing tendency to touch extremes. But his desire highly personal exploration, Schoenberg, in Gurrelieder, to squeeze meaning from ev-ery individual gesture meant was very much under Wagthat Mahler was made sometimes to resemble Verdi. True, ner's spell. Performing the the glorious finale worked niece last week at the Festival well, but it is in any case episodic, so how could it not? Hall, James Blair, always a man to relish the challenge of The Philharmonia Chorus, late Romantic music, inspired prepared on this occasion by Nicolae Moldoveanu, was in the Young Musicians Symphony Orchestra to climb to its finest form, while the dizzying heights. The strings may not have the Philharmocontralto, Waltraud Meier, lavished a powerful but meticnia's richness, but they possess plenty of confidence and ardour; while the vast forces of woodwind, brass and percussion equally delighted in these complex, dramatic and mysterious textures. Blair also paced the work intelligently, and he was helped by an excellent team of singers, spearheaded by John Mitchinson's solid, gutsy tenor as Waldemar. Christine Teare's Tove was strong, filled with Isolde-like ecstasy, while Elizabeth Lawrence's Wood-Dove had a wonderfully powerful, dark magic all of its own. and invaluable support came from David Wilson-Johnson as the terrified Peasant, Peter Kerr as the Fool, and Lieuwe Visser as the Speaker. A pity that the London Choral Society and Gold-smiths Choral Union fielded a team which included a few unenchanted frogs among the tenors. A shame, too, that the YMSO, performing a far less often heard piece, drew only about half the audience for the Philharmonia.

STEPHEN PETTITT

TELEVISION REVIEW

Westward ho hum

Saturday). The television companies of seven nations clubbed together to finance this documentary series. Filming took place over three years in 27 countries. The producers even commissioned replicas of the three ships in which Columbus made his momentous lunge westward.

Yet viewers who embarked on this mammoth history lesson must already have a sinking feeling. The crucial question about Columbus's epic adventure 500 years ago is surely "was it a good thing or a bad thing?". But will these seven vastly-budgeted programmes answer that any better than if two articulate historians had been locked in a studio for two hours and told to argue it out? The danger signs are almain interest lay in the maidready there. Note the ponderous commentary, delivered by en voyage of Columbus and β.

the Age of Discovery (BBC 2, a Colombian professor: "He sails into the setting sun ... soon there would be a profound transformation of two worlds."

Note, too, the Wish You Were Here editing, leaping like a supersonic grasshopper round the globe: "Our journey takes us to Genoa. to Venice, to Istanbul, to Portugal and to Spain." And it did, too — in the first ten minutes. How aerial footage of Italian housing estates aided understanding of Columbus was not clear. Finally, note the portentous background music, which sounded as if it had been composed by Wagner and then shredded by Kelloggs.

The first programme had the plodding thoroughness of a sixth-form history curriculum. One imagines those Japanese, British. American. Portuguese, Spanish, Italian and German television ex 1tives sitting down in some multi-lingual committee session, and ticking off all the exam questions that the series should cover. "Discuss the mercantile nature of Genoan society in Columbus's day." "How far did the Islam domination of the eastern trade routes lead to western exploration?" "Explain the growth of Spanish imperialism in the 1490s." "Why were spices so highly valued in late 15thcentury Europe? Illustrate your answer by filming a modern vegetable marker?"

All very worthy. But what of humanity's desire to conquer and plunder? What of a lowborn sailor's ambition to impress kings and build empires? What of the desperate courage that compels explorers to venture beyond the margins of the maps? Somehow, the human dimension was left out. Perhaps that will be rectified later. Or perhaps we must wait for Gerard Depardieu's cinematic portrayal of Columbus, one of four such films appearing this

RICHARD MORRISON

Going the whole Hog

They're slow, heavy and cost a fortune, says Alice Thomson.

So how have Harley-Davidsons become a fashion statement?

hey look like a cross between a Victorian lavatory cistern and Chitty Chitty Bang Bang and they come in such colours as wineberry pearl, candy ruby, sapphire sun-glo and chrome black. But if you want to ride a motorbike with style nothing comes close to the Hariey-Davidson.

Jack Nicholson started it in the 1960s when he sweated his way across America on his H-D in the cult film Easy Rider and, to the strains of Jimi Hendrix, made these runaway fairground horses seem big, bad and sexy. Then Steve McQueen gunned his H-D out of a German PoW camp in The Great Escape.

Serious bikers have always admired their craftsmanship and Hell's Angels have customised them. But it is only in the past few years that H-Ds have become a fashion accessory of the rich and would-be famous.

There are now about 30,000 Harley owners in Britain and recently 2,000 of them converged on York racecourse to droot in unison over their gleaming machines at the first UK national HOG festival. (HOG stands for Harley Owners Group and is also a nickname for the Harley Davidson.)

Sportsters, Fatboys, Fatails and Electra Glides glistened in the sun in every shape and hue. Their owners were a similarly eclectic bunch. Some had beards, red bandanas and morbid tattoos but just as many were leathered merchant bankers with their girlfriends in publishing, or middle aged couples in matching T-

They camped in the surrounding fields, bought their girlfriends leather knickers, read tattoo magazines and held competitions to see who could bike-limbo the lowest and who could ride slowest without falling off. It was like an aduk gymkhana. Beer was on sale all weekend but most drank Coke or milk. No one was drunk. They were on a different kind of high because H-Ds, it seems, are addictive. Bill Davidson, the 35-year-old great-grandson of Willie Davidson, the co-founder of the Harley Davidson company and the worldwide manager of HOG, explained the habit. "Everyone wants to live a little bit of the American dream. They want to go out on the open highway with the wind blowing in their hair and the prospect of freedom and adventure," he said. "Harleys are big, vulgar and a clear symbol of rebel-

His great-grandfather, known as Willie A. worked with his two brothers and his friend Willie Harley for Milwaukee railway department and utilised the machinery to make the first H-D in 1903. His grandfather. Willie H. was the man who got the company going and took it vibrator, the sexiest machine ever made. But it doesn't vibrate man, it

Easy riding: Trish and Nige Jones with their H-D at the York festival ... "Everyone wants to live a little bit of the American dream" through the Depression. His father, Willie G. is the vice-president of styling and is responsible for design. He regards it as sculpture not engineering," said Bill junior (Willie J to the family). Bill got his first H-D at six, before that he used to go in his father's sidecar. He swept me up on the back of his Hog and we went for a ride through York's suburbs. The H-D sits its rider bolt upright so the wind rios into your leather-jacketed chest. But the motor is soft and unaggressive. Far from a loud quietly with a combination of mechanical whirring and gentle chuffing from its exhaust pipes. On the Saturday afternoon 1,400 owners paraded into York to meet the mayor. There were so many of them they had roar, the H-D drifts along to close off the roads and block the dual carriageway. The mayor couldn't get to the head of the cavalcade in his limousine so some of the Harley owners took him and his wife pillion and dropped them off at their garden party afterwards. "His wife looked real neat in her floral dress, she certainly enjoyed it," Mr

To the outsider the continuing popularity of the H-D makes little sense. They are big, slow, unwieldy and technologically no match for their Japanese competitors. A typical Hog costs about £10,000, while a sophisticated Japanese blke will be at least £3,000 less. But ever since Willie H invented them they have attracted a loyal following.

Trish and Nige Jones, from Read-ing, were standing between two blue and cream dream machines. Trish used to loath bikes until Nige swept her up on his Hog for a joke. "I worked in a courier company but vowed I would never get on a bike. Nige saw it as a challenge and that was that." she said. Now they spend all their evenings and weekends cruising round the Berkshire countryside on their Hogs.

Mike Bates, who came second in

'Harleys are big, vulgar and a clear symbol of rebellion. They are the sexiest machine ever'

the slow rider contest, said: "I bought my first bike on March 6, 1983. You become a local folk hero when you buy one of these bikes. They still symbolise a real man's world, cattle rustlers, cowboys and no women riders. The next door neighbours have Yamahas but they're just not the same, are they?"

Although everyone agrees that the bikes are technically antiquated, most Harley owners don't ride them very often. They are social statements rather than forms of transport. Jennifer and Peter Crompton, from Manchester, are an exception. Their H-D can take the whole family on holiday. "We built a sidecar onto our Harley and we have a trailer on the back. My son and the dog go in the car and I ride pillion," she said. Mark Payne came to the festival from London with his girlfriend. Candida, who looks as though she has just been poured into her catsuit. Mr Payne has had four H-Ds and keeps them in a garage. "I've had two nicked but I keep on buying them.

Harley so it is worth it. I have taken mine to Monte Carlo and to Scotland and everyone admires them." he Thefts are a serious problem from the urban rider — second hand Harleys hold their value well --- but most enthusiasts are prepared to take the risk. In a nearby tent, Matt The Painter is eating spaghetti hoops and fried eggs. He does the paintwork for Hog owners and paints anything from na-ked women to Dracula. "Har-levs are a bit of a trend now. They used to be for the good old boys who worked on them from the ground up. Now its for the rich brat pack who buy the bike for the image."

Tommy King is an old fashioned hogger. "It took me 15 years to save up for my bike and now I am a happy man. I use mine the whole day, bought it for £7,000 and spent nearly £2,000 fiddling with it," he said. "I like to build it to my own specifications, change the carbs and pipes and things." Mr King doesn't rate the festival. "It's soured by all the rich Sunday riders," he said. His friend disagreed: "Without them these bikes would be history," he said.

H-Ds have been bought back from the brink several times. Their customers were severely tested in the 1970s, when the company was taken over by a conglomerate and quality suffered.

But after a management buyout in 1981, help from the US government. sensible design and inspired marketing, the Harley is roaring again.

Japan is the enemy and there is a Harley T-shirt showing the American eagle, one of the companies trade marks, savaging an oriental serpent. There is another picture with a hand grenade with the legend underneath "Japanese motorcycle repair

When we sell our motorbikes we are selling a lifestyle and the HOG club is an ideal way of keeping people involved." said Ron Plender, the director of service at Harley-Davidson Inc. There are 12 chapters in Britain now and 12 dealers. They sold 53 bikes in 1982, last year they sold 1.600 and there is a wellmanaged waiting list. To cash in on their image, the company has licensed the brand name. You can now buy H-D jackets, boots, piggy banks and even jewellery for your "fox".

We give them a product, the spare parts and the accessories and they are hooked for life." Mr Plender said. The festival is another in a long line of successful gimmicks. Owners pay £20 for the weekend and get a chance to try out all the latest models. But it is a symbiotic relationship. The company looks after its bikers; it puts money into research on theft prevention and makes them feel part of a

As Kal Demitros, the managing director of Harley-Davidson in the UK, says: "A Harley isn't just a mode of transportation, it is a commitment for life. We are competing against babies, conservatories and swimming pools, not other bikes."

And he who dares, swims

The intrepid men of another SAS go to war to clean up our beaches

sional surfers once boycotted a contest on the grounds that the surf was too dangerous. They weren't complaining about the waves, or even the sharks. They were worried about the water pollution which was sending them back to the beach with eye infections, stomach upsets and skin diseases. The Australian government subsequently tightened its water regulations and cleaned up the bay.

Surfers Against Sewage is the fast-expanding environmental pressure group dedi-cated to doing for British beaches what those Australians did for Bondi. Set up two summers ago, they were out in force in Newquay last year for the Alder Surf pro, pointing out that 2.5 million gallons of untreated waste was hitting the water at the same time as the competitors.

Surfers Against Sewage have made a name for themselves by calling a spade a spade. In the course of publicising our dirty disposal habits, lobbying the House of Commons togged up in wetsuits and gasmasks and attracting widespread media coverage (including a Channel documentary, Making Waves), surfers have broken the mould of their macho stereotype and shown that they can be articulate guardians of the environment week surfing This ന്നല to London, where the waves have been abysmal ever since they installed the Thames flood barrier. On Wednesday the Prince Charles Cinema in Leicester Square is showing John Milius's classic surf movie Big Wednesday and donating the proceeds to

In his allegorical novel La Peste, Albert Camus suggested that Oran gets the plague because it turns its back on the ocean. The SAS argument is similar, that we should stop treating the sea as a dump for human and industrial effluent. In taking arms against a sea of bacteria and viruses, surfers see themselves as representing not only their own best interests, but those who visit a beach once a year. The statistics stop you in your tracks. Great Britain discharges more than 300 million gallons of sewage into the sea each day (spiced with a yearly dose of two million tonnes of toxic waste, including heavy metals). Of the 253 large outfalls in the UK, only ten receive full secondary or biological treatment.

Chris Hines vowed to set up

Surfers Against Sewage the day he came our of the water with a saturated party-liner sprouting from the neck of his a wetsuit. At 30, he is now the leading spokesman of the 6,000-member organisation. He argues that water com-panies will only do what they are required to do by legislation. And the government is not going far enough".

The EC blue flag, awarded to beaches for seawater cleanliness, has stringent conditions (a maximum level of 500 coliforms per 100ml), while the new environment depart-ment-funded Seaside Awards tolerate a pollution level twenty times higher. Coincidentalthey also boast a blue flag. "This is a cover-up, a complete con." Hines says. "The only thing the public can rely on a blue flag telling them is that there is water present." In the United States, beaches that qualify for our blue flag would be closed and quarantined and you would be arrested or fined if you went for a dip.

The Blackpool report by Dr Leslie Alexander, of Lancaster University, concluded that children who go in the sea are three times more likely to suffer from vomiting and five and a half times more likely to suffer from diarrhoea than children who stay on the beach. There are fears of even more serious diseases being carried by sea water sprinkled with used condoms, fampons and hypodermic syringes. In the spirit of suries who go on looking for the perfect wave, Mr Hines remains an optimist. "Waste is a vital resource. Sewage is 99 per cent water - which we are short of - and the other I per cent is nutritious. enhancer." Now, more than ever, it would be unsafe for us to bury our heads in the sand.

Cornish nasty: surfing at Newquay

ANDY MARTIN

 After a special screening on July 8, Big Wednesday opens on Friday at the Prince Charles, Luicester Square. SAS, the Old Counthouse Warehouse. Wheal Kitty, St Agnee, Truro, Cornwall, TR5 ORE; Tel: 0872 553001.

Bother froma hover

This Friday The TES reports on the Surrey high school boys who are building a hovercraft, with a little help from BP, in pursuit of this year's Young Engineers' award.

THE TIMES EDUCATIONAL SUPPLEMENT

75p Every Friday

Taking the uncharitable view

A report out today says Britain's richest are slow to give to charity, with some notable exceptions n the matter of giving to charity at least, the rich do not seem to be different. In fact, they appear more likely than most to show Scrooge-like tendencies, according to a report that claims to show the giving habits of the UK's 100 richest people.

money seem to find it harder to give," says Mark Lattimer. the compiler of the report, published today by Trust Monitor. a quarterly magazine brought out by the Directory of Social Change, which advises voluntary organisations on how to work and fundraise. Overall, the report suggests, a few give gener-ously but many seem as mean as the rest of us. It says the 100 richest are worth collectively at least $40 billion, but their annual donations to charity were estimated at £50 million, about 0.125 per cent of their assets. "That is equivalent to a family with £20,000 of assets tied up in their house giving 48p per week." Mr Lattimer says. The Charities Aid Foundation estimates a national average of about £2 a week. "You would expect them to find it easier because it does not compete with consumption. They have surpluses - that is the definition of being rich." Mr

Lattimer says. The Queen, the Duke of Westminster, the Sainsburys, Richard Branson, John Paul

Getty II and the global trad-ing Hinduja brothers are on the UK's ten richest people list (courtesy The Sunday Times Magazine, May 1992). However, only Mr Getty, worth about £1,550 million, and the Sainsburys, worth about £2,420 million, who give respectively about £90 million and £14 million every year, hop into the list of the ten most generous givers. Mr Lattimer devised the list by 'We help working out the mual giving of the charities person's total wealth, which he but prefer admits is sometimes impossible to establish definto keep itively. The report has assumed that quiet' most substantial channelled through charitable foundations - which are tax-exempt and it has concentrated on them. Mr Lattimer has not investigated other gifts through Gift Aid. where an individual can make a donation of up to E5 million. without incurring tax. His report says that today only a few, such as the Bren-ninkmeyer family, who own the C&A stores and strenuously protect their privacy, give inpletely anonymously without apparently using trusts.

Trustees of such foundations are notoriously secretive, arguing that publicity will flood them with requests. Mr Lattimer's reply is brisk There is a move afoot to make these bodies more publicly Generous exceptions: George Michael lies low. John Paul Getty II hands out £90 million accountable." He argues that if a trust is created for charitable purposes, the beneficiary, in most cases, is the public. "If that is the case, the foundation constitutes a public institution," he says.

The report says many foundations are closely linked, through share ownership. with the business that created the wealth. Others are established after a business is sold. Robert Sangster, reputedly worth £170 million, created the Sangster Charitable Foundation after selling his father's business, the Vernons Organisation, which owned Vernons Pools, for £95 million in 1988. There are no records that the foundation, which had a £50,000 income last year, has yet made any donations, but a spokesman for the trust says: We help various charities but we prefer to keep these things

Some are shy about their charitable giving. George Michael, the pop star, said to be worth about £80 million and placed fourth in the list, is not keen to have his name linked with the Platinum Trust, which he set up two years ago to support charities helping people with physical and mental disabilities. The Platinum Trust office rebuffed

In contrast, some are happy to reveal their good work. Cameron Mackintosh, the impresario, reputedly worth about £200 million, is placed

Allott, his executive producer and a trustee to the Cameron Mackintosh Foundation. which has given more than El million a year since its creation in 1988, says: "The 1980s were a boom time for musicals and Cameron had enormous fun acquiring his fortune. He felt he should put some back. High-profile causes in the arts and heritage world are most popular with rich donos: the National Gallery has received £50 million from Mr Getty and substantial help from Lord Rothschild, Cathedrals, schools, universities well-known NHS hospitals and large charities connected with children and disability are also popular.

Some of the newly rich see giving as a social passport. Mr Lattimer observes: "Wealth does not automatically buy social status in this country. The nouveau riche have toy; find a way to be accepted."
This desire leads them to choose conservatively, the report suggests. Generally speaking, little goes to alleviat-ing poverty, projects for the homeless, community groups and other grassroots organ-

It is impossible to discover what the Queen, reputedly the UK's richest person and worth about £6,500 million, gives to charity. Buckingham Palace disclosed nothing, apart from saying that the Queen distributes utes Maundy Money every year and that she has regular commitments to various org-anisations, all of which are asked not to reveal amounts. Mr Lattimer holds the belief that if the figures were sub-stantial the Directory of Social Change would have heard about them.

Taral.

1

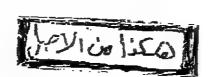

The Palace has recently revealed that money received by the Duchy of Lancaster from people who die intestate within the duchy goes to charitable purposes for the duchy's residents.

However, the Queen is pa-tron to nearly 200 charities and spends much time in this role. According to one charity, a royal appearance can raise significant amounts of money: the going rate is about £1,000 a handshake.

Mr Lattimer says: The report disproves the charitable trickle-down effect - that if wealth is accumulated into the hands of a few people, a significant amount will be given away to help those at the bottom of the pile."

JOANNA GIBBON © Times Newspapers Ltd 1992

No other country is so devoted to good food. In the first of two articles, Robin Young begins a gastronomic guide to some of his favourite restaurants in France

erron

CANNOT think Britain that I would want to recom-mend. In France there are hundreds. Compiling a list of

50 favourites has been an invidious business, and I have necessarily left out a few of the very best which happen to be near neighbours of some I think even

All these restaurants serve truly excellent meals - yet there are places on my list where the weekday menu. is as little as FFr120 (about £12). My own bills for lunch or dinner in these restaurants have usually been be-tween £70 to £130 for two, although I would happily have spent more if I

All telephone numbers should be prefixed by 010 33.

PARIS: Jamin, 32 rue Longchamp, Paris 16e, 75016 (147 27 12 27)

Joël Robuchon is the supreme French chef of the moment, whose particular talent is to make apparently ordinary ingredients like whiting. cauliflower or celery into truly exceptional dishes. His is one of the few three-star restaurants in Paris which opens at all in August. (Closed July 10 to August 11)

DLION: Jean-Pierre Billoux, 14 place Darcy, Dijon, 21000 (80 30 11 00)

In the wine capital of Burgundy Jean-Pierre Billoux produces flamboyant cooking with rich sauces and powerful flavours. But he is also an instinctive creator of new delights,...

HAUT-RHIN: L'Amberge de 1111, rue Collonges, Illhaeusern, 68150 (89 71 83 23) The Haeberlin family have long run

Alsace's finest restaurant, where it is. often impossible to get a table.. Tripe salad with goose liver, roast eel with herb butter, roast sturgeon on a bed of cabbage, and an unforgettable assiette of sucking pig.

LANDES: Les Prés d'Engénie et le Convent des Herbes, Eugénieles-Bains, 40320 (58 05 06 07) Michel Guerard, inventor of culsing minozur, is as enthusiastic, innovative and irreproachably faultless as ever. Current specialities include hare paté and veal ragout.

AVEYRON: Michel Bras, route de l'Aubrac, Laguiole, 12210 (65 44 32 24)

Literally a temple of cooking in this newly constructed hotel-restaurant in the Aveyron, atop a hill with views stretching to the Pyrenees. Try the gargouillou of vegetables, meat and poultry of the region cooked with mountain herbs, and grilled salt cod with poached egg and parsley.

ROANNE: Troisgros, place Gare, Roanne, 42300 (77 71 66 97) The restaurant where I first discovered what fine cooking really was is opposite Roanne station and, now, a McDonald's. In such banal surroundings Pierre and Michel Troisgros still cook with inimitable style things such as frogs' legs in champagne sauce, pigeon with basil, and other miracies of good taste. REIMS: Boyer "Les Crayères". 64 boulevard H. Vasnier, Reims. 51100 (26 82 80 80).

Gérard Boyer reigns supreme in the capital of champagne in his elegant château a few minutes from Reims cathedral. Pig's trotter stuffed with foie gras and spice bread ice cream are some of the temptations.

COTE D'OR: La Côte d'Or, 2 rue Argentine, Saulien, 21210 (80 64 07 66)

Bernard Loiseau has risen to fame with creations such as crusty sea bass with broad beans, tartlet of courgettes with sea urchin juice, but he still reproduces lightened versions of classic Burgundian cooking too. TOURS: Jean Bardet, 57 rue Groison, Tours, 37000 (47 41 41 11) Jean Bardet must be just about the most generous, sincere and authentic chef of his generation. His restau-rant-hotel is beautifully situated in one of the loveliest places on the Loire. Do not pass by without tasting his salmon with young leeks, fricassee of elvers, or a crayfish gazpacho. VEZELAY: L'Espérance, St-Pèresous-Vézelay, 89450 (86 33 20 45) Marc Meneau's restaurant provided one of the most memorable meals I have ever eaten in France. Try foie gras flavoured with fennel, potato tart with caviare, lobster with saffron rice. and the hot orange souffle.

ATN: Georges Blanc, Vonnas, 01540 (74-50 00 10) Cooking by a master craftsman on the banks of the Veyle. Over the years the meals seem to get better and better. Suggestions of the moment and caviare, and this is the place to est poularde de Bresse.

BORDEAUX: Le St-James, place C. Hostein, Bouliac, 33270 (56 20 52 19)

Five miles south-east of Bordeaux, Jean-Marie Amat's restaurant is the ciaret capital's favourite dining place. Astonishing fondant of aubergine with cumin, and a pigeon grilled with spices which should immediate ly be classified premier cru.

ILLE-ET-VILAINE: Restaurant de Bricourt. I rue Duguesclin. Cancale, 35260 (99-89 64 76) Exquisite fish cookery in what I now think is the best restaurant in Brittany. Olivier Roellinger's restaurant perches on a hill overlooking the bay of Mont-St Michel, and the cuisine does the view justice. Try dressed spider crab with clams and scallops, furbot with Siamese pepper, or John Dory with 14 spices.

YONNE: La Côte Saint-Jacques, 14 faubourg Paris, Joigny, 8930 (86 62 09 70)

I have not been to Joigny, but Michel Lorain's cooking at the Méridien in London, where he is consultant chel, convinces me it would be worth the journey. I would have sea bass in caviare cream, chicken in champagne vapour, or the black pudding with creamed potatoes. CANNES: Le Royal Gray. 6 rue Etats-Unis, Cannes, 06400 (92 99 79 60)

Compliments to the chefs: Troisgros père et fils, whose restaurant in Roanne shows inimitable style am told Jacques Chibois hopes to STRASBOURG: Buerehiesel, 4 leave this restaurant of the Hôtel Gray d'Albion, but while he remains I am happy to keep it in my list. His achievements include a ragout of artichokes and onions, and lightly fried spiced prayms with almonds. LOIR-ET-CHER: Grand Hotel

Lion d'Or, 69 rue Clemenceau, Romorantin-Lanthenay, 41200 (54 76 00 28)

This 17th-century coaching inn close to the château of Chambord, is a treasure, and chef Didier Clement, son-in-law of the proprietor, has earned his place as a jewel in the crown. The puddings are "British" in style: but could we make quince pie with ginger toffee like he does?

ST-ETTENNE: Pierre Gagnaire, 3 rue G. Teissier, St-Étienne, 42000 (77 37 57 93). From September: 7 rue Richelandière (77 42 39 90) Pierre Gagnaire is on the move, after closing for the first three weeks in August, to a town centre mansion opposite the Parc des Antiquaires. Specialities include sea bass with ginger, tomato and carrot juice, and kidneys grilled and breadcrumbed, seasoned with cinnamon and served atop a fried egg.

COTE D'AZUR: Le Diamant Rose, route de St-Paul, La Colle-sur-Loup, Saint-Paul-de-Vence, 06480 (93 32 82 20)

Jacques Maximin is now perched at the fringe of Côte d'Azur urbanisation in a beautiful modern villa. This is the man who first filled courgette flowers with truffles.

parc Orangerie, Strasbourg, 67000 (88 61 62 24)

One of the most difficult decisions facing European parliamentarians -Buerehiesel or Le Crocodile? Michelin votes for Emile Jung's Crocodile (three stars). I am going for Antoine Westermann's Buerehiesel as much for its more attractive surroundings as for the food, which is absolutely delicious in both.

DROME: Pic. 285 avenue Victor Hugo, Valence, 26000 (75 44 15 32) Take the autoroute exit for Valence Sud and the time to visit one of the longest serving three stars in France. Crayfish in walnut oil with courgette flowers and caviare, pigeon in potato crust, and a famous dessert chariot are among the reasons why I have to omit Chabran at Pont-de-l'Isère only a few miles to the north.

CAEN: La Bourride, 15-17 rue Vaugueux, Caen, 14000 (31 93 50 76)

Fabulous restaurant in an old Norman town house in a pedestrianised precinct close by the chateau. Who would think a cake of tripe sausage and positio could be one of the most memorable experiences of one's life? SAONE-ET-LOIRE: Lameloise. 36 place d'Armes. Chagny, 71150 (85 87 08 85)

A Burgundy wine negociant once took me on one of the longest detours of my life just to have an orange pressée at Lameloise. I had to go back to treat myself to Jacques Lameloise's terrine with onion marmalade, red

mullet with parsley, and puff pastry LILLE: Le Restaurant, 1 place Sébastopol, Lille, 59000

In Lille the dilemma is between Ghislaine Arabian's Le Restaurant and Robert Bardot's Le Flambard in rue Angleterre. My choice is the flamboyant blonde, a self-taught genius who has become one of the most professional chefs in France. Try her turbot with beer, scallops and chicory, sushi of kipper, pigeon with morels, and the amazing sweets.

MORBIHAN: Auberge Bretonne, 2 place Duguesclin, La Roche-Bernard, 56130 60 28)

During the week you can get an excellent menu here for just FFr120 (about £12). Whiting with cockles and broad beans, weever fish roasted with peas and savory, farm cheeses, and apple tart with rhubarb sauce incredible.

PYRÉNÉES-ATLANTIQUES: Les Pyrénées, 19 place Charles de Gaulle, St-Jean-Pied-de-Port, 64220 (59 37 01 01)

In the depths of the Basque country Firmin Arrambide produces hearty. traditional fare which would have lifted the spirits of pilgrims on the road to Compostella. Cabbage soup, lamb's head salad, and sweet peppers stuffed with stockfish are among the treats.

Tomorrow, the rest of the best

Tiens! eh! peuh! oh!

ESSENTIAL FRENCH: BODY LANGUAGE

rench kissing: the first time I heard this expression. sion (at age 14), I thought I was being invited to peck a girl on both cheeks, like General de Gaulle. Inspired by such models as "to take French leave", which becomes filer à l'anglaise in French. I later began to wonder if the correct translation might not be le baiser anglais. Ca n'existe pasi ("that does not exist!") exclaimed the French girl I was trying to kiss at the time. I still don't know if she was referring to the word or the thing. If it did exist, it might denote rather well the French tradition of amicable kissing (faire la bise).

The first time I went to France I was expecting to have to kiss boys as well as girls, so I felt I got off pretty lightly only having to shake hands all the time. The main problem for any English person wishing to become fluent in French is not so much the language as the gestures that go with it. It is not only the tongue you have to learn, but the arms, the eyes, and the nose as

Most like Chinese ideograms, have a kind of logic and even etymology attached to them. For example, stroking your cheek up and down with the back of your curied fingers signifies: "Quelle barbe!" (linerally, What a beardi") or "Quel rasoir!" (What a razor) -What a drag/bore!

If you want to say "Let's get out of here" to your companion in a noisy nightclub all you have to do is smack the back of your right wrist with your left paim. Verbally translated: On barre (barrer, non-reflexively, can mean block, cross, or steer) or On se casse (literally. "let's break ourselves").

Some non-verbal insults are common currency. If you spick your right arm out then smack your left hand down just above your right elbow, causing the forearm to spring upwards, I doubt that any iorry driver will stop to ask what you mean. Just in case though, this gesture is known ironically as le hras d'honneur ("the salute").

One possible reply would consist of your non-interlocutor putting his index fingers up against either side of his forehead like horns and waggling them about, thereby informing you that "you are a cuckold!"

The same meaning is linked with different parts of the body in French and English. While the Frenchman will pull the skin below one eye downwards, signifying Mon oeil! ("My eye!"), the Englishman will say, "My foot!" Half-way between pure gesture and articulated language are interjections (for example in English "bah!". "ha!". and "ouch!". The range of interjections in French is probably infinite, but the repertoire is well represented in one of Raymond Queneau's Exercises de style. 99 alternative renderings of a story about a young top in a ridiculous hat who argues with another man standing on a bus, escapes to a seat, and later is told by a friend that his overcoat is incorrectly buttoned:

"Psst! heu! ah! oh! hum! ah!

What's French for "Well I'll go to the foot of our stairs?

pought oule! hou! die! ehi hein! heu! pfuitt!

Tiensi ehi peuh! oh! heu!

If you want to quote Marcel Proust instead, try Aut! (as dated as "Goshi"). One importent distinction: Oh la la! means "Well, well!" while Oh la la la la' is more like "Oh dear!" Another essential tool: bof usually accompanied by a shrugging of the shoulders who cares!"

Exclamations are one further step up a rather short ladder of linguistic sophistication. I have never actually heard "Sacre bleu!" (literally, "Sacred blue"), but "Nom d'une pipe!" (name of a pipe!) is still indispensible.

• The Times is available in most major towns in France, but you can order a copy which will usually arrive a day after publication. Contact: News International Distribution Ltd. Subscriptions Dept. PO Box 479, Virginia Street, London E) 9XN (071-782 6129).

AN EXCLUSIVE CANDACE BAHOUTH DESIGN FOR

EHRMAN TAPESTRY

Inspired by China patterns Candace Bahouth's stylised bowl of flowers is surrounded by a soft and sumptuous border of fruits and geometric pattern. All is a sea of blues and whites and Candace has added light flecks of pale yellow and green, here and there, as an unexpected touch. It is a glorious cushion which would fit well anywhere.

Measuring 15" x 15" the canvas is printed in full colour on 10 holes to the inch canvas. 100% pure wool from the Appleton range is used and the design can be worked in either half-cross or tent stitch. The kit costs £38.50 including postage and packing, and comes complete with wool, canvas, needle and instructions. When ordering use FREEPOST - no stamp needed.

FOR QUERIES ABOUT DESPATCH TELEPHONE 0784 460861.

Lan Kits Ltd., 14/16 Lancer Square, London W8 4EP. Registered no. 1975935. Please allow 28 days for delivery. Money back if kit returned unused within 14 days.

To: EHRMAN, FREEPOST, LONDON W84BR. 1998 Please send metapestry kits at £38.50 each. I enclose cheque/P.O. made out to EHRMAN for £.....

Passport to France Times/WineShare competition: win a share in a French vineyard of excellent quality

Own a slice of vineyard

THIS is the second day of your chance to become a vigneron and drink the wines from your vineyard until the vintage of 2002. The Times, in association with Wine-Share, is giving readers the chance to own 150 vines for ten years at the Domaine du Grand Mayne, in the Côtes de Duras Appellation Contrôlée district of France. These vines will produce up to 30 cases of wine every year.

This quality wine-producing area borders on the Bordeaux Appellation and its wines are made from classic Bordeaux varieties - cabernet sanvignon, cabernet franc and meriot: sauvignon blanc. semilion and muscadelle.

1

Your first year's produce, the 1992 vintage, will be picked this autumn. The wine will be made and shipped to you, free, next spring by WineShare You will receive 30 cases (360 bottles) of wine red, white or both according to your taste. The bottles will be labelled with your

As part of the prize, the winner and a partner will visit the vineyard this autumn, flying to Bordeaux for a long weekend in the French countryside. There you can eat and drink in style among the vats in the chai where your wine will be gently fermenting. The weekend will include visits to the surrounding vineyards of Duras and the Bordeaux area, with plenty of opportunities to try the local cuisine and, of course, the different

Ten runners up will each receive a one year lease on a 50-vine row at Domaine du Grand Mayne and the produce from these vines - ten cases from the 1992 vintage, labelled and delivered free to your home by WineShare.

• How to enter: answer the question below and keep a note of your answer. A further two questions will appear tomorrow and Wednesday (the first of the four appeared in Saturday's Weekend Times). Having answered all four questions, send your answers on a postcard with your name, address and daytime telephone number to: The Times/WineShare Competition. 5 Brittons Court, London, EC88 6NG.

OUESTION 2 In which department of Prance is Côtes de Duras? • Rules: The competition is open to all UK residents aged 18 and over. Employees of Times Newspapers Ltd. WineShare, their families or agents are not eligible. Entries must be received by Monday July 20, 1992. Winners will be notified by Friday

July 24, 1992. The editor's decision is final. Times competition rules apply, available on request.

Vintage opportunity ineShare is a scheme in which wine enthusiasts lease rows of vines they can call their own. Subscribers who pay a basic £150 a row, guaranteed for ten years, are entitled to the produce of their grapes - 30 cases a year of Côtes de Duras Appellation Contrôlée.

WineShare began in 1986 when hundreds of British investors joined forces to share in a vineyard, Domaine du Grand Mayne, in the appellation contrôlée area of Côtes de Duras, which borders the more prestigious Bordeaux

WineShare's aim is to produce dependable quality wine at an affordable price and to give investors the fun and involvement of owning their own row of vines and sharing in the produce of a French Domaine.

From January 1993 there will be an added incentive to join the scheme, with the relaxing of restrictions allowing those who collect their wine to bring it through

WineShare will be launching a second vineyard, Chateau Constantin-Chevalier at label. much wine from your own vines you would order each year. 150 vines will produce 30 cases of wine. The rental cost on 150 vines is £150 a year plus VAT. If 30 cases of wine a year is too much for you to drink or store then a row of 50 vines will produce 10 cases Following the success of for an annual rent of £50 plus. Domaine du Grand Mayne, VAT. All you pay for after that until December 31, 1992.

is the actual cost of producing the wine and the cost of shipping it to you (with the Lourmarin in the Cotes du duty payable). WineSharers Luberon, in Provence, next are kept up to date with a twice-yearly bulletin. Other To reserve a row at either benefits include a personalised vineyard you must decide how · Readers of The Times who wish to subscribe to Wine-Share will receive a 10 per cent discount on the first year's rental. For fuller information write to WineShare, 46 Longley Road, Tooting Graveney, London, SW17 9LL or call 081 672 9967, quoting ref: The Times. This offer is valid

A University of London degree is a mark of exceptional achievement, respected throughout the world. Like many people, you may have thought that the only way to gain such a degree would be to study in London. In fact, it has been possible to obtain our degree by external study anywhere in the world - for nearly 150 years. Why not join us as an undergraduate this year?

Our LLB degree is regarded as an international "gold standard". However, contrary to what you may imagine, not all LLB graduates go on to become lawyers former students include people in all walks of life, from company chairmen to distinguished politicians of different nationalities.

The BSc(Econ) degree establishes a broad social science foundation from which students can specialise in one of the following: Economics, Management, Information Systems, Accounting, Banking, Government & Politics, Sociology or Geography. All these courses are designed to develop the incisiveness and confidence which come from appraising intellectual issues.

In addition to the LLB and BSc(Econ), we also offer undergraduate programmes in: French, German, Italian, Spanish and Latin American Studies, Philosophy, Theology and Music - and postgraduate programmes in Education, Organisational Behaviour and Occupational Psychology, Financial Economics. Law, Environmental Management and Agricultural Development.

Find out more by completing and returning the coupon to: The Secretary for External Students, Room 264, University of London, Senate House, Malet Street, London WC1E 7HU, England, UK, Quote ref 92/11.

I would like more details about the following [please tick the relevant box(es)]:
LLB BSc(Econ)
Other external courses
(please specify)
Name
Address
į ————
To the Secretary for External Students, University of London, Room 264, Senate House, Malet Street, London WC1E 7HU, England, UK.
Quote ref 92/11

HURON UNIVERSITY

BSc BA MBA THE AMERICAN ALTERNATIVE - IN KENSINGTON

Fine Arts, Art History, Humanities, Inc. pre-Form Emission Administration, Inc. Economics & Finance.

International Management, Marketing and Competing 🖼 MBA: Full Time (1 Year) & Part-Three (2 Years), Inc. even inc. work placement.

Director of Admissions, 3/5 Palace Gate, London W&SLS. TEL: 071-581 4895/554 0686

don Quijote

LEARN SPANISH IN SPAIN Don Quijote celebrates the year of Spain with you. It's Four week course at don Quijote-Dulinea in Salamance for only £399 including course, lodging, travel and insurance.

Four week course at don Quijote-Barcelona and the chance to win a ticket for the Olmpics. Four week course at don Quijote-Salamanca and don Quijote Granada plus a free entrance to the Expo.

More information and br 081-944 5199 WITH DON QUIJOTE NATURALLY

EDUCATION ALSO APPEARS ON PAGE 8

EURO-LINGUAL SECRETARIAL DIPLOMA The course for the European secretary! The school-leaver with interest in languages will develop the language skills needed to cation in the European work-place. JOB-FINDER AT COURSE END 25% VOCATIONAL TAX RELIEF AVAILABLE

OSPECTUS: The Queen's Secretarial Callege

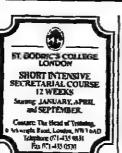

DEGREE COURSES

Earn a Bachelor's, Master's or Doctorate degree by atilizing your life and work experience. No residency required, Full credits are allocated for all works at this exhibit extensive the configuration of the behavior of the cambination. We will help you obtain that vital degree qualification extractly by decrance leaving. Our programme is directed at setf-quotivated men and women who have already moved some distance towards their own panis. KNIGHTSBRIDGE UNIVERSITY Dept. Ti., Stefanspade 18, Copenhagen 2200, Dep Tel/fax:+45 31 81 58 14

DOOR TO SUCCESS IN WRITING

Why not you?

The School offers 13 specialised courses including staff journalism, subsciting, freetance journalism, short stary writing. IV and realist script writing and many others. Make the coming long Summer evenings pay the prepared by writing or phoning for their prospectus were. Dept 77, London School of Journalism 37 Uxbridge Street, London We 7TQ Tel: 071-727 7261.

DEVONSHIRE HOUSE PREPARATORY SCHOOL For girls and boys from and interviews please contact the School Secretary at 69 Fitzporns Avenue. London NW3 6PS. Tel. 071-435 1916

LANSDOWNE Secretarial College SUCCESS AT YOUR FINGERTIPS I term to I year Courses III Char Secretarial stills

AFTER EXAMS

WHAT NEXT?

Which Course? Which Career Which Qualifications?

percents and young per to the RICHT decisions a

GAREER ANALYST

ST JAMES'S MENETARIAL CON LIGHT

Training Prepares
You For The Future
as Seniors Comparesce Ju and September

and September

Oppariment
Career Advisory Service
25% Vocasional Txx Relief For Details Write to:
Mrs Part, 4 Wetherby
Gardens London SWS IJIN

Or phone: (971)-373 3852/2198/5389

Our Busin

90 Glaucester Place.
 971-935 5452 (24 lg

WP, DTP, dBASE Weekand residential courses run by sop TV script editors.
Call (0606) 75313 or write: StarScript, Woodlane House, Charington, Warles CV36 641Y. Marketing, Management and Euroliagual /5 Palace Gate, London WS 52.5 TEL: 071-581 4866

(EXTERNAL) LONDON UNIVERSITY 100% Success Rate in Finals for INTERNAL DEGREE IN LAW the Last Two Years Chanse: Full-time - Part-time - Home-study 3/5 Palace Gate, sington, London W8 5LS. ENTRY: 2A' Levels and 3

Will you still be doing the same job in five years?

At the end of the first year you qualify for a Certificate in Management Studies; by the end of the second year you qualify for

of the Diploma in Management Studies, and from there you can apply for entry to an accelerated Kingston University MBA course.

application form simply call

KINGSTON UNIVERSITY

an (081) 547 7275

Operations Management

Marketing Management

Health Service Management

APPLY TODAY

idered from those with bly with either o

wer owo year's experience in a supervisory or

legree, HNC or HND

If you feel caught in a trap, your

HE FAST TRACK TO PROMOTION The Kingston University Diploma in nagement Studies can put you on the last track to promotion, and reveal the secrets of success in business. The full syllobus is delivered in

You study in your own time – at ne, on the train, in the evenings

tial weekend seminars for intensity vition, combuter training and assessmen

Quality Courses, Quality Education opportunities for short periods of teaching overseas.

ers who feel they can contribute:

Strategic Management

ANSDOWNE

School of Law

TEL: 071-581 4866

Local Government

Human Resource Management

Information Technology Management.

PART-TIME TEACHING OPPORTUNITIES

FOR MANAGERS

The East London Business School is increasing its panel of practising managers who wish to teach on its post experience and postgraduate courses. Opportunities exist for varying contributions ranging from single sessions (normally 2 and 3 hours) to a more substantial input. There are also

We are particularly interested to hear from managers with experience in the fields outlined below, but would also like to hear from other practition-

For further details please contact the Postgraduate Programme Administrator Margaret Burroughs, East London Business School, University of

Tel. 081 590 7722. Fax 081 534 4168

of EAST LONDON

HOLBORN COLLEGE AND

THE UNIVERSITY OF WOLVERHAMPTON

O' levels or equivalent and,

for moture students aged over 21, ambition, drive and

THE INDEPENDENT

SPECIALISTS

EXCELLENT.

COURSES:

idah Medicine/ Yeren kangology) / Inventory Menagement

Diploma Awarded:

Madras - 600 102, India

POSTS

WEW ZEALAND Engine to wanting Exchange Post.

nu Fou commitment to your studies.

East London, Duncan House, High Street, London E15 2JB.

You just need the will to improve your own prospects and 10-15 hours a week study time to be considered for the course.

or at wasternis - and work in small nformal groups on assignments we real relevance to your jo Your work is manitored and adv by the full-time staff of Kingston sity, and you attend four our job right from the stort.

IN HOURS PER WEEK

coles and Course Planners are included of a reclistic armod luition fee of £1,180 for home stody and £4.250 full time.

Fox: 071-381 3377 Teles: 266386

FULL & PART-TIME DIPLOMA COURSES

(U865) 741296 or 246027

THE EXPORT SCHOOL OF PROTOCOLAPTY

LUCIE CLAYTON

Secretarial College

Officially aproved four-week to three-term course. The better jobs thill go to Lucie Chaylon Graduates. Style is not of the business.

s part of the business

4 Corpwall Gdas London SW7 4AJ Tel: 071 581 0024

FOR REDICE ON EMERITARY & CREEKS • Exemplicies for courses . CHOOSERICES COME TO SUFFRE Grants for UK Students £695 pa and maintenance if applicable.

The Registrar (Ref T), Holborn College, refeet Pates American tage States, Oxford OX I 20 200 Greyhound Road, London W14 9RY Cult: 0065 204 | 14 Hum Telephone: 071-385 3377

TOTAL FORCE GROWN GROW Sensor or Sensor Industrial Police

Courses begin every week Call 071 401 3660 no: for course information LANGUAGE STUDIES INTERNATIONAL

A wide cause of language courses for tecnoscos (16+) and adults in France, Germany, Spain, UTL, USA. 10-12 James Street Landon W1 Tel: 071 977 9621 Page 071 491 0892

WRITE TV DRAMA

wanting Exchange Post, 1 yr. Minimum in the UC Family of 4. Ideally even borns. Contact bir J w Michaell. 123 Pressor Terroor, Napier, New Zealand. Tel: 068 354 212

WEEKEND TIMES

Property: Residential, Town & Country, Overseas, Rentals

Gardening Salereou: Arts and Antiques (monthly).

LEARN FRENCH FAST FASTER FASTEST

INTENSIVE COURSES START

TWO WEEK CRASH-COURSES START 6,20 JULY

institut français

THE OFFICIAL FRENCH GOVERNMENT CENTRE OF LANGUAGE AND CULTURE 14 CROMWELL PLACE, LONDON SW7 2JR TKL: 871-581 2701 - FAX 071-581 2910

M.Sc in Training

A two year distance learning course for a M.Sc. in Training is being offered by the University of Leicester. The course will be taught by members of the Centre for Labour Market Studies and will enable you to:

- Extend your knowledge of the role of training within organisations
- Explore some of the latest developments in training
- Advise on the implications of developments in Europe
- Examine in depth some specific aspects of the management of training and development most pertinent to your own
- Understand the implications of recent changes in vocational education, certification and assessment
- Enhance your knowledge of the learning process
- Combine work and study
- Utilise your experience

Centre for Labour Market Studies University of Leicester, 103 Princess Road

East, Leicester. LEI 7LA Tel: (0533) 523751

UNIVERSITY APPOINTMENTS

The University of Strathclyde Invites applications from candidates with a strong and active interest in research and publication for lectureships in the following

SOCIOLOGY (WOMEN'S STUDIES)

The successful candidate will be appointed as Co-ordinator of the M.Litt. in Women's Studies, in addition to teaching in the Sociology Division of the Department of Government. Teaching will include Sociology of Gender. This post may be of particular interest to applicants who wish to jobshare. Salary: up to £23,739 per annum. (Ref 65/92).

SOCIOLOGY

Applications from candidates with interests in any area of Sociology will be welcomed. Salary: up to £17,827 per annum (Ref64/92).

GEOGRAPHY

Candidates with interests in any area of Human or Environment Geography are invited to apply for a new Lectureship in the Department of Geography. Salary: up to £17,827 per annum (Ref 62/92).

For application form and further perticulars (please quote reference number) contact the Personnel Office. University of Strathclyde, Glasgow G1,1XQ

Applications Closing Date: 21 July 1992.

UNIVERSITY • OF STRATHCLYDE fir

14, 70

•

TELEPHONE:

071-481 4000

1

The Times Classified columns are read by well over a million of the most affluent people in the country. The following categories appear regularly and are generally accompanied by relevant editorial articles. Use the coupon (right), and find out how easy, fast and economical it is to advertise in The Times Classified.

THE WORLD FAMOUS PERSONAL COLUMN, INCLUDING RENTALS, APPEARS EVERY DAY. MONDAY

Education: University Appointments, Prep & Public chool Appointments. Educational Courses. Scholarships and Fellowsh with editorial. La Cresse de la Crèsse: Secretarial Appointments

TUESDAY

Legal Appointments: Solicitors, Commercial Lawyers, Legal Officers, Private & Public Practice with editorial Public Appointment Creative & Media

WEDNESDAY

La Crease de la Creuse: Secretarial Appointments Property: Residential, Town & Country, Overseas, Renials. Commercial Property: *ith editorial.

THURSDAY

General Appointments: Management, Engancering, Science & Technology, with editorial. Accommuney & Finance. La Crème de la Crème: FRIDAY International Appointments: Overseas Opportunities. Motors: The complete car buyer's guide with editorial.

Business to Business: Business opportunities.

SATURDAY

Shoparound: shopping from the comfort of your own home. Saturday Rendezvous: The place to expand your social circle.

SATURDAY REVIEW Overseas Helidays

Fill in the conpost and attach it to your advertisement, written on a separate piece of paper, allowing 28 letters and spaces per time. Rates are: Lineage £5.50 per line (Min. 3 lines, only first word in bold); Boxed Display £30 per single column centimetre (Min. 3 centimetres); Court & Social £10 per line. Saturday Review Colour £38 per single column centimetre. All rates are subject to 17.5% VAT. Gen Monday to Friday, 9.30km-1.00pm Saturday, late evening 7.30pm on Ltd., P.O. Box 484, Virginia Street; London £1 900. Address l'elephone (Daytime) Date of insertion (Please allow three working days prior to insertion date.) USE YOUR CREDET CARD.

EDUCATION TIMES

As Britain assumes the presidency of the European Community, three commentators assess the future for education

Why British schools are the choice of Europe

Students are attracted by the freedom of boarding, David Tytler discovers

s John Major begins his presidency of the European Community with the aim of putting Britain at the heart of Europe, many of the country's leading schools are already doing just that Several hundred European students, from East and West, are choosing to spend at least some of their secondary education in Britain.

"We have not gone out to seek them. They found us." says Canon Anthony Phillips, the headmaster of the 450year-old King's School, Canter-bury. "They like boarding because of the extra activities we can offer, such as sports and drama, and, at King's, they enjoy co-educational boarding. Many of the European students are Catholics and, with. boys particularly, a Roman Catholic boys school is no longer the automatic choice. They all love the cathedral.
After all, it was theirs."

This year at Kings, where annual boarding fees are 110,350, three German boys are doing A levels, two on a one-year course; two French boys and one from Belgium are going through the whole five years of secondary schooling; and one from the Irish Republic is studying A levels. There are two German girls, one of whom is doing A levels while the other is at the school for one year, and one each from the Irish Republic, Italy and Spain doing the full five years.

"This is certainly a growing market and all our figures will go up next year," Canon Philips says. Many European famies are attracted to English schools because they make entry into British universities easier, he says. "Like our schools," he adds, "our universities are structured, while in Europe it is possible to be a student for ever." Rodolphe d'Arjuzon, a 15-year-old from Paris, is near the end of his second year at King's, having spent two years in an English prep school. "I enjoy the freedom that boarding gives you in getting away

AND FRSITE

APPRINTMENT

State of the State

SOCIOLOG

And the state of the state of

SOCIOLOG

Mill ages St. St.

from home," he says.

Rodolphe, a keen rugby player and oarsman, who hopes to attend a British university, says: The teaching system is a little different. You have to work longer hours in France but in Britain more seems to go in, so the standards end up about the same. The main difference. though, is that in England you do a lot of sports, which you do not get in France." Isobel von Brockdorff, aged 17, will return to Munich at the end of the term after a year at King's to complete her education in her co-educational German day school. Now a convert to boarding, she says: "It did take me about two weeks to get used to boarding, and I have made many friends." She is studying geography, mathematics, the history of art, French and German. She chose King's after a recommen-dation from relatives living in Ann Longley, the headmis-tress of Roedean, where the fees are £10,740, says "People are attracted here because of the reputation of English education but we also provide a curriculum with a European dimension and we are quite excited that the students from Europe also have that perception of us.

"We provide a good wide ranging academic course of A and AS levels. Many students see them as more flexible than the international baccalaure ate, which has some very strict requirements. We are also able to offer a comprehensive programme of extra-curricular activities. Parents know that we offer a secure base in a struc-tured society, which at the same time allows the sixth-formers to strike out on their own."

Martina Jessmar, aged 17, is Swedish, although her family lives in Belgium. She has been at Roedean since last September. She has just sat A-level Swedish and will take English, French and German. She hopes to go to Stanford University, California, before returning to Europe and a career in international business.

Martina says: "I get a much broader education here but I am able to specialise in the arts subjects i enjoy best. Roedean has a good academic reputation and quite a strong language department. It is also in

The school has close links with girls' schools in Germany and France and organises regular short exchanges that often lead to longer stays. German students tend to stay for the first

'You can explore extra talents that vou never knew you had'

two terms of their last year of schooling before returning home for their examinations. Ina Klinge, also from Ger-many, left Roedean last year with three A levels, in German. Spanish and economics at grades A. B and C. and is now at the London School of Oriental Studies reading Japanese and economics. At present the school has girls from Sweden, Russia and Greece, and a Norwegian has enrolled to start in September. Other schools, such as Wellington College, Berkshire, where the fees are £10.395, are in the early stages of opening their doors to Europe, although in common with many schools

they have always had their fair

erine Monroux, a French teacher from Bordeaux, is about to complete her year as the European coordinator at the college. In addition to helping with language teach-ing at the school, Mme Monroux has developed links with schools in Bordeaux, and in Germany and Spain. The college hopes that regular ex-change visits will lead to more full-time students at the college. Mariborough College, in Wiltshire, where the fees are between £10,500 and £11,550, has seven French students, seven German, four Swedish. four Belgian, two Dutch and one each from Spain and baden, has just completed her two-year A-level course and hopes to go to an English university. Her brother, Bjo-Pieter, took his A levels at Rugby and went to Oxford last autumn. Annette hopes to join him there and has just taken Alevel biology, chemistry and maths and AS-level French. She has already passed German A level at A grade, which she took in case she decided to Jan Drasik, another 17-yearold from Germany, has spent a year in the lower sixth at Mariborough and will return to Germany to sit the Abitur. which guarantees entry into a German university, although he too hopes to study at Oxford.

continue her education in

Annette says: "Mariborough was very exciting, and the extra activities mean you can explore all sorts of extra talents that you did not know you had."

Campus goes global

LAST winter the European Commission published a memoran-dum on higher education, its first ever. Education, let alone higher education, was not even mentioned in the Treaty of Rome. The oversight was remedied in the Maastricht Treaty which, surely not coincidentally, was being neg-otiated as the memorandum was being drafted in Brussels.

The memorandum is an unspeciacular document, stuffed with apple-pie recommendations about language teaching and continuing education. Neverthe-less the commission has organised an elaborate process of consultation. Conferences are taking place throughout Britain this summer to try to formulate a suitable response: the next is in Birmingham in two weeks. But the memorandum's significance lies not so much in its content as in its

However ambivalent the national mood on Europe, the European Community's new interest in higher education is not seen as an intrusion by most British universities and colleges. They have few doubts about closer European links — to the occasional distress of their older partnerinstitutions in the Commonwealth. The memorandum, and the more active role it suggests for the EC. is not regarded as a grab by Brussels for influence in a policy area that should be reserved to the member states under the principle of "subsidiarity".

Of course, the EC has been involved in higher education from the start, despite the silence of the Treaty of Rome. It always had a duty to encourage occupational mobility by establishing professional equivalences, allow ing doctors, lawyers and architects to practise through its territory. The community also took an early interest in collaboration between universities and industry, especially in fields such as advanced information systems. But today three new factors favour the development of Europe-wide policies on higher

First, the Single European Act

VIEWPOINT Peter Scott

and the planned completion of the single market by the end of the year require academic systems to be harmonised. Plans are well under way to allow European students to transfer, with credit, between institutions in different member states.

Second, the growth of a hightechnology economy means that universities will play an increas-ingly central role in wealth creation. They will form an important feature of the "knowledge" industries that are likely to dominate the 21st century. The EC is one of the three key arenas in which these industries will develop, the others being the United States and Japan and its east Asian neighbours. The single economic space that is being created in Europe requires a parallel single academic space in these post-industrial conditions.

Third, a sense of how crucial but also how fragile is European culture has been heightened by recent events in central and eastern Europe, at once full of promise and menace. Among young people within the EC. Europe's comfortable "west end". there is also now a much stronger attachment to the idea of Europe as residual "foreignness" is eroded by frequent travel.

In both ways, universities are implicated in this deepening of "Europe", as sources of the scholarship that defines and refines its culture and because their students are among the most articulate of this rising generation.

There are risks as well as opportunities in higher education's celebration of Europe. It carries the risk of Eurocentrism, of universities turning their backs on the third world and on the community's minorities of non-European origin. Also Europe, in its cultural form, is much wider than the EC. To exclude Kalka's Prague or Dostoevky's St Petersburg is non-

Indeed, in this sense. "Europe" extends far beyond its continent. Are not New York or Buenos Aires in peculiar but intense senses "European" cities?

The author is editor of The Times

School children need testing. So do schools.

Have you the skills to be a school inspector?

The Parent's Charter introduced a series of reforms to increase parents' rights, to provide them with more hard, factual information about the performance of their local schools and to encourage higher standards.

Registered Inspectors will be at the heart of a new system of independent inspections set up under the new Education Act. It will need a high calibre of inspector to make it work successfully.

If you're the sort of person who is capable of motivating and leading a team, capable of making objective inspections and capable of writing accurate and reliable reports, this is an opportunity that you will find both challenging and rewarding.

Once you have become a Registered Inspector you can tender for school inspections and you will be expected to form a team of people to work with you.

There will be a fee paid for each school inspected. This may range from around $5,000 to around $30,000 depending on the size and type of the school.

This is a flexible opportunity - once registered you can tender for as few or as many projects as you wish to take on. We are looking for team members as well as Registered Inspectors.

If you have experience in education or management consultancy, or have other relevant skills, this would be an exciting opportunity for you.

If you'd like more information about being an inspector, please return the coupon below to: Registered Inspectors, Merit House, Timothy's Bridge Rd, Stratford-upon-Avon, CV37 9HY. Or call us on 0345 225 225. (Quote ref SI5).

·
Name
Address
		17144
	Postcode	[// 4 4

The Open University, first in its class

DISTANCE learning is the educational theme of the moment as Britain takes up the European Community presi-dency. The Commission has aiready published a report on the subject, and John Patten, who will chair the council of ministers as education secretary, has promised to make it his main concern over the next six months. Britain would lead the way in establishing a new information network.

Mr Patten's commitment comes at a time when the Open University model is spreading throughout the Continent. The capability to offer courses without the expense and organisational headaches associated with physical institutions is proving especially attractive in the reconstruction of eastern Europe.

Most of western Europe, with the notable exception of France, now has its own version of the OU. Spain and The Netherlands both have large institutions, Germany differs from the British model in demanding entry qualifications of its students. Portugal is at an early stage of development and Scandinavian countries offer distance learning courses through stages of the stage of the st through specialist sections of the conventional universities. Milton Keynes, the home of the original OU, has been the starting point for several of the continental institutions. as well as for the European net-

Britain will show

the way in distance learning techniques

Chairman: John Patten

works that have begun to develop in the past decade. As well as collecting information on courses all over the world, the university has started to offer its programmes throughout Europe. Study centres have opened this year in a dozen countries. Mr Patten plans not to create a new bureaucracy, as the Commonwelath has done, to concentrate on distance education. He wants to build on existing provision, partly as an alternative to the costly business of sending growing munibers of students on exchange

The Commission's present strategy, agreed a year ago, involves the development material for use by firms as well as educational institutions, and the establishment of a network of "support and demonstration centres" throughout Europe Both bigher and voca-tional education would be included in the initiatives. Kerry Mann, an OU academic who runs the secretariat of the European Distance Edu-cation Network, says: "There is a lot going on at all kinds of levels, but maybe an awareness exercise is needed to make the most of it."

For the British presidency, the area is one of the few in education that holds the promise of progress before the ratification of the Maastricht Treaty and in the midst of a recession. Officially, adding education to the interests of the Community will not produce the money for action. or change the determination of states such as Britain to maintain strict control over the school curriculum.

The Commission has proposed a standstill budget for 1993, and cannot meet the demand for its existing programmes. Anything that is to be achieved over the next six months will have to be cheap. in European terms at least Distance education, with its long-term potential for savings, should fit the bill.

> JOHN O'LEARY Education correspondent

UNIVERSITY APPOINTMENTS

Department of Electronic and Electrical Engineering

The Department is seeking to strengthen and extend its activities by the appointment of two new professors in the following areas. These are key opportunities for professionals ready for the challenge of pioneering new directions in conjunction with a large and energetic group of academic staff.

CHAIR OF COMMUNICATIONS ENGINEERING

The Department has achieved international recognition for many years for its work in the area of communications, with particular strengths in signal processing, computer networks, sonar and antennas. It now wishes to supplement this work by the appointment of a high quality researcher with appropriate expertise within the broad field of communications engineering, and thereby to secure its reputation in this area into the future.

Applicants may be from either an industrial or an academic background. They should have substantial experience in a relevant research area, and should also be able to demonstrate an ability to attract significant funding to support their work. They will be expected to provide leadership in both research and teaching, and to link with existing areas of research activity. Ref. 92/118/EL

CHAIR OF RENEWABLE ENERGY

DIRECTORSHIP OF THE TONY MARMONT RENEWABLE ENERGY CENTRE

A substantial donation from a local businessman has enabled the University to establish and staff a Renewable Energy Centre for an initial period of 5 years. The Centre will specialise in research into clean and efficient techniques for the generation and storage of renewable energy, the integrated management of the processes and the assessment of their environmental, social and economic impacts. The University is urgently seeking to appoint a Director for the Centre.

Suitably qualified candidates will also be eligible to become Professor of Renewable Energy within the Department of Electronic and Electrical Engineering. It is assumed however that the Director will develop significant links with a number of other Departments in the University and play a major part in establishing an international reputation for the Centre. Candidates must have a proven ability to initiate research and to lead a research team, and also to attract substantial external funding and other support for their work.

Salaries will be within the professorial range. Informal enquiries may be made to the Head of Department,

Dr. Roger Goodall, (0509) 222801. Applications forms (returnable by 31st August 1992 quoting the relevant reference number) and further particulars may be obtained from the Registrar, University of Technology, Loughborough, Leicestershire LE11 3TU.

We are committed to equal opportunities

CHARING CROSS AND WESTMINSTER

MEDICAL SCHOOL (University of London) APPOINTMENT OF DEAN

The Council of this Medical School invites applications or nominations for the appointment of Dean of the Medical School, to succeed John Pendower, who retires in September 1993. Medicine in West London is entering a period of major change in which the Dean will play a key role. Salary by negotiation. Expressions of interest will be welcomed.

Any person wishing to be considered, or anyone who wishes to nominate such a person should write in confidence please to Sir Robert Clark. DSC. Chairman of Council (Office of the School Secretary, Charing Cross & Westminster Medical School, The Reynolds Building, St. Dunstan's Road, London, W6 SRP. and from whom further particulars and job description can be obtained), by 1st September 1992.

The Council reserves the right to make an appointment by invitation.

PREP & PUBLIC SCHOOLS

WYCOMBE ABBEY SCHOOL

Sixth Form Entry -September 1993

Wycombe Abbey opened an extension to its Sixth Form House in April 1992, and therefore there will be a few more places available for external candidates in 1993.

Entrance examinations and interviews will be held at Wycombe Abbey on 9th November 1992. Scholarships are awarded as a result of those papers and a special Scholarships paper, which will be written on 10th November 1992. Awards amounting to two and a half full fees will be made. In addition, a Bursary of up to one-third fees may be awarded to any girl talented in Music or Art.

Full details and entry forms can be obtained from the Admissions Secretary, Wycombe Abbey School, High Wycombe, Bucks. HP11 1PE. (Telephone No. 0494 520381 - Fax. 0494 473836).

Closing date for entries is 30 September 1992.

POSTS

MANAGEMENT ACCOUNTANT Salary Range - £20922 - £28194

Milton Keynus College is a vibrant growing innovative organisation which needs a Managament Accountant who is able to work in a challenging but apportive environment. The College will enjoy corporate status from 1 April 1993 and apportunities for the successful condition to shape and construction to the Callege's mission and policie and full support of the Callege's mission and policie the ability to communicate effectively and suppropri-with collegeous missions, amployers and College vis-sbute poi poblicowycjes bluc would like to tolk with you.

Closing date for applications is 14 July 1992 interviews will be hald on 22 July 1992.

Flease contact Mischer Hasight application pack:

Milton Keynes College.

Children Way, Leidenhull West, Milton Keyses;

MK6 SEP Tet: (0508) 608838 Bitton Keyries College is an Equal Opportunities Employer

POSTS

Centre for Children

Applications are invited from well qualified teachers for the following posts at Aycliffe Centre for Children, which is a national centre of ESD children from 8 to 18 years. Set in a rural part of County Durham.

The educational programme at Aycliffe is student centred, and whilst conforming to the National Curriculum requirements, offers an exciting range of Educational activities, including a thriving Enterprise function: expeditions into the beautiful local countryside and further affeld skiling, canceling, rafting and rock-climbing; a well structured and varied pre-vocational curriculum, and visits from outside bodies such as Geese Theatre Group.

Education Tours (NJC conditions of service apply: 5 weeks holiday, a personal four point salary scale within the range £15,065 to £21,186 according to qualifications and experience. Pay award pending.)
Education Tutors are required with skills in the following subject areas:

Outdoor Pursuits Special Needs Personal & Social Education/Health & Beauty Culture

Application forms and Job Designs are available from Mrs Mandle Spence at the address or telephone number shown below.

Closing date for all applications is Tisseday 8 July 1982. Would applicants please indicate times of non-evallability for interview during the Education holiday period. Ayolitie, Centre for Children, Copeller, Hewton Ayolitie, County Durham, DLS 8JB. Telephone 0325 300(01

Aycliffe is an Equal Opportunity Employer, 003610

UNIVERSITY APPOINTMENTS

LECTURESHIP/ SENIOR LECTURESHIP IN PSYCHOLOGY

Applications are invited for appointment as Lecturer or Senior ecturer with particular reference to the field of Education Psychology. Candidates should have professional experience in educational psychology and must be prepared to teach and carry out research in that area. The main teaching commitment will be to the MCc Course in Educational Psychology.

An ability to contibute to undergraduate courses in Developmental Psychology will be welcomed. Salary: in range to a maximum of $28,165

For application form and further particulars (Ref63/92) contact the Personnel Office, University of Stratholyde, Glasgow G1 1XQ. Applications closing date: 17th August 1992.

UNIVERSITY • OF

AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITIES EMPLOYER

UNIVERSITY APPOINTMENTS

UNIVERSITY OF READING LECTURER IN LINGUISTIC SCIENCE

Applications are invited for a Lectureship in the Department of Linguistic Science from 1 October 1992 or as soon as possible thereafter. Candidates should have research experience in Semantics and or Syntax, and be able to leach all areas of this field, particularly the interface between Semantics and Syntax. Experience in Computational Linguistics will be an advantage.
Salary scale £12,860 to £17,827 pa (Grade A) or £18,572 to £23,759 pa
(Grade B) plus USS benefits.

Further particulars and application forms (2 copies) are available from the of Reading, Whiteknights, PO Box 217. READING, RGS 2AH.

Tel (0734) 318751. Please quate her AC9221. Closing date 27 July 1992.

071-481 9313 071-782 7828

-

3 071-481 4481

CREME DE LA CREME

Circle 33 is a group of companies, some charitable, leading the fight against inadequate housing and homelessness. Circle 33 Housing Trust, the largest in the group, is one of the top 20 national housing associations. It has a large and diverse programme producing affordable housing and has over 9,000 rented homes in management. Circle 33 is considered to be one of the most progressive housing associations in South East England.

PERSONAL ASSISTANT TO THE GROUP DIRECTOR Up to circa £18.000

We are looking for someone with at least five years relevant experience and high level English language to fill the post of PA to the Director of Circle 33. This important role will provide an all-round secretarial and support service to the Group Director. The successful candidate will have the ability to prepare and present written material to an excellent standard as well as first class organisational skills. A minimum of 75wpm audio/copy typing, together with tact, diplomacy and good inter-personal skills will be required.

Initially based in our office in Blackhorse Road, Walthamstow, the Personal Assistant will move to our new head office in Highbury next

For an application form and further information on the above position please telephone our 24 hour Answering Service on 071 837 8064 quoting reference ADM/WF/027.

Closing date for above application: 20th July 1992.

interviews will held on: 29th July 1992.

Circle 33 Housing Trust Ltd. is an equal opportunities employer and we therefore welcome applications from all. We will not discriminate on grounds of race, sex, creed or sexual orientation and we particularly welcome applications from people with disabilities.

DIRECTOR'S SECRETARY

To provide secretarial support to the Director and to the Fullerian Professor of Chemistry in an exciting scientific environment. Applicants should have good affice skills (including shorthand) and a knowledge of the Apple Macintosh. The ideal applicant would have at least one science A' level. Postion available in early August at a starting salary of circa £11,000 (to be reviewed).

A1 P.A. £18.500+ to Financial Director of presigious City Company. A high profile position requiring a professional appearance and manner. Excelent audio speeds and experience on W.P.'s and P.C.'s cosmittal. Age 28-38. Call On: 836.0041 tree cons.

ATTENTION College Leavers, An opportunity not to be missed Start your secretarial career in the Entertainments business working in the Chairmagn's office of this young and sively West End office. You will be argunding a bury schedule of meetings and travel arrangements as well as being given full brading in the secretarial role by his Personal Assistant. Never a dual moment Storthand useful Should you have 6 mouths to it you. Salary cc10.009 ± ± ± Call Markappe Hope at Pan European Recruitment (Comb.) on 071 734 34848 epuriment, organise conference ork well under pressure. Call Emily Aldrich

SUPER SECRETARIES SUPER SECRETARIES

smight young 2nd lobber see for tamous Publishers. 19/20+ 112,000+ good bonus, Cheerful hard worker essential. Covent Garden Bureau 071 495 8822. COLLEGE LEAVER Secretary in Publishing, international May-lair commany seek bright enthusiasik young secretary for advertising department. WP/ 45 wpm typing/research/meeting set, Age 18+. £10.500 Call Wifema King on 071 629 2948 King & Toben Rec Cons EARLY 20s well spoken set for small Oil Co c£13,000 also esset Senior PA. Covent Gar-den Bureau 071 495 8822 don Bureau 071 495 8822
EQUESTRIAN interests? C.E.18k
If you are int. In horses then you will have a mutual rapport with this charming Director of New Business who red. a hardworking PA with good sh. Lyplice and Wordpurfect cap. This varied position includes both business and personal work.
Centrality based with excellent benefits tactuding free funch + membership of incurry health club. 25.50bsh. Norma Shortp Rec 673 222 5091.

MERIDIAN. SENIOR SEC for the 90's! £17,000 + Banking Package. inergetic Orrector of Easter tampean Division must have a top-notch PA to manage the & asset in necronment & special projects. Jack of all Trades you are a strong administrator & Rec Cons 071 255 1555

SUPER SECRETARIES

FANTASTIC opportunity for ambitious 2nd jobber to work as see in the Chairman's office of this well-respected PLC. Educated to 'A' level, with excellent spelling, typing and sh. This position will provide you with invaluable ero and the yr CV ludos. Salary up to £13,000 + bers incl free bunch + memberable to lummy health club. 071 222 5091. Norma Skemp Rec. 60000 with people? £16,000 6000 with people? £16,000 For Readble Admin FA/Sec S/H into 100wers to work in non commercial political org. at sensor level Must have 9000 stable work record and social graces. Age $0.45 Norma Skemp Rec 071 222 5091.

Whatever time of the year this waterioted, forward-looking and busy design consoltone; needs on energetic, efficient and presentable secretary to work with the producing presentations, following the substance of the consoltone of the MD and Marketing Director. This is not a 9-5 job and only team players aged 23-28 with an interest in the design culture and a sense of

JNR/Sec/Property/CICK Com-pany based in W.1. reg. bright sec with typing (45 wpm) and some office superience Cali Masterlock Recruitment on

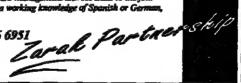

Assist the MD of this 1st Co, who will give you total involve

INTERNATIONAL BREWING

BILINGUAL PA £20,000 + BEN

business affairs, using your superb management and sec skills to the full. Diplomacy, fluent French and a working knowledge of Spanish or Germa 'A' Levels and 100/60 ess.

Call Monika 071-486 6951

AACME

BREAK INTO CITY

BANKING

223,000 PACKAGE

a stimulating CC17,000 + exc co bens. Joy Guiness 071 589 8807 Agy.

SPANISH, French, German, Rai-ian & Japanese, Daytime/eves/ business classes, small groups, LCC/RSA Exams. Tel: Work-ing Languages (771 498 3474,

TRY Legal £17.000 Age 25.36
Presigious City Solutions require Sec to two Corporate Lawyers. A buckground in banking or finance is essential,
Five '0' levels. 65 wpr audio,
Call 071 856 0041 (rec const.)

BRACKNELL £17.000

This high-flying Director needs an Executive Secretary looking for something extral in addition to using your excellent secretarial skills you will develop and maintain a full office administration system. There will be a lot of client contact so lots of meetings and visits have to be arranged. You will also hold the fort during his frequent overseas trips.

Age: 30+ Skills: 100 wpm shorthand, 70 wpm typing. CALL US ON 071 726 8491 ANGELA MORTIMER Secretariat Recruitment Consultancy

PERSONNEL PROMOTION SERVICES LTD

Three Senior vacancies in Landon W1:-MANAGING DIRECTOR £21,000. Shorthand, WP 5.1, at least 5 yrs exp at senior level. HUMAN RESOURCE DIRECTOR £21,000. New role in very busy working environment. WP 5.1.
COMPANY DIRECTOR £20,000. Modern offices.
Some figure work. WP 5.1. Exc benefits.

For further information please contact CHRIS CARDY 0306 875391 or fax av to 0306 875548.

SUPER SECRETARIES SUPER SECRETARIES

JANUARY, FEBRUARY, JUNE OR JULY

Salary £ 16,000 negotiable with 23 days' holiday. Send your CY straight away to Anaghel Pickthall, Jensory Design Partnership, 12 Sutton Raw, London W IV 5FH.

JUNIOR S/H Sec to Chairman's P.A. Traditional Pic. cc13,000 20%. Excellent experience if you have see college education (pref A levels) and stretlent shorthand. W I. Harrist Gabb Recruitment 071 222-3836. MAYFAIR PA/514K, Property Co. require professional PA to assist two young surveyors. Lovety offices! Call Masterick Recruitment of 071,938 1846.

PA 5/h Sec. Idealty a graduate or degree person. Bright with a good sense of humour Min. 3 years working exp. £15.200+ ozc. peric. Phone Irene 07: 266 3999 gwg 0753 654881.

PA to New Business Director 25-c218,000 O/A Level education. Advance functions on Wordperfect 5 1 + 100 words shortband. He's Public School with horse/Country interests. Publishing and Entertainment Pre. Baker St. Tube. Harriet Gabo Recruitment 222,3836

OV Selection (Rec Cons)

Call 071-823 3883 88 Cannon St, Lendon EC4

Assistant required for May/air Company, Good speaking voice, humour, principality and key-board sicilis essential. Excellent salary a.a.e., good career pro-pects. Pis Tel: 071 366 1380.

PART TIME VACANCIES

PART-THRE Medical Secretary/ Receptionist needed for enable and friendly medical course in the City, Hours and pay restouble. Please ring either City or Charlotte on U71 236 2832 for further details.

SELECTION RFUL 20+ Reception

AN INTEREST

Well educated sec. with of Jonat 100/60 with a min of 3 years sec. esp. A good communicator as contact with people of oil levels is an integral part of the job. Must be self-starter with initiative and a desire to get involved. An obligity to draft own correspondance and a methodical and organised approach to work is important. WI area. Age 25-35. Circa £15,000 + £7.50 5. Circa £15,000 + £7.50 5. Wit. Liv + £3 days hols +

Tel:071-828 8345 or fax your C.V. 071 976 5838.

LEGAL SECRETARY

required for solicitor in modern studio offices, London W11. Interesting commercial work - mainly publishing. Fast/accurate gudio/wo essential. Aged 23-28. Salary £13,500 negotiable. 071 243 1982

RECEPTION

MULTI-LINGUAL OPPORTUNITIES

PRANKFURT BASED

This outstanding position ourrently open is-"chefsekre "tarin/sekretariatsleitarin" for a major research organisation based in Frankfurt. You will affectively assist this Director, take responsibility for the running of the office (supervisory capacity) and prepare presentations/statistics. Fluency in German, 70wpm typing and computer literacy are a must.

on 071-629 4343 RITZ RECRUITMENT 11/12 HANOVER ST LONDON WIR 9HF TELEPHONE 671-629 4343

CHARRAMES PA e220.000.
Demanding position for charismatic gentleman seeking too level PA/Sec to 'set the standard' wights this large company. Clood' conversational Prench is required + fast shorthand/ suddo stells and impressive, solid work pistory, Age
23-40, Pease call Hodge Recruitment 071) 689 8865.

SERICH billing sec to support team of young succi in Export Finance. Employ Premch St.-Successful applicant will be well organised to cope with demanding role. £14000 + b bern. The Linguage Specialists. Migrow Emp 071 #99 3539 HEIRCH & Spanish splig PA to work in City based insurance. Top ace skills, s/h sity, good presentation. Exe sal & properts for candidate, 071.285 $277 Cavell Billingus! Rec Cons.

GERMAN billing sec for Dir inti city bink. New post Enti pros-pots. SH & Roent Girman ess. £16,000 + bank bens. CLC rec coss 071 839 3566.

CRADUATE Use your disent Cormen and Ballian Gloss in 0 in excline customer service rule. Full training previoled if you have exe to themper. No cop mer. £11.000 & bens. 671.285 3277 Cavell Stilington Rec Cons.

ITALIAN. West Landom to red exod sec omd 20%. Engine mother tensue pre/ to make discretor? PA. Fast typ en. St up to £14,000. Cavel Billingual red costs 071-255 3277.

ITALIAN billingual recombinate basecrant front time person for this presigions, accomming to 500 Points. Set 1879. Link Appelments 071 408 2130.

LAVORA per il Direttom et Appointments 071 40s 210a.

LAVORA per il Diretture di prestigiosa multiratrionale unitario di pressiona di presiona di pressiona di pressiona di pressiona di pressiona di pressiona di pr

COLLEGE TO CAREER

JURIOR Operations Assistant. A superh opportunity for a bright, entitudistic college leaver to join our hereby receives the property of the pr

TEMPTING TIMES

PROJECT SECRETARY, W1 enjoy six month

essignment if you've At skills and exp in oil or ingineering. WordPerfect 5.1, Lotus and Freelance WP 80 wpm. Start soon. Phone Sue Wood NOW.

071 256 6668.

-LOVE+TATE -CONFIDENT WP 45557 John Covent Carden Buresu's Test-Johns Tests, 071 495 8822.

GRADUATE/Publishing cop sec with Multimate, 48 when mini-mure. 3 44 anomin sestembent. E7.00 + per hour. Call Jo Toben on 07: 629 9548 king & Toben Rer Com.

ALL BOX NUMBER REPLIES SHOULD BE SENT TO: BOX HUMBER___ C/O TIMES WEWSPAPERS LTD. VIRGINIA STREET.

.

Crème de la Crème

ALSO APPEARS IN

THE ON WEDNESDAY

AND THURSDAY TO PLACE YOUR

ADVERTISEMENT

PHONE: 071-481 4481 FAX: 071-782 7828

THE ROYAL INSTITUTION OF GREAT BRITAIN

Curriculum vitae and letter of application together with names of two referees to Mrs S Hughes of The Royal Institution, 21 Albemarle Street, London W1X 485 to arrive by Friday 10th July 1992.

EXCEPTIONAL young sec £15.000 pige req for leading U.S. Consultancy based superb $51 James affices Must enloy working as part of young, fur fast moting learn and be bright & on-the-ball. Excellent parks inc Gym. BUPA. paid of, good basis salaries, induction training, fire funches six Age 20-23 Audio/W P 56-bym byting. Val Wade Rec 071 437 $793.

FANTASTIC opportunity for

PA $18,000+. For MD of high profile Busineto Consultancy. Full involvement in develop-ing/ marketing new projects, & liaison with his presidence cor-porate citents 100-pm Sh. Word Perfect & DTF 23-38 Exc. Sers Tel: 071 F. 23-38 Exc. Sers Tel: 071 F. 25-38 Fax. 071 636 8374 MCL (agy)

PA to Marketine M D. Corporate T.V. Co. A Levels/Grad pref. Advancer (unctions) on Applemax MS Word 4, cc18-000++ 25+ Bond St. Tube Marriet Cabb Recruil-ment 071 222-3636

WOULD you like to run the office of a shall advertising company in kings Cross? If you are a self motivated. Apple Mac whitz-kid, accelent advertisiatrice and good communication. this varied position is for you! Salary com-mensurate with age and experi-ence. Telephone 071-523 1114. No Aspectes. rea Agencies.

120 WPM shorthand. Long jerm
Director level temp becking ter Secretary with great stalls and Wordperfect 8.1. City based company. Outgoing personality and sense of humour exceptiol.
Apr.25.35. Please belegione
Helen or Suzze on 071 577
9919 Hobstones Rec Comp. PA to UK Marketing Director 25+ ct 18,000 A Levels/Grad pref, Advanced Tunctions on Wordpetfect 5,1 + pagemaker. Amerikan investment Co. Liver-sool St. Tube Harrier Gabb Recruitment 071 222,3838

IN SCIENCE & MEDICINE?

p.wk, LV's + 23 days hole other excellent benefits.

EC3 bank seek exprid S/M secretary for busy post at Director level in corporate finance (90/50 + wpm ess). Flexibility required for frequent paid O'timef Finance; beckground pref. Basic 215,750 + Mige sub + paid O'time 4 BUPA + pansation + bunch etc = 223x realistic peckagel.

SUPER SECRETARIES PUBLESHING. International U.S. Magazine seek bright enthusias-tic young secretary with good W.P./byting skills for their re-dis dept. Apr 20+, £13,000. Call Vivienne King on 071 629 9648 King & Toben Rec. Coms. RICHMOND Teem Secretary mid 20s early 30s with in M.S.
Word for Windows & fredience graphics needed to assist Finance Director & colleagues in super int co. Friendly positive personality pref similar etc able to identity with team enthusasm & some of toath will find a stimulating challenge.

NON-SECRETARIAL

SALES/Marketing Manager in SWI needs a secretary. 24-20 with conference/slates/festure secretary. 19-20 miles for secretary secretary. 19-20 miles for secretary secretary.

AMEASSADON'S F.A. with flu-ent Spanish required to work in SWP. Hours 9.00 - 1.00 Mon to Friday. No shorthand required but good presentation typing skills, excellent biophone assu-ner and wordperfore essential. Please hisphone between 9.00 and 1.00 for further details on 071 937 1253.

DM 80.000 + RELOCATION

CONTACT SUE JAMES

MNISTCHI Famous retearch org is seeking Degiste MT sec/PA is seeking Degiste MT sec/PA Head of Degiste System or seek To $17000 ass. The Language speciation, Merrow Emp Agy 071 499 2639. STUDENTS... Tritingual Qgr. man + Radin. P-Tank workers req'd for admin + bel work. Exci income! The Linguage Special-ins Merrow Emp 071 499 5939 credit controller for W.London, Exp ess to £16,000, CLC recess 071 839 3368, cans 071 839 3368.

TRANSLATION work, organiaing travel and lots of international contact is yours as pA/Secretary to this European director. You have finent Franch and would find Spanish or Fallem useful. Andio sidils places, therethand useful. Age 20 int. 215.000-617.000 + attractive benefits. Call Lyn Wilde on 071 439 7001. Secretaries fine the storictarial consultanta.
TRELEMSHIAL Indian/German
sec to help set up + run mety watture writin estato on Highlang content - transl, tel linken etc. Lois of involvement. 28£1.5000. The Language Specialints Merrow Emp 071 499 3939

LONDON E1 980

3

in

Crème de la Crème every Monday Wednesday Thursday 071 481 4481

PERSONAL COLUMN

ESTABLISHED 1785

Property Buyers Guide

every Wednesday and Saturday 071 481 1986

PUBLIC NOTICES

- 148

LEGAL NOTICES

ated this 30th day of June 1992 M Chods FCA izery 1891

Estate about 2 5,1009

ENWICK, JOHN ALLAN REPMICK has of The Cottage, Statement of the Cottage, Statement of the Cottage, Statement of the Statem BIRTHDAYS DUNCAN ROSS. Eighty today Congressistions & best wistens Loss of love Tim & Christina xx.

Transfer of Science of The executors of the extent of the late Mise Evelyn J. Respectively did not the 16th April 1969 haraby give notice to all creditors and other persons who may have a claim against the extent of fellow T. I Bleast to call the action to and other persons who may nave a claim sealing the estate of Min E.J. Rieger to notify the edictions of the executors Mesors Lional Both & Company of 9 Wimpole Birest London WiM 7/All of their claim not later then by the 14th Newsmiter 1992. LEGAL NOTICES The Companies Act 1985 lotice is hereby given in accor-nce with section 176 of the reparies Act 1985 that by a scial resolution passed on 30kg

Sth Judy. 1998
BARLIE LONGSTAFF LIMITED.

(in Administration)
Notice is hardly given that a meeting of creditions of the above company is to be need at Touche Rose & Co., Friary Court. 68 Cruiched Friary, London. ECSN. Stay on 10 July 1992 at 10.30 hours to consider the proposals of the joint administrators. Under 5.25(1) of the Insolvency Act. 1996 and to consider equipilibrium and the control of the source of the sou ing to: David Llewelyn Morgan and Nicholas Roger Livie P C Box 810. Friany Court.

66 Crutched Friam-London ECSN SNP. LONGON ECON SAP.

COMPANIES ACT 1888
COMPANIES ACT 1888
COMPANIES
GOMESWELL LEGITED
GOMESWELL LEGITED
MOTHER TO THE CREDITIONS OF THE ABOVE COMPANY Takes notice that a meeting of tradicion pursuant to 8594 of the Companies Act 1985, in the above muter will be beid at the efficies of Price Waterhouse. No 1
London Bridge, London SE1 9QL on the 27th day of July 1992, at 11.30 am to receive with account of the Joint Liquidators acts and dealings, and the conduct of the winding up during the preceding year. winding up during the prevening year.

The joint liquidations give notices that the creditors of the above company must send death, it within the company of any cleaned equality, it will be company for any cleaned equality, and the company for the by 24 July 1992, which is the last the for provides claims. A creditor who does not make a clean by the dake massioned will not be included in the distribution. distribution. Detect this 1st day of July 1992 C G Bird. Johnt Liquidator On Members' Voluntary

You can hire a Martinen Plane this summer from as little as £20 per month, ... and still have an option to buy later. MARKSON PIANOS Established 1910 071 935 8682 (NW1) 081 854 4517 (SE18) 071 381 4132 (SW6)

Expertly scripted.
Details calk 0031-875793 or write-Bax no. $172 Dept. 2. The Times, Virginia St.,

FLATSHARE

ABSOLUTELY ALL CLAPHAM SOUTH No Tube Prof N/S, Dbi rm in species fast 660pw 071 283 7620 PHANTOM, SAIGON, SIMPLY RED, GENESIS BRUCE SPRINGSTEEN, MICHAEL JACKSON, MICHAEL JACKSON, CRICKET, ALL THE-ATIRE, POP & SPORT, FLATMATES Landon's forested (Set 1970) Professional fine abering service, 071-569 8491 CILHAM 3nd prof male/ female to there tummy house. Own poots, conservatory & garden. N/S 2320pcm tec. 0483 282112 (0) 077 781 2097 (even)

071 828 6837 ALL TICKETS BRUCE SPRINGSTEEN ENG V PAKISTAN 6 Red. Michael Jackson Nell Diamond. Genesia Grand Prize Balt Fine intom, Balgoo & Joseph All Tickets Obtained. 071 323 4480

TICKETS FOR SALE When responding to nucles, renders are advised to establish the face value and full details into any commitment.

WANTED

FOR SALE.

ALI, MASONIC Articles, R. Jeweis, Watches, Rook Wanted, 071 229 9618

WEDDING MORNING SUITS DINNER SUITS EVENING TAIL SUITS SURPLUS TO HERE BARGAINS FROM SEC Lignaria Have Dispertment 22 Charins Cross Rd London WC2 No Leicester S4 Tobs. 071 240 2310

MATTHDATE Newspaper, One hal. Score president Open 7 days a week. Freehedd 0800 181805 WWF. Dismond F Row. Phan tom, Miss Seigon, Joseph Springuisco, 071, 497 1407. ALL TICKETS Planton, Saigon, Les Ms. Cats. Springshen, Stre-phy Red. Jackson, N Diamond, 80 sports, 071 480 6183. All Tickets, Brace Springsten, M Jackson, Phintom delly, Les Mis, Me Saigen, Cats, Pop. Tel: 071 706 0365 or 0366

AMERICAN WRESTLONG, 8 Springsteen, Tel, 071 247 7566 or 0268 645723 eves: CITY TICKET SHOKERS Tickes bought/sold. Theatre, sport & concerts. 071 621 9863 (City). GRAND PROX Physics, Saleon, Cricket, All other sold out events, 071 339 536%. MERILEY Pastival. 2 Streets only for the Grandetand and Cafe Royal with car pass for Wednesday July 8th. Offers. Tel; 0482 25057 2234. THE TIMES - 1791-1990 other Riles available. Ready for Ev-sociation - also " Bundays". £17.50. Remember When. 061-TICKETS PROMES + Lest night.
Phanton, Seigen. All theatra.
sport, cricket, rugby. S/Red Springsteen, Jackson, all top.
We Buy/sell. C71 457 2658 OIL 448 1166 E150500
AT Montage Se W? Lick specious furn flat Prestige block, quiet sq. 2 rece, 2 beds. All mod come. £75500. O71 886 1519
CHALLEST ST NWS Newdy mure 2 but flat in exc location. rec, bath, If lit 4 ept 5225500 rec, bath, If lit 4 ept 5225500 rec, bath, Office 526500 rec, bath, Office 526500 rec, bath, Office 5225000 rec, bath, Office 522500 rec, bath, Office 5

DIARY OF

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS

HOW'S THAT FOR SERVICE

IANO SALE, Exceptional reduc-tions on our estimative range of sew S/r and Digital Planos Free calaioque. The Planos Workshop, 30A Highgala Rd. NWS, 071 287 7671

Daniel Brace CUT Above the rest Flattino Londons No. 1 agency, call & friendly service, 071 287 3348

O/1 dog 1/35 at dem BROOK GREEN. Spart let. Prof pars, studio + hallym in charm-ing bas. £50gw. 071 573 4165. CLAPHAMI prof ! to sture les gds. fist. or tabe. £70gw. 081 673 3862 h. 081 745 1111 day

CC Hotline. 071 828 0084 mearby. 4250 perc. Pho

MOTTENS HELL W2. P o/r in http: mens house. £30 per week excl. Viewing & July 60m gowerts. Tel: 071 221 1854. REVERSEDE to his his City 5 : Inha. Own he vin en-sulfa, all .cod com. Ellipse incl. Fun household. Tel:071-987 0205

S. King SW7. For Fem Orad, was Suprimer O/R into k and b gdos, tempts E97tms O71. 589 4750 Tuplest Booles in Univ hall. Loadon SW17 now- 5th Sep. Only E45pw ISA OS1 672 6617 SUPEREY DOCKS Prof F N/S Shre3 bad hee W/ 1M, All mod come. To 10 mass. £276 pcm plus bills. 071 493 1239 (day). SW & Best been and drawing room for girl, in See house. E-82Spcss, Tel: 071 736 1002. WE, Mair, 4 dbl bats, 3 merble butts, while f/f kit Suit 4 profe 8400sw Perkeys 071, 724 4486

RENTALS .

Javourite Poems

ECHESTRATION (West) Large summy room in 4th Soor main-tion fast. Available non-consistent, All conventions. CCA W/M., 7/D., power summer of the convention of the convention of the convention. Desired Press (Exp. Book summer of the convention of #16 obt rot in shared flat, son grof P N/B. All mod cons. Close to Bp. CRy 12 mass. £280 pcts ext. OST 800 6892 (actylime).

A.Se.A. INTERNATIONAL Les-ury finis for long, short or holi-day lets, Mayfair, Marbie Arch and Hyde Park, U71 724 4844 ACCOMMISSIATION Urgently red for City Institutions. Call no with your properties to leal Sabestian Disease 071 581 4998 ACTIVE Enquires from corpo-rate evecs for qualitic fund tunium props to South Ken & Chelses £250-£2,000pvr Ruck & Ruck 071 581 1741 ALLEM BATES & CO have a selection of furnished (sax.) bedroton unwerter in Coulrel London area. Available for left of 2 west, plus. Prop. 8250greptm. OTL-856 6666. ARE YOU visiting London? Central Elizies have runnerous flats and houses available from £200 per, 071-491-3609.

ARTISTS Studio home NWS.
Unique spectrus excipated 2 did
jud. 2 beth/shower, int des 6 ford. by rec. grand plants, int gertes £400pw 071 222 2461 ASK THE LONG/SHORT LET SPECIALISTS, We have the largest eduction of delax flats & houses, Mayher. Chightthridge, Marble Arch, all his designed. Please call us 1st Commandal Properties 071 727 3060

A Stumping des character has, etc. new dec. 4 bedring, 2 ejegent, rec. sai to icit, 2 bedre (1 an sec) delightrul gen, 10 mins walk, tube £600pw 061 883 3674 AT Hampstond Heath New furn & dec fiel. Super location. 3 bedring, 2 belts, cole rec. com kit £325 081, 444 6663. T Highgate Delight flat, marva-jour views, 2 dble bedirm, good rsc, new kit, spa. pdns. cae the DEL 444 1166 £150pw

SEE house sit to Wanted SHRPHIRDE BUSH 1 hvtn hed. farm (set, quiet area, CSI, 2890 pcm Tai; c264 781896. SLOAME SQ. Bright newly dec Sta froot fast, 2 date beds, recep. Kt & DBJ, IRI, CSI, Closs amost-ites $230pw 071 884 8801 (

TO PLACE YOUR-CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENT

PLEASE TELEPHONE THE NUMBER LISTED BELOW BETWEEN 9AM AND 6PM. MONDAY TO FRIDAY (LATE EVENING 7.30pm ON THURSDAYS), 9.30AM AND 12.30PM ON SATURDAYS.

PRIVATE ADVERTISERS PRIVATE ADVERTISERS AND BIRTHS, MARRIAGES & DEATHS

071 481 4000 TRADE ADVERTISERS

071 481 4481 PROPERTY .. APPOINTMENTS . BUSINESS TO BUSINESS .. 071 481 1982 PUBLIC APPOINTMENTS 071 481 1066 EDUCATION APPOINTMENTS _ 071 481 1066 INTERNATIONAL _ 071 481 3024 071 481 4422 071 481 1989 MOTORS TRAVEL 071 481 1920 U.K. HOLIDAYS 071 488 3698 PERSONAL ALTERNATIVELY FAX YOUR ADVERTISEMENT TO

071 782 7827 071 782 7828 071 481 9313 071 782 7826 COURT AND SOCIAL ADVERTISING FAX 071 481 9313 TELEPHONE 071 782 7347 (ADVERTISEMENTS ACCEPTED ONLY IN WRITING

AT LEAST 48 HOURS PRIOR TO PUBLICATION)

TIMES PAST..

SURREY.—To be LET on LEASE, situate at the entrance of Upper STroting, five tales and a half from the three bridges, a very convenient FAMILY HOURS, with coach-house, stabling, mitable offices, a peach boxes, grapery, good walled garden, well stocked with fruit trees, small from yerd, and a professor's cottage, paddock of

An advertisement taken from The Times Personal Column Thursday June 22nd, 1815. If you would like to advertise or make your own announcement, contact our classified advertising sales department. TELEPHONE 071 481 4000

GENERAL OVERSEAS

OW Farm Worldwide - USA, N/S America. Australia. Far East, Africa. Airtine April Agi Trayvalt, 35 East Caste Street W1. 071 580 2928 (Vise Accept

ARAHE, Dep: 20/7 Rtn 1/9, illenguve Depc 24/7 Rtn: 8/7 lingled seets available . Call Crustan Travel 081 868 6468. Abta 83836. Accum/Viae.

DUE to recention 100s of uns

rise Tvi: 071-495 3673. ABTA

CANADA SPECIALIST. USA Burope, Caribbean, S.America 071-434 4564, IATA.

DOSTCUTTERS on flights 4 hole to Europe, USA & most destina-tions. Displant Travel Service Lid: 071-730 2201, ASTA 25703 IATA/ATOL 1385.

ANTIQUES AND COLLECTING

SELLING ANTIQUES?

RENTALS RAPCHICAN Untroducted Apertments for real. Regist from source: CB.000 pa which includes all services and background heating Deptime Call 071 628 4848 or 071 628 4872. SLOAME SQ, Loe newly dec. I did had fint, F/F kit. All ma-chines. £260pw 071 366 8947 EW17, 3 (his bed hee Odn F/r new dec Close tube & St Georges Hosp Marry extres Suit sharers £180pw 081 673 4066 CHELSEA Stoum Ave Mana, Summy secure studio, porus, Mr. 6135 pw. 671 889 6713 SWI Furn flat o/l Sq. Law rec. 2 bed K & B. CH CHW Long/ short let $22556W 071 SSS 7462

CHELSEA SW3 Lovely House & Carden Bargein ESSONW 071 381 6732 Cavin Cowper & Co TO Let in SW1. Small unitur-nated distr available for busi-ness propie. I recopion room. I bedroom. bathroom & head: lotchest. Related inclusive of all gervior Charges, cassishai how water & central heading From £350 pen 071 798 8788 (office hours). Pieses, to apents. NOCL person parties E275pw Burges 071 561 5186 CHILBEA - 2 mets. 30% mets-30m. 2 mets. permice £350pm Rungam 071 081 5136 CHELSEA - Superantial Inc. 4 bed. 2 rec. 2 bells, ope + pen &850pw Burgess 071 581 8136 TRAFALBAN SOLIARE is 5 mins walk from this excellent flat. Ditte hed, recep idliches to beth. Quiet location. 6250pm. Birch & Co 071 754 7432 DOCKLARDS but fint 3 being ff A east, swim pool, gynt, esume CH/HW incl. N/S £280 pW, bis 0925 261344 (room CSA) 99C1. Attractive large f/f studio. Suit 1-2. Nr tube. £140pw inci ch & elec. 081 958 7379 FULMAM Light and sper grad fir flat. 2 date rms. (se gin. all mod com. $200pw. G71 388 1049.) For SAPP (Management Ser-vices) Lid Require properties in central, south & west Loydon SITUATIONS WANTED

SERT, 30, V. Intelligent, wishes to make a break from dead and jobs anything considered. Tal: 0494 426981 (Christ Tet: 071-943 0964. HAMMERBEITH We Lovely 2 had maleonatin set in left, he recep. + beth £240pw neg F W Gepp 071 245 0964 HAMPSYEAD Large Segent spacious uniturn flat, 3 beds. 2 beths, beic reduced to £460pw. 2 bed £340pw 071 586 9842

COME & JOIN US HAMPETEAD Nawly dec 1 bed fiel (/turn & equipped, de tube £190pw Drury 071 579 4816 HEARY & JAMES Contact or now on 071-235 1861 for the past selection of furnished finis and booses to rent in Seigravia. Knightsbridge and Cheisse. HOLLAND PARK List I do bed garden fiel, specious races, furs, £1809w, 071 727 3129 rotorint & Adventures

HOUSE simen Yery O.K. Cersis-men between hother winds to home sit, Reb. available. Tel: 071,368,2161 CHEUNGTON / Heibard Park. Soport 5 hed his house with parage. Carden setting. Private rd. £625 pw 071 727 6228 detuce double bedroom serviced fints available non-contraught Props 071 727 3080 (CHICKLY SERIOGE Farmetic unturphised house, 4 bads. dile races, 1/f kit, sen dir rit. 2 cel-lars, petto, excl value 2625pw G71 225 0102 i MEAYFAIR, Payde Park, Londons finest holiony/ short lets. Claim Apts 071 936 9612 THE SLOAME SQUARE Brends fully installed 1 bed. 2 recep-tive in good portered block, 1-3 mans. £228pw. 071 386 5900.

MAKING

Please remember Parkinson's Disease Society.

Parkinson's Disease Society 22 Upper Woburn Place, London WC1H 0RA

I enclose a donation of £... Please send me your Will leather Name

Postcode Putrus, Hittl The Princess of Wales

Write your adversingment below (approximately 28 characters per line including spaces and practically.) Minimum 3 lines, £5,50 per line plus VAT, or £8,25 per line plus VAT for 2 weeks. NAME If you would like to take advantage of our dual reservior plan, and nave 25% plante tick box. No advertisement can be accepted under these speed terms us

ACCESS VISA AMEX 🔲 DINERS ANNOUNCEMENTS

ANNOUNCEMENTS

EST WE FORGET! ST LAURENCE CHILDREN'S HOSPICE

is dedicated to surrounding the dying children of Romania with love, prayer and Christian devotion. To enable us to continue and extend this vital work we need your prayers, your help and your ongoing support.

Please can you help? *I enclose a donation of: ANY OTHER AMOUNT £10 🗆 £50 🖸 £25 🖸 or. Please charge my Access/Visa Expiry Date er: for towerant forms/further information, please contact Rev Dr John Walmsky Romanian Children's Aid Address la Broadway Market, Signature REP. TSI

ANNOUNCEMENTS

MENTAL

ILLNESS

Help find a cure

warment of plants, and me

THE MENTAL HEALTH

THE TIMES

GUIDE TO

THE HOUSE

OF COMMONS

April 1992

in-depth analysis of the April 1992 General Election.

£25.00 Hardback

Available from all good booksellers or direct from HarperCollins Mail Order Department using the form below.

Bishopbriggs, Glasgow G64 2QT Please send me......copy les of

To: Mail Order, Dept 2L, HarperCollins Publishers, Westerhill Road,

The Times Guide to the House of Commons & £25.00 each. Free postage and packing.

TIMES BOOKS A Division of HarperCollinsPublishers

CONCISE CROSSWORD NO 2833

I enclose a cheque for £____ made payable to HarperCollins Publishers.

Please debit my Access/Visa (delete where necessary)

Credit Card No.

ACROSS

X Biographies of every candidate and photographs of every Member of Parliament.

DIALYSIS AND

TRANSPLANTATION

THEIR ONLY HOPE

Lite steving treatment is known, but uneversible through lack of funds and donor iddneys to thousands of British's kidney patients.

Please help us grant a repr for some of them this ye

Donations ICC

ANTIQUES AND COLLECTING SELF-CATERING PORTUGAL All arres villas, mits, hotels, Colf holidays, nousadas, manor houses, flights, car hirs, Canaries, Langmare Infl 665 2112, ABTA 73196,

BARCELONA ige set to let for Games adj sted. + M/centre. £3,500 Tel 010 343 4253185

ENSINGTON, Hampstond, Lux

furn apertments. Tel: 061 3094 Fast: 061-459 4422

TELEPHONE SWITZERLAND 0293 511125 Delly scheduled Digits 07: 336-4444 ABTA 90686/IATA TA 26886 __ATOL 215 GERMANY

CRUISE & SAIL ABROAD ERMAN TRAVEL CENTR Deliy echeduled flights 07: 836-4444 ABTA 90685/IATA LONDON

'BREST 1992" SAILING FESTIVAL Pinces available on clease 98 ft yacht... John 14 July at Brest for feetival cruits to UK via Channel Islands, Reham Weymouth 24 July. Prices: Waymouth 24 July 2585 Incl. food. Proceeds to 2585 Incl. food. Proceeds to 2585 Incl. food. Proceeds to 2585 Incl. food. Cirdan Trust 0621 851433

FLIGHTS

EURO

EXPRESS

NUMBER ONE TO

FRANCE & CORSICA

FLIGHTS FROM

£99 RETURN

ANNOUNCEMENTS

STARLIGHT FOUNDATION STARLIGHT "SINK OR SWIM" DOCKLANDS RAFT RACE SUNDAY 19TH JULY 1992 cray complete build and stoce a tall that automate? Entree cost £150 and right name care between 2-6 people.

Great points, celebritan, component responses and ton of feat, metacock to the Sunfight, Frontalisian this grains widnes to entire the section of the control of the Carine Pride Henry Morphy.

Sariela Foundation.
24 Hearnday Square, Lorder, WCIA 21.P. Tot 971-430-1642.

Men and women all over the world suffer from Parkinson's Disease, over 100,000 in this country alone. There is no known cure. Researchers need your help. Help us ease the burden and find the cure for Parkinson's Disease with a donation and remember us when making your Will.

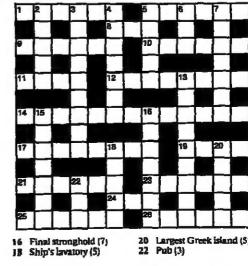

Tir. Parkinson's Discust Society, 22 Upper Wobsen Place, London WC111 ORA

TV glass (6) Splendid (6) Be in debt (3) 10 Make bare (6) 12 Referee's assistant (8) 14 Valjean novel (3,10) 17 Tightly closed (8) Best conditions (6) 16 Final stronghold [7]

ACROSS: 3 Orgy 5 Shop 8 Dinar 10 Islanders 11 In use 12 Nix 13 Te-ng 14 yielded 16 Prov-erb 18 Naval

20 Rot 22 Easel 23 Spinnaker 24 Inure 25 None 26 From DOWN: I Addict 2 Innuendo 3 Orientetring 4 Galaxy 5 Heel 7 Pushed 9 In the interim 15 Davis Cup 16 Prison 17 Broker 19 Lulled 21 Mich

In ius Friday's crosse due 2! Across should have read: 'Presty drinks herb' (6). We apologise for the er-

.... Expiry Date......

. Postcode.....

WINNING MOVE By Raymond Keene, Cheas Correspondent

This position is from the game Van der Sterren -Koelman, Holland 1992. an alternative to the simple 1 Kh1?

Solution below

Solution: white disdelined the passive ldng move and forced mate with 1 Oxd41 cxd4.2 RIT+ KNB 3 Nxg6+ Kg8

Our Personal Column focuses on a different theme for your

MONDAY

TUITION & COURSES

TUESDAY

HOBBIES & PASTIMES

WEDNESDAY

HOUSEHOLD CONTENTS

THURSDAY

FAMILY MATTERS

FRIDAY

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

SATURDAY SATURDAY SALES

PRESENT SURPRISE

LIVESTOCK

private advertising every day.

Condon El 3DD.

AYEWTAER Prof F to share lovely bright 2 to fit, start AUS 1st. Good step before # share of EE, begin, recept, All mod cont. 2 mins Lenc Gast a Production time + excel just routes. Walk to W End. 2500pcm es tolla. Twin G71 402 1736 aft Germ

NALHAM Rd. Prof st. 11/4, sbare ign Sac with Colo. Parking. No table in two. Great area. #250pcm inc. 071 736 5313.

CENSINGTON WE Well for-radied 1 bed GF flat. Bull conc-unive. £148pw to include all outgoings. 071 229 0396 KEMBINGTON Ocisiow Cab Beautiful India, 2 beds. recep. f/r kg. £280pw 071 228 0102 t CHECKT SHILDEE A selection of PRHILICO Space light ff, 2 bad Maig, if lat, d/w, sep laumdry, wm/dry, lips loones, close, wenty shower. Act Dobbten Smarre. 3 miss Tube. 1220 pw Tel: 071 680 6634 7-10pp PRALICO brieni 2 bed top fit flat fully furn CH 5 mins tube £200pw. 0273 557314 eres PUTSIEV BDRS Delighbrus 2 bed If that or tube Phy L/let £160pw 16th Townsend 061 677 0099/ 081 874 1366 after 1pts.

Long Hard Flights 071 938 3366 USA/Curope Flights071 937 8400 1st & Business Close 071 938 3444 Government Licensed/Bonded ATOL 14661ATA ABTA 69701 All Discounted Economy Club. F/Chen w/wide. Europe USA. For East, Australia Many more. Ealing Trevel. 08 579 9111. ABTA 77869/LATA Bonded. Access/Vas

*IT'S ALL AT

TRAILFINDERS *

Morn low cost flights via more

PLUS

Up to 60% discount on hotels and car hire *

The heat deals on the world's finest airlines *

42 - 50 Earle Court Road.

London, W8 6EJ

RARGAIN HOLS /Rights Cypres Creeke Spein Maile Merocco. Creekersme Tvi Lid. 071-734 2562 ABTA 32980 ATOL 1438 CANADA USA S Africa Au-tralia N.2. & Europe. Good dis-count (area. Longmero Inil. 081-686 1101. ABTA 73196

TIMES CLASSIFIED TELEPHONE 071 481 4000 FRIDAY MONDAY
EDUCATION: University Appointments, Prop & Public School Appointments, Educational Courses, Scholarships and Fedovships with editorial, LA CREME DE LA INTERNATIONAL APPOINTMENTS: O-0500 MOTORS:

> TUESDAY
> LEGAL APPOINTMENTS: Solichus,
> Commercial Lawyen, Legal Officers,
> Private & Public Practice with editorial,
> PUBLIC APPOINTMENTS.
> CREATIVE & MEDIA
> APPOINTMENTS: with editorial. WEDNESDAY
> LA CREME DE LA CREME: Secretaria > Appointments. PROPERTY: Residential > Town & Country, Overseas, Rentals
> COMMERCIAL PROPERTY: with THURSDAY

CREME: Secretarial Appointment

TUESDAY

SATURDAY RENDEZVOUS:
The place to expand your social circle.
PROPERTY:
Residential, Town & Country, Overses, I HURSDAT GENERAL APPOINTMENTS: Manage-ment, Engineering, Science & Technology, with editorial, ACCOUNTANCY & GARDENING SALEROOM: Ans and Antiques (monthly). SATURDAY REVIEW: FINANCE, LA CRÈME DE LA CRÈME: Secretai Appointment

BUSINESS TO BUSINESS

SATURDAY

WERKEND TIMES: SHOPAROUND:

The Complete Our Buyer's Guide, with

Shapping from the comfort of your and Send to: Sinus Goddard, Advertisement Manager, The Times, Times Newspaper Ltd, PO Box 484,

TELEPHONE 071 481 4000 FAX 071 481 9313 or 071 782 7828

Irregular (6) 24 Light touch (3) 25 Wimbledon game (6) 26 Easily crushed (6) DOWN 2 Harsh squeak (5) 3 Smuggler carcher (9) 4 Confound (7) 5 Chair carriage (5) 6 Dish (3) 7 Give off (7)
13 Junior army officer (9)
15 Overshadow (7) SOLUTION TO NO 2832

2

BBC1

6.00 Ceefax (81438) 6.30 BBC Breakfast News (50883438) 9.05 Kilroy on the Costa. For this week Robert Kilroy-Silk presents his discussion programme from Marbella This morning his mixed British and Spanish audience talks about the truth behind stories of Soanish cruelty to animals (7723761) 9.50 Holiday Outlings. Sue Cook reports on a good value holiday in China (r) (9372322)

10.00 News, regional news and weather (4575273) 10.05 Playdays (s) (8279490) 10.25 Bananaman (r) (4545032) 10.35 Showbiz People Tim Grundy talks to Michael Buerk, Billy Bragg and Screaming Lord Sutch (7546419)

11.00 News, regional news and weather (8258341) 11.05 The Flying Doctors (r), (Ceefax) (s) (7536709) 11.50 The Travel Show UK Mini Guides. Matlock, Derbyshire (r) (8268047) 12.00 News, regional news and weather (5592438) 12.05 Summer Scene. Today's guests include actor Brian Blessed (8347254) 12.55

egional News and weather (70347167) 1.00 One O'Clock News. (Ceefax) Weather (37544) 1.30 Neighbours. (Ceefax) (s) (19446070) 1.50 Ever Thought of

1.30 Neighbours. (Ceetax) (5) (19440070) 1.50 Ever Indugric or Sport? The first of a new series designed for those thinking of taking up a new pastime. Today — climbing (99083457)
2.20 Over My Dead Body. A feature-length introduction to an American murder mystery series starring Edward Woodward as a retired Scotland Yard inspector-turned-crime novelist and Jessica Lundy as a young newspaper obituary writer (r) (5) (5994438) 3.45 The Flintstones (r) (6990186) 4.10 Gravedale High. Spoot horror cartoon (r) (2061457) 4.35 Patrik Pacard. Episode 11 of the 12part children's drama serial. (Ceefax) (5114341) 5.00 Newsround (9941490) 5.10 Blue Peter in Japan. A report on last summer's expedition. (Ceefax) (8449051)

5.35 Neighbours (r). (Ceefax) (s) (674148). Northern Ireland. Inside

6.00 Six O'Clock News with Peter Sissons and Moira Stuart. (Ceefax) 6.30 Regional News Magazines (167). Northern Ireland: Neighbours

Bunny's girl: Roger Walker with Kathy Pitkin (7.00pm)

7.00 Eldorado

● CHOICE: Out goes Wogan, in comes a thrice-weekly soap set among the British expatriates of the Costa Brava. Eldorado was created by Tony Holland and Julia Smith, the team responsible for EastEnders Their new show has the same crisp pace, easily remembered characters and ability to juggle half a dozen plots. There the similarity ends. One is grit and the other glitz. If EastEnders is half an hour of dreary people shouting at each other, Eldorado is about sun, sea, sand and a surprising amount of sex for an early evening slot. Storylines running through the early episodes include middle-aged Bunny's unpromising marriage to an empty-headed girl of 17, middle-aged Trish's infatuation with an odious German toyboy and Marcus, the show's Mr Nasty, trying to dodge the fraud squad and a fictional Roger Cook. (Ceefax) (s) (8983)
7.30 Film: Crocodile Dundee (1986). Paul Hogan lends his charm and one-liners to this undemanding hit comedy, as a macho crocodile poacher who takes a New York reporter on a tour of the outback and then takes the "Big Apple" by storm when his generosity is reciprocated. Directed by Peter Faiman. (Ceefax) (s) (22070) 9.00 Nine O'Clock News with Martyn Lewis. (Ceefax) Regional news and weather (3032) 9.30 Panorama. As Chris Patten prepares to take up his position as Britam's last governor of Hong Kong, David Walter investigates whether Patten can save the island's way of life from the regime in 10.10 International Dancing The first of four visits this week to the Pioneer UK dance championships in Bournemouth (s) (782051) 10.50 Cagney and Lacey. The New York cops are joined by an actress who is to play a television policewoman and wants an inside look at how they work (r). (Ceefax) (214235). Northern Ireland: Greenfingers 11.20 Cagney and Lacey

11.40 Cricket. Highlights of the fourth day's play in the third Test between England and Pakistan at Old Trafford (s) (571902) 12.10am Weather (9201200). Northern Ireland: (to 12.40) Cricket

SATELLITE

 Via the Astra and Marcopolo satellite 6-00am The DJ Fat Show (92797186) 8.40 hirs Papperpot (8455273) 8.55 Playabout (7286335) 9.10 Cartoons (1104438) 9.30 The Pyramid Game (52457) 10.00 Let's Mail e a Deal (37070) 10.30 The Bold and the

SKY ONE

BBC2

5.45 Open University: The Noble Savage (7798631). Ends at 7.10 8.00 Breakfast News (9581506) 8.15 Westminster. A round-up of business from both Houses

8.30 Under Sail. A profile of Lough Erne yacht dub, one of Northern Ireland's oldest (r) (2912631) 8.50 A Week to Remember. Pathé

News clips from July 1952 (5131029)

9.00 Grand Prix. Highlights of yesterday's French grand prix (8574983)

9.35 Film: Tarzan and the She-Devil (1953, b/w). A routine tale for jungle hero Lex Barker, battling against thieving hunters led by Lyra the ivory queen. With Joyce MacKenzie, Monique Van Vooren and Raymond Burr. Directed by Furt Neumann (9590631)

10.50 Cricket. Tony Lewis introduces five coverage of the opening session of the fourth day's play in the third Test between England and Pakistan at Old Trafford (s) (46608231)
 1.15 The Travel Show Traveller. John Thirwell samples the Belgian resort of Knokke (r) (55724544)

 1.20 Greenclaws. For the very young (r) (23525167)
 1.35 Cricket. Live coverage of both the afternoon sessions of the fourth day's play in the third Test (s). Includes News and weather at 2.00, 3.00 and 3.50 (98267728)

6.30 Film: Where the River Bends (1952) starring James Stewart, Arthur Kennedy and Rock Hudson. Crisp, existing western with Stewart as an outlaw-turned-scout guiding a wagon train on a journey to Oregon who has his loyalties tested when he meets a former gang member. Directed by Anthony Mann (68099)

Travelling hopefully: physicist Dr David Deutsch (8.00pm)

8.00 Antenna: Time Travel — the Next Frontier.

● CHOICE: A senes of "personal and provocative" science gets a stimulating send-off from Dr David Deutsch, physicist at Oxford University. He claims that time travel need no longer be confined to the fiction of H.G. Wells and Dr Who's tardis but is theoretically possible. Our present view of time, he argues, is captured in the two great theories of modern physics, Einstein's general relativity and quantum mechanics. By linking the two the obstacles to time travel are eliminated. Deutsch is unabashed by Dr Stephen Hawking's recent law of physics which makes time trave impossible and he also has an answer to the "grandfathe paradox". This is the argument that if you were able to go back in ome and meet your grandfather as a child, you could shoot him dead and prevent him fathering your father. (Teletext) (5273) 8,30 Film: Aloha Summer (1988) starning Chris Makepeace and Yuji

Okumoto. Sun, sea and surf drama set in Hawaii in 1959 about a teenager coming to terms with adulthood and a multiracial society. Directed by Tommy Lee Wallace. (Ceefax) (17148)

10.00 The Real McCoy. A new series of the showcase for the brightest and furniest on the black comedy scene. Among those appearing are Curtis Walker, Ishmael Thomas and Collette Johnson (s) 10.30 Newsnight with Sue Cameron (128099)

11.15 Siskel and Ebert. The first of a new series in which two American film entics, Gene Siskel and Roger Ebert, review films that will soon be seen in Britain. These include Alien III, Far and Away and Sister Act. They also report on this year's Cannes Film Festival (746885) 11.45 Building Sights. Tessa Blackstone enthuses over the Michelin building in London (r) (468380) 11.55 Weather (960032) 12.00 Open University: History — Photography as Witness (32179). Ends at 12.30am

2.00 BBC Select: The Way Ahead (76649), Ends at 3.00

VideoPlus+ and the Video PlusCodes
The numbers now appearing next to each TV programme listing are Video PlusCodeTM numbers, which allow you to programme your video recorder instantly with a VideoPlus+ TM handset VideoPlus+ can be used with most videos Tap in the Video PlusCode for the programme you wish to record. For more details call VideoPlus on 0839-121204 Icalls charged at 48p per minute peak, 36p off-beak) or write to VideoPlus+, VTM Ltd, 77 Fulham Palace Road, London Wei Bl.A. Videoplus+ (TM), Pluscode (TM) and Video Programmer are trademarks of Gernstar Marketing Ltd.

Olympic Trials Review (49411) 9.00 Morning

Stretch (17303) 9.30 Red Line (66761) 10.30 Gildete World Sports Special (95032) 11.00 Motorworld (58438) 11.30 Morning Stretch (59167) 12.00 Torque (40070) 1.00pm Chiclet: Hampshire v Nottinghamshire (26490) 2.00 Indy Car Grand Ph. (96186) 4.00 Shooler (4964) 6.00 Super Trax (46254) 7.00 WWF Wiesling (91631) 8.00 WRF Body Sjars (1877) 8.30 Glory Days (71457) 10.30 Ringside Thearre (23273) 11.30 Musde Neght (93457) 12.30em Fishing the West (50281)

Wis the Astra satellite

8.00am Cycling Tour de France (36099)

9.00 8a9 etball (597032) 12.00 Motorsport

143339 1.00pm Motor Cycling (51186)

2.00 Cycling Tour de France (81254) 4.00

Motor Racing French Grand Fre (3032) 6.00

Cycling Tour de France (31322) 7.00 80 ong

193099 8.00 Eurolun Idagazme (9273) 8.30

Eurosport News (8780) 8.00 Tenns Swiss

Open (64099) 10.30 Cycling Tour de France

(18341) 11.30 Eurosport News (60322)

O Via the Astra smellita
7.00am Eurobic: (16099) 7.30 Volleyball
(15998) 8.30 Watersh (75362) 9.30
Powersports (97631) 10.30 Eurobics
(25902) 11.00 Volleyball (99934) 12.00
Dragster Racing (48612) 1.00pm Go — Morostport (24052) 2.00 Eurobics (2989)
2.30 Snool er (58506) 4.30 World Sports
(9148) 5.00 Earcelona (1992) Preview (5070)
6.00 Radsport (92 — Cyding (92)34 (16.30)
Powerboat Racing (88186) 7.30 Indy World Series (56186) 8.30 Dunlop Bover (51)
Championship (1254) 9.00 Powersports
(95457) 10.00 Volvo PGA European Tour
(98544) 11.00-1.00am Athlebic (69490)

Ovia the Astra satellite
10.00am Getong Fit with Denuse Austin
(62780) 10.30 Great American Gameshows
(9873612) 10.55 Search For Tomorrow
(9831631) 11.25 Joan Pivers (3380730)
12.10pm Seily Jests Raphael (7969070) 1.00
Lindbox (99998) 1.30 Sell-a-vision (53554)
2.00 Rafferty 5 Rules (70709) 3.00 Cyril Fletcher's Eulestyle Garden (6186) 3.30 Tea
Break (4941167) 3.40 Phyllis (3759419) 4.10
Dick Van Divle (6730526) 4.40 American Gameshovys (9704070) 6.00 Sally Jessy
Raphael (339964) 7.00 Sell-a-Vision (330032)
10.00 Juliebox Music Videos (8963070)
2.00am Last (ulebor Dance (67939)

Via the Astra satellite Twenty-four hour news bulletins

EUROSPORT

SCREENSPORT

LIFESTYLE

ITV

6.00 TV-am (3927983) 9.25 Your Number Please. Phone-in quiz with cash prizes. Presented by Neil Buchanan (s) (1646631) 9.55 Thames News (6772964) 10.00 Out of this World. American comedy series about a teenage girl who inherits her alien father's extra-terrestrial powers (r) (s)

(6782341) 10.25 Wowser. Cartoon adventures of a shaggy dog (6792728) 10.55 News headlines (2133032) 1.00 Ox Tales. Two animated adventures for Ollie the Ox (2150709)

11.25 Just for the Record. Another collection of astonishing feats (r) (9362051) 11.50 Thames News (5887254) 11.55 Cartoon Time (r) (7618308) 12.10 Rosie and Jim. Children's puppet series 12.30 Lunchtime News with Nicholas Owen and Sonia Ruseler. (Oracle)

Weather (3160728) 1.05 Thames News (55722186)
1.10 Home and Away. Australian family drama serial (Oracle) (1036490) 1.45 A Country Practice. Medical drama serial set in an

Australian outback town (s) (890148)
2.15 Thames Help. What the capital has to offer the sports enthusiast (815457) 2.45 Families. Soap linking the north of England with Australia (4144902)

3.10 ITN News headlines (4376815) 3.15 Thames News headlines (4375186) 3.20 The Young Doctors. Drama serial set in a large Australian city hospital (7752322) 3.50 Cartoon Time (6424273) 3.55 Scooby Doo (r) (6883438) 4.15

Wysiwyg. Comedy series about intergalactic television with an alien reporter, presented by Tommy Klub (787235) 4.45 Chip 'n' Dale — Rescue Rangers (5105693) 5.10 Blockbusters. General knowledge quiz for teenagers, presented by Bob Holness (5863542)

5.40 Early Evening News with John Suchet. (Oracle) Weather

5.55 Thames Help (r) (599186) 6.00 Home and Away (r). (Oracle) (983)

7.00 Coronation Street. An hour-long special, designed to "spoil" the BBC's new soap, Eldorado. (Oracle) (6877)

Rejuctant fathers: Guttenberg, Selleck and Danson (8,00pm)

8.00 Film: Three Men and a Baby (1987) starring Tom Selleck, Ted Danson and Steve Guttenberg. Funny, likeable but over-extended hit cornedy about three successful bachelors who find themselves with an unwanted baby and an unclaimed package of heroin. They get rid of the drug but become addicted to the baby, the cue for jokes about giving feeds and changing nappies. Remade from an award-winning French comedy and directed by Leonard Nimoy of Star Trek. (Orade) (s) (9341)

10.00 News at Ten with Alistair Stewart and Trevor McDonald. (Oracle) Weather (28235) 10.30 Thames News (781167) 10.40 Film: One Police Plaza (1986) starring Robert Conrad, George

Dzundza and James Olson. Standard made-for-television police drama about a veteran New York lieutenant investigating a murde who goes against authority to fight a cover-up. Directed by Jerry Jameson (91861524) 12,30am Entertainment UK. A guide to the country's leisure activities

1.30 Sport AM. Highlights of the Monte Carlo open golf (34736)
2.30 Film: Night Partners (1983) starring Diana Canova and Yvette Mimieux. Two California housewives, appalled by local crime and the lack of sympathy for the victims, become vigilantes. A below par TV movie, directed by Noel Nosseck (33007) 4.30 Jazz at the Maintenance Shop. With American guitarist/fiddler

David Bromberg (64465) 5.30 ITN Morning News with Phil Roman (95804). Ends at 6.00 CHANNEL 4

i.00 The Channel Four Daily (3925525) 9.25 Elly and Jooks Cornedy series about a schoolboy with a ghost for a & friend (r) (1644273)

9.55 The Handerson Klds. Australian family drama serial (r) (9230362) 10.25 Film: Conflict of Wings (1954) starting John Gregson and Munel Pavlow. Gentle bucok: comedy about a group of Norfolk villagers trying to prevent the RAF from turning the local bird sanctuary into a firing range. Directed by John Eldridge (88169099)

12.00 American Power: Familiar Enemies. Continuing his trenchant series, American journalist Lewis Lapham charts the erratic course of Soviet/United States relations from when the Bolsheviks seized power (r) (56505)

1.00 Sesame Street. Children's early learning series (r) (65254)
2.00 Film: The Adventures of Tartu (1943, b/w) starring Robert Donat and Valerie Hobson. Creaky second world war spy thriller about a British officer who is sent to Nazi-held Czechoslovakia to sabotage a poison gas factory. Directed by Harold S. Bucquet (23252S)

3.55 The Lion and the Mouse Animation (6421186)

4.00 Garden Club. The last programme of the series comes from Leicester (r).(Teletext) (148) 4.30 Countdown. Richard Whiteley introduces another round of the words and numbers game (s) (772)

5.00 Road to Avonlea Episode seven of the children's drama serial based on the novels by Lucy Maud Montgomery, author of Anne of Green Gables (7344)

In pursuit of a hit and run driver: Stephen McGann (6.00pm)

6.00 Streetwise. The second of a 13-part drama about bike couriers based in London. Starting Stephen McGann (r) (Teletext) (525) 6.30 Tour de France The second stage: San Sebastian to Pau, a distance of 230km (877) 7.00 Channel 4 News with Jon Snow and Zeinab Badawi. (Teletext) Weather (296761)

7.50 Comment (488186) 8.00 Brookside, Soap set in suburban Merseyside (Teletext) (s) (2411; 8.30 Evening Shade, Folksy American cornedy series starring Burt Reynolds as a former professional footballer now coaching the local high school team (s) (6148)

eret History: Birds of Death. CHOICE: George Case's eye-opening film charts a little known and not very reputable episode from the early history of the Royal Air Force. During the 1920s and 1930s the British government had great difficulty keeping some of its colonial subjects in order and thought it would be cheap and effective to use the RAF to attack them from the air with bombs and machine guns. The policy was launched in Iraq, then a British mandate, where the rebels were the very same Kurds who have more recently been on the sharp end of Saddam Hussein. A wing commander recalls: "If the Kurds had not learned from our example to behave in a civilised way, then we had to spank their bottoms." The raids were praised by another young airman, the future "Bomber" Harrs, but appalled the scheme's original architect, Winston Churchill. (Teletext) (6631)

10.00 Northern Exposure. Off-best comedy about a New York doctor practising in a remote Alaskan town with a population of eccentrics

10.55 The Dazzling Image. Fay Weldon kntroduces two films by new directors — Coping With Cupid, by Viv Albertine, and The Citadel by Cordelia Swann (9503525)

12.05am Talking Liberties. Toright's quest is Helene Cixous, an English literature professor based in Paris (4794736)

12.50 Troublefunk: Live in Japan. A concert recorded at the Sun Plaza,

Tokyo, in 1988 (s) (6832587). Ends at 1.50

CENTRAL CENTRAL

As London except: 1.00am-10.25 Adventures on Kythera (6782341) 1.15 A Country
Practice (891877) 1.45 Home and Away
(890148) 2.15 Right or Wrong (815457)
245-3.10 The Young Doctors (4144902)
3.26-3.50 Families (7752322) 8.25 Central Netra (845877) 6.55-7.00 Telethon Count-

4. Simon Preston; English

GRANADA
As London except: 10.00am-10.25 Advertures on Kythera (6782341) 1.45-3.10 Firm Maise (2475544) 3.20-3.50 Sons and Daughters (7752322) 5.10-5.40 Home and Away (5863542) 6.30 Families (983) 6.30-7.00 Granada Tonight (235) 12.00 Wrestling (2353991) 1.10 Hollywood Report 14205216) 1.40 Firm He is My Brother (787755) 3.20 Amenica's Top Ten (74280769) 3.50 The Story of Steam (2145939) 4.30-5.30 The Hit Man and Her (64465)

HTV WEST As London except: 18.00em-18.25 Advantures on Kythera (6782341) 1.45 The Young Doctors (890148) 2.15-2.45 Gardening Time (815457) 3.20-3.50 A Country Practice (7752322) 5.10-5.40 Horse and Away (5863542) 6.00 HTV News (626693) 6.35-7.00 What's On (560709)

HTV WALES As HTV West except: 6.00 Wales at So. 6.30-7.00 Primetime

Wresting (23-391) 1,100 Pilm: He is My Brother (782755) 3.20 America's Top Tes (74280769) 3.50 The Story of Steem (2145939) 4.30-5.30 The Hit Man and Her (54465) TVS

5.30-7 00 Wild about the West (235) 12.30

As London except: 2.15pm-2.45 Coast to Coast People (815457) 5.10-5.40 Home and Away (5863542) 6.00 Coast to Coast (963) 6.30-7.00 Country Ways (235)

TYNE TEES

As London except: 10.00em-10.25 Advenues on Kythera (6782341) 5.10-5.40 Home and Away (5863542) 6.00 Northern Life (583) 6.30-7.00. Blockbusters (235) 12.30 Wresting (2353991) 1.10 Hollywood (4205216) 1.40. Film: He is My Brother (787755) 3.20 America's Top Ten (74280769) 3.50 The Story of Steam

YORKSHIRE TORKSHIRE
As London except: 10.00am-10.25 Heisi in the Mountains (6782341) 1.45-2.45 BisIsland (8339070) 3.20-3.50 House Style (7752322) 5.10-5.40 Home and Away
(5863542) 6.00 Calendar (983) 6.30-7.00
Local Hero (235) 10.40 Pilm: One Police Pleza (28742631) 12.25 Film: Boulevard of Assassins (450858) 2.25 Trans World Sport
(5527587) 3.25 The Concert (7673113)
4.25-5.30 Jobhnder (8131194)

(s) Stereo on RM 5.55am Shipping Forecast 6.00 News Briefing, Ind 6.03

iam Shipping Forecast 6.00
News Briefing, Ind 6.03
Weather 6.10 Farmling Foday
6.25 Prayer for the Day 6.30
Today, Ind 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30 News 6.55, 7.55
Weather 6.45 Business News
7.25, 8.25 Sports News 7.45
Thought for the Day 8.35 The Week on 4 8.43 Squawkers, Spotties and Wrinkless
Spotties Comediance (%)
Hollerbach on teenage angst
(s) 8.58 Weather
News

9.00 News
9.05 Start the Week, with Mékyn Bragg and Mark Lawson. The guests are Barry Norman, Julia Smith, Nigel Williams and Rachel Billington (s)
10.00-10.30 News; Wordly Wise (FM only): A romp-timough
the English language
10.08 Daily Service (LW only) from St George's Church, Beifast
10.15 The Bible (LW only): Romans.
Fifth of six parts
10.30 Woman's Hour: Jenni Murray, at the Royal Show in Stoneleigh, celebrates the joys of country living. Incl 11.00
News

11.30 Money Box Live: 071-580 4444. Last in the present series with Vincent Duggleby 12.00 You and Yours, with John

Howard 12.25pm Brain of Britain 1992

Robert Robinson chains the nationwide general knowledge contest (s) 12.55 Weather 1.00 The World at One, with

James Naughtie 1.40 The Archers (r) 1.55 Shipping

Starts: 6.00am C4 Daily (3925525) 9.25 Fily and Jools: (1620693) 9.50 Film King of Alcatra: (8261821) 10.50 Away For the Day (7415254) 11.10 Please Hammer Don't Hum Em (7533612) 12.00 Views of Kew (25148) 12.30 News (79312761) 12.35 Siot Medition 7341273 of the Complete (792141 8) 12.30 News (79312761) 12.35 Slot Methins (7141273) 1.00 Countdown (20254) 1.30 Pushing the Limis (99270) 2.00 Film The Adventures of Tartu (232525) 3.55 The Lion and the Mouse (6421185) 4.00 The Garden Citib (1484 4.30 Biscoom (772) 5.00 i Love Lucy (7344) 6.00 Brookside (525) 6.30 Tour de France (877) 6.30 Best of the Word (877) 7.05 News (593322) 7.15 Heno (306612) 8.00 Rogby (2411) 8.30 News (169709) 8.55 Y Byd Ar Bedwar (8227438) 8.30 Cheers (57235) 18.00 Northern Exposure (328677) 10.55 Secret History (960902) 11.55 Empty Nest (560896) 12.25-1.20 The Bridge (6172378)

RADIO 4

RTE 7
Starts: 1.35pm News (82701877) 1.40
Science Fiction (35153308) 2.05 The Love
Boat (61197631) 3.10 The Infinite Voyage
(9237815) 4.10 Emmerdale (63761693)
4.40 Young Ramsey (2655099) 5.30 A Country Practice (5977631) 6.00 The Angelus (3710371) 6.81 5x-One (5974544) 6.30
The Bronze Fish With the Golden Hoof
(5965896) 7.00 Filin: km (5428506) 9.00
News (3891070) 9.20 The Endless Game
(18317322) 12.00 News (4663129)

3.30 Writers Revealed: Rosemary Hartill talks to Allan Massie

4.00 News 4.05 Kaleidoscope reviews a new arniversary, previews the Radio 3 play, Moscow Stations; and talks to Pops Staples (s) 4.45 Short Story: Realpolitik, by Angus Wilson. Read by Steve Hodson

5.00 PM 5.50 Shipping Forecast

5.55 Weather
6.00 Six O'Clock News
6.30 The Board Game: Nigel
Cassidy chairs a new eightpart series of the guide.
Thinking quiz in which leading business figures battle it out for the covered prize of the key to the even for the covered prize of the key to the executive washroom. This week's panel comprises Peter Day, Alastair Ross Goobey and Nigel Whittaker (s) 7.00 News 7.05 The Archers

7.20 The Food Programme, with Derek Cooper (r)
7.45 The Monday Play: Going Under, A love story set in Staimst Russia, dramatised by Ken Whitmore from the novel by Lydia Chukovskaya.

by Lydia Chukovskaya Annette Crosbie plays a writer

V.

en edie who begins a dangerous relationship with tellow writer Graham Crowden while attempting to trace her missing husband (s).

9.00 An Englishman in the Midi:

School, A second series of talks by John P. Harris about production of Rossini's opera, Il viaggio a Reims, to celebrate the composer's 200th

Free for nature-lovers from the RSPB:

 The RSPB's birdtable – sturdily constructed of treated wood, the ideal way to attract birds to your Unlimited entry to the RSPB's 100+ nature reserves countrywide, saving up to £3 per person each visit. The RSPB's award-winning quarterly magazine Birds, around 100 glossy pages of stunning colour photography and news. Best of all, you'll be helping to secure a peaceful future for Britain's birds and wildlife - in the wild, where they belong.

1 _050 U13 242 5091.

SKY NEWS ♦ Via the Astra and Martopolo satellities News on the hour. 5.00am Summe (6381490) 9.30 Phone-in (52439) 10.00 Dayline (35612) 10.30 Beyond 2000 (46308) 11.30 Japan Business Today (3676490) 11.45 International Business Report (4005438) 12.30pm Good Morning America (46344) 1.30 Good (6844612) 4.30 Beyond 2000 (55549 5,00 Live at Five (76693) 6.30 Nevisitine (80693) 8.30 Beyond 2000 (15877) 10.30 Nevisitine (75525) 11.30 ABC Nevis (37877) 12.30am Maile a Deali 370701 10.30 The Bold and the Beaushful (65780) 11.00 The Young and the Restless (646121 12.00 St Bizeruhere (67490) 1.00pm E Street (75728) 1.30 Geraldo (96821) 2.30 Another World (3599490) 3.15 The Brady Bunch (457497) 3.45 The D) Kat Show (5462099) 5.00 Facts of Life (8761) 5.30 Offerent Strokes (3254) 6.00 Lore at First Sught (5167) 6.30 E Street (64197.00 Alt (8525) 7.30 Candid Camera (8631) 8.00 Condominum. Concluding the mini series starning Bathara Eden and Dan Haggery (48255) 10.00 Stude (57761) 10.30 Anything for Money (73703) 11.00 Hid Street Blues (52877) 12.00 Styted (75525) 11,30 ABC News (37877) 12,30am Nevdine (98705) 1.30 ABC News (70552) 2.30 Beyond 2000 (78755) 3.30 ABC Nevs (73200) 4.30 Beyond 2000 (87133) 5.30 Nevstine (57668)

SKY MOVIES+

Via the Astra and Marcopolo satellites 6.00am Showcase (3858457) 10.00 Butch Cassidy and the Sundance

12.00 Fast Chartle, the Moonbeam Rider (1979)* First world war adventure (42902) 2.00pm Shark's Treasure (1975)* Thrilling underzea treasure hunt (41612) 4.00 Diamond Head (1962) Charlton Headon stars in a powerful drams (2728) 6.00 Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid (as 10am) (38148) Kid Ias (Dam) (38148)
8.00 Loose Carnons (1990); Mismanched police partners comedy (12665322)
10.00 Eve of Destruction (1990); A military robol goes haywre (364815)
11.40 Enemy Unseem (1999); Mercenanes go deed into the African jungle (535761)
1.15am Blue Heat (1990); A narcolus squad operates outside the law (817200)
3.00 Never Cry Devil (1998); A boy enters a rightmare of satance murder (56397)
4.30 The Inside Main (1985); Spy (hniter set in Stockholm (37638), Ends at 8.00

Kid (1969): Comedy western (19099)

THE MOVIE CHANNEL

 Via the Astra and Marcopolo satellites
 5.15am The Captive Heart (19-8) Gnpoing prisoner of war drama (23:2815)
 8.15 The Man from Button Willow (1975) Animated tale (323631) 10.15 But Not For Me (1959) Clari Gable in a romannic melodrama (310167) 12.15pm The Mald (1990) Marun Shean warts on Jacqueline Sister (672419) 2.15 The Brigand of Kendahar (1965). 2.15 The Brigand of Kandahar (1965).
Rousing horseback adventure (68593):
4.15 Robotech II: The Santinels (1989):
More antinated science-fiction (56405):
6.15 The Long Road Home (1990): Mark
Harmon plays a migrant worker (524615)
8.15 Arachnophobla (1990): Jeff Daniels's home is invaded by spiders' (52052524) 10.10 Maledisction (1999): Tunifer about missing women (637273)
11.45 The Great Northfields Minnesota
Raid (1972): Western adventure (555902)

Raid (1972) Western adventure ($65902) 1.20am Hanussen (1989). A clarvoyan 3.20 Nikhta (1990). A teenager is trained at an assassin (5448.23). Ends at 5.20

THE COMEDY CHANNEL Wia the Astra satallite
4.00pm Int Ed (7772) 4.30 Punity Brewster (9544) 5.00 Green Acres (3631) 5.30 The New Leave it to Beazer (7916) 6.00 Mit Behredere (7709) 6.30 Three's Company (1761) 7.00 Deaganna (Women (2457) 7.30 Nichale's Navy (2033) 6.00 Semheld (9315) 8.30 Marned Feople (3322) 9.00 Hogan c Heroes (96612) 9.30 Mit Behredere (92457) 10.00 Fids in the Hall (61093) 10.30 Michale's Navy 47419

◆ Via the Astra and Marcopolo satellites 6.30am Morning Stretch (55490) 7.00 US

SKY SPORTS

RADIO 1. (FM only) 6.00 Smon Mayo 9.00 Bares's (Aares 11.00 Radio FM Roadshow 12.30pm Nevisbear 12.45 Jaklu Brambles 3.00 Steve Whigh I m the Adjoint No.00 Mark Goodler's Evening Session 9.00 Out on Blue Su 10.00

licky Campbell Goes into the Night 12.00-4.00am Bob Hams (PM only)

CNN

FADIO 2

FM Stereo 4.00am Alex Lester. The Early Show 6.15 Pause for Thought 6.30 Brian Thought 9.30 Chris Shuari 11.30 Jimmi Young 2.00pm Glora Humarderd 3.30 Ed Stewart 5.05 John Durn 7.00 Hubert Gregg stris Tranks for the Memory 7.30 Alan Dell with Dance 3 and Days, and at 8.00 Big Band fas 8.30 Big Band Special 9.00 Humphrey Lyrieton 10.00 The Bosvell Sisters Dave Gell; appraises the life and career of the close-harmony singing duo 10.30 The lamesons 12.05am lazz Paradie. Facy and Le Jazz 12.35 Steve Madden with hight Ride 3.00-4.00 A Little hight Music News and sport on the hour until 7.00pm RADIO 5 6,00am World Service Newshour 6.30 Daning Baker's Guide to Finding Radio 5 9.00 Schoots Topic Resources 5-7, 9.15 RE Resources, 9.35 Petry Comer 9.45 Let's Movel, 10.05 Voivide France 10.25 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 10.40 Johnnie Walver arth The AM Alternative 12.30pm And Novi Read On 1.00 News Update 1.15 i 2, 3, 4, 5 (r) 1.30 Test Cricket Plus England v Pakistan

Cat by Gene Kemp 7.30 Elephant Descending a Standase, by Stephen Shendan 8.00 Euroma-reports on the growth of permography in Europe 8.45 Earshawe on Fixe 9.30 it s My bite. Ian in Love. That of a sin-part adaptation by Fubert Leason of Ian Whitfield's trilogy 10.10 The Min, and 11.00 Sport 12.00-12.10am News Scott

WORLD SERVICE

All times in BST 4,30am The Week Ahead 4,40 Travel and Weak Ahead and Press

Fips für Touristen 5,24 News in German 5,30 Europe Today 6,00 News 7,00 Nibryghtmagam 5,20 Rips für Touristen 5,24 News in German 5,30 Europe Today 6,00 News 6,30 Londres Matin 7,00 News 7,00 News Ahous Britain 7,11 Recording of the Week 7,30 Time Lailein Renaissance 13,00 News 10,05 World Business Report 10,15 Journey to the Centre of the Universe 10,30 Anything Goes 10,00 News 10,05 World Business Report 10,15 Journey to the Centre of the Universe 10,30 Anything Goes 10,00 News 10,05 World Business Report 10,15 Journey to the Centre of the Universe 10,30 Anything Goes 10,00 News 10,05 World Business Report 10,15 Journey 10 the Centre of the Universe 10,30 Anything Goes 10,00 News 10,00 News 11,00 News 1,00 News 1, Commentary on the fourth day of the third Test from Old Trafford 7.15 Four Cat Stones Too!

ANGLIA As London except: 10.00em-10.25 Adventures on kythera (6782341) 2.15-2.45 Graham Kerr (815457)6.25-7.00 Anglia News (645728) BORDER

BORDER
As London except: 10.00am-10.25 Adventures on Kythera (6762341) 2.15-2.45 House Style (815457) 3.20-3.50 Sons and Daughters (7752322) 5.10-5.40 Home and Away (5863542) 6.00 Lookaround Monday (983) 6.30-7.00 Take the High Road (235) 12.30 Wrestling (2353991) 1.10 Hollywood Report (4205216) 1.40 Film: He is My Brother (787759) 3.20 America's Top Ten (74280769) 3.50 The Story of Steam (2145939) 4.30-5.30 The Hit Man and Her CENTER 4.

As London except: 10.00em-10.25 Adventures on Kythera (6782341) 2.15 Cranshaw Palmis on Holdey (815457) 2.45-3.10 The Young Doctors (414492) 3.16-2.50 Nome and Away (804341) 3.10-5.40 Families (5863542) 6.00 TSW Today (983) teers ($4957) 6.35-730 (eletron Conti-down (15505) 1.25 Rim: Boomerang (399735) 3.20 Entertamment UK (7674842) 4.20 Hooked* (32008007) 4.50 Canadian Documentames (3262577) 5.10-5.30 Cen-tral Jobinder '92 (6149939) RADIO 3 6.55am Weather, News Headlines 7.00 Morning Concert: Handel (Organ Concerts in F, Op 4 No Concert under Pinnock); Mendelssohn (Symphony for Strings No 5 in B flat: London Festival Orchestra under Ross Pople) 7.30 News

7.35 Morning Concert (cont):
Lyadov (The Enchanted Lake: LSO under Neeme Järvi); Haydri (Trumpet Concerto in E Flat: Alan Stringer; Academy of St Martin-in-the-Fields under Neville Marriner); Brahms (Four Folk Songs: Sagt
mir; O schönste Schäffrin; Guten Abend; Schwesterlein;
Wie komm ich denn zur Tür herein: Peter Schreier, tenor, Wolfgang Sawalisch, piano). Pople) 7.30 New Wolfgang Sawallisch, piano) Corelli (Concerto Grosso No in G minor: English Concert under Prinock) 8.30 News

under Pmnock) 8.30 News
8.35 Composers of the Week:
Weber. Overture, Der Freschütz (Hanover Band),
Mass No 1 in £ Hat, Freischütz (Bamberg Symphony Chorus and Orchestral), Flute Sonata No 3 in D (Stephen Preston, flute, Richard Burnett, hamsichord)

9.35 French Song: Sarah Leonard, soprano, Malcolm Marbneau, piano, perform Poulenc (Trois poèmes de Vilmonin); Debusa (Sept poemes de Banville); Messiaen (Trois mélodies); Britten (Fileuse, Le roi s'en vat'en chasse; Eho! Eho! -Arrangements) (r) 10.20 BBC Scottish SO under Yoav

Talmi performs Burnor Yoa Talmi performs Beethoven (Overture, Fidelio); Puccini (I Crisantemi); Jean Berger (Sinfonia di San Petronio) 10.55 Test Match Special: England
v Pakistan. Commentary on the fourth day's play in the third Test from Old Trafford 1.05pm News 1.10 See the Conquering Hero: Dave Edmondson revels in a century of league cricket in Lancashire. 1.30 County Scoreboard. 1.40 Commentary. 3.45 At the Bookstall: The latest cricket publications. 4.00
Commentary and close of play summary. (If play finishes early, Radio 3 will revert to a music schedule)

COMPILED BY PETER DEAR AND GILLIAN MAXEY
TV CHOICE PETER WAYMARK/RADIO CHOICE PETER DAVALLE

6.10 Evening Sequence: A selection of music on record 7.25 News 7.30 Budapest Spring Festival: Budapest Symphony Orchestra under Andras Ligeti performs Debussy, orch Büsser (Symphonic Suite, Printemps); Tchaikovsky (Piano Concerto No 1 in B flat minor: Boris Berezovsky); Stravinsky (The Rite of Spring)

Maria Callas (9.05pm)

9.05 Callas: Summer of 55 ● CHOICE: isn't it excitement enough to hear the recorded voice of Maria Callas at the very height of her fame without also being told how she moved and how she looked as she sang?

Ordinanly, yes. But when it is such an other concentration. such an opera connosseur as the Earl of Harewood who is doing the talking, it is an important borus, particularly as he actually saw Callas's Violetta at La Scala in 1955. He is, therefore, just the man to introduce these highlights from that season's production of La traviata in which Callas was partnered by Gluseppe di Stefano (Alfredo) and Ettore Bastianini (Germont), with Carlo Maria Giulini conducting. Next Monday night: Callas as Butterfly 10.30 Mixing It: The last programme in the present series features an interview with John Lennon's widow Yoko Ono and selections of 1er music 11.30 News 11.35-12.35am Composers of the Week: Mussorgsky (r) 1.90-2.05 Night School (except in Scotland: as Radio 5 at 9am)

1.40 The Archers (f) 1.55 Shipping Forecast
2.00 News; Straight Down the Middle: A golfing comedy by Robert East in which good sportsmanship is forgotten, but romance blossoms at the 19th hole. With Dinsdale Landen, Robert East and Liz Crowther (s) (f)
3.15 The New Recruit: The Air Hostesses. Anita Hughes, who flew with BOAC in the 1950s, and Jill Banks a new recruit with British Auways, compare notes on the changes in their profession over the past 40 years (f) talks by John P. Harris about living in a village in the south of France (r)

9.15 Kaleldoscope (s) (r)

9.45 The Financial World Tonight, with Tim Bowler (s)

9.59 Weather

10.00 The World Tonight, with Robin Lustig (s)

10.45 A Book at Bedtime: The Way of Alf Flesh, by Samuel Burler. Richard Leech reads the south of 15 episodes (r).

11.00 The News Quiz: Barry Took hosts a virtage edition (s) (r) 11.30 Today in Parliament 12.00-12-Klam News; incl 12.27 Weather 12.33 Shipping 12.43 World Service (LMI only)

PREQUENCIES: Radio 1: 1053kHz/285m; 1069kHz/075m; PM-97.6-99.8.
Radio 2: FM-88-90.2. Radio 3: FM-90.2-92.4. Radio 4: 198kHz/1515m; FM-92.4-94.6. Radio 5: 693kHz/433m; 909kHz/330m, 186ck1152kHz/261m; FM-97.3. Capital: 1548kHz/194m; FM-95.8. GLR: 1458kHz/206m; FM-94.9.
World Service: MW-648kHz/463m.